Car, Wagon Tangle Auto Second Best

Modern automobiles may have an advantage over horse-drawn vehicles when it comes to a test of speed but there still seems to be an argument in favor of Old Dobbin when it comes to a question of sturdiness—and a lack of chrome fixtures may account for it.

Wellington E. Borland, 25, 484 Sherbrooke St., was driving east on Hunter St. Wednesday morning about 7:30 when he turned out to pass a bread wagon which had stopped opposite Sheridan St. while the driver made a delivery.

With no human hand to give a warning tug on the reins, the horse moved ahead, pulling the wagon into the path of Borland's car. Damage to Borland's car was $60; to the wagon—nil.

Salmon Tops

A slice of cold cooked salmon with cucumber, tomato, hard cooked egg slices and celery curls.

Diced pineapple, apple, celery, flaked lobster, mayonnaise, lettuce.

Sardines, diced beets and potatoes, sliced eggs, dressing, lettuce.

The Jubilee Guilds of Newfoundland and Labrador offer a combination of fish and macaroni as an ideal supper dish.

Ingredients: 1 1-3 cups cooked fish, flaked; one cup medium sauce; one-quarter teaspoon salt; one cup butter crumbs; two-thirds cup macaroni, one tablespoon lemon juice; few grains cayenne.

Break macaroni into one-half inch pieces, cook until tender in a large amount of boiling salted water. Drain and rinse with cold water. Butter a baking-dish, arrange macaroni and fish in alternate layers; sprinkle with seasonings. Pour white sauce over. Cover with butter crumbs, brown in hot oven.

Other fish dishes from the Jubilee Guilds: salmon loaf, baked fillets.

Ingredients: one pound (two cups) canned salmon; two cups bread crumbs; two eggs, beaten; three-quarters cup milk; one-eighth teaspoon pepper; one-half teaspoon salt; one tablespoon finely minced onion; one teaspoon lemon juice.

Remove the skin from the fish—any kind of fish desired may be used instead of salmon. Mix all ingredients and place in a greased loaf tin, dot with butter and bake in a moderate oven three-quarters of an hour or until the loaf is firm and browned.

Baked fillets: Dip fillets in melted butter. Chop one onion and one stalk of celery fine. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Spread over top of fish. To one-half cup dried bread crumbs add two table-spoons melted butter and two tablespoons of grated cheese. Top dish with crumbs and bake in a moderate oven 40 minutes.

Cattle Receipts Up Sharply, Steer Price Slips

TORONTO (CP)Cattle receipts increased sharply at the Ontario stockyards this week and steer prices rose 50 cents to $1 but slipped slightly at the close. Hogs also gained 50 cents while calves, sheep and lambs were steady. The hold-over at the close was 150 cattle.

Cattle receipts totalled 7,595 head. Choice steers, all weights $22.50-23.25; good $21-22.50; mediums $20-21; plain light steers and heifers downward to $16; good heifers $20.50-21.50; choice fed yearlings $23-23.50; medium to good $18.50-22; light stockers $17-21.50; good cows $15.50-16.50; heifery cows $18; canners, cutters $10-$12.50; good heavy bulls $16-17; plain light downward to $14.

Calves totalled 1,190. Good to choice veal calves $28-33; mediums $22-27; common downward to $15.

Hog receipts were 3,571 head. Grade A hogs 27; dressed sows $20.

Sheep and lambs totalled 131. Common to medium lambs $20-26; good sheep $10-12; culls downward to $5.

FIRE TAKES 3 LIVES

FORT NELSON, B.C. (CP)—A mother and her two small children died Wednesday night when fire destroyed their quarters in a construction camp near this northeastern British Columbia town. Killed were Mrs. Willis Ruffo, about 30, and Jackie, 4, and Kathy 2.

Tories 'Good Fun' Makes Hard Work

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Production Minister Howe said Thursday it "may be good fun" for opposition members to throw scores of questions at the government, but his hard-pressed department can only go so fast in digging up the replies.

The minister made the comment after F. E. Lennard (PC—Wentworth) complained in the Commons about delay in getting replies to 20 questions regarding defence production department purchasing which he asked last January.

Mr. Howe said the replies require a great deal of research. First priority was given to questions asked in the defence expenditures committee and second priority to questions asked in the House. While digging through the files for the required information his busy officials also had to carry on their everyday duties.

St. Thomas Tax Rate 3.2 Mills Over 1952's

ST. THOMAS (CP)—City council early today struck a 1953 general tax rate of 65 mills, a peak rate and an increase of 3.2 over last year.

The tax rate was struck after three previous budget sessions and a special session which started Thursday night.

Rate for the separate school board was set at 16.642 mills, the same as that for public schools.

COMMUNITY CHEST CAMPAIGN OPENS

Phillips Asks Austerity In Hospitals

Councils To Tighten Purse Strings If Economies Sought

TORONTO —(CP)— Health Minister Mackinnon Phillips said Friday municipal councils must tighten their purse strings if they hope to build and operate hospitals on an economical basis.

Speaking in the Legislature during the throne speech debate, Dr. Phillips said staffs must be cut and hospital construction reduced to bare essentials to meet rising taxes and costs.

Dr. Phillips said hospitals should not be built like skyscrapers, but as long, low buildings on open land. This type of construction, he said, was much cheaper.

FEWER STOREYS

Multiple-storey hospitals cost an average of $8,000 a bed, compared with $4,000 a bed for one or two-storey buildings. He suggested rooms be made smaller, ceilings lower and corridors smaller. The minister felt these changes would not detract from comfort and efficiency.

He said he favors a national health insurance organization, financed from royalties from development of resources rather than from taxation.

Dr. Phillips said Alberta is the only province which can now afford public health insurance, by virtue of heavy royalties payments from oil development.

SALSBERG SCORES PLAN

Joseph Salsberg, Labor-Progres-Toronto St. Andrew's, rapped the government's plan for federation of services in the Toronto district municipalities in an hour-long speech.

He spoke for three hours Thursday and provoked bitter debate but his remarks Friday were greeted by an impassive audience.

Mr. Salsberg praised Joseph Stalin, and said his death was "a severe loss to all who strive for a peaceful world." His tribute to the Soviet leader drew no reply from the half-empty house.

Education Minister Dunlop introduced a bill for first reading which would authorize a central council uniting the seven school trustees' organizations in the province.

He said a central council, with headquarters in Toronto, would give trustees a medium of communication with the education department similar to that provided for teachers by the Ontario Teachers' Federation.

Crash With Train Kills Trucker

VANKLEEK HILL (CP)—Walter McLeod, 34, of Morrisburg, was killed Friday when the trailer-truck he was driving derailed a train, burned and set fire to an empty railway coach near here.

The spectacular crash occurred when the truck, headed south from Hawkesbury to Cornwall and loaded with 15 tons of paper, slammed headlong into the front end of the locomotive.

All seven cars of the CNR freight were derailed and 300 feet of track was ripped up. Police said the driver, who had no chance to escape the flaming wreckage, apparently tried vainly to take the ditch in an effort to stop. They believed the truck's brakes failed.

Two hours after the crash a smouldering baggage car was still straddling Highway 34.

COMMUNITY-WIDE CRUSADE—That's how Dr. George F. Davidson, deputy minister of welfare, described Peterborough's annual Red Cross and Community Fund drive Friday night. At the campaign's opening dinner, Dr. Davidson told the 350 canvassers and fund supporters that they will need patience, public spirit and good citizenship to make it a success. The campaign to raise $95,000 for the 11-member agencies will be conducted until March 18.

Malenkov New Red Premier, Molotov Foreign Minister

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP)—Georgi M. Malenkov today led the Soviet Union as successor to Joseph V. Stalin. His elevation was accompanied by a wholesale shakeup of top government personnel. Selection of Stalin's 51-year-old protege to be the new Russian prime minister was announced by the Kremlin Friday night. Long a close associate of the dead Communist chief, Malenkov had been considered his likeliest successor. A government communique said the host of other changes—apparently aimed at streamlining the Soviet administration—were necessary to assure "uninterrupted and correct" leadership of the country and to prevent "any kind of disarray and panic" following Stalin's death.

The communique also announced that the Supreme Soviet—the Soviet Union's Parliament—will meet in Moscow March 14 to consider the changes.

Among the most important switches were:

1. L. P. Beria, boss of the Soviet secret police and Russia's atomic energy program, named head of the newly-combined interior and state security ministries. (He presumably also will retain his police and atomic duties.)

REPLACES VISHINSKY

2. Deputy premier V. M. Molotov returned to the post of foreign minister he held from 1939 to 1949. He replaced Andrei Vishinsky, who was appointed permanent Soviet representative to the United Nations in New York. Vishinsky had taken over the foreign ministry job from Molotov.

3. Marshal Nikolai Bulganin, a member of Stalin's five-man inner war council during the Second World war, was named minister of the armed forces in place of Marshal A. M. Vasilevsky. The latter became a deputy minister.

FOUR DEPUTIES

Beria, Molotov, Bulganin and Lazarus Kaganovich were all renamed deputy prime ministers. With Malenkov, they will form a new "praesidium" of the council of ministers that apparently will be a highly-important government organ.

Marshal Klementy Voroshilov, formerly a vice-premier, was chosen chairman of the praesidium of the Supreme Soviet (Parliament), replacing Nikolai Shvernik. This post (largely an honorary

Stalin Holds Great Dignity Lying In State At Moscow

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow (AP)—In death as in life, Joseph Stalin is a singular figure of a man.

Lying here in the Hall of Columns, his head on a silk pillow, he is a striking figure.

His eyes are closed and there is a monumental dignity about him. He wears a grey military jacket —one that the world has seen in so many pictures. Over his heart are numerous medals.

You recognize particularly the gold star of the Hero of Socialist Labor.

But let's start in this seemingly endless line of people at the door of the Hall of Columns.

It's a bitterly cold day, the kind that makes the pavement burn through the soles of your shoes.

The sun is shining and the temperature has sagged below zero.

Moscow's wide streets near the House of Unions are cleared and orderly as lines converge on the green colored building in the heart of the city, a short close distance from the old Kremlin where Stalin worked and died.

There are all kinds of people. Old people, young people, middle aged people, children.

Some of them have eyes red from crying. All are solemn. About them is an air of expectancy. That they are close to seeing something dramatic. Some carry wreaths of spring flowers. Some hold small bunches of golden mimosa. Two or three can be seen almost staggering under gigantic wreaths.

There's a shuffle, shuffle, shuffle of thousands of people's feet. And a great hush. Then that sound that comes from thousands upon thousands talking in whispers in open places.

I reached the open double doors of the building and walked in beneath a tremendous portrait of the generalissimo—the portrait four or five times bigger than the doors themselves.

We hear the soft, muted music of a multi-stringed orchestra playing on an elevated stage. I recognize a Tschaikovsky melody. Great spotlights from the corners of the room bear down upon the wreathed bier in the middle of the room.

There is a heavy perfume of massed spring flowers. There's music. The lights. The shuffle, shuffle, sound of feet. The heavy silence of people in the presence of the dead.

Here is the place where only a few hours ago Malenkov, Beria, Molotov and others of Stalin's closest associates grouped around the dead leader's bier for photographs carried in today's paper.

Stalin's head is away from you. His feet towards you. You move up to the foot of the coffin and look up at the face of the man who led the Russian people for so many years.

Look at the dead face, known in every corner of the world.

Smoking Penalty

BRANTFORD (CP)—Donald Adams, 27, accused of beating his wife with a home-made cat-o'-nine tails because he thought she had been smoking, was charged Friday with assault causing bodily harm. Adams, who was arrested while at work, was remanded in custody until Monday.

Russ Policy May Turn Tough In UN

Vishinsky's Shift To UN Post Promotes Discussion

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. —(AP)—UN delegates differed today whether the shift of Andrei Vishinsky from Soviet foreign minister to chief Russian UN delegate was a demotion or presaged a new and tougher Soviet line in the world organization.

The change was announced by the Kremlin Friday as Vishinsky sailed for home. Associates said the tough-talking Moscow lawyer received no advance word of the shift that put deputy premier V M. Molotov in the top foreign ministry spot.

NO COMMENT

Vishinsky declined comment on the Russian government changes—including the selection of Georgi Malenkov to succeed Prime Minister Stalin—when reporters reached him aboard the French liner Liberte, a few minutes before the ship left her New York pier.

Later, The Associated Press placed a shore-to-ship call to Vishinsky but was informed that the former foreign minister "is not taking any calls and his secretary does not wish to be disturbed."

Some European delegates familiar with the Russians said Molotov finally has his revenge on the old-time prosecutor. They said Vishinsky was being stationed here to remove him from the Moscow scene.

FEUD WITH MOLOTOV

Molotov—once tagged by Lenin as a top-rate filing clerk—customarily spoke disparagingly of Vishinsky as "just a lawyer." These delegates said Vishinsky, known as a protege of L. P. Beria, head of the Soviet political police, helped engineer the ousting of Molotov as foreign minister March 5, 1940, and that Molotov never forgot or forgave Vishinsky.

Vishinsky was Stalin's prosecuting purge-master in the great liquidation trials of 1936-37 and has often spoken against delegates here as though they were defendants in a Moscow courtroom.

The turn of events surprised delegates. Another surprising turn was the sudden departure of Andrei Gromyko, Soviet ambassador to London, from Britain for the United States to take over the delegation until Vishinsky can return from Moscow.

Delegates inclined to believe the Russians would take a tougher position in the UN pointed out Vishinsky knew how to carry out orders to the fullest and how to be ruthless.

Some European delegates also conjecture that the appointments announced in Moscow showed there is a struggle for power involving Malenkov, Molotov and Beria.

Albanian Troops Ready Near Yugoslav Border

LONDON (AP)—Belgrade radio said today that several Albanian troop columns have arrived at the Yugoslav-Albanian frontier to reinforce the Soviet satellite's defences along its border with President Tito's country.

Communist but anti-Russian Yugoslavia viewed the troop movement as one of "the emergency measures taken by the Albanian government following announcement of Stalin's death."

Yugoslav territory isolates little Albania from her Cominform allies.

STALIN'S SUCCESSOR was announced by Moscow Friday. He is Georgi Malenkov, former secretary of the Communist party and a vice-premier of Russia at the time of Stalin's death.

Massey Calls On Universities To Lead Students

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—The governor-general, Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, today urged on universities the task of leading a "rootless" generation back to its true roots of knowledge before it is too late.

"The great menace of civilization in the present is that we offer an education with too little regard for the roots," Mr. Massey said in an address prepared for the 75th anniversary convocation of the University of Western Ontario.

He said he found the modern university "alarmingly given to short cuts."

There was a tendency to substitute book reviews for books and critics for authors. "Many of this generation, fed on text books, on anthologies and on abstracts, cannot read. Neither can they write."

DANGER

Modern universities were encouraging early specialization and research. There was a danger that their faculties might be able to recruit "technicians" instead of "philosophers and scholars."

". . .Our intellectual and spiritual heritage, although not lost, may be effectively buried as deeply and hidden as securely as were the manuscripts which humanists of the Renaissance sought for with such diligence in the attics and cellars of 15th-century Europe."

Mr. Massey said the three sources of Western civilization are the Greek pursuit of truth and beauty, the Roman devotion to discipline and order and the Judaic-Christian spiritual insight.

"We are slowly but surely cutting ourselves off from these roots. . . which give to our contemporary civilization at once nourishment, support and direction."

Four-Foot Snowdrifts Halt Soo Fire Trucks

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP)—Snowdrifts four feet deep kept city fire trucks from reaching the burning home of Mr. and Mrs. Arvo Salonoa in suburban Korah township Friday. The home was destroyed.

The Salonoas and their four children saved only the clothes they were wearing.

Neighbors protected an adjoining house by piling snow on the roof and against the wall.

Fire trucks followed a small snowplow to within a mile of the Salonoa home but could get no closer.

Chest Pierced, Dies

CORNWALL (CP)—Arthur Scott, 61, Monckland district farmer, died in hospital today from injuries received when he fell from a ladder onto a pitchfork, piercing his chest.

"No Small Task" Davidson Says; Objective $95,000

The 13th Annual Peterborough Red Cross and Community Fund Campaign with an objective of $95,000 was officially opened Friday night at a dinner in the CGE cafeteria. The campaign will end March 18. "This is your chance as canvassers and contributors to practise good citizenship," Deputy Minister of Welfare, Dr. George F. Davidson said in his address to 350 canvassers and fund workers and the Peterborough radio audience.

The deputy minister, who was guest speaker at this opening dinner, summed up the campaign as an opportunity for repayment to this community for all the good it has done for its citizens.

"This is no small task, this community wide crusade on which you are embarking tonight," Dr. Davidson said. "It will take all your patience, all your resistance and all your public spirit and good citizenship to make it a success."

The speaker went on to point out that there were three factors that should be in the minds of both canvassers and contributors "if the task is to be done as it should be done".

INTRINSIC MERIT

"You all must be convinced of the intrinsic merit of the work of the organizations making up this campaign. I am sure that the work being done by this organization and the great worth of this work is known to all. With this conviction, you, both canvassers and contributors, will through your collective conscience as citizens give your whole-hearted support to this campaign."

Find Jet Pilot In Quebec Bush

BAGOTVILLE, Que. (CP)—FO. R. F. Hellinger of Vancouver, pilot of an F-86 Sabre jet that crashed Thursday near this northeastern Quebec RCAF base, was rescued early today after search teams spotted his signal flares.

Thet jet was believed to have crashed in the thickly-wooded area 30 miles southeast of here, when it ran out of fuel.

The pilot parachuted to safety just before the crash. A snow storm made visibility poor and prevented a landing at the base.

The plane was returning from a solo training flight at the time. RCAF officials were in touch with the pilot until the last moment.

Two twin-engined Dakota transports, carrying rescue teams from Trenton, Ont., helped in the search.

A rescue crew found Hellinger, uninjured, about 11 miles from Grande Baieu, in the Port Alfred district. He was brought back to base here.

Hellinger, whose wife and son live at the base here, spent the night Thursday trying to find his way out of woods. The rescuers reached him around 3 a.m.

Electric Blanket Blast Hurts Islington Man

TORONTO (CP)—An electric blanket exploded early today while Leo Dotson, 40, slept at his suburban Islington home.

He suffered burns and shock when trying to beat out the resulting fire which got out of control and gutted the bedroom, causing $4,000 damage.

Hospital authorities reported Dotson's condition as good.

Packers Buying U.S. Beef, On Market Soon

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian packers have started a rush to buy low-priced United States beef, an agricultural official reported Friday. The beef is expected to hit Eastern Canadian markets within a matter of days.

Canada has big livestock supplies of her own, but Canadian purchases in the U.S. were foreseen as a possibility by officials here if Canadian producers didn't cut prices following the end of the Canada-U.S. livestock embargoes last Monday.

The forecast trend developed. As Canada and the U.S. lifted their year-long barriers on movement of livestock and meats across the border, Canadian producers gained courage about the future.

Under the impetus of a strong market for beef in Canada, Canadian cattle prices steadied and even advanced slightly. Some of the early gains were erased toward the end of the week.

RUSH ON

But by then the rush for low-priced American beef was on.

Within the first three days following the end of the embargoes, Canadian packers purchased about 650 head of American cattle at Chicago for slaughter and movement into Eastern Canadian markets at Montreal, Toronto and other points.

Nine of these 30 carloads of Chicago beef arrived in Toronto Thursday night. Others were on their way.

Other purchases were made in other U.S. markets. A Chicago dispatch quoted the U.S. agriculture department as saying St. Paul, Minn., moved out about 100 head and Sioux City, Iowa, about 150 head.

The American Meat Institute said there hasn't been a beef cattle export to Canada of such proportions in more than five years.

Whiskey Freezes Man Uses Spoon

TORONTO (CP)—A man ate a bottle of rye with a spoon after the liquor froze during a recent Northern Ontario cold snap.

Chairman Arthur Welsh of the Ontario liquor control board told of the incident Friday at a meeting of a Legislature committee.

He said he received a letter of complaint from the Northern Ontario man, whose name he did not divulge.

The man wrote that he had a bottle of rye in his automobile when the temperature nosedived. First thing he knew, the stuff was frozen solid. So, instead of drinking it, he ate it.

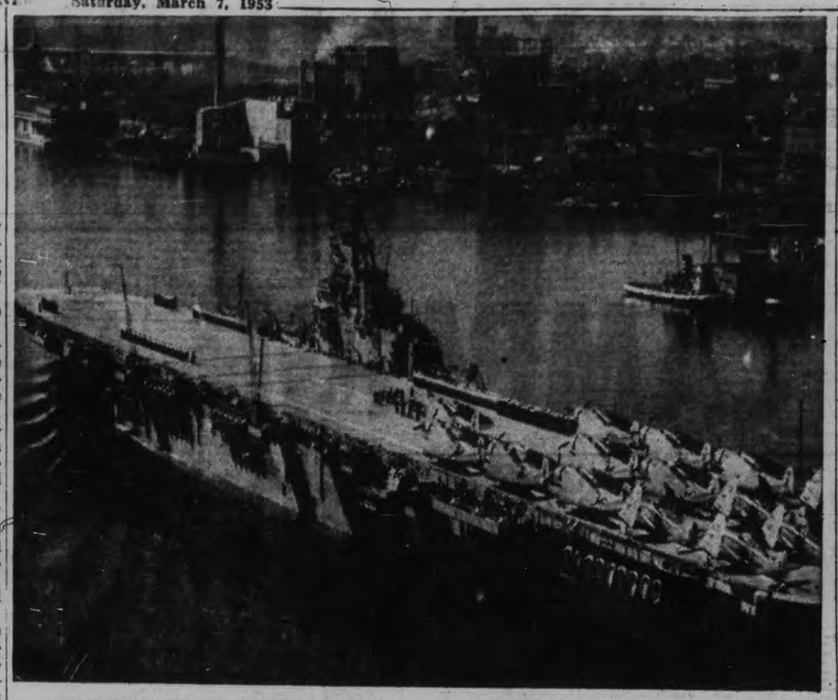
Square Dancing To Play Part At Spring Show

Square dance sets of Junior Farmers and their feminine partners of seven counties will headline the variety entertainment of the Thursday night (March 19) program of the Central Ontario Spring Show at Peterborough.

Only Frontenac and Lennox-Addington have signified they are passing up the music and the hodee-ho. The competing dancers are from: Ontario, Durham, Victoria, Peterborough, Hastings, Northumberland and Prince Edward. In some of the counties, as in Hastings, preliminary rounds decided the representative finalists.

Peterborough Junior Farmers' Choir will make their first public appearance on this program, and the other numbers are being provided by Durham and Victoria.

Master of ceremonies will be Bill Weir of Omemee.



Commercial exhibits will be judged Tuesday. Hon. F. S. Thomas, Ontario's new Minister of Agriculture, will open the Show Wednesday at 2 p.m., followed by talks by Dr. W. E. Tossell and Prof. D. R. Campbell of OAC, and a panel discussion on The Business of Farming with Dr. H. L. Patterson of the Department of Agriculture, Toronto, chairman.

OAC SPEAKERS

Prof. R. G. Knox and Prof. N. R. Richards of OAC will be the speakers Thursday afternoon preceding the panel discussion at 2:30 p.m. on "Land Use", with Watson H. Porter of London, chairman. With him on the panel will be: Prof. Knox, James R. Henderson of Kingston, Prof. Richards, Doug Parks of Kemptville Agricultural School, and Tom Dickinson of Ottawa.

Sale of all seed in the Show will begin Friday at 1:30 p.m.

President Robert Armstrong of Cavan is hoping for the support of a large number of farmers from the area of the former Quinte District Seed Fair. Only their interest and presence can maintain it and ensure its permanence, he said.

SIX SHIPS of the Royal Canadian Navy will take part in the Coronation naval review at Spithead on June 15. With a total complement of more than 3,000 officers and men, the Canadian ships will include HMCS Magnificent (aircraft carrier) shown here; HMCS Ontario and HMCS Quebec (cruisers); HMCS Sioux (destroyer) and HMCS LaHulloise and HMCS Swansea (frigates). —(National Defence Photo)

Bill Would Set Fine Alternative

TORONTO (CP)—A bill introduced in the Legislature Friday by Attorney-General Porter proposes a change in the Summary Convictions Act to enable magistrates to impose a fine instead of a jail sentence if they feel extenuating circumstances exist.

At present, a minimum jail sentence of two months is mandatory for a number of offences under provincial statutes such as the Liquor Control Act.

The explanatory note attached to the bill says that at present a magistrate has no option but to sentence a convicted person to imprisonment even though the crime may have been a technical breach with extenuating circumstances.

The new legislation sets the maximum fine which may be imposed at $1,000. The amendment does not affect drunk drivers, who come within the provisions of the Criminal Code.

Fake Insurance Men Steal Tavern's $1,000

ST. THOMAS (CP)—Posing as insurance agents two men Friday night gained entry to the apartment of Eber Rice, proprietor of the John Scott tavern, stealing a cash box reported to contain approximately $1,000.

Police said the well-dressed pair knocked at the apartment door while Mr. and Mrs. Rice were working downstairs and were admitted by their young son, Eber Jr.

Queen Mary Has "A Fair Night"

LONDON (Reuters) — Ailing Queen Mary had "a fair night," it was announced this morning.

"There is no further change to report in Her Majesty's condition," the announcement from Marlborough House, her London home, added.

Queen Mary, 85, grandmother of the present Queen Elizabeth, has been confined to her bed for the last two weeks with a recurrence of an unspecified stomach complaint.

Her doctors visit her daily but she is still attending to her private correspondence and personal affairs.

Her eldest son, the Duke of Windsor, and her only daughter, Mary, the Princess Royal, are heading back to London to be with their mother. Both sailed Friday night from New York.

Short Starts Fire Cab Of Truck Burned

The cab of a stake body truck was burned out on the Buckhorn road Friday night when a short circuit in wiring under the dashboard started a fire.

Driver of the car was Gordon A. Meredith, 24, RR 5, Peterborough. Riding with him was the owner of the truck, Edward Walker, also of RR 5, Peterborough.

The two men told police they were driving north when a fire suddenly burst out from under the dashboard. They tried to put it out, but without success. Neither man was hurt. Cause of the fire was believed to be a short circuit.

No damage was done to the body of the truck and there was no load, but the interior of the cab was demolished.

OPP Constable George Louth investigated.

Stopping For Sander Car Hit From Behind

A car stopping behind a sanding truck on the Chemong road a mile and a half north of the city was hit from behind by a second car and shunted forward to strike the sander. No one was hurt.

Driver of the sanding truck owned by Floyd Dunford, was Hilliard Garrett, 25, RR 3, Peterborough. Police said his truck was stopped on the highway at the time of the accident.

Roland Thurston, 18, Bobcaygeon, was slowing up behind the truck when a second car hit him from behind. It was driven by an RCAF airman Willard Skillitor, 16, stationed at Camp Borden. The Thurston car was shot ahead and to the left. It almost missed the truck, but the right rear fender was cut on the platform of the truck and torn and mangled.

The front of the Skillitor car was badly damaged but the truck suffered no damage. OPP Constable Harold Armstrong investigated.

one) is equivalent to the presidency of the Soviet Union.

Shvernik was made chairman of the all-union council of trade unions, in place of Vassily Kuznetsov.

Anastase Mikoyan, former commissar of foreign trade, now heads the newly-combined ministries of foreign and internal trade.

Ten other ministries were merged into three.

MERGE MINISTRIES

Those of the automobile and tractor industry, machine and instrument building and the machine tool industry were combined into the ministry of machine building. M. Z. Saburov was relieved of his post as chief of state planning to take over the combined job.

The four ministries of transport machine building, shipbuilding, heavy machine building and construction and road machine building were brought into the ministry of transport and heavy machine building. The combined post went to V. A. Malishev, former minister of shipbuilding.

The three ministries of electric power stations, electric industry and communications were streamlined into one—the ministry of electric power and electrical industry. M. C. Preuvkhin was named chief.

NEW PRAESIDIUM

The changes were announced by the central committee of the Communist party, the council of ministers and the praesidium.

They also set up a new all-powerful 10-man praesidium of the central committee, including Malenkov Beria, Molotov, Voroshilov, N. S. Khruschchev, Bulganin, Kaganovich, Mikoyan, Saburov, and M.G. Perukhin, chief of the chemical industry. The old praesidium elected at the big Communist party congress last October included 25 members.

ALTERNATES

Three members of the former praesidium—Shvernik, P. K. Ponomarnenko, a former member of the party secretariat, and Leonid G. Melnikov, secretary of the Ukrainian party, were named alternate members.

The Communist party newspaper Pravda said in an editorial the changes were "directed toward preventing any kind of interruption in leading activities of state and party organs."

To aid the 53-year-old Bulganin at the armed forces ministry, the government named Marshal Georgi Zhukov, Russia's first commander in occupied Germany, as one of two deputies. The other subordinate post went to Vasilevsky, the former minister.

School Children Go Over Top

One of the divisions of the Peterborough Red Cross and Community Fund has already gone over the top in the 1953 campaign.

The Penny-A-Day Division drive which has been conducted in city schools during the past week has over-subscribed its $600 objective by $95.23. This announcement was made at the opening dinner of the 13th annual fund campaign Friday night by Clare Collins, co-chairman of the division with Ernie Reid.

"The school children of this city have provided us with a challenge," Mr. Collins said in his remarks about the campaign.

He explained that the 21 schools taking part in the drive had increased the last year's total by $50.31.

The final collections of the drive on Friday totalled $104.42.

Following Mr. Collins' remarks, children representing all participating schools presented a bag of pennies to Alex L. Elliott, chairman of the Community Fund board of directors.

No OHA Decision On Player's Death

TORONTO (CP)—The executive of the Ontario Hockey Association Friday night discussed the death of Bob Gillies, 17-year-old defenceman who was fatally injured Wednesday night in an OHA game at Collingwood.

Bill Hanley, OHA business manager, said the meeting heard reports of the incident from the referees and representatives of the Collingwood and Aurora teams but reached no decision.

Gillies, who played for Collingwood, was injured in a junior C game against Aurora Bears. He lapsed into a coma in hospital at Collingwood and died while being rushed to brain surgery.

Walter Fines of Aurora received a match penalty for "deliberately injuring" an opponent. He had checked Gillies as the two rushed into a corner after the puck. Gillies crashed into the boards.

Hanley said the automatic suspension that goes with Fines' match penalty remains in force.

Reports considered at the meeting came from referees Tim McArthur and Cecil Shears, Ab Hulse of Aurora Bears and Eddie Bush of Collingwood Greenshirts.

Mrs. John Brown

From the residence of her neprew, Neil McNulty, 248 McKellar St., the funeral of Mrs. John Brown took place to Norwood Thursday morning. Requiem mass was celebrated at St. Paul's Church by Rev. C. J. Carroll. Pallbearers were: Richard, Bernard and William Heffernan, Harry English, Richard and Charles Coughlin. Interment was at St. Paul's cemetery where the prayers of committal were said by Rev. Father Carroll.

Decontaminate Ships

LONDON (Reuters)—Four warships affected by radio-active water around the Montebello islands off northwest Australia during Britain's atomic tests last October are going into dock to be de-contaminated, the admiralty announced today. The aircraft transport vessel Campania and the tank landing ships Narvik, Tracker and Zeebrugge came back to Britain recently.

Mat Proves It

DETROIT (AP)—Judge Vincent Brennan gave a decision Friday in a case involving a singer and an orchestra leader. Then the judge recessed court, stepped from the bench and broke into song. The judge explained that he was showing he knew something about music and should be considered qualified to decide a musical case.

PENNY-A-DAY

Collections from the Penny-A-Day campaign now taking place in the city schools for Friday was $175.25 — $33.05 more than was collected at the same time last year. The grand total to date is $695.23, an increase of $50.31 over last year.

Stalin Holds

The face is stern. The hair is brushed the way you always saw him. His moustache full and neat. His chin and jaw as resolute in death as in life.

Somewhere in the room there's a choked sob. I look around. It came from a woman. The line moves past the bier. I look over my left shoulder and see Stalin in profile.

How strong that face is, and it seems to show some of the stress of those last days when he lay dying in the Kremlin hospital.

Card-Index Brain Raised Malenkov To Top In USSR

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Georgi Malenkov, Russia's new premier, is known as "the man with the card-index brain."

A post-revolutionary figure who rose quietly to the top ranks of the Soviet Communist party as Stalin's favorite, he knows the innermost secrets of the Kremlin.

Pudgy, round-faced Malenkov is an austere, orthodox Communist. When Stalin died he became the senior of the surviving nine Communist party secretaries.

His first big job was under Stalin on the state defence committee appointed in 1941 to wage war against Nazi Germany. He was the youngest of the five original members.

Malenkov became a member of the politburo in 1946 and the praesidium which replaced it in 1952. Stalin also made him a vice-premier.

In recent years he has done most of the talking and speech-making on top Communist bodies. In 1949 he told a Moscow audience that a third world war would prove to be "the graveyard of world capitalism."

Malenkov has seldom travelled outside Russia, though he has acted as Russian representative at Cominform meetings.

Stalin's years bridged well into the pre-Communist world. But Malenkov, who is only 51, has known nothing else since early adolescence.

All his adult life, Malenkov has been a Communist surrounded by other Communists. From Soviet diplomats, agents and the Communist press, Malenkov has perforce formed his picture of Western civiliation, of democracy and freedom and mankind's forward steps and backward steps outside of Russia.

BEN SOLOMON, editor of the Youth Readers Digest, will conduct an institute on better leadership March 23-24 at the Public Library. The institute is sponsored by the Peterborough Recreation Commission.

Faulkner Claims Threat On Life

TORONTO (CP)—Farley Faulkner, Toronto business man who will hold an anti-Communist rally in downtown Massey Hall next week, said today he has received offers from more than 20 veterans to act as personal bodyguards.

Faulkner reported to police Friday that he had received a phone call from a quiet-voiced man with a foreign accent who warned him "be careful what you say or your life won't be worth anything." He said that the offers of protection have come from veterans of the Second World and Korean wars.

Faulkner decided to hold the meeting in Massey Hall after he was thrown out of the same building last week at a meeting for the Rev. Hewlett Johnson, the Red dean of Canterbury. Leftist admirers of the Red dean told Faulkner, when he rose to ask a question, to "go hire a hall."

Howard Rowe On Way To Germany With RCAF

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — Flying Officer Howard Rowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rowe of Campbellford, is one of the group of Canadians leaving for Zweibrucken, Germany, this week.

"Howie," how is well known in Campbellford, has been in the air force for the past two years, and has recently been stationed at St. Hubert's, Quebec, where he has been piloting Sabre Jets.

Patrick Hogan

Funeral service for Patrick Hogan, 22, who was killed in a logging accident near Kamloops, B.C., was held Thursday in St. Joseph's Church, Ottawa. The Rev. Thomas Keogh said the mass and temporary burial was in Notre Dame vault for interment later in St. Camelia's cemetery, Farrelton, Que.

Mr. Hogan, a brother of Colin (Pat) Hogan, 585 Rubidge St., was born in Low, Quebec, and educated in Ottawa schools. A meat chef in the Chateau Laurier hotel for two years, he went west about two years ago for health reasons. Most of that time he worked in logging operations.

He was killed when skidding logs with a bulldozer. A log he was dragging behind the bulldozer slipped through its chain and the cable with a heavy hook that was freed shot forward and hit the driver on the back of the head. He died in Kamloops hospital without regaining consciousness.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Mary Hogan, Ottawa; three brothers, Colin, Peterborough, Clarence, Vancouver, and Gerald, Wells, B.C.; and six sisters, Mrs. Kathleen Lepine, Ottawa, Mrs. Vincent Hayes (Mary), Ottawa, Mrs. William Mills (Verna), Noranda, Que., Mrs. Herbert Gleason (Nora), Vonosta, Que., Miss Cleta Hogan, Ottawa, and Mrs. Ambrose Donovan (Theresa), Chapleau, Ont.

Pakistan Resembles Canada Marmora Audience Told

MARMORA (ENS)—"Pakistan is a democratic nation, with the same beliefs and ideals as Canada, and is proud to be a member of the Commonwealth of Nations," said Amin-Du-Din, graduate of the Lahore University in Pakistan, at the dinner meeting of the Marmora Chamber of Commerce Thursday.

Mr. Amin-Du-Din went on to say that Pakistan is expected to have a new constitution, which should be in effect by April. Pakistan is composed of five provinces, with two natural divisions, east and west.

The population of the western part is 42 million, while that of the eastern section where Lahore University is located, has only 28 million people. Eighty per cent of the population of eastern Pakistan is engaged in farming, and in the years to come it is hoped to produce fertilizer from their raw minerals.

DIFFERENCE IN RELIGION

The speaker urged people not to be confused between Hindus and Moslems. For Moslems believe in Christ, Moses, and the other prophets, but the Hindus, he said, worship an idol.

In Pakistan, for the first time, the right to vote has been given to men and women who have reached 21 years of age. Before partitioning, all trade and business was conducted by the Hindus, making it increasingly hard for the Moslems in Pakistan to start their own trades. But there are co-operative societies that are helping people to get a start, and it is hoped that by 1957 all of Pakistan will be using hydro electric power.

Following Mr. Amin-Du-Din's speech a business session took place. Alex Fraser reported on the St. John's ambulance project, and that 120 had taken the St. John's ambulance course at the Dellow smelting plant and the Bethlehem Mine, and there was a sufficient number to man the ambulance on a three members a week basis.

The president reported on the forthcoming drive for the Home for the Blind in Kingston.

Harold Olsen reported on the findings of the cost of the artificial ice, which would run around $34,500, which would be discussed at a further public meeting.

Reeve Ritchie Wells announced that the council had passed a motion to put up new street signs.

R. E. Bonter reported for the committee which met a deputation from the Department of Lands and Forests to discuss the possibility of the department taking over the supervision of the dam and the local waters.

Leadership Cut In Soccer To Two Teams

LONDON (Reuters)—Leadership of English Soccer League Division I today was reduced to two clubs —Burnley and Wolverhampton Wanderers—with 40 points each.

Burnley beat Chelsea 2-0 and Wolverhampton Wanderers registered the same score against West Bromwich Albion, third of the four teams which stood together with 38 points each last week. Manchester United defeated the fourth team, Preston, 5-2.

Burnley has a slight edge on Wolverhampton with a superior goal average and Preston takes third place over West Bromwich for the same reason.

Sheffield United was held to a 1-1 draw by Luton but still holds the leadership of Division II with 47 points, three ahead of Huddersfield, which tied 1-1 with Birmingham. Luton is in third place with 39 points.

3-3 DRAW

Though they could only draw 3-3 against Leyton Orient, Bristol Rovers are still well ahead with 53 points at the top of the southern section of Division III. Bristol City, which scored a smashing 6-1 victory over Walsall is seven points behind. Northampton, tied 1-1 by Millwall, occupies third place with 44 points.

Oldham, leader of the northern section, lost 4-1 to Hartlepools but Grimsby Town, in second place, also lost, 1-0 to Bradford. Oldham has 45 points, Grimsby 42. Port Vale, 2-0 winner over Workington, has 41 points in third place.

East Fife beat Airdrieonians 3-1 to draw even with Hibernian, defeated 2-0 by Dundee, at the top of Scottish League, Division A. Each team has 32 points, three more than Rangers, who lost 2-1 to Clyde.

Hamilton's 2-1 win over Dumbarton enabled it to draw ahead of Stirling in Division B with 38 points. Stirling was held to a 0-0 tie by Stenhousemuir and now holds second place with 37 points. Arbroath, beaten 3-0 by Cowdenbeath, is six points behind.

"No Small Talk"

The second factor the speaker said needed to be kept in the minds of both canvassers was "the practical common sense of a joint, federated and combined effort as contrasted to nonsensical wastefulness of 11 separate campaigns."

He pointed out tha the benefits of such a federated appeal were many. It saves wear and tear on both the canvassers and contributors. It insures the more equitable distribution of funds to welfare agencies. And the actual cost of running the one campaign is much less than if there were several campaigns.

IMPORTANT FACTOR

"But the most important and significant factor that must always be kept in mind is that this is your chance to practice good citizenship in a positive manner," the speaker said. This is your opportunity to give of your time, talents and substance to make sure that these 11 welfare organizations will be able to carry on their work to meet needs which you have recognized as existing in this community."

In his concluding remarks, Dr. Davidson also pointed to the campaign as an apportunity "to demonstrate the cardinal principles of the democratic society in which we live."

He explained that the essential difference between the democratic way of life and the way of life in countries behind the iron curtain as "that element in our society which we call voluntary effort—the things we do out of our own initiative to serve our community."

REMAIN FREE

"As long as we are living in the kind of community where voluntary initiative makes it possible to organize voluntary welfare services as community undertakings, we are a free community and we are living and breathing the air of freedom. When this is no longer possible and these organizations are taken over an an all-powerful benevolent state, freedom will die. For all attributes of freedom are so intertwined and inter-related that when one falls all are in jeopardy.

"With this at stake, success in your campaign will mean a fruitful and rich experience which will stand on eternal credit not only to this city of Peterborough, but to you as volunteer workers."

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. J. P. Watts, a vice-president of the fund's board of directors and thanked by Mayor Hugh Waddell.

Fund Chairman, Alex Elliott was chairman of the evening.

COSTS RISING

In his remarks, Mr. Elliott explained that the campaign objective had been raised this year to meet rising costs and to include a new agency—St. John Ambulance. He paid tribute to the work done by campaign workers in the past and expressed his appreciation for the work that had already been done for the 1953 campaign.

Brief speeches of encouragement were given to the canvassers by the Rev. H. C. Douglas, chairman of the Peterborough Ministerial Association, the Most Rev. Gerald Berry, and four fund division chairmen—Mrs. J. E. Watters, women's division; Samuel Whitehouse, special names; Russell Baer, industrial; and Woodrow Roberts, retail.

Music was provided before the dinner by the Peterborough Salvation Army Band.

City Women Win Bonspiel

GUELPH (CP) — Peterborough women curlers captured the W. E. Hamilton Trophy in the Guelph fillies bonspiel Friday night when Mrs. M. G. McCartney's rink outpointed Mrs. Bruc Fox of Guelph, 13-5 in the main event final

The Peterborough rink previously defeated quartets skipped by Mrs. H R. Armstrong of Toronto and Mrs. Campbell of Oshawa. The trophy was held last year by Mrs. Flo Seawright of Toronto.

Mrs. Armstrong's Toronto four won the second event, ousting Mrs. Babock of Galt 11-7 in the final. The consolation went to Mrs Lou Cutten of Guelph, who scored a 13-7 verdict over Mrs. McIntosh of Woodstock.

Will Ratify EDC Says Adenauer

BONN, Germany (Reuters)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, brushing aside Social Democratic opposition and an impending constitutional court ruling, firmly declared Friday that West Germany will ratify the European Army treaty.

"There is absolutely no doubt about it," he said in a broadcast. Adenauer said he was confident France would ratify the treaty as well, perhaps after action by Italy, Holland and other members of the proposed six-country army.

His prediction came on the eve of an important ruling by the West German constitutional court, which is to announce today whether it can admit for immediate hearing the government coalition parties' case that the Bonn and EDC treaties be declared constitutional.

The two treaties concerned are the European Defence Community treaty, admitting German contingents into the six-country European Army, and the contractual agreements between the Big Three western powers and West Germany which end the occupation statute.

Final ratification vote on the treaties is due in the Bundestag (lower house) March 20. They were passed in an earlier reading last December by a majority of 60. Social democrats voted against.

End-Of-Boom Week Comes To Toronto Mart

By HARRY KINGDON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

This looked like end-of-the-boom week on the Toronto stock exchange.

Trading volume fell off gradually daily until it reached a low for the year of 2,974,000 shares Friday. Prices also slipped.

Two weeks ago—Friday, Feb. 20—trading volume hit a record of 12,398,000 shares, highest in the Toronto market's history.

A boom in western oils, expected this week by some observers, failed to materialize. Oils rose Monday, continuing the previous week's advances, but turned suddenly downward Tuesday and Wednesday.

Industrials, golds, base metals and western oils lost ground on the week. The average loss was 2.87 index points.

NOT PLEASING

The news of Stalin's illness which broke Wednesday apparently didn't please investors. Prices slipped sharply that day. The news Friday of his death had less effect on the market.

The general uncertainty was not considered the only reason for the market's decline, but few guesses were available on what the other reasons might be. The phrase "technical correction" was heard, meaning a normal decline after a general advance. There have been few sharp advances recently, however, from which the market might decline.

In spite of the decrease in the number of shares traded, the number of issues drawing interest continued to rise. Between early January and late February, the daily average of issues traded increased from 554 to 598. This week, an average of slightly more than 600 issues was traded.

MIXED AT OPENING

Toronto opened the week mixed but slightly weaker while Montreal prices rose. Tuesday, industrials resisted general losses in Toronto while gaining in Montreal. The two centres continued opposed Wednesday, prices weakening in Toronto and gaining in Montreal. Both showed losses Thursday. Toronto continued lower Friday while Montreal prices rose.

The New York market was quiet most of the week, opening mixed and continuing mixed until a decline set in Wednesday. Thursday and Friday saw mixed prices again.

From Friday to Friday the Toronto exchange's indices showed industrials down 2.97 at 318.92, golds down 2.23 at 82.24, base metals down 3.21 at 173.83 and western oils down 3.08 at 119.75.

In the Montreal averages, banks were down .09 at 33.27, utilities up .2 at 94.9, industrials up .1 at 205.4, combined up .1 at 168.5, papers up 4.75 at 708.05 and golds down 1.05 at 65.27.

In New York, The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost 40 cents at $113.80.

IF THE (OVER) SHOE FITS, wear it, is the problem of Karen Kitney, 6, of Coldsprings School, who, with her fellows, spends considerable time at recess, noon hour and at 3.30 each day trying to find her foot gear among the clutter in the school hallway. Stacked on sheets of cardboard, principal Don Knight solved the muddy hall problem and saved the janitor's sanity.—(Examiner Staff Photo).

Award $55,441 For Grain Loss

TORONTO (CP)—The Exchequer Court, admiralty division, Friday allowed a claim of $55,441 by the Kurth Malting Co. of Wisconsin and the McCabe Grain Co Ltd. of Winnipeg for loss of 291,835 bushels of barley, damaged while being shipped from Port Arthur to Milwaukee in November, 1951.

The action was taken against Colonial Steamships Ltd. of Port Colborne, operators of the grain ship Laketon.

The shipping company claimed that the damage was due to "perils, danger and accident of the sea for which it is not responsible."

Evidence showed that a steam pipe split open in two holds and that a joint pulled apart in hold No. 4, allowing steam and condensation to escape, wetting the barley.

The shipping firm said this was caused by a heavy storm but Mr. Justice F. H. Barlow ruled that the evidence indicated the pipe must have broken some time before the storm.

Alcohol In Ont. Ale Held To Five Per Cent

TORONTO (CP)—Provincial secretary Arthur Welsh said Friday beer in Ontario is being held to an alcoholic content of not more than five per cent by volume.

Col. Welsh, who is also chairman of the liquor control board, said at a meeting of a House committee on government commissions that "Canadian beer is too strong."

"It's above five per cent strength that beer causes drunkenness," he said.

He said Ontario breweries over the years have held pretty well to a five-per-cent average, but some brewers have been inclined to go above that figure and he has asked them to cut the strength.

Toronto Tax Rate 41.3, Down By Half-Mill

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto's 1953 tax rate will be 41.3 mills, down one-half mill from last year, mayor Allan Lamport announced Friday after a meeting with members of the board of education.

The 41.3 mill rate is for public school supporters. The rate for separate school supporters will be 45.3 mills, a full mill below that of 1952.

Board of control approved a budget of $79,750,000, the highest in the city's history and an increase of $1,920,000. Higher tax revenues and unanticipated surpluses more than offset the increase.

Village To Disband

BRONTE (CP) — Ratepayers, faced with taxes almost double those of last year, voted Thursday to disband this village of 1,100 which was incorporated less than two years ago. A meeting of more than 50 ratepayers made the decision as "the only way we can get out of a situation" which has raised one man's taxes from $120 to $600 since incorporation. The group voted to rejoin Trafalgar township.

7-Year Term For Fraud

MONTREAL (CP)—The maximum seven-year penitentiary term for fraud was imposed Friday by Chief Judge Edouard Archambault on Gaston Belair, 45, of Quebec for having defrauded a 76-year-old spinster of $5,000. Yvonne Ouimet, grey-haired complainant, testified Belair posed as an investigator of some sort and offered to look after all her business. She trusted him with her signature on a blank cheque.

Hopeful Pupil

VANCOUVER (CP)—A grade school pupil here was hopeful.

Bright and early he telephoned a newspaper office when he learned of the death of Prime Minister Stalin.

"Do we get a half holiday today because of Mr. Stalin's death?" he asked.

Ford Co. Granted $5,833 Rebate

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Ford of Canada Friday was granted a refund of $5,833 on its 1952 business tax because the company was "out of business" for eight days last May.

City solicitor James E. Watson, who termed the case one of the most unusual in the history of Canadian law, said he is considering an appeal against the decision of the court of revision.

Company solicitors told the court the plant here was closed from May 23 to May 30 when office workers, members of local 1240, United Automobile Workers (CIO) went on strike. Members of local 200 refused to cross picket lines set up by the office employees.

The company based its appeal on a section of the Assessment Act which provides a rebate on business tax when a firm does not conduct its business during the full year.

Mr. Watson said the only similar case he knew of was in Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., in 1947 when Algoma Steel Company was granted a tax rebate following a 90-day strike.

Toronto Man Vanishes From Windsor Hotel

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Police said Friday they are searching for Dan R. Graham, about 35, of Toronto, who disappeared Wednesday following an argument the night before with two men in a hotel room he had engaged here.

Police said Graham, an auctioneer, came here Feb. 7 to handle sales for a jewelry store which was going out of business. It was believed he had an unset diamond worth $1,000 in his possession when he disappeared.

A hotel official said the two unidentified men visited Graham in his room Tuesday night. They were ejected by police after the occupant of a nearby room heard the men arguing.

Blasting First Tunnel Completed: Saunders

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—Blasting of the No. 1 tunnel of Ontario hydro's huge new Sir Adam Beck No. 2 power project has been completed, hydro chairman Robert Saunders has announced.

The tunnels driving toward each other through rock met perfectly.

About 3.3 miles of the full tunnel, which will be used to funnel water from above the falls underneath the city to the powerhouse on the lower gorge, has been excavated from the roof to the floor. About 4,500 feet of the cement lining has been poured along the bottom

Marshall For Crowning

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower appointed Gen. George C. Marshall Friday to attend the Coronation as his special representative. Marshal is a former state secretary and defence secretary and was army chief of staff during the Second World War.

IN SEARCH OF SANCTUARY—A sea of humanity laps against the West Berlin refugee centre as more than 3,000 men, women and children wait to register as political refugees. About half of this group arrived from the Russian zone in a single night and reported for registration in the morning, but the crowd was so huge that a 24-hour delay resulted.

Eight Centres Get TV Permits

OTTAWA (CP)—Transport Minister Chevrier said Friday he understands private television stations will be allowed to operate in Hamilton, London, Windsor, Sudbury and Kitchener, Quebec City, Sydney, N.S., and Saint John, N.B.

He was replying in the Commons to questions by John Diefenbaker (PC—Lake Centre).

Applications for privately-owned television stations in the eight cities have been received by the transport department and referred to the CBC board of governors. The board will consider them March 27.

Mr. Chevrier said the applications were in accord with government policy on television. Mr. Diefenbaker asked if that meant the eight cities were areas where private television stations would be allowed to operate.

"That is my understanding," said Mr. Chevrier.

Northern Areas Lack Educational Facilities

TORONTO (CP)Angus Dunbar, counsel for the royal commission on education, said Friday "equality of education" in Ontario is non-existent.

Revision of the whole curriculum of schools is necessary, he said at a Protestant Women's Federation meeting. In spite of excellent work being done by eight train schools and the mail order lessons of the education department, many children, especially in Northern Ontario, were receiving no education.

Mr. Dunbar said that one inspectorate has 156 children of school age lacking any educational facilities.

Fire Kills Two Brothers

THE PAS, Man. (CP)—Two brothers, Ernest Villeneuve, 14, and Jackie, 5, died Thursday night when fire destroyed their home at The Pas in northwestern Manitoba. Ernest is believed to have been overcome by smoke. Jackie is believed to have died in a fall from the boys' attic bedroom.

Liberal Leader Gets Cheers On Birthday

TORONTO (CP)—Opposition Leader Farquhar Oliver was cheered by government supporters in the Legislature Friday as an expression of good wishes on his 49th birthday.

The member from Grey South motioned to the gallery and said: "I'm glad my wife's up there, because now she knows that sometimes they say nice things about me."

Premier Frost said in 16 years in the Legislature he found Mr. Oliver was "always a gentleman."

School Sister Dies

KITCHENER (CP)—Sister Mary Miriam, 59, a school teacher at Notre Dame for 38 years, died Friday at St. Agatha Orphanage. Formerly Ann Walsh, she was born at Drayton and was stationed at Waterdown and St. Mary's Convent, Kitchener. Survivors include two brothers, Rev. Vincent Walsh of Chatham and John A. Walsh of Waterloo.

Double Event

JORDAN FERRY, N.S. (CP)—While Mr. and Mrs. Hanand Decker quietly celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary here, their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Decker, were observing their 21st anniversary.

CCL To Set Up 'Defence Fund' For Que. Unions

OTTAWA (CP)—The— Canadian Congress of Labor's executive council decided Friday to set up a "defence fund" to "protect the rights of Quebec workers to bargain collectively."

No specific target was established for the fund, to be contributed by union affiliates of the 370,000-member CCL. The executive council is the directing body of the congress between its conventions.

The move stemmed from a series of labor troubles in Quebec province including collective bargaining difficulties in Montreal of the CCL-affiliated Oil Workers' International Union and a long strike of Canadian Catholic Confederation of Workers members at Louiseville, Que.

Announcing the fund, Donald MacDonald, CCF secretary-treasurer, said:

"Conditions which our own and other unions have faced in Quebec make it obvious that workers in that province are facing extreme handicaps in their efforts to exercise what is recognized in the letter of Canadian law as the right to organize into unions of their choice and to bargain collectively."

Whisky-Loaded Truck Hits Bus, Two Houses

ODESSA, Ont. (CP)—A transport loaded with whisky hit the side of a school bus Friday, went out of control, smashed the corner off a frame house, careened across a vacant lot and was finally stopped by the side of a brick house.

The truck driver, James Jones of Toronto, is in hospital with serious injuries. Charles Lake, owner-driver of the bus, and the nine children aboard were uninjured.

Police said the bus was about to turn left when the transport came up behind and, attempting to avoid an accident, sideswiped the bus.

Odessa is about 15 miles west of Kingston.

From Washington To Ottawa

Stopping off in Ottawa before or after important Anglo-American consultations has become a practice of American and British Cabinet Ministers and other creators of policy. We cannot believe that it is Ottawa's weather at this time of year which brings Mr. R. A. Butler to our capital city now, after his and Mr. Eden's talks in Washington which ended this morning. Nor do we believe diplomatic courtesy impels them to Ottawa. These leading figures include Ottawa in their itinerary because it is our executive capital. Canada has long been an intermediary between the U.S. and the U.K., but now Canada is more; she has become so important for herself that her views are not merely considered, but are sought out personally by these visitors. Mr. Butler wants to know directly the opinions, advices and intentions of Canadian policy-makers.

* * *

The talks in Washington between the Chancellor of the Exchequer and U.S. Treasury officials, and between the British Foreign Secretary and State Department officials, had of course a bearing on Canada. The exchange of views between the U.K. Government and the new American Administration—whether they were of Suez, the launching of the Middle East Defence organization, sterling convertibility, or the Organization for European Co-operation — concern Canada, for Canada's political, military and economic interests have become very wide. The small amount of information given out as the Washington talks closed will no doubt be elaborated by Mr. Butler in the privacy of Ottawa cabinet chambers the first of next week.

* * *

Mr. Eden—usually assiduous in calling on Ottawa—will not visit this time. Instead he will attend the current session of the United Nations. The Canadian Cabinet and the British Foreign Office are already very closely aware of what is on each other's mind—even, we suspect, of their views on Stalin's death and Russia's life.

Insured Stability In Ontario

Following light-heartedly in the wake of Ontario statisticians surveying the economic regions of the Province, we have from time to time in these columns regurgitated their findings as published in the Economic Review of Ontario. The latest issue of this government pamphlet contains a review of what the statisticians call the Upper Grand Region; to wit, Perth, Waterloo and Wellington counties in southwest Ontario.

We note that the area is the only one not partly bordered by water, that it has one of the highest elevations in southern Ontario, and that more than a quarter of a million people live there—chiefly in its five cities: Kitchener, Guelph, Galt, Stratford and Waterloo. People suburban to our own city may look askance at recent annexations here. They should consider ours a modest grasp compared with Kitchener which last year annexed more than 3,000 acres of land—giving the Twin Cities (Kitchener-Waterloo) a combined population of 63,000. Guelph was a veritable marauder in the same year. It annexed 2,600 acres of Guelph township—as much land as the entire city had before the annexation. Guelph seems to be wooing green fields, not people, for in all that new acreage only 800 people lived. These annexations are a result and symptom of the areas' post-war expansion. During the last two years alone, twenty-four new industries came to it.

Before we become city-bound in our survey of the Upper Grand we should mention the countryside. There is a large, fertile hinterland. Actually, 93 percent. of the area is classed as farm land, and 82 percent. of that has been "improved"—that is, brought to furrow or pasture. In Perth county there are more people getting their living off the land than there are working in factories. That county raises more swine than any other in the Province, and there are about sixty million dollars' worth of cattle in the three counties. More than a third of the flax grown in Ontario is produced in Wellington and Perth. Most field crops are grown for feed rather than cash.

The people, whether rural or urban, appear to be thrifty, steady and cautiously progressive. This is not due to their Anglo-Saxon roots especially; in fact, these roots are fewer than average in Ontario. The first settlers in Waterloo county were Mennonites who left Pennsylvania in 1790, and other U.E.L's trace their ancestry to Germany and Holland. Only 58 percent. of the inhabitants have British ancestry. Nearly half the people in Waterloo county are of German stock—hence Kitchener's name until the Great War was Berlin.

This brings us back to the cities, of which Kitchener is the most pretentious; it is the largest and wears Waterloo on its sleeve. Rubber is Kitchener's most important output. Five companies producing rubber goods (chiefly for cars) are the largest employers. Next are food factories, and then a variety of other industries: meat packers, two breweries, one distillery, three tanneries, ten shoe companies and nineteen furniture factories. Some of these must be consigned to Waterloo, but before leaving Kitchener we should remark that it (as Berlin) was the first municipality in the world to receive high tension electric power. This was in 1910, and Sir Adam Beck had much to do with the project. In 1915 Berlin became the first Ontario municipality to receive Niagara power.

Guelph, with six thousand workers in its industries, produces textiles, electric goods, iron and steel products, and other things ranging from hats to road machinery. Galt (originally a Scottish settlement, with a brewery and distillery a hundred years ago) has now become a tool shop. Thirty companies manufacture iron, steel and brass products. Stratford prospered with the Grand Trunk Railway. Railway repair shops are still the city's largest industry, employing 1,200. Stratford manufactures furniture, too.

Now we return to Waterloo and our heading. The diversity of industry in the Upper Grand Area and the solidity of its agricultural pursuits produce a stable economy—so stable that generally wage and salary rates do not raise or fall as fast as elsewhere in the Province. The average income two years ago of income tax payers was well below the provincial average. Another reason for the stability is Waterloo, which is famous as the head office of six large insurance companies. These make Waterloo a leading financial centre—the six companies have assets totalling half a billion dollars. In the face of this imposing financial structure, we hardly dare mention that a fifth of all the quick lime produced in Ontario is got from this region.

He Should Have Died Sooner

"Highly valued as a great organizer of the struggles of freedom-loving peoples against the common enemy and as the leader in the cause of ensuring the security of the whole world." This is not a flattering eulogy of Stalin said by a sycophantic head of another Communist state, but Stalin's own tribute to President Roosevelt when, on February 12th, 1945, he learnt of Roosevelt's death. Our Canadian Press account of that day referred to Stalin as "Mr.", and "Generalissimo" and reported that Stalin said all Russians so highly valued the great American leader.

The condolences and tributes which the West has paid Stalin this week are cold cucumber compared with what Stalin did not avoid saying in 1945 about Roosevelt. Stalin should have died eight or nine years ago had his ghost wanted the West's flattering parting word. (Others may suggest other reasons why an earlier demise would have been good.) Stalin was then one of the Big Three. Now F.D.R. is gone, Uncle Joe is gone. Only the great and grand old Mr. C. remains to elevate and illuminate the world.

Months Of Disasters

The floods which devastated the east coast of England last month were the worst of a series of phenomenally bad times which Britain has experienced during the last eight months. Last August floods and cloudbursts destroyed Lymmouth, a charming seaside resort in Devon. September was the coldest since 1815, and gales in the Midlands along the south coast reached the ferocious speed of a hundred miles an hour. In November the river Dovey in central Wales burst its banks, and in that month there were one hundred-mile-an-hour winds and flood damage in Hastings, Brighton and London. December was a months of gales and fogs and blizzards and floods and burst pipes. Then in January—January 9th, to be precise—came a poisonous fog that lasted for fourteen days.

The death rate increased startlingly. In five weeks 124 towns reported 34,764 deaths as against 25,821 for the same period in 1951. In London alone fifteen thousand people died.

One compares the English record of these months with the Canadian autumn and winter—to March; unusually calm, mild and beneficent. Is this March to be the retaliation, or a wag of the tail of the dog which bit England?

NOTES AND COMMENT

A novelist says that there is less money in fiction today than ever before. But there's still lots of fiction left in money!

The Coronation will bring a general amnesty for 10,400 wartime deserters in Britain. An interesting policy: if you can't catch 'em, forgive 'em.

A group of college students have voted 228 to 27 that there is no hell. The Devil, as permanent Leader of the Opposition, needs to do a little sharp electioneering in that college.

The Journal of Samuel Marchbanks

SUNDAY: This was St. David's Day, and I celebrated appropriately by doing nothing in particular, though I listened to a good deal of music on the gramophone. The Marchbanks family are more Welsh than anything else, in spite of Scottish elements and a slight smack of Irish. But the Welsh are pleasantly lacking in aggressive national characteristics; you cannot name three or four traits and say "There's a Welshman for you." They like music very much, but only in Hollywood films do Welshmen sing loudly and poignantly on every pretext. They ar said to be excitable, but they are so only superficially; like the Irish, they enjoy strong emotion, but they do not allow it to rob them of reason; in their hearts they are realists, and sometimes cynics. They talk a great deal, but only when you know them very well do they tell you their real thoughts. Their sense of humour is very much their own, and a little too sharp for English taste. Like a good Welshman I locked myself in my own thoughts, and enjoyed myself hugely.

✧ ✧ ✧

MONDAY: Lumbago still oppresses me; I begin to fear that I shall have it till spring. A man who suffers from it told me today that he always wears a garment called Dr. Zeno's Miracle Lumbago Bodice, and gets great solace from it. The Bodice is an affair indistinguishable from a woman's girdle, without garters on it. I laughed inwardly, for the thing is nothing more than a corset, though no man today will admit to wearing a corset. But the masculine sex was not always so lacking in frankness. A century ago every military tailor also made and sold corsets, so that the officers might present a trim appearance in their skin-tight breeches. I have even heard military historians say that the reason Wellington beat Napoleon at Waterloo was that the English officers had stronger corsets than the French and thus were able to sit longer in the saddle. If this is so, the battle of Waterloo was not won on the playing fields of Eton, but in the rubber plantations of Malaya, the whalebone mines of the Arctic, and the canvas deposits of Liverpool. If Napoleon had had a first-rate corset, what might the fate of Europe have been? A solemn reflection.

✧ ✧ ✧

TUESDAY: Mentioned Dr. Zeno's Miracle Lumbago Bodice to a man today in what I thought was an undertone, but I was overheard by his frivolous wife, who insisted upon telling me about the newest development in female corsetry. It appears that this is a brassiere with rubber chambers in it which may be inflated to whatever size the wearer thinks appropriate and credible, in the light of everybody else. This is obviously a development of the idea long used by clowns in skating carnivals, who appear with large balloons concealed in their upper reaches, which they pierce with pins at appropriate moments. What, I wonder, will the new inflatable brassiere look like if naughty fellows with pins test them at parties? Worse, what will happen if the naughty fellows meet richly endowed ladies who are not wearing such aids to beauty? Imagination boggles at the prospect! When at last we got rid of this light-minded woman the atmosphere for intimate talk about Lumbago Bodices had been destroyed. That is something women can never understand; men have curious fields of delicacy in their conversation which should not be invaded by the coarse gibes of the other sex.

✧ ✧ ✧

WEDNESDAY: Heard a lecture this evening by a lady from Pakistan, who said a few words about life in purdah— the private quarters for women in Moslem homes. She referred to this as The Life Behind The Veil, but what she said belied this dramatic description, for it seems that what Moslem women do behind the veil is precisely what women all over the world do everywhere. At a party afterward this was the subject of a long and disappointed discussion by several people of my acquaintance, who had cherished lurid ideas of Life Behind the Veil. It was their notion, I suspect, that Moslem ladies lay about on cushions, wearing fancy pyjamas, waiting for the Big Boss to come in and play eeny-meeny-miney-mo. But a crumb of realistic thought would have dispelled such a pipe-dream. Moslem men are busy fellows, especially at present, and they must also want some time in which to be quiet; Behind the Veil, with several wives and a lot of chifdren, and a horde of female servants, must be an extremely unrestful locality. Monogamy got its beginning not in man's superior moral outlook, but in a perfectly natural desire for greater peace and quiet.

✧ ✧ ✧

THURSDAY: Read a book today, written by a woman about a man who died sixty years ago. Not a bad book, but marred by the fact that the writer could not get over a naive surprise that people who lived in the ninteenth century thought and behaved very much as we do in important matters. I must say that it has never occurred to me that people who lived a century ago, or ten centuries ago, were much different from ourselves, except in externals. It is a ridiculous form of vanity, and a deplorable kind of ignorance, to think that all evolution has been toiling upward to blossom in the glorious, wise, fascinating people of the twentieth century, who are making such a marvellous job of putting the world straight.

✧ ✧ ✧

FRIDAY: Tonight to see the Royal Conservatory Opera School perform Mozart's "Cosi Fan Tutte," and enjoyed it hugely, for it is a masterwork of a great genius. It is also a work which would flabbergast the antiseptic souls who are testifying before the Senate Committee on Obscenity, for it not only hints at the existence of S-x but is funny on the subject. However, it is one of God's peculiar mercies that he makes professional moralists utterly numb to the charms of art in its higher forms; they never read any books, but dirty ones, and never seen any plays but filthy ones, for these are necessary fuel to their messianic delusion that they must save the world from itself. So they have no time for things like "Cosi Fan Tutte" and would be bored to death by them if they did, for they are generally people of thickened sensibilites, and have to be hit in the face with a shovelfull of well-rotted insinuendo before they recognize it. A good many teenagers (whom the moralists are always trying to protect) were at "Cosi" and so far as I could judge, they loved it, and took it as a completely new and very funny show which is, I think, the very best way for the young to encounter works of genius.

✧ ✧ ✧

SATURDAY: The voice of duty called me to a performance of "Iolanthe" this evening, and the highest compliment I can pay to Sir Arthur Sullivan is to say that his music sounded remarkably well to an ear which was still rosy from the strains of Mozart. But the libretti of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas are beginning to creak at the knees. We no longer think large, fat women funny in quite the way that Gilbert did; nor are his very coy maidens effective, for modern maidens are about as coy as bull-dozers and only those members of the audience with a strong historic sense know what Gilbert's heroines are up to. However, I am not one of those who want these operettas brought up to date; their great charm is that they are period pieces, and all the stage movement and little dances are delightful reminders of a past when a musical show did not have to have a ballet of athletic boys and girls, trained by Agnes de Mille, to make them bearable. The Gilbert and Sullivan operettas demand a chorus that can sing —really sing—, and very few modern musical shows do so. Their choruses yell coarsely, and try to make up for the defect by dancing furiously.

THE SCEPTRE

A Struggle For Succession

By ROBERT FRANKLIN (in Formosa)

CLIQUE politics among the Chinese Nationalistst are once again weakening Kuomintang structure and the whole Nationalist effort.

In this case the struggle is to decide who shall succeed Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. The candidates are the Prime Minister, General Chen Cheng, and Lieutenant-General Chiang Ching Kuo, the Generalissimo's elder son.

The health of Chiang Kai-shek, who is now sixty-six, is said to be generally good, although he is susceptible to colds and as a result spends weeks at a time during the damp season at the southern port of Kaohsinung. He is there at present and has been for the past few weeks.

Although the struggle for future power is kept beneath the surface, it is nevertheless real. One prominent and respected Nationalist official told me that this conflict was continually obstructing progress towards economic and political stability. "Certain people are interested only in perpetuating their own power at the expense of all else," he said with some bitterness.

General Chen Cheng, who is now fifty-five, has been Prime Minister for the past three years. It is generally agreed that he is honest, capable and hard-working. He is a protege of Chiang Kai-shek's and is said to be close to the Nationalist leader. But this is also true of the Generalissimo's son, who, in addition, has worked himself into an enormously powerful position during the past few years.

NOW FORTY-THREE, he heads the political affairs bureau of the Ministry of Defence. But his influence extends far beyond the area of military affairs. He is a member of the ten-man standing committee of the Kuomintang Central Committee and commandant of Formosa's reactivated youth corps. He organised the political commissar system in the armed forces and publishes Army and Youth Corps newspapers. His newspapers recently attacked Mr. Hu Shih, the famous Chinese scholar and historian, for having stated that many of the methods being used on Formosa today were too close to the Communist way of doing things to be healthy. General Chiang Ching Kuo answers such criticisms by insisting that there can be only limited freedom for the individual until the nation's freedom has been regained. Chiang Ching Kuo went to Russia at the age of sixteen and spent the next twelve years there. He has a Russian wife. He is now learning English in anticipation, it is said, of a visit to the United States in the near future.

Today both he and General Chen Cheng have strong support within the Kuomintang. According to the constitution, the Prime Minister should succeed President Chiang Kai-shek, but there are many here who feel that the Generalissimo's son will eventually emerge as the next leader of the Chinese Nationalists. Such is certainly Chiang Ching Kuo's own aim.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And, behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed: and Jesus seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy; Son, be of good cheer; thy sins be forgiven thee. And, behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves, This man blasphemeth.

And Jesus knowing their thoughts said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts? For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and walk?

But that ye know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (then saith he to the sick of the palsy), Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thine house. And he arose, and departed to his house.

But when the multitudes saw it, they marvelled, and glorified God, which had given such power unto men. (Matt, 9: 2-8.)

Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think any thing as of ourselves; but our sufficiency is of God; who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament; not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life . . .

But we all, witn open race beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory even as by the Spirit of the Lord. (II Cor. 3: 5, 6, 18.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Bless the Lord, O my soul: and all that is within me, bless his holy name . . . Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases. (Ps. 103: 1, 3.)

Letters To The Editor

THE CENTRE'S NINE YEARS

Sir: These recent letters to the Editor and your articles concerning the proposed Memorial Centre are well meant and indeed timely. However they leave me, and I suspect thousands of other people, with my tongue in my cheek and the feeling "this is where I came in."

Nine years have passed, imagine nine long years, since the question of a Memorial Centre was first thought of and money subscribed. Here we are now in 1953 and even farther away than ever from its completion. Your writer in last Saturday's Examiner so aptly phrased the situation when he commented that "the committee in charge of the Memorial Centre fumbled the ball when the goal line was in sight." How true that statement is.

How grand were the promises of the subscription seekers that collected for the Centre, very impressive were the advertisements in the local papers, the committee in charge of the canvassers couldn't speak highly enough of the motives behind the building of this Memorial Centre. And for what? After nine years it is nothing more than a big joke. I doubt if we will ever see it built and even if it is the good people who contributed to its erection back in the middle forties have been sold down the river.

It is certainly easy enough to sit back and criticize but nobody can deny that Mr. Joe Jebson and his easy-going committee have been given a fair chance. If they all ran their businesses on the nine year plan you can guess where they'd wind up. Never have excuses been so prevalent. We all know you can't build Memorial Centres on excuses. Each year a new city council takes office, one of the foremost statements advanced is "this is the year we start on the new Memorial Centre." How empty can promises get?

It certainly is gratifying to see so many people still interested in the Centre but why I don't know. I feel quite sure Mr. Jebson will come up with a fresh batch of excuses as to why the Centre has been stalled and this will have to satisfy for another nine years. Whenever I read of some of their silly meetings and the way they let small obstacles stand in the way of getting this project started it makes me positively ill. I feel sure I speak for many other sport fans in this matter also.

In conclusion Mr. Editor, if I were a betting man I'd lay you six, two, and even that five years from now we'll still be getting excuses from Mr. Jebson and his committee as to why the Memorial Ctnre hasn't been started. I don't believe there would be any takers either.

Yours truly,
"FED-UP."

BOOK ON WATER DIVINATION

Sir: In your correspondence of Feb. 28, "An Interested Reader" asked about Water divining. In our Public Library I got a year ago a book about "Henry Gross, Water Diviner," where in your correspondent may find more on this subject than anyone would deem possible.

Wool From Whole World Gathered And Graded At Otonabee Riverside Plant

"Hello, hello! Dave? On that shipment you ordered, if you want us to do this and that it will add a tuppence or two to the cost. The market right now is 90 cents odd . . ."

This was a smattering of a long-distance telephone conversation between general manager Gordon Monkman of G. Whitaker and Company Limited, wool merchants, with a prospective buyer in Toronto. It indicated to me the nature of his company's business, the buying, processing and selling of wool. And because Mr. Monkman's talk was an easy flow of pounds, shillings, pence and dollars it indicated the world-wide nature of their business.

Whitaker wool in Peterborough is the Canadian branch of the parent company in Bradford, England. It ranks among the two top world merchandising firms in Canada. There is an American office in Boston. Bradford in Yorkshire, they say, is the nerve centre of the wool business of the British Empire.

Wherever wool is grown you will find Whitaker agents buying the raw product—New Zealand, Australia, India, Pakistan, the British Isles, North and South America and in Canada. Although Canada ranks second in wool consumption per capita throughout the world—the first is said to be Finland—only ten per cent of the several million pounds that they handle yearly in Peterborough is Canadian clip.

The parent company was founded in Yorkshire in 1911 and the Canadian (Peterborough) branch started in 1920. A director chose this city because it was a satisfactory distribution centre, because ample warehousing facilities were available, because Peterborough was in close proximity to several small woollen mills in southern Ontario.

Mr. Monkman was sent to one-man staff the branch. He was a qualified wool sorter, having worked in Bradford before serving in the Imperial Army during the First World War (apprentice wages, five shillings a week). Desk space in the Barrie Bldg. was the modest beginning of the Peterborough branch. First warehousing was done where the Canadian Sealright plant now operates and from there they moved to Dawson Bldg., on Bethune St., again to the present premises of the York Trading and finally behind the Dewart Milling Company.

Whitakers had purchased the old Auburn woollen plant in 1941 but for the six following years it was used to store government wool stocks of which they were custodians. The warehouse fire in '47 behind Dewart's forced the company to move to their Auburn plant which, by this time, had been cleared of the government stocks. Custodianship, or control, had a parallel in England where son of the firm's founder, Ralph Whitaker, was head of the wool control division in the United Kingdom during the war.

The Peterborough firm has grown to employ a staff of 35 people in office and warehouse. Under Mr. Monkman there are sales manager Harry Willis, comptroller-office manager W. A. Brown, warehouse-traffic manager Archie Hamilton and assistant accountant Bill Clark. Coast-to-coast selling to the trade is done by a four-man sales team—Ken Hambidge, J. C. Bolton, Cyril Monkman and Ray Armstrong.

The largest floor space in the Whitaker second-floor office on Hunter St., W., (old Bell Telephone building), is taken up by a sample room where walls are stacked solidly from floor to ceiling with numbered tin cases that contain grade wool samples from all parts of the globe.

Any one of their experts can open lids from several tins and produce wool samples from the Scotch Highlands, the hills of Wales, southern Alberta, the Argentine, Tasmania, Southern New Zealand, Peel County in Ontario, and a hundred and one places. They can also tell from the soil tint on each which specific section of any of the above general sections the sample came from.

The Auburn warehouse, comprising three buildings on the C.N.R. Lakefield line is a hive of activity premeated with a gamey smell of oily sheep hides. The pungent smell is not disagreeable after getting used to it for five minutes. Workmen say they do not notice it at all.

A·F·I·E·L·D with NICK NICKELS

While soaking up sunshine at St. Petersburg bicycleman Charlie Banks got a bit homesick. That city's newspaper came out with a long article pointing out their auditorium chairman's views on the pressing requirements for a new recreation centre. The story went on for several columns and Charlie got homesicker and homesicker.

He recalled all the racket about the proposed Memorial Community Centre in his old home town in 1944, its $300,000 building fund kitty that he and hundreds of other fellow citizens had contributed to, the discarding of several building sites during the past nine years. He sat under the palms and cried.

To cheer Charlie up, I hope someone sent him this week's Examiner with the picture plan and story offer. It would make him feel better to know, too, that the Examiner article was followed up by an avalanche of letters to the editor—many of them printed the following day. There was also a speedy visit from committee chairman Joe Jebson to the managing editor trying to ferret out the news leak.

It's all very exciting, Charlie. Thanks for your clipping of Feb. 11.

Happy Landings, 'Caygeon, and Many of Them

I have always maintained that Bobcaygeon was the greatest little go-getter tourist centre in the Kawarthas.

Do you know what they have done now?

They whacked out an aircraft landing strip on Bruce Kellett's farm last year, just south of town on which single and dual-engine craft landed. This week they have received official approval from Superintendent McIntyre, Department of Transport, Toronto. A tourist plane can fly from Canton, O., say, to Bobcaygeon in one hour and 55 minutes. This means travel-fresh tourists right in their lap and how those fly boys pass the word along.

Skyboro builders had dreams, too, but district tourist promoters are asleep at the windsock.

Another year rolls around and it will again be the occasion, March 10 and 11, for the Fish and Game Committee to convene at Queen's Park. They will hear representations and recommendations by many outdoor organizations and like last year, which I covered, hear a lukewarm presentation from the Kawarthas.

Sportsmen get pretty worked up over things they do not like here but the steam seems to dissipate when the spokesmen take the floor before the committee. Better they should stay at home and stop squawking or learn how to lobby.

We Kawarthans are better off than we think we are.

These animals are so rare that no one is allowed to hunt them. A breeding pair produces one calf every two years and, if it grows to be a big boy like its daddy, will scale 500 pounds.

Excerpts from the "Angler and Hunter", Sudbury: Six of their partridge hunting members sent one of their pals to town for supplies. He arrived back in camp with six crocks of wine, four cases of beer, two dozen of Duggan's Dew and a loaf of bread. The gang congratulated the courier, "You've even brought something for the birds!" . . . Some Chores Possible Now

By HENRY PREE

A mild, sunny March weekend, especially when there is no snow on the ground, sparks the desire to get out in the yard and garden to do some sort of work.

Seldom is much accomplished, but, however little, it means just so much less to do in the spring.

Pruning is a chore which comes to mind immediately and so the shears and saw get a slight workout.

With this thought in mind, the gardener should remember to prune only those shrubs that bloom in the middle or late summer.

HELPED THE PETES WIN—Important scoring factors in the Petes' 11-6 puck win over Cobourg there last night were the above three players. Toodie Greenlaw, at left, scored three goals and helped on another; Bill Crowley, centre, counted a pair—one a really smart effort—and assisted on one; while Junior West, at right, led in assists with three neat ones.

Petes Turn Back Cobourg By A Count Of 11 To 6 To Open Post-Season Set

The Petes dumped Cobourg Comets 11-6 before a slim crowd here last night to open their best-of-five OHA post-season playdown series for group runners-up. The second scrap is slated for lakeshore ice next Tuesday, with the third possibly here on Wednesday. Comets were minus Maundrell (doctoring for an eye injury) and Dawe, who was ill. The Petes missed Fred Mortimer, and used but three defencemen. The high-scoring struggle saw a lot of action, keen in spots, but some of the Petes looked lazy after their layoff in the senior "B" race. They won handily enough but didn't play good hockey over most of the route. They led 3-2 in the first period, clicked better for a 3-0 second-stanza bulge but only outscored Cobourg intermediates 5-4 in the third. At that, they drew 10 of the 14 penalties. Johnny Russelle handled the Petes in this tilt.

LED THE SCORERS

Toodie Greenlaw led in goals for the victors with three, Bill Crowley and Doug Hunter clicking for a brace each, with singles going to Bert Hill, Don Floyd, Chum Fryia and Gus Leonard. In the assists department, Junior West was high with three, two apiece being marked to Roy Armstrong, Ted Collins and Keith Montgomery, and one each to Fryia, Hill, Crowley and Greenlaw. The smartest goal of the night was Crowley's first one as he tore in fast alone, swooped clean across the goal-mouth to pull the goalie out and backhanded a sharp angle one into the corner.

Jack Reeves counted three goals for Cobourg, one each being tallied by Dave Casey, Murray Summerfelt and George McIvor. In assists, Casey was good for three, with one each going to Reeves, McIvor, Jack Crear and Bun Flesch.

Both goalies kicked out a lot of hot drives, Summerville being busier than Harding. Play generally was speedy and pretty clean. Referee Larry Heffering of Whitby arrived late but wasn't used, as two officials were already in charge of the game. Teams:

Cobourg: Goal, Summerville; defence, Munroe and Campbell; centre, J. Fisher; wings, D. Fisher and Boswell; alternates, Casey, Reeves, McIvor, Crear, Summerfelt, McKeen and Flesch.

Petes: Goal, Harding; defence, Montgomery and Armstrong; centre, West; wings, Greenlaw and Fryia; alternates, Hill, Crowley, Hunter, Leonard, Collins, Floyd and Wasson.

Referee, D. Calhoun; linesman, B. Kingdon.

Summary:

First Period

Cobourg—Reeves (Flesch)	2:15
Cobourg—Summerfelt (Crear)	5:35
Petes—Greenlaw (Fryia)	7:45
Petes—Hill (Montgomery)	17:12
Petes—Hunter (Collins)	18:26

Penalties—Montgomery, Crear, Collins, Fryia, McIvor.

Second Period

Petes—Crowley (Hill)	11:15
Petes—Hunter (Crowley)	16:19
Petes—Fryia (Greenlaw, West)	19:55

Penalties—Crowley, Flesch, Montgomery, Wasson.

Cobourg—Reeves (Casey)	19:00

Penalties—Montgomery (2), Hunter, Fryia, Reeves.

PCVS Loses Out In Tourney To Runnymedes

PCVS Garnet and Grey seniors played their last 1953 basketball game Friday night, losing to Runnymede Collegiate of Toronto in the last quarter 49-34 in the Ontario High School championship tournament in Toronto. Bev Goulding's cagers represented the Central Ontario district.

The second game practically decided the Ontario championship although the tournament continues throughout today. For the Niagara Falls Collegiate quintet, COSSA champions, edged past Assumption from Windsor in the final minute to win 50-47.

If Niagara wins this year, they will have won the title for the past three years. Asumption, with a well-balanced team, appeared headed for an upset as they led Niagara throughout the game. But Niagara rallied and went ahead in the last minute on a foul shot, 48-47, and then Howie Triano provided an assurance basket.

WELL-MATCHED

Runnymede, Toronto district champions, were well-matched for the Garnet and Grey. The PCVS quintet was down only 8-7 at the quarter and 19-15 at the half. Early in the third the Garnet and Grey went ahead 22-21, but soon the lead changed back to Runnymede. The final quarter made the difference.

Runnymede's rebounding gave them the edge throughout. Kjertinge and Vipond, who were Runnymede's height, gave Toronto the win practically on their rebounding. Kjertinge led the scoring with 13 as well.

The Garnet and Grey seniors were strengthened with members of the junior crew. Junior Doug Ash promptly paced the PCVS cagers with 10 points, mostly on driving in for layup shots.

Both PCVS and Assumption declined consolation offers which will be played today.

Lineups:

PCVS (34)—Grafstein 4, Griffin 5, Roberts, Corbett 6, Allen, J. Boorman, D. Ash 10, Cunningham 3, Davis, Langhorne 6.

Runnymede (49) — Saunders, Fleck 1, Watson 4, Kjertinge 13, Chester, Hawkett, Skimming 10, Hanford, Butler 6, Parsons 9, Jamieson, Vipond 6.

PCVS Hoopsters Lose 49-34 In Cage Tourney

TORONTO (CP) — Defending champion Niagara Falls Collegiate Friday night defeated Assumption High School of Windsor 50-47 in opening play of the annual high school basketball tournament of the Ontario Federation of School Athletic Associations.

It was the third consecutive victory for Niagara Falls over a Windsor team.

Eight teams are competing in the A class quarter-finals.

The Purple Raiders took a 22-12 lead in the first quarter. Both clubs scored often in the second and Windsor held a 12-point margin at the half. In the third, Niagara rallied and closed the gap to only four points. Windsor played it close in the final stanza but had its margin cut to one point with less than four minutes left. With three minutes and 36 seconds left Windsor's Ted Zalba was put out on fouls. Larry Triano tied it up on the free shot. Seconds later he was fouled again and he put his club ahead. Finally Herby Logan was left unguarded under the net and he sank the final basket to give his club the win.

BEAT PCVS

In the evening opener Toronto Runnymede Collegiate downed Peterborough 49-34.

Runnymede led from the opening whistle. It had a one point lead in the first quarter, stretched it to four at the half and led 36-28 at the end of the third. In the fourth Peterborough netted six points but couldn't come close to the sharp-shooting Toronto club. Eric Kjertinge picked up 11 points for the winners. Tom Skimming counted 10 and Garry Vipond and Paul Parsons, the smallest man on the floor, scored nine. Peterborough's Doug Ash led his team with 10.

In the third game North Toronto Collegiate defeated Hamilton Central High 56-42. The Toronto team took an 18-11 lead in the first quarter and increased it to 43-31 in the third. It picked up 13 in the final.

Sudbury High School trounced Toronto Bloor Collegiate 50-31 in the final game. The northern club had no trouble beating the Toronto quintet as it took a six-point lead in the first period and increased it to 19 at the final gun.

Today the four winners go into the semi-finals with the two finalists meeting for the championship at night. Runnymede meets Niagara Falls, and North Toronto faces Sudbury.

Four clubs in the B class will battle for championship honors, with the final being played at night. The clubs are: Belleville, South Porcupine, South Huron and Pembroke.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Sports College, in its recent Research Guide, had an interesting piece called "Here's Howe". Dealing with Gordie Howe of Detroit Wings, presently heading for his third straight NHL scoring title. He was given a questionnaire on tricks of scoring, and the big right-winger cheerfully answered everything in detail. He made several interesting points, one being that he preferred to shoot than to carry the puck in close, finding he scored more goals against the best goalies in the business by hard shots from a piece out. He believes in blazing his drives, even when the goalie seems out of position. And he says the ideal spot to shoot from is 15 to 20 feet out and directly in front of the net. You get your greatest target that way and have the goalkeeper guessing.

* * * * * *

He likes a low hard shot to the side of the net, though one has to lift it if the goalie is down. He tries to shoot to the side on which the goalie holds his stick, as he figures a netminder's hands are his best weapon. Howe always looks at his target while shooting, and not at the puck. Gordie is forever practising shots and thinks backhanders are mighty useful, too, as a player is often thrown off-balance going in. He uses various wrist exercises and is frequently fondling a hockey stick, even in the dressing room, to keep the feel of it. Good skating and shiftiness are also important in getting in, and he is a firm believer in players sticking to their positions so that teammates always know where they are. Local lads could improve plenty by working on some of these tips.

About Minor Puckists

Peterborough has two good young puck teams hitting into provincial semi-finals now. Our midget "A" Aces under Joe Rochetta and the local bantam "A" Shamrocks coached by Pat Doherty. They meet Toronto Marlboros next week in OMHA semi-finals, Al Watkins advises, but we haven't heard the dates as yet. They rubbed out Oshawa, Belleville and Kingston teams since playdowns started, after winning PMHA titles here. The PMHA is a well-run minor hockey setup, the officers being: President, Ray Tanner vice-prexy, Moon Wootton; secretary, Bill Dawson; treasurer, Jack Miller; committee, Phonse Brioux, Sam Micell and possibly one or two we've missed. Mrs. E. Woodcock, Edgar Woodcock, Bill Post and several others are valuable helpers for the young hockeyists in this organization.

* * * * * *

In the Separate School Hockey League, Sacred Heart finished schedules atop both senior and junior. Seniors won all eight games and the juniors took five and tied one in six starts. Latter were followed by Immaculate Conception, St. Peter's and St. John's; while the senior leaders were trailed by Immaculate Conception, St. Peter's, St. John's, and St. Anne's in that order. Top two teams now playoff in home-and-home games, goals counting. Meantime, the Public School Hockey League, in senior, intermediate and junior sections, is into playoffs, also. Looks like winter is on the wane insofar as hockey for the boys here is concerned. Open air rinks have had it, we fear.

Petes Chalk Up A Win

OHA post-season series opened in waltz time here last e'en but jigged it up somewhat in the later stages as Pete downed Cobourg 11-6 before a so-so crowd. Locals didn't look too impressive in their win, lacking their sharpness of schedule's end, the layoff not helping 'em any, but then Cobourg put up a good scrap. Jack Reeves, Dave Casey, George McIvor and Goalie Summerville stood out for them. Petes' scoring was well spread around, but Toodie Greenlaw, Bill Crowley and Junior West made the most of their sniping opportunities. Johnny Russelle handled the winners, who play next Tuesday in Cobourg in this series, but meantime are off this weekend for an exhibition or two in Clinton, N.Y., where George Steele is performing this winter.

Saw an item the other day where the police in Collingwood were thinking of laying a manslaughter charge against Walter Fines of Aurora for crashing Robert Gillies of Collingwood into the boards in an OHA junior "C" game, with fatal results. The referee assessed Fines with a match penalty for "deliberate attempt to injure"—and we wondered how a manslaughter charge could follow where the attempt might be to injure but certainly not to cause a death. A keen hockey follower, Garnet Samis (former police chief of Lakefield) told some of us at last night's game that such a charge could well be laid. Where the attempt is to kill or where a lethal weapon is used (even with no intent to kill) and a death results, that is murder; whereas, when a death is caused by a person without such intent then it must be considered either accidental or a case of manslaughter. Such as a motorist unintentionally causing a fatal accident.

ON THE SIDELINES—Canada, perennial champions, will not compete in this year's world hockey championships in Switzerland. In a joint statement the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and the Amateur Hockey Association of the United States said that "in view of the apparently innumerable incidents of the last few years" during hockey tours they "do not look with much enthusiasm upon future European tours." Another factor was a demand that Switzerland, the host country, pay all travel and hotel expenses of the teams. There has been no indication that Switzerland would be willing to meet these expenses.

Dauphin Rink Champions, Beat Quebec In Playoff

By CRAIG ARMSTRONG

SUDBURY (CP)—The cool head of skip Ab Gowanlock plus his prowess with a rock gave Manitoba its 14th—and second straight—Canadian curling championship Friday night.

Gowanlock, forced into a playoff with Quebec, also won his second personal victory in the top bonspiel in the country. The pilot of the Dauphin rink won the event in 1938, the only other time a Manitoba victory has been garnered by a non-Winnipeg crew. The 52-year-old skip won it with a rink from his native Glenboro 15 years ago.

While the Dauphin rink's victory was the highlight of the five-day round-robin bonspiel, the rise of Ken Weldon's Quebec four was not overshadowed. The Montreal St. Georges crew was not expected to show well, let alone finish in second place after an extra game.

After losing their first game Monday to British Columbia 14-5, the Quebecers ran up eight straight victories before Saskatchewan defeated them 9-5 Friday afternoon to force the extra game. The best any previous Quebec entry had done was to win five games and that was recorded by Weldon last year.

It was the seventh time in the 24-year history of the Macdonald's Brier tankard that the event was decided in an extra game—and every time Manitoba has been in the playoff.

Winnipeg rinks won the first three matches, then lost the next three, Gowanlock swinging the pendulum back to Manitoba. In the last playdown in Saskatoon in 1946, Alberta won after a three-way playoff with Manitoba and Northern Ontario. Last year Bill Walsh of Winnipeg took the silverware home, winning 10 straight games. In his previous victory, Gowanlock won it in nine straight.

Friday night's game was one of high tension. Every end was decided with the last stone, both rinks playing a deliberate, steady game.

Manitoba was one up going into the 12th end. With the skips left to throw their stones, Quebec had one in the ring and a guard in front protecting it. Gowanlock raised it out leaving his stone in. Weldon then caught the corner of Gowanlock's rock and both went out, leaving the house empty. The veteran Dauphin skip then drew in almost to the button.

Weldon, under tremendous pressure, threw his final rock wide to give the trophy to Manitoba. He needed to count that one possible to force the game into extra ends.

The game was a see-saw battle, tied 2-2 after five ends, 5-5 after eight and 6-6 after 10. Manitoba took the lead in the 11th. Gowanlock had laid two in the house. Weldon, in taking one out, also sent his own out to leave one Dauphin stone counting.

Ironically, three members of the Quebec rink are from the West, two from Winnipeg. Weldon and Ches McCance, both 36, are natives of Winnipeg, and the second, Bill Isaac, is from Calgary. Jim Turney, lead, is from Wales.

McCance, well known as a football player and a Grey Cup hero when he was a vital cog in Winnipeg's machine in 1939 and 1941 was the highlight from the Quebec standpoint next to Weldon's skipping.

Gowanlock, known for always having a young rink, ran true to form this year and all performed like veterans. His lead, hard-sweeping Russ Jackman, 23, played a steady game and threw true first rocks. Bill Pollen, 38-year-old second, missed badly on only one shot all night while RCAF veteran Pin Williams excelled at laying guards.

Saskatchewan forced the playdown in the 11th and last scheduled round by defeating Quebec 9-5, the disastrous ends for the Weldon forces coming in the fifth and sixth ends.

Jimmy Hill, skip of the Delisle rink, drew in a perfect stone in the fifth to count three and take a 4-3 edge. He added two more by the same route in the sixth to put them up 6-3. A wild stone by Weldon gave Saskatchewan another in the next end and after a dead 10th, the Delisle rink added two in the 11th.

The victory left the Hill rink tied for third place with British Columbia and Grant Watson's Northern Ontario rink. All had 7-3 records.

In the morning's 10th round, Quebec defeated P.E.I. 10-6, Manitoba Alberta 10-6, Northern Ontario Nova Scotia 11-8, New Brunswick Newfoundland 14-9 and Saskatchewan Ontario 10-9.

Other afternoon scores: Northern Ontario 12, New Brunswick 4; British Columbia 14, Ontario 8; Prince Edward Island 10, Newfoundland 8; Alberta 15, Nova Scotia 7.

Collis-Lindsay Take Wins

A strong first half helped Collis girls take a 34-19 victory over Black's Friday night in girls' city league basketball. At the same time the Lindsay lasses eked out a close 20-16 win over CGE girls.

R. Gilson, M. Owen and Shirley Algar led the Lindsay girls to a 12-10 lead in the first half, despite baskets by CGE's J. Luther, M. Jones and M. Batley. Gilson kept her first half pace throughout the second to give the Lindsay lasses the edge once more, 8-6.

Gilson easily led the scoring with 10 points while Batley was CGE's best with six.

A SLIM LEAD

Wilma Byers, Joan Dunk and Polly Stewart gave Collis colleens a slight lead, 11-8, in the first quarter as Rita Nayler, Carol Raper and Marney Hollingsworth kept Black's in the game. But while the trio kept scoring for Collis in the second, Black's offence faltered and Collis led 21-11 at the half.

Collis' offence was still too much for Black's in the third quarter and, at the same time, Black's offence was limited to only two points, making the scoring 30-13. But in the fourth with Collis coasting, Black's edged out a 6-4 score for the final 34-19 score.

Joan Dunk easily led the scoring with 13 while Black's Nayler had nine.

Lineups:

First Game:

Lindsay (20)—Cullis, Gilson 10, McFadden, Owens 6, Robertson, Algar 3, Copp 1, Green.

CGE (16)—B. Luther, J. Luther 4, Jones 4, S. Hubbert, B. Hubbert, M. Batley and D. Jackson.

Second Game:

Collis (34)—Smith, Poast, Borland 1, DeWarga, Byers 7, Wasson 2, Wharry 2, Dunk 13, Maudsley, Stewart 9.

Black's (19)—McGill, Hollingsworth 4, Nayler 9, McIlhagga, Gibson 2, Middleton, Fredericks, Raper 4.

HARRIST TO WHITE SOX

ST. LOUIS (AP) — St. Louis Browns announced Friday the sale of pitcher Earl Harrist to Chicago White Sox. Harrist, 32, came to the Browns in the 1951 draft. A righthander, he won 2 and lost 8 with the Browns last season.

Marmora Wins Before 1,450 In TVL Series

MARMORA —(ENS) — History was written in the third encounter between Campbellford and Marmora on Friday evening in the latter's arena when the homesters were victorious by the score of 12-4.

The crowd numbered 1,450, the biggest since the opening of the rink five seasons ago. The unusual was seen in the Campbellford team staging a family quarrel with a player throwing his stick on the ice in resentment of a referee's decision and another team-mate leaving the visitors' box to argue. The fans were well entertained throughout the game which early turned in Marmora's favor, the score being 5-2 at the end of the first period.

Leading scorer was Ernest Trumble for Marmora with three goals and an assist. Killian in the Marmora nets had a lot of stiff shots to negotiate and was instrumental in keeping Campbellford's score to its actual limit. The result places Campbellford in a 2-1 lead in the series.

Campbellford: Goal, Nelson; defence, Free, Baker; centre, Eady; wings, Craig, Payne; alternates, Blake, Herrington, Cole, Simpson, Jeffs, Wilson, Pace, Taylor.

Marmora: Goal, Killian; defence, E. Trumble, Leonard; centre, Maynes; wings, Lavender, K. Trumble; alternates, Jones, Doran, Darrah, Loveless, Stewart, Mantle, Gray, Doyle. Spare goalie, Smith.

Referees: R. Bridgman, T. Williams.

First Period

Marmora—Mantle (Stewart, Loveless)	4:32
Marmora—Lavender (K. Trumble, E. Trumble)	5:17
Marmora—K. Trumble (Leonard)	5:30
Marmora—E. Trumble (Jones)	9:06

Penalties—Darrah, Wilson (misconduct), Simpson (misconduct), Craig.

Lindsay Rink Wins Ont. Junior Tankard

TORONTO (CP)—A Lindsay rink skipped by Jack Mosely won the Ontario Junior Tankard Friday, scoring a 10-8 victory over Ken Kay's Guelph quartet.

J. Gage's rink from Hamilton Vics took the secondary event with a 9-4 win over Bruce Sonley of Toronto High Park.

Both Gage, defending champion in the primary, and Jack Jenkins of Galt, who won the secondary test last year, were knocked out of the main competition in the first round of this season's renewal. Jenkins bowed to Bob Chilton of the University of Western Ontario and Gage was beaten by Moseley.

McGILL WHIPS VARSITY

MONTREAL (CP)—McGill Redmen Friday night routed Toronto Varsity Blues 6-1 in a senior intercollegiate hockey game. The win boosts the Redmen to third position in the league and the Blues drop to the cellar. Gordie Currie and Pete Constable were the big guns for McGill, each potting two goals.

Flanagan Teams Up With Brazil

Bobo Brazil and Pat Flanagan will team up against Dick Raines and Lou Plummer for the Canadian Tag Team Championship at the Brock Arena next Wednesday. This will be the sensational Brazil's first appearance here in quite a spell. With Pat as a partner the speedy Negro ace and Flan stand a good chance of wresting the title from the Texans. It will be a fast and rugged contest with plenty of fireworks, between four outstanding grapplers.

Dick Raines

Supporting the standout main bout will be Sammy Berg against Fipro Szybsko in the semi-final and Ovila Asselin and Joe Christie in the opener.

Berg made a great hit here three weeks ago while Szbysko showed plenty in his match this week. Asselin also is a great favorite with local mat fans.

Red Hot Red Wings Seek First 1953 Goal In Toronto

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Detroit Red Wings, the despair of rival coaches in the National Hockey League in recent weeks, still have one blot on their record—they haven't scored a goal in Toronto this year. Tonight, fresh from a couple of games in which they flashed the light a total of 17 times, they'll be out to take the curse off the brace of 2-0 shutouts hung on them by the Maple Leafs in their last two visits.

If there's a jinx involved, the Leafs might try playing the game with their fingers crossed. They need points badly.

As they embark on a home-and-home series with the league-leaders, winding up in Detroit Sunday night, the Leafs are tied for fourth place with Boston Bruins who have a game in hand. Only the first four clubs qualify for Stanley Cup competition.

BOSTON AT HOME

The Bruins spend the week-end at home, taking on the last-place New York Rangers Saturday night and entertaining Chicago Sunday. The third-place Black Hawks three points ahead of Toronto and Boston still aren't in the clear but have looked impressive in winning their last two games.

The Hawks are in Montreal Saturday night and the Canadiens complete the week-end schedule with a visit to New York Sunday.

If the Leafs get past the week-end with any kind of play-off hopes left, they may have reinforcements for their stretch drive.

CENTRES OUT

Their two top centres, Ted Kennedy and Max Bentley, both out of action with injuries for some time, are expected back for practices next week and may be ready for action when the Leafs play their next game against Boston a week from tonight.

Bentley, who has spent 10 days at home in Delisle, Sask., recovering his health and spirits after a siege of illness and injuries, notified the club Friday night that he'll be back Tuesday and hopes he can help. Ted Kennedy, recovered from a shoulder separation that has kept him out since New Year's night, is also expected back.

Another Leaf casualty, winger Harry Watson, who took a seven-stitch cut when he crashed into a goalpost in Chicago Thursday, will be in action against the Wings.

Canada To Send Team To World Skiing Meet

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada will send a team to the world skiing championships in Sweden in 1954, W. G. Clark of Ottawa, president of the Canadian Amateur Ski Association, said Friday night.

A CASA directors meeting at Mont Tremblant decided to pick its team from a group of skiers whose names will be announced before the annual CASA meeting in May, he said.

Selection will be based on the skier's plans for future competition past record and present ability.

WESTERN NIPS DETROIT

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—A last-quarter rally which netted them 25 points gave the University of Western Ontario an upset college basketball victory Friday night over the favored University of Detroit quintet 9-7.

Watchfulness And Prayer

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

It was to earnest, devoted disciples that Jesus said: "Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation" (Matthew 26: 41).

Also the warning was given in the Garden of Gethsemane during the closing hours of His earthly life. These disciples had left all to follow Him. They had been with Him almost throughout His ministry, observing His example, listening to His teachings, sharing in His daily life and contacts as He "went about doing good".

If such disciples with such a strengthening experience needed to watch and pray, how much more do we in a world of increasing complexities and strains?

Yet even for those disciples, and for the strongest and foremost of the Twelve, how needful was that warning? Jesus had set Peter and James and John to watch, while He went apart to pray. But in that solemn hour, and with that sacred trust, they had fallen asleep. Only a few hours later an unwatchful Peter was trapped into a denial of his Master.

Even more impressive is the fact that Jesus Himself should have felt the need of prayer. It is an evidence of His true humanity, the reality of the earthly, human life in which He revealed God as the One supremely divine being. In this dark hour of Gethsemane He had gone alone to pray. Also, on another occasion, when throngs pressed upon Him and He was beset by His enemies, He had gone "out into a mountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God."

Prayer, then, in the life of the Christian who would in any way be like his Master, must be a deep and abiding discipline.

Prayer is also a matter of the heart and life. When I was a student in high school a teacher, who was both a good teacher and a good Christian, gave me as a theme for an essay, "Work Is Prayer".

It puzzled me. I don't know what was in his mind and I don't remember what I wrote. But since that time I have thought about it a great deal and I think I have seen what that good teacher meant.

Work, as much as prayer, was in the life of the Lord Jesus. He speaks again and again of work. "My Father worketh hitherto, and I work" (John 5:17).

To pray and do nothing is not to pray at all. The quality and power of our praying is in our daily living. There may be times and seasons of special need, but these only express more deeply the constant attitude of the soul toward God, and the quest of divine help and strength.

Pyramids Rival Egypt's Built Between 500-200 BC

TEOTIHUACAN. — A visit to the pyramids near Mexico City which rival those of Egypt in size and engineering skill, takes you back 2400 years. These pyramids are believed to have been built between 500 and 200 B.C. No one is exactly certain which native group built them but evidence of their genius is there for the world to see.

* * * *

The archaeological zone covers an area of eight square miles.. It consists of a number of excavated and unexcavated huge pyramids and buildings all connected by the Highway of the Dead, a wide avenue so called because of the tomb-like structures which flank it.

* * * *

The Pyramid of the Sun, which would be bigger than Cheops in Egypt except that the mound is truncated, dominates the entire area, rising to a height of 216 feet. It is almost 720 feet square at the base. Made up of five pyramidal bodies, its outer walls of volcanic rock were originally covered with a thin layer of painted stucco. A tunnel from the eastern side at ground level shows several inner constructions of adobe.

* * * *

A wide stairway on the western side leads to the top where before the Conquest stood a small temple dedicated to the sun god. On it was a monolith of the god, adorned with gold breastplate that reflected the rays of the sun. Works of art uncovered there were destroyed by the first archbishop of Mexico.

* * * *

GREAT ENGINEERING SKILL

A series of irregular steps leads to the top. Three separate layers of pavement have been unearthed in this area and there is no doubt Teotihuacan was conceived and executed on a mammoth scale with incredible engineering skill and precision.

* * * *

Their knowledge of structural engineering amazes students and their knowledge too of astronomical measurements were so precise that they could figure exactly when the sun's rays would touch a given point on a certain day of the year.

* * * *

The pyramid city was made up of two kinds of structures: pyramids surrounded by small wooden huts and the palatial homes of the priests. All buildings and pyramids were grouped around vast quadrangles in accordance with the principles of their astronomy. The position of shadows on the walls, formed by nearby columns indicated the season, the day and even the hour.

* * * *

How the massive stones in the Pyramid of the Sun were piled up cannot even be guessed at. Every few feet up the walls are rocks which jut out and which served as scaffolding as the pyramid was built. Near this pyramid several of the priests' rooms have been uncovered.

* * * *

MAGNIFICENT TEMPLE

The Temple of Quetzalcoatl (Plumed Serpent) at the southern end of the Highway of the Dead is the most important and magnificent in the zone. The grand and spacious court of which it is a part is known as the Ciudadela or Citadel. The Citadel is enclosed by 12 single and double-tiered platforms supporting truncated pyramids placed in symmetrical positions. Each of these had a special priest.

* * * *

The four main axes of the court are oriented to the four cardinal points. At the end of the court are two complete pyramids, one which served as the observatory and the other Quetzalcoatl's Temple. The latter attests a high culture with its gorgeous decoration. The excavated side is beautifully sculptured in high, low and half relief, with feathered snakes among sea shells, adornments that belonged to the god Quetzalcoatl. The ballustrades of the stairway are studded with serpent heads, geometrically arranged. By standing on the top of the Observatory (39 steps up) you get a wonderful view of the whole layout right to the Pyramid of the Moon.

* * * *

An ancient Aztec home has been reconstructed nearby. The building shows evidences of an advanced way of life, including running water which was sluiced through the rocks. Another feature worthy of note is a circular cistern two feet wide and 50 feet deep driven into seemingly solid rock. Considering the crudity of prehistoric tools, this achievement is little short of marvellous.

* * * *

DEVELOPMENT OF RELIGION

The development of religion is clearly illustrated among these earlier people. First pyramid to be built was the Pyramid of the Moon. Their calendar was based on the moon and they began their nature worship this way. Then followed the Pyramid to the Sun and lastly, as they developed, they worshipped a white man, Quetzalcoatl.

* * * *

The Pyramid of the Moon stands in a court surrounded by smaller buildings at the northern end of the Highway of the Dead. It is 140 feet high.

* * * *

A period of crisis from the religious angle occurred every 52 years. At that time the high priest of Quetzalcoatl mounted the pyramid and watched the Pleiades pass the zenith.. When the crossing had been safely accomplished, a huge beacon was lit at the top of the chief temple and this signal was picked up by watchers on various hills who lit similar beacons.

* * * *

New World pyramids were constructed of earth or rubble faced with dressed stone or stucco. The fundamental difference between the New and Old World pyramids is their function. Egyptian pyramids were tombs; those in the Americas, temple foundations. As such, the latter were truncated or flat-topped.

THE PYRAMIDS IN Mexico rank with those in Egypt and are believed by officials to have been built between 500 and 200 B.C. The Pyramid of the Sun, near Mexico City, is the largest and a magnificent piece of work. The proportions are perfect and no one has learned how the skilful engineers performed their job without modern tools. The pyramid is 720 square feet at the base and rises to a height of 216 feet. As the picture indicates, it is made up of five pyramidal bodies.

900 Otonabee Children Given Eye Examinations

The Keene Lions Club raised $1,000 in 1952 by holding dances and lucky draws to be used for one specific purpose: an eye survey of the 900-odd Otonabee township public school children. Their health and welfare committee is headed by chairman Dr. Wilson Ford and Lloyd Wismer under club president David McNevan.

Schools involved are Woodview, Sixth Line School, Keene village, Hiawatha, Coldsprings, Stewart Hall, Zion, Mather's Corners, Assumption School and Lang.

The survey was started during the first week of January this year and will continue until early April. Peterborough optometrist L. E. Morrison, assisted by Mrs. Bernard Jackson, is making the tests.

On Friday they completed their second day at Coldsprings School, —the largest enrollment in the township with 112 pupils.

NOT NEW

Such surveys are not new among school children and statistics issued in Ottawa show that 20 per cent of an unscreened student body require a complete visual examination, some need prescriptions — the word "glasses" don't seem to be used today in the profession, and a few students require both prescriptions and eye training exercises.

The Examiner reporter went through the test at Coldsprings on Friday. A new machine called a sight screener performs 20 eye tests for both near and far vision and a separate quick test for color discrimination. The machine, by double-check tests, is practically fool proof and is a great advancement in the old lettered eye chart method.

After a clinic card is filled out showing the sight screen rating of each patient a final analysis of vision is given with an instrument called a phoropter. An eye chart is used in this test.

Result cards are analyzed by Mr. Morrison and final findings are sent to Mr. Wismer whose committee notify parents of the tests. In cases where treatment is required parents are advised to carry it out.

The Keene Lions have been organized for only one year. Their first project was to build two bathing houses and lay a sand beach on the Indian River for enjoyment of village children. The current eye survey is the second. Their 24 members meet bi-monthly in the town hall and hold a dinner meeting once a month in a private home.

MAIN STREET TOPICS

GUEST SPEAKER

J. C. McClenaghan, general secretary of the YMCA in Peterborough, was guest speaker Friday evening at the Friday Night Club. His topic for the evening was "the fundamentals of success."

OVERHEATED PIPES

A chimney fire and overheated pipes were reported Friday at the home of George Dwyer and Walter Whitehead, 303 King Street. A hand pump was used to extinguish the chimney fire. There was no serious damage.

BELLS IN MAIN STREET

To City Engineer Chalmers a word of commendation of the melodious brass bells that sound the approach of the snow plows assigned to the sidewalks of main street. That was only a light fall of snow last night, and no one should have complained if the horses had been left in their stalls. Maybe a bit of exercise prompted their rounds that wakened echoes of such late winter nights when the sleigh bells of a pedestrian age made harmony of traffic now replaced by the menace of minatory motor horns. One of the men said elders occasionally stopped him to express their pleasure in hearing the friendly brass again.

Striking Estimates In Camera

Aldermen Follow Hush, Hush Policy

By HARRY THEOBALD

Since the city council devolved into the policy of discouraging press attendance at its meetings of committees preparing the year's estimated revenues and expenditures, for the setting of the tax rate, only crumbs of news emerge to cheer or depress the taxpayer.

One of the recent stories heard at the city hall was to the effect that Armar Butcher, superintendent of parks, brought in estimates amounting to $84,000 for the consideration of the parks committee. Ald. A. B. Burrows is chairman of that committee.

It is reported that Mayor Waddell, recovering from that shock, suggested: "Let us cut it down to $60,000 and tell Mr. Butcher to do the best he can with that," or words to the general effect of stretching "it out as far as it will go."

It further transpires that the parks committee managed to recover $5,000 from whatever prunings there were, bringing the total estimate for the parks to $65,000.

Another story is that Ald. P. J. Anglesey, chairman of the board of works, intimated that his budget, which is necessarily prepared by City Engineer Chalmers, should go through unscathed, or, to repeat, words to that hands off effect. Presumably that is what happened, because there has been no gossip about serious clipping of that department's proposed expanding this year.

An experienced member of the council told the Examiner that he had never seen estimates pass through the council so smoothly, and also to a new record total of expenditure.

"I think we could have made the tax rate 64 mills, and it wouldn't have crippled any of the spending bodies. Of course, it meant only half a mill, but still it would have made a deeper impression on the taxpayers," he said.

The reference at the outset to council retreat from budget publicity does not refer to the council of 1953 or of 1952 either. A gradual change of attitude traces back five to six years ago, or thereabouts. There is no suggestion even of design in the beginning or subsequently, but the little phases of change became drifts in practice and policy, accepted by incoming aldermen as the established course of affairs.

It used to be that the press was provided with copies of requisitions of this department and that. For some years now, the press does not receive even the notices of the committee meetings at which these requisitions are to be considered, and possibly amended, as in the case of the parks committee recently.

The practice does not affect the ultimate rate or any other facts of the budget, but it does result in the elimination of report of committee reaction. The re-established practice may even be the policy of other councils, but the fact remains that the press does not receive the details of committee appropriations which once were commonly available with the notice of committee meetings and the opportunity to publish whatever was generally interesting to the taxpayers.

CGE Offers New Plan Of Pensions

Insurance On Life And Health Included With $100 Pension

The Canadian General Electric Company, Friday, announced a contributary pension plan of $100 a month at 68 dropping to $60 when employees become eligible for the old age pension of $40. Included in the plan will be the 14,000 employees of the Peterborough, Toronto, Cobourg and Montreal plants.

In their revised and broadened provisions they are an extension of corresponding benefits which have been in effect at CGE as follows: life insurance since 1937, pensions since 1938, and the Mutual Benefit Society's program of many years of assistance and standby in insurance of health.

The comprehensive statement issued to the employees refers to the present changes as being "in line with the company's policy of progressively and voluntarily meeting its social and economic responsibilities to its employees."

"The very substantial benefits available to employees under the new plans will provide a security program among the very best in the industry . . . Prevailing practices by other industrial firms in Canada were carefully surveyed, and representations of the various unions of our employees were given consideration."

The new plans are expected to become effective early in the summer for employees not represented by a bargaining agent, and at the same date or later, when agreement is reached, including acceptance of the plans, with the respective unions for employees in bargaining units. An enrollment program will be conducted prior to the effective date.

The Pension Plan, in one of the explanatory paragraphs, provides a $100 minimum pension of $60 a month, plus a $40 supplementary payment by the company "until a participant is eligible for the government old age pensions under present or future laws." And this eligibility begins at the age of 70.

MAY DRAW MORE

It is further stated: "You may receive more (than the $100 minimum monthly), depending on the amount of your wages or salary, the number of years of continuous service you have completed to date, and the number of years you have been a member of the plan at retirement."

The phrase "credited service" is defined as "an employee's length of continuous service at the effective date of the proposed pension plan—provided the employee thereafter maintains continuity with the company until his retirement—plus the period subsequent to the effective date of the proposed plan during which the employee either contributes to the plan, or is granted credit for service to the pension board while absent." The "effective date" is expected to be some time this summer.

The pension is made up of three items: Pension for future service; pension for past service; and the $40 monthly supplement.

"Pension for future service. For this part of your retirement income for the rest of your life after you retire, you will contribute four per cent of your annual compensation. At the age of 68, the normal retirement age for both men and women, you will receive each year a pension equal to 40 per cent of your total contributions to the plan. Within two-and-a-half years after you have retired you will have received back all your contributions.

"Because the annual pension is dependent on the total contributions made under the plan, and your contributions are based on

Squatter

As with various other buildings downtown which were erected when surveyors' lines were not so closely respected as they are today, the O. L. Dalgleish block at the northeast corner of Aylmer and Charlotte Sts., encroaches by a fraction of an inch. On one side it is .29 of an inch over the street line, and on the other .23 of an inch. By agreement with the council this overstepping in the original construction of the building is officially recognized and Mr. Dalgleish is to pay the city a nominal one dollar a year.

Ice Turns Streets Into Rink For City Cars

Five accidents were reported to city police Friday afternoon when the roads were at their slipperiest —between 4 o'clock and 5:15. Nobody was injured and there was only a few hundred dollars in damage to the vehicles involved.

Two cars skidded into trees.

Vincent Dainard, 28, of 241 McFarlane St. lost control of his car when it skidded while he was turning left into Hunter St. from Park St. The car went sideways, jumped the curb on the north side of Hunter St. and struck a tree.

The right doors and body received $150 damage. Constable W. G. Scott investigated.

SLID INTO TREE

Stanley Somerville, 21, of West Guilford had $45 damage caused to his right fender and headlight after he skidded while driving east down the Parkhill Rd. hill toward Benson Ave. The damage was caused when he slid into a tree.

Constable John Conlin investigated.

Three other collisions involved cars and trucks.

W. J. Wilson, 39, of 755 Lock St. was making a right turn into his driveway at the same time as Walter E. Pollard, 50, of 641 Cameron St. tried to pass him in a pickup truck. Pollard, trying to pass on the right-hand side, slammed on his brakes too late to avoid a collision.

Damage to the 1949 passenger car was $150 and to the truck, $40. Constable W. G. Scott investigated.

COLLIDE IN TURN

A passenger car driven by Harold Wilson. 63, of 534 Sherbrooke St. was travelling north on Park St. and then began to make a left turn to go west on Hunter St. In doing so it came into collision with a southbound Duffus Motors truck, driven by George E. Brady, 22, of 687 Donegal St., and the car was pushed against the southwest curb.

Estimated damage to the car was $130, mainly to the right front and rear fenders and the hood; and damage to the truck, $150. Constable Ernest Beatty investigated.

Damage of only $80 resulted from a truck-car collision at Stormont and Wolsley Sts. at 4:30 p.m.

Mrs. Catherine Bronson, 27, of 481 Bellevue St. was driving a passenger car south on Stormont St. when she came into collision with a pickup truck being driven west on Wolsley St. by Jack Katz, 45, of 192 Aylmer St. The left rear fender and the rear panel and tail light of the car were damaged. There was no damage to the truck.

Sgt. Percy Sexsmith investigated.

Employment Improved In District

Fewer Workers Seeking Jobs Skilled Men Needed

Employment conditions in the Peterborough district were better in February than in January and better than a year ago, according to monthly figures released by the National Employment office. During February there were 1,842 men and women drawing unemployment insurance as compared with 1,916 in January and 2,088 a year ago.

A number of workers laid off by city factories in January were returned to work in February resulting in a decrease in the number of city unemployed drawing funds. In February there were only 898 people on claims and in January 999.

SHORT WEEKS

A year ago Peterborough factories were working only short weeks, either fewer hours a day or only four days a week. This year sales are better resulting in steady work and fewer persons on unemployment insurance. There were 1,062 on the insurance plan in February 1952.

Conditions in the district were slightly worse than in January during February but were still better than a year ago. District people, numbering 944, drew money in February as compared with 817 in January and 1,026 last year.

At the same time the office reported a slight decrease, in the number of people looking for work. Throughout Peterborough and district during February there were 2,123 men and women jobhunting as compared with 2,245 last year during the same period.

Jobs this year were a little more plentiful than last but in most cases required skilled workers such as machinists, typists, and stenographers. The office reported 39 openings during the month, as compared with 33 in 1952.

Money Spent On Insulation Pays Great Dividends

The dollars spent for proper insulation will pay the greatest dividends of any money you invest in your home. Most of them will return to you in a year or two, and still keep saving money for the full life of the building. And, in addition, proper insulation will declare extra dividends in comfort and health.

In new houses the net cost of insulation is slight. Sometimes, particularly when insulating materials are used to supplant other structural or surfacing materials, their use may actually cost nothing. In calculating the cost of insulation one must credit against it, the savings that result from using a smaller boiler or furnace and smaller radiators than would be necessary if the same house were not insulated. These savings cut down the investment; subsequent fuel savings retire the balance and pay the dividends.

The function of insulation is to retard the flow of heat through the enclosing walls, floors and roof of a house. In winter heat flows outward; in summer it flows in. In one locality figures showed that the side walls accounted for about 60 per cent of the heat loss in winter, the roof 40 per cent. In summer the conditions were reversed; two-thirds through the side walls. While these calculations are by no means conclusive, they indicate that for all-year comfort and economy, it is important to insulate both side walls and roof with equal effectiveness.

OTHER LOSSES OF HEAT

These proportions related only to the heat movement that could be reduced by using proper insulation materials in the enclosing surfac In addition, heat is lost or gai through the glass in windows a the thin panels in doors; throug cracks in and around these open ings; and through the leakage o air in and out of the building. O all the heat generated in a hous in winter approximately 26 per cen is lost through thin panels of glass 10.7 per cent is required to hea air that leaks in and balance o 63.3 per cent goes out through sid walls, roof and cellar floor.

In summer a slightly differen situation exists. Of all heat enter ing the house from out-of-doors, 2 per cent comes in through window (unless shaded), 6.3 per cen through leakage of air and the bal ance of 70.7 per cent through sid walls and roof.

Under winter conditions thi means that in addition to insulation definite economy and freedom fro drafts and cold spots can also b gained by using double glass i windows (storm sash, or doub panes) and weatherstripping on a windows and outside doors. Acti ally, double glass will cut loss through windows about 50 per ce good weatherstripping will redu infiltration losses up to 90 per cen or more.

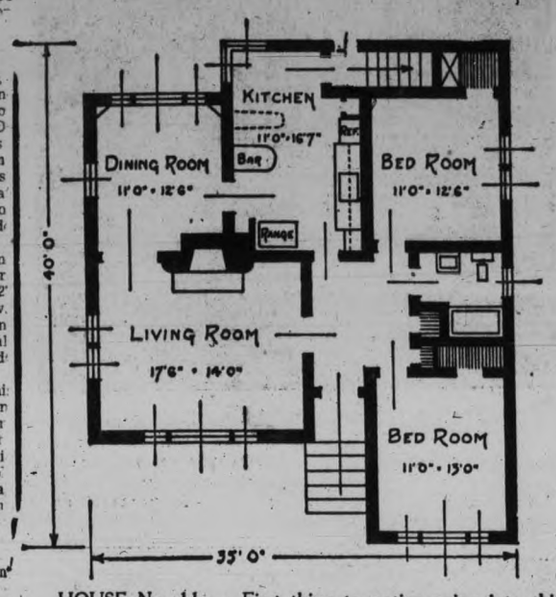
In summer, weatherstripping remains effective but ordinary double glazing does not—at least not to the same extent as in winter. It appears to cut down heat transmission from the air, but double glazing is only of slight value in reducing the direct heat of the sun. This can only be checked effectively by shade outside of the glass, such as by trees in full leaf, awnings, Venetian blinds and shutters.

The extent to which insulation will reduce the remaining losses varies widely and depends upon the quality and character of the construction as planned without insulation.

Since houses of different designs vary widely in windows, roof and wall areas it is not possible to say how much can be saved in first cost of heating or cooling equipment or in fuel, without having all the facts at hand.

GENERAL COMPARISON

Because many variable factors are involved there is no point in attempting to compare the four major kinds of insulation except in the most general terms.



—Rigid fibre board insulations have this merit; they can often be used structurally in place of other materials, as for sheathing, as a base for plastering, or as an interior finish, and therefore may do two jobs for the price of one.

—Blanket type insulation, usually flexible materials consisting of fibres of some sort enclosed in paper or waterproof sheeting play no structural part but possess technical qualities that bring them much popularity.

—Fill type insulations, including rock wool, glass wool and other mineral fibres, granules and powders of many sorts have enjoyed much popularity in recent years. They are very effective insulators because they must be used (under most conditions) in thicknesses of from two to four inches. Those of a mineral nature are fire barriers because they stop fire travelling through the hidden air spaces they occupy.

—Reflective insulations, usually consisting of metal foils in some form, derive their insulating value in a manner totally different from the other types. They possess the property of reflecting back toward the source, a large part of the heat that seeks to pass across the hollow spaces in walls, ceilings and roofs.

HOUSE No. 11 — First thing to notice going into this attractive bungalow is the practical recessed doorway. To the left is the bright living room with open fireplace; to the right are the two equal-sized bedrooms, separated by the bathroom. Straight ahead we find the kitchen and breakfast nook. Entering the dining room from the kitchen, we find a sweep of windows flanked by built-in corner cupboards. The garage is in the basement directly under the front bedroom. This provides a convenient all-weather route to the car. For working drawing, write Home Building In Canada, 3842 Bloor St. West, Toronto.

Towers, Gordon Drawing $50,000

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's two top-paid public servants, drawing $50,000 a year, are Donald Gordon, president of the Canadian National Railways, and Graham Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada.

Prime Minister St. Laurent disclosed their salaries in a return tabled Friday in the Commons, showing that Mr. Towers got a $10,000-a-year boost last month by order-in-council.

Mr. Gordon and Mr. Towers made a little more than twice the government pay of the prime minister, who gets a total of $23,000 in salaries and emoluments plus a $700,000 home, on which he pays $5,000 a year for upkeep.

Other high salaries as shown in the prime minister's return:

James E. Coyne, deputy governor of the Bank of Canada, $27,500, lifted from $25,000 at the same time as Mr. Towers.

George McIvor, chairman of the Canadian wheat board, $20,000. This was boosted from $18,000 at Aug. 1, 1950.

Sentenced To 5 Years

TORONTO (CP)—Edward Sarasin, 38, father of four, was sentenced Friday to five years for beating a Toronto grocer with a blackjack in an unsuccessful attempt to rob him. Donald Wilde, 19, an accomplice, was given three years and 10 strokes of the strap. Sidney Gluck was beaten about the head in his grocery store Dec. 20 but Sarasin and Wilde fled when Gluck's father appeared.

New Coronation Stamps

OTTAWA (CP)—The post office department announced Friday that a new issue of stamps bearing a full-face portrait of Queen Elizabeth will be issued May 1. A month later, the day before the Coronation, a four-cent Coronation stamp will be issued. The new set of stamps will be in denominations of one to five cents in brown, green, red, purple and blue.

District Man Arrested For Winnipeg Police

John Alexander Robinson, 24, RR 10 Peterborough, was arrested at his home by city detectives Thursday afternoon. He is be held in custody here pending a rival of police from Winnipeg where it is alleged Robinson obtained a $1,350 automobile from an automobile sales firm by fraud.

14 Queen's Scouts To Attend Coronation

TORONTO (CP)—The names of 14 Ontario Queen's Scouts to go to Britain for the Coronation as part of a 32-member scout group from Canada were announced Friday.

They are: David P. Silcox, Burwash; Donald E. Grant, Oshawa; James T. Sanders, Mimico; Ross A. Belson, Brantford; Henry H. Johnson, Galt; Gerard J. Michaud, Thorold; Paul B. Park, Port Stanley; Robert E. Smale, London Robert L. Williams, Harriston George W. Hosang, Belleville; Allan Posthuma, Fort Henry Heights, and Charlie R. W. Henderson, John A. Cameron, and Thomas B. Roberts, all of Toronto.

Truck Overturns

SARNIA (CP)—Three Sarnia construction workers were injured Friday when their light pick-up truck turned over and burned after colliding with a wig-wag guard rail at a level crossing on No. 40 highway. Admitted to hospital were Joseph Cere, 25, and Laurent Beauchesne, 25. Treated and discharged was Douglas Croll, 36.

Solemn Festival

MONTRAL (CP)—The festival of St. Patrick will be marked by a pontifical mass in St. Patrick's Church here on Sunday, March 15. Canada's newest cardinal, Paul Emile Cardinal Leger, will celebrate the mass and also deliver the sermon.

DANGEROUS PRACTICE

OSHAWA, Ont. (CP)—A motorist narrowly escaped injury when he was "bombed" with pieces of cement while passing under a bridge. Police found footprints of two children on the bridge and a supply of cement "bombs" but no sign of the culprits.

CHARITY BY THE SHOVELFUL—A member of the fountain service in Rome, Italy, empties his shovelful of coins while giving the famous Trevi Fountain its periodic cleaning. People of the city, searching for good luck, throw about $500 a month into the 700-year-old fountain. All proceeds go to charitable organizations.

Taking care of plants will add to their life and beauty.

Some Chores Possible

Peegee hydranga, rose of sharon, clematis, hypericum, climbing ara honeysuckle, are some of the more commonly grown shrubs whose spring pruning consists of cutting just enough to keep the plant growing in natural shape. However, one should remove dead wood and puny shoots at the base of the shrubs.

Mulched flower beds and shrub borders should be examined to see that the mulch material has not blown away and is covering soil about the plants. March is a trying time for the doubtfully hardy plants —so give them all the protection you can.

Perhaps you wondered last summer why your lilacs and the evergreen bittersweet did not look too spry. The chances are that some scale insects had attached themselves, by the thousands, to the bark and were sucking the sap.

Scale insects attack many fruits, causing serious damage to both tree and fruit. Early spring is the ideal time to start a control program of these insects. Control may be had by applying a dormant miscible oil spray when the temperature is over 40 degrees.

Pay particular attention to lilacs, which may be suffering from oyster-shell scale.

Be sure to spray early enough in the day so that the spray will dry before evening. Do not long delay this dormant spray because to be effective and not harm the plant the spray must not be applied after buds break and new green leaf growth shows.

Do not repeat a dormant spray the same season, and do not drench the plants with spray.

St. Thomas Firemen Go To Arbitration

St. Thomas city council is in the same position as Peterborough in having to proceed with striking the tax rate without definite appropriation for the fire and water committee. They have decided to submit the question of firemen's wages to a board of arbitration.

Firemen are asking for increases that would bring a first-class fireman's annual pay to $3,925 as compared with $2,950 last year. Council's wage committee offered $3,094, but it was rejected by the Fire Fighters' Union.

The union is asking: $3,531 for second class men, $3,323 for third class, $3,100 for fourth class men and $3,000 a year for probationers.

Dies After Ship Fall

SARNIA (CP)—Reginald George Arnold, 43, who fell 30 feet into the hold of a ship at government dock here Thursday, died Friday in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Fire Guts Storehouse

OSHAWA (CP)—A 250-foot frame storehouse of Oshawa's largest foundry, Fittings Limited, was levelled in 20 minutes by fire Friday. No one was in the building when the blaze broke out. Hundreds of casting moulds were burned.

Wool From World

Forman Jack Wild, 20 years in the business, watches over the sorting, grading, warehousing and in-and-out shipping. It is a quiet work spot. (You can't make much clatter throwing fleeces over sorting tables). But the rumble of warehousesmen's hand trucks tell of the heavy weights of import and export bales. Wool bales from overseas come trussed together in pairs and weigh as much as 800 pounds. These are broken apart, sorted, graded by a small group of experts who have to apprentice for three years before qualifying as top men. They seem to specialize in various wools. One man will do all the Ontario clip, another works steadily on the product from Queensland, and so forth.

Sorters pick away at fleeces, discard the filth and tag ends and grade them into portable dolly bins. From there the wool is either baled again for resale or piled in loose towering stacks on the warehouse floor. I saw one pile of New Zealand clip that rose high up to the skylights. Mr. Wild said it contained ten tons. Woolmen don't talk of wool-tons but in millions of pounds.

The Whitaker people are wool merchants. It cannot be said that they toil not, neither do they spin. They buy, sort, grade and sell wool in the fleece, or have their wool spun into "tops" ready for the mill trade. They also receive into their Peterborough stocks "tops" processed at their Bradford, Yorkshire mills. They sell wool and tops to Canadian mills, market some in the United States and export some to other countries.

"What inroads has rayon made in the wool business, Mr. Monkman?" I asked.

He picked a recent letter from his desk from officials in the Old Country which told that the use of rayon yarns was making little, if any, difference to the business, at all. The letter pointed out that rayon spinning was extremely hard on the machines and that as it wore them out quickly, machinery replacement costs would always make artificial products costly. When it comes right down to it, the writer said, wool will never have substitutes.

There is an Old Country dignity about Whitakers. Pride of workmanship. Hard trading on world markets. Superior products. Not the least of these was Mr. Monkman's personal gesture of respect to civic authority in his gift to the City of Peterborough of a handsome mayoral chain of office. His presentation of it to His Worship Mayor Swanston at the opening of the City Hall in 1950 was proof that he had become a Canadian finally, with strong British ties, still.

No Passports Revoked For Iron Curtain Visits

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada has not cancelled or revoked any passports because their holders have gone behind the Iron Curtain on visits, R. M. Macdonnell, assistant undersecretary of the external affairs department, said Friday.

He told the Commons external affairs committee 131 Canadians went to Communist countries in the last two years. Almost an equal number of Iron Curtain people entered Canada in 1952.

The Iron Curtain visitors were all here in official capacities.

Mine-Mill Unionists Sketch Federal Election Campaign

CALGARY (CP)—A political program to be used as a basis for nominating candidates in the next federal election was outlined Thursday in a report presented at the fifth annual Canadian conference of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind).

The suggested political program contained these points:

1. A call for an immediate ceasefire in Korea and a demand Canada be prominently represented on the peace-negotiating committee.

2. Safeguard of Canada's natural resources against exploitation by foreign capital and independent development by Canadians.

3. Freeing of Canada's international trade from its dependence on the United States and expansion in trade for Canadian products in all world markets.

The 67-page report, to be debated at later conference sessions, said that a policy of political action guaranteed the union never would become "the tail" of any political party.

(The union was expelled from the Canadian Congress of labor on grounds it was Communist-dominated.)

The report was presented by Nels Thibeault of Sudbury, Ont., executive board member; Harvey Murphy of Trail, B. C., regional director, and William Longridge of Calgary, international representative.

The report also called for a program to provide homes on a rental or purchase basis which could be paid for by all, a welfare program to include higher unemployment insurance benefits, old-age pensions of $100 a month at age 60, assured hospital and medical care, and increased income tax exemptions of $2,000 for single persons and $4,000 for married couples.

Included was a demand for a Canadian bill of rights and a vote for all those over 18 years.

Price Support Increases Asked By CFA

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian Federation of Agriculture asked the federal government Thursday to boost price supports on farm products and urged a federal investigation of the meat industry to find out why the consumer isn't getting the benefit of livestock price declines.

A 13-man federation delegation headed by president H. H. Hannam called on Prime Minister St. Laurent and his cabinet and in a 17-page brief recommended:

1. A boost of five cents a pound in the government's price support on butter, increasing the floor to 63 cents a pound wholesale from 58 and making the increase effective for two years. The present program ends next spring.

2. A jump of seven cents a dozen in the price support on eggs, boosting the floor to 45 cents a dozen for grade A large, up from 38 cents, and extension of the support program to cover poultry.

MORE FOR EGGS

3. An increase in the floor price on hogs, now 23 cents a pound. The federation noted that market prices are higher than the government's floor, but it said a boost in the floor was required to keep production up to the consumption level.

Other recommendations ranged from federal aid for education to special "disaster" loans to farmers hit by floods, drought, frost or other natural calamities.

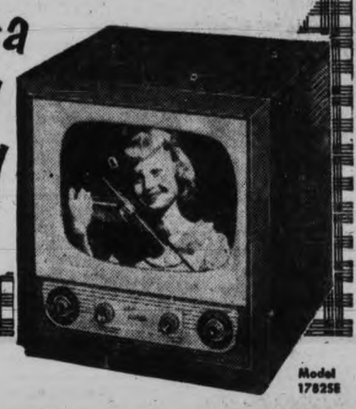
Wiles Sentenced To Seven Years

KITCHENER (CP) — Kenneth Wiles, 21, today was sentenced to seven years in Kingston penitentiary for manslaughter in the fatal shooting Jan. 27 of 17-year-old Marie Huras, his former girl friend.

Wiles was originally charged with murder, but the charge was reduced Monday when the jury brought in a manslaughter verdict.

The Crown contended he shot his former girl friend in a fit of jealousy after she gave him back his engagement ring and started going out with other boys.

Wiles testified Miss Huras was fatally wounded when a gun lying between them in his car discharged when the vehicle hit a bump.



A sawed-off .22-calibre rifle found near the girl's house was said by the Crown to have been the weapon.

AMBASSADORIAL ANGUISH — Michael Smirnov, first secretary of the Russian Embassy in Washington, grimly bites his lip as he discusses the death of his chief, Premier Joseph Stalin, in Moscow. The man at . ft is an American newsman.

Council Asked To Provide $775 For Recreation

LAKEFIELD (ENS)—Lakefield Recreation Committee met in the Memorial Hall on Wednesday evening to co-ordinate recreation plans for the coming season and to estimate their requirement for funds to carry them out. Kenneth Jakins was in the chair and present were Mrs. Harold Wilford, the Rev. J. A. Steed, council representative, public school principal E. G. Sloan and Sam Henderson.

It was decided to ask the council to set aside the sum of $775.00 for recreational purposes. This sum was the same as set aside by the [illegible] council.

Mrs. S. A. Grylls, a delegate representing the dramatic interests of the village, addressed the committee and asked that something be done to improve the condition of the stage in the Memorial Hall. The accoustics could be improved by installing a false ceiling; the scenery should be repaired and placed there permanently and the stage floor either painted or suitably covered. The committee, on motion of Mr. Sloan and Mrs. Wilford, endorsed the request and assured her that the problem would be properly presented to the council for action subject to their approval.

AT BATHING BEACH

Mrs. Wilford gave a resume of the past season's activities at the bathing beach. The surplus remaining in her department at the season's end was because the new boom logs for replacement of some had once at the beach had not been available.

Mr. Steed felt that shuffleboard for adults in Memorial Hall would be new, inexpensive and provide a very enjoyable pastime, and that once properly introduced would become very popular. Having had extensive and very successful experience with Teen Town type of activities, he plans to re-organize that group.

Mr. Sloan suggested that lifelines be provided at the lock. Since the Lions Club have already instigated a water safety program, he was asked to contact the Lions regarding these lines. Mr. Sloan also led a discussion on the rink and hockey problems. It was decided to recognize the work of Jack Chittick during the 1951-52 arena season by giving him an honorarium of $50.

Mr. Jakins brought up the subject of time at the arena on Saturday mornings for the beginners. He felt that the little ones had been sadly neglected in the season now drawing to a close. He suggested that the Recreation Committee make arrangements, and reimburse the Arena Committee, if necessary, in order to assure beginners their share of the use of the ice.

It was moved by Mr. Steed and Mr. Henderson that the money granted for services provided at the swimming beach be handed over to the Red Cross and administered by them for the 1953 season.

Mr. Steed, as chairman of the Parks Commission, was asked to have the grandstand in the park removed in the best interests of the community.

Knox Theatre Group's Play Expresses Age-Old Concept

Plays of an experimental nature, or plays with a social message to deliver, are infrequently seen in Peterborough. The more reason, therefore, to be grateful to the Knox Theatre Group for its presentation of J. B. Priestley's wartime play "They Came To A City." A large audience greeted it in Queen Mary auditorium on Friday night, and it will be played again tonight. The audience should take heed that the curtain rises at 8 p.m. latecomers disturbed the first ten minutes on the first night.

The fable of the play is not complex. A group of people of different background find themselves on the walls of a strange city, and they set out to explore it. It is a city of joy and enlightenment. At the end of the day only the youngest member of the group chooses to stay in the city; the others do not like it and retreat from it, except for a young mechanic and his girl, who return to their own world to tell mankind that such a city is a possibility.

This is the age-old concept of the City of God, or of Utopia, expressed in terms which have contemporary significance.

The cast played well as a whole, and in the leading role as the young mechanic—a revolutionary who has gone sour of revolution—Harry Tasker brought a fine, relaxed command to the stage, and easily dominated it. Dorothy Falconer was an admirable complement to him in a role which was not, in itself, so rewarding. A very good double performance was given by Don Endicott and Trixie Thompson, as a weary husband and a selfish wife, pulling in opposite directions, and losing their chance of happiness in a welter of self-interest. As Cudworth, the self-made man of business, Victor Potter was handicapped by his youth, but he had several effective scenes. Ada Huffman played an ungrateful part as well, as the snobbish Lady Loxdfield, and Betty Blair brought charm and refreshness to the play as her daughter, still young enough to change her way of life.

In two very different character parts Susan Summer and Roger Davis gave excellent performances—she as a work-worn woman who retained a cheerful spirit and a good deal of mother-wit after a life of druggery; he as a pleasant, kindly but lazy and mentally atrophied country gentleman. In both these actors character arose from within; it was not merely a matter of assuming mannerisms. It is this kind of acting in secondary roles which gives quality and weight to a play.

The play was directed with a powerful feeling for its significance by Peter McCombe, who has brought this group from the beginners' level to a point where it contributes richly to the entertainment of the city. The stage management was by Geoff Thompson, and the lighting which was invaluable in establishing the dream-like atmosphere of the play, was devised by Ray Gillies, another man to whom theatre-lovers in Peterborough have cause to be grateful.—R.D.

Western Europe Expects More Cold War

LONDON (AP)—Western Europe braced today for a continuation of the cold war with west-hating Georgi Malenkov's swift takeover as Russia's new prime minister.

Departure of European Communist leaders for Moscow for Stalin's funeral Monday—whether by summons or choice—is taken generally as one sign Russia intends to keep its iron grip on world communism.

Warnings that the West must keep strong and alert were sounded in the press, coupled with words of caution to the United States against provoking Russia into hot war.

There were some expressions of fear that the new Russian bosses themselves might start something.

But most diplomatic sources and newspapers looked to Russia to continue the dead Stalin's grim twilight between war and peace—at least for the present.

Uneasy Europe clearly expects no let-up in this cold war from the new Soviet dictator. The 51-year-old Malenkov is known as a man who hates the West and a firm believer in Soviet military might.

As for the new Kremlin setup itself, some Westerners see a tightening of control and a possible purge of men tainted by Western contacts or influences. There is considerable belief that despite Malenkov's quick grab of the No. 1 spot, a fight for power may flare later.

And there is wide speculation on just how Malenkov—a comparative newcomer among the ranks of Russia's hallowed leaders—will fill the vacuum left by the death of the "God-like" Stalin.

Girls' Club Busy Making Dresses

BETHANY—(ENS) "The Glad I Canners" junior homemaker's club which is sponsored by the local branch of the Women's Institute, met at the home of Mrs. Arnold Bidgood on Wednesday evening. The leaders, Mrs. Clarence Page, Mrs. H. L. Challice and Mrs. Mansell Finney gave further instructions in the art of home sewing. There were ten members present.

Their project for this year's course is "Cottons May Be Smart" and the girls are presently engaged in making a cotton dress from a pattern chosen by themselves. They have been instructed in how to choose materials for washability, color, weave, etc., and how to adjust a pattern to fit their own requirements. The membbers were requested to bring their completed record books to the next meeting which will be held March 17.

Mrs. Bidgood and her daughter, Miss Alva Bidgood, served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

ST. PAUL'S WA

There were 14 members present at the March meeting of St. Paul's Women's Auxiliary, held at the home of Mrs. H. Rayson. Mrs. Allan Gribble presided and led in prayers. Mrs. T. S. Gault read the scripture lesson. Mrs. Roy Jarvis read several letters from members who had been ill and who were remembered with boxes of fruit.

A chapter from the current study book was reviewed by Mrs. T. S. Gault. The Dorcas secretary reported two quilts ready for a mission bale and asked for donations of clothing for children. The two quilts had been pieced by Mrs. Herb. Kennedy and other members had assisted in the quilting. Several members brought in aprons, socks, pillow cases, children's clothing to add to the bazaar supplies. One minute's silence was observed in memor of Miss G. Rundle, who had been a missionary in the far north and while visiting in her home town of St. Catharines had lost her life when a building roof collapsed.

Mrs. T. S. Gault closed the meeting with prayer, after which Mrs. Rayson and members of her group served lunch and a social hour was enjoyed.

Weed Inspectors Plan Attack For Summer

More action in singeing the goat's beard was figuratively the subject of discussion at a caucus of weed controlling who responded Friday afternoon to the war cry of Melville Johnston as to what was to be done this year about the dark-eyed Susans, the blue sailors (chicory) and a lot of other uncultured beauty of the roadside.

Mr. Johnston turned most of the proscription job over to Ken Fallis of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, with municipal representatives in from Smith, Harvey, North Monaghan and Otonabee townships. It was a killing council, how the municipalities can get rid of roadside weeds thereby keeping them in check from arching over the path of travel,—that is weeds and brushes such as the sumac and the buckthorn.

(Incidentally, before the summer is far advanced, people will be enquiring about poison ivy, in the group of No. 1 enemies as a threat to tourists as well as natives and the grain fields. The signal for attack in that quarter is 2-4-5-T a sounded by Mr. Fallis; or 2, 4-D if you are only half-hearted about getting rid of the ivy. That T-formation is really a lethal concoction. Or, call Melville Johnston.)

City Engineer Chalmers spent nearly two hours with the herbicidists. One of the features were "before and "after" pictures in color taken by Frank Paterson showing what can be accomplished by spraying weeds. The treatment was administered by "county fellows" after the Peterborough "Ex" two years ago, and in the following season there was nothing but grass,—no signs of the goat's beard, nor ox-eye daisy and all the rest of the gang that Mr. Johnston has his eyes on.

The goat's beard is one of the most energetic and enterprising of weeds. It has got into the city around the liftlock and up in the north end, and one of its strongholds last summer was the Utilities field on Romaine St.

Mr. Chalmers remarked that only alert activity could keep up with this galloper.

Brooklyn Mother Bears 2 Sons From 2 Wombs

NEW YORK (AP) — A Brooklyn woman has become a dual mother: She bore two sons not twin conceived in separate wombs at about the same time.

The babies were born 16 hours apart Feb. 19.

The rare births to Mrs. Eugene Kupferstein, 25, were explained Friday by her physician, Dr. Isaac Diamond.

Some medical experts called it a case in a million, although Dr. Diamond discussed it only as a rather extreme rarity.

He said Mrs. Kupferstein first came to him two years ago because she wanted a child and couldn't conceive.

The physician added examination revealed she had twin female organs — two vaginas and two wombs.

An operation corrected the malformed vagina.

Dr. Diamond said that in such cases a woman usually conceives in only one womb.

However, Mrs. Kupferstein conceived in both wombs at about the same time.

Early Feb. 19 she gave birth to a four pound, eight ounce boy.

Then, unlike the case of twins, she went into labor a second time and 16 hours later bore another four pound, 13 ounce son.

Dr. Diamond said both boys are doing fine and now weigh better than five pounds apiece.

Mr. Paxton took over the reins of the company this week.

Dog Saves Girl Locked In Icebox

TORONTO (CP)—A little girl was locked in an icebox for six hours Friday night until her barking black spaniel drew attention to her predicament.

After a hot bath and a bowl of soup, Carol Ann Lyman, 3, was little the worse for her experience.

The icebox, on a neighbor's porch, has not been used recently.

How Carol Ann got into the icebox is something even she herself cannot make clear. She has given several accounts of the adventure, including one that she crawled in by herself and the door snapped shut.

Her mother, Mrs. Jack Lyman, said Carol Ann disappeared about mid-afternoon while playing with a neighbor's girl. Police searched the waterfront near the child's east-end home and, as night fell, neighbors joined the search.

A 10-year-old boy noticed that the girl's dog refused to leave a verandah a block from the girl's home. Friends opened the icebox on the verandah. Carol Ann was there fast asleep.

Tow Truck Floats Off On Simcoe Ice Floe

PORT BOLSTER (CP)—A tow truck floated on an ice floe in Lake Simcoe today after its driver tried to retrieve an automobile that sank part way through the ice earlier.

The truck driver jumped to firm ice after the floe on which he had been driving, broke off and floated freely in the lake.

He had been trying to raise a car three youths had been driving on the lake which had broken through a crack in the ice.

High School Board Asks Subsidized Grant For Year

HAVELOCK (ENS)—The Norwood High School Board at their March meeting adopted a resolution to appeal to the Department of Education for a subsidized grant to assist the board for a period of one year, due to the high cost of the change-over program This resolution will be presented at the Smith Falls conference of the OST and RP Association to be held on March 21, by E. T. Buck, T. P. Davidson, C. Scriver and W. H. Roche.

SCHOOL ENROLMENT

Principal Caskey's report showed the enrolment as follows: Grade IX, 129; grade X, 62; grade XI, 27; grade XII, 22; grade XII, 16. The school was closed February 23, 24, 25 due to the flu epidemic.

The board adopted Inspector Gray's report on his visit to the school on January 27, 28 and 29.

Mr. Gray was favorably impressed with the smooth operation of the classes, in view of the fact that nine out of the staff of 11, joined the staff in September and four are without teaching experience. Enthusiasm, skill and the ability to work with others are among the characteristics that are producing this happy effect He found the students courteous and co-operative and well-behaved at all times during the school day and felt they are aware of the educational advantages which are within their reach. Principal Caskey has given able leadership and in spite of heavy teaching duties has found time to attend to a multitude of other duties in the organization of a school of this size. The school building is well designed to meet the needs of the community and already has a basic supply of equipment.

NO GRANTS

A communication was received from the Department of Education stating, that in connection with school construction no expenditures will be approved for grant purposes, except those made in respect of ordinary classrooms, including science lab in secondary schools. A memorandum was also received regarding the early release of students in grades XI and XII for farm work who have attended regularly up to May 22.

The board filed for future reference a notice from the clerk and treasurer of Peterborough county, that debenture payment by the Norwood high school district would be in the amount of $29,981.70 and they resolved to pay to the municipalities within the district, their portion of the legislative grant to be applied on the debenture levy.

SALARY SCHEDULE

The board approved of the management committee's decision to adopt the following salary schedule for the school staff, commencing September 1: Minimum for non-specialists, $2,800; maximum, $4,000 to $5,000; experience, $100 per year. Minimum for specialist, $3,000; maximum, $4,200 to $5,200; experience, $100 per year. Annual increment, $200; principal maximum, $6,000.

Approval was given to the property committee's report that up to $3,000 be allowed to level school site and purchase venetian and blackout blinds for classrooms and auditorium.

Inspector A. O. Birkin's report to Principal Caskey on the attendance in the public schools within the area was considered. This report reveals the fact that at the present time that approximately 100 to 125 pupils may enter the high school each year for the next five years. With the attendance at 275 at present and approximately 30 leaving in June it would appear that three extra rooms will be required in the very near future.

Trustee Buck produced a record of the activities of the board for the past four years and the secretary was requested to obtain the cost of printing sufficient to inform the district.

G. E. Brethen, president of the East Peterborough Agricultural Society discussed the cleaning up of the grounds on the line running between the school site and the fair grounds. The fence and old buildings on the fair grounds and confronting the front of the new school will be removed.

Mr. Schoniker, instructor for the Junior Farmers' Club in the high school district requested the use of the auditorium of the school for club business meeting once a month. Both these matters were refred to the management commitee to decide.

Power Demand Increases In Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS). — Manager Percy Denyes presented several reports to the commissioners of the Campbellford Public Utilities at the February meeting held in the council chambers Thursday night. His monthly comparison report on operations showed gains in practically all departments over the same period in last year's operations. Mr. Denyes reported he had thoroughly investigated the possibility of setting up a collection depot on the west side of the river for the convenience of consumers in that area, but that he did not consider it would prove satisfactory, due to the difficulties that would be encountered in bookkeeping and collections in accounts in arrears. Nothing definite was decided, and it was laid over until next meeting. The manager also reported that 66 new stop logs were needed for the dam at the entrance to the forebay of the power house, and a reasonable price had been quoted by a local firm for the supply of this material. However, it was decided to get further quotations from other firms before purchasing.

Tenders which had been called for the purchase of scrap iron which the commission has for sale were opened, and it was decided to split the sale between the two highest bidders.

Mr. William Hampel interviewed the commission on behalf of Branch 103, Canadian Legion, for financial support for the coming Coronation Day celebration, and also asked that a representative of the commission be appointed to the committee in charge of arrangements for the celebration. The sum of $100 was granted and Mr. Denyes appointed as the PUC representative.

Reeve Nicholas and Deputy-Reeve Maybee asked that the commission investigate the possibility of having employees of the tow taken into the Blue Cross group of the Utilities. This matter was left in the hands of Manager Denyes for investigation.

Treasurer Eldon Ibey presented a satisfactory financial report showing a breakdown of salaries and expenses in various departments. Considerable discussion arose over this and it was decided to leave it over until next meeting to give members time to study it.

Century Breaks Pass 500 Mark For Joe Davis

By ARCH MacKENZIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Although partially blind in one eye, snooker King Joe Davis has run his string of century breaks past the 500 mark—a feat probably without parallel anywhere.

Britain's "wizard of pot," as Davis is called, gradually built up the tension during the last few months as his number of centuries crept toward the 500 figure. Then he got to 499, and stayed there for a couple of weeks.

Finally, after an unprecedented practice session on a playing day—Davis hadn't felt "on" that day—the button-nosed cue artist with the sharp features and the slick black hair potted No. 500. "Thank goodness I've made it," he said—then promptly racked up his 501st.

SMOOTH TECHNIQUE

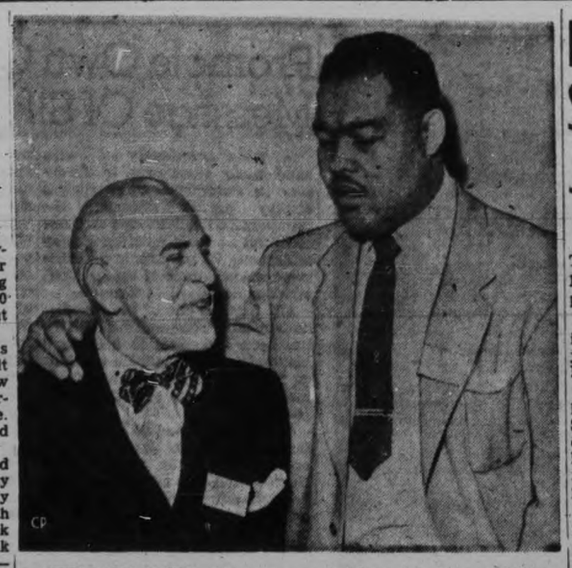
Davis, 51, makes snooker look so easy that the average spectator watching his smooth-as-silk technique might wonder what the excitement is about. But plain, ordinary duffers in Canada and elsewhere can appreciate the skill involved.

With 15 red balls worth a point apiece and six colored balls worth two to seven points, a snooker player scoring a century must perform great feats of positional play to score 100 in one break.

Maximum score a game is 147 points—a target Davis has vainly eyed since his world record run of 146 two years ago. He has "cleaned the table" from his first shot 10 times, another outstanding achievement.

Four times world billiard champion and snooker king for 20 years, until he stopped competing for the title, Davis almost single-handedly has lifted snooker from the low public regard of 30 years ago.

Then, he was paid about $3 a performance and he thought it was "terrific" when the rates doubled. Few professionals will chalk a cue for that price these days.



The little-publicized fact that Joe has only partial vision in one eye moved a fellow professional to comment: "It's a darn good thing Joe hasn't got two eyes."

FAVORITE CUE

Davis doesn't think the weak orb has handicapped him. He peers grimly down his $1 cue—a veteran piece of equipment that he's had for years and lost once—the same way as "you would aim a gun." His biggest competitor, with about 150 century breaks, is brother Fred, 39, who beats Joe once in a while.

Montreal's George Chenier played Joe here in 1948 and made a big hit with the fans but couldn't beat the black-haired British shotsmith. Willie Hoppe, American billiards king, never joined battle with Joe, although what might have happened is a ripe item of conjecture.

Davis, with no simple success recipe to offer, figures he has played five hours a day for 30 years, including two practice sessions daily when he's not performing. Smoking, drinking and eating habits are spartan and his wife, a former actress, watches his diet. Joe remembers the day he nearly lost a match because of indigestion, inspired by pork chops for lunch.

TWO CHAMPS—No two men held world championships in their respective sports longer than Willie Hoppe (left) and Joe Louis. Hoppe has been Mr. Billiards for nearly a half-century while Louis held the heavyweight boxing title from 1937 to 1949. They met at the second annual Celebrity Dinner of the Ontario Sportswriters' and Sportscasters' Association in Toronto. The $25-a-plate affair produced $30,000 for the work of the Ontario Society for Crippled Children.

Que. Hockey Wonderland Takes New, Baffling Turn

By W. R. WHEATLEY

MONTREAL (CP)—The already confused hockey situation in Quebec took a bewildering turn today with the announced intention of the big, powerful Quebec Senior Hockey League to resign from the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association.

The ramifications appeared endless—all stemming from suspension of the QAHA by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

The QSHL's intentions to operate independently—temporarily or otherwise—were put blandly before the QAHA executive Friday night by league president George Slater.

He said the QSHL wants to protect its clubs and players in current agreements with the National Hockey League and other professional circuits.

The QSHL will go ahead with plans to bring about an east-west series between its playoff winner and that of the Western Hockey League, a professional loop.

At the same time the QSHL will continue to stand solidly behind the QAHA in its dispute with the CAHA.

The seven-team QSHL is not cutting itself off irrevocably from the QAHA and will return, if asked, when the whole muddle is straightened out.

The bombshell announcement brought criticism from some of the executive, particularly those associated with lower-rank leagues in the QAHA. They felt the QSHL should adhere to its original decision to stick with other QAHA leagues on the suspension issue and let the CAHA do what it wants.

On a show of hands, with a few dissenters, the executive agreed that QAHA president Martin Conway and two other officers should sit in at a QSHL meeting Sunday.

If the QSHL officers go ahead with their resignation—as fully expected—the QAHA trio will be empowered to accept it if they wish.

The situation is further involved because all leagues within the Quebec branch now are in line for suspension—clubs, players and all—by the CAHA after March 10.

Slater's position was that his circuit, by resigning, cannot be suspended and can protect its clubs and agreements and play against any league it wishes.

The QAHA—not its component parts or players—was suspended last Saturday by officers of the CAHA. They acted on a vote by CAHA branches. Reason for the suspension, said secretary-manager George Dudley, was defiance by the QAHA in granting a playing certificate to Ron Attwell and overriding a CAHA ruling.

The 18-year-old rightwinger has been playing with Montreal junior Canadiens.

Following the suspension Dudley announced that leagues and players within the QAHA not wishing to disscciate themselves from the CAHA could so signify their intention by March 10 and so remain in good standing. Advertisements to this effect were run in newspapers.

One immediate effect of the situation is that the Alexander Cup series is washed out. It is played between the QSHL and Maritime Major League playoff winners—the only two leagues involved.

There was speculation today whether the QSHL move might bring about a complete change in amateur hockey, particularly in Eastern Canada.

Supporters of the move felt the QSHL could operate indefinitely as an independent circuit and that the position of the CAHA would become far more precarious than that of the QSHL.

There was speculation whether Maritime or other teams would ultimately swing in with the QSHL; also whether the QSHL finally might go it alone as a professional circuit and arrange playoffs with the American Hockey League and the WHL.

All this speculation, however, was contingent upon failure of the CAHA and QAHA to get together again, with their differences ironed out.

In any event, Slater indicated, the Alexander Cup series is a dead duck this year no matter what happens. The situation regarding the Memorial Cup and Allan Cup series was far from clear.

Injuries Jolt St. Mikes, Junior Marlies

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The injury jinx has jolted both Toronto St. Michael's and Toronto Marlboros at a time when they hoped to avoid it at all costs.

It could have an important bearing on how they fare along the junior playoff trail towards the Memorial Cup.

The latest to join the casualty list was right-winger Jim Logan of St. Mike's, who fell to the ice Friday night with a fractured left leg just below the hip after crashing into the boards in the third period.

His injury took much of the elation out of St. Mike's 4-2 win over St. Catharines Teepees and the 2-0 lead the college boys have taken in best-of-five quarter-finals of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series.

BROKEN LEG

While Marlboros were waiting for the second game of their best-of-seven semi-final against Barrie Flyers they learned Friday that the injury to starry Wally Maxwell is more serious than they first thought.

He also has a broken leg, suffered in a pre-game warm-up in Barrie Wednesday night when the Dukes lost the first tilt of their series to the Flyers. He was used sparingly in the game but like Logan will be out for the balance of the season.

In the OHA Senior A playoffs, Owen Sound Mercurys Friday night outclassed Kitchener - Waterloo Dutchmen by scoring six goals in the first period to go on to a 7-0 triumph in the first game of a best-of-seven final at Owen Sound. The Dutchmen will be out for revenge when they clash in the second game at Kitchener Wednesday night.

Logan, one of St. Mike's steadiest and most effective performers, will be replaced on the Jack Caffrey-Paul Knox line by Dick Duff of St. Mike's B team.

Charlie Burns is expected to take over Maxwell's place at centre between Parker MacDonald and Bill Creary. Burns filled in for the injured player in the first game against the Flyers and he showed so well he probably will get the job on a permanent basis.

Koreans Storm Back To Shell-Scarred Hill

SEOUL (AP) South Korean soldiers today beat off five bloody Communist counter-attacks and held grimly to a newly-won, shell-scarred knob on Sniper ridge on the Korean central front. The 8th army said 64 Reds were killed.

Chinese Red assauts, supported by stinging artillery and mortar fire, forced the South Koreans off the outpost briefly, but they later stormed back in bitter hand-to-hand battle.

Allied soldiers made no effort to hide the fact that the death of Prime Minister Stalin—like the death of any Communist—was good news to them. But few thought it would have any effect on life in the bunkers of the battle front.

Housing Big Problem For 1956 Olympics

MELBOURNE (AP)—Whether or not Melbourne will keep the 1956 Olympic Games appeared to rest today on one major problem—ways and means of housing the 6,000 visiting athletes and officials.

The matter has been aired for several weeks now, but officials obviously are disappointed that the Olympic village is no nearer today than it was a week ago. The stumbling block is finances.

Meanwhile Avery Brundage, international Olympic committee chairman, cancelled a trip here to inspect plans.

Brundage said in San Francisco he saw no reason to fly to Australia "if they aren't able to settle the matter among themselves."

Church Officials Meet Committee

CAVAN (ENS). — A joint meeting of the elders and stewards of St. Andrew's United Church, Millbrook, and Cavan United Church was held in the Sunday School room at Cavan on Tuesday evening. Rev. A. M. Butler was chairman. Rev. B. S. Morwood, pastor of Mark Street United Church, Peterborough, and Leo Copp, Peterborough, were present and conducted a questionnaire. The object was to secure a report of these churches, their organizations and the condition of the church buildings for the Presbytery. They also outlined the duties of the elders and stewards.

The ladies of the WA of Cavan United Church served lunch at the sconclusion of the program.

See Four Planets

NEW YORK (AP)—Sky-gazers are going to get a rare celestial show tonight, four planets in a row with one—Venus—shining its brightest like a searchlight in the sky. The four planets will appear in the west or southwest between 6:16 and 6:40 p.m. EST. Jupiter will be high in the sky, then Venus, Mars and Mercury nearest the horizon. Normally the four planets are not found together in the same portion of the sky.

Longer Life

NEW YORK (AP)—An insurance statistician predicts an increase of four or five years in the average North American's life expectancy during the next 20 to 25 years. Dr. Louis Dublin, consultant to the institute of Life Insurance, speaking Friday at a meeting of insurance officials, said: Within this generation an average length of life of 73 years is likely.

Famous Award Worth $7,500 For Fast Boats

BELLEVILLE (CP)—The famous Duke of York Trophy, Great Britain's top award to racing boat drivers, toured eastern Ontario the other day.

Made of solid gold and worth $7,500, the trophy is emblematic of the British .225 cubic inch speedboat championship, won last year by Art Hatch of Hamilton, one of Canada's best known drivers.

Brought here from a Toronto bank vault, the valuable award was exhibited at Gananoque, Madoc and in Belleville.

Hatch won the trophy on Lake Windermere in England when he drove his "Costa Livin' " to a clear-cut victory over the British champion, "Miss Windermere," in three 30-mile heats. The British boat, holder of three world's records in her class, was powered by a 200-horsepower Jaguar engine.

It was the first time the title had ever been won by a Canadian and to add spice to the victory, Jack Langmuir of Brockville captured the Daily Telegraph Trophy, the regatta's secondary reward.

Hatch encountered considerable difficulty in obtaining British government permission to take the Duke of York Trophy out of the country. However, the award was placed in custody of the Canadian Boating Federation, the parent Canadian racing body, for its stay in this country.

Hatch received £1,000 prize money along with the golden trophy and will be presented with a full-sized bronze replica when the original returns to Great Britain.

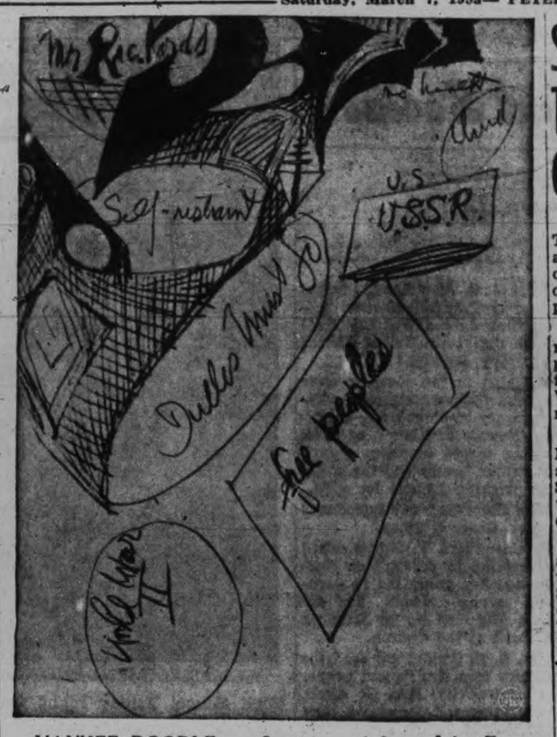
Owner of four racing craft, he also sold his winning "Costa Livin' " while in the Old Country and plans yet another boat, to be built specially for world competition in Italy this summer. He will race as a member of the British Empire team there.

Hiawatha Gets Second One Over Keene 7-5

KEENE—(ENS) — Hiawatha defeated Keene 7-5 here Friday to take a 2-0 lead in their best-of-five EPL finals, the next one being on Monday. It was a hard, fast, crowd-pleasing playoff before the best crowd of the season, all the Keene players turning in a fine effort in a losing cause. The Hiawatha squad clicked up to top form from the goalie out.

Anderson drew a major for fighting in the first period, Lawrence Sellaby got it next heat for fighting, while the third period saw Whalen and L. Sellaby gated for swinging fists, and Cowie tossed off for a 10-minute misconduct. Hiawatha had two minors, and Keene drew four.

Shearer hustled to sink two in the first period for Keene, Locke getting one and an assist, while Colby and Steenburgh each earned an assist. Jeff Stock and Cowie counted for Hiawatha, the latter and Killingbeck each gaining an assist. Colby and Kempt clicked for markers in the second for Keene, Davidson and Bethune each helping once. For Hiawatha, Jeff Stock lit the lamp twice, Cowie and Anderson each aiding once. Hiawatha won it in the third with three straight goals, Killingbeck, Close and Cowie doing the trick, with Thomson in on two.



Hiawatha: Goal, MacDonald; defence, Killingbeck and Close; centre, Stock; wings, Cowie and Paudash; alternates, Thomson, Musgrave, Morgan, L. Sellaby, Crowley and Anderson.

Keene: Goal, Mackness; defence, Kimball and Shearer; centre, Whalen; wings, Davidson and Colby; Alternates, Locke, Burns, Kempt, Steenburgh, MacFarlane, McCarthy, Bethune and Adamson.

Referees: Legrow and Leggitt.

Children Only

LONDON (CP)—London schoolchildren will get up early on Coronation Day June 2 to take their places along the procession route before 8 a.m. More than 30,000 children will line both sides of the Victoria Embankment in areas reserved exclusively for children.

YANKEE DOODLE — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles proved that he could doodle with the best of them when he appeared for questioning before the House Foreign Affairs Committee. When asked what prompted him to write "Dulles Must Go," he said that was the new slogan of the New York Daily Worker, Communist Party newspaper.

GRAHAM IS VICTOR

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Graham scored the 100th and undoubtedly sweetest victory of his 12-year pro career Friday night when he gained a unanimous 12-round decision over middleweight Joey Giardello of Philadelphia in Madison Square Garden. Graham, a 9-to-5 favorite, weighed 149¼, Giardello 155½.

It was the New York welterweight contender's first victory in three clashes with his heavier rival.

The scoring, all in favor of the 30-year-old Graham, was: referee Ruby Golstein 6-3-3; judge Arthur Aidala 8-3-1, and judge Bert Grant 7-4-1.

In their first two meetings, Aug. 4 and Dec. 19, Giardello, 22, won by split decision, the second one touching off the famous double reversal rhubarb.

After Giardello had been declared the winner of the second fight, commissioner Bob Christenberry changed judge Joe Agnello's scorecard and awarded the victory to Graham. But the Philadelphian took the matter to the courts and was given back the win by Supreme Court Justice Bernard Botein. Those two fights were over the 10-round distance.

The added two rounds proved decisive for the veteran who grew stronger while his younger rival faded. Sandy-haired Billy, fighting with a cut on the bridge of his nose from the first round on, swept the last two rounds on the officials' cards to cap his hard-earned victory.

Andrea Lawrence Wins US Giant Slalom

STOWE, Vt. (AP)—Two young skiing stars, Olympic champion Andrea Mead Lawrence and Dartmouth junior Bill Tibbits, swept down a sheet of ice on snow-swept Mt. Mansfield Friday to win U.S. giant slalom championships.

Mrs. Lawrence, 20, who had her first child two months ago, had not raced all winter. With only 10 days practice she had the same flawless style and speed that brought her the title here last year.

Tibbits, 19, of North River, N.Y., sped down the dangerous slope in two minutes 21.8 seconds.

Swedish Chequers

STOCKHOLM (CP)—A country place for rest and recreation for the Swedish prime minister, similar to the English Chequers, has been donated to the government by the late Carl Wicander, industrialist and financier. The large estate south of Stockholm includes a manor house and 5,000 acres of woods and farmland.

Smythe Defends Two Shuttle Crowns In Meet

TORONTO (CP)—Don Smythe of Toronto, Canada's top shuttle star and defending champion fights it out today for the two top titles of the Canadian badminton championships.

He faces Gord Simpson of Montreal in the singles and along with partner Budd Porter of Toronto defends the doubles crown against Vancouver's John Bouck and Darryl Thompson.

Smythe handily defeated Jack Muir of Toronto, 15-8, 15-5, in the singles semi-finals Friday while Simpson, seeded No. 2, claimed his victory from Bev Wescott of Toronto, 15-9, 18-15, 15-7.

Smythe and Porter showed their ability as pre-match favorites in the doubles when they downed Dick Sobben and Grant Henry of Toronto 15-1, 7-15, 15-7. Bouck and Thompson took a semi-final win, 15-11, 11-15, 17-15 from Gord Simpson of Montreal and Dick Birch of Toronto.

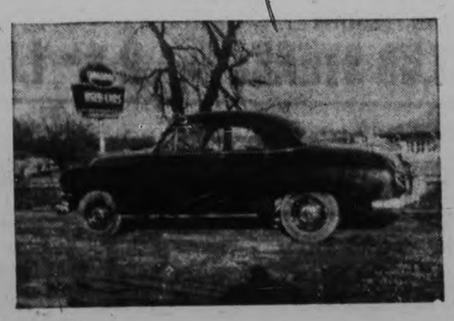
WOMEN'S FINALS

The final of the senior women's singles will be a Vancouver-Toronto competition with British Columbia's star, Lois Reid, meeting top-flight Marjorie Shedd, Toronto, seeded No. 1.

Miss Reid defeated Toronto's Joan Hennessy, 3-11, 10-0, 11-6, in the semi-final while Miss Shedd downed Jean Bardsley of Vancouver, 5-11, 11-1, 11-6.

The defending mixed doubles titlists, Johnnie Marshall and Budd Porter of Toronto, were upset, 15-4, 15-12, by Jean Bardsley and Thompson. The Vancouver pair meet Toronto's Barbara Ince and Dick Birch in the final.

Defending champion Jim Carnwath of Woodstock meets Toronto's Peter Clarke in the final of the junior men's singles.



Noreen Cossar of Toronto won the women's singles, defeating Elizabeth Rorke, also of Toronto, 11-2, 11-0.

The women's doubles consolation crown went to Miss A. Hepworth of Woodstock and V. O'Grady of Winnipeg. They whipped Toronto's R. Swarbrick and L. Naylor, 15-10, 15-8.

In the semi-finals of the men's veteran doubles, consolation, J. Koehler, Kitchener, and I. McCallum, Niagara Falls, Ont., defeated J. Moses, Toronto, and H. Ransom, Woodstock, 15-11, 15-7.

Stalin's Funeral To Rank With Lenin's As Great Patriotic Demonstration

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Moscow dispatches said today Prime Minister Stalin's funeral Monday will rank with that of Nicholai Lenin as one of the greatest patriotic demonstrations in Soviet history. Certainly it will be, as Lenin's funeral was, the occasion for a mass emotional patriotic outpouring.

Lenin, father of the Soviet Union, died Jan. 21, 1924, at Gorky, outside Moscow. Two days after death, the body was removed to Moscow's beautiful Hall of Columns where Stalin's rests now. A ceaseless stream of humanity filed through the hall to pay tribute to the fallen leader.

Sorrowing citizens came in two great sections from the left and right in long queues in rows of eights. From the left came workers' organizations, men from the factories, children from the schools and orphanages and soldiers in gray uniforms. From the right came other Soviet citizens stretching back miles, past the university and the Kremlin gates, on past the great gold-domed Cathedral Alexander, built to commemorate the victory over Napoleon, on to the outskirts of Moscow.

The side streets were packed with additional mourners. The lines converged and entered the building by separate doors. Solemnly the masses climbed a marble staircase, leading up to the columned hall and filed past the Lenin bier.

The climax of the nearly week-long outpouring of national emotion came at 4 p.m. Sunday, six days after death, when the red-draped coffin was taken by high Soviet leaders and simple workers from the high dais in the Hall of Columns to the marble mausoleum in Red Square, its final resting place.

It was bitter cold—the thermometer hit 20 degrees below zero. Few in the great throng took off their hats. The square was packed with hundreds of thousands, spilling over into the side streets. At corners soldiers on duty built bonfires to keep themselves warm. Massed bands played the "Internationale" to slow time.

The real obsequies took place in the Hall of Columns at 8 o'clock that morning, with foreign diplomats, Soviet officials and members of Lenin's family attending. Orchestras of the Grand Opera House and Conservatory of Music played Chopin's Requiem, and selections from Wagner. When they played the Bolshevik's funeral march and the Internationale, Russian mourners sang the stirring words.

Then the hall was cleared of all but Stalin and Gregory Zinoviev, chairman of the executive committee of the Third International who was to be executed before a firing squad in Stalin's blood purge of 1936. With the help of two unnamed workers and two peasants they raised the coffin, now closed and covered by red cloth, on their shoulders for the final journey. Every 50 yards the bearers were changed, with two prominent Soviet leaders bearing the weight assisted by four different workers and peasants.

Rush Point WA Pays Visit Havelock Group

HAVELOCK (ENS). — The devotional period and program at a meeting of the Women's Association of Havelock United Church held in the Sunday School rooms on Thursday afternoon was in charge of a group of the Rush Point United Church led by Mrs. F. Pollock. The Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Cook. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Cora Curtis and "Thought for the Day" was read by Mrs. Earl Pollock. The program consisted of readings by Mrs. Archie Menzies and Mrs. Frank Pollock, and a piano solo by Miss Barbara Pollock.

The president, Mrs. H. Agnew, presided, and the treasurer reported a bank balance of $128. The correspondence included an appeal from the Canadian Foundation for Polio, and thank-you notes from Mrs. White and Mrs. G. W. Chiles. The president reported that four sick calls had been made and also reported two more sick members. The roll-call was taken and nine new members paid their fees.

Under new business it was decided to quilt two quilts on March 18, one for the bale and the other for a member. It was also decided to hold a tea and bake sale on May 2. Five dozen plates, five dozen cups and saucers and a dishpan are to be purchased for the kitchen. A tea towel shower is to be held at the next meeting.

A donation of $25 was made to the flood victims to be sent through Dr. Mooney of Toronto.

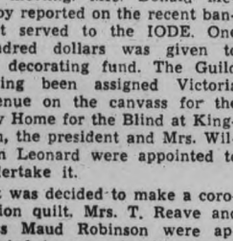
The ladies from Rush Point served lunch at the close of the meeting.

Baby Band Mothers Give Party For Their Husbands

The 17th of March theme was prevalent at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club Friday evening when members and ex-members of the Trinity United Church Baby Band Mothers' Association entertained their husbands an annual party.

An enormous shamrock suspended from the centre of the stage formed the central decorative attraction. It was flanked by small shamrocks on a white background. A floral display of green-tinted pussy willows, pink and white tulips was also part of the effective decorations.

The door prize, a three-tiered cake with shamrock decorations made by Mrs. E. Welman, was won by Mrs. B. Harrison. The lucky number was drawn by Mrs. Gordon S. Maxwell.



Other prize winners during the evening were Mrs. E. McWilliams, Mr. and Mrs. E. Edmondson, Mr. N. Elliott, Mrs. G. Cheatle, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Vanstone.

The conveners for the party were Mrs. E. H. Wellman and Mrs. H. C. Wilson. They were assisted by the following members of the party committee: Mrs. D. Tanney, Mrs. M. Forsythe, Mrs. W. Van Atter, decorating convener; Mrs. H. Moebus, Mrs. B. Till, Mrs. D. Lamont, Mrs. W. Arnup.

Bridgenorth WA Makes Numerous Plans

BRIDGENORTH (ENS) — The Bridgenorth WA met Thursday evening in the church basement with president Mrs. Karl Blewett presiding. The opening hymn, "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross," was followed by the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison. The devotional period, taken by Mrs. J. Hardill, opened with scripture reading by Mrs. Don Jopling. Lesson thoughts on "Prayer" were by Mrs. Earl Blewett. Readings on "Lent" and "The Print of the Nails" were given by Mrs. Hardill, and a reading by Mrs. R. Jopling on "The Solitary Life."

Material aid to any family in extreme need was discussed and members decided that it be left to the discretion of the president that help be given when necessary, without contacting the complete executive.

In order to equip the church kitchen with the many utensils that are lacking, it was decided that a kitchen shower will be held and all members are to bring a kitchen utensil to the Easter meeting which will be held jointly with the WMS.

Several ways of making money in order to raise the necessary finances to install the bathroom and new stove in the parsonage were discussed. A hot supper, with Mrs. J. Johnson convening, is set for Friday, April 10, to be held in the church basement. It was decided that the WA approach the St. James' YPU with regard to them bringing their play, "The Clock Struck 12," to Bridgenorth with a tentative date set as March 27.

A rummage sale, with Mrs. Earl Nicholls in charge, is slated for the third week in April and the coronation tea, bazaar and sale of home baking is to be held June 3 at the home of Mrs. L. Richardson.

The use of a table for the sale of home baking in Hartman's store for Saturdays during the summer months was offered and accepted and Mrs. J. Smith will be in charge of the table.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. D. Jopling and committee at the close.

Roseneath WI Hostess To Non-Members

ROSENEATH (ENS)—The Women's Institute entertained the ladies of the community on Thursday afternoon in the township hall. Progressive euchre and crokinole were played. The decorations including score cards were in institute colors of blue and yellow.

Prizes for high score in euchre were carried off by Mrs. Harold Taylor and Mrs. Harold George. Prizes for low score going to Mrs. Kyle Brown and Mrs. E. Rae Brown.

In the crokinole section, Mrs. Thomas Sandercock won the prize for high score, prize for low score going to Mrs. Frank Brown. The prizes were presented by Mrs. Bart Thackeray and Mrs. George Mouncey.

Preceding the game period a brief business session was held with the president, Mrs. Harold Taylor, presiding.

The financial report presented by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Bart Thackeray, showed a balance on hand of $173.40.

Mrs. Charles Sandercock, president of the ladies' division of Roseneath Agricultural Society, told of the new prizes that had been added to the 1953 prize list for quilts and quilting.

Mrs. Frank Brown, district director of Roseneath WI, presented a report of a West Northumberland district executive meeting she had attended in Cobourg in February.

Mrs. Harold Taylor and Mrs. Fred Murphy were appointed a committee to see information regarding a booth at the ploughing match.

Mrs. Charlton Grigg and Mrs. Frank Brown were chosen as representatives of the WI to attend a community meeting in the township hall on March 30.

Plans were made to quilt a quilt for a family who had their home destroyed by fire. The quilting will be held in the township hall, March 11. Plans were made for the April meeting when the election of officers will be held.

A pot-luck lunch was served by the Women's Institute members.

Miss Josie Sutton Group Hostess

MILLBROOK (ENS) — The town group of St. Andrew's United Church Women's Association met on Tuesday at the home of Miss Josie Sutton. Mrs. Chester Fisher, the president, was in the chair and opened the meeting with the reading of a poem. The devotional period was taken by Mrs. Homer Ouellette.

Lists of names were given out to the collectors in charge of procuring two donations from members in place of the fowl supper formerly held in the fall.

Final arrangements were made for a rummage sale to be held in the waiting-room on April 25. It was requested that donations for apron material, or aprons already made for the bazaar should be left at the home of Mrs. John McKnight, Tupper St.

It was announced that a joint meeting of all three groups of the WA would be held at the home of Mrs. McMillan, Centre St., in April.

The meeting closed with a reading by Mrs. J. McKnight, and a poem by Mrs. Fisher. Mrs. Bruce Dawson, Mrs. Homer Ouellette and Mrs. Irwin Hatherly were hostesses for the social hour which followed the meeting.

Nurses Enjoy Annual Dance In St. Patrick's Setting

St. Patrick's colors of yellow and green in streamers, balloons and wall decoration provided the setting for the annual Nurses' Ball held at the Civic Hospital nurses' residence Friday night. Bouquets of pussy willows and daffodils decorated the reception room.

The ball is sponsored by the hospital Board of Governors.

The nurses and their escorts were received by Miss M. Nesbitt of the School of Nursing staff; Mayor and Mrs. Hugh Waddell, Mr. John Hornal, hospital superintendent, and Mrs. Hornal; Mr. M. J. Swanston, chairman of the board and Mrs. Swanston, Miss M. Seymour and Mr. J. Sargent.

Special guests at the dance were Mr. and Mrs. C. Chambers, Mrs. P. Kingdon, Miss D. Pidgeon, Mr. and Mrs. N. Wilson, Mr. T. T. Rodger, and Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Matthews.

Assisting with the dance were Mrs. H. Allen, Mrs. A. Lockington, Miss A. Morgan and Miss A. Marshall.

Prize winners during the evening were Miss Barbara Graham and Mr. Jerry Stock, Miss Marjorie Flavelle and Mr. James Swanston.

Nurses and their escorts attending the dance were: Miss M. McTaggart and Mr. Ken Wilcox, Miss Betty Berry and Mr. Keith Stairs, Miss Sheilagh Corrigan and Mr. Bev. Unit Is Strength Of Cancer Soc. Says Ont. Head

Annual meeting of the Ontario Division, Canadian Cancer Society Friday evening in Toronto, reappointed Mrs. Maurice Holt, president of the Peterborough branch, a member of the board of directors. Mrs. Holt was also appointed to the executive committee which has power over the board of directors.

Members from widespread centres of Ontario attended this supper meeting which was in the fine new quarters, occupied jointly by the Division and the Toronto Branch of the society, which are being donated for this purpose by the owner. Staff members have offices and there are large rooms which are daily occupied by volunteer workers who make the piles of dressings that are always on hand in generous supply in the cupboards at 276 Simcoe Street.

President Mr. E. S. Welch, in his report stated: "The Canadian Cancer Society operates under a Dominion-Charter, and its executive head is in the National Board of Directors. It is divided into Provincial Divisions, and each of these is further divided into local Units. It is from these Units that the Society draws its strength, and from which it receives the loyalty and support that has enabled it to make an outstanding contribution to the welfare of the people of Canada, and to become the largest individual supporter of cancer research in the country."

The treasurer's report showed that in 1952 the Ontario Division contributed to the National Cancer Institute $116,120, which represents half of the total contribution made by the Society in that year. The Institute in turn spent in Ontario $193,922. Another vital activity of the Society is its Fellowship program which made possible in 1952 the awarding of 22 Fellowships.

Urging people to get advice early before minds and bodies become tortured with uncertainty is the primary object of the educational program. Recorded results show that in 1937 the period of delay was 18 months on all excluding skin cancer, and in 1947 it had been reduced to six months. It was also shown that of the number of cases treated in 1947, 45 per cent were still alive in 1952, but of the number treated in 1937, only 19 per cent were alive in 1942.

Peterborough Branch members are now organizing for an appeal for public support to be made the latter part of March. Most women's organizations of the city have been eager to supply canvassers. Last year's canvassers have glowing reports of the kindness shown them on house-to-house calls throughout the city.

Have Hair Shaped With Spring Hat Style In Mind

How often have you tried on a hat you thought divine only to be disappointed because the line of your hair or its disinclination to stay where you combed it, spoiled the line of the hat?

A good hair style—hewing close to the head contours, short enough to keep from flying away from the hat in back, sleek yet with enough softness for flattery — will take care of this hair-hat problem for you.

A hair stylist will shape your hair for this effect. Have the hair thinned out if there is too much fulness in proportion to the size of your face and the back of your skull. But if your hair is very thin, and your head small in proportion to your body, you will avoid a pinhead look if you have a permanent, just for body.

Don't have a permanent at all if your hair has enough body and trainability to make it possible for you to brush and comb soft waves into place easily. Ask your hair stylist if he can cut soft waves into your hair. If you do have a permanent, never let it be given to you tightly, for it is completely unadaptable to your changing hair-style wishes when this is done.

SHORT-IN-BACK LOOK

Many girls are sticking to the extremely-short-in-back look, although on many others you do see the hair much longer than for many seasons. This does not mean a return to the "glamor bob" of the '30's and early '40's. Hair is seldom seen longer than a line level with the end of your chin.

These simple styles look wonderful with small suit hats, but take equally well to the little "crowns" and "tiaras" being worn for evening.

Whatever the style of the season in hair, it must be adapted to you. If you have a long neck, for example — considered by many a mark of great beauty — let your hair frame it, even though it is longer than what "they" are wearing.

OVAL SHAPED FACE

Always keep in mind the ideal of the oval face and have your hair styled to bring your face closer to that ideal. Don't let the beautician go ahead with his scissors until you have thoroughly discussed the result with him. Ask his opinions and then modify your own if you think necessary, but don't be hurried into doing so.

When the styling is finished, be sure to have him teach you how to comb it. This may sound a little elementary, but when you do have the lesson you will see that proper combing is a fine art to be mastered.

Warsaw Women Plan Quilting

WARSAW (ENS) — The WMS of Warsaw United Church met on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Dyson, president, presided, taking the worship service outlined in Missionary Monthly. Mrs. Harold Ray read the scripture lesson. Reports were given by visiting committee and the treasurer. Mrs. A. Edwards gave a reading on Christian Stewardship. A letter of thanks was read from Bernice Ray who has been in hospital suffering from a knee injury. Mrs. Roland Payne thanked the ladies for the card she had received.

Quilts blocked had been returned and put together and a pot luck dinner and quilting will be held Tuesday.

Several donations were made to the travelling basket. Mrs. Cephas Parcells and her group had charge of the program. Short readings were given by Miss Clara McCracken and Mrs. Parcells. A paper on "Lighten the Darkness" and "World's Day of Prayer" was given by Mrs. Harold Payne, closing with a poem by Miss Jane Scott, "Cleaning the Lamps."

Mrs. Dyson favored with a solo in her usual pleasing manner. Mrs. Payne conducted a contest, "Winter Quarters, and the meeting closed with a hymn. A delicious quarterly tea was served by Group B.

Promote Own Craftsmen Message Of Silversmith

A table completely set with hand-made silverware is rarely seen in Peterborough, so such a display greatly attracted the members of the Women's Art Association at their meeting Friday afternoon. Flatware and dishes were the creations of the speaker, Mr. Douglas Boyd of Toronto.

Mr. Boyd is one of the few Canadian-born silversmiths, and he has been successful in making it his vocation. His address was titled "The Romance of Silver," but his message was something different.

"Promote Canadian craftsmen for the benefit of Canada and its craftsmen" is the thought Mr. Boyd would like all Canadians to keep foremost. He deplored the habit of giving foreign-made gifts to dignitaries visiting Canada, which was carried out even in the wedding gifts to Queen Elizabeth. "Surely we've nothing to be ashamed of," he said.

Also, he believes that persons working alone or in small groups should be encouraged. Often good craftsmen are scared away from such a business for fear of failure. For this reason the development of silversmithing has been limited to several fine craftsmen.

He told the ladies that every piece of jewellery they might be wearing, even their motor cars on the street, are produced from an original pattern made by a hand craftsman. These men are lost, yet they are deserving of every credit, he pointed out.

"A change in the last 10 or 15 years has brought appreciation of creative ability of our own people," said Mr. Boyd. "Admiration should be greatest for those who work in metal, for this craft was particularly lost," he added. Silversmiths had to start from scratch and pick up a little here and there, yet this method is the same and they use practically the same kind of tools that craftsmen did thousands of years ago—hammer, sandbag, anvil and forge.

"Caution," said Mr. Boyd. "Don't buy hand-mades if they're not good. We don't want to encourage bad craftsmen." He put craftsmen into two grades, those of early times "because they had to be" and those of today "because they want to be." It took a long time to realize we had lost something good, he remarked. One of the few crafts maintained throughout the years, he said, was the making of Harris tweed in Scotland.

The romance in the silver came from the fact that much old silver has been melted down and refashioned. "Your silver piece may have a trace of silver from Solomon's temple, or perhaps a trace from treasures found in Mexico, etc. The possibilities are endless," he suggested.

Simplicity of design of the Swedish inspiration is perhaps the finest in the world, Mr. Boyd believes. He explained the grouping of copper and silver in the sterling alloy and the making of Sheffield plate by sandwiching a piece of copper between two sheets of fine silver and welding together, then fashioning into a vessel. The modern method is to take other mixtures of metals and dip in electro-plating solution, thus coating with silver perhaps one one-thousandth thick.

He said that fine silver is hardly used these days, sometimes to make the box to hold the stone in a ring.

President Mrs. Ford Turner, before introducing Mr. Boyd to the meeting, asked for the membership's approval of a motion to send a donation to the European flood victims. It was unanimously voted to send $25.

Grainger Family Honor Parents

To mark the occasion of their thirty-fifth wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Grainger, Montrose Avenue, were honored recently at a tea given by their family.

During the afternoon more than 50 guests signed the register. Many lovely gifts were received by the couple.

The tea table was tastefully arranged with a hand-crocheted cloth and centred with a beautiful floral arrangement of snapdragons, roses, pansies and stalks, flanked by yellow tapers. Forming a background to the table were several bouquets of spring flowers, gifts of relatives and friends.

Pouring tea were Mrs. W. J. Gilmore and Mrs. J. C. Adams. Hostesses were Miss Isla Grainger, Mrs. Gen Grainger and Mrs. Bart Grainger, assisted by Miss Jean McIntyre.

Mr. and Mrs. Grainger were married March 2, 1918, and moved to the east 10 years ago.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

DOROTHY DIX:

Father Too Dominating Does Harm To Daughter

DEAR MISS DIX: Although I'm nearly 17, my father won't let me have anything to do with boys. If one phones, I can only say a quick hello and goodbye, then go through a third degree as to the boy's identity and how I met him.

If I bring up the subject of dating, my father says I'm being silly and should be ashamed of myself. At my age I feel I should be able to do a lot of things, but I have no freedom whatever as far as boys are concerned. Many times I have been tempted to lie to my parents, tell them I'm going to a girl friend's, and go on a date with a boy instead. I know how wrong this would be, so hesitate to do it. The boys in school are very friendly with me, and would ask me for dates if I could accept. They're very nice boys, too.

My mother can see my side of the story, but Dad is adamant.

DIANE T.

BIDE YOUR TIME

ANSWER: Your father is the kind of parent who drives his children from home as soon as they're old enough to fend for themselves. At 17 any girl should have reasonable dating privileges with boys of whom her family approves. Your father's attitude is probably caused more by an unconscious desire to keep you near him, than from disapproval of boys in general.

His harsh judgment is more apt to result in the loss of your love and respect than in strengthening them.

The futility of your mother's intercession in your behalf is further proof that Dad is the dominant figure in the household and he has no intention of reliquishing his authority.

He might see the light if it were pointed out to him that persistence in his present code regarding your dating will turn you into a maladjusted person socially, and will have a decidedly adverse effect on your post-high school career. Faculty advisors could help you here.

You are wise to avoid sneak dating. Since you've been patient this long, wait until you're 18, then if your father persists in his unreasonable attitude, you'd be justified in going out—not secretly, but with Dad's knowledge, if not his consent.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am single, and 30 years old. I am secretary to a group of men, all married except one. The married men are quite free with their attentions, and I play up to them, too. I accept their flattery. My girl friends tell me my conduct is questionable. Are they right?

ALICE T.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Are you deliberately seeking a tarnished reputation? You sure know how to go about it. Be assured, not one of the men you work for has the least bit of respect for you, and when they get together you're the brunt of some very unpleasant talk. I would suggest a complete change of business, and a most definite change in conduct.

Macaroni Offers Lenten Variety

When the budget is running low and menu ideas are dragging a bit, turn to those all-time favorites—the durum macaroni trio—for new ideas. You will find many shapes and sizes from which to choose. The alphabets, spirals and tiny shells interest children.

Macaroni foods are also available in jumbo size. These are grand for stuffing with a ground meat and rice mixture and cooking with tomato sauce.

Harwood WI Meet

HARWOOD (ENS)—The Women's Institute met Thursday in the community centre with 19 present. The president, Mrs. R. E. Drope presided. Mrs. Frank Stephens was appointed to the standing committee of the Institute, replacing Mrs. Gordon Milne, who has resigned.

Mrs. Frank Stephens read a letter from a "pen friend" in England's Women's Institute.

It was decided to make arrangements to have the piano repaired and tuned.

Mrs. Ellis Isaac was convener for the program. After community singing, Mrs. J. Minifie held a contest, the prize being won by Mrs. F. Stephens. A piano solo, "The Kiss of Spring" was played by Miss Lottie Drope.

The jelly bean contest was won by Mrs. R. S. Johnson. Delicious refreshments were hten served by Mrs. Garnet Isaac and group.

The Church of St. Mary the Virgin at Stockport in England dates back to the 12th century.

Readers' Saturday Column Conducted By Mary Moore

QUESTION: I noticed a while ago a recipe for beefsteak pudding with suet crust. Would you please give me the recipe for suet crust, and tell how long it takes to cook?—Mrs. F. M.

ANSWER: I am glad to repeat the recipe for suet crust, for I received dozens of letters—mostly nostalgic—from British-born readers commenting on the Beefsteak Pudding recipe, which appeared January 13.

SUET CRUST (for boiled puddings) (quantities for 4).

One-half pound finely crumbled suet (your friendly butcher will do this for you), 4 cups flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, about ½ cup cold water (the dough should be soft enough to roll out easily). Sift baking powder with the salt and flour into a large bowl. Add crumbled suet and mix in exactly as you would for pie pastry—with finger tips or pastry blender. Add water to make a stiff dough, but not too stiff to make rolling difficult. Divide into 4 portions and roll each portion out to make a round about 9 inches in diameter, and ¼-inch thick.

Lift a quarter of the meat mixture (1 pound cubed steak, ½ pound cleaned and cubed kidney, 2 small chopped onions, 2 small chopped potatoes, salt, pepper and butter) out of water, let it drain a little, then place it just off centre on pastry round. Add vegetables and seasonings, dot with butter, wrap in crust by folding longer end of dough over filling and quickly sealing all edges, moistening edges to seal. Fold outside edges over well, pressing firmly. Wrap each pudding in cotton cloth—making several thicknesses of cloth. Tie firmly with string. Drop into large kettle of boiling water, cover and boil gently at least 3½ hours. If readers who missed the first column with meat puddings want more details than above send me request and enclose stamped enveloped.

QUESTION: Would you please advise me how to make oatmeal cookies and put a date filling between them, also recipe for date filling.—Mrs. W. J. M.

ANSWER:

OATMEAL COOKIES WITH DATE FILLING

Oatmeal Cookies: One cup butter or butter and shortening or lard, 1 cup brown sugar, 2 cups oatmeal (or coarse rolled oats put through food chopper), ½ cup milk, 1¾ cups unsifted flour (the flour should be stirred before measuring though), 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt. Cream the butter well and beat in the sugar. Add milk and rolled oats. Add the flour sifted with the salt and baking powder. The dough should be very soft. Chill to make it stiff enough to handle. Roll thin on lightly floured board. Cut out with 2-inch cookie cutter. Bake at 350 degrees Fahr. about 12 minutes. On half of the cookies spread

Date Filling: One-half lb. of dates pitted, 1 cup water, ½ cup sugar (the addition of a little lemon juice or rind is optional). Wash and stone dates, and add water and sugar. Cook over low heat, stirring often, until thick and smooth. Cool. About 1 or 1½ teaspoons date filling is sufficient for each pair of cookies. Press top cookie down but do not squeeze filling out the sides.

Variation: Cookie dough may be cut in 3 or 4-inch rounds, filling placed on one-half, other half folded over and sealed to make a turnover. Bake at 350 degrees Fahr. for 15 minutes.

QUESTION: Hello again, Mrs. Moore! This time I'm writing on behalf of my sister-in-law in England . . . she says she has eaten so much mutton she is beginning to bleat . . . she asks if I know any way to camouflage sheep she'd be delighted to know it—Marion S.

ANSWER: I haven't printed your letter in full, Marion, for it contained such precious personal notes. Chinooks indeed! I'm jealous.

CURRIED MUTTON OR LAMB

Three lbs. breast or shoulder of mutton or lamb, 1 quart boiling water, 4 pepper berries, ½ cup of minced onion, 4 tablespoons each flour and fat, 1 or 3 teaspoons cury powder, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon of finely chopped parsley, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce or 8 drops tabasco sauce. Cut meat in 1-inch cubes, cover with cold water, bring to boil quickly and drain. Add the boiling water and pepperberries and cook covered, just below boiling point until meat is tender—3¼ hours for mutton, 2 for lamb. Drain but reserve liquor. Melt the fat, add onion and saute until delicately browned; stir in flour and seasonings, then 2½ to 2¾ cups of the stock, stirring until thick. Add meat, parsley and other seasonings. Serve in centre of hot platter surorunded with border of fluffy boiled rice. This is a favorite with everyone.

NEEDS YOUR SUPPORT

At the present time there are 14 children between the ages of four and 15 at the Orphanage. The future of these children is to a certain extent in your hands, as it is your donations that provide them with many of the necessities of life.

By giving generously to the Red Cross and Community Fund you are helping to provide clothing, food, and proper supervision for these children. In the past the funds received from the Red Cross and Community Fund have assisted materially in helping these children to grow into useful men and women.

Don't let them down this year. Your donation is needed now more than ever to help this good work.

THE CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS IS BEING CONDUCTED MAR. 6-18

6—In Memoriam

BEEBE—In loving memory of Clarence Nelson Beebe, who passed away, March 8, 1952.
God called him home, it was His will,
But in our hearts we love him still;
His memory is as dear today
As in the hour he passed away.
We often sit and think of him
When we are all alone,
For memory is the only thing
That grief can call its own.
—Lovingly remembered by wife and family.

BEBEE—In loving memory of Clarence (Sam) Bebee, who passed away March 7, 1952.
He is gone, but not forgotten,
And, as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of him are always near.
Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within the heart concealed.
—Ever remembered by mother and family

COX—In proud and loving memory of Bdr. Louis P. Cox, of the 4th Anti-Tank, killed in action in Germany eight years ago, March 7, 1945.
A sorrow too great to be told,
But to us who have loved and lost
Memory will never grow old.
—Ever remembered by his mother.

CUNNINGHAM—In loving memory of our dear son Bruce, killed in action March 7, 1945. Buried in Holland.
Eight sad and lonely years have passed
Since our great sorrow fell,
The shock that we received that day
We still remember well.
How his life was shed we know not,
What his last word, look or thought,
Only that he did his duty,
Died as he bravely fought.
—Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by mother and father.

CUNNINGHAM—In loving memory of our brother Bruce, killed in War II in Germany, March 7, 1945. Buried in Holland.
Only a memory of by gone days,
And a sigh for a face unseen,
But death has left us lonely,
With thoughts of what could have been.
—Forever remembered by Ethel, Denton, Lloyd.

MONTGOMERY—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Joseph Wellington Montgomery, who passed away March 7, 1938.
O, God, what a weight of sorrow
Must we, the lonely ones, bear;
A lonely home, a silent voice,
And only his vacant chair.
—Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by his wife, Elizabeth, and sons Noble and Arnold.

PANTER—In loving memory of my father, George Panter, who passed away March 7, 1950.
Time takes away the edge of grief,
But memory turns back every leaf.
—Lovingly remembered by his daughter Hattie, son-in-law Rab and family.

PANTER—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, George Panter, who passed away March 7, 1950.
Oh what would I give to clasp your hand;
Your dear, kind face to see,
Your loving smile, your welcome voice
That meant so much to me.
No one knows the silent heartache,
Only those who have such can tell
Of the grief that is borne in silence,
For the one we loved so well.
—Ever remembered by his loving wife and daughter Muriel.

7—Card of Thanks

My sincere thanks to all who sent flowers and cards and those who made enquiries during my stay in hospital.—Elizabeth Crowe.

The family of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Lynch, Hastings, wish to extend their sincere thanks to Very Rev. J. J. Garvey, the Sisters of Mount Carmel Convent, friends, relatives and neighbours for the many spiritual offerings, acts of kindness, and messages of sympathy received during their bereavement.

Injured Defenceman Makes Steady Progress

SASKATOON (CP)—Stan Long, youthful defenceman of Victoria Cougars of the Western Hockey League, injured in a game here Feb. 25, is making steady progress in his recovery.

His physician, Dr. Barney McPhail, said Friday night Long was "progressing nicely and will probably be allowed to get out of bed towards the end of next week." It will be 10 days or two weeks before the player can leave hospital, however.

Short Editorial

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Gazette's shortest editorial in its history was devoted Friday night to the death of Joseph Stalin. It read: "Sic semper tyrannis." The translation of this Latin phrase is "Thus always to tyrants."

Chancellor Visits U.S.

BONN (Reuters)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will arrive in New York aboard the liner United States April 6, the foreign office announced Friday night. The chancellor will go to Washington on invitation of President Eisenhower.

CGE Offers

total earnings, the amount of your annual pension will increase with higher earnings and more years of contributions."

There is in addition a Past Service Pension, but the details are too involved for ordinary publication.

SUPPLEMENTAL PAYMENT

Supplemental payment: "If you retire after the age of 60 with 20 or more years of credited service, you will receive a supplemental payment of $40 a month until you become eligible to receive government old age benefits. This is in addition to the pensions described above. If you retire with less than 20 but more than 15 years of credited service under the new plan, you will be eligible for a supplemental payment which will, however, be reduced by $5 a month for each year that you lack having 20 years of credited service.

"For example, with 18 years of credited service, on retirement you would receive $30 a month. This supplement is payable only to persons who remain with the company until retirement."

It is prescribed that the normal retirement age for all men and women, whether or not they are participants in the pension plan, will be 68. Employees may continue at work after that age only at the request of the company, and with the approval of the Pension Board.

"You may, if you choose, retire any time between the ages of 60 to 68 with a pension.

"Because the pension ('Future Service' and 'Past Service') in such cases will be payable for a longer period of time, and for less service with the company, the amount of your monthly pension will be reduced to compensate for these two conditions. These pensions for early retirement will be computed as though you had retired at 68, and reduced by four per cent a year for each year you retire prior to the age of 68."

"The Supplemental Payment which may be payable to you, however, will not be subject to reduction merely for reason of early retirement."

There is exposition of various other cases and circumstances pertaining to employees for age and length of service. One of them is "vested right" . . .

"After 20 years or more of credited service, whether gained before or after the beginning of the plan, your rights to a pension under the plan become "vested." This means that if you do not withdraw your contributions, you will be entitled to a pension at retirement age, even if you leave the company before that age arrived. If you already have 20 or more years of credited service at the beginning of the new plan, you have a vested right to your past service benefit, even if you don't join the new plan."

There is also a five-year guarantee, disability pension and so on.

LIFE AND HEALTH PLANS

An employee earning less than $2,000 a year in straight time, pays 80 cents a month, and is entitled to $2,000 life insurance at the age of 68; also an extra benefit if death or dismemberments result from accidental injury before retirement; and in health insurance $18 a week disability benefit, plus reimbursement for hospital room and board to $9 a day for a maximum of $630, and for special hospital services up to $90; plus up to $175 in accordance with standard schedule of surgical operations; plus maternity benefits; plus extraordinary medical expense benefits, that is, 75 per cent of allowable medical expenses which are more than the total of: (1) other hospital and surgical benefits of this plan, plus (2) $100. Maximum is $3,000 in 24 months for one disability.

Employees are grouped in 13 categories of earnings from less than $2,000 a year to $7,500-$9,999 a year.

For the "E" group, $2,750-$2,999, life insurance is $4,000; plus $2,000 extra benefit payable if death or dismemberments result from accidental injury before retirement; that makes the total benefits $6,000 payable if death results from accidental injury.

Also for this "E" group is $27.50 weekly disability benefit; and the other hospital and surgical, maternity and extraordinary medical expense benefits, in the same amounts as for the "A" group of less than $2,000 a year earnings. For those two forms of insurance, life and health, the "E" group employee pays $2 a month.

The "F" group, earning $3,000 to $3,499 a year, the life insurance is $4,500, plus the $2,000 for death or dismemberments from accidental injury; weekly disability benefit is $30; and the other hospital and surgical, etc., benefits are the same for all the categories and for that the employee pays $2.30 a month.

The "L" group, $6,000 to $7,499 —life insurance $10,000, plus the set $2,000 for accidental death, etc., weekly allowance for disability $35, plus the other hospital benefits, and the employee pays $5.60 a month.

The monthly rates for these life and health provision of protection extend from 80 cents a month for Group "A" to $1.70 for Group "M." The balance of the cost of the entire life and health insurance program will be paid by the company.

Life insurance payments will be made payable for death either on or off the job.

One more provision from the four pages of details: "If you become totally disabled before age 60 while insured, under the plan, your life insurance protection will be continued for the full amount until you reach age 68, provided you furnish proof of the continuance of the total disability each year. No contribution will be required for this coverage during the disability."

Loans, maternity costs and other benefits are further provisions explained in the announcement.

TO VISIT CANADA—Japanese Crown Prince Akihito, 19, will visit five major cities in his trip across Canada en route to attend the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth. Scheduled to begin his Canadian tour April 13 to 14, he will visit Victoria, Ottawa, Toronto, Niagara Falls, Ont., and Montreal. At Ottawa he will pay a courtesy call on Governor-General Vincent Massey.

U.S.-U.K. Talks Seen Start Of World Review

WASHINGTON (AP)—Anglo-American talks covering the full range of political and economic relations —given impetus by Stalin's death and succession in Russia—may end with a final joint meeting today.

Formal completion of the conferences at the state department, however, may be only the beginning of a general free world review of diplomatic and economic policies.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and the chancellor of the exchequer Richard A. Butler, are expected to remain here during the week-end, possibly until Tuesday.

Butler is scheduled to give a talk in New York Tuesday night, before going to Ottawa, and Eden is to speak there Thursday.

Today's joint foreign affairs and economic conference followed Friday's heavy round of talks which linked the White House, the state department and the treasury.

SILENT

Both the British visitors and their American hosts were silent about details of their conversations and any progress toward new alignments, especially in the direction of a cure for Britain's chronic economic ills.

Emphasis on both sides was on the "exploratory" and "tentative" nature of the talks, plus repeated assertions that no commitments were being asked or made.

Butler and Eden have said since arriving Wednesday they will follow up the Washington talks with conferences in Europe.

This suggested the Washington talks may be only the first step toward a widening series of free world economic and political exchanges which might end in a general overhauling of Western policies.

Government Streamlining Suggests Malenkov Building Up Red Economy

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

PARIS (AP)—The sharp streamlining of the Soviet government under its new dictator, Georgi M. Malenkov, suggests determination on his part to push at all costs the building of the Soviet economy to the point where it will rival that of the United States and make him ready for any emergency—including war.

Malenkov likely was busy on such a project long before Stalin died. Now, with a free hand as boss, he obviously intends to quicken the pace and let nothing stand in his way.

The new Mr. Red has combined the many ministries of the vast bureaucracy which is the Soviet government, slimming down its bulging sides and centralizing authority. The picture of Malenkov's revolution—and a revolution it is—becomes one of sharp centralization of authority in the hands of those he thinks he can trust most.

Young and vigorous men are taking over, pushing the older ones into the background. This is in line with the Malenkov idea. He, himself, has only just passed the 50-year mark and his reservoir of strength is in the class of Communists who grew up after the Bolshevik revolution, sealed off from the rest of the world and wholly indoctrinated in the Stalinist dogma.

First, Malenkov moved cautiously to consolidated his position with the Soviet army, which would represent the greatest potential danger, and at the same time the greatest support, to his regime. He installed a Communist who is no soldier at all but a financial wizard with a marshal's baton—N. A. Bulganin—as his minister of war.

Under Bulganin he brought in two deputies who not only are war heroes, but who are perhaps the best soldiers the Soviet Union has —Georgi Zhukov and A. V. Vassilevsky.

Malenkov has taken his most important ministries—those concerned with electric power, building and others connected with heavy industry — placed at their heads men who know their jobs. The number of ministries has been cut down considerably by the mergers in what looks to be an effort to end the confusion in the Soviet bureaucracy.

Malenkov proved himself a strong and capable business organizer during and after the Second World War when he accomplished monumental jobs of reconstruction and rehabilitation in the wake of the Nazi destruction. He established himself as a man who would let nothing or nobody stand in the way of his successes.

He is about to apply that principle to the Soviet economy once again.

Malenkov's government is more centralized and more autocratic even than Stalin's.

Announcements demanding the "greatest solidarity of leadership" and warning of the "impossibility of any disorder or panic whatsoever" bespeak his intention to be ruthless in his suppression of anything which smacks of opposition.

In the foreign field he will give the West no rest. Malenkov does not want a big fight and will avoid it, but he will not relax the war of attrition.

This is singularly underscored in his appointment of V. Kuznetzov to the rank of deputy foreign minister. Kuznetzov is a trade union expert. It is he who has been bossing the World Federation of Trade Unions, the Communist-owned and operated grouping which supplies the Soviet Union with agents abroad and directs the infiltration and distortion of labor movements through the world.

Letter Threatens Bombing

QUEBEC (CP)—The pastor of Pat Walsh's suburban Boischatel parish has been given provincial police protection following a threat that his church might be "blown up," Premier Duplessis said Friday.

The threat was in a letter sent to Rev. Pierre Gravel, long-time foe of Communist labor leaders in Quebec province.

Mr. Duplessis told his regular Friday press conference the letter said "the statements Pat Walsh is making would justify the blowing up of the church and presbytery."

Walsh, a member of Father Gravel's parish, resigned from a number of Communist-front organizations last week.

Although Walsh says he has not asked for police protection, the officers assigned to Father Gravel's church may also watch movements about Walsh's home when he is away. The former labor leader has organized neighbors to give his family protection when he is absent.

CORROBORATION

Mr. Duplessis said information gathered by provincial police corroborated many of the statements made by Walsh. He had "serious cause" to believe that many damaging acts were committed in the province by Communists.

The premier said he also had reason to believe that the pit dug on the Plains of Abraham, about 75 feet from the provincial museum where Polish treasures are kept under surveillance by the government, was the work of Communists. The pit could have been the start of a tunnel.

The precautions taken by the diggers and equipment found on the spot indicated the operation was planned some time ago and carried out by persons experienced in that kind of work, he said.

He said Communist leaders had visited the museum some months ago and took photographs outside and inside the building.

Mr. Duplessis spoke also of a proposed railway in Chibougamau and said the provincial government hopes it will link the mining district with Lake St. John.

Four Dogs Tied Up When People Bitten

Four dogs were ordered tied up during the past month by Bruce Menzies Humane Society inspector. All had bitten people. The inspector also reported to the society at its monthly meeting he had picked up 21 dogs and 10 cats; took care of 38 stray dogs and 19 stray cats and destroyed 45 dogs and 22 cats. Warnings were given in 32 cases and homes were found for four cats and 14 dogs.

The society made plans for the annual meeting in the YMCA on March 14.

Quake Felt In Oslo

OSLO, Norway (AP)—An earthquake—a rare occurrence in this part of the world—was felt in the Oslo area about 9:45 p.m. (3:45 p.m. EST) Friday night. It was the strongest shock recorded here since 1904. No serious damage was reported.

Opposition Groups Charge Government With Waste, Inefficiency, Recklessness

OTTAWA (CP) — Charges of waste, inefficiency and recklessness were aimed at the government by opposition groups in the Commons Friday as the budget debate reached the end of its second consecutive week.

Liberal members denied the charges and praised the records of Prime Minister St. Laurent, Defence Minister Claxton and Finance Minister Abbott.

In the debate, to be resumed Monday, John Diefenbaker (PC-Lake Centre) said:

"Too much and too many of the monies extorted and squeezed from the Canadian people are being wasted today by the parasites of extravagance."

Hazen Argue (CCF-Assiniboia) said that as the days go by more and more "inefficiency and extravagance" is shown in the defence department. But Prime Minister St. Laurent apparently had decided to stick with his cabinet even "if they have proved themselves to be inefficient and incompetent."

Mr. Argue added:

"I say this government reeks with scandal and the cabinet is loaded with reckless men."

Jean Francois Pouliot (L-Temiscouata) said Mr. Argue's attack on the prime minister was not deserved and ill-became the member for Saskatchewan.

W. J. Henderson (L-Kingston City) said the opposition was trying to exaggerate a few misappropriations in the defence forces into a general condemnation of the forces. He said he wished to repudiate any attempt to make a blanket condemnation of the forces and the defence department.

Turning to the budget, he said it was only natural that everyone would like to see greater reductions in expenditures if they could be afforded. However, necessary defence and social security expenditures must be met.

He urged the national revenue department to provide better income tax offices in Kingston. He suggested the veterans affairs department buy an additional section of land to accommodate veterans wishing to purchase small holdings.

In opening proceedings, Immigration Minister Harris said Canada will not make any special provisions to bring to Canada refugees now flocking into Western Germany from Communist East Germany. There was no doubt that many of the refugees were active in the Communist party to the time of their flight.

In the debate, Mr. Diefenbaker said the government clapped on a lid of secrecy whenever the opposition tried to get at the facts of government spending. The attitude of the government was one of "waste and spend and tax and tax." It refused suggestions that an investigation of administration be made.

Referring to problems in his province of Saskatchewan, Mr. Diefenbaker said adequate transportation facilities are needed to reach vital uranium and other mineral deposits in northern Saskatchewan.

Mr. Argue, a farmer, said Canadian farmers are being plagued by hordes of taxation teams who go around the country checking on farmers' income. They were putting farmers "through the wringer."

W. A. Boucher (L-Rosthern) said it is generally agreed that the budget is a fair one for all Canadians. However, he would strongly urge an increase in the family allowances and a widening of income tax exemptions as soon as Canada was free of the threat that "comes from Godless Communist aggression."

R. J. Wood (L-Norquay), an outspoken opponent of tariffs, asked that a commission be appointed to investigate Canadian industry. He said some industries, behind the protection of tariff walls, engaged in "abusive practices," charging the Canadian people much more than United States prices.

Boy 15 Collects Rake Off On Dice Game

LINDSAY (ENS) — Deputy Magistrate R. I. Moore Friday dismissed gambling charges against five Lindsay men and one boy, when they appeared in police court. The five young men were charged as found-ins in an alleged common gaming house operated by the sixth accused, a 15-year-old juvenile. Charges against the alleged operator were dismissed when the boy's age was discovered.

When the raid was made early last month by four members of the Lindsay police department on the home of the boy's mother, he told police he was 17. He was consequently charged under the Criminal Code. When he appeared for his trial, he told the court his true age.

The boy had given a statement to police in which he admitted taking a rake-off from each game of dice held at the home. The money went to his mother, he said, who only allowed the games because she was getting a certain sum of money each week. One of the found-ins, Hugh Teatro, 20, of Lindsay, testified to this effect also.

Magistrate Moore pointed out that although the boy was technically guilty and all the requirements for a conviction had been filled he would not find the boy guilty because of his age. The onus for the crime, he said, should have been on the mother who allowed the boy to hold the games in her home, reaping the profits. He pointed out that if the boy had told his true age at the time of the raid, the warrant would have been made out against his mother and she would have been on trial. In the trial of the found-ins, Hugh Teatro, Donald Kimball, Clare O'Connell, Eugene Little and James Coppins, it was established by Sergeant Gordon Eberts that nothing had been found at the time of the raid. The only evidence offered by the Crown was in statements of the accused.

However, when Kimball was brought into court, he challenged his statement's validity, on the grounds that Chief Hunter, in obtaining it from him, had told him that under the Criminal Code if he did not make a statement, the police could call in a J.P. and put him under oath for questioning.

Magistrate Moore, although he noted that he "did not think Chief Hunter thought he was acting beyond the bounds of his duty decided that the statement had not been given voluntarily, and ruled it out. The statements of the other four had been taken in the same way and received the same treatment. At the conclusion of the trial, Magistrate Moore expressed his opinion that the blame for the affair should rest not only with the boy's mother, but also on churches and organizations in the town which apparently had become indifferent to the conduct of juveniles.

He warned all the accused not to boast of their escape from punishment, stating they had not "put anything over on the police" and warning them that they would be under surveillance for some time to come. The case was the first of its kind tried in Lindsay in some years.

Warships Escort Tito To Britain

LONDON (AP) — British warships will escort Yugoslav President Tito to Britain for his March 16 state visit, the foreign office said today

Marshal Tito—Communist ruler of anti-Soviet Yugoslavia—is expected to sail for the British Mediterranean base in a Yugoslav vessel which will be picked up by the Royal Navy. But a Yugoslav embassy spokesman in London said that arrangements are not yet complete for Tito's trip to Malta.

The foreign office announced Friday night that on his own request Tito would come to London a week earlier than originally scheduled.

The realignment of power in the Kremlin following Stalin's death will top the agenda of Tito's talks with British officials, informed sources said.

Tito also will meet Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden who will be freshly returned from talks in the United States with President Eisenhower and other top American leaders. Tito will get from Eden some of the lateet U. S. views on cold war developments.

The recently concluded Yugoslav-Turkish-Greek tripartite pact for defence of the Balkans will also come up for discussion.

Tito has been invited to lunch with the Queen at Buckingham Palace.

BUILDING INCREASES

Between 1930 and 1950 the construction industry increased from six per cent of Canada's commodity production to 12 per cent.

Alberta Budget Increased By $50 Million

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Booming Alberta will spend $50,000,000 more this year than it did in 1952.

Premier E. C. Manning, bringing down his budget in the legislature Friday, said total expenditure for 1953 will be $174,083,000. He also had good news for those municipalities finding it hard to keep their services in step with their growing population.

He gave details of a plan for a $25,000,000 revolving fund, part of a broader scheme to share Alberta's increasing revenues with the municipalities. Municipalities will be able to borrow money from the fund at 2½ to 3½- per-cent interest.

The premier estimated expenditures apart from loan projects at $137,958,130, an increase of more than $21,000,000 from last year. Revenues were estimated at $138,368,160, leaving an approximate surplus of $410,030.

VOTE WITH SC

British Columbia Liberals, who hold the balance of power in the B. C. house, will vote with the Social Credit government Monday in support of the present government's first budget, Liberal Leader E. T. Kenney announced, but added that his party objects to many features of the budget.

Premier W. A. C. Bennett indicated an election in early June by saying the present session will end this month.

The radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobors are trying to emigrate from Canada to either Costa Rica or Uruguay, Attorney-General Robert Bonner told B. C. members. He said representatives of the 2,500-member sect are consulting with the two latin-American governments.

At Halifax, the law amendments committee deferred decision on a bill to enable the Nova Scotia Teachers Union to control and discipline its teachers.

The first attack on the Saskatchewan budget was made in the legislature by Alex Cameron, Liberal member for Maple Creek. Farmers, teachers and motorists will find little comfort in it, he said.

PRIDE IN APPEARANCE should count for a lot with children. The small girl who sees her mother happily making garments is eager in her turn to make clothes for her doll. Her interest finally extends to her own clothes and neatness and care in dress are taught painlessly.

Stalin To Rest Beside Lenin In Reds' Shrine

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet union today prepared the greatest funeral in its 37-year history for Joseph V. Stalin. The new government and the Communist party announced that his body, after rites Monday, would lie alongside Lenin's in Red Square until a great pantheon—a new temple shrine of world communism—is built to receive them and other Red "immortals."

An official announcement of the party central committee and the government council of ministers, now headed by Georgi M. Malenkov as Stalin's successor, said the funeral would be held at noon Monday but gave no details of the form the rites would take.

Nor did it say whether any part would be taken by religious leaders, who have led public prayers for Stalin since his last illness was announced Wednesday.

LINE MILES LONG

Moscow observed the second of four days of deep official mourning for the fallen leader who died Thursday night of heart failure and other complications following a massive brain haemorrhage Sunday. Sorrowing Muscovites and other Russians waited through bitter cold in a 16-abreast, 10-mile-long line to pass Stalin's flower-banked, open coffin.

It rested on a high platform in the House of Trade Unions' great empire-styled Hall of Columns, on Red Square a few hundred yards from Lenin's mausoleum.

From over the world, top foreign Communists hurried to the Soviet capital for the last rites of the man who for 29 years, ever since the death of Lenin, received first allegiance of the Soviet Union's 200,000,000 people and of Communists abroad.

The announcement of the funeral time said the ceremonies would end with the placing of the sarcophagus containing Stalin's embalmed body in the Lenin mausoleum. Presumably then Stalin's body will remain exposed, under glass, for public veneration as Lenin's is.

"A monumental building—a pantheon—is to be built as a memorial to their immortal glory," said the announcement. "The bodies of Lenin and Stalin as well as the remains of other outstanding leaders of the Communist party and the state buried near the Kremlin wall are to be transferred to it.

"The pantheon will be open to the people."

The announcement did not say where the pantheon would be located, but probably it also will be in Red Square.

The miles-lon queue of mourners was the chief sign of activity in the black-draped city. All theatres, movie houses and other places of entertainment were shut down.

A huge portrait of Stalin, in marshal's uniform and edged in black, hung above the main doors of the Hall of Columns. It was decked with a bough of evergreen to symbolize that his memory would live.

BRITISH STATESMEN IN U.S. — Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden, British Foreign Minister, and his wife, left, a niece of Prime Minister Winston Churchill, join Richard A. Butler, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Mrs. Butler, right, as they arrive in New York aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth. The British officials flew to Washington yesterday where they plan to hold a series of conferences with John Foster Dulles, U.S. Secretary of State; George M. Humphrey, Secretary of the Treasury; and Harold E. Stassen, Mutual Security Administrator.

Labor MP Urges "Atlantic Army"

LONDON (CP) — Geoffrey de Freitas, Labor member of Parliament and former junior minister, says Britain should urge Canada and the United States to take a greater part in Eruopean defence.

Writing in the Liberal News Chronicle, de Freitas said he would like to see an Atlantic army, with North America joining Britain and Western European countries in maintaining forces on the continent.

De Freitas, former under-secretary for air, made the suggestion in what has become a continuing debate on whether Britain should join the European Defence Community. The treaty which would set up the community, with a 12-division German army, has not been ratified by any of the six countries involved.

Some observers say that without British support greater than now envisaged, the treaty will be indefinitely delayed.

Children Quickly Learn Care For Clothing, Appearance

By NANCY CLEAVER

"Pride in personal appearance is not a superficial thing.

Knowing more about clothes helps women as much as it interests them," the new hostess at the White House said recently. Mrs. Eisenhower's clothes comment will be approved by a great many homemakers and their daughters. The more that is known about any subject the more fascinating it becomes.

This interest in clothes can start at an early age. The small girl who sees her mother happily making garments usually catches her enthusiasm. She wants to sew for her dolly. Her eagerness to make doll clothes is often the first step in becoming a good amateur dressmaker. "A Picture Sewing Book" by E. M. Woolenweber is an excellent guide for a child in public school.

The girl who has a mother who encourages a sewing hobby has a real future asset. Training in this art should not be left entirely to the schools. It is true, that in many places a fine job is being done teaching sewing in the courses on home economics.

Night classes for adults in sewing are very popular and a number of shops such as the Singer Sewing Centres feature short daytime courses for beginners and more advanced sewers. At the Canadian International Hobby and Homecraft Show held at the Coliseum, Toronto, in February of this year, one of the most attractive corners was called "Buttons and Bows". There professional seamstresses demonstrated the newest dressmaking ideas and the latest gadgets for this hobby.

SOME UNSKILLED

But there are some women who have little knack for sewing or find they simply have neither time nor the desire to make their own things. The woman who buys her clothes often finds the lure of the Bargain Sale a real pitfall. A "bargain," (especially a hat), no matter how much it is reduced in price is never a genuine "bargain" unless it fits into the wardrobe, and is becoming and suitable for the particular woman who purchases it.

There is something pathetic as well as humorous about Helen Hokinson's cartoon which pictured an eager shopper asking a clerk, "Where is whatever is reduced fifty per cent?"

Clothes can be selected more carefully if a buyer is not trying to "take advantage" of "bargains". The initial cost of any article should be divided by the number of years it is likely to be worn, in judging whether or not it is a "good buy."

It is the wise mother who takes her child along when buying new clothes for her son or daughter. Children learn from experience, from mistakes as well as success, in purchasing clothes. If they have had a part in their choice they will co-operate much more willingly in the care of their garments. Parents of adolescents should prepare them for the time when they will have to purchase and care for all their wardrobe with their own earnings.

A scrapbook on fashions, tips about fabrics, budgeting for clothes, and their care is a valuable help. The clothes worn by Queen Elizabeth, Prince Charles and Princess Ann might form one section of such a scrap book. Any public librarian has books on clothes and on sewing, knitting, weaving and other crafts which often add greatly to the store of useful and striking clothes facts.

Do you ever stop to estimate to what a great extent clothes add or subtract from your every-day happiness? With more time and thought almost every girl or woman can make the money set aside for clothes stretch a bit farther. It is not the number of dresses or outfits but their becomingness and suitability, along with good grooming, which give an individual the reputation of being "well dressed."

Even a small girl can thrill to what she sees in her glass, when her clothes add to her pleasing appearance. When our mirror, not just on "special occasions," but on ordinary days gives us back the reflection of a happy woman, pleased with what she sees, and when members of our family or friends indicate by an admiring glance or a compliment that they like what we are wearing we realize afresh that "Clothes are Important."

Fatal 5-Storey Plunge

OTTAWA (CP)—Miriam Cooper, about 30, died from injuries suffered in a five-storey plunge Friday from the Connaught Building near Confederation Square. The woman died in hospital shortly after crashing to the pavement beside the parked automobile of Matt Anthony, Ottawa Rough Riders football player.

Four Killed In Crash

ASSINIBOIA, Sask. (CP)—Four persons, including a four-year-old boy, were killed Friday in a two-car collision 13 miles southeast of here. Three others are in hospital. Dead are Mrs. Cecile Wolfe, 23, of Regina; G. J. Benoit, 35, of Willowbunch, Sask.; Leo Gauthier, 37, also of Willowbunch, and his son, Eugene, 4.

Burglars Remanded

TILLSONBURG (CP)—Leonard Bourgeois, 23, and Dean Rohrer, 24, pleaded guilty here Friday to stripping household effects from three Lake Simcoe summer cottages, one belonging to Toronto's Mayor Allan Lamport. Both were remanded for sentencing next Wednesday. Police have recovered more than $5,000 worth of the loot.

Winters To Investigate Housing In Oakville

OTTAWA (CP)—Resources Minister Winters told a union delegation Friday he will consult with Ontario government officials on the question of setting up more housing facilities for automobile workers at Oakville.

The delegation from the United Automobile Workers of America (CIO-CCL) asked for action to facilitate housing for about 4,500 workers moving to that town in the next year to work in a new Ford plant.

Headed by George Burt, of Windsor, UAW Canadian director, the delegation asked that mortgage terms on home-building be eased and that serviced land be made available in Trafalgar township outside Oakville. Virtually all building land has been taken up in Oakville.

B.C. Town Builds Own Airport

MCBRIDE, B.C. (CP)—Residents of this central British Columbia town and district have built their own airport to keep in step with B.C. growth.

Full use of the airport is expected soon. Only single-engine craft have used it so far, but it is said to be capable of accommodating twin-engine planes and future expansion is anticipated.

The present runway is 1,800 feet long and 200 feet wide.

The story of the airport is one of co-operation and contribution—$15,000 donated by district residents and industry; heavy equipment loaned by logging companies; fuel donated by oil companies and labor volunteered by almost everyone.

The strip was laid out on land donated by a resident, Adolph Jack, and the construction campaign was laid by D. A. Aker.

McBride has a population of approximately 500.

Poll Tax For Women

WOODSTOCK (CP)—City council in finance session Friday night went on record as favoring women over 21 and under 60 paying poll tax if they were not on the assessment roll. After considerable discussion the meeting voted in favor of endorsing a resolution from Stratford to this effect with but one dissenting vote.

Bengough Denounces MRA Peril To Organized Labor

TORONTO (CP)—The Globe and Mail said Friday that Percy Bengough, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada "has opened the door to a major controversy in the labor movement by attacking and denouncing Moral Re-Armament as a danger to organized labor."

Mr. Bengough's views were contained in a letter published by the Detroit Labor News, an organ of the Wayne County Federation of Labor. In it he wrote of MRA efforts to win converts among labor delegates at international labor conventions, and referred to delegates being taken out "to feed at a mansion for the purpose of taking their pictures." He said he had "a fair knowledge of their operations. . . the vast amount of money at their disposal coming from nowhere."

The Globe and Mail said the published views of the TLC leader "created a stir among some of the top AFL union leaders in Canada who were shocked at the news of the attack on MRA." Speakers for MRA—an ideological force dedicated to bring about devotion to high moral principles in human relations—addressed the Ontario Federation of Labor convention at Windsor where Mr. Bengough was a guest. The paper said the Bengough letter was the subject of a protest early this week by a number of ranking AFL-union leaders in Canada.

The paper quoted an MRA organizer as saying the movement acted as a moral force. Finances came from voluntary contributions. MRA's books were audited and had been shown to the AFL's top leadership.

Russell Harvey, chairman of a 19-union committee dealing with the Niagara Falls hydro development, said his experience with MRA was inspiring: he found hydro negotiators dealing frankly and honestly with the union to reach understanding.

At Ottawa, Mr. Bengough said the Globe and Mail story was accurate as far as he was concerned, but declined to comment further.

Evening Masses End Ancient RC Tradition

MONTREAL (CP)—Centuries-old Roman Catholic tradition has been ended in Montreal with issuance of a decree by Cardinal Leger permitting celebration of mass in the afternoon and evening.

The announcement follows a recent decree of the Vatican, permitting celebration of later masses provided they begin after 4 p. m., and end before 11 p. m.

Malenkov No Conciliator Past Pronouncements Show

By DON DALLAS

LONDON (Reuters)—Georgi M. Malenkov, new Soviet prime minister who steps into Joseph Stalin's shoes, is not likely to be more conciliatory in his policy toward the West, judging from his past public pronouncements.

An analysis of two major policy speeches made by the pudgy, round-faced party boss shows him spitting venom at American "warmongers," accusing U. S. leaders of introducing "fascism" not only in their own country but also in "enslaved" European countries, and warning that a third world war would spell the end of world capitalism.

In other words, Russia's new leader says that irrespective of the outcome of another war, communism would triumph and become world-wide after it.

In the light of the fact that the Soviet Union now possesses the atom bomb, Malenkov has warned that a third world war would bring devastation to the American continent, for the first time.

He said in a major policy declaration in Moscow in November, 1949: "If there is a new blood bath, there will be weeping mothers also in America."

Will Russia, under Malenkov, remain active in the United Nations?

Malenkov said in his last major speech in October to the all-union Communist party congress in Moscow that the Soviet Union attached great importance to the United Nations, believing it could be "an important means for the maintenance of peace."

But he charged U. S. leaders with "converting the United Nations from the organ of international co-operation it should have been, according to the UN charter, into an organ of United States dictatorial policy in the struggle against peace, and using it as a screen for its aggressive actions."

Will Russia, under Malenkov, be prepared to discuss differences with the West?

Malenkov said in the same speech that the U. S. S.R. "is still ready to co-operate" with the U. S., Britain, France "and other bourgeois states," "with a view to promoting adherence to peaceful international standards and the insurance of a lasting and durable peace."

Such is the capitalist world as seen through the eyes of the new master of the Kremlin.

It is the world of a 100-per-cent doctrinaire communist who learned at the feet of his mentor Stalin, but who may lack Stalin's moderating influence and extreme political sagacity.

Will Malenkov have the same political sagacity and caution?

The next 12 months will be crisis months in Russia as Malenkov tries to retain the iron grip Stalin had on Soviet and satellite peoples.

Pyramids Rival Egypts'

BRILLIANT SCENE

Teotihuacan (Home of the Gods) lies about 25 miles northeast of Mexico City. "To visualize scenes here one must see Indians crowding vantage points overlooking the Highway of the Dead; marching men chanting as they march; blowing on shells and trumpets; pennants fluttering from the terraces above; and pungent smoke rolling down from incense pots and braziers. Baleful notes of great wooden drums echo across the valley as priests in black receive the captive and rush him up the steps to the sacrificial block."

* * * *

Nowhere in the world, not even in ancient Assyria and Egypt, were religious observances more colorful or more spectacular than those in Mexico. Eighteen major celebrations were held annually at Teotihuacan, one at the end of each 20-day month.

* * * *

In a nearby section of the pyramids some magnificent frescoes have been uncovered. Fresh as the day they were painted the reds, pale blues and greens are lovely. The figures and birds depicted are beautifully represented, showing a high degree of culture in the arts. These rescoes were disvocered accidentally when a house was being built.

MODERN THEATRE

Also in the archaeological zone is an amazing theatre built before the Christian era and as modern as anything in 1953. The acoustics are so perfect that you can sit in any part of the amphitheatre and hear the speaker, no matter how softly he speaks. The seats are placed like those in our modern theatres, each row slightly raised so that the view will not be blocked. A wall of rock behind the speaker's platform helps to provide the excellent sound system. A similar project has just been completed by scientists in New Mexico using the same principle. This theatre was originally used as a school of agriculture for the Indians.

* * * *

Today, only a fraction of Teotihuacan has been excavated. There are many treasures that will be found, officials believe, when finances permit the work to be extended.

Obituary

FREDERICK GEO. McMILLAN

HAVELOCK (ENS)—Frederick George McMillan, 76, a highly respected and life-long resident of Belmont township died at his home on Thursday night following a short illness.

Mr. McMillan was a son of the late William McMillan and Janet Simpson. He followed farming as an occupation and resided on the family homestead at the time of his death.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Donald Anderson (Lila) and two grandchildren Fred and Carolyn Anderson of Belmont township. His wife, the former Jennie Henry, predeceased him 38 years ago.

The funeral service will be held at the family residence on Sunday at 4 p.m. and will be conducted by the Rev. R. D. Duncanson of Knox Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Pine Grove cemetery.

While Brazil is largely Roman Catholic, it has a Protestant population of about 1,500,000.

NOT A NOSE EXTENSION—This new British Patchett machine-carbine appears to be resting on the nose of Sgt. T. A. McCluskey, but it's only an optical illusion. Actually the gun has a collapsible stock, which rests in the shoulder depression. The weapon is undergoing tests at the British School of Infantry, in Hyde, Kent.

Enemy Sub Lack Irks RCN Head

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Canadian Navy has been disappointed that it can't try out its anti-submarine equipment in Korea waters. There are no enemy subs.

That's the word from Vice-Admiral E. R. Mainguy, chief of Canada's naval staff, interviewed Friday on his return from a 20-day tour of the Korean theatre.

"Our three destroyers—Athabaskan, Haida and Crusader—are getting real good battle experience but at first sight they're not doing right by our ships," he said

"We are an anti-sub navy now but enemy subs haven't appeared or even been rumored in the Korean fight."

Apart from that Admiral Mainguy had no complaints about what he saw in his whirlwind trip.

"I went to Korea to get the feel of Canada's naval role and I got just that," he said. "Our ships and men are doing an excellent job and take second place to nobody."

Accessibility Kills Haunts Of Wildflowers

TORONTO (CP)—An increasing number of wild flower haunts are being destroyed as new highways penetrate Ontario woodlands, Mrs. D. W. Boucher of Kingston said Friday at the Ontario Horticultural Association's convention

She said easy accessibility to wild flowers encouraged vandalism and thoughtless picking, regardless of warnings. She urged flower-lovers to aid preservation by cultivating wild flowers in their gardens.

Railroads Allowed 7% Increase In Freight Rates

OTTAWA (CP)—The board of transport commissioners today awarded the railways a general freight increase of seven per cent, the fifth and smallest of the postwar series of hoists. The $38,500,000-a-year increase is the second in three months. On Dec. 20, the railways obtained a nine-per-cent boost to compensate them for wage increases to non-operating employees. The board's judgment granted the full amount asked by the railways as an "immediate" increase. The board authorized the railways to put it into effect March 16.

Apart from this seven-per-cent application, the board still has before it a railway request for a further nine-per-cent general increase and for a new method of setting rates which would involve additional but unspecified increases.

UNANIMOUS

Today's board decision was unanimous on the part of Mr. Justice John D. Kearney, chief commissioner, and the other members of a three-man panel. It authorized a seven-per-cent hoist all along the line except for coal and coke on which the board granted flat increases of between 10 and 20 cents a ton.

Customary exemptions also were provided for such types of traffic as the moment of export grain in Western Canada, on which rates are fixed by statute; certain forms of traffic with the United States, and export-import rates touching Canadian ports that are kept at parity with U. S. ports.

The new decision brings to 98 per cent the cumulative total of general increases granted since the war. These increases have been applied to roughly half the railways' $1,000,000,000-a-year freight business.

In determining the amount of the increase awarded today, the board again made use of a formula it had previously adopted, under which it regarded as "reasonable for the yardstick Canadian Pacific Railway to be able to obtain rail earnings of $46,000,000 a year to meet fixed charges, dividends and surplus.

Even with the full seven-per-cent increase, it said, the company will not be able to reach that figure in 1952, or ever in a full year at the new freight-rate levels because of increased operating costs.

However, the chief commissioner wrote in the judgment that adoption of the formula in this case "should not be taken as indicating that I am disposed indefinitely to perpetuate its use."

3 Reserve Units To Help At Coronation

OTTAWA (CP)—Three Canadian Reserve Army regiments can count on sending men to London in June to guard the parade route at the Coronation of their colonel-in-chief, army headquarters announced today. Their men will be among 204 reserve force members to be chosen for that duty.

The three units—the 48th Highlanders of Toronto, the Argyle and Sutherland Highlanders of Hamilton and the Chaudiere regiment of Montreal—are the only ones in Canada of which the Queen is honorary commanding officer.

As such, the army said, they will be represented by either an officer or senior non-commissioned officer.

The announcement said members of all corps in the reserve army will be chosen for the London trip. With two exceptions, their part in the ceremony will be to line the streets in front of Canada House while an active-force contingent of similar strength will take part in the parade. The exceptions are one nursing sister and one member of the Canadian Women's Army Corps who, while members of the reserve force, will march with the active force group.

The 204-man group will be composed of 134 corporals and privates, 50 non-commissioned officers and 20 officers headed by a lieutenant-colonel.

ON FULL DUTY

Selection will be based on such factors as decorations, total service and overseas service, the army said. Those chosen will be on full duty from about April 25 to June 25.

The Royal Canadian Infantry Corps has been given 70 places, followed by the Royal Canadian artillery with 50, Royal Canadian Armored Corps 23, engineers, signals, service corps, medical corps and electrical and mechanical engineers, each with 10, ordnance corps four, provost three, and pay corps, dental, intelligence and CWAC one each.

Killed Children He Befriended

MOUNDVILLE, Ala. (AP)—Engineer H. Paul Hassell couldn't stop his freight train in time to save the lives of two youngsters who had won his heart.

His freight plowed into a pickup truck at a crossing three miles south of here Sunday.

The shaken 50-year-old Birmingham engineer then learned that its occupants had been a brother and sister who had waved at his passing train for many years.

Both Jean O'Neal Perry, 17, and Benjamin Douglas Perry, 15, were killed instantly.

Hassell first noticed the children eight years ago, when they began running from their trackside farm to wave as he passed.

He dropped Christmas presents with his name on them, and the children sent him presents, too. He had hunted with Ben and other members of his family.

Charge Railroads Blocking Seaway

HAMILTON (CP)—CIO president Walter Reuther said Sunday monopoly railroad interests in the United States are the main reasons for the failure of the American government to join Canada in the St. Lawrence seaway project.

Mr. Reuther said the U.S. share of the cost would be less than that of two days' participation in the Second World War.

He spoke at the quarterly session of district council 26 of the United Automobile Workers (CIO-CCL) and at an open meeting of the Hamilton labor council and union delegates.

Stray Buckshot

MELBOURNE (Reuters)—The Medical Journal of Australia reported the finding of nine shotgun pellets and large grains of sand in the appendix of a woman who had been partial to duck and quail. The operating surgeon, Dr. Leslie Clay, added: "For sporting members of the profession, the shot appeared to be number 6 and number 10."

Youth Shoots Self On Woodstock Street

WOODSTOCK (CP)—Steve Boyko 22, believed to be from Creighton Mines or Brantford, is in Woodstock General Hospital in serious condition from revolver wound in the breast which by-standers said was self-inflicted.

According to eye-witnesses, Boyko shot himself seconds after he handed a letter to a stranger to be delivered.

Chief Constable James Ennis said Boyko shot himself with a .32 calibre automatic revolver.

Fire Raging In Waterfront Of U.S. City

Damage In Millions As Explosions Rock Wilmington, NC

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—Wind-fanned flames roared along the Wilmington waterfront today and ate their way toward the city's business district.

Firemen concentrated on halting the fire's spread as explosions rocked this port city of 45,000. First estimates indicated the damage would run into millions of dollars.

Flames sweeping through warehouses along the Cape Fear riverfront seriously injured at least five firemen and less seriously hurt several others.

$1,000,000 IN SUGAR

As great clouds of smoke spread above this river port, materials stored in warehouses exploded in buildings of the Wilmington Terminal Co. Fire Chief J. Ludie Croom said $1,000,000 worth of sugar in one of the firm's four buildings was a total loss.

Chief Croom said shortly before noon that he had selected a point where a stand would be made against the spreading fires. Croom said that if a stand could not be maintained there, he planned to dynamite buildings in the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad's freight yards to establish a line across which the flames could not leap. The line would be about half a mile from the city's business area.

Police regulars and reserves evacuated the sprawling river-wide area of all but fire fighters.

Firemen intensified their water streams as fire crept closer to the terminal firm's warehouse C, which contained large quantities of ammonium nitrate.

The freighter Max Manus, laden with a cargo of nitrate of soda, was towed away from one warehouse dock as the flames approached.

Sabre Jets Bag 6 In Two Days

SEOUL (AP)—Sabre jets bagged three more Russian-built MiG-15s today and ran their two-day toll of Red planes to six, the 5th air force announced.

The Sabres, flying protective cover for marauding fighter-bombers, also damaged a MiG in the air battles deep in North Korea.

Sunday's score was three MiGs destroyed, one probably destroyed and one damaged. One of the kills was by Col. Royal N. Baker, McKinney, Tex., whose record is 11 Red jets and one prop-driven plane destroyed.

There was no major action along the ground, but opposing infantrymen clashed in bitter pre-dawn patrol fights.

Eleven B-29 Superforts roared to within 40 miles of the Manchurian border Sunday night and bombed a supply centre in MiG Alley on the west coast.

On the central front, stubborn Allied defenders counter-attacked at dawn and recaptured an outpost from which they had been driven four hours earlier. An estimated 65 Chinese Reds were killed or wounded.

Will Try To Prevent War Says Premier In Funeral Oration

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY

MOSCOW (AP)—The body of Joseph V. Stalin was entombed today in Lenin's mausoleum on Red Square after his successor, Soviet Premier Georgi M. Malenkov, in a funeral oration said his new government's foreign policy is one of peace. Speaking beside the bier of the dead leader of world communism, Malenkov declared in ringing tones that the Soviet Union desires international co-operation and business ties with all countries, and that the chief task of his government is to prevent a new world war.

Malenkov also called on the Soviet people for an "uncompromising struggle against external and internal enemies." It is their "sacred duty," he told the Russians, to "strengthen the Soviet armed forces and maintain their readiness against enemy attacks."

He was echoed by his chief deputy premier, Lavrenti P. Beria, who said the Soviet soldiers "have modern equipment and are able to ward off any aggression."

"Our enemies think our loss will bring disarray to our ranks. They will be disappointed," he declared.

The No. 3 man in the new government, V. M. Molotov, was the third funeral speaker.

CARRIED ON GUN CARRIAGE

Stalin's coffin was moved on a gun carriage to the flower-banked Red Square just before 10 a.m. today Moscow time (2 a.m. EST) from the Hall of Columns of the House of Trade Unions, where it had lain in state since Friday, the day after his death.

There millions of sorrowing citizens had filed past the bier to say farewell to the man who in 29 years at the head of the Soviet government had become a god to them.

A vast throng stood silent as military bands played Chopin's funeral march and the cortege made its slow way to the rostrum at the mausoleum. On the rostrum were party and government leaders, top Communists from Russia's Allies—including Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai—and diplomatic representatives.

The top leaders of the Soviet Communist party and the government carried the coffin to a platform in front of the mausoleum. After the orations, they descended from the platform, bearing the coffin to the mausoleum, as the Soviet anthem was played.

Cannon fling their fiery volleys into the March sky. The clock rings out the last strokes of 12.

Then, as the nation's leaders returned to the platform, troops of the Moscow garrison and of the funeral cortege marched past the mausoleum, paying last honors.

The bodies of Lenin and Stalin will lie in the mausoleum until con-

Two Children Murdered Hunt Killer

SPRING VALLEY, N. Y. (AP)—Two school girls, eight and five, were brutally slain near here Sunday. A doctor said there was evidence that both had been attacked sexually.

The bodies of the two children, who lived at a school for underprivileged youngsters here, were found Sunday in a snow-covered wooded area near the school. One girl had been stabbed; the other had received a savage blow at the back of the head.

Police today checked a number of state mental institutions in the general area, but there was no report that any inmate had escaped.

The slain children were Marjorie Boudreau, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boudreau, of Staten Island, New York city, and Esther Nagey, 5, whose father, Brown Nagey, is a plumber and lives in the Bronx. He is a widower.

Marjorie and Esther were reported last seen alive by another small playmate who said she was playing with the two girls on the school's playground at about 3 p.m. Sunday.

Police and firemen, aided by bloodhounds, later joined the hunt started by school authorities.

About 5:30 p. m. Marjorie's body was found in woods about a half-mile from the school.

Her skull was fractured, apparently from a blow by a rock.

Six hours later, Esther's body was found about 300 yards into the woods from the spot where Marjorie was found. Esther has been stabbed in the back.

23 Prisoners Killed In Riot

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—Rebellious North Korean prisoners of war on Yoncho Island were quiet today in the aftermath of a riot Saturday in which 23 PoWs were killed and 42 wounded.

The latest in a series of bloody incidents by Red prisoners flared when an unarmed compound commander ordered the Communists to produce one of their men guilty of breaking camp rules, PoW headquarters said.

About 70 prisoners replied by throwing rocks at the commander and his assistant.

Three other compounds joined the demonstration.

Lt.-Col. Gerald Momeyer, camp commander, ordered the use of non-toxic gas grenades. When this failed to stop the fanatical rock-throwing PoWs, Momeyer ordered his men to open fire. The threat of a mass breakout subsided.

Several Allied guards were injured, none seriously.

Yoncho is a few hundred yards from notorious Koje Island, the scene of the first serious PoW riots. Both are off the southeastern tip of Korea.

Britain, U.S. Ask Co-operation Of Others To Blockade China

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Britain and the United States today planned to seek prompt help of other free countries in tightening an economic blockade against ocean shipments of war-useful goods to Communist China. The first move, informants said, will be taken through a secret international group which has headquarters in Paris and which is concerned with preventing the flow of strategic goods into Communist countries. Members of this group are American and European countries and Japan. Its existence is known unofficially but its operations are secret. Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Britain and State Secretary Dulles, winding up a round of political and economic talks here Saturday, announced new steps, primarily by Britain, to disrupt maritime shipments of strategic goods to the Chinese Reds.

A communique issued late Saturday quoted Eden as promising Britain would set up a new licensing system for ships registered in the United Kingdom and the colonies to prevent such ships from carrying to Red China strategic materials from non-British countries. The export of materials of this kind from Britain has long been banned.

Eden also told Dulles the British government has decided to make certain no Russian ships or ships of any other nationality carrying strategic cargoes to China should be refueled or supplied in a British port.

The third point Dulles and Eden agreed upon was that "the U.S. and British governments will concert their efforts to secure the co-operation of other maritime and trading nations in the measures designed to exclude the shipments of strategic material to the mainland of China."

No other countries were named, but officials suggested that countries which have substantial merchant fleets would be approached.

The American-British agreement was officially reported to have covered these other points:

1. Dulles endorsed as "reasonable and fair" British proposals submitted to Iran's Prime Minister Mossadegh Feb. 20 for settlement of the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute.

2. Eden and Dulles swapped opinions about the Soviet government shakeup following the death of Joseph Stalin. No results were announced.

3. The two agreed that the European Defence Community treaty, under which West Germany would be armed, must be "ratified as speedily as possible."

8 Terrorists Killed

SINGAPORE (Reuters)—British forces in Malaya Sunday killed eight Communist terrorists and wounded five others in the most successful operation in several weeks. Patrols in South Johore killed four terrorists and wounded two of a group of 30 they encountered.

Atomic Furnace Produces Power For Electricity

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—The U.S. atomic energy commission today announced successful production of electricity from a new-type atomic furnace. It called the development "an important milestone" in the search for economical, atom-generated electric power.

The commission said a Feb. 24 experiment at the Oak Ridge national laboratory produced 150 kilowatts of electricty—enough to serve 50 homes of average, five-room size.

Generating the power was a new type of nuclear reactor known as "homogeneous reactor." It operates on a single, uranium-containing solution.

GENERATES HEAT

The reaction of the uranium in the solution generates heat, and to produce electricity the hot solution is passed through a boiler to create steam which, in turn, drives a turbine which generates electricity.

Atomic plants have produced electric power before. But the homogeneous reaction is practical.

Mission Attacked Woman Beaten

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—The Evangelical Confederation of Colombia said Sunday the residence of a Canadian Protestant missionary was attacked Feb. 2 by 20 or more men armed with crowbars. The minister's wife was beaten and pushed around, the confederation said.

The residence is located in Piedecuesta, South Santander department, and is presided over by Rev. and Mrs. Stanley Wright. He is from Tisdale, Sask., and she is from Pleasantville, N. J.

The confederation said Mr. Wright was not at home at the time the intruders climbed over a back wall.

Bail Out!

CLITHEROE, Eng. (AP)—"She's out of control, Sam," yelled a jet pilot. "We'll have to bail out." Sam Carlyon, 11, gritted his teeth and jumped. He landed with a thud just outside his own front door and 15 feet down from his bedroom window. "It was a very realistic dream," Sam said later. He wasn't even bruised. "We're nailing up his bedroom window," said the boy's mother.

Approaching Minimum

Psychiatry, Armored Vests Reduce Korean Casualties

By HOWARD C. HEYN

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Front-line psychiatry and the armored vest have proved vital aids in reducing Korean casualties to a level approaching the absolute minimum, says Maj.-Gen. Silas B. Hays.

Hays, the army's deputy surgeon-general, also credited such improved medical techniques as the use of blood extenders, which work like plasma in fighting shock.

Among Americans wounded in Korea only about 2½ per cent die, Hays told Sunday's opening session at the alumni convention of the College of Medical Evangelists.

During the Second World War, about 4½ per cent of the wounded succumbed, against eight per cent in the First World War.

STATISTICS INCOMPLETE

Statistics on the effectiveness of the vests are incomplete, but Hays said he had heard reports of only one fatality in nine wounded among those wearing vests, and added: "when the figures are in we expect the ratio to be about one in six, perhaps one in seven."

Armored shorts are too new for speculation on the number of lives saved, Hays told the convention.

Of all American casualties sent home from Korea, those suffering psycho-neurotic breakdowns account for only 4 per cent, compared with 22 to 23 per cent invalided home after such breakdowns during the Second World War, he said.

"The number of breakdowns proportionately is about the same for all three wars—World War I, World War II and Korea—but we have been able to do much better in the field in Korea, and the number sent home is far less than before."

In Korea, two-thirds of the breakdown cases are rehabilitated and returned to duty without leaving the division. Of those who must be sent behind the lines for treatment the percentage of returns is lower, he said.

For Future Generations

Soviet Scientists Claim To Be Able To Preserve Stalin's Body Indefinitely

By DON DALLAS

LONDON (Reuters)—The body of Stalin may be seen by future generations of Russians, according to claims made by Soviet scientists.

They report perfecting an embalming process which preserves the human body in every feature and detail for an indefinite period.

(An ancient Egyptian process of embalming presupposes desiccation as a result of which organs shrink and skin shrivels. Mummies are dark brown, almost black corpses).

The body of Lenin, who died in 1924, was emblamed under the new process by Professors B. Barsky, biochemist, and V. Vorobiov, an anatomist.

Zbarsky said a few years ago: "We are convinced that Lenin's body will remain in its present state for hundreds of years to come."

Stalin's body has been embalmed presumably by the same process.

The Moscow News, an English language paper formerly published in Mosocw, said in 1947 that since Lenin's death, the government several times appointed special committees of eminent scientists to examine Lenin's body and express their opinion on its condition.

PROCESS SUCCEEDED

In a 1947 report, an expert commission found that the "problem of preserving Lenin's body for a protracted period of time has been successfully solved."

The scientists' claim is disputed, however, by Budy Svanidze, Stalin's nephew who declared in a book published last year that the body lying under a glass case in Lenin's mausoleum is only a clever reproduction.

Svanidze, how living in the West, said experts reported to Stalin in 1942 that Lenin's body was deteriorating and could no longer be preserved.

Stalin is said to have ordered that an attempt to do so should be made at all costs.

Svanidze quotes him as saying: "our people are very superstitious. If Lenin's body should become completely decomposed, they will take it as a bad sign and their fright might even affect the conduct of the war."

Svanidze added that he learned afterwards that an artificial statue of Lenin was made in complete human likeness by a group of sculptors.

He claimed that the body of Lenin was in fact cremated in 1942 and ashes placed in an urn submerged in the Volga near Lenin's birthplace.

Lowly Skunk Reaches Heights

FERGUS (CP)—The pump that supplies the water tower at the Canadian National Railways station here went on the blink. An electrician went to the pumphouse to investigate and found a skunk inside.

The electrician beat a retreat and wired the equipment superintendent in Toronto. The equipment superintendent wired the division superintendent at Stratford, who wired the station agent at Fergus, 13 miles northwest of Guelph.

The station agent, who already had received inquiries from engineers wondering how to run their engines without water, sent for a section man.

The section man solved the problem with a brick.

Death Order Of Woman Commuted

Woman Guerrilla To Serve Life In Perak Prison

IPOH, Perak, Malaya (AP) —The Sultan of Perak today commuted to life imprisonment the death sentence imposed by a British judge on Lee Meng, Chinese woman guerrilla whom Communist Hungary recently tried to save by bargaining with the British government.

The tiny, sullen 25-year-old ringleader of Red terrorism in Malaya had been sentenced to be hanged on a charge of carrying a grenade, a capital offence under the state of emergency here.

Her case was taken up by world communism several weeks ago when Hungary offered to release an imprisoned British business man, Edgar Sanders, in return for her freedom.

Prime Minister Churchill tentatively turned down the offer, saying "there can be no question of bartering a human life." He added, however, that this did not rule out further consideration once the question of clemency appeals had been decided by the Malayan authorities.

Sanders, serving a 13-year prison term in Hungary on espionage charges, was convicted along with an American, Robert Vogeler, whose release was negotiated by the U. S. government two years ago.

An official statement issued after a meeting today of the Perak state executive council said: "The sultan on advice of the council, commuted the sentence passed on Lee Meng, alias Lee Ten Tai, and substituted a sentence of penal servitude for life."

The sultan acted as Malayan chief of the British-controlled state in which she had been convicted.

ASIANS APROVE

The reprieve brought satisfaction to many Asians who had been critical of her conviction. At two trials, Asian members of the court had voted her innocent.

In the first hearing last August, a British judge ordered a retrial after an Indian and a Chinese who had heard the case voted to set her free. They had acted in the capacity of assessors—a sort of advisory jury.

The British judge at the retrial the next month named a Chinese and a Briton as assessors although only Asians customarily are chosen at trials of Asians. The British assessor and judge found her guilty. The Chinese again voted her innocent.

Besides a petition of clemency to the sultan from 50 members of the British House of Commons, there was another from the president of the Malayan-Chinese Association, Sir Tan Cheng Lock, and one from seven Singapore city councillors.

Since the start of the emergency in Malaya in June, 1948, 12 women have been sentenced to death. Seven won reprieves and five went to the gallows.

Police also blamed Lee Meng for 13 murders around Ipoh, a tin-mining centre which the Chinese Communist underground has made a hot spot for the British.

Car Hits Pump, Tree

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Anatoli Zuprik, 37, was taken to hospital Sunday night after his car crashed into a gasoline pump, clipped off a pole in front of a service station and crashed into a tree. He was being chased by police at speeds ranging up to 90 miles an hour when his car went out of control on a sharp turn. Hospital officials said Zuprik suffered lacerations but his condition was not considered serious.

France Backs Pearson For UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—New support was reported Sunday for L. B. Pearson of Canada as a candidate to succeed Norway's Trygve Lie in the role of United Nattions secretary-general.

France, it was learned, has joined Commonwealth countries in backing Pearson, Canada's external affairs minister and UN assembly president, for the job.

The UN security council will meet Wednesday to try to narrow down the field of candidates.

The principal contest is understood to lie between Pearson and Brig.-Gen. Carlos Romulo of the Philippines but the big question is whether Russia will accept either.

There were reports several weeks ago that Russia might not oppose Pearson. But the official position of the Soviet bloc is not expected to be made known until the security council meets.

The Soviet bloc has shown open dislike for Lie since he rallied the UN to collective effort in Korea in 1950. He has offered to resign in the hope that it will clear the way for better relations in the UN.

struction of a vast new pantheon—a shrine of Communist "immortals"—is built for them and for other dead Soviet leaders.

Malenkov's oration was his first pronouncement of his new government's program. He said he supports the doctrine of Lenin and Stalin that capitalist and socialist countries can long live in peaceful "co - existence and competition" with one another.

He called also for further strengthening of the Soviet state and its armed forces, and of friendship between the Soviet nationalities, with Communist China, and with the "peoples' democracies" allied with the Soviet Union.

IMPROVE STANDARDS

His government and the Communist party, he continued, must and will develop Soviet industry and agriculture and improve the material, cultural and living standards of the people.

The new premier demanded party unity on the home front and an "implacable" struggle against internal and foreign enemies

"The Soviet Union protects peace, is against war and is for friendly relations with peoples," he asserted. "The peoples want peace. We must avert bloodshed and secure peace. We must avert war and live in peace with all countries. We consider the policy of peace among all nations is correct and proper."

Malenkov concluded:

"We have everything needed to build a communist society.

"No force exists in the world to arrest our advance to communism. "Farewell—our dear leader.

"Glory to Stalin!"

Beria described the Soviet Communist party as "united and unshaken" and said the Soviet people "approve our internal and foreign policy." The head of the state's new interior ministry and of its internal security forces promised co - operation with Communist China, and the peoples' democracies, and said the government "will strengthen friendly relations with workers in the capitalist and colonial countries."

"We are friends of the heroic Korean people," he added.

HAVE ARMED MIGHT

Of Russia's armed might, he declared: "Let no one think our enemies can rout us. Our soldiers have modern equipment and are able to ward off any aggression." And the Soviet people, he added, "approve the appointment of Comrade Malenkov" as Stalin's successor and the accompanying "government changes."

Molotov, third member of the top government triumvirate, repeated Malenkov's call for vigilance against possible attack, and "against spies and agents of the imperialist power."

"We want peace and we do not want to interfere in the affairs of other countries," he declared, reiterating the first public statement of his foreign ministry on Saturday that Russia will continue Stalin's policy of "consolidating peace and co-operation in business relations with other countries."

SPRING FEVER?

She wasn't the goose that laid the golden egg, but she was the first wild goose to lay an egg this year at the filtration plant zoo. Old Mother Goose is as proud of that egg as though it was made of gold. It weighed eight ounces.

BURNS HAND

William Doughty, 42, of 448 Park St. was given outpatient treatment Saturday at Civic Hospital for a burn on his left hand caused when he was lighting a gas heater. The burn was only a minor one and he went home after a brief treatment.

FILM SCREENING

Approximately 200 people attended the screening of the Hoaxters, a review film of the past 20 years highlighting the development of Nazism, Fascism and Communism at the Paramount theatre Sunday evening. The special screening was sponsored by the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce. John Madden president of the chamber, introduced the film.

COURSE ENDS

A senior NCO qualifying course, conducted by Lt. Lou Mosley, WO2 William Smith and Sgt. Ronald Westwood, I and A cadre, Kingston, ended Sunday at the armouries. Reserve soldiers from district regiments including the 50th HAA Regiment and the 28th Technical Squadron took part in the weekend lectures. The results will be known shortly.

REPAIR FIRE DAMAGE

Plans to repair damage at the Legion Hall caused by fire on February 3, were drawn up Saturday by the executive of Branch 52, Canadian Legion. The recreation room will be ready in several weeks, while the annex will be renovated to provide additional space. This will include a television room. The fire caused about $20,000 damage, mostly covered by insurance, to the top floor and annex.

3 Brothers Charged With Series Of Thefts

TORONTO (CP)—Three brothers were arrested Sunday and charged with a series of break-ins in Toronto. Police said about $7,000 worth of merchandise has been recovered.

Ernest Cooper, 16, and James Cooper, 19, both of Toronto, were charged on seven counts of breaking and entering, and William Cooper, 22, of Pickering was jointly charged with five of the break-ins.

The suspicions of a policeman about a car loaded with groceries led to their arrest. A search of the brothers' rooms uncovered about $3,000 worth of dresses and men's clothing, shoes, rubbers, four rifles auto supplies, tools, hardware and $75 in cash.

Barbershop Burns

GUELPH (CP)—A fire of unknown origin swept through a barber shop and severely damaged two apartments above it Saturday night, causing damage estimated at $10,000.

The proprietor of the shop, suffered an injured hand when he attempted to quell the flames.

Prices Firm Pennies Active

TORONTO (CP) — Prices continued firm in early afternoon stock market trading today.

Volume for the first three hours totalled 2,270,000 shares as a wide list of issues drew attention and low-priced mining issues continued fairly active.

Uraniums gained strength as Gunnar, Nesbitt Labine, Chimo and Rix drew support. New Brunswick base metals gained on advances in Brunhurst, New Larder U and Orlac. Tungsten, with interests in Northern Ontario rare metals, added pennies in a turnover of 126,000 shares while Inspiration was firm.

Papers, utilities, foods, banks, refining oils and miscellaneous issues were strong in industrials. Trans Mountain Pipeline added $2 in brisk trading.

A wide list of moderate gains boosted Western oils. Most leading issues turned higher and Great Plains and Ajax gained.

Higher-priced base metals were strong, led by Cons. Smelters, and Campbell Chibougamau, Opemiska Quebec Copper and Steep Rock rose.

Senior golds turned mixed after a weak morning and holding companies were strong as Frobisher and Ventures rose. Juniors held firm.

MORE ABOUT—
Railroads Allowed

Pending detailed study of the points, the board did not give them weight in the present decision.

It also rejected a provincial argument that the seven-per-cent application should be turned down on the ground that railway conditions had not changed enough since it turned down a railway application for a general eight-per-cent increase last fall.

The eight-per-cent turn-down was followed by a nine-per-cent increase in December to compensate the carriers partially for a wage increase to their non-operating employees.

That wage increase and one obtained in February by the railroad trainmen would constitute "overwhelmingly altered circumstances" the board said.

RETROACTIVE WAGES

In connection with wage increases, it was critical of retroactive features of such settlements. Retroactive pay in the two latest major wage settlements amounted to about $24,000,000 for the two big railways, the board estimated.

Chief Commissioner Kearney wrote that he could see no reason why wage negotiations could not be completed within the period of existing agreements, "thus eliminating the baneful effects of retroactivity."

"It is quite impossible for the board to devise any equitable rate schedule that will bear the shocks of retroactive wage settlements of such magnitude," the judgment said. "Whereas wage increases can be collected retroactively by employees, freight rate increases cannot be so collected by the railways."

Wins Military Cross

IN KOREA (Reuters)—A British captain who stayed in an open trench through a heavy Chinese bombardment has been awarded the Military Cross, it was announced Sunday. Capt. John V. Dafskin, 26, stayed in the trench to direct artillery fire in support of a U. S. battalion being heavily attacked the night of March 1.

With Stalin Dead Hope Of Peace Improved–Dulles

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) John Foster Dulles, U. S. state secretary, said today the death of Stalin had increased the world's chance for peace.

Dulles, in his first press conference at the UN since becoming secretary of state, said Stalin's death, however, would not bring any changes in U. S. policy.

He said the U. S. would continue to follow the course it has in the cold war, but that, with Stalin dead, that course would have more chance of success.

He told a group of correspondents representing countries from all over the world that Stalin had put a damper on man's aspirations for peace and the enjoyment of human rights, and said he doubted any successor to the Red dictator would have the prestige to do so as effectively.

"The Eisenhower era begins as the Stalin era ends," he said in a prepared statement.

"For 10 years the world has been dominated by the malignant power of Stalin. He capitalized on the prestige which was won by the Red Army defenders of Stalingrad, and when the Red armies moved into Eastern Europe, Stalin used them to establish his Communist satellite regimes. In Asia, Stalin's plans, laid years ago, achieved a dramatic success through the Communist civil war which brought 450,000,000 Chinese under Stalin's sway.

"Now Stalin is dead. He cannot bequeath to anyone his prestige.

BRIEF POINTS

Dulles touched on foreign problems all over the world. In rapid fire order, he:

1. Announced he would leave in May for a journey to the Near East and South Asia.

2. Said he believed relations between Moscow and Peiping would be determined independently by those two countries and there was little the U. S. could do to influence them.

3. Said a Big Four meeting with Russia's new foreign minister, V. M. Molotov, deserves thought but wryly commented he had had experience dealing with Molotov before.

4. Said the U.S. was doing what it could to mitigate the difficulties in Burma caused by the presence of Chinese Nationalist troops in that country.

5. Deplored the existence of a power vacuum in the Near and Middle East and said the U. S. was re-examining its policies to see how to end it. In this connection, Dulles said he would like to see the restoration of peace between Israel and the Arab states.

Arrested For Theft Held For Slaying

TORONTO (CP) — Police said today they have arrested a 23-year-old man in the theft of $3 worth of groceries and will question him about a recent Hamilton slaying.

Acting inspector Stanley Gaylard of Hamilton said the man will be questioned about the killing of Charles Askew, 70, in his grocery store Feb. 26. Askew's body, battered almost beyond recognition, was found beside a small safe which safecrackers had plugged with explosive.

Police said the suspect is being held without bail in the theft of groceries from a downtown supermarket.

Accountant Held In Double Murder

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Thomas Kelly, 34-year-old accountant, was charged Saturday with murder following a double slaying in the home of his mother.

Mrs. E. Kelly, 68, and her boarder, Esther Heffernan, 65, were found dead in the hall of the Kelly home Saturday morning. Kelly has been charged with the murder of Miss Heffernan. He was not asked to plead and was remanded for eight days.

Police said both women appeared to have been beaten with a blunt instrument.

Mrs. Joseph N. Rusaw

The funeral of Mrs. Latittia Elizabeth Rusaw, of 124 Rubidge St., widow of the late Joseph Nelson Rusaw, who died Thursday in hospital following a lengthy illness, was held Saturday at the Kaye funeral home.

The Rev. I. G. Pollock minister of the Grace United Church officiated at the service, and the pallbearers were: Beverly Callan, Willaim Ferguson, Hillard and Harold Ray, Harry Ferguson and Roland Rusaw. Burial was in the Norwood cemetery.

Prisoner Ashamed, Appearing In Court, On Day Of Funeral Of Joseph Stalin

Stalin's death was recognized in police court today but not in a way that will add anything to Uncle Joe's laurels.

A fellow-countryman of his, after much arm-waving and gabbling, pleaded guilty to a drunk charge and agreed to pay the fine of $10 and costs.

After imposing the fine, Magistrate W. R. Philp, QC, turned to Constable Ed Niziol who was interpreting for the accused man, 39-year-old Stefan Turben, of 518 Bonaccord St. "Ask him if he isn't ashamed of being in court today, March 9, the day of Stalin's funeral?" asked Magistrate Philp.

There was some more interpreting and finally some emphatic head nodding.

"Yes, he is ashamed," said Constable Niziol, playing it poker-face.

The court spectators, who sit patiently all morning waiting for verbal tidbits like that, rocked with laughter.

Turben was arrested by city police early Saturday morning after he got drunk and was raising a hullabaloo at his boarding house.

At first he got a break. The police told him to shut up and go to bed. However, Turben didn't catch on in time. He clicked his heels and gave a Russian-style salute and then raced outside into the street to give the officers a piece of his mind.

As soon as he was outside his residence, and being in the condition he was, he was guilty of being drunk in a public place. The police popped him into the cruiser and Russian-born Turben spent the night in jail.

2 Women Killed Among 12 To Die Violently

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Two women apparently bludgeoned to death at St. John's Nfld. were among 12 persons to lose their lives violently in Eastern Canada during the week-end.

A survey showed that six died in Ontario, three of them in traffic accidents, four in Quebec and two in Newfoundland.

The St. John's victims were Mrs. E. Kelly, 68, and her boarder, Esther Heffernan, 65. Thomas Kelly, 34, was charged with the murder of Miss Heffernan after the bodies were discovered in the hall of his mother's home.

CHILDREN BURNED

Three children were burned to death when fire raced through their wooden home at St. Omer de L'Islet, Que. They were Lucien Choinard, 4, Lise, 3, and Fernande, three months. Both parents were out, but the father returned in time to rescue a fourth child.

Ontario deaths: Arthur Scott 61, of Cornwall, of injuries suffered when he fell off a ladder on to a pitchfork; Marilyn Buckingham, 20, of Tillsonburg, when the car in which she was riding crashed into a hydro pole; Harnon Zylstra, 40, of Ingersoll and Emil Laekman, 23, of Norwich, when their car was smashed by a speeding passenger train near Tillsonburg Charles Rombout, 56, of Wallaceburg, was drowned in a ditch; Bruce Little, 5, of Sudbury, was drowned in Junction creek.

William Croteau, 68, of Sherbrooke, Que., was drowned when his auto went through the ice of Lake Magog.

Liquor Offences Traffic Violations

Seats were at a premium in magistrate's court today as accused persons and witnesses filed in for the morning session. Charges were all minor — most of them liquor offences and traffic violations.

Leonard Christie, 50, of Indian River; Raymond Yates, 29, of 450 Mark St.; and Hubert O'Neill, 27, of 802 Water St., all pleaded guilty to charges of being drunk in public places in the city over the weekend. Each was fined $10 and $2.50 costs.

Hotspurs Win 1-0 After Two Draws

LONDON (Reuters)—Tottenham Hotspurs today won a marathon Football Association Cup playoff with Birmingham City, edging out the Midlanders 1-0 to advance into the semi-finals.

It was the third time the teams had met to settle the victory in their bracket of the quarter-finals. The first game ended in a 1-1 draw, the second 2-2.

Tottenham meets Blackpool March 21 in the semi-finals. The winner goes into the championship final against either Everton or Bolton Wanderers.

Form Guide Patrols

MARMORA (ENS)—The First Marmora Company of Girl Guides held their first meeting in the town hall on Thursday evening under direction of Captain Mrs. S. York.

Thirty girls were registered and four patrols formed with leaders and seconds being chosen as follows: 1st Patrol, leader, Linda Bateman; second, Anna Lee Parkin. 2nd Patrol, leader, Dawn McTaggart; second, Kathleen Belanger. 3rd Patrol, leader, Martha Jacques. 4th Patrol, leader, Donna Osborne; second, Marion Wells.

Names chosen for the patrols were: Ivy, Shamrock, Pimpernel and Violet.

Claim-Staking Race

MONCTON (CP)—A claim-staking boom is under way in the wild and hilly country of Lumsden and New Ireland in New Brunswick's Albert county. With four mining firms known to be actively engaged in running lines and staking potential mineral areas and private individuals getting into the rush, it is estimated that from 300 to 400 claims have been staked during the last few weeks. Lead, zinc and other base metals are the principal objective. Much of the rugged country where claims are being staked saw extensive diamond drilling last summer.

James D. Moore Sec'y.-Manager Of 4-H Clubs

James D. Moore, public relations officer for the Canadian Council of 4-H Clubs, has been appointed secretary-manager of the council, succeeding A. E. MacLaurin who recently retired.

Mr. Moore is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Moore, of Smith, where he was born 35 years ago, and although his attachment for rural life and scene has never dimmed, he has always regarded Peterborough as his home town.

He first became interested in club work as a boy and has now become secretary-manager of the Canadian Council of 4-H Clubs. He attended Kemptville Agricultural School, and went on to the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph from which he was graduated in 1944. Subsequently he was agricultural representative in York and Brant counties, for the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Mr. Moore is the son of a farm home in Smith township that has been consistently active in farm organizations. It was the kind of inspiring, constructive atmosphere that encouraged him to join the junior club work that was carried on in the county at that time. And so it came about that when the public relations post with the Canadian Council on 4-H Clubs became available, Mr. Moore applied and was appointed. That was in 1948.

STEADY PROGRESS

The 4-H Council's program promotes a movement which has progressed steadily and soundly until today it engages the enthusiastic attention of close to 60,000 farm youth and more than 5,000 voluntary local leaders. Their symbol, the 4-H in four-leafed clover form, signifies "head, heart, hands and health."

The council is a strong right arm of the 4-H Clubs, and includes in its large membership the representatives of firms such as: Bank of Montreal, CPR, CNR, farm implement manufacturers, T. Eaton Co., Imperial Tobacco, Ford Motor Co., Royal Bank, Imperial Oil Co. and a score of others. Their purpose is to support with funds and other practical aids the national 4-H Club work in Canada. The name has been appropriated from the United States. Junior farm clubs have the same ideals and purposes, but south of the border they had acquired a definite name and expression of idealism which now applies to the corresponding clubs in Canada.

Quebec Logger Bucksaw Champ

MANIWAKI, Que. (CP)—Roger Cadieux of Farley, Que., sliced four times through a 10-inch log Sunday to win the bucksaw championship of a winter carnival at this upper Gatineau Valley town.

Cadieux had a total time of 28.9 seconds for the best three out of four tries. His average of 9.6 seconds beat the 10-second average of Rene Raymond of Covis, Que.

Andre Marcotte of Three Rivers, with a time of 10.3 seconds, and Covis Guay of Noranda, Que., with 11.6, were third and fourth.

Don McFaul of Maniwaki won the dog derby race, run off in two 22-mile laps during the week-end carnival. His time was three hours, 37 minutes and 43 seconds for the course.

Tenders Called Build Navy Arsenal In B.C.

VICTORIA (CP)—Tenders for the first phase of a multi-million dollar naval arsenal 23 miles southwest of here at Rocky Point were called Saturday by J. L. Adams, regional engineer for Defence Construction Ltd.

The naval arsenal project calls for erection of 30 buildings for magazines and 11 for naval stores. A report last year indicated the arsenal would cost about $4,000,000.

Pickets Block Foreman's Car

STRATFORD (CP)—Pickets at the strike-bound Swift Canadian Company plant here today blocked a foreman's automobile from entering company property, in spite of a police request that the vehicle be allowed to enter.

Pickets have kept up a 24-hour vigil around the plant since about 75 employees, members of the United Packiknghouse Workers (CIO), went on strike Friday for higher wages.

The strike climaxed 11 months of negotiations. Workers are asking for a 23-cent-an-hour wage increase a 40-hour week and a guaranteed 36-hour week. Present wages range from 58½ to 66 cents an hour for women, and from 78 to 97 cents for men.

Opposes Blocs

LIMA, Peru (AP)—The Chilean ambassador said Sunday Chile opposes the formation of Latin American blocs or groups of nations and has made no secret deals of any kind with Argentina. Ambassador Enrique Gallardo Nieto, in a statement, said Chile's foreign policy is clear and definite in favor of a Latin American union, in the best spirit of co-operation among friendly nations. Chile, he said, repudiates the organization of any bloc or group of nations which would hamper that overall objective.

10th Century B.C. Tomb

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters) — A tomb structure, dating back to the 10th century B. C., was accidentally unearthed by archaeologists last week at Tourabi, near Larnaca, in southern Cyprus, the antiquities department reported. Four chambers were found when the tomb was opened. Two were empty. The third contained the cremated remains of a single person, and pottery of the Early Ioron Age.

THE YOUNGER CHILDREN stole the show at the annual carnival held on Friday night by the Cobourg Figure Skating Club at the memorial arena. There were older and expert skaters to thrill the crowd but the children under ten drew delighted applause from the crowd which packed the recreational centre. Woman Charged With Bigamy, Await Judgment

COBOURG— (ENS) — Elias Menzies of Hampton, was charged with bigamy before Magistrate R. B. Baxter and after the evidence with in adjournment was made in order that defence counsel could file written argument. She was charged with going through a form of marriage with Percy Robinson on Nov. 29, 1951, while Married to J. Menzies of Trenton.

Mr. Menzies, said he married the accused, Minerva Woodcock at Bancroft some 26 years ago. Mr. Menzies, who is well up in years, seemed confused as to when she left him. He said they were married 26 years ago but in reply to a question from defence counsel said that she left him 30 years ago.

"She left you before you were married," according to your recollection," commented the magistrate.

Menzies informed the court that his wife came back about two years ago to suggest that they get some rooms in Trenton and resume their married life.

"I didn't though. I didn't want no more women," asserted Mr. Menzies quite emphatically.

Luke Woodcock, relative of the accused, testified that he was best man at the wedding and that it took place about 25 years ago. Rev. G. Empey of Hampton said that he married a woman by the name of Helen Anderson, who looked like the accused, to Percy Thomas Robinson on November 29, 19551. Ruby Allworth testified that she was a witness to the wedding and indentified Mrs. Menzies as the woman married by Mr. Empey.

Mrs. Menzies testified that she left her husband in 1940 because she was "fed up with his jealousy over everybody." She said that she never went back to him and denied the visit related by Mr. Menzies. She met her second husband at Pontypool. Asked by the magistrate as to why she signed her name as Helen Anderson at her second marriage, she said that she had been told by a constable that if a woman kept house for a man for more than a year she could be regarded as his comonlaw-wife and us his name. She kept house for a man named Anderson up north for that period of time. She also told the magistrate that as far as she knew, Menzies could have been dead as she had not seen him since 1940.

The magistrate declared that the onus was on the accused to show that she had a reasonable belief her husband was dead. He adjourned the case so that consel could file written argument.

Queen Holds Many Rights, Responsibility With Crown

WASHINGTON—As her royal right, Britain's young Queen Elizabeth II recently claimed from a fish market a 40-pound sturgeon, one of the tastier tidbits due a sovereignty which accepts a multitude of odd tributes.

As the sturgeon is a royal fish, reserved for the Queen, so is the swan a royal bird, says the National Geographic Society. For centuries no one could own swans without royal permission.

No one, that is, except the Worshipful Company of Vintners and the Worshipful Company of Dyers who told Edward IV in the 15th century they would not lend him the money he sought unless he allowed them to own swans. Now every year there is a "Swan Upping", or swan roundup, on the River Thames to see which birds are the sovereign's and which belong to the Vintners and Dyers.

UNSAVORY PREROGATIVES

Less savory royal animals are whales, porpoises and dolphins that are washed ashore. Although not likely to be claimed at the palace, a dead porpoise caused a clash recently between a British beach inspector who wished to keep the premises clean and customs authorities who refused to let him meddle with Crown property.

Over the centuries British monarchs have demanded some bizarre rental fees. The Dukes of Marlborough and Wellington, for instance, retained their estates by delivering annually to the Queen flags symbolic of their ancestors' military victories: Her Scottish bodyguard, the Royal Company of Archers, presents a pair of barbed arrows for right of access to archery grounds.

Snowball delivered in summertime is rent for the Scottish estate of Fowlis, and a mere blast on a horn pays for the Forest of Savernake. As dues for the manors of Cabillia and Pengelly the Queen gets a grey cloak, while two white greyhounds are rent for the estate of Elerky. Other tributes include red and white roses, a salmon spear, an ivory cup, even a bed of straw. When she visits Winnipeg in Canada, Queen Elizabeth receives the traditional Hudson's Bay Company tribute of two elk heads and two black beaver skins.

Whenever Her Majesty desires a herring pie, the City of Yarmouth must supply the herrings. Should she visit the district of Kidwelly Castle, its lord must furnish a knight in full armor as a bodyguard. The laird of Braeside must bring to her Scottish Palace of Holyroodhouse a basin of rose-water to wash the Queen's hands. If she crosses the English Channel the owner of Archer's Court, Kent, must accompany her with a silver bowl in case she becomes seasick.

FALCONS FOR CORONATION

Probably the item the Queen will least need on the morning of her coronation is a pair of falcons, but the Duke of Atholl and the Earl of Surrey each can claim the right to give her two of the hunting birds at that time.

The Queen must give as well as receive. From her the Dean of Westminster can demand wine, fish and bread on her coronation day, and the boys of Westminster School have traditional right to Abbey seats for the ceremony. In fact, they are the first to cheer the sovereign after the crowning.

The Queen must pay a golden horseshoe as toll upon passing through a certain rural village, and on Maundy Thursday she customarily distributes specially minted money to as many needy persons as there are years in her age.

Public Debts

Public debts, unlike private debts, do not seem to worry anybody. Some economists even go so far as to say that their size does not matter at all, that the National Debt is just a catalyst, an instrument, a figment of imagination. However, people unused to dealing in high and mighty national finance need a pretty massive imagination to dismiss the National Debt as a ghost of money, especially one like Canada's which last March stood at $17,257,668,675.63. Canada's gross debt is $1,232 a head. However, no Canadian is bothered personally about his owing that sum to somebody. He will never be called on to pay it. Some years he may pay off a few cents, others he adds a few cents to it. The National Debt is as permanent as a mountain, on whose peak snows melt and fall again.

* * *

Compared with other and greater nations, Canada's national debt is not disproportionately large. Britain's public debt is about 26 billion pounds. The U.S. public debt is more than 255 billion dollars—about $1,654 a head. All western national debts of major countries have this in common: an enormous increase in this century. This is due chiefly to the two world wars. Since 1920 the debts have snowballed. In that year Britain's debt was £7,875,641,961. The U.S. debt was $24,299,321,467. Canada's gross debt in 1920 was $3,041,529,586.

* * *

The growth of Canada's national debt is symptomatic of the growth of the country and its place in world affairs—such affairs as wars. In 1867 the total debt was 93 million dollars. In 1914 it was 544 million dollars. By March 1917, after two years of war it had passed one and a quarter billion. And so it rose. Prior to the Great War, Canada's assets, to set against the debt, were more than half the gross indebtedness. Up to that time the public debt had been incurred almost entirely for either public works of general utility (like railways and canals) or as subsidies to enterprises like the C.P.R. Broadly speaking, these debts were for productive purposes, and carried assets. Great changes took place in the thirty years after the Great War. The net debt increased and so did carrying charges. The gross debt, having been incurred largely for war purposes, was not balanced by corresponding assets. Another significant change in Canada's National Debt is that it is now mainly held in Canada. That is, Canadians owe the money to themselves. That seems to be the chief reason that no one worries himself sick about the National Debt or his personal share in it. All he has to do is to find something like $25 a year to pay the interest—which is done through taxes.

"Hail, Canada!"

Canadians must be accustomed by now to hearing pleasant things said about their country by commentators in other countries, but it is unlikely that they will become tired of hearing such things for some time to come. The most recent laudatory article we have noted was written by Arthur Bryant, and published in The Illustrated London News. It compares the bureaucratic socialism of Britain with the conditions that prevail in Canada, and Mr. Bryant finds that it is refreshing to think about Canada, and he hails it as a place where people are creating a magnificent new nation.

Mr. Bryant does not attempt to label one political party and describe it as chiefly responsible. He thinks that the "so-called Conservative Party" has been a more efficient instrument of socialization over the past thirty years than the "so-called Labour Party." His chief criticism is directed at the British civil servants, and he thinks that Canada is very fortunate not to be governed by them. These people, he contends, are honest and conscientious, and "insofar as bureaucracy admits of humanity, they are humane and kindly, more humane and kindly", he suspects than the State officials of any land in the world.

In fact, he does not think the results are the fault of the civil servants, but of the democracy that foolishly supposes that the art of recording and enumerating is the art of government: "that expects a file to do the work of a conscience, a committee to do service for man, and an interdepartmental memorandum minuted by the right people in the right places to take the place of a quick mind and a resolute heart." He points out that even in the Middle Ages the authorities used to ring church bells when floods were expected—but that in the recent devastating floods in Britain, the only warning people had came from a few barking and apprehensive dogs. If that condition may be ascribed to socialization, Mr. Bryant certainly has a case.

In contrast, he finds Canada a place of achievement and progress, and one which affords an example Britain would do well to emulate. He indicates that Canadians have avoided the great flaw of socialism, which he considers is incompatible with human nature. Socialism would work if all people were instinctively virtuous, industrious and inefficient. Then it would be the best system—but people are not built that way.

Mr. Bryant's article was published before the new budget was presented by Finance Minister Douglas Abbott, or he might have been even more enthusiastic in praise of conditions here. Certainly The Financial Post has reason to declare that it will now pay Canadians to work hard again, and that the budget was, above everything, "an enterprise and incentive" budget. We agree with The Post, and we believe that the new budget contains potential benefits for every Canadian who is willing to work hard and vigorously for good wages, salaries and profits.

Smoke In The Professors' Eyes

The Ottawa Journal brings our attention to a request from the President of Carleton College (Ottawa) that its students in future refrain from smoking in classrooms during lectures. This amazes us—not the President's prohibition but that students ever had smoked or do now smoke during professorial lectures. If the habit has become general in our university halls we deplore it.

The lecture ordinarily lasts less than an hour, and the lecture-room is not an informal seminar where ideas may emerge in a puffed exchange of smoke. Our notion of a professional lecture is of its being a formal giving-out from a lecturn, not a give-and-take of hot air, clouding words of wisdom with a pall of smoke. Smoke during the lecture? Too pally altogether, a discourtesy to professor, a smutch to high learning.

Perhaps puffing students are no more grievous to the academic body and the magisterial mind than knitting students. During the war many professors had to deliver their lectures to the clack-clack of knitting needles. The female students seemed to be more intent on doing their bit on bundles for Britain and comfies for troops, than in their pursuit of wisdom and knowledge.

We note that 140 students of Carleton has presented a petition to counter President MacOdrum's edict—asking for the right to smoke if the lecturer gives his permission. The Journal asks if education and college discipline are now going to be operated on a majority vote basis too? We suggest that the student right to puff smoke into the professorial face be coupled with a lecturer's right to spit right back in the undergraduate eye.

Dignity should attend a university lecture. In French universities the students are all assembled before the professor arrives in the hall. They rise as he enters. They listen in complete silence during the lecture, applaud politely as it ends, and rise again when the professor leaves. In Oxford the undergraduates wear gowns to lectures and smoking in a gown is frowned on, even in the street. Late-comers are seldom admitted to the lecture-room. The lecturer arrives, doffs his cap, sometimes bows to his undergraduate audience, and delivers his lecture in a silence broken only by quiet murmurs should one of his verbal sallies particularly please. What happens in Carleton when the ghost of old Kant is evoked from his regimen in Konigsberg? Is the purest form in which tobacco can be smoked Carleton students' version of pure reasoning and applied science?

Hire A Hall!

When Dean Hewlett Johnson spoke recently in Massey Hall in Toronto a Toronto businessman, Mr. J. Farley Faulkner, attempted to ask him some questions from the floor. He was squelched by some of the Dean's admirers, and was told to hire a hall if he wanted to make a speech. So Mr. Faulkner, who seems to be a reasonable man, took that advice and he has hired Massey Hall for a meeting of his own, in which he will speak about democracy, and about people like the Dean who abuse its privileges.

More power to him! He is on the right track, and his method is an example to those students of Western University who hooted the Dean to silence when he attempted to speak in London Ont. The way to answer people like the Dean is not to choke them off; that is the communist way; the unthinking way; the ineffective way. Far better to have some pro-democratic meetings, and let true democratic feeling show its strength.

NOTES AND COMMENT

"It is impossible to be mad at anyone while dancing," says a dancing instructor. The Kingston Whig-Standard reminds him of the war-dance. And we should like to know if he has never seen anyone hopping mad?

A man in Cumberland, Md., got up on the wrong side of his bed and fell out of a second-storey window, a news item tells us. Well, anybody who gets up on the wrong side of the bed is sure to fall out with, or of, something or somebody.

Musical Notes

By PETER PIPER

ONE of the results of the general lack of what I might call "operatic background" amongst musicians both professional and amateur in the English-speaking world is a somewhat one-sided appreciation of some of the great composers. Of these the "three B's"—Bach, Beethoven and Brahms—are the least affected. Bach wrote no full-scale opera, while Beethoven's solitary example "Fidelio", though still holding the stage, can be regarded as a magnificent failure. As for Brahms he is reported as saying that it would be as hard for him to marry as to write an opera, but that after the first experience he would probably perpetrate a second—but with his characteristic prudence and knowledge of his own limitations he refrained from both ventures!

◇ ◇ ◇

YET although these three great men did little or nothing in the operatic field their work was to a great extent impregnated with operatic feeling. This is particularly true of Beethoven, who even introduced passages of instrumental recitative into his works (see the first movement of the "Dramatic" sonata in D minor, the last movement of the Choral Symphony or the late A flat piano sonata.) The Bach cantatas and oratorios do not differ greatly in their general characteristics from the operas of the day. Brahms is perhaps the least operatic of the lot, but even he could not help at times being influenced by the Musikdrama; the horn calls of the introduction to the last movement of that work of "pure music", the first symphony, are pure German Romantic opera.

◇ ◇ ◇

WHEN we come to Mozart it is clear to me that he must be regarded primarily as an operatic composer. This point of view may come as a shock to some of my readers. Most of us have heard and some of us have tried (with varying degrees of success) to play some of his piano sonatas, which were written for pupils of varying degrees of proficiency and are on the whole amongst his least characteristic work, many of the phrases popularly considered as most typically Mozartian being merely part of the common stock of musical small-talk of the Rococo period. We find more of the authentic Mozart in his mature symphonies and chamber music, and above all in certain movements of his concerti. But the essence of Mozart is to be found in his operas. It is there that his genius finds its most congenial medium. I realize that in the case of so versatile a genius as Mozart, who made himself at home in so many genres this is a bold assertion, but I am prepared to say that anyone who tries to understand Mozart without a knowledge of his operas will arrive at only a very partial appreciation of his greatness. After all the largest single element of his prodigious output consists of his 19 operas, and the atmosphere of these operas pervades all his work. The gay and sparkling finales of his instrumental works are distillations of his operatic finales, and the cantabile of such works as the slow movement of his clarinet concerto derives directly from the noble pathos of such arias as "Dove sono". I take Mozart as a typical example of the consequences of our lack of operatic "background", as he has suffered from it more than any other composer. As an operatic composer he is peerless. In a single aria he can tell more about character and situation than Wagner, with all his complicated system of leitmotifs. The simple and earthy "Gemeutlichkeit" of Papageno, the hieratic Sarastro, the philandering Don Giovanni, the noble and constant love of Don Ottavio are all portrayed with uncanny insight in terms of melody, harmony and rhythm. The list could be prolonged indefinitely, for Mozart had the capacity for endowing the puppets of the libretto with flesh and blood, so that pathos as well as humour can be extracted even from the highly stylized plot of "Cosi fan Tutte".

THE art of handwriting has steadily declined ever since the invention of the typewriter (which I am now using,) and the telephone, which has obviated the necessity for so much of the voluminous correspondence of bygone days. Signatures have become meaningless scrawls and the ball-point pen has all but completed the debacle. Efforts have been made recently to revive the noble craft of handwriting, and many advocate the use of the so-called Chancery script, as used in the Italian renaissance. It is time that we gave more than a passing glance to the writing of music. There is an excellent little manual called "Musical Manuscript" by H. A. Chambers and published by Curwen of London which covers most of the eventualities to be met with in the ordinary course of copying. The peculiar problems of writing out vocal short score, vocal open score, piano and organ music in the most readable fashion are dealt with in detail, and though it is necessarily impossible to envisage every case the student is given clear examples of the often anomalous practice of our notation, and should be able to think the rest out for himself as occasion arises.

◇ ◇ ◇

ON ONE most important topic the author is silent; he gives practically no advice on the subject of penmanship. I would advise a broad nib held at right angles to the margin. In this way the note heads and many other features of the MS will assume their correct shape with the least effort. It will be seen that most of the horizontal strokes are thick while the vertical strokes are thin. Naturally a thinner nib must be used for orchestral scores, where the lines of the staves are much closer together. A pencil or a ball-point pen is unsuitable for writing musical manuscript, though a pencil may be sharpened to something approaching the shape of a tiny chisel. I have a celluloid flexible ruler with a wooden base set at right angles to it which I find most useful for ruling bar lines; the base keeps the ruler vertical. I would not advise a multiplicity of pens and inks of different colours, nor is it necessary to invest in a large number of gadgets, but a broad-nibbed pen and a ruler (preferably of the type described above) should be ample for normal use. Incidentally I have used a pencil for ruling bar lines and find it easier than a pen and the general effect is very pleasing to the eye; the rest of the MS was written in ink.

IN writing musical manuscript it is inadvisable to ape engraved music too closely. For example the quarter rest is best written somewhat resembling the figure 2 seen through a mirror upside down. Note heads need not possess the regular oval shape of punch-engraved noteheads to be seemly and legible. We moderns can console ourselves on one count: we do not have to rule our own staves, as Bach did. Presumably he used to allocate this drudgery to his pupils and his progeny, much to their disgust.

ENTRIES for the Peterborough Kiwanis Festival have topped the 700 mark. This is a slight drop from last year which had 842 entries. The contests are being held between May 4 and 12. These festivals are not only useful in stimulating higher standards and discovering new talent; they are also interesting to the audience. If you have never been, why not look in one evening. I think you will come again.

Mineral Discoveries In N.B.

(OTTAWA LE DROIT)

ASTONISHING mineral discoveries in New Brunswick are about to appreciably change the economic structure of that province. The mining industry, heretofore negligible, appears destined to play a preponderant role. A veritable army of prospectors has invaded the region of Bathurst, bordering the Baie des Chaleurs. Hundreds of square miles of mineralized territory have been reserved by mining companies, big and little. Experts believe the total value of the different mineral beds brought to light will finally amount to billions of dollars. The principal deposit, discovered by the Boylen group, now comprises 34,000,000 tons of minerals, including zinc, lead, silver, sulphide, pyrites and copper.

Estimated roughly at $30 a ton, the value of this one deposit is equivalent to a billion dollars. Its ramifications on adjoining mining properties and secondary deposits equally rich have not yet been precisely evaluated but the indications are that the value is considerable. Several miles from this centre of activity around Larder mine intensive prospecting indicates the possible presence of a mineral bed comparable to that of the Boylen group. Much boring still needs to be done to determine the precise worth of this new mineral wealth, but one fact already seems certain — the mineral production of New Brunswick, which had a value of only $12,000,000 in 1952, will undoubtedly exceed $100,000,000 a year within the next five years.

No doubt this sudden change in the economy of this peaceful province will create many problems, notably the problem of housing, but it will have the good effect of keeping the population of the province stable. Heretofore, emigration to other provinces and to the United States has been a veritable plague in New Brunswick.

It is important that the Acadians, numbering about 530,000 citizens of the province, will greatly benefit by this great mining development by way of new employment and participation in the administration of the new enterprises. The majority of the population of the Bathurst region is Acadian. New Brunswick, presently regarded, as comparatively, a poor province, is about to enter upon an era of great prosperity; and French Canadians will acclaim this news with enthusiasm.

1952 And The Big Five

(Minneapolis Tribune)

If you've had the idea that the movie business is in the doldrums, hear this: the second and third biggest box office pictures of all time were 1952 products. Here are the big five of movie history as of today (excluding "The Birth of a Nation." which probably ranks first, but on which accurate records aren't available):

Gone With the Wind (1939), $26,000,000; Greatest Show on Earth (1952), $12,800,000; Quo Vadis (1952), $10,500,000; Best Years of Our Lives, (1947), $10,400,000; Duel in the Sun (1947), $10,000,000.

And incidentally, if you have thought the American theatre was pretty much dead outside New York: "South Pacific" has earned a $2,000,000 profit on the road, compared to $1,500,000 on Broadway.

To Have Auditorium

(Windsor Star)

Windsor's Civic Centre program has been given the stimulus needed to launch it successfully, through an unnamed city family's bequest of $400,000 to $500,000 toward the construction of a Civic Auditorium.

This magnificent gift virtually covers half the cost of the auditorium Windsor so long has needed, and which now is easily within its reach.

It may perhaps be considered the first of the public subscriptions toward a building fund in connection with Windsor's Centennial Festival of 1954. A comparable response from other civic-minded donors will get the building program and Festival off to a flying start.

Acts of Government

(Vancouver Province).

Not many in this country seem to remember J. Maynard Keynes, the British economist who thought governments ought to save in good times to pay off debts contracted in bad times. Writing of him in the January issue of Harper's, Bertrand Russel says: "If his theories had been adopted by financial authorities throughout the world the great Depression would not have occurred. There are still many .... who regard depressions as acts of God. I think Keynes proved that the responsibility for these occurrences does not rest with Providence."

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Arth thou not from everlasting, O Lord my God, mine Holy One? . . . Thou art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and canst not look on iniquity. (Hab. 1. 12, 13.)

◇ ◇ ◇

The glory of the Lord shall endure for ever: the Lord shall rejoice in his works . . . I will sing unto the Lord as long as I live; I will sing praise to my God while I have my being. My meditation of him shall be sweet: I will be glad in the Lord. (Ps. 104: 31, 33, 34.)

◇ ◇ ◇

Truth shall spring out of the earth; and righteousness shall look down from heaven. Yea, the Lord shall give that which is good; and our land shall yield her increase.

Righteousness shall go before him; and shall set us in the way of his steps. (Ps. 85: 11-13.)

◇ ◇ ◇

There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death. (Rom. 8: 1, 2.)

Letter To The Editor

LATE HOURS FOR MINOR HOCKEY

Sir: I am the father of a Peterborough minor hockey player and take considerable pleasure from watching and following the minor leagues also driving them to their out of town games. I also know the anxiety in the minds of mothers and fathers when 1 and 2 a.m. rolls around and Sonny Boy is not home from an out of town game. Especially a night like last Wednesday when Peterborough played in Kingston. The players left Kingston around 9:30 p.m. to return but owing to the slippery conditions they did not arrive home till 1 a.m. Yet when Kingston plays a return game here we hold up the game for ¾ of an hour in a squabble over not having adequate dressing rooms. The game started at 9:40 p.m. instead of 8:30, the Peterborough players arrived home around mid-night and the Lord only knows what time Kingston got home. These minors still have to attend school. Then to top this is the game to be played here Thursday night with Toronto. Mr. Smilie has so kindly rented the arena till 8 p.m. (which is P.M.H.A. night) causing the first game to start around 8:15 p.m. and the second 10:30 to 10:45 p.m. ending after midnight. Toronto still has to have a bite to eat and drive back.

Are our recreation officials and our council so money mad that they can not run these games at a better hour? If they have no regard for local residents at least for publicity reasons they should show some consideration for our visitors.

It has also come to my attention, with all the free time there is now at the arena with the Petes out, the minors that are in the playoffs have to pay 10 dollars an hour for a practice. The result is no practice. This rink was donated supposedly for the kids but they are now being forced out for lack of funds. The attendance at their games are very small and the arena charges so high it is no wonder minor hockey is so far in the hole. Instead of hiring buses the transportation is donated.

I certainly think it is time people realized what a bill of goods we have in the barn, also what is going to happen if we get a Memorial Centre.

I remain,

Yours truly,
R. R. Baker

MAYOR WADDELL SPEAKS

The welfare of Peterborough is my chief concern—as I am sure it is yours. Everything and anything that can be done to help our people — to safeguard their lives, to make more comfortable their existence, to free them from fear and uncertainty, is our constant endeavour.

To this end I am commending to all citizens the Red Cross and Community Fund Campaign.

Through the agencies represented in this Campaign, the humanitarian and social work is forwarded in Peterborough — hearts are made happier, homes made brighter, opportunities for our younger citizens, opened up, and the lives of those in the sunset of life, made pleasant.

Receive the Canvasser cordially and cheerfully when he or she calls this week. Remember every canvasser is a volunteer serving the Community, free, on his own time.

Give once but give adequately—the cause is good—the need is great.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

A seven-club OLA senior "A" 30-game schedule will open early in May by the looks of things following a meeting in Mimico on Saturday. Manager Bob Curtain and Coach Bob Thorpe of the Peterborough Timbermen were on hand and report that teams with indoor arenas will start play the first week of May while the first game here in likely to be May 15. Schedule will be drawn up shortly as soon as a few of the uncertain starters clean up a couple of details. Those ready to go now are Petes, Mimico, St. Catharines and Fergus. Owen Sound is out but Fergus can draw players from there. Brampton is back and gets its 1951 players back from Toronto and Fergus.

* * * * * *

Hamilton is likely to be in again, but there's some uncertainty whether Toronto or Orillia will enter. One of 'em will come in for sure, but not likely both. Orillia suggested having Toronto combine with them and play "home" games in Orillia, and Toronto Yorks seemed to like the idea. But the other clubs didn't, claiming Toronto now has a big enough area to draw from without including Orillia and Huntsville. So that matter will have to be straightened out. However, Hamilton, Orillia, Brampton and Toronto all paid their entry fee to meet the closing deadline, even if either Toronto or Orillia later drops out. Bob Curtain said it looked very much like a seven-team loop this year.

Petes To Be Stronger

That's the senior lacrosse score at the moment, and they'll be playing in less than two months, but are busy now re-organizing. One proposed rule change was that no player but the goalie may enter the crease with the ball, but the OLA will discuss it further ere adopting the CAHA regulation. Locally, the advance sale of season ducats is going better than a year ago, fans evidently believing the promises of Petes' officials that the 1953 club will be stronger than the Mann Cup champs of last year. Jerry Fitzgerald will be back in all probability and will not be wandering off later in the summer for football this season. It's still hush-hush on a few other ace imports. Executive will hold an early meeting to report progress. Won't be long till Miller Bowl will be put in shape again.

* * * * * *

Not a peep lately on senior ball prospects here, and it's high time the club got going in re-organiaztio, if they plan to continue. We note where our former COBL and Toronto League rivals, Oshawa Merchants—now in the intercounty Loop—have decided on a new playing manager. He is Mike Garbark, a pro for 14 years. A big fellow from the States, he played for the Yanks in 1944-45-46 and last year batted .320 for Rock Hill, South Carolina, in the Tri-State League, class "B" professional ball. He will bring in several southern players with him. Some of the Intercounty clubs are pretty much class "B" calibre.

Next One In Cobourg

Petes' pucksters are off Tuesday to Cobourg for the second game of their OHA post-season series, local having won the first here last Friday. Some uncertainty yet as to whether it's a best-of-three or a best-of-five set, and club officials didn't know this morning when the third tilt would be staged. Possibly on Wednesday. Just 10 of the Petes made the trip to Clinton for two weekend exhibition games, and the New Yorkers won out 5-3 and 7-5. The visitors were treated royally and enjoyed the junket. Johnny Russelle got a big bang out of the dandy community arena in the small NY town, a place where they're rapidly paying back every dollar given to start the project. George Steele plays for Clinton this season.

* * * * * *

Couple of husky grapplers from Texas, Lou Plummer and Dick Raines, team up this Wednesday eve at the Brock Arena in the main bout against Pat Flanagan and Bobo Brazil. A tag team bout, and the first showing here in a long time of Bobo of the hard cocoa. He and the fast stepping Flan will give the terrible Texans a hot time and hand city and district mat fans an exciting p.m. Sammy Berg meets Firpo Szybsko in the semi-final, while Ovila Asselin tackles Joe Christie in the prelim. Primo Carnera was here last week, so folks can't say they're not getting plenty of wrestling variety up this way from the large circuit operating out of Toronto.

Don Smythe Still King Of Badminton

By ALBERT ROGERS

TORONTO (CP)—Don Smythe of Toronto continued as king of Canadian badminton Saturday by capturing the Canadian men's singles championship for the third straight year.

Smythe, a former football halfback who has played the game only six years, defeated Gord Simpson of Montreal, 10-15, 15-14, 15-7, in the final at the Canadian badminton championships.

Smythe played his way into the final without trouble, taking a 15-8, 15-5 match from John Bouck of Vancouver in the semi-finals. Simpson, Quebec champion, took his semi-final win from Toronto's Bev Wescott, 15-9, 8-15, 15-7.

The women's singles trophy also went to Toronto. Top-seeded Marge Shedd won the award for the first time by defeating Lois Reid of Vancouver 11-4, 11-3. The defending title-holder, Marjorie Clapp of Montreal, did not enter the tournament.

WINS IN DOUBLES

Smythe teamed with club mate Budd Porter to win the men's doubles crown for the second consecutive year by turning back John Bouck and Daryl Thompson of Vancouver, 15-3, 15-12.

The women's doubles crown went to Lois Reid and Jean Bardsley of Vancouver, who defeated Barbara Ince and Joan Warren of Toronto, 15-7, 15-8.

The mixed doubles championship which saw the defending Johnnie Marshall and Budd Porter of Toronto eliminated in the semi-final, went to Barbara Ince and Dick Birch of Toronto after they jolted Vancouver's Jean Bardsley and Daryl Thompson, 18-15, 15-8. The Toronto duo won the award in 1951.

Jim Carnwath of Woodstock became two-time winner of the junior men's singles title. The powerful Carnwath proved too much for outclassed but game Peter Clarke of Toronto, as he beat him 15-11, 11-15, 15-9.

The junior women's singles crown went to Noreen Cossar of Toronto for the first time when she ousted her club mate, Elizabeth Rorke, 11-2, 11-0.

VETERAN CHAMPS

In the veteran men's doubles Ron McAllister and Bob McGregor of Toronto vanquished another Toronto pair, Dick Robertson and Jack Wallis, 15-9, 10-15, 15-6.

Next year's championships will be held in Vancouver, it was announced at the Canadian Badminton Association's annual meeting. Ted Elliot of Saint John, N.B., was elected president, succeeding George Crawford of Calgary.

GO GOOD AT CLINTON—Three of the Petes who turned in a smart puck effort in weekend exhibitions in Clinton, N.Y., are shown above. Chum Fryia, left, was playing his usual bangup game when he suffered a shoulder injury, though it is not expected to keep him out of tomorrow's game in Cobourg. Ray Harding, centre, was brilliant in goal and he had plenty to stop from the sticks of the classy Clinton crew. Bert Hill, right, was used on defence and played the blue line as though it belonged to him. The shorthanded Petes dropped two close decisions.

Norwood Wins A 6-1 Game From Hastings

NORWOOD— (ENS) — In the second game of the "little world series" here Norwod downed Hastings 6-1, the third game being in Hastings tonight. This tilt saw a fair crowd and a lively game played on fast ice.

Floyd scored for Norwood in the first from Williams, Ball drawing the only penalty. Kane and Scott tallied next heat for Norwood, the former and Floyd earning an assist each. Penalties went to Scott and Ferguson of Norwood and Doris of Hastings. In the third, Norwood added three, Kane clicking twice and Ferguson once, as Landon, Scott and Williams drew an assist each. Doris tallied for Hastings from McGrath. McDougall and Stevenson drew penalties. Teams:

Hastings: goal, O'Brien; defence, Byrne and Batley; centre, Stevenson; wings, Ball and Dodd; alternates, McGrath, D. West and Doris.

Norwood: goal, Delahey, defence, Landon and Robinson; centre, McDougall; wings, Kane and Scott; alternates, Gardner, Ferguson, Williams and Floyd.

Referees: C. Puffer and R. Garden.

Russelle Green With Envy Over The Clinton Arena After Petes' Weekend Trip

The Petes dropped a couple of close decisions to Clinton in exhibition hockey games in Clinton, New York, over the weekend by scores of 5-3 and 7-5. Johnny Russelle's Peterborough squad was cut down to just 10 players when several regulars—including Gus Leonard and Keith Montgomery—couldn't make the motor trip across the line on Saturday. The Petes had played Cobourg here the night before, and now have a game slated for Cobourg tomorrow.

Chum Fryia had his shoulder hurt in the first game at Clinton. Bert Hill was used on defence with Dean Wasson and Roy Armstrong, and he turned in a stellar effort. Goalie Ray Harding, Toodie Greenlaw and Bill Crowley were other visitors who sparkled, Harding having plenty to do.

George Steele, who was with Petes last winter, stood out for the classy Clinton crew, being as fast and shifty as ever. The winners played good heads-up hockey though the Petes outshot them some in both contests. The home club treated the visiting team fine over the weekend.

A FINE ARENA

Manager Johnny Russelle of the Petes said today: "They have a wonderful arena setup there. Clinton, a short distance from Utica, has only about 6,000 population, but there is a real community arena project in operation there. It started four years ago with $135,000 raised, and later they added $52,000. The arena is a good size, a handsome timber-structured affair with cement blocks on the sides, and has everything required inside."

He said the manager is paid $5,000 a year and all who donated to the project were treated as shareholders. Up to date, no less than 72 per cent of these shareholders have been paid back what they put into the building, and it is expected that all will have their money back in two more years. The place cleared $33,000 last year, often having a crowd of 3,200 on hand for their amateur games.

"If we only had something like that here," Mr. Russelle sighed, adding as an afterthought: "And to think Clinton has 6,000 population and Peterborough has 40,000!"

3 Goal-Keepers Hurt In Games

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Three Western Hockey League goal-keepers were injured during the week-end, one perhaps for the remainder of the season.

Jerry Cotnoir of Victoria Cougars suffered a possible fractured elbow Saturday when he was clipped by an errant stick in a game against Tacoma. The Rockets went on to win 5-2 with playing coach Eddie Dorohoy subbing for Cotnoir in the Victoria net.

Lucien Dechene and Emile Francis both were injured when Vancouver Canucks and New Westminster Royals battled to a 1-1 tie Saturday night. Francis of the Canucks was hit on the head by a flying puck in the first period but returned after a 10-minute rest. Dechene hit his back on a goalpost while making a save and also was out for 10 minutes in the third period.

Calgary Stampeders erupted with four goals in the final four minutes to down Edmonton Flyers 4-1 in the other Saturday game.

Seattle's Joe Bell rattled in four goals Sunday night to lead the Bombers to a 5-1 victory over Tacoma.

Owner, Cards Part Company

NEW YORK (AP)—Fred Saigh and St. Louis Cardinals officially parted company today when the former owner of the Redbirds left their St. Petersburg camp for St. Louis to turn the club over to August Busch.

Saigh, scheduled to start a prison sentence May 4 for income tax evasion, sold the club to Busch, head of the Anheuser-Busch brewing Co., two weeks ago.

He stayed with the team in St. Petersburg, Fla., until the very end and before leaving gave the players a short talk.

"This is the last time I'll see you as owner of the Cardinals," he said. "I regret very much having to leave you. My sentiments will always be with you and I want you to play as hard for the new owners as you would for me."

Said manager Eddie Stanky:

"I'm terribly sorry to see him leave. He was wonderful to me. He was the best boss I ever worked for."

Grove School Earns A Tie With Ashbury

Grove School, of Lakefield, tied Ashbury College, of Ottawa, in Lakefield on Saturday 6-6 in a hard-fought hockey game. It was nip-and-tuck in every period with Grove finally having to come from behind with two goals in the final minute to earn the draw. There were but two penalties in the tilt.

Calderwood scored first from Caldwell but Ashbury evened it on Irwin's marker. Delamere put Grove up on Hibbard's pass but Grant again tied it from Short. Caldwell's goal in the second on Creelman's assist gave them a brief lead, with Ashbury then taking over for two tallied, Irvin getting one along and Beavers notching one from Seed. Creelman ended the period by sewing it up again. Irvin and Kullay gave Ashbury a two-goal lead early in the third, Grogan helping on one. With a minute to go, Galambos fired one from the blue line and with 10 seconds remaining Calderwood tied the score on a smart bit of work with Creelman and Caldwell. Teams:

Ashbury—Goal, Mulkins; defence, Cameron, Seed; centre, Irvin; wings, Grogan, Kennedy; alternates, Beavers, Grant, Short, Rhodes, Killaly, Kingston, Kullay.

Grove—Goal, Birchard; defence, Grant, Gordon; centre, Creelman; wings, Caldwell, Calderwood; alternates, Galabos, Regan, Gray, Creswicke, Hibbard, Delamere, Carter, Finn.

Quebec Sr. Hockey League Breaks From CAHA Form Independent Grouping

By W. R. WHEATLEY

MONTREAL (CP)—One of the greatest upheavals in Canadian hockey came into clearer focus today with a clean break by the powerful Quebec Senior Hockey League from the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association. Under threat of suspension by the CAHA, the league decided Sunday, without a dissenting vote, to set out as an independent organization. Representatives of the seven clubs were told by President George Slater that he is satisfied all rights and protection enjoyed by the QSHL in its relation to professional leagues through the CAHA will be accorded under the new set-up.

To bring about the break with the CAHA, the QSHL had to resign from its own governing branch, the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association, with which it has no quarrel.

The QAHA was suspended Feb. 28 for defying an edict of the CAHA. The dispute involved the playing status of 18-year-old Ron Attwell, now with Montreal Canadien juniors of the Quebec Junior Amateur Hockey Association.

The QAHA maintained it was within its rights and within regulations of the CAHA by issuing Attwell a playing certificate. The CAHA held otherwise.

BACKED BY OTHERS

Component leagues of the QAHA have stood by the Quebec Branch's decision. No league or club was suspended by the CAHA when it took this action against the branch. But all are threatened with suspension if they don't align themselves with the CAHA on the issue by March 10.

It was this prospect that brought about the league's resignation — effective immediately the motion was carried.

President Slater said if the league were suspended there would be complications over the CAHA agreement with professional leagues. Also, if the QSHL wanted to engage in a series with a pro league, the agreement again might be affected.

"If we are an independent body we cannot be suspended by the CAHA," he said. "As to the professional leagues, I have satisfied myself that our rights will be protected."

Hockey observers assessed the QSHL's action and the possible results this way:

1. The CAHA has lost its most powerful major circuit, whose annual gates in schedule and playoffs rate it a $1,000,000 concern. The Maritime Major League is the only other circuit of that rating left. Ontario teams do not operate in the major series. The Western Hockey League has been a pro loop for a couple of years.

2. The annual Alexander Cup series—between the two major leagues—is wiped out.

3. The new QSHL, controlling 200 players at least of minor league professional calibre, can remain amateur as a separate amateur entity still working in agreement with the National Hockey League and other pro leagues. It can also arrange playoff series with one or more of the minor circuits. A playoff this year with the WHL has already been talked about.

4. The new organization, continuing as an amateur body, can rejoin the QAHA—possibly by next season—if the dispute with the CAHA is settled.

JR. STATUS NOT KNOWN

5. The final status of the junior and lower-rank senior sections of the QAHA is not yet determined. If satisfactory agreement is reached with the CAHA, they can enter Memorial Cup and Allan Cup play after their current playoffs. If they are suspended March 10, one of the strongest annual contenders for the Memorial Cup—the JAHA winner—will automatically be out of the series.

During the discussion preceding Sunday's vote the status of QSHL players as free agents after this season was considered.

It was the general opinion there would be few, if any, defections. It was felt that salaries paid in the QSHL mitigated against "jumping" by players or incurring raids by amateur clubs within the CAHA.

As for raiding by outside amateur clubs, the QSHL members felt they are well able to look after themselves and could raid in return.

In Midland, Ont., secretary-manager George Dudley of the CAHA reaffirmed a statement he made Saturday, saying "the CAHA does not recognize the right of any league to withdraw this way at any time it desires."

NO MIDDLE GROUND

He said the QSHL "is an organization registered with and operating under the authority and control of the CAHA and there is no middle ground."

Unless the QSHL "signifies its intention to continue with the CAHA by March 10 it will be suspended," and the CAHA will insist the NHL recognize this suspension as the agreement between the two bodies provides.

Slater said the resignation was carried out in prescribed fashion and the CAHA can't suspend a league that is no longer in the QAHA.

Lawn Bowlers Inquiring Of July Games

By HERB MARTIN

We had no intention of writing about lawn bowling so soon; but when you receive phone calls from different parts of the province asking you to accept entries for our men's open doubles (Lift-Lock Tournament) and for our mixed doubles (Black Memorial Tournament) we began to think that maybe winter sports are on the way out and summer sports on the way in.

When you consider that these tournaments are four and five months away, you can gather just how popular our club and its tournaments are thoughout the province.

This lawn bowling club is going ahead this season and there will be lots of bowling.

MEETINGS HELD

Many of the committees have had several meetings and are working hard; Just for now, the committee to boost is the membership committee. Their work begins right after the New Year and continues till bowling starts. We must have members if we are to have rinks and must have rinks if to have bowling.

More about the club shortly; this is just the beginning. It's meant to keep before the public the lawn bowling activities. We are always glad to see old members back again and have the welcome hand out to new members. Roy Lewis — phone 5441 — is chairman of this membership committee and he will be glad to hear from old or new members.

Bentley To Rejoin Leafs Tuesday

SASKATOON (CP)—Max Bentley, veteran centre for Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League, left Sunday for Toronto where he will rejoin the Leafs.

Bentley spent last week resting at his Delisle, Sask., home. He was suffering a back injury and also had an attack of 'flu. He said he would be in Toronto Tuesday morning and would be out for practice the same day.

Suspend Driver From Racing

TORONTO (CP)—One driver at the Dufferin Park harness racing meet Saturday was suspended for the balance of the meet and two others were given five-day suspensions while Sir Harris, one of the entries, was barred from the track.

Sir Harris drew her penalty for continued inconsistency. For the last six Saturdays the mare has always lost the first heat, but come back strong to win the second easily. His driver was not implicated after he explained to the stewards it was the nature of the mare.

Keith Waples drew a five-day suspension for poor driving while Russel Caldwell, driving Kitty Grattan in the fourth race, was found guilty of threatening driver Loren Ryan, of Norval. Caldwell was set down for the balance of the meet. Ryan reported the incident to the stewards at the finish of the race. Kitty Grattan lost the first heat and dropped the second to Ryan's horse.

Dan Murphy from New York, driving Miss Dean Patch, was set down for five days for inconsistent driving.

Wynn, Doby Sign Cleveland Contracts

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Pitcher Early Wynn and outfielder Larry Doby ended holdouts early today and signed contracts with Cleveland Indians.

Wynn put his name on the dotted line for $36,000—$4,000 less than he asked and $1,000 more than general manager Hank Greenberg had offered previously. The new pact represents a $4,000 boost for the big righthander who won 23 games last season.

Doby's salary terms were not known immediately. Reporters said he had turned down a $25,000 offer earlier.

Teams Start With 12 End Game 9 A Side

GLASGOW (AP)—It was a rough, tough soccer game between Glasgow Rangers and Clyde Saturday.

The referee sent three men off the field for infraction of the rules, and another player fractured a leg.

Woodburn, the Rangers' centre half, and Simpson, their centre forward, got marching orders. Murphy, the Clyde right back, was also sent off.

Buchanan, the Clyde outside right, was taken to hospital.

The game finished with nine men on each side.

Clyde won 2-1.

Two From Guelph Hurt

TORONTO (CP)—Two Guelph residents were among four persons injured in a two-car collision here Sunday. Mrs. Patricia Askey, 24, suffered back injuries and Hugh Askey a head cut. They were passengers in one car. Betty Howitt, 35, of Toronto, driver of the other car, has been charged with careless driving.

Curling News

By HERB MARTIN

Congratulations are due to Mrs. M. McCartney, Mrs. H. Baptie, Mrs. R. Miller and Mrs. F. Stenson. These ladies won the W. E. Hamilton Trophy at Guelph last Thursday. They defeated their opponents in the final game 13-5.

These ladies motored to Guelph on Wednesday evening, played two games on Thursday, played three games on Friday, left Guelph around midnight Friday, arrived home a little after four o'clock Saturday morning, played in the Sturgeon bonspiel, here, Saturday night and then some people refer to them as the weaker sex! Oh yes!

Our annual week-long open mixed rink bonspiel got under way this morning. It will continue Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. With the exception of Friday, the games are over around 6 p.m. This leaves the ices available for the men's evening games.

The winning rinks in Saturday's vice-skips' bonspiel were skipped by J. Inglis, B. Mortlock, A. Yelland and W. Switzer.

The first round in the annual Sturgeon Trophy was played Saturday night.

STURGEON TROPHY RESULTS

C. Selkirk won from C. Lawrance; O. Steer won from A. Ingram; B. Grant won from D. Charlton; N. Hamley won from T. Roughty; R. Johnson won from B. Ashmore; R. Downey won from A. Jones; B. Teepees Eliminated By St. Mike's, Galt Tied

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The field of six teams originally in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A playoffs has been narrowed to five.

St. Catharines Teepees, who finished fourth in the final standings, were eliminated from Memorial Cup hopes in five days—three games after they started their best-of-five-game series with St. Michael's College.

St. Michael's brought the ax down on the Teepees with a 5-3 victory on Toronto ice Sunday. The collegians won the opener 4-1 in Toronto Wednesday and took the second 4-2 in St. Catharines Friday. St. Michael's now advance into a semi-final series with the winner of the Galt Black Hawks-Oshawa Generals best-of-five game quarter-finals.

TIED GAME

In Oshawa Saturday, the Generals spotted Galt four goals and then came back strong in the last half of the game to tie the contest 4-4. Overtime was not played because it was too close to the Sunday curfew. Galt leads the series 1-0.

In the other week-end game Toronto Marlboros came through with a 2-1 overtime victory over Barrie Flyers in Toronto Saturday. The best-of-seven-game semi-final series now is tied 11.

Paul Knox was the hero for St. Michael's. He rapped in three goals, the last into an empty St. Catharines net. Murray Costello and captain Bill Dineen scored the others. St. Catharines' captain, Brian Cullen, scored all three for St. Catharines.

Jim McBurney, Ken Wharram, Hillary Menard and Hec Lalonde gave Galt a 4-0 lead to work on in Oshawa but the Generals tied the game on two goals by Roger Maisonneuve and singles each by Bobby Mader and Rick Collins.

Barrie coach Hap Emms said that he will lodge a protest following Saturday's game with the Marlboros because the police in Maple Leaf Gardens failed to heed referee Hugh Barlow's demand to have Marlboro manager, Staff Smythe, moved from his box seat behind the Marlboro bench. Barlow said Smythe made a "personal remark" in the middle of the third period. Barlow asked a policeman to remove Smythe from the seat but the officer refused to act. Conn Smythe, president of Maple Leaf Gardens and father of Staff, sitting elsewhere in the Gardens, approached Barlow and suggested the game be resumed. Barlow continued play and Stafford Smythe remained in his seat. Had Barlow insisted that Smythe move, the Marlboro manager would have been compelled to obey or the referee could have forfeited the game to the Flyers.

FIRST GOAL

Dave Jackson fired the winner for the Dukes at the four-minute mark of the overtime session. After a scoreless first period Billy McCreary potted his first goal in a Marlboro uniform to give the Dukes a 1-0 lead going into the second. Barrie captain Skip Teal knotted the count in the third.

The third Barrie-Marlboro game will be played at Barrie Wednesday. Galt will play host to Oshawa Tuesday.

Red Wings Win 5th Straight Beat Desperate Leafs Twice Rangers Collect 2 Triumphs

By ED SIMON, Canadian Press Staff Writer

Until a better one comes along, Detroit Red Wings will do as the best hockey team of the 1950s, and possibly of the next decade or two to follow. The Wings coasted to their precedent-shattering fifth straight National Hockey League title during the weekend, wiping out the record they previously shared with Boston Bruins of approximately five years earlier. The way they did it underlined their supremacy. Up against Toronto Maple Leafs, desperately fighting for a playoff spot, in a home-and-home doubleheader, they whipped Leafs 3-0 at Toronto Saturday, even though the Leafs checked top-scoring Gordie Howe to a virtual standstill. Line-mate Ted Lindsay fired the first and winning goal.

At Detroit Sunday the Leafs kept Lindsay, who had scored nine goals in his last four games, off the score-sheet, but Howe broke through to score the winning goal and the Wings went on to a 3-1 victory.

DEFENCEMEN SCORE

Defenceman Red Kelly slapped home his 19th goal Saturday, drawing within one of the record set for blueliners by Flash Hollett of the 1945 Wings. Reg Sinclair took a pass from Kelly for the third tally.

On Sunday it was Marcel Bonin and Tony Leswick, both generally known as defensive forwards, who made the grade. Tod Sloan gave the Leafs a brief lead in the second period.

Th Leafs' only break was that their chief rivals for playoff positions had the minimum of success in their week-end campaigning. Chicago Black Hawks, in third place, stayed three points ahead of the Leafs by losing 1-0 to Montreal Canadiens and 2-1 to Boston Bruins.

NEW YORK WINS

Th Bruinr blew a 2-1 verdict to the last-place New York Rangers before breaking their fourth-place tie with the Leafs with their victory over Chicago. Meanwhile the Rangers, shorn of their last mathematical chance for a playoff spot, knocked off the Canadiens 4-3.

A first-period marker by Billy Reay stood up for the Canadiens' victory over the Hawks as goalie Gerry McNeil stopped 29 shots for his 10th shutout of the season—tops in the NHL.

Sunday, Wally Hergesheimer, who had fired both New York markers against the Bruins the previous night, beat McNeil early in the second period after Maurice Richard had put the Habitants one up with his first Madison Square Garden goal in more than a year.

Then Ron Murphy, Nick Mickoski and Harry Howell all scored within nine minutes of third-period play to salt the game away for the New Yorkers. A second tally by Richard and one by Floyd Curry made it close before the game ended.

The Bruins struggled unsuccessfully for the tying goal against the Rangers after Johnny Peirson had matched one of Hergesheimer's goals Saturday night, then successfully overcame a Chicago lead to win their Sunday contest on Jerry Toppazzini's last-period tally.

The Hawks" Jimmy McFadden and Boston's Peirson had scored within less than half a minute of each other in the opening frame.

All teams are idle until Wednesday night, when the Wings meet the Rangers in New York.

Niagara Falls Win Hoop Crown For Third Time

TORONTO (CP)—Niagara Falls Collegiate won the class A Ontario high school basketball championship for the third straight year Saturday night by defeating North Toronto Collegiate 62-44.

The class B championship went to Albert College of Belleville who downed Pembroke High School 53-36.

The final games culminated a two-day tournament of 12 teams sponsored by the Ontario Federation of School Athletic Associations.

Niagara Falls came from behind in all three of its games to win the title. In the final they overcame a first quarter four-point deficit to lead by five points at the half. From there on it was Niagara Falls' game. They built up a 20-point edge in the fourth quarter and had it cut by only two points at the final gun.

Niagara's most valuable player was Howie Triano. He scored 27 of his team's points. His series total was 63. Bill Burleigh racked up 14 and John Sheppard 12. Larry Scott was top man for Toronto with 19.

In the B series Albert College led from the start and had a 20-point edge at the half. The Collegians made it 43-16 at the third quarter and added 10 in the final.

NETTED 23

Bert Faulkner led the winners with 23 points and Ross King added 14. Pembroke's top scorer was Ron Zeigel with 15.

In the class B semi-finals, played earlier in the day, Albert College downed South Porcupine 42-28 and Pembroke trimmed Exeter 55-53.

Albert and Porcupine played evenly up to the half, then Albert put on a drive in the third and led 30-22. The Porkies picked up only six points in the fourth while Albert netted 12.

Bob Mitchell led the Porkies with 15. King counted 13 and Faulkner 12 for the losers.

Exeter and Pembroke were force into overtime in the second half of the playoffs. At the end of the third quarter Exeter led 35-33. In the fourth the lead changed hands four times and the clubs were tied 47-47 at the whistle. Pembroke added eight points in the three-minute overtime and Exeter added six.

Morris Wesanko sparked the winners with 16 points. Glen Beiderman added 15 and Doug Bombay 11.

WON FIRST GAME

Niagara Falls downed Toronto Runnymede Collegiate 61-42 in the first game of the class A semi-finals and North Toronto defeated Sudbury High School 46-44 in the second.

Niagara and Runnymede tied 16-16 at the end of the first quarter then the Falls five drove ahead to an eight-point advantage at the half. In the third they made it 47-31 and added 14 in the final. Runnymede notched 11.

Howie Triano led the winners with 16 and Larry Triano and John Sheppard scored nine.

Sudbury and North Toronto were even in the first quarter but Toronto took a 10-point lead at the half. Toronto made it 36-23 in the third but then collapsed. The team didn't score a point in the first four minutes of the final period and Sudbury came within an ace of tying the score. Toronto managed to add one more point than Sudbury in the last half to eke out the win.

Vic Kurdyak was top scorer for Toronto with 16 and Frank Bell led Sudbury with 12.

Toronto Bloor Collegiate downed Hamilton Central High 55-43 in the class A consolation and South Porcupine defeated Exeter 41-22 in the B class.

U.S. Woman Add Third Ski Crown

STOWE, Vt. (AP)—Two Olympic ski champions, Mrs. Andrea Lawrence and Norwegian Stein Eriksen, showing the skill that brought them world titles, slid down Mt. Mansfield's icy and tricky nose dive Sunday to win the North American slalom championships.

For the 20-year-old mother from Rutland, Vt., it was a triple crown. She won the North American downhill Saturday and the U.S. giant slalom Friday on the same hill.

Small But Powerful Group Aids Queen For Coronation

By JAMES NORTHCOTT

LONDON (Reuters) — A small but powerful group of courtiers, almost unknown to the British public, is helping the Queen prepare for the Coronation on June. 2.

As men round the throne have done throughout British history, they wield great influence. They have the Queen's ear and she is often guided by them.

Unlike their counterparts in the history books, they do not spend their time in court intrigues, or fearing that a sudden whim of the monarch may drop them from favor.

Most important official in the royal household is the Queen's private secretary, 65-year-old Sir Alan Lascelles. He is the direct link between the Queen and her ministers.

Lascelles was private secretary to the late King for nine years, and for nine years before that he was assistant private secretary to the Duke of Windsor, then Prince of Wales.

He is the only person in Buckingham Palace outside the Queen with access to state secrets.

EYES, EARS

Sir Alan has been called the "eyes and ears of the sovereign." As such, his job in Coronation year is doubly important.

The titular head of the royal household, the man responsible to the Queen for its management and administration, is the lord chamberlain. This post is held by the 56-year-old Earl of Scarborough, who is able to trace his ancestry back to King Ethlred II (968-1016).

As Capt. Sir Roger Lumley, before he succeeded to the title, he was governor of Bombay through times of riot in India. He has been, at various times, soldier and parliamentarian and today he is the grand master of English Freemasons.

POWERFUL

One of the most powerful men near the throne is Sir Piers Legh, 61-year-old master of the Queen's household. He has had longer service in the household than any other top official, and has the reputation of not being afraid to speak his mind to the sovereign when he thinks duty requires it.

Sir Piers was the only member of the court to accompany King Edward VIII into exile after his abdication in 1936.

His royal post places him in charge of all domestic servants and arrangements at the Queen's palaces and residences.

Son of Lord Newton, he joined Edward VIII, then prince of Wales, as an equerry and was once aide-de-campe to the Duke of Connaught, then governor-general of Canada.

FINANCIAL BRAIN

The financial brain of Buckingham Palace is 46-year-old Lord Tryon. As keeper of the privy purse, it is he who signs the Queen's cheques.

He administers the £475,000 a year granted to her by Parliament, out of which comes her £60,000 personal allowance, the £185,000 for royal household salaries, and the £121,000 for running expenses.

He is a former army brigadier who became a business man in the City, London's financial district.

The crown equerry, Sir Dermot Kavanagh, 62, is in charge of the royal mews at Buckingham Palace where 29 horses, several coaches, including the gilded 4½-ton state coach in which the Queen will ride through London to Westminster Abbey for her Coronation, and the 17 royal cars are kept.

His ancestors were kings of Leinster (Eire) in the 12th century.

One of the women nearest the throne is Mary, duchess of Devonshire, whom the Queen appointed recently as her mistress of the robes.

Widow of the 10th duke of Devonshire, she will personally supervise the robing of the Queen at her Coronation. Another of her duties is to arrange the rotation of the Queen's ladies-in-waiting.

To all these household officials and many more lords and equerries in waiting, women of the bedchamber, gentlemen-at-arms and yeomen of the guard, Coronation year is bringing hard work as well as the honor of serving the Queen on a historic and memorable occasion.

TV To Show A-Bomb Effects

NEW YORK (AP)—The U. S. atomic energy commission will allow the public to see for the first time, via television, the havoc created by an atomic explosion during its tests March 17 at Yucca Flat, Nev.

A pooled telecast, over ABC, CBS and NBC, will be made of the blast itself, expected at 8:20 a.m. EST. Later in the day cameras will be allowed to move in close to show the damage caused to two typical frame dwellings, several automobiles and various types of bomb shelters in the target area.

An atomic explosion at the same site was telecast a year ago over improvised relay facilities, providing somewhat spotty and shaky pictures of the blast, but cameras were not allowed to show the effects of the explosion.

Fliers Parade

MANCHESTER, England (CP)—Sabre jets from the RCAF base at North Luffenham will participate when the Queen's color of the RAF in the United Kingdom is paraded here April 1. The ceremony will be reviewed by Defence Minister Earl Alexander.

Queen's Acceptance Stamps Approval On Social Career

By ROBERT JONES

LONDON (AP)—How do you get the Queen to drop in for dinner at your place?

American film star Douglas Fairbanks Jr., and his wife, Mary Lee, know the answer to that one—but they aren't telling.

The Fairbanks made British social history a few weeks back by throwing a dinner party for the Queen, the Duke of Edinburgh, and Princess Margaret at the plush London mansion they bought from the Duke of Leeds two years ago.

It was the first recorded time that a British monarch has stepped outside court circles to dine and wine at a private house, and it set the seal on the social career which the Fairbanks have been building in post-war London.

It's a career which brought them on chatting terms with royalty, got them week-end invitations to Coppins, the country home of the Duchess of Kent, and has taken them on the rounds of London's night spots and society dances.

"It's a life that glitters—but takes a back seat with Fairbanks when real work comes along.

To Fairbanks—film star, unofficial diplomat and philanthropist — real work means a daily grind of business conferences, transatlantic telephone calls and hasty lunches snatched at an office desk.

That doesn't bring much glamor, but it has brought him a British knighthood, a chest sprinkled with decorations from Europe, Latin America and Korea, and the unofficial title of U. S. ambassador of goodwill.

The decorations have followed in the wake of Fairbanks' work for better international relations round the world. At the moment he is in charge of American relief for Korea.

To Fairbanks, his main work—"one of the most worthwhile things in life" is how he described it—is helping Anglo-American relations.

"I believe in Britain," he once said, "and I believe that by coming here often and living and working with you I can get a slant on how you are thinking."

This belief—a three-page citation called it "untiring work on behalf of Anglo - American amity" — brought him his knighthood six years ago, when King George VI made him a Knight Commander of the British Empire.

He doesn't use the "sir," however, because as an American citizen the title is honorary. He does get a place in Debrett's Peerage alongside Dwight Eisenhower, Ambassador Winthrop Aldrich and other American "knights."

The "untiring work on behalf of Anglo-American amity" really began 43 years ago when Fairbanks paid his first visit to Britain. He was only a few weeks old then. He came back later to go to school here. Now he spends at least half his time in Britain and calls it his second home.

Public Letter Writers Work Under The Arcades

MEXICO CITY.—The Left Bank of Mexico City, although it has no river, is strikingly suggestive in a smaller, less glamorous way of the Boul' Mich or Montparnasse in the university sector of Paris.

* * * *

You can really feel something of the Left Bank in the Plaza de la Corregidora or Santo Domingo Square and its radiating streets. Across the way is the National School of Medicine and on the west side the evangelistas or public letter writers who sit and work under the arcades.

* * * *

Since colonial days scribes have sat here behind their rickety tables. Today the typewriter has replaced the pen. But behind the clatter of the machines flows the same stream of hopes and ambitions that harried illiterate patrons of a former day.

* * * *

For centuries the letter writers have played an important role in Mexico. They are much more than mere scribblers. They are a blend of public stenographer, private secretary, notary and Solomon. In the smaller places they even write love letters, but not in the city.

* * * *

HEAD LETTER WRITER

Andres G. Moctezuma who has been in the Arcades 23 years is one of the veteran scribes. He has a battered old Remington, a table, two stools and writing materials. He writes from 20 to 30 letters and business forms daily and earns about 25 pesos a day, roughly $3 a day.

* * * *

Formerly a worker in a textile factory, Mr. Moctezuma is now one of the leaders among the 50 letter writers, young and old, in the Arcades. Most of his letters concern income tax, government reports, arranging forms needed for someone to open a store, commercial and industrial letters. He pays the city 2.10 pesos a week as rent for his portales space.

* * * *

Today Mr. Moctezuma is general secretary of the Typographers and Public Printers of the Federal District. This union is associated with the Union of Workers which do not have a steady salary. Since its formation in 1920, this man has always held some position on the Board of Directors and has been general secretary several times.

* * * *

EDUCATES SIX CHILDREN

"I have given six children an education with what I have earned in this work," Mr. Moctezuma told me. "Today I am educating my grandchildren.

* * * *

"This is really a type of social work," he continued. "Many Mexicans do not know what is needed if they want to open a store or business, or about taxes, money reports to the government, bookkeeping, etc. We instruct them how to do it on a small payment basis.

* * * *

"Most of us come from lower class families but we are all honest with high moral and business principles. Everything that we handle is treated confidentially."

* * * *

The letter writers in that one block are busy people, particularly in the morning. There is a steady coming and going of men, women and children. The better letter writers sometimes have both stools filled and a waiting list.

* * * *

The present Medical School opposite the Letter Writers used to house the Holy Office of the Inquisition under Dominican auspices in Spain. Stranglings took place on the Zocalo, but burnings took place in the Alameda Park. With the coming of independence the building was put to a better use. Manuel Acuna, celebrated love poem writer, lived here and here committed suicide.

* * * *

BOOK STORES

The Square of La Corregidora has much more than a university building to suggest left bank activities. There are many interesting book stores and art shops with old prints and maps, dimly reminiscent of the book stalls along the Seine. Curious old fashioned printing presses operate under the arcades facing the letter writers.

* * * *

The statue in this Santo Domingo Plaza is of Maria Joseja Ortez de Dominguez. She notified Hidalgo of the discovery of the plot to rid Mexico of the Spanish yoke. Proud and fearless, she once curtly refused Emperor Iturbe's invitation to join his wife's retinue.

Youth Took Father's Truck Crashes Into Elm Tree Staggers To Farmhouse

Boy, 14, "Blacked Out" Walks With Only One Shoe On One-Quarter Of A Mile For Help

Injured in a truck accident, 14-year-old Jim McMullen of R.R. 2, Peterborough, on Saturday night staggered a quarter of a mile to a farmhouse for assistance. He was "blacked out" and did not come to until he was being undressed later in hospital. When he entered the farmhouse of Francis Kelly, a mile west of Douro, he was hobbling along with only one shoe. It is believed the other shoe was torn off in the violence of the impact as the truck crashed into an elm tree.

TWO PEOPLE HURT

He was one of two people injured Saturday in motor vehicle accidents.

Today he is recuperating in St. Joseph's Hospital from facial cuts and scrapes and body bruises. His left eye is blacked and he has a cut over the right eye. Though suffering from shock he is reported to be in good condition.

VISITED CHUMS

As a prank he took his father's half-ton truck Saturday night and visited a group of chums near Douro church. On his way home he ran into trouble.

The truck went out of control on a sharp curve and the vehicle rammed into an elm tree about three feet off the travelled portion of the road. The impact threw young McMullen out the door into the ditch and he lay there unconscious for some time.

He walked to the Kelly farm and there the Kellys hailed a passing motorist and got him to take the dazed boy to hospital.

The truck was wrecked.

SECOND ACCIDENT

The second accident was a mile east of the city at the junction of Highway 7 and the Old Keene Rd.

Charles Kemp, 43, of Lang, was going west along the highway and slowed his half-ton truck to make a left turn onto the Old Keene Road. A westbound car, driven by Douglas Erskine, 33, of Bolsover, crashed into the rear of the truck causing it to go out of control.

The truck plowed into the south ditch, struck a telephone pole and caromed off the pole without breaking it. It received about $500 damage.

Kemp who is a die caster at De Laval was thrown forward against the windshield and injured. He was treated later in Peterborough by Dr. Bob Young and needed more than 20 stitches to close the cuts on his face.

The new-model car that crashed into the rear of Kemp's truck received $150 damage. Erskine was not injured.

Police reported both vehicles were on the south side of the road when the accident occurred. Kemp was slowing to make his left turn and at the same time Erskine had decided to pass him.

OPP Constable Tom Armitage investigated both accidents.

Mayor Waddell To Attend Coronation

Four members of Peterborough Rotary Club have prospects of attending the international sessions of Rotary in Paris toward the end of May, and going on to London for the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth II.

They are I. Harland Keefer, Mayor Hugh F. Waddell, Gordon Monkman and Charles S. Cummer.

Mr. Keefer is the official delegate of Peterborough Rotary at the international convention in Paris.

Mayor Waddell has received assurance from the Department of External Affairs, Ottawa, that two seats are being reserved for him as Mayor of the City of Peterborough, and Mrs. Waddell, in Westminster Abbey.

This is the first time in the long history of Great Britain that the mayor of this city, accompanied by his spouse, has received an invitation to be present and witness the crowning of a British Sovereign. By the fortune of elective municipal office and administration, this honor falls to Mayor Waddell who thereby becomes one of the official representatives of the people of Canada in the Commonwealth assembly for the investiture of their young Queen. It is significant of the new stature of Canada in the British Commonwealth, and is recognition of the unity and allegiance of the British people personified in Elizabeth II.

Variety Show Yields $700 For Flood Fund

Proceeds from the Kinsmen Club's variety show Sunday at the Odeon theatre for the European Flood Victims' fund are expected to total more than $700. The club reported a total of $600 today with more than $100 promised.

About $400 was raised by a silver collection at the theatre where the two-hour show, featuring local talent, was held. The remainder includes replies to appeals made during the broadcast for special donations.

TURNED AWAY 500

About 15 minutes before the show started, an estimated 1,000 people packed the theatre to capacity. The club estimated an additional 500 people were turned away.

Appeals to aid the fund were made by the Rev. Robert Macdonald of St. Alphonsus church, Rabbi A. M. Babb and the Rev. C. G. Boyd of St. Paul's Presbyterian church.

Gordon Farquharson, Kinsmen Club president, said today that the club was pleased with the attendance at the theatre and wished to thank the public, the entertainers, and Station CHEX for their co-operation in making the club's venture successful.

During the broadcast, announcers Doug Whalen and Paul Reid, acted as masters of ceremony, and then for the remainder of the show, Orv Wainman conducted the show.

All the acts were donated and included: a 25-piece orchestra, conducted by Wally Parnell and including members of the Brock Ballroom and Club Aragon bands; Helen Hajnik, Emil Hawara, Mabel McLaren, Nickie and Pam Humphries, Judy and Sharon Welsh, the Four Blue Blazers, Red Hughey and his Westerners, Bob Fontaine and others.

St. Peter's Team Wins Debate

St. Peter's High School Debating Society won their second victory during the school year against Regiopolis College, Kingston, in Kingston Friday night.

The debate subject was: Resolved that Canada should adopt a policy of compulsory military training for all able-bodied men between the ages of 18 and 21. The Peterborough team upheld the negative side.

Margaret O'Keefe, Pat Masterson and Brian Philcox were the Peterborough debaters. The team was accompanied to Kingston by Sister Clothilde of St. Peter's, who is in charge of the team and three carloads of supporters.

The judges were the Rev. J. Walsh, Lt. Col. Gedley and Dr. O'Connor.

SIGN OF SPRING

A skunk was killed by a car about 500 feet east of the Lock's Bridge on Highway 7 on Sunday evening.

CHURCH ANNIVERSARY

Mark St. United Church celebrated its anniversary Sunday, and the guest speaker for the occasion was the Rev. Mervin Bury of the King St. United Church in Oshawa. His sermon in the morning was "You Count", which was directed towards the men of the congregation. Guest soloist was Reg Peters.

Community Fund Totals $9,615

Canvassers have turned in $9,615 for the first total from the Red Cross and Community Fund office since the campaign opened Friday night.

The divisions totals for the two campaign days and campaign objectives are: Special Names, $7,940 ($27,850); Industrial $111 ($41,800) Retail $185 ($19,250); Women's $684 ($5,500); Penny-a-Day, $695 ($600). The campaign objective is $95,000.

Rental Cars To Be All '53 Models

Jim Donnelly of Call-a-Cab and Hertz Drivurself says they are using all 1953 models now at their same low prices.

For example, five or six people can go to Toronto and back for $23.00.

Jim figures rentals should be brisk as he thinks spring must be here because all the teams have quit playing hockey. Advt.

Fight Against Arthritis Gains Momentum In Ont.

TORONTO — One of the most common afflictions in man is arthritis, which may attack in any one of a hundred-odd forms. Until 1946, the rheumatic diseases were the most neglected. In that year, the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society was set up to study the problem and to bring help, if possible, to victims of arthritis in Canada.

It is known that there are at least 600,000 persons affected, 15,000 of them permanently confined to bed or wheel-chair. Industry loses 10,000,000 working days through this disease group each year and workers forfeit $70,000,000 in wages alone. Additional manpower is lost to industry through the necessity of able-bodied members of a family having to stay at home to care for the afflicted.

Today, the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society is heartened by the assurance that there is at last hope for victims of the great crippler. Through its four-point program (research, education, home treatment, and clinics) it has already brought relief, and in many cases a normal way of life to thousands of sufferers.

February 1st saw the opening of the society's 8th Ontario Branch in Sudbury. Its president is Mrs. S. W. Rodgers, who has suffered from arthritis herself for years, and who is the prime mover behind this new branch. Treatment is brought to patients in their homes through the mobile physiotherapy unit, tre forty-fifth to be put into operation in Canada. Miss Kathleen McGhee, physiotherapist in charge, administers treatment to patients under instruction of their own doctors.

The operation of most mobile units is financed either by support of service clubs or through public funds. The upkeep of the Sudbury Unit is being sponsored by Local 598 of the International Unit of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

The society is planning to set up six new branches in Ontario this year. There are already branches established at Toronto, London, Leamington, Oshawa, Kingston, St. Catharines, Ottawa and Sudbury.

Ottawa City Reports $1,153,233 Surplus

OTTAWA (CP)—Ottawa board of control Friday night announced a record surplus of $1,153,233 on 1952 operations and cut the city tax rate for both public and separate school supporters. Public school supporters this year will pay 50.75 mills, a three-mill cut from last year. The tax rate for separate school supporters is 59.78 mills, a decrease of 2.55 mills from last year.

In announcing the surplus, Mayor Charlotte Whitton told city council with a wink that "maybe it was high time for Prime Minister St. Laurent and Opposition Leader George Drew to bid for her services."

Energy Problem For Actress In Broadway Play

By MARK BARRON

NEW YORK (AP) — Beauteous, russet-haired Rosalind Russell is discovering that her super-abundant energy is causing some acute problems as well as new triumphs.

Back on the Broadway stage after an absence of 20 years in Hollywood films, Miss Russell is the darling of the town with her exuberant performance in the musical comedy, "Wonderful Town," based on Ruth McKenney's "My Sister Eileen."

Since "Wonderful Town" opened, a constant long line at the box office has resulted in a pleasant problem for Miss Russell. That's because she does such an exhaustive performance in the role of Eileen's elder sister, Ruth, that she has been told to go to bed and rest for hours the moment she gets off stage.

Her performance encompasses dances, acrobatics, songs and 15 changes of costumes.

"However, I did play truant from my best periods a few times after I sampled those bouquets the newspaper critics presented us," she said the other day.

Miss Russell admitted she was very nervous and frightened the night "Wonderful Town" opened on Broadway.

She has an impressive background that should seem to get her over such "first night" fears. She made up her mind early in life to be an actress.

She played many, many weeks of stock and admits, "I usually got the leading feminine roles because I was always the tallest actress in the group."

She has appeared in many motion pictures including the film version of "My Sister Eileen." Her most recent film is "Never Wave at a Wac," which she and her husband, Frederick Brisson, produced.

PRODUCTION LINE—This is the production line where Sabre jet engines are overhauled at a new plant near Toronto's suburban Downsview airport. The plant was built and staffed by Canadian General Electric Company under an arrangement with the Defence Department. It is one of several factories being built at Toronto and Montreal for assembly and repair of gas-turbine engines. The production line at right moves the engines in for dis-assembly and repair and, at left, completed engines await RCAF inspection and approval.

CHECK JET ENGINES—A compressor stator, with its thousands of delicately machined blades, is checked by inspector Albert Stansfield. The engines, which power the speedy Sabre jets, are a complex collection of pipes, wiring and thousands of delicate parts. For some of the overhaul jobs technicians and engineers must scrub up and wear rubber gloves.

OVERHAUL ENGINES—The pressurized casket housing a J-47 jet engine is removed and the engine made ready for overhaul at Downsview airport. Previously the RCAF had been forced to send the engines—which power the Sabre jets travelling near the speed of sound—to the United States for overhauling. Now sent to the Toronto plant, the engines are taken apart and subjected to black-light rays which seek out minute cracks and heat-developed flaws.

Tried In Murder Found Insane

BELFAST (CP)—A jury Saturday night found a 21-year-old British airman guilty but insane in the stabbing murder of a high court justice's daughter over a rebuffed kiss.

Ian Gordon was ordered to be detained "during Her Majesty's pleasure"—that is, indefinitely.

Patricia Curran, 19, was found last Nov. 12 on the grounds of the lonely estate of her father, Justice Lance Curran. There were 37 stab wounds in her body.

Gordon was one of several hundred airmen housed in a former country mansion near the Curran home and had been introduced to the girl by her brother.

The prosecution said Gordon told police he met Patricia near her home and she asked him to escort her. He began to kiss her and found he could not stop kissing her, he told police.

Noted Dairy Man Dies

OTTAWA (CP)—A prominent Ottawa business man, Harry J. Clark, 60, president of Clark Dairy Limited, died in hospital Sunday. He was a past president of the Ontario Milk Distributors Association and a director of the National Dairy Council of Canada. A native of Ottawa, Mr. Clark operated dairies in Smiths Falls and Windsor, Ont., in the 1920s before founding his dairy here in 1928.

Early Underwriter Dies In Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—J. A. Leonard Robinson, 71, one of the first Canadians to be certified as a chartered life underwriter and for the last 25 years associated with the North American Life Insurance Company, died Friday.

Born in Kingston, Mr. Robinson was a gold medallist graduate of the Ontario College of Pharmacy. He worked as a druggist in Toronto before going to Winnipeg where he published the Trail Magazine.

He entered the insurance field in 1915.

$31,500 Needed For High School At Lakefield

LAKEFIELD —(ENS) —High School Inspectors, Gray and McKague were present at this week's meeting of the Board of the Lakefield District High School and gave oral reports of their recent inspection of the school.

Mr. Gray told the Board that principal J. E. Stephens and his staff were doing a good job, considering the difficulties of the opening of a new school, especially in the middle of a term. He particularly congratulated Mr. Stephens on the new system of keeping studens' marks, as the Department were not doing this now. Grants were paid on transportation, actual attendance and debentures.

Mr. McKague gave a short report on his inspection of the science room and recommended that the equipment should be placed on the tables as soon as possible.

Chairman Edwin Everett presided for the meeting and all Board members were present.

The application of Miss Louise Evans for Home Economics teacher at an annual salary of $2,800 was accepted. Her duties will begin in September.

The treasurer, Miss Grace Yonbe, submitted tentative estimates for year 1953 and Mr. E. Humpage, C.A., auditor, was present for consideration of same. It was decided to levy the sum of $31,500. for the 1953 cost of maintenance.

The discarded pupils' desks will be offered for sale for school use at a cost of $2. each.

Principal Stephens reported average attendance for the month of February as 95.76% or 186 pupils.

General accounts authorized for payment totalled $1,365.94. Transportation costs were $2,665.08, and were as follows: Roy Brown, $462.; F. S. Coyle, $400.; C. Dewdney, $76.; C. Hilker, $120.; S. Pearson, $1,060.; M. Reddick, $325.; T.S.A.B. An. and Chandos, $222.08.

Investigate Apt. Fires

KITCHENER (CP) — Investigation is being conducted into a fire Saturday night at an apartment, the fourth in the building since Jan. 10. Damage was estimated at from $1,500 to $2,000. Early in January an attic blaze caused about $2,000 damage. March 4 two fires broke out in the building at 515 Queen street owned by William Ruppel and the next day, Lucien Lecleerc, 43, a roomer, was charged with arson. He is being held in jail.

Fire Guts Farm Home

KINCARDINE (CP)—A Bruce township family fled their farm home Sunday night when a gasoline lantern exploded in the kitchen and spread rapidly through the house. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hodge, their eight-month-old daughter Carol May and son Wayne 2½, escaped without injury as the flames raced through the two-storey frame building and gutted it.

Expelled For Prank

LANGLEY, B.C. (CP)—Three Langley High School boys lowered the flag to half staff to mark the death of Prime Minister Stalin. The unidentified grade 12 students were expelled by Principal Roy Mountain immediately after their noon-hour prank Friday.

To Be Fired From Cannon First Atomic Projectile

WASHINGTON (AP)—An atomic projectile will be fired from the world's first atomic cannon during the spring series of nuclear experiments starting shortly at the Nevada proving grounds, it was announced Saturday night.

The huge, 280-millimetre guns, of which several have been made, were fired frequently during the last year but never with an actual atomic shell.

A joint defence department-atomic energy commission announcement said a unit from the Fort Sill, Okla., team of the army's artillery service will fire the gun.

The announcement said the unit will be "using a projectile armed with an atomic warhead."

The announcement said the firing will take place durig the series of tests, but not at the public demonstration for civil defence officials and newspaper men on March 17.

"The series of tests," the announcement said, "is designed to advance development of new and nuclear devices and will provide initial weapons performance data essential to military and civil defence effects studies."

Marilyn's Video Debut Changes Hollywood Policy

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marilyn Monroe's television debut signalled a sweeping change in the attitude of the big film studious toward TV.

Marilyn appeared on the Ken Murray show over the CBS network Sunday night, along with Mitzy Gaynor, Rory Calhoun, Jeanne Crain, Robert Wagner and other 20th Century-Fox stars. They were filmed at the premiere of "Call Me Madam" in Los Angeles last week.

The telecast marked the start of the studio's new policy—using TV to help sell pictures. In the past, 20th Fox and other big studios have been stand-offish, not permitting stars to appear on TV and almost ignoring the existence of the new medium.

The next move is for 20th-Fox to permit clips of its new pictures to be shown on the "Toast of the Town" show. Six pictures have been lined up for "miniature world premieres" on the CBS show, with six minutes of each film being shown as a "teaser" to home audiences. Stars of the films may also appear in person.

ABOUT FACE

It was on the "Toast of the Town" show that MGM did an about-face on its no-TV policy. Robert Taylor recently was a guest on the show, together with film clips from his "Above and Beyond." The show has also presented scenes from "Battle Circus," and Debbie Reynolds appeared with "I Love Melvin."

MGM has signed the two top TV stars, Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz, to make a film this summer. And it has permitted a contract player, Barry Sullivan, to try out for a TV film series off the lot.

Paramount has noticeably relaxed its rules against TV. Players are permitted to appear on the home screens for exploitation purposes.

Perhaps the most impressive example of the studio-TV co-operation will be the Academy Awards. Home viewers will see such familiar faces as Vivien Leigh, Loretta Young, Ginger Rogers, Jane Wyman, Anne Baxter and Claire Trevor.

$100,000 Fire Burns Business Block

OTTAWA (CP)—A stubborn fire Saturday night caused an estimated $100,000 damage to shops in a business block at the corner of Bank and Albert streets.

One fireman was overcome by smoke but was recovering in hospital Sunday. Firemen fought for three hours before bringing the fire under control.

The blaze apparently started in a switch box in the basement of the Junior Town clothing shop, spreading to the basement of Ritchie's sports goods store.

Busy Bank street was closed to traffic for 2½ hours.

Composer Of Ballet Music Sergei Prokofiev Dies

MOSCOW (Reuters)—Sergei Prokofiev, 62, one of Russia's three top composers, has died of a cerebral stroke, it was learned Sunday.

His body has been laid in the Composers Union Building, and many of his old friends from Moscow's Bolshoi Theatre filed past the coffin Sunday.

Prokofiev's music is especially familiar to ballet and opera lovers. Throughout the world the capricious chords of his "Peter and the Wolf" are as well-known to many children as Mother Goose rhymes.

Like Mozart, the great Russian composer began to compose almost before he could write. At the age of nine he tried to write an opera.

He was universally acknowledged as a master of "sweet discords" and—with Dmitri Shostakovich and Aram Khachaturian—was a leader in modern Russian music.

CRITICIZED

But in early 1948, Prokofiev and his fellow master-musicians became the targets of a campaign by Soviet musical commissars who decided their music was not sufficiently communistic.

The party's central committee demanded that from then on Soviet music must be simple, tuneful and popular. Stalin himself made it clear that Russia's composers would have to put more melody into their works.

Prokofiev promised to toe the party cultural line and said he would try to use more folk melodies. However, when his new opera "The Story of a Real Man," had its premiere in Leningrad 11 months later the commissars of the composers' union insisted it was too "formalistic" and has displeased the masses.

FELL INTO LINE

Although at first Prokofiev apparently resisted these attempts to tell him how he should write his music, by mid-1950 he seemed to be fully co-operative. When his oratorio, "The Guard of Peace," was produced as part of Russia's new "win-the-peace" drive, Prokofiev said that in the oratorio he had been trying to show Soviet children the "sinister voices of the war mongers and the Wall street sharks."

Among the best known of his works is the "Classical Symphony" written in the manner of the late 18th century composers. Also popular are his ballets "Romeo and Juliet" and "Cinderella."

Gets 3 Months For Car Theft

BANCROFT (ENS) — Charged with the theft last spring of a fellow construction worker's car from Bird's Creek, Donald Gallinger, 31, of Barrie, was sentenced to three months imprisonment by Magistrate R. C. Jackson in police court here on Wednesday.

The magistrate convicted Gallinger on the lesser count of taking the car without the owner's consent after Edward Sutcliffe had informed the court that he loaned the car to the accused to go to Bancroft for cigarettes and did not see it again until after it was recovered by Toronto police two days later. Gallinger was arrested shortly before Christmas at Orillia on a similar charge and was returned here to stand trial on completion of his jail term there.

Murray Kelusky, Bancroft merchant, was fined $50 and costs on conviction of a charge of failing to file income tax returns laid by RCMP officers. He pleaded guilty to the charge.

Conviction on a charge of driving while his ability was impaired resulted in a fine of $50 plus court costs for Cecil Woodcock after the magistrate extende benefit of doubt to the accused and reduced the charge from one of drunk driving. Accused was defended by J. D. O'Flynn, Woodcock was arrested by police last week after they found him at the wheel of his car stopped crosswise of the road near the village limits.

A charge of careless driving was withdrawn against Edward Reid, L'Amable, when he entered a plea of guilty to a charge of driving while his ability was impaired by alcohol. The guilty plea resulted in a fine of $50 and costs. The fine and costs were paid.

Charles Johnson, formerly of Bancroft, paid a fine of $100 and costs to the court on a charge of illegal possession of liquor. Johnson was arrested by Chief Constable Chapman at a hockey game in the arena last week after he was seen consuming liquor. Johnson is an interdicted person prohibited from purchasing liquor.

Carman Griggs, Belleville, won dismissal on a charge of careless driving laid as the result of an accident on Highway 62 last month in which the Griggs vehicle was overturned and wrecked. He was defended by Bernard Hurley.

For poisoning wolves Alfred Budarick paid a fine of $10 and costs as the result of a charge laid by game officials.

Louis Maraskas acted for the Crown in the absence of S. G. Robertson, QC, the assistant Crown Attorney.

Col. E. G. N. Lidstone Ran Poppy Fund

TORONTO (CP)—Lt.-Col. Ernest George Neville Lidstone, 70, general manager and secretary of the poppy fund, died Saturday at Sunnybrook Military Hospital, following a heart attack.

During the Second World War Col. Lidstone was chairman of the Church of England war service committee of the Toronto diocese.

Enlisting in the First World War in Montreal, he went overseas as a regimental sergeant-major with th 24th battalion. He served in Belgium and France and returned to England.

On his return to Canada, Col. Lidstone rejoined the firm of Anglin-Norcross with which he had been associated in Montreal. In 1934 he left Anglin-Norcross to become secretary and general manager of the poppy fund.

The Barrie highway has No. 400 markers, but the Queen Elizabeth has only ER markers.

Council Formed To Guide Union Affairs

CALGARY (CP)—A council of 11 members to guide the Canadian affairs of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind.) was created here Saturday night.

In the closing session of the three-day fifth annual Canadian conference of the union, the decision to set up the council was made in private session. The Canadian council of the union will study legislation and all matters affecting the international.

Decision on wages and contract bargaining formulated by the international will be carried through in Canada by the new council.

The union has about 100,000 members in the two countries, of whom 32,000 are in Canada.

The delegates decided the council shall consist of eight elected members, plus three assigned by the international for liaison purposes

Elected were Michael Solski, Sudbury, Ray Stephenson, Sudbury; Michael Kopinak, Port Colborne; L. D. Messmer, Medicine Hat; Robert Michel, Calgary; Douglas Gold, Kimberley; B.C.; K. A. Smith, Vancouver; and J. F. Tees, Yellowknife, N.W.T.

Assigned to the council by the international were Nels Thibeault, Sudbury; Harvey Murphy, Trail, B.C.; and William Longridge, Calgary.

Find Body In Ditch

WALLACEBURG (CP)—A four-day search for Charles Rombout, 56, reported missing Thursday, ended Sunday when his body was found floating in a water-filled ditch three miles northeast of here. Coroner Dr. M. L. Booth, Wallaceburg, said Rombout, a farmhand, apparently had fallen into the ditch and drowned in its eight feet of water.

Underprivileged Masses In Revolt

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

The death of Joseph Stalin and speculation over what may happen in Russia serve to obscure a basic fact of life on this planet:

That the underprivileged masses of the world are in revolt.

No palace turnover in Moscow, no breakdown or overthrow of the present regime would alter that fact, nor restore the days when Western peoples fancied themselves the world's only first-class citizens and got away with it.

Two wars broke the centuries-old pattern of the world. The pattern cannot be reassembled—a new one must be put together slowly and painfully.

Russian communism seeks with considerable success to lead the revolt of the underprivileged. The Western world takes cognizance of the revolt, but has not yet managed to give it inspired leadership.

Moscow has the advantage of being willing to "promise" a great dal to people who have little to lose and who can hardly be much worse off than they are.

The Western world has the disadvantage that it bears the blame for every piece of 19th century exploitation which may still be resented.

The Western world has, also, the peril that it is a relatively small "island" in the vast masses of the earth's land and people.

Moscow, at least under Stalin, apparently has felt it could be patient—that as long as it can hold the leadership of the larger masses of land and peoples, it will win in the end—a point of view with some frightening logic in it.

It is an interesting commentary that the reaction to Stalin's death at least on this side of the Atlantic, is recognition of a continuing state of near war.

It is made plain to the new regime that it has the "worst wishes" of the Western world.

If, indeed, those "worst wishes" were to come true in a collapse of the Moscow regime, it is difficult to imagine what might come out of it.

Probably there would be hitherto unimagined chaos over the vast stretches in Europe and Asia of what now is Russia; a chaos which might bring forth a new leader or dictator. Mao Tse-tung, Chinese dictator, probably would occupy a very strong position in such an event.

Georgi M. Malenkov is Stalin's immediate heir. His ultimate heir may not be apparent for a while. The stuff of dictators is not common. Malenkov may or may not have it. Apparently Mao Tse-tung has it. Apparently, on his stage, Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia has it. He could be imagined as a leader of a more co-operative world communism.

City's Blood Bank Depleted Man's Life Was In Danger

By COLLETTE FERGUSON

Emergency can mean many things.

Often it means urgent and immediate action is needed for the saving of human life.

This was its meaning almost a year ago today when Peterborough's radio station announced an emergency had arisen at Peterborough hospitals.

Can you remember a radio spot announcement one Saturday afternoon last winter starting off with the words—

"This is urgent, and your help is needed."

The radio announcer went on to say that both city hospitals were out of type "O" blood, and that blood donations were needed immediately.

But there was no mention of the reason for this urgent call for help. There was no mention that a man's life was in danger; that he wouldn't live unless he received 15 pints of blood.

One morning about 12 months ago, a citizen of this city suffered an internal haemorrhage as the result of a serious disease. He was rushed to hospital where he haemorrhaged four times in the next four days.

Blod transfusions were a must if this man was to continue to live. The blood banks in both hospitals gave out after he had received 15 transfusions.

Phones started ringing. People started working and soon the radio appeal was heard in Peterborough homes, and soon the word spread around city industries.

50 OFFERED THEIR BLOOD

The result was that in a very short time 40 people, housewives, office and industrial workers and professional people, appeared at Civic Hospital to give blood.

A Peterborough couple had gone to the show, had found the particular movie they were at, unsatisfactory entertainment and had returned home. Not knowing what to do for the afternoon they turned on the radio. The first thing they heard was the appeal. They decided to spend the afternoon at Civic Hospital.

A Peterborough mother who heard the appeal, couldn't find a baby sitter, so brought the baby to the hospital with her.

Many citizens who had never donated blood before, left whatever they were doing and set out for the hospital.

Today there is a citizen of this city who is alive, because this appeal was made and was answered so well.

This man is extremely grateful to the organzation that made this appeal and to these donors, but that is not the point.

The point is that this man might have been anyone in Peterborough. It might have been you. This realization strikes home that the organization and its activities responsible for saving this man's life is always ready to come through in the same way for you or a member of your family.

If you want the story from a dollar and cents angle it comes out this way. The man was given 31 pints of blood in transfusions. If this organization wer not in existence this blood would have cost him $620. As it was, it cost him nothing.

And still we have only a part of the whole picture. Today nearly all surgery is followed by blood transfusions. Nearly all surgical patients in both Peterborough hospitals are given two pints of blood following an operation to help overcome shock and speed their recovery.

There were three patients given more than 30 pints of blood during 1952. The remainder of the 2,452 pints of blood given in transfusions at the hospitals during the year were given free to surgical and maternity patients. These people were saved $49,040.

CITY HAS BLOOD BANK

In the majority of Ontario communities patients have to pay $20 a pint of blood. Why is this not the case in Peterborough This city has a blood bank and clinic operated by an organization of voluntary workers.

The organization that was instrumental in saving the Peterborough citizen's life and that supplied blood for the more than 1,000 other patients was the Peterborough Branch of the Canadian Red Cross.

Although these blood clinics are considered one of its most important services, the Red Cross serves this community in many other ways.

A loan cupboard is another one of this organization's services. In this cupboard are hospital beds, wheel chairs, crutches, air cushions, back rests, rubber sheeting and other types of sick room equipment that are loaned out free of charge.

The Red Cross also has a very active visiting committee. During the past year many sick people and shut-ins were visited. This committee also sent Christmas gifts to veterans of this district who were in hospitals and provided Christmas hampers for needy families.

One of Peterborough's branch's projects is the outpost hospital at Apsley. After rebuilding and equipping this hospital at a cost of $35,000, the branch continues to pay for repairs and equipment. The nurses are paid and the provisions are supplied by the Ontario Division of the Red Cross.

This hospital at Apsley is only one of 28 outposts hospitals in Ontario that are instrumental in saving many lives each year because of their availability in isolated districts.

TRAINING INSTRUCTORS

Most important to Peterborough with its great number of swimming sites are the Red Cross classes for training instructors in swimming and water safety. The graduates of this training conduct classes for both children and adults and Red Cross awards are presented to pupils who are successful in the tests.

On the Civil Defence planning for Peterborough, this organization has been given the responsibility for nutrition, clothing, shelter and registration of victims.

The Canadian Red Cross is a national organization and as such many of its services are operated on the national and provincial level in the interests of economy.

SERVICES AVAILABLE

However, this indirect method of administration should not make these services seem any less important to people in communities such as Peterborough. The majority of these services are as available to Peterborough as to any other community.

These services include disaster relief, services for veterans and dependents, Junior Red Cross services, international relief, Canadian Red Cross Outpost Hospitals and nursing stations, health and safety service and travelling dental coaches.

The Canadian Red Cross has personnel working in Korea and the national blood donor service is providing blood for Korea as well as stock piling it for national defence.

This Peterborough branch as one of 280 branches in Ontario has national and international obligations as well as local responsibilities. To carry out these combined services the organization needs money and is making an appeal for funds through the Red Cross and Community Fund now being held in Peterborough.

Last year the Peterborough Branch of the Canadian Red Cross received $22,000 from the fund.

TWO MILE ICE JAM—A two-mile ice jam in the Grand River north of Galt, Ont., followed by heavy rain, caused floods in some sections of farm lands near the city. Parts of Highway 24 between Galt and Guelph also were flooded.

Utilities Commission Handles Light And Water

MILLBROOK (ENS)—A Public Utilities Commission has been set up in the village to manage the existing Hydro Electric Commission, the water supply and the waterworks. A bylaw setting up the commission has been passed by the Millbrook council after approval by the Department of Municipal Affairs.

A committee of two are getting legal advice to find out if the municipality is responsible for paying the hospital bills of patients who have property, but no income and no funds. If the municipality is responsible, they will also find out whether or not a lien may be registered against the property of the patients.

The two councillors who asked A. R. Wilmott, QC, for legal advice were Weldon Coulter and G. T. MacPherson. They were accompanied by T. W. Belch, the village clerk.

HOUSING SURVEY

Councillor Ivan Gray reported that the Chamber of Commerce had completed arrangements for the housing survey to see how much accommodation would be available for people employed at the reformatory, soon to be built on the outskirts of Millbrook.

Village Assessor W. Elson reported the new assessment of the residential section of Millbrook is almost finished.

President Ted Gray and William Moore of the Lions Club suggested a change in the agreement with council whereby they paid for the use of the village waiting room by paying the caretaker. Council agreed on this change: the village to pay the caretaker's salary and the Lions Club to pay council $10 rental for the two monthly meetings.

Councillors Gray and MacPherson moved that beginning April 1 the rental for the waiting room should be $5 a day, or for part of a day. It passed without dissent.

The Millbrook parking bylaw is being disregarded, council were told. So, on a motion of Councillors Gray and MacPherson, it was decided to have the bylaw published twice in the Millbrook Reporter.

Fire Chief Douglas Sheppard reported a fire practice lasting one hour. Ten firemen responded. The equipment is in good order, he said.

Accounts totalling $673.10 were ordered paid.

Western Marks 75 Years As University

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—The University of Western Ontario's three-day birthday party, marking the 75th anniversary of its founding, came to an end today.

The celebration, which began Friday with a student assembly, continued Saturday in the Founders' Day convocation and a formal dinner, and concluded on a note of thanksgiving and worship in a special church service at St. Paul's Cathedral.

Throughout the anniversary four distinguished men figured prominently.

They were Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, the governor-general, Most Rev. W. F. Barfoot, primate of the Church of England in Canada; Dr. D. W. Logan, principal of the University of London, England, and Dr. Sidney Smith, president of the University of Toronto.

The four men were given honorary degrees at the 158th convocation in colorful ceremonies in Thames Hall Saturday.

Mr. Massey received the degree of doctor of letters. The degree of doctor of laws was conferred on Archbishop Barfoot and Dr. Smith. Dr. Logan was given the degree of doctor of civil laws.

Dr. Smith charged that universities are "evading, ignoring or even opposing the teaching of religion."

Calling for a return to religion in these institutions, he said "I suspect that students can graduate from many universities in complete ignorance of theology, incapable of explaining or defending their own beliefs, and with notions about religious traditions other than their own that are preposterously silly."

HAWES' are giving away 50 GENERAL ELECTRIC FLOOR POLISHERS to WINNERS in an Easy SLOGAN CONTEST

YOU May Win One!

EVERY WOMAN WILL BE THRILLED TO OWN AN ELECTRIC FLOOR POLISHER

Such a necessity in modern home-equipment. So easy to keep your Hawes'-waxed floors constantly gleaming and beautiful! Here's how you may win one of these grand Polishers.

Hawes' are awarding 25 General Electric Floor Polishers to the senders of the best 25 Slogans or short Rhymes in this Contest; and another 25 to the 25 Dealers from whom the winning contestants bought their Hawes' Wax, or Hawes' Floor Gloss.

HAWES' Want a Slogan or a Rhyme

You can write one—it's easy! Write one on Hawes' Wax (paste) or Floor Gloss (liquid). Here are a few specimens to give you ideas:-

HAWES' FLOOR WAX

"HAWES'—goes farther—lasts longer—shines brighter."
"The Magic Means to Lovelier Floors"
"HAWES'—the shine that won't walk off."

HAWES' FLOOR GLOSS

Wipe it on, see it shine.
Say! Hawes' Floor Gloss is really fine!
Pour on a little Gloss—wait a little while
See on floor a sparkle
On your face a smile!

CONTEST RULES READ CAREFULLY

1. Write a Slogan or Short Rhyme—not more than 20 words—which to your mind best describes the superiority and advantages of HAWES' FLOOR WAX or HAWES' FLOOR GLOSS.
2. Submit as many Slogans or Rhymes as you wish, but not more than one prize will be awarded to any one contestant.
3. Slogans or Rhymes must be plainly written (or typed) on one side of the paper only, and your name and address clearly written or printed at the top of the sheet. NOTE—Be sure to give the full name and address of the Dealer from whom you purchased your tin of HAWES' in order that he too may win a prize.
4. To qualify for a prize—buy a tin of HAWES' FLOOR WAX or HAWES' FLOOR GLOSS and count the number of times the word HAWES' appears on your tin of HAWES' FLOOR WAX or HAWES' FLOOR GLOSS. Mark the number immediately following your name (and dealer's name), as follows—"The word HAWES' appears . . . times on my tin." No entry will be considered for a prize without this information.
5. Contest closes Monday June 15th, 1953. All entries must reach our Office by that date. Address all entries to—Contest Dept., Edward Hawes & Co. Ltd., 433 Dundas Street East, Toronto 2, Ont.
6. The Judges will be—F. J. Charsley, Toronto Daily Star; S. L. Rees, Montreal La Presse; James Scroggie, Toronto Telegram; R. O. McKeown, A. J. Denne & Co. Ltd., Advertising Agents.
7. All entries become the property of Edward Hawes & Co. Ltd., to use as they desire. The Company will not engage in any correspondence, or enter into any discussion affecting this Contest. By entering, all Contestants agree to accept as final the Judges' decision.

Names of winners will be published in this paper about week of June 29.

HERE IS ALL YOU HAVE TO DO

Buy a tin of HAWES' FLOOR WAX (Paste)—or a tin of HAWES' FLOOR GLOSS (Liquid). Read the directions carefully. They will help you find a good Slogan or Rhyme. Then try HAWES' Paste Wax on your own floors, woodwork, furniture or motor car. Note how easily it can be applied—how quickly it dries—how readily you can polish it to a hard, dry, lasting polish. Or try HAWES' FLOOR GLOSS on your linoleum, rubber or mastic tile floors. Pour on a little—it dries in 20 minutes to a gleaming, hard finish.

Take a few minutes to think of a Slogan or Rhyme that will convey in 20 words or less the superiority of either of these HAWES' Products.

CONTEST CLOSES AT MIDNIGHT JUNE 15th

Get your tin of HAWES' now, and mail YOUR entry to

Stalin's Body Laid Beside Lenin As 25,000 Watch

Eddy Gilmore, chief of The Associated Press Moscow bureau, was the only American news agency correspondent present in Red square today to get an eyewitness account of the ceremonies. Here is his dispatch:

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP)—They laid the body of Joseph Stalin beside Lenin today.

So now the two great figures of the Russian revolution—of the 10 days that shook the world—lie side by side in the big marble tomb in old Red square.

Beginning at the beginning, here is the way Stalin's funeral went:

Georgi Malenkov and other top men of the party and government gathered early at the Hall of Columns where the dead leader's body has been lying in state since Friday.

Chou En-lai, the Chinese premier and foreign minister, and party and state leaders from Eastern European and other countries were there, too.

The troops in long gray overcoats stand motionless on the cold cobblestones.

A 750-piece band is just before the tomb. It, too, is silent.

Thousands of civilians holding black-bordered portraits of the dead leader are in the square. They are very quiet and it is difficult to imagine how 25,000 can be quiet.

WEATHER COLD

Another 10,000 people are in the stands where I am standing—stamping, stamping, stamping to keep our feet from freezing.

The great gilded clock on the Spassky towers chimes every 15 minutes. At its first note, a military guard before the tomb changes—every 15 minutes.

The slug, slug, slug from their booted feet is the only sound in the spacious distances of Red square.

Faintly in the distance comes the sound of music. It is the stately and awesome Chopin funeral march.

The music swells. It is 10:30, and up the slight hill into Red square there comes a procession from the Hall of Columns.

The soldiers turn eyes right. The big band before the tomb joins in the dirge-like music which now fills the huge square.

It is 10:45 and the procession marches very slowly while Chopin's music rolls through the square.

First in line are the masses of flowers. Wreaths 10 feet high. Banks of flowers entwined in palm leaves and evergreens.

It looks like a moving field of spring's first blossoms.

MILITARY LEADERS

There is a long, white-cloth-covered platform before the tomb. There is nothing on it. The silk cloth flaps in the wind.

Two abreast march the military leaders. I can't recognize them all. Each has a pillow in his hand before him. On it lies the coffin of Stalin.

The coffin is covered in crimson cloth but through a rounded section of glass you can see the features of Stalin.

Just behind the gun carriage and its coffin walk Stalin's closest friends and companions.

The procession halts before the platform. Gently—ever so gently—Stalin's companions lift his coffin off the gun carriage. They handle it so tenderly. Very, very slowly they set it down.

Now, there is movement at the foot of the tomb.

The party and government leaders are going up the flight of marble stairs leading to the tribunal atop the tomb.

From where I stand, you can get a very good view of them and their faces. They look like men heavy with grief. Their faces are sad and set.

VIBRANT VOICE

At 10:58 an announcer introduces Georgi Malenkov.

Malenkov has a vibrant voice. He speaks without hesitating in clear strong tones. Loudspeakers bring his every word to the thousands in Red square and the millions in Moscow.

Malenkov never hesitates. He speaks out over the crowd. Every eye is on him. He finishes promptly at 11:15.

There is the slightest of pauses. The announcer presents Lavrenti Beria. He starts out in strong measured tones. People hardly move.

Beria finishes at 11:30 just as the Spassky chimes are striking.

Molotov is introduced.

The foreign minister begins, and grief-stricken, his voice almost breaks. He goes on.

At 11:55 Molotov has said what he had to say.

There is a pause. The announcer says that the funeral orations have finished.

Movement on the tribunal. Malenkov leads the procession back down the marble steps and out in front of the tomb in Red square to the platform where Stalin's coffin stands.

They take it up and move off toward the wide-open metal doors of the tomb.

It is 11:58. The first gun roars over in the Kremlin—the beginning of the salute. The bands begin to play again the funeral march of Chopin. Chimes ring out high noon.

SALUTE

Softly at first and then louder and louder go the whistles of the factories of Moscow, and the whistles on boats in the nearby Moskava river, moving through channels cut in the ice.

Cannons fling their fiery volleys into the March sky. The clock rings out the last strokes of 12.

The whistles are very much louder. The chimes, Chopin, roaring guns and whistles—Stalin's requiem.

At precisely five minutes past noon the last cannon sounds its 30th shot. The whistles die away and the final strains of Chopin fall from the brass horns.

It is strangely silent again.

Then there is a slight movement in the massed bands. Trumpets to a hundred lips. A great blast over the square. The first note of the Soviet hymn. The troops stand even more rigidly than before, if that is possible.

Hats come off. The party and government leaders come to salute.

With the last notes of the hymn, I look back over my shoulder at the Kremlin. The red flag of state which has stood at half staff since Stalin's death is slowly rising. Two men pull it to the top.

Spy Given Life

CAIRO (AP)—An Egyptian military court has sentenced a Palestine Arab to life imprisonment on charges that he spied for Israel, the newspaper Al, Ahram said Sunday. The convicted man was said to have conducted his spying at Gaza, in Egyptian-occupied Palestine.

Thanks For Stalin

THAXTED, Eng. (Reuters)—Rev. Jack Putterhill, noted for his pro-Soviet views, Sunday asked his congregation to thank God for the good Josef Stalin had done, whereupon two people walked out of the church. Later, Putterhill said: "We thank God for the good and we forget the bad—that is the Christian way."

54 Men Drown As Ship Sinks

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (CP) — Fifty-four men died Saturday in the sinking of the Canadian-built Egyptian Navy frigate Sollum in a fierce storm off this port.

A Polish freighter, the Czech, rescued 61 of the Sollum's crew of 114 by towing hastily-built rafts for the sailors to clamber onto. Towering waves prevented launching of lifeboats.

One of the men picked up died later in hospital. Only one victim's body was recovered.

The Sollum was built in Canada in 1941. A 672-ton bangor class minesweeper, it was commissioned in the Royal Navy as the Wedgeport. It was turned over to Egypt after the Second World War.

The vessel was pounded for seven hours by the Mediterranean storm before she sank. As the rescue ship approached at dusk Saturday, many of the sailors from the Sollum leaped into the sea. The captain was among those saved.

War Replaced Peace Proofreaders Arrested

BERLIN (AP)—The West Berlin newspaper Telegraf reports today that 16 proofreaders of the Soviet sector Tribune were arrested today for sabotage after it was discovered that their paper had praised Joseph Stalin as a fighter for "war" instead of peace.

The Tribune, organ of the Communist East German Trade Union Federation, published a condolence message from the ruling Socialist Unity (Communist) party which included this sentence:

"With Joseph Vissarionovitch Stalin, a great scientist of Marxism-Leninism and an excellent fighter for the preservation and strengthening of war in the world has passed away."

The Telegraf says all available copies of the newspaper were seized by Communist police Saturday morning but a large number already had been sold.

Massey Hall Rented To Mourn Stalin

TORONTO (CP) — Communists here have rented Massey Hall for what they describe as a "mass mourning service" tonight for Russia's Premier Joseph Stalin.

Fred R. McKelki, chairman of the hall's board of governors, said it is the board's policy to rent the hall to any group able to pay the rental fee.

Chaplins Expecting

CANNES, France (AP)—The administrator of the Casino of Cannes, Julien Duclos, said Sunday that the Charlie Chaplins are expecting another child. Duclos said Chaplin told him that Mrs. Chaplin has been pregnant for two months The famed movie star and his wife, the former Oona O'Neill, daughter of playwright Eugene O'Neill, came here for a gala organized by the casino.

Try To Patch Marriage

CAIRO (AP)—The mother of exqueen Narriman of Egypt is in Italy trying to patch up a dispute between Narriman and ex-king Farouk, informed sources said Sunday. The informants said Narriman's mother, Asilah Hanem, left Cairo by plane Thursday for Rome in answer to a plea from her daughter. The sources said she met Narriman and Farouk at some unidentified rendezvous in Rome Saturday.

FLOWERY POST-MORTEM — People's Police Chief Schmidt, of the Red sector of Berlin, leads a delegation past the Stalin monument after placing a wreath to commemorate the Red Premier's death.

Italian Students In Demonstration

ROME (AP)—More than 2,000 students marched through Rome today shouting "Down with Tito" and later stoned pictures of Stalin hanging from windows of Rome's Communist newspaper.

Carabinieri broke up the demonstration shortly after the stoning began. There were no reports of casualties.

Police guards were thrown around the U. S. embassy during the demonstration.

The students moved through the streets demanding return of Trieste to Italy. As they came to the offices of Communist "L'Unita" a barrage of stones flew out of the crowd, struck several pictures of Stalin and broke windows in a nearby shop.

The demonstration followed explosion of a hand grenade in Trieste Sunday night during a tussle between police and neo-Fascist demonstrators. Twenty-three persons were injured in the explosion.

MOST MOSLEMS

Of more than 75,000,000 people in the Dominion of Pakistan, about 85 per cent are Moslems.

Prospectors Oppose Change

TORONTO (CP)—The Prospectors and Developers Association today asked the Ontario government to withdraw proposed legislation under which prospecting concessions could be given on areas up to 100,000 acres in size.

Mrs. Viola R. MacMillan, who today was re-elected president of the association for her 10th term, said the bill was a "threat" to the livelihood of every individual prospector in Ontario and was "class legislation of the most dangerous character."

Areas of the size proposed, said Mrs. MacMillan, "would be as large as the Porcupine camp, the Kirkland Lake camp and the Noranda camp all put together, or even large enough to include the entire Rand area in South Africa.

"Suppose 50 or 100, or indeed 1,000 of us ask for a concession, which of us will be given the nod?"

Mrs. MacMillan said no area in Ontario, nor in Canada, is so remote as to warrant exclusive prospecting rights on large tracts of land.

The association also urged expanded geological and geophysical investigations and urged Dominion-provincial co-operation so that "a fair share of the federal program of investigation be allocated to Ontario."

It asked that the Ontario mines department increase its budget by $1,000,000 for expansion and expediting geophysical and geological investigations, especially airborne surveys.

Cyril Y. Young was elected vice-president and J. J. Rankin secretary-treasurer.

100 Workers Agree To Return To Work

MATTAWA (CP)—More than 100 employees of the Guelph Cask, Veneer and Plywood Company agreed today to return to work following a week-end strike.

Phil Boivin, president of the Lumber and Sawmill Workers Union local, called the strike Saturday after plant manager Peter Graham proposed that firemen look after boilers alone on their shifts and carry their own wood.

Mr. Graham said he believed any differences between the company and its employees would be ironed out this week.

The union had objected to Mr. Graham's methods in running the plant. He has been manager of the factory since his arrival six months ago from Great Britain.

Mr. Boivin complained that the company had "broken its agreement" with the union. He also said employees never knew what job they were going to do upon reporting for work each day.

Salvage Army Trucks

WELLINGTON (Reuters)—Second World War army trucks, jeeps, bulldozers are now being brought here as salvage from island jungles of the South Pacific. A first load of American-built vehicles—some of which had never been used—arrived in the 460-ton freighter Vila Star from Biak island.

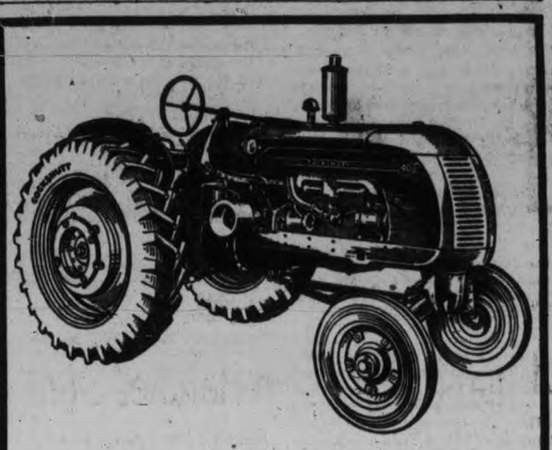
5,000 Chicks Burned

WEST BUXTON, Me. (AP)—Five thousand chicks, a horse, cow and two calves were lost with a three-storey henhouse and dwelling Sunday in a blaze that swept Fred Starbird's farm. Starbird estimated

Egg Prices Up From Year Ago

TORONTO (CP)—Consumers are paying 10 cents a dozen more for eggs than at this time last year and prices will continue to rise until next fall, Toronto producers and retailers report.

The reason: a decline in hen population and a four-cent increase in the retail floor price six weeks ago.



Today's prices for grade A large eggs are 63 to 71 cents a dozen.

Poultryman W. G. Bartley said by next fall consumers will be paying 15 cents a dozen more than last fall. But he predicted that would be the peak.

Mr. Bartley said he felt higher prices would be retained owing to good export shipments. A rise in poultry prices is also predicted.

Largest of the six Australian states, Western Australia has an area of 975,000 square miles.

Guides, Brownies Notified How To Pay Tribute

Local Association for Guides and Brownies met in the Salvation Army Hall last week with vice-president Mrs. A. Purdon, chairman for the evening.

A letter was received from the Chief Commissioner, Mrs. Wishart, notifying Guides and Brownies of tasks that can be performed by them in tribute to their Queen and to help celebrate her Coronation. Completion of these tasks entitles the Guide or Brownie to wear the Coronation Emblem.

Reports were given by leaders of Guides and Brownies for Salvation Army, St. Andrew's, St. Alban's, St. Peter's, Sacred Heart, All Saints' and Parkhill, showing all companies and packs working on badge tests and regular tasks, with some holding church parades, and having had mother and daughter banquets.

It is felt that the time has come for an assistant commissioner to be appointed to relieve the work of the present commissioner, as there have been many extra companies and Packs formed during the past months. Suggestions were asked from the meeting, and will be dealt with later by the local association.

The local association will be holding a rummage sale the middle of April, exact date to be announced later, and the leaders Brownies to each bring an article were requested to ask Guides and of clean clothing for this purpose.

A special meeting of the local association of Guides and Brownies will be held in the Salvation Army Hall Monday evening, April 27th.

Celebrate 52nd Wedding On Old Family Homestead

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Boyce, of 185 King St., celebrated their 52nd wedding anniversary Sunday at their old home in Smith township, where they receive relatives and friends.

Mrs. Boyce was raised and educated in Dummer township, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Miles. Following their marriage by the late Rev. Fussey at the home of her parents, they moved to the homestead in Smith township of Mr. Boyce's parents, which has been farmed by members of the Boyce family for more than 100 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyce moved to Peterborough 15 years ago. They are members of the Pentecostal Church here in Peterborough. Mr. Boyce is a life member of the Foresters of Bridgenorth.

They have one daughter, and two sons; Mrs. Ilard Clements (Irene) of Warsaw, Stanley Boyce who is now farming the homestead and John Boyce who is also a farmer, 14 grandchildren and seven great grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Boyce both think that the younger generation is pretty smart and that they are on the right track.

Never Overdress Is Advice Of Speaker's Wife

TORONTO (CP)—Voted one of Canada's best dressed women, Mrs. Ross Macdonald, wife of the speaker of the House of Commons, is willing to share her formula.

"Never overdress, for it is never embarrassing to be under-dressed" says Mrs. Macdonald.

Interviewed at the fashion festival of a large department store here (Simpson's), Mrs. Macdonald said she relies on fit and fabric for smartness, likes soft colors and never dashes out at the last minute to buy her clothes. "Plan carefully," she said.

When she travels to the Coronation, Mrs. Macdonald will take, among other favored clothes, a black lace and white chiffon dress being made for her here.

Asked about family reaction to having mother a "best dressed" woman, Mrs. Macdonald said: "My husband was really alarmed and my daughters laughed."

IODE To Present 50 Models In Fashion Show

An important collection of spring fashions from four local stores is to be presented by Jeanette Scott Chapter of the IODE this week, on Wednesday and Thursday nights in the Collegiate auditorium.

Most of the money realized from this annual major project of the chapter is used for education. A student loan fund is maintained and local students wishing to go on to university are helped.

Conveners of this year's show are Mrs. Robert Maybee and Mrs. P. J. LaBranche and they are presenting Mrs. J. A. Nornabell of Peterborough as the fashion commentator. This is Mrs. Nornabell's first appearance in this role.

Music for the show will be by Mr. Charles Allen.

Some idea of the wide variety of garments that will be shown comes from the number of models. There will be 28 children and 22 adult models introduced at each presentation.

Mrs. Phil Turner is in charge of the children and they will be: Carol Ann, Marilyn and Valerie Smith, Mary Allin, Barbara Northrop, Alma Boate, Shelly Rutter, Lee Rishor, Daphne and Heather Ferguson, Nancy and Carol Knox, Marlene and Adele Harrison, Barbara and Stephanie Bogle, Carol and Jeannie Kelly, Bonny and Barry Pow, Judy and Susan Clark, David Fraser, Brian Hewitt, Drew Rutter, Gordon Huehn and Michael and Marilyn Turner.

The adult models have been selected by Mrs. K. Wilson and they will be Mrs. B. R. Smyth, Mrs. K. M. Robertson, Mrs. Mort Knox, Mrs. J. S. Munro, Mrs. Jack Comstock, Mrs. H. Shields, Mrs. Haig Kelly, Mrs. J. A. McNeill, Mrs. James Matthews, Miss Lois Wilson, Mrs. Les Reichardt, Miss Joan Rahmel, Miss Joan White, Miss Joan Evans, Miss Wilma Watson, Miss Doreen Correll, Miss Lois Corner, Miss Lorraine Middleton, Miss Norma Sanderson, Miss Lorraine Derry, Miss Pat Collins and Miss Jane Buckland.

Decorating the stage for this event is Mrs. George Rishor. Mrs. K. Kingston will have members on hand each evening, to usher, and Mrs. J. McColl is to have others ready to assist with the wardrobe.

The publicity convener for this show has been Mrs. Donald Aitken and the ticket convener has been Mrs. G. McIntyre.

Honor Ex-Teacher AtCommencement

LAKEFIELD (ENS)—A sterling silver tray was presented to Mrs. Harry Stabler of Nepton at the Lakefield District High School commencement Friday night in the new school auditorium.

The former Miss Bessie Dunn, Mrs. Stabler taught in the Lakefield school for 19 years before retiring in 1951. The presentation was made by E. H. Northey, chairman of the school board at the time Mrs. Stabler retired and was made on behalf of the 1951 board members.

Music for the evening was provided by Glee Club under the direction of Charles Renaud, Miss Louise Anderson, vocal soloist, Miss Connie Valence, soloist and pianists, Norman Cowan, Miss Gail Northey and Derrick Hester.

The accompanist for the evening was Mrs. E. M. Foster.

Omemee WMS Display Quilts

OMEMEE— (ENS) — The Trinity United Church WMS meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. T. A. McConnell, with a meditation followed by a hymn and prayer.

Miss C. Connell, reporting for Christian Stewardship, passed on some thoughts on the stewardship of happiness. "Why abstain?" was the subject of Mrs. A. Rutherford's remarks on Christian Citizenship. Supply secretary, Mrs. S. Moyer read a letter from presbyterial supply secretary, Mrs. Charles Golden, giving information about the type of articles to include in the bale this year.

Quilts recently completed by the groups were on display along with extra tops which suggested opportunities to contribute toward linings.

The program was in charge of group 2. Leader, Mrs. M. Jones, introduced the worship theme, "The Community of Grace," saying the Christiain life is a life of fellowship and Christians need the church as a means of Grace. The Bible lesson was read by Miss Jessie Lamb. Mrs. H. Deyell prayed and a duet, "Strength for To-day" — was sung by Mrs. A. Weir and Mrs. T. Pogue with Mrs. L. Casey accompanying.

In presenting the study chapter, Unmet Needs in Africa, Mrs. Jones was assisted by Mrs. R. Brooks, Mrs. E. Mahood, Mrs. Deyell, Miss Lamb, Mrs. Moyer and Mrs. J. M. Sandy.

Nine P-T A Units Participate In Variety Concert

Peterborough Diocesan Council Parent Teacher Association sponsored a variety concert in St. Peter's School Auditorium Friday night. A large audience enjoyed talents from nine PTA units of the city and district in a program which ranged from comedy to the classics. Mr. Ed O'Toole was master of ceremonies and Miss Marie Flynn as program convener was responsible for the production.

A quartette from Immaculate Conception opened the concert with a selection of three songs, "Kentucky Baby", "Sleepy Hollow Time" and "Caroline". The members of the quartette were A. DeNoble, J. DeNoble, M. Leonard and J. Nolan. A comedy skit on education was next, presented by the Sacred Heart Unit. Mrs. Thos. Fitzgerald, of St. Alphnosus, very ably played the piano concerto by Rachmaninoff.

With Gord Burns calling off, St. Anne's Unit gave a demonstration of real old time square dancing, with two sets going through the intricacies of this ever popular entertainment. Mr. and Mrs. A. Seidel, H. Michel, L. Kramer and F. Johnston of the Holy Family unit, Bridgenorth, rendered instrumental and vocal selections including "The Blue Danube," "Galway Bay" and German folk songs.

"The Last Rose of Summer," "Frasquita" and "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise" were three violin solos played by Kevin Leahy of St. Francis DeSales, Mr. Leahy was accompanied by his wife. A second comedy skit, this time by St. John the Baptist unit, entitled "The Gossipers" had as its climax a square dance.

Mixed chorus of twelve from St. Mary's Parish, Lindsay, delighted the audience with many popular songs of yesterday. St. Peter's Unit presented "Down Melody Lane," a musical number of old time favorites, vocalized by Robert Baldwin and Mrs. J. Cavanagh and having a chorus of twelve ladies, beautifully gowned, to picture each song.

Mrs. W. H. Toal, president of the Diocesan Council, PTA, thanked all who had co-operated to make the variety concert a great success. Girl Guides kindly acted as ushers for the evening.

Ferguson-Todd Nuptials

Daffodils and ferns formed the setting for the double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. E. W. Rowland in George Street United Church Saturday. United in marriage were Violet Leona, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Todd, and Kenneth Douglas Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ferguson, all of Peterborough.

Wedding music was played by organist Mr. Charles Allen.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of creamy white satin. The bodice was buttoned down the back to the waist and was folded in pleats with a scalloped edge of lace, and the sleeves came to points over the wrist. Her long veil of white tulle illusion was caught to a tiara of seed pearls, she carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses.

Miss Velma Todd was matron of honour for her sister, wearing deep mauve taffeta with a double layer of nylon net overskirt and she carried a cascade bouquet of white 'mums. Miss Norma Rodger as bridesmaid wore a similar frock in light mauve taffeta with net overskirt, and she also carried white 'mums. Both wore halos of matching material.

Claire Ferguson attended his brother and ushers were Bill Todd, brother of the bride, and Gord Fennel.

A reception was held in the Empress Hotel where the bride's mother received in a gown of powder blue with black accessories assisted by the groom's mother who was wearing navy with navy and white accessories.

Later the bride and groom left for a motor trip to Toronto and Hamilton. They will live at 764 Aylmer St.

Can Be Comfortable In Tent With Temperature 40 Below

SASKATOON (CP)—A woman now in Saskatoon once lived with the Lapps in northern Europe and in the Mau Mau country of Africa.

Mrs. D. R. Jones came here with her husband, a plant pathologist who is on a post-doctorate fellowship with the national research laboratory here.

Mother of a 15-month-old daughter, Mrs. Jones has travelled in all parts of the world and has written a book on one part of her journeys—in the land of the Lapps in northern Norway. They have also lived in Africa, and left Kenya last July, just before the Mau Mau native terrorism erupted.

Her book "Reindeer are Wild Too" was written while she was in Africa with her husband, a study of her experiences in Lapp regions.

NATIVE DRESS

Mrs. Jones lived with the Lapps when she was Joan Newhouse, her maiden name which appears on her book. She was born in Hong Kong, and studied anthropology and geography in England. She met the Lapps and became fascinated "with the last of Europe's primitive people" while doing social welfare work at Hamfnerfest, Norway.

She was given a grant by the Royal Geographical Society and went to live with the Lapps, wearing their dress and passing as one of them. Part of the time she worked as a servant.

"Certainly you can be comfortable living in a tent when the temperature is 40 below zero—if you dress like a Lapp," she says.

She was accepted by the Lapps and learned most of their difficult language.

Mrs. Jones found the Lapp diet a bit harder, however. Except for coffee, sugar and some flour which they buy, the Lapps' food is reindeer meat. Despite the absence of vegetables and cereals, Mrs. Jones found them amazingly healthy.

Explorers Draw Capacity Crowd Donate Proceeds

A Hawaiian concert, conducted by Mrs. Ethel Cochrane and sponsored by the Explorers of Grace and George Street United Churches, raised $100 Friday night for the Grace church building fund.

The program, played before a capacity audience in the George St. Sunday school parlors, included a variety of musical selections of Hawaiian, sacred, old time and popular numbers played by the orchestra, quartets, trios, duets and solos.

Two selections were presented by girls dressed in Hawaiian native costumes. Miss Adele Cochrane sang solos in Hawaiian. Others taking part in the concert were Nona Sanders and Dianne Reynolds, piano selections, and Marjorie Sherry, a tap dance solo.

During the intermission Miss Cochrane played the piano and the Explorers sold candy, the proceeds of the sale also for the church building fund.

Coldsprings YPS

COLDSPRINGS (ENS) — The Young People's Union met on Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Minifie.

Due to the absence of the president, the secretary, Dorothea Bowman, presided.

The Missions and World Outreach convener, Grace Wilton, was in charge of the program.

Scripture readings were taken by Dorothea Bowman and Lorene Timlin. Poems were read by Jean Willis and June Buttars. Ivan West gave a reading; Eunice Minifie and Grace Wilton sang a duet accompanied by Viva Minifie. The meditation was given by Eunice Minifie.

"Living for Jesus and Being a Witness" was the subject of the address given by Grace Wilton. Warren Buttars accompanist.

Recreation was conducted by Grace Wilton, after which a delicious lunch was served by the hostess and committee in charge.

Little Women Hostesses To 350 Tea Guests At YW

The Little Women's Club of the YWCA held their annual tea Saturday afternoon in the Y recreation room, and the girls were hostesses to about 350 guests.

The tea room was done in the St. Patrick's theme with green, yellow, black and white decorations. The table was very attractive, with centrepiece of spring flowers and spruce boughs, green balloons and yellow tapers also decorating it.

Individual tea tables were laid with St. Patrick's table cloths which were made by the club members. The girls also made the St. Patrick's aprons worn by the servers and servers' headdresses were made by Mrs. J. Nestor.

Bazaar tables displayed homemade candy and cooking, handicrafts, white elephants, and touch-and-take parcels.

The guests were received by Dianne Wyatt, club president, Donna Wade, vice-president and Mrs. H. T. Rehill, president of the Y Board, and Mis Leta Brownscombe, executive director of the Y.

Pouring tea were Mrs. R. M. Hardie, Mrs. George Brooks, Mrs. Tom Cook and Mrs. D. J. Wyatt.

The following helped in the tea room: Mrs. Vic Northcott, Mis Jean McIntyre, Miss Patsy Taylor, Mrs. Sid Constable, Miss Isobel McCamus, Mrs. J. Nestor, Mrs. Hugh Waddell.

Servers were Barbara Bogle, Cynthia Bell, Lois Carroll, Mary Davidson, Marilyn Delpelarro, Vivian Gillespie, Rosemary Haywood, Shirley Hunter, Sharon Jarvis, Ellen Matthews, Marilyn Monk, Claudette Nestor, Christine Newton, Bernadette McGarrity, Elaine Parsons, Shirley Phillips, Arleigh Rishor, Caroline Radley, Dorothy Sanderson, Sandra Scarlett, Vicky Weir, Donna Leonard, Shirley Leonard, Gail Stone, Diane Tewsley, Roberta Vinette, Carol Wyatt, Margaret Storrie, Marie Crichton, Sharon Jarvis.

Ann Gordon, Sandra Ward and Miss Jane McIntyre were in charge of the handicraft table. In charge of the white elephant table were Ann Beauclerc, Ann Hele, Mary Hucks, Dianne Nokes, Alfreda Pooley and Lois Touchburn.

The home baking table was looked after by Catherine Tetlock, Maureen Howard, Gloria Ann Birkof, Ann Foster, Jane Mortlock and Miss Pat Taylor.

In the kitchen were Lynn Callaghan, Helen Sanderson and Maryanne Cumberland, Miss Ella Down and Miss Ruby Leach.

Mothers of the club members not only co-operated by supplying food for the home cooking table and tea table, but the following also made sandwiches: Mrs. J. H. Storrie, Mrs. C. Stone, Mrs. Eric Howard and Mrs. B. K. Scarlett.

Pianists providing the afternoon's background music were Ellen Matthews and Jane Mortlock.

Rosemary Brook, Brenda Turner and Miss Ruth Simpson took tickets at the door.

DOROTHY DIX:

When Man Fails To Live Up To Girl's Romantic Dreams

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 23 and have been going with a man six years older for the past year. He is a fine person—kind, generous, considerate. He has a fine position and we have delightful times when we go out. Since we have many tastes in common, even the evenings we spend quietly at home are enjoyable.

Several months ago Kenny asked me to marry him, but I found it impossible to give him a definite answer. I know I should love him but I cannot bring myself to the point of saying so. He has a few drawbacks which seem to be growing in importance with me. He is just my height and slightly built. I find myself envying my girl friends with their tall fiances. Also, Kenny's hair is thinning already and the picture of myself with a short, balding mate is not alluring. He has a few other minor faults—for instance, he's not what you would call a "snappy" dresser, and he makes some quite obvious errors of speech. What can I do to end this state of confusion? MARTHA

LADY BE WISE

ANSWER: You sure are letting a fine man slip through your fingers, but it's better to let him slip than to marry him, then spend your life yearning over the romantic ideal you wish you had married.

In-laws and finances may be accorded top billing on the list of marital hazards, but they are at least equalled by the woman who never gets over her dreams of a "tall, dark, handsome" hero. Of course, she never did meet this paragon of masculine good looks, and never would have. Nevertheless, her kind, considerate, tender husband must suffer by comparison. It never even occurs to her that she isn't exactly a glamor girl herself, and perhaps friend husband, too, failed to have all his ideals realized in the woman he married.

Choosing a lifetime mate on the basis of height, perfection of speech, hirsute endowment, or other comparatively trivial matters, is a risky business, Martha. I'll wager if you let Kenny go, you'll have many a regret over your foolishness. However, I certainly don't advise you to marry him until you're sure you love him and that he's really the only man in the world for you. A little mature deliberation will convince you one way or the other. Just remember you are no longer 16. The stuff of which romantic novels and movies are made belongs to adolescence; it has no place in the deep, enduring love with which two intelligent adults should face marriage. Teen-agers select their friends on the basis of appearance and apparent qualities; mature people, with a keen realization of the obligations involved in a future together, look for more stable virtues.

No one can make your decision for you, Martha. Don't delay it too long, or you're likely to wind up a frustrated and lonely person; don't rush it, either, lest Kenny be hurt by a lifelong attempt to live up to your sentimental dreams.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a teacher with a five-room apartment, and rent three rooms to an elderly lady. She has kitchen privileges, and is a pleasant person, but is constantly interfering with my privacy. She walks in and out of my two rooms just as freely as she does her own. I hate to hurt her feelings, but the situation can't go on.

OLIVE M.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Elderly women have a tendency to do this sort of "visiting," which is why so many people with rooms to rent prefer "gentlemen only." The idea of extending kitchen privileges always leads to a loss of owner's privacy, and this is something you should try to avoid. Installing a small refrigerator and a two-burner electric stove for the lady would give you your own kitchen again. In fact, just this week I ran across an advertisement for a complete kitchen enclosed in a small, single unit—sink, stove, refrigerator and storage space. If the apartment is not your property, you'd need owner's permission to install the extra equipment. But it would be worthwhile in the long run. The two living units could be completely separated then and your privacy might be given some measure of respect.

Femininity Striking Feature of Coronation Year Fashions

"LUNCH EDITION" by Michael of Lachasse, which is a superb afternoon suit of finest black and white English worsted. Buttons marching crisply down jacket front draw attention to newsy "stand-away" neck, feminine sleeve treatment.

BALENCIAGA shows the new lowered waistline, brought about by a wide belt that sits on the hips, below the waist. The dress of palest beige silk pongee has the virtue of perfect simplicity. It is gathered at the waist on an inside band.

DIOR'S "tulip silhouette" is interpreted here in an ensemble of dry-handled wool that drapes softly. The dress has width at the bodice, with low neck, slim skirt. The coat has width in draped collar, fuller cut through shoulder-sleeve line.

THIS VIVID OUTFIT for summer fun by Mirsa of Milan has gaily appliqued black-as-night poplin skirt spiked with fruit colors on skirt, and is topped with sheer summer-weight black wool for tight bodice and stole. The high-crowned gnome-like hats double as general carry-alls.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Desserts Are Problem Dish During The Winter Season

Desserts are such a problem at this time of year that they should be given serious consideration. I have to admit that I am a dessert addict, but often find myself in the midst of a dilemma.

What can be made for dessert in the least possible amount of time? There is always the comforting thought that a bowl of fresh fruit is better than anything, for it is better for us all and has the added dividend of no preparation . . but we can't work that dodge every dinner time and still hang on to our jobs.

Cottage Pudding is fine if the oven happens to be hot. I've given you my best recipe for it.

But another little beauty that I've re-discovered lately is Orange Ambrosia Custard. It may be made before you put the vegetables on to cook, for it is then chilled and ready to serve by dessert time. It has quite a company air too.

Baked Lemon Pudding is another quickee, full of flavor, that makes my mouth water to think about.

COTTAGE PUDDING (with Butterscotch Sauce)

One-quarter cup butter or margarine or good quality shortening, two-thirds cup sugar, 1 egg, ½ cup milk, 1¾ cup flour, 1 tablespoon baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt. Cream butter or shortening very well and beat the sugar into it. Beat in the egg. Sift flour and measure it then sift it with the baking powder and salt and add it alternately with the milk. Turn into buttered baking pan and bake at 375 deg. Fahr. for about 35 minutes. Cool on rack, transfer to serving dish and serve with—

BUTTERSCOTCH SAUCE

(1) Melt 1½ tablespoons butter, add 4 teaspoons cornstarch or to keep it very clear use only 2 teaspoons arrowroot flour, then add shake of salt, 1½ cup brown sugar, and 1 cup boiling water and stir until thick. Cook over boiling water, stirring occasionally, until there is no taste of raw starch—about 20 minutes. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla, and, if desired, a little more butter and salt. (2) Another richer version of butterscotch sauce is to melt ¼ cup butter and add 1¼ cups brown sugar to it. When blended stir in two-thirds cup each light corn syrup and evaporated milk or cream. Cook over boiling water 10 minutes.

ORANGE AMBROSIA CUSTARD

To serve 4 or 6 peel 4 large seedless oranges and separate from membrane skin into sections. Do this over a plate to catch juice. Put sections in large glass serving bowl or into individual sherbert glasses and sprinkle with shredded cocoanut—about ¾ cup. Make 2 cups Soft Custard: Heat 2 cups milk in top of double boiler. Mix together 4 egg yolks, 4 tablespoons sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, then slowly pour the hot milk over this mixture, stirring. Return to top of double boiler and stir until thick enough to coat silver spoon. Remove from heat at once. Add teaspoon vanilla. Cool, then pour over cocoanut and orange sections. This may be topped with whipped cream and chilled, or topped with baked or unbaked meringue made from the remaining egg whites beaten until stiff with 6 or 8 tablespoons fruit sugar. If you have a sweet tooth you may want to sprinkle the oranges with 2 tablespoons fruit sugar before adding remaining ingredients.

BAKED LEMON PUDDING

Juice and grated rind of 1 large lemon, ½ cup sugar, 1 teaspoon cornstarch, 1 cup milk, 2 eggs, 4 slices bread. Add lemon juice and rind to the sugar and let stand until sugar is dissolved. Mix cornstarch with 1 tablespoon cold milk; scald remaining milk, stir in cornstarch paste until thick, then add this to the beaten egg yolks. Butter a baking dish and put in half of the bread from which crusts have been removed. Spread with one-half of the lemon-sugar mix. Repeat. Pour custard mixture over. Stand dish in larger dish containing hot water and oven-poach until firm in oven of 325 deg. Fahr. Cover with meringue made by beating the remaining egg whites with 4 tablespoons sugar until stiff. Return to oven to bake meringue to golden brown. Serve this pudding warm.

6—In Memoriam

COPPAWAY—In loving memory of Mrs. Alfred Coppaway, who passed away March 9, 1950.
Oft and oft our thoughts do wander
To the grave not far away,
Where we laid our dear mother
Just three years ago today.
—Always remembered by her daughter, Mrs. G. H. Taylor and family.

COPPAWAY—In loving memory of my dear wife, Ellen Coppaway, who passed away three years ago, March 9th, 1950.
I have lost my soul's companion,
A life linked with my own,
And day by day I miss her more
As I walk through life alone.
—Ever remembered by husband, Alfred.

COPPAWAY—In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. Alf. Coppaway, who passed away three years ago, March 9th, 1950.
Her charming ways and smiling face,
Are a pleasure to recall,
She had a kindly word for each,
And died beloved by all.
—Ever remembered by Luella and Percy Nicholls and family. Also Elwood, Flora, Clara and Esther.

DECK—In loving memory of my dear father, Thomas Deck, who passed away March 9, 1952.
God took him home, it was His will,
But in our hearts he liveth still.
—Sadly missed by Herb, Bessie and family.

EVERITT—In loving memory of Arnold Everitt, who passed away March 9, 1947
There is a link death cannot sever,
Love and remembrance last forever.
—Remembered by his wife Irene, son Ted and daughter, Mrs. E. Hotrum and Mrs. J. Kanally.

SMITH—In memory of Sgt. A. A. Smith, who was killed in Germany, March 7, 1945, buried in Holland.
Soldiers rest, thy warfare o'er,
Sleep the sleep that knows no break,
Dream of battlefields no more
Days of danger, nights of waking.
—Ever remembered by mother, sisters and brothers.

HEWITT—In loving memory of a devoted husband and father, Cecil Douglas Hewitt, who passed away March 8, 1950.
—Sadly missed by wife and family.

WHATLEY—In loving memory of Sydney Whatley who passed away five years ago March 7th.
Peacefully sleeping, resting at last,
His weary trials and troubles are past;
In silence he suffered, in patience he bore,
Till God called him some to suffer no more.
—Ever remembered by wife and family.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

6—In Memoriam

MONAGHAN— In loving memory of mother, Mrs. Mary E. Monaghan, who passed away March 9, 1952.
They say time heals all sorrow,
And helps us to forget,
But time so far has only proved
How much we miss her yet.
God gave us strength to fight it
And courage to bear the blow,
But what it meant to lose you Mon,
No one will ever know.
—Sadly missed by Ray, Vic and the children.

7—Card of Thanks

I would like to thank the nurses and staff of Civic Hospital and attending doctor for wonderful care given me; also Rev. Douglas, Knox Church, friends, neighbors and relatives, employees of C.G.E. for cards, fruit and enquiries during my stay in hospital and at home. — Jack Kempt

I wish to thank attending doctors and nurses of Civic Hospital, relatives and friends for fruit, gifts and cards. Also to Rev. Poole of All Saints' Church for their kindness during my stay in hospital.—Mrs. L. Patterson, 177 Aylmer St.

Mrs. Charles Dobson and family and Mrs. Fred Dobson Sr., and family, wish to express their sincere thanks to their many relatives, friends, neighbours and Peterborough Utilities Commission for their kind expressions of sympathy, cards and flowers extended during their recent sad bereavement.

No Religious Service At Stalin's Funeral

LONDON (AP)—The funeral of Joseph Stalin today included no spoken prayers or religious rites.

Leaders of all religions in Moscow had said public prayers for the Soviet dictator after his fatal illness was announced. Priests of the Russian Orthodox Church, headed by Alexei, Patriarch of Moscow and all Russia, had been among those filing past his bier in the Hall of Columns.

But in keeping with Communist doctrine that "religion is the opium of the masses," the Church took no part in the burial rites today.

Call For Execution

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Jessie Moss, national commander of the Jewish War Veterans, Sunday said Ethel and Julius Rosenberg, convicted atom spies, should be executed immediately. Speaking at ceremonies at a local JWV post, Moss said: "Had their crime been committed on the battlefield, the immediate sentence would be death We are calling for the full fulfillment of that sentence now." The Rosenbergs were convicted of conspiring to pass atom bomb secrets to Russia. The Supreme Court twice refused to review the case, and President Eisenhower has upheld the death sentence. The couple is making another appeal.

...to On Way To Britain Under Escort

BELGRADE (AP) — President Tito, accompanied by military, economic and political aides, was en route today to Britain, presumably by sea.

A brief government announcement issued shortly after midnight said only that the Yugoslav government chief had left. The time of his departure and method of travel was secret.

The British foreign office had announced in London last week that Tito would arrive for his five-day visit with government leaders March 16, one week earlier than had been expected previously.

He is accompanied by Koca Popovic, state secretary for foreign affairs; Ales Bebler, foreign affairs under-secretary; Vice-Admiral Josip Carni, and other military leaders, the communique said.

A British admiralty announcement Sunday in London said Tito was expected to make the entire trip in the Yugoslav naval vessel Galeb, under escort of British Royal Navy ships from the vicinity of Malta.

FIRST SINCE 1947

This is the first trip outside the country for Tito since 1947. Then he received a hero's welcome on a goodwill mission to neighboring Bulgaria, Hungary and Romania. A few months later he fell out with Russia and the satellite countries.

Belgrade radio said today in a brief broadcast that the yugoslav people are following his visit to Britain with great interest and hope the talks between Tito and Prime Minister Churchill will "contribute to strengthening friendship and economic ties between the two countries."

The visit, described by London officials as a semi-private one, drew protests Sunday from a meeting of 3,000 Roman Catholics in Glasgow.

"Let us hope fervently," said the archbishop of Glasgow, Ronald A. Campbell, "that we shall not have to pay dearly for welcoming this new friend."

The Catholics are against Tito because of his Communist doctrines and opposition to the Vatican.

FOR EDWARD VII—In 1902 a troop of the old North West Mounted Police was trained and sent to London for the coronation of King Edward VII. In this photo they are shown heading a group of Canadian troops in a march-past before the Duke of Connaught. When Edward's coronation was postponed because of the monarch's illness, the troop was sent home. The NWMP later was represented by two constables.

Malenkov Describes Stalin Great Genius Of Humanity

LONDON (AP) — Partial text of Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov's oration at the funeral of Joseph Stalin, as broadcast by Moscow radio:

Our party, the Soviet people, all humanity, have suffered a most grievous, irreparable loss. The glorious life-path of our teacher and leader, the greatest genius of humanity, Joseph Vissarionovich Stalin, has ended. In these sorrowful days, the great sorrow of the Soviet people is being shared by all progressive humanity. . . .

Stalin gave his life in the cause of liberating the working class and all workers from the yoke and bondage of exploiters, in the cause of freeing mankind from exterminating wars, in the cause of the struggle for a free and happy life on earth for toiling man.

Comrade Stalin, the great thinker of our epoch, creatively developed in new historic conditions the teachings of Marxism and Leninism. Stalin's name justly takes its place beside the names of the greatest men in the history of mankind—Marx, Engels and Lenin.

FOLLOW TEACHINGS

Our party adheres to the great teachings of Marxism and Leninism, which furnish the party and people with the invincible strength and ability to blaze new paths in history.

Lenin and Stalin, in the course of long years, waged under difficult underground conditions a struggle for deliverance of the peoples of Russia from the yoke of autocracy and from the oppression of landowners and capitalists. Headed by Lenin and Stalin, the Soviet people have accomplished the greatest revolution in the history of mankind, have put an end to a regime of capitalism in our country and entered upon a new path, the path of socialism. . . .

Comrade Stalin worked tirelessly to strengthen the Soviet state. The strength and might of our state are the most important conditions for the successful construction of communism in our country. He secured, for the first time in history within the frontier of a huge multi-national state, the liquidation of national strife.

STRENGTHENED POWER

The strengthening of the defensive power of the country and the consolidation of the Soviet armed forces were the untiring concern of Comrade Stalin . . . We must keep them in a state of fighting preparedness for a crushing rebuff to any attack of any enemy.

We must strengthen further the unbreakable bonds between the people and train the communists and all working people in the spirit of high political vigilance, of intolerance and firmness in the struggle against internal, inner and the foreign enemies.

The Soviet Union has waged and is waging a consistent policy for the preservation and stabilization of a peace policy, of a struggle against the preparation and unleashing of a new war policy and of international co-operation and development of business relations with all countries, a policy based on the Lenin-Stalin premise of the possibility of the prolonged coexistence and peaceful competition of two different systems, capitalist and socialist. . . .

In the sphere of foreign policy, our main care consists in not permitting a new war and in living in peace with all countries. . . .

We have all that is necessary to build fully a Communist society. With firm faith in their limitless forces and possibilities, the Soviet people will proceed with the great cause of building communism. There are no forces in the world which can stop the forward movement of Soviet society towards communism.

Born in Cardiff, Wales, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Parker, Mrs. Collison moved to Canada in 1911, and resided in Toronto until 1924, when she moved to Lisle, Ont.

Mrs. Collison was a member of the United Church in Lisle, and before leaving Toronto was a captain in the Salvation Army, and was quite active in church work.

She is survived by two daughters and one son: Mrs. R. Christenson (Millie), of Three Hills, Alberta; Mrs. Donald Ferguson (Rhoda), of Prince George, B.C., and William Collison, of 213 Romaine St., Peterborough.

Funeral service will be held at the Washington and Johnson funeral home in Toronto on Friday, and burial will be in Mount Pleasant cemetery.

Move To Join Blockade Approved In UK

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain's decision to tighten restrictions on shipments of strategic materials to Communist China was a smart diplomatic move because it consolidated Anglo-American partnership, influential British newspapers agreed today. But they doubted whether the move will harm China much.

The Liberal Manchester Guardian says editorially that the decision, announced during the current Anglo - American conference in Washington, will likely "have a greater effect on American public opinion than on China's supplies."

MOSTLY IRRITANT

The Conservative Daily Telegraph says that though Britain has loyally observed an embargo on strategic shipments, "her limited and harmless trade with China is an irritant to American opinion; and these fresh restrictions affecting not only British registered vessels but also bunkering of foreign ones will be a valuable gesture."

"Whether this will seriously hamper the Chinese aggressors may be doubted," it continues.

Reaffirmation of British - American solidarity was the "chief fruit of the Washington conference," the paper observes.

The London Times says Stalin's death prompted British and American leaders to review the Russian situation and this may be the most significant factor of the whole conference.

"The test of the Washington talks will be found in what follows after," it says. "This will show whether the meeting of minds during this visit has shown a sufficient community of practical insight and wisdom to make a foundation for policies in aid of prosperity and peace."

Radio Is Removed From Parked Truck

A truck radio and a car aerial valued in all at $88.75, were stolen in separate thefts in the city over the weekend.

The radio, valued at $85, was taken from Al Winslow Motors on Lansdowne St. It was reported as a push-button model and needed to be repaired. It was taken from a truck parked in the Winslow lot.

While Martin L. Roberts, of 533 Armour Rd., was working early Friday morning at the CGE, the aerial was taken off his car, parked opposite McLeod's Drug Store. Detectives on the city police force are investigating the thefts.

Canada's Future Bright —Prime Minister

TORONTO (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent expressed confidence today that Canadians will justify Sir Wilfrid Laurier's prediction that the 20th century belongs to Canada.

But things were not always this bright in Canada, he told a Toronto luncheon meeting, and quoted at length a melancholy editorial written in 1881, about the time he was born, to prove it.

The editorial in the London Truth referred darkly to the building of the CPR and to Canadian prospects generally. Fifty railroads, it said, could never "galvanize British Columbia into prosperity." It was a land not worth keeping.

The country was one of the most over-rated of colonies, crushed with debt and marked by collections of shanties known as cities.

In the end it would go bankrupt. Ontario would go over to the United States and the Dominion would be exposed as the fraud it was.

So, Mr. St. Laurent said in a speech prepared for a combined meeting of the Empire and Canadian Clubs, believed "one outside observer at the beginning of my own lifetime."

"We sometimes feel we have difficulties today but in the face of that kind of picture, the risk is rather that we may become too well satisfied."

BUILDING NATIONAL SPIRIT

Canada had come a long way in the last 30 years in building a national spirit because "we have learned to respect one another."

"Without this broad human understanding—this spirit of brotherhood transcending race or creed which has become a national characteristic—we in Canada would not have accomplished what we already have in this 20th century."

The Canada of today had "an industrial and economic potential which, despite our relatively small population, gives Canada a place in world affairs immediately after the great powers."

"But a word of caution is necessary. The realization of our happy future depends upon a continued faith in our country, the vigorous and adventurous development of our great resources and the expansion of all our national activities within Canada."

ROTH TO PSCORER

TORONTO (CP)—Mickey Roth of Stratford Indians Saturday was named winner of the Moose Ecclestone Trophy, awarded annually to the leading scorer in the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A series.

It was the second straight season of league leadership for the Stratford slap-shot artist. He notched 39 goals and 61 assists for a total of 100 points in 48 games.

Jim McBurney of Galt Black Hawks led the OHA Junior A point parade to cop the Eddie Powers Memorial Trophy with 61 goals and 35 assists in 55 games played.

Boat Hurley of Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen was tops in the OHA Senior A goaltending department with a low goals-against average of 3.58. He allowed 104 goals in 29 games to win the Nat Turcfsky Trophy.

It was Hurley's second year in succession as leading netminder in the senior circuit.

Johnny Henderson of Toronto Marlboros notched the lowest goals-against average in the Junior A series to win the Dave Pinkney Trophy. In 50 games he allowed only 128 for a 2.56 average

CLOSE BEHIND

Roth's teammates, Billy Flick and Lloyd Ferguson, were close behind in the Senior A scoring race with 98 and 93 points respectively. Jack Taylor of Brantford Redmen was fourth with 90 points.

Orv Tessier of Barrie Flyers was runner-up in the Junior A point race with 94. Greg Hicks of Kitchener-Waterloo Greenshirts was third with 90 while Ron Attersley of Oshawa Generals finished fourth with 88.

Bob Gillson of Owen Sound Mercurys and Dick Piatowski of Chatham Maroons were runners-up in the senior goal keeping battle. Norm Defelice of St. Catharines and Bill Harrington of Barrie finished close behind Henderson in the junior netminding department.

HOLD GILLIES FUNERAL

STAYNER (CP)—Robert Gillies, 17, fatally injured Wednesday in a hockey game at nearby Collingwood, was buried Saturday. The boy, a defence player with Collingwood Greenshirts of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior C league, died about five hours after the accident, in an ambulance while being rushed to Toronto for brain surgery. His head struck the boards during a game with the Aurora Bears.

WON HAMBLETONIAN TWICE

NEW YORK (AP)—William H. Strang, Jr., 70, long prominent in trotting race circles, died Sunday. Two of Strang's trotters won the Hambletonian Stakes in successive years. In 1942, his Ambassador won it, and in 1943 it was Volo Song.

Lindsay Drops Close One

LINDSAY —(ENS)— Port Hope Redmen took a 2-1 lead in games in their OHA Intermediate "A" group final here with the Lindsay Muskies on Saturday with a hard-fought 4-3 win that was witnessed by a capacity crowd. Downey scored twice for the winners, who were again flying from one end to the other, and received a great game from goalie Red Wasson. Their other goals went to Medhurst and McKeen. The Lindsay goals were scored by Lewis, Hennessey and Sinclair. The last goal came during the final minute of play and the Muskies were unable to get the equalizer in the remaining second.

Play was close and hard checking in the first period, and neither team scored since there were few really good shots on goal. Both defence corps worked hard in the opening frame with Hennessey for the Muskies and Hogan for the visitors turning in the best efforts. Port Hope opened the scoring in the second period when Downey got the puck after a scramble in front of the Muskies cage and lifted it over a pile of players into the empty net. During the action in the middle session, Sinclair had the best chance of the night when he went in alone, shot into Wasson's pads, trapped the rebound and shot it wide of the open net. Later Vic Corley of the Muskies went in on a breakaway and shot into Wasson's pads. Wasson performed other great saves on Coombs, Parker, Crawford and Lewis to rate as the star of the period.

Shortly after the third period opened, Downey scored again, when he cruised right in front of the Lindsay net, took a pass from the corner, and potted without having O'Connell make a move. Lewis scored the first Lindsay goal three minutes later when he got in a long shot that Wasson missed. Hennessey tied the score two minutes later when, with the Muskies short handed, Kelly broke out of his own end, went in and tried Wasson, and Hennessey snared the rebound to score. After the half-way mark in the period, Medhurst scored from the blue line on a high shot that evaded O'Connell's gloved hand, and in the last minute of play, McKeen went in with Freeman and Medhurst, took a perfect pass from Medhurst and made no mistake with his shot. Fifty seconds later, Sinclair outfought Wasson in the crease, drew his rebound and shoved it into the net for final goal of the game.

Next game of the series will be played in Port Hope tonight with the final in Lindsay on Wednesday.

Collins Asks For Title Shot

BOSTON (CP)—Tommy Collins set his sights on the world lightweight boxing title today after a terrific display of punching power against tough Fabela Chavez of Los Angeles here Saturday night.

"Now give me a shot at Jimmy Carter," the 23-year-old cocky little Irishman said after his fifth-round TKO victory over Chavez before a country-wide television audience.

The one-sided action was stopped at 2:17 of the fifth after Chavez's manager, George Parnassus, climbed up on the apron to save his battered fighter from further punishment.

The victory was the sixth straight for Collins who previously defeated Chavez, Willie Pep, Glen Flanagan, Ronnie Clayton and Lauro Salas.

Cleveland Cops Double Win Continues Lead

Cleveland Barons, league-leaders of the American Hockey League, scored two week-end victories to tighten their hold on first place.

Sunday night the Barons defeated Syracuse Warriors 4-2, and Saturday walloped Providence Reds 9-2.

In other Saturday games, Pittsburgh Hornets tied Buffalo Bisons 3-3 and Syracuse Warriors shaded Hershey Bears 3-2.

The Warriors, fighting for a playoff berth, seized a 2-1 lead in their game against the Barons. Their first-period edge was wiped out by Fred Glover of Barons, who scored the deadlock counter in the middle session and the winner in the third period. Eddy Olson and Bailey scored the other Cleveland markers, while Kelly Burnett counted both Syracuse goals.

A four-goal outburst in the second period Sunday night gave Buffalo Bisons a 5-1 victory over Hershey Bears.

Gord Pennell paced the Bisons with a goal and three assists, while Bob Fryday scored two. Lorne Davis and Carl McKay counted the other Buffalo markers. Junior Wilson scored the Hershey goal.

Providence Reds edged St. Louis Flyers 6-5 Sunday night, with the winner notched by Barry Sullivan in overtime.

East Douro Victors

DOURO— (ENS) — East Douro downed West Douro 7-2 at Warsaw in the second of their best-of-five rural hockey finals before a large crowd. They meet again tonight.

Bill Moher starred with three goals, getting one in the first period and two in the third for the winners. C. Leahy and B. Heffernan notched one each for East Douro, and Farley clicked for two. The victors scored four in the final period. R. Allen and Martell counted in the second frame for the losers. Teams:

East Douro: Keating, B. Heffernan, J. Heffernan, D. Sheehan, W. Moher, C. Sheehan, G. Sheehan, Condon, Farley, E. Leahy, C. Leahy, F. Moher, Byrne, O'Grady.

Arcaro Captures Top Four Races

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—Brookfield Farm's favored Intent captured the $100,000 San Juan Capistrano Handicap for the second straight year Saturday and with the triumph went a grand slam for jockey Eddie Arcaro in Santa Anita's four richest races this season.

Returning to the winning form he displayed a year ago, the five-year-old Intent, a Kentucky-bred chestnut, coasted in by five lengths.

The El Refugio Ranch of Mexico saddled the runner-up, Don Rebelde, another Kentucky horse.

Trusting, owned by Mrs. Rea Warner, ran third, three quarters of a length behind the Don.

The time for the 1¾-mile race was 2:55 3-5.

American Team Win Grand Prix

SEBRING, Fla. (AP) — John Fitch, Stafford, Conn., one of the United States' top sports car drivers, Sunday night finished first in the Sebring Grand Prix endurance race.

Fitch and his relief driver, Phil Walters, West Palm Beach, Fla., drove a Cunningham for an average of 74.9 miles an hour in the 12-hour grind. The team covered 173 laps or 899.6 miles. The winning car is owned by Briggs Cunningham, Palm Beach.

Second was an English driving team, George Abecassis and Reg Parnell, driving an Aston-Martin. The Britons finished one lap behind the winners.

West Point Wins Over RMC 5-4

WEST POINT, N.Y. (CP)—United States Army cadets defeated Royal Military College of Kingston, Ont., 5-4 Saturday night in the 22nd game of the traditional international rivalry.

Often referred to as the most sporting event in the world, the game followed the same pattern as all previous in the series in that no penalties were called.

Beauparlant scored twice for RMC while Hamlin and Osler scored the other two.

Captain Dave Pistenma scored twice for West Point. His third-period goal broke a 4-4 deadlock and enabled army to win its fifth game in the series.

MAN WITHOUT COUNTRY—Michael O'Brien (left) has been riding the Macao-Hong Kong ferry nearly seven months, a man without a country. He talks over his enforced exile with AB. Melville Amy, of Kimberley, B.C., a crew member of HMCS Crusader which was visiting Hong Kong. O'Brien was stranded when he left his wife and child in Singapore and bought passage from Macao to Hong Kong. British authorities at Hong Kong refused him permission to land when his papers weren't in order. He also was refused permission to land at Macao for the same reason. The Crusader, 10 months in Korean waters, put in at Hong Kong for a 10-day layover.

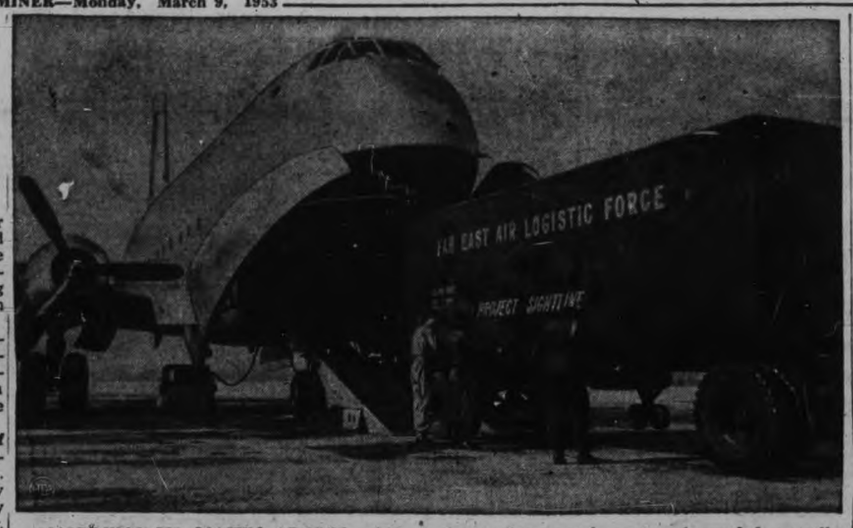
Move To Speed U.S. Action On Seaway

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Alexander Wiley (Rep. Wis.) acted Saturday to speed through the Senate foreign relations committee proposed legislation authorizing U.S. participation with Canada on the St. Lawrence seaway.

Wiley, chairman of the full committee and a sub-committee considering the waterway, said hearings will begin the week of March 23 but they will be held to three days.

On the first day, members of Congress and spokesmen from government agencies will testify. Backers of the project will testify the second day and the third day will be given over to opponents.

FOUR SUBJECTS



Wiley said witnesses will be requested to confine themselves to four subjects:

1. In view of Canada's intention to build the seaway regardless, is it desirable from national security and other considerations to have the United States construct part of the canals on U.S. territory and exercise joint control with Canada?

2. What are the problems in financing the work on U.S. territory on a self-liquidating basis through a St. Lawrence seaway development corporation?

3. Is it desirable to authorize deepening connecting channels of the Great Lakes to 27 feet as a part of the St. Lawrence measure, or by separate legislation?

4. In view of the application by New York for authority to build the power project, is it necessary at this time that Congress take any action with respect to the power end of it?

NOTHING TO YAWN ABOUT—The Air Force's first "flying repair shop" only brings a yawn to the huge C-124 Globemaster, but to economy-minded Air Force officials it means the saving of $18,000 for every 100 items repaired. On the fighting front, this complete aircraft workshop will be airlifted from base to base repairing equipment which once had to be returned to the U.S. for maintenance. The 26-foot van was transformed into a complete shop in one week at the Gentile Air Force Depot, Dayton, Ohio.

2,000 Tommies Work On Base South Of Antwerp

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD

ANTWERP (AP)—For the fourth time this century the British army is back in Belgium.

Some 2,000 Tommies, helped by thousands of Belgian workmen, are rushing to completion a vast base just south of Antwerp to supply the British forces in Germany.

Up to now the 110,000 British troops in North Germany have been supplied through Hamburg, but Hamburg, within shelling distance of the Russian zone, has been ruled out as a war base.

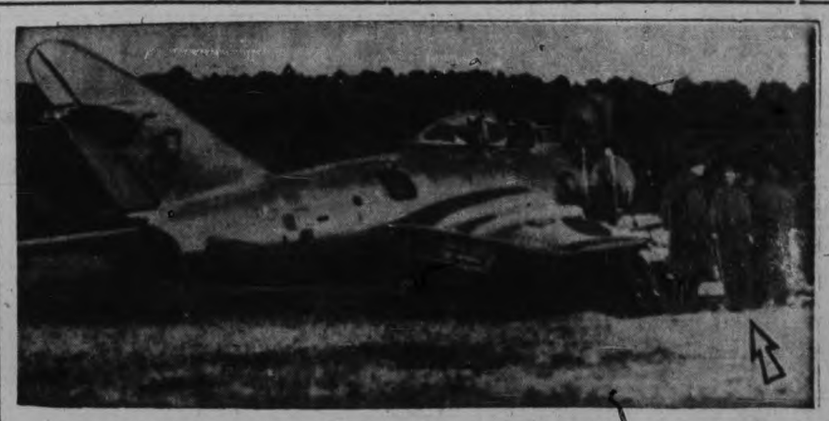
A bilateral agreement was made with Belgium to use the port of Antwerp, the British base for the Second World War invasion of Germany. The Belgian government agreed to provide the land and pay 20 per cent of construction costs. When the British pull out of the base it becomes Belgian property.

HUGE WAREHOUSES

The base is spread over an area 30 miles wide and 20 miles deep with huge warehouses for ammunition, vehicle spare parts, signals equipment, tinned rations, clothing, weapons and the hundreds of other objects a modern army needs.

A bulk petrol dump, big enough to supply a whole city, has been built. The main railway line runs along the dump. Vast quantities of fuel can be sent to Germany by both barge and tank cars.

Detailed figures naturally are a military secret but just one of the dozens of hangar-like sheds contains stocks of 45,000 different items.



PERMANENT BARRACKS

This spring the British troops will move into permanent modern barracks. Permanent schools, 150 houses for married soldiers and a small hospital are planned.

Huge quantities of stores already have been moved back from Hamburg and other points in Germany. About 10,000 Belgians will eventually be employed by the dumps.

To save British manpower special Belgian guards have been recruited and trained. Anti-aircraft defence of the base comes within the framework of Belgium's national defence.

An organization known as Rhine District funnels the stores to the units up front by the Iron Curtain. At present there are four British divisions there.

THE FIRST SOVIET JET FIGHTER to fall into Western hands rests undamaged on the tarmac of an airport on the Danish Baltic island of Bornholm after being landed by a young Polish refugee. The jet, believed to be a MiG-15, carried Polish air force markings. Police would not disclose the name of the pilot (arrow) who asked for asylum in Denmark.

Rapidly Growing South Korean Army May Alter Balance Of Power In Far East

By CORLEY SMITH

TOKYO (Reuters) — A rapid, important, but little noticed change in the balance of power in the Far East has developed in the last 12 months.

South Korea has built up an army numerically greater than any other Far Eastern force outside China. It included some of the finest fighting troops in the Korean war and now is holding three - quarters of the 155-mile battlefront—and, it is still growing.

In Japan, small but firm foundations have been laid for an army, a navy and an air force. Their potentialities are great.

On Formosa, Chiang Kai-shek's army of Chinese Nationalists have been schooled in modern fighting methods by 700 United States officers.

Political observers here believe that President Eisenhower formed a plan for welding this growing power plant into an anti-Communist bloc during his visit to Korea in December. Visits to Japan by President Syngman Rhee, of Korea and George Yieh, foreign minister of Nationalist China in January suggested that the ground was being cleared for some such plan.

Reports from Korea indicated that the Philippines also would be included.

In Singapore, a joint military committee for Southeast Asia is reported under way.

If the local rivalries and antipathies of Far Eastern countries can be overcome—major difficulties will still have to be smoothed out.

There are just as many problems here as there were in Western Europe when the North Atlantic Treaty Organization was first mooted.

In Korea, an estimated 600,000 men now are in the forces, not including the numerous "service corps" battalions which fetch, carry and dig for fighting units in the front line.

But military observers here doubt whether President Rhee's target of 1,000,000 men under arms can be reached. This would be a crippling burden for a country with only 22,000,000 total population. It would mean permanent removal of all young men from farms, fishing boats and factories.

In Japan, rearmament has so far been slow.

Many Japanese fear the revival of the military cliques which led them to disaster in the Second World War. And most agree with Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida that economic recovery must come before large rearmament.

In Nationalist China, Chiang Kai-shek's army has neither the actual fighting strength of the Korean army nor the potential military power of Japan.

The Nationalist army, said to be about 350,000 strong, is composed of veterans of the Chinese civil war. Military observers here say it could probably produce two well-trained but badly-equipped divisions at short notice and four more within several months.

Korea and Nationalist China must depend almost entirely on the United States for their arms and other supplies.

Helen Traubel Made General For Singing Tour In Korea

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—Imagine being a singer and having the U.S. state department for manager

That's what happened to the Metropolitan Opera's Wagnerian soprano Helen Traubel.

Miss Traubel, who made her Met debut in 1940, had travelled up and down the two Americas, but she waited years to cross an ocean. Then all of a sudden, making two round-the-world trips within six months, she practically gave all her time to ocean-crossing.

She has just come back to New York full of vim and vigor, with a firmer, louder laugh than ever, to tell all about it.

"Tell about this," says her husband William L. Bass as we meet in the globe-trotting singer's Park Avenue apartment. "Tell about that," says her publicity agent Elizabeth Winston. "Tell about the other thing," I say. So she says:

"Tell me about baseball."

Part owner of the St. Louis Browns, and a baseball fan all her life, she hadn't heard a word about her favorite sport for a long time. There wasn't much to say, except that training season was here, and she took up the subject of the trip:

"I left New York Dec. 1, made 53 appearances, got back Feb. 20."

"Tell about London," says Bass.

"I read about London in the papers' " I say. "It was wonderful."

"Tell about chop suey in Hong Kong and spaghetti in Rome," says Bass.

"Tell about Korea," says Bass, then starts it himself: "Miss Traubel was to sing in Honolulu, Tokyo, Manila, Hong Kong, Macao, hop via Karachi and Istanbul and Rome to Scandinavia for concerts there, and then to London for one recital."

"It was in Tokyo," she said "that the state department turned impresario and picked me up for a week's tour of Korea, where I sang 30 times. I flew in planes in bucket seats, rode in a train that was fired at by a plane, and once in a small boat off Inchon I saw a mine explode."

"And she had rank," said her husband.

She showed a card, with her fingerprints and, under the line "assimilated grade, rate of rank," the words: "Maj. thru Col." But the fact is, she said with a big boom of laughter, "they called me general."

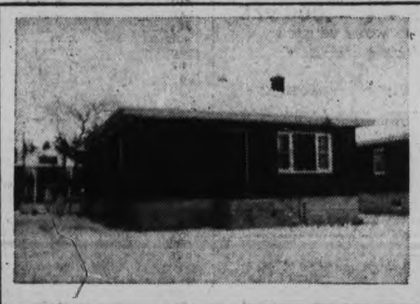
LECTURE NO. 5
"VALLEY OF THE HUDSON"

RECOGNIZED FOR his outstanding photography and interesting humorous narration, Julian Gromer will come to us with the travelogue that he considers to be one of his best. In vivid color he will take us the length of the mighty Hudson River, from its mouth of the Atlantic Ocean to its source in the scenic Adirondacks in upper New York State.

JULIAN GROMER

We will see Coney Island, the Statue of Liberty and we will spend a lot of time in New York City—both day and night. We will visit a number of famous spots—the majestic Palisades, grim Sing Sing prison, cement mills, war boats, ocean liners, Bear Mountain Bridge, the Military Academy at West Point, and at Hyde Park we will visit the old Roosevelt home with its lovely garden.



At the "North Pole" we will visit Santa's workshop, complete with reindeer, story-book buildings, toymakers and other helpers. Fascinating industries are always a part of a Gromer film, and in this one we will see the picking and canning of cherries, the manufacture of Smith Brothers cough drops, the making of color pigments and the creation of wallpaper. At famous Lake George, we will see how New Yorkers spend their vacations camping on picturesque little islands.

This is a picture that will end all too soon for the photography is perfect, the music soothing and the humor and narration excellent. It will add up to a most enjoyable and entertaining evening with Julian Gromer. Don't miss it.

Boat Capsizes, 21 Indians Saved

LADYSMITH, B.C. (CP)—A fishing vessel jammed with passengers capsized and sank off Ladysmith Saturday night but 21 of the 23 persons it carried were rescued by two men in a rowboat. The other two were drowned.

Dumped into the frigid water 150 yards off the government wharf here were 23 Indians who had piled aboard the fishboat for a 10-mile voyage to their homes at Kuper Island.

The craft, which also carried a heavy deckload of lumber, was making a turn when it capsized, going under almost at once.

Ralph Jones and Cassel Alec of Nanaimo made three trips in the rowboat to pick up the struggling passengers, rescuing all but a boy and an elderly woman.

Drowned were Earle August, 6, son of the fishboat's owner, and Mrs. Lucien Peter, 75, both of Kuper Island.

Six Children Burned As Home Destroyed

FLINT, Mich. (CP)—Six children, ranging in ages from six months to six years, were burned to death early Sunday when flames destroyed their home.

Their mother, Mrs. John D Allen, 25, was visiting friends nearby. Her husband, a factory worker, was singing at a night club where he works during week-ends to earn extra money.

The fire was first noticed by a neighbor who notified the fire department and then made a fruitless attempt to enter the flaming building to save the children.

Valerie, 16 months, and six-months-old Laran died in their crib on the main floor. The other children were trapped in an upstairs room. They were: Cleopatra, 2, William, 4, John, Jr., 5, and Cheri, 6.

Lakefield Board Asks For $19,350

LAKEFIELD (ENS). — Lakefield Public School Board will grant the use of the school, with the exceptiin of the kindergarten room, to the Home and School Association for their annual school fair on March 27, it was decided at the board meeting. Chairman Dr. R. H. Campbell presided.

Principal E. G. Sloan reported attendance for the month of February as 323 pupils for a percentage of 93.06. He was given permission for teachers to collect for Junior Red Cross and the needy children in the Far East. He also requested that a filing cabinet be purchased for the office. This the board will do.

The treasurer submitted tentative estimates for 1953 which were fully discussed and a repair and renovation program considered.

The Board will request the Lakefield village council for $18,200, and the township of Douro (S.S. No. 10) for $1,150., a total of $19,350.00 for current expenses for year 1953.

The finance committee recommended payment of accounts totalling $263.15.

Foreign Trade Climbs To $8 Billion High

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's total foreign trade climbed to a new high of $8,386,400,000 in 1952, a four-per-cent gain from the previous high of $8,048,200,000 in 1951, the bureau of statistics reported Saturday.

In a final summary of the year's activities, the bureau estimated commodity exports at a record $4,356,000,000, up 10 per cent from $3.963,400,000 in 1951.

Imports slipped slightly to $4,030,500,000 from $4,084,900,000.

With exports outpacing imports, Canada recorded a favorable balance of $325,500,000, compared with a deficit of $121,500,000 in 1951.

Toronto Man Charged In 16 Housebreakings

TORONTO (CP) — James Mcgregor Saturday was charged with 16 housebreakings. Police say the arrest breaks a two-month wave of housebreakings in the north end of the city.

One report valued the loot at more than $15,000 but police said this figure was extravagant. They said the loot includes watches, lighters, clothes, liquor and furs and that all were removed from homes well-selected, most occupied by wealthy businessmen.

Charges U.K., Reds Plan Divide Iran

Iranian Deputy Says Plan Behind Shah's Bid For Power

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Deputy Mehdi Mir Ashrafi told Parliament today that a British-Russian plan to partition Iran lay behind Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi's recently announced but quickly rescinded decision to leave the country.

The deputy, a supporter of Ayatullah Seyed Abolghassem Kashani, Speaker of the Majlis (parliament), made the charge in a debate over the recent extension of martial law in the capital city and its suburbs.

He said that Britain and Russia had agreed on partition and added that the shah's departure would have simplified the alleged plan.

The shah announced Feb. 28 he would leave Iran but cancelled his plans the same day after demonstrators urged him to remain. The announcement followed reports of a struggle for power between the young monarch and Premier Mohammed Mossadegh and charges by the premier that the royal court had been intriguing against him.

The demonstration touched off a week-end of rioting in which at least three persons were killed. The extension of martial law was imposed during the riots.

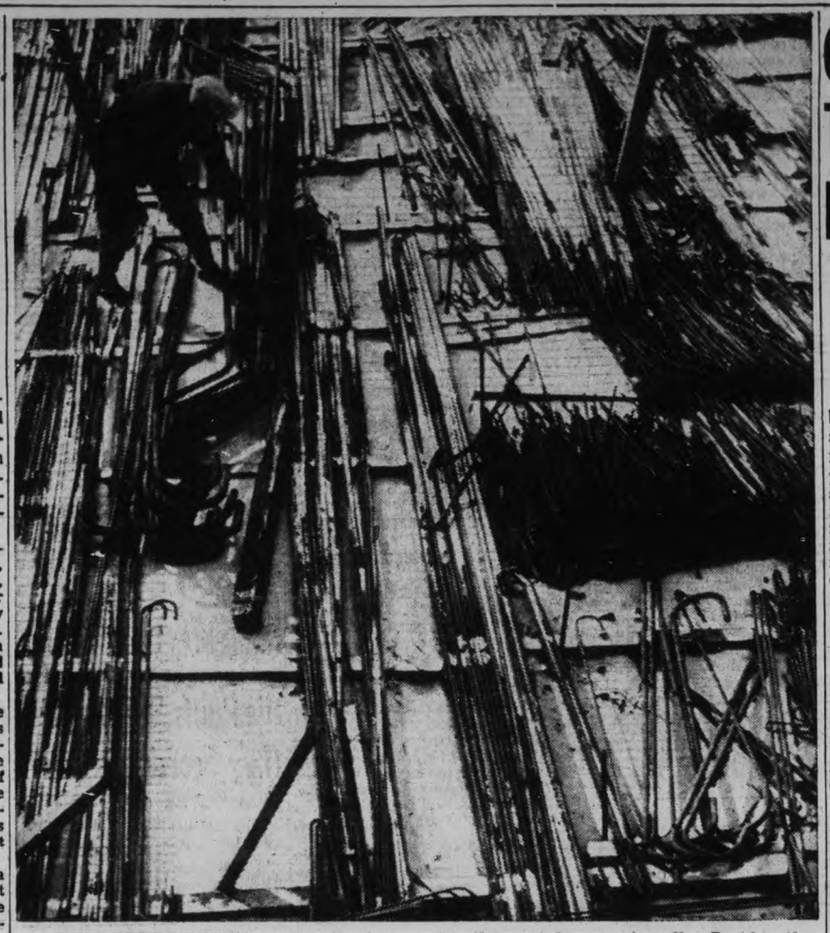
FAVORED SHAH

Supporters of Kashani, a leading Moslem religious figure on the outs with Mossadegh, were prominent in the demonstrations in favor of the shah.

In the early days of the 20th century, Britain and Russia openly made a deal to divide Iran into two spheres of interest, the Russians taking the northern part and Britain the southern. The agreement, however, was annulled by both Britain and Russia after the conclusion of the First World War.

The two countries again occupied Iran during the Second World War, dividing it on about the same line as before, but withdrew after the end of that conflict.

NO ACTION



The Majlis recessed without taking action on the martial law question.

Outside Parliament, Foreign Minister Hossein Fatemi told a press conference the texts of the latest British oil proposals and probably the Iranian reply will be published early next week.

Whether Iran would reject the British proposal was not stated, but

See Russ Wariness Of China In Kuznetsov Appointment

MOSCOW—(AP)—The new Russian government named deputy foreign minister Vasily Kuznetsov its envoy to Peiping today, emphasizing Prime Minister Georgi Malenkov's promise of continued unity with Communist China. The announcement of the appointment of Kuznetsov, a leading figure in the Soviet Communist party and long the head of Russia's trade unions, appeared in the same issue of the Moscow newspaper Pravda as a eulogy of the late Joseph Stalin, written by Communist Chinese leader Mao Tse-tung. Some western observers interpreted the appointment of Kuznetsov as an indication of Russia's wariness of Red China. It has been said that the Soviet fears Mao may demand a stronger voice in the determination of Communist world policy.

Kuznetsov succeeds Alexander Panyushkin, former Russian ambassador to the United States. Panyushkin, the announcement said, was recalled in connection with his "transfer to other work." He had shifted from Washington to Peiping only last June.

In his Pravda eulogy, Mao said "the great friendship of the peoples of China and the Soviet Union is inviolable. Any imperialist aggression whatsoever will be routed by us."

"We deeply believe," the Communist Chinese chief wrote, "that the central committee of the Communist party of the Soviet Union and the Soviet government, headed by Comrade Malenkov, can unconditionally continue the cause of Comrade Stalin, advance forward and brilliantly develop the great cause of communism."

Many Muscovites visited Red Square today to see again the big red marble tomb of Lenin in which the body of Stalin was buried Monday.

Above the huge metal doors, where previously was carved the single name "Lenin," the two names now appear in red letters on a black sign—"Lenin" above, "Stalin" under it.

CLOSED TO PUBLIC

The tomb is closed to the public at present but it was announced that the people would be informed when it would be opened.

Officials announced the mausoleum would be known as the tomb

Chevrier Rejects Bid From Opposition To Delay Increases

OTTAWA—(CP)—The cabinet will not take the initiative in holding up a new freight rate increase of seven per cent. It will act only on any formal appeal lodged by bodies such as provincial governments, Transport Minister Chevrier said Monday in the Commons a few hours after the board of transport commissioners had awarded the $38,500,000-a-year increase. Mr. Chevrier rejected requests from members of the three opposition groups that the government either rescind the increase or hold it up for further consideration. Under the Railway Act, the cabinet can do this, with or without an appeal.

"If the provinces, as they have a perfect right to do, proceed under section 52 of the Railway Act, (the appeal section) I can give assurance that their application will receive the attention of the government," Mr. Chevrier said.

(Section 52 also empowers cabinet to rescind or change any transport board decision, with or without appeal.)

ASKS FOR STAY

When Clarie Gillis (CCF—Cape Breton South) later asked Mr. Chevrier if a "stay of execution" would be granted, the minister replied:

"The answer is no." An application for reconsideration should be made under the Railway Act.

Under the board decision, the increase—fifth of the post-war series—may go into effect by March 16. An application for a further nine-per-cent increase still is pending before the transport board, along with one for a basic change in the rate-setting method that would involve indeterminate boosts on top of that.

Requests in the Commons from CCF, Social Credit and Progressive Conservative members were that the seven-per-cent hoist be called off either altogether or until one or another of these developments had come about:

OPENS HEARINGS

1. Implementation of general freight - rate equalization recommended in 1951 by the royal commission on transportation. The major transport board order on this is due to come into effect Jan. 1, 1954, and meanwhile the board is opening trans-Canada hearings on it next week.
2. Consideration by the sessional

Damage About $40,000 As Old Folk Flee Hospital In Little Britain

LITTLE BRITAIN—(ENS)—An 89-year-old woman is missing after a $40,000 fire swept through the 75-year-old Little Britain Private Hospital shortly before noon today. Another elderly woman, first reported to have died of shock, is in Lindsay hospital, in satisfactory condition. Missing is a Mrs. Stevenson, believed to be from Toronto. In Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay is Mrs. Kate Purdy, 86, of Little Britain, who was carried unconscious from the burning building. At press time there was still no clue to Mrs. Stevenson's whereabouts. In the confusion of evacuating the 19 patients from the hospital, she may have been overlooked or become lost. The hospital is operated by Mr. and Mrs. George Starr, with the aid of three nurses.

Two fire trucks from Lindsay and a private pumper from a Mariposa firm helped fight the blaze. Hundreds of spectators crowded to the scene and order had to be maintained by provincial police.

Bucket brigades are credited with saving the nurses' residence to the north of the hospital and the home of Fulton Chidley to the south. Mrs. Starr is also owner of the nurses' residence.

STARTED IN ATTIC

Fire somehow broke out in the attic of the two-storey brick building early today and it was discovered by Mrs. Starr at 10:30 a.m. By 1 p.m. only a shell remained of the convalescent hospital. The cause of the fire is not known though Mrs. Starr thinks it was some overheated pipes.

After turning in the alarm Mrs. Starr helped the three nurses evacuate the 19 elderly people from the burning building.

SAVED FURNISHINGS

Volunteers rushed into the ground floor to save whatever could be moved of the furnishings. Furniture, a refrigerator, washing machines, an electric stove and other kitchen equipment were piled in the yard behind the hospital. Only a few personal possessions could be rescued.

First fire fighting appartus on the scene was a pumper from the Hogg and Lytle warehouse at Mariposa Station, four miles north of the village. A call was made to Lindsay at 11:25 p.m. when the mounting flames made it appear for a while that other buildings would catch fire.

A hose truck and a pumper were despatched from Lindsay along with Fire Chief Alex Wylie and six men. It was nearly an hour later that their hoses were able to play on the fire. A relay of pumpers from a creek, downhill and some 200 yards away, was needed to force the water uphill that distance.

Most of the patients were taken to Lindsay by ambulance. And authorities are checking to find out if Mrs. Stevenson could have been given shelter somewhere else during the general confusion of evacuation.

Says Ammunition Production Swings Upward

WASHINGTON (AP)—Defence Secretary Charles Wilson said today enough ammunition will be available soon to give the 8th army command in Korea "considerable latitude" in determining whether there should be "a more active type of operations."

His statement, carrying a hint of possible early stepped up blows, or even a limited offensive against the Communists was made to senators inquiring into the ammunition supply situation.

Wilson said ammunition production has been expanded rapidly in recent months. He declared supplies in Korea are adequate to meet present needs.

Wilson was first of a number of top-level civilian and military leaders to testify before the Senate armed services committee at an inquiry into charges by Gen. James Van Fleet that supplies of some ammunition have been and still are critically short.

STIRRED CONTROVERSY

Van Fleet, retiring commander of the 8th army in Korea, stirred up the controversy over ammunition shortages by testimony before Senate committees last week.

Wilson indicated in his tatement that he and President Eisenhower had gone into the question of ammunition shortages and Gen. Van Fleet's complaints at the time they visited Korea last year.

The defence secretary said that ammunition production had been stepped up sharply recently, especially in types that had been short.

He said February production was 114 per cent of the ammunition actually fired or used in January.

(In Ottawa Monday Ralph Campney, parliamentary assistant to Defence Minister Claxton, said Canadian troops in Korea have experienced no shortage of ammunition in operations although there is some rationing when they are in holding roles.)

See Death Pact In London's Plush Ritz Hotel

LONDON (Reuters) — Scotland Yard experts today studied a crumpled note written in French as a possible clue to the murder of a beautiful blonde Englishwoman in Room 223 of London's plush Ritz Hotel.

The fully-clothed body of 30-year-old Eileen Hill, a retired policeman's daughter, was found Monday on the pink satin bedcover of the room. Her throat was slashed.

At the foot of the bed in the elegant bedroom, wealthy, eccentric French Baron Pierre de Laitre was lying dead with his suspenders tangled around his neck.

The crumpled note lay beside the bodies.

Police were apparently working on the theory that it was a case of murder and suicide. They did not immediately indicate the contents of the note.

SAID MAN AND WIFE

The couple had arrived last week-end and registered as man and wife with a Paris address.

To the villagers of Plechatel in Brittany, the 40-year-old baron was well-known. They said today he had been seen often at his castle in Plechatel about a month ago with a tall, blonde Englishwoman.

There was a local scandal in November, 1949, when the baron, also tall and blond, on the eve of his wedding to a French woman, chased her and her father from the castle grounds with a rifle.

He fired but no one was hurt. Next day, about 600 guests arrived at the castle for the wedding ceremony but were told it wouldn't take place. Nevertheless, he entertained them to a lavish "wedding breakfast."

Three months later, he married the woman. She divorced him a few months later and is now reported living in the south of France.

Churchill Says UK Reconsiders Exchange Offer

LONDON (AP)— Prime Minister Churchill said today his government is reconsidering a Hungarian Communist offer to exchange British business man Edgar Sanders for a Chinese girl guerrilla.

He made the statement in the House of Commons in reply to Questions.

Sanders, convicted on espionage charges, now is serving a 13-year sentence in a Hungarian prison. The other figure in the case is Lee Meng, 25-year-old Communist terrorist leader in Malaya.

COMMUNTED

The sultan of Perak commuted to life imprisonment Monday the death sentence imposed on Lee Meng for carrying a live grenade in defiance of Malaya's emergency laws.

On March 2 Churchill turned down the Communist exchange offer for the time being but said he did "not exclude further consideration once the question of the capital sentence has been resolved by the responsible authorities."

Report Poland Holds Danish Fishing Boats

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Reliable sources reported today that Communist Poland is holding six Danish fishing vessels captive in the port of Gdansk (Danzig), possibly in reprisal for Denmark's retention of a Soviet-built Polish MiG-15 jet fighter plane.

Authoritative sources said seven Danish fishing craft took refuge in the Polish port from a raging storm Sunday and were ordered to leave "in three minutes." One cutter, the Thailand, made it out in time, but the others were held.

The six ships carried a total of about 20 crew members. Their fate was unknown.

SOUGHT ASYLUM

The plane was flown last Thursday to the Danish island of Bornholm, 60 miles from the Polish coast, by a 21-year-old Polish fighter pilot who said he wanted political asylum. He has been held ever since by Danish authorities, who have not announced what they plan to do with him.

His plane, the first undamaged MiG to fall into Western hands, was taken apart and was brought here Monday for close study by air force experts.

Poland's minister to Denmark Dr. Stanislaw Kelles-Krauz, delivered a third note to the Danish government Monday, again angrily demanding return of the plane to his country. The Danes have made no move to comply so far.

Northern Cities Have Bomb Scare

FORT FRANCES (CP) — Fort Frances and nearby International Falls, Minn., had an atom bomb scare Monday.

Residents were awakened by a heavy explosion preceded by what observers described as a brilliant flash in the sky. Another sweeping yellow flash split the skies of the area Monday night but no noise was reported accompanying it.

Last month E. W. Downward, civil defence director for International Falls, was reported as saying pocket size atom bombs were being exploded on the Red Lake, Minn., bombing range of the United States Air Force.

The flashes Monday night were reported too far to the west to come from the bombing range. It was a cloudless night so lightning was also discounted.

Explosions shook the Fort Frances-International Falls area last month and last December but they were presumed to come from the bombing range. Civil defence authorities at Minneapolis refused to comment and USAF officials could not be reached.

Lies's Policies Set For Airing

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Trygve Lie's personnel policies toward the United Nations secretariat he heads were set for an airing today. The Soviet bloc and perhaps India, Norway and Sweden were expected to quarrel over his cooperation with United States government investigations of American employees at the world organization.

UN Assembly President L. B. Pearson of Canada called a plenary meeting of the 60-country group this afternoon to take up complaints by some members that the secretary-general pays too much attention to American charges that certain UN personnel are disloyal to the United States.

Aides said Lie plans to outline his personnel policies in full to the assembly to explain the forces tugging at him and to call for the assembly's support.

The security council plan a closed-door session Wednesday to discuss a possible successor for Lie, who submitted his resignation last November but has continued to head the secretariat because Russia and the rest of the "Big Five" have not agreed on a replacement.

Kingston Blaze Guts Two Stores

KINGSTON (CP)—A spectacular fire ripped through a two-storey building on Princess street during the noon-hour rush today, causing heavy damage to two dry goods stores and tying up traffic for more than two hours.

The quick-spreading blaze forced two persons from their separate apartments. An elderly man was taken from his smoke-filled apartment next door to the fire-scarred building and the owner of one of the stores escaped from her apartment which was destroyed by flames.

Queen Mary Slightly Better

LONDON (AP)—Queen Mary, confined to her bed for two weeks by gastric trouble, again showed a slight improvement today.

Physicians attending her at Marlborough House, her residence, said she had a fair night. The illness of the 85-year-old grandmother of Queen Elizabeth II has caused deep concern in Britain.

Two of Queen Mary's children, the Duke of Windsor and Princess Mary, the Princess Royal, will arrive Wednesday in the liner Queen Elizabeth.

Princess Mary cut short her tour of British possessions in the West Indies to return to her mother's bedside. She met the Duke and Duchess of Windsor in New York, and the Duke embarked for England with her.

Graziani Joins

ROME (Reuters)—Former marshal Rodolfo Graziani, Mussolini's war minister, has rejoined the neo-Fascist Italian Social Movement after a three-week estrangement and accepted the post of joint honorary president, the party announced Monday night.

Adenauer Asks France Drop Fear

BONN, Germany (Reuters) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today appealed to France to drop the notion that West Germany, if given arms, would inevitably fight a war to regain her eastern territories.

He asked those Frenchmen who hold this view to think of the consequences. "The territory of the federal republic would become a theatre of war and we would be rolled flat.

"If we had 12 European Defence Community divisions, and behind them 12 reserve divisions, without any German production of heavy weapons or atom bombs it would be folly to go to war with the Soviet Union."

Adenauer was speaking at a press conference immediately after his return from Strasbourg, where the draft of a European constitution was handed over Monday to the foreign ministers of six countries.

U.K. Remains Tight Island Vote Down Channel Tunnel

By DEREK JAMESON

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain decided Monday to remain a tight little island, turning thumbs down on a plan for a tunnel under the English Channel.

North Atlantic treaty headquarters has given its support to Napoleon's 150-year-old dream of a tunnel but can do nothing without the full backing of Britain and France.

One of Britain's main objections to the plan is that the tunnel would provide an attacker with a ready-made invasion highway into the British Isles, never occupied by a modern enemy. Even plans for immediate flooding of the tunnel in the event of war have not allayed these fears.

Transport Minister Alan Lennox-Boyd told the House of Commons Monday that even if money were available to build a tunnel it would be better spent on roads in the British Isles.

Nor could the government promise to raise the matter at a forthcoming conference on co-ordination of European transport, as urged by William Teeling, Conservative member and champion of the project in England.

Allied headquarters early this month approved a plan by French architect Andre Basdevant, backed by a French parliamentary committee, for a $300,000,000 tunnel under 26 miles of water connecting Folkestone, on the coast of Kent, with Bazinghen, near Boulogne. Basdevant says his tunnel would take two or three years to build.

Supreme headquarters approved the plan for its value as a quick way to move supplies.

Say Unrest Widespread In Red-Led Bulgaria

BELGRADE (AP)—New reports of widespread unrest in neighboring Russian-dominated Bulgaria reached Yugoslavia today.

On the basis of Balkan grapevine accounts from across the border, the Yugoslav newspaper Politika said security measures have been tightened greatly since Stalin's death, particularly in frontier areas.

The newspaper said the step was taken in fear that anti-government groups might revolt and join in a mass flight toward Yugoslavia.

Dying Of Leukemia, Los Angeles Woman Gets Divorce To Legalize Property Settlement

LOS ANGELES—(AP) —A dying woman has been granted a divorce under which her eight children will get financial benefit.

Judge George A. Dockweiler went to the bedside of Mrs. Eleanor Bonus, 53, Monday for a hearing. Then he granted the uncontested interlocutory decree from Fred Bonus, 58.

She wanted the divorce to legalize a property settlement under which the family home would go to the children and Bonus is required to pay $30 monthly support for the only minor child, Barbara, 18.

Mrs. Bonus' lawyer told the judge his client suffers from leukemia and has perhaps only weeks to live.

She and her husband, married 30 years, have been separated since 1948.

Attacked By Lioness

Animal Trainer Loses Badly Mangled Arm

SIMCOE (CP) — Wild animal trainer Ken Hill's left arm was amputated at the elbow early today after an attack by a 250-pound African lioness which has attacked humans three times previously.

The Crown attorney and police are consulting on whether any action will be taken.

The animal mangled Hill's arm from the shoulder to the waist Monday night after he reached into her cage.

Witnesses said Hill stopped at a local hotel with his truck In a cage in the back were two lions.

They said Hill reached into the cage and said 'C'mon Goldie"

Then Hill yelled: "She's got me!"

Andy Adams of Toronto opened the cab of the truck and grabbed a pair of pliers, handing them to Hill. One of the lions knocked the pliers out of Hill's hand before he could use them.

"We started bashing the outside of hte cage, said Adams. Hill managed to wrench his arm free and was taken to hospital by police.

The lions were impounded by Simcoe police pending instructions.

It was the second time the three-year-old lioness had attacked Hill. She mauled him last year, tore the leg of a Vanessa, Ont., woman in another attack and later hurt an eight-year-old girl at Lethbridge Alta.

Last June the lioness escaped from its cage at a mid-way sideshow and attacked Judith Woolf, daughter of Harvey Woolf of Cardston, Alta. The father grabbed the lioness by the ears and began beating it off but the girl suffered a broken shoulder blade and lacerations.

Eleven men tore the lioness from Mrs. Herman Smith, 43, of Vanessa after it attacked her in a Brantford office in February, 1952. Hill had the animal on a leash at the time. Mrs. Smith suffered leg wounds that required 70 stitches.

Hill, who keeps several lions in winter quarters at a farm near Simcoe, was brought into court following the Brantford attack. He was fined $100 and $25 costs for failing to take responsible precautions with a wild animal in a public place.

UN Infantry Hurls Two Attacks At Chinese Reds

SEOUL—(AP)—Allied infantry hurled two smashing raids at Chinese Reds today and other UN troops beat back Communists' attacks all across the 155-mile Korean battle front. Bad weather grounded Allied planes. One raiding party battled into Red trenches near Old Baldy on the western front and grappled hand to hand with the Communists for 20 minutes. The raiders returned to their own lines after the Reds brought up two reinforcing platoons—60 to 80 men. There were no estimates of Communists killed or wounded in the bitter battle.

A second Allied raiding patrol wrested a Chinese outpost from its defenders in a savage close-quarter battle north of White Horse mountain on the central front, then used the outpost as a base for the fighting that raged all forenoon.

Eighth army officers said the raiders killed 61 Reds before returning to Allied lines.

REDS THROWN BACK

Earlier today Communist troops banged against the Allied lines on every front but were hurled back by dug-in UN soldiers.

The heaviest Communist ground blow struck an Allied outpost northwest of Yonchon on the western front. An estimated 200 Chinese Reds rushed the position after it had been hammered by 2,400 pounds of artillery and mortar fire.

LEAVE 45 DEAD

The Allied troops met the charge with deadly rifle, machine-gun and mortar fire. The Reds pulled back after 80 minutes, leaving 45 of their dead behind.

Smaller fights flared on the central and eastern fronts.

Six Skyraiders from the U. S. carrier Valley forge were hit by Communist gunfire in sweeps over North Korea Monday, but all six returned to their ship, the navy said.

Peterborough's street paving program for this season will start where it left off last fall, on Monaghan Road south of the CNR to Riverside Drive.

Other streets which were proposed to the finance committee last night in a letter from City Engineer Chalmers are:

Stewart Street, from Parkhill Road to Reid Street; Monaghan Road, from Frank Street to Sherbrooke Street; Aylmer Street, from Townsend Street to Perry Street; Benson Avenue, from Parkhill Road to Wolsley Street; Parkhill Road, from George to Benson Avenue.

Also the resurfacing of: McDonnel Street, from Aylmer to Reid Street, and Aylmer Street, from Charlotte Street to Simcoe Street.

The Monaghan Road work has already been approved by the Ontario Municipal Board. This year's program will have to be presented to the Board and otherwise go through the usual course of advertising to the public; if any property owners on those streets object, they have a right to hearing by the Municipal Board.

Finance committee tentatively approved the Chalmers program, authorized City Solicitor Huycke to draft a construction by-law and will likely discuss the paving list next Monday night.

"Lifer" Stabs Guard At Kingston Prison

KINGSTON (CP)—A guard was stabbed in the stomach Sunday by a "lifer" wielding a kitchen knife at Portsmouth penitentiary.

The guard, Edward Bentley, 43, is in hospital here. His condition is reported as satisfactory.

Warden R. M. Allan did not identity the convict, but said the stabbing took place in a cell block late Sunday when Bentley was supervising distribution of the evening meal.

A full investigation has been ordered. Any charges will be laid by authorities at the department of justice in Ottawa.

Official forecasts issued by the Dominion public weather office in Toronto at 9:30 a.m.:

Synopsis:

It was 29 below this morning in the Kirkland Lake area as cold air flowed southward across all of Ontario from Hudson Bay. This cold air will pass east of most southern regions but temperatures will be in the low raw 30s today in southern sections and around 10 to 15 above in the north. Moderating temperatures will begin tonight in all of Ontario as warmer air crowds northeastward from the mid-western United States and pushes the cold air eastward out of Ontario. The only precipitation expected today and Wednesday will be in the form of light snow in the far northern sections.

Regional forecasts valid until midnight Wednesday:

Northern Lake Huron, Lake Ontario, Georgian Bay, Haliburton regions; Toronto city: Sunny with a few cloudy intervals today. Mostly cloudy and milder Wednesday. Winds light today, southerly 15 Wednesday. Low tonight and high Wednesday at Wingham 10 and 35, Toronto 20 and 35, Muskoka 5 and 35, Trenton 5 and 40, Killaloe 5 below and 35 above. Summary for Wednesday: Milder.

Trading Active, Prices Weaken

TORONTO (CP)—Trading continued active but prices weakened in early afternoon stock market trading today.

Volume for the first three hours totalled 3,082,000 shares.

Uranium issues were firm with Gunnar, Chimo, New Delhi, Callanin and Nesbitt Labine making good gains. New Brunswick base metals mixed gains and losses although Brunswick rose. Inspiration lost part of early gains but continued firm in active trading.

Steels, constructions, refining oils and manufacturing companies gained in industrials while banks and miscellaneous issues slipped. Trans Mountain Pipe Line gained $2.

Senior golds were mixed and juniors followed the pattern. Holding companies gained as Frobisher and Ventures gained.

Higher-priced base metals weakened and others mixed as Eastern Metals, New Ryan and Yukeno gained and Falconbridge, United Asbestos and Western Tungsten slipped.

Western oil losses ranged to about 35 cents and gains to 25 cents. Losers were Britalta, Canada Southern and Great Plains.

Guerrilla Girl Unmoved By News

IPOH, Malay (AP)—Lee Meng, sullen 25-year-old Chinese woman guerrilla, displayed no emotion whatsoever when told Monday night she had been spared from death on the gallows.

This was reported today by W. J. Burton, superintendent of Taiping jail. After she was given news of Monday's reprieve, she was removed from the cell for condemned prisoners to another part of the jail.

The gir, accused of being a leader of Red terrorism in Malaya, had been sentenced to death by a British judge for carrying a grenade. The offence is punishable by death under Malaya's state-of-emergency laws. The sultan changed the sentence to life imprisonment.

Her case was taken up by world communism recently when Communist Hungary offered to release an imprisoned British businessman Edgar Sanders, in return for her freedom. The offer was refused by Britain's Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

U.S. Dollar At Discount

MONTREAL (CP)—The U. S. dollar was at a discount of 1 19-32 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, the Bank of Canada reported at noon today. Monday's noon rate was 98 13-16 cents. Pound sterling $2.77 1-16, against $2.77 1-8.

2,000 Pack Hall To Mourn Stalin

TORONTO (CP)—About 2,000 persons packed Massey Hall Monday night to mourn the death of Joseph Stalin, hear Russian songs and listen to speeches by leading Canadian Communists.

Admission to the downtown auditorium was by invitation only. There were no demonstrations. Squads of police guarding the building in case of trouble had nothing to do.

Stewart Smith, former Toronto controller, and Tim Buck, national leader of the Labor-Progressive (Communist) party, were the leading speakers. The platform was surmounted by a huge photograph of Stalin.

Smith and Buck assured the audience that peaceful co-existence between the Soviet Union and the capitalistic countries is not only possible but "pregnant with tremendous possibilities for all mankind."

Buck assured the meeting that capitalistic countries are on the way out. "Not a trace of national independence remains. They have sold their national independence for dollars."

of Lenin and Stalin. Later the bodies will be moved to a pantheon to be built for them, and other leading communist dead.

The thousands of wreaths and floral tributes sent to the funeral of the dead prime minister have been arranged in rows on the reviewing stands for the ceremonies—stretching on each side of the tomb to the north and south limits of square. Despite the barely thawing temperature, it looks like a vast field of spring flowers

The official mourning period ended Monday and the capital returned to work today.

KREMLIN UNEASY

The appointment of Kuznetsov to the key Peiping job offered some support for western beliefs that the Kremlin is uneasy about the reactions of Mao toward the Malenkov government.

Some western sources have suggested that the Chinese leader is likely to demand a much greater voice in world communist planning than he claimed when Stalin was alive and in the saddle.

Malenkov took particular pains in his speech at Stalin's funeral to emphasize his government's desire for an even closer relationship between the world's two largest Communist countries. Speaking over the bier of his dead chief, the new prime minister said:

"We must in every way consolidate the eternal, indestructible and fraternal friendship of the Soviet Union with the great Chinese people and with the workers in all countries of the peoples' democracies."

MISSED PILGRIMAGE

But unlike most of the world's Communist chiefs, Mao was not on hand to hear the statement. The Chinese leader did not make the pilgrimage to Moscow for the ceremonial entombment of the dead Stalin. He sent, instead, Chou En-lai, who doubles as Peiping's premier and foreign minister.

$75,000 Fire Razes Hotel At Oakville

OAKVILLE (CP)—Fire early today razed the Trafalgar Arms Hotel. The hotel was unoccupied. Loss was unofficially estimated at $75,000.

The frame, old-English-style summer hotel was destroyed within three hours. The owner, Walter Kozlowski, said it was remodelled recently.

Trafalgar township Fire Chief Fred Oliver said the Ontario fire marshall's office has been asked to investigate the fire.

Try Anything

OWOSSO, Mich. (AP)—The opposition to another six-year term for Judge Willis Lyons has made much of the fact he would be more than 80 years old when the term expires. His opponent is Michael Carland, 46. So the 75-year-old judge inserted an ad in the Owoss Argus-Press today asserting: "I am willing to enter a bowling match, take a physical examination or put on the boxing gloves, if that will satisfy the critical."

U.S. Tourist Market Not Tapped

Short Stays Reduce Holiday Income By $50,000,000: Cecile

TORONTO (CP)—An untapped market of $50,000,000 in American tourist dollars is waiting to be developed through intensive promotion work, Travel Minister Cecile said Monday.

Speaking during the throne speech debate in the legislature Mr. Cecile said business would jump by at least that much if tourists could be induced to stay one day longer.

"Our surveys show that 73 per cent of Ontario's visitors have vacations lasting from 14 to 21 days. Only 10 per cent spend two to three weeks in the province," he said. "In other words the tourist potential of Ontario is greater than it has ever been."

CHANGE LABOR DAY

He also suggested that Labor Day be changed from the first to the third Monday in September. He said this would extend the tourist season by two weeks, and greatly increase the revenue from American visitors.

He said a one-day increase in the length of stay for persons who stayed one or two days normally would increase tourist business by 28 per cent.

"This would figure out to about $10 for every man, woman and child in the province," he said. "It doesn't work out quite that way but eventually some portion of every tourist dollar affects everyone in the province."

POOR CATERING

Mr. Cecile deplored "Americanization" of Canadian tourist attractions by hanging out the U.S. flag, and similar methods of catering to the patriotism of Americans.

Debate on the Toronto metropolitan bill occupied most of the time at Monday's sitting. Opposition Leader Farquhar Oliver criticized the plan.

He said it would probably result in higher taxes, and was undemocratic because it did not first seek the opinion of the people through a plebiscite.

Mr. Oliver said the bill set "a dangerous precedent" for the other municipalities in the province where similar problems could arise in future years.

Premier Frost said the Toronto problem was not likely to occur again, because most cities with growing suburbs were annexing them progressively.

RAPS SALSBERG

A. Kelso Roberts, deputy speaker and Progressive Conservative member for Toronto St. Patrick, charged Communist Joseph Salsberg with distortion of the facts in Mr. Salsberg's four-hour attack on the government last week.

"Just try to imagine an oppositionist in a totalitarian country getting away with such glibness of tongue and looseness of fact as Mr. Salsberg," he said.

The Labor-Progressive member from Toronto St. Andrew tried to shout down Mr. Roberts, but speaker Rev. M. C. Davies intervened.

Two other government members, W. E. Brandon from York West and W. H. Collings of The Beaches spoke in support of the bill.

Commons committee on railways of the government - owned Canadian National Railways' need for an increase.

3. Submission of representations by those who might consider themselves adversely affected by a seven-per-cent hoist.

DISAPPOINTMENT

Outside the Commons, the chief reaction against the increase came Monday from Premier Campbell of Manitoba. He said his government is "gravely disappointed" in the board's decision to accede to the railway request for the seven-per-cent increase.

The board granted the full amount sought by the railways as an "immediate" increase, basing its judgment largely on wage increases obtained by the carriers in the last four months.

The rate increase, smallest of the post-war series, brought to 98 per cent the cumulative total of board-awarded boosts since 1947. These apply on roughly half the railways' $1,000,000,000 - a - year freight traffic.

The commissioners increased some concern over how much farther freight-rate increases can go within the Canadian economy, though they said they had no evidence to indicate the latest one would work "insupportable hardship" either on shippers or on the Canadian economy.

But they added the board is "becoming increasingly concerned as to the long-term ability of the Canadian economy to continue indefinitely to bear successive increases in freight rates on the scale of the recent past."

In the House, Julian Ferguson (PC—Simcoe North) said the government did not handle properly the railway freight rate problem.

He supported the idea that something should be done about freight rates. But it also should be remembered that the railway workers should be adequately paid.

The problem hinged on Canada's small population. The Liberal government's immigration policy had been a fallacy that did not meet the needs of Canada and the people were "sick and tired of bureaucratic control and lack of planning."

Court Dismisses Fraud Charge

A charge of fraud, laid against Ross Gilliam, 19, of RR 1, Cavan, was dismissed Monday afternoon by Magistrate W. R. Philp, QC.

It was charged that Gilliam attempted to defraud Mrs. Vivian Clements, 228 Brock St., by claiming to be a radio repairman for Johnston electrical appliances at George and McDonnel Sts. Mrs. Clements said that he came to her home on February 17 and wanted to know if she wanted to trade in her $45 radio on a combination radio-record player.

Crux of the case was whether or not Gillian represented himself as a Johnston salesman. In the witness box, Mrs. Clements said that he did not.

As soon as he heard Mrs. Clements' evidence, Crown Attorney John Bradshaw, QC, said there was no case.

Magistrate Philp agreed and dismissed the charge.

Edward Fanjoy was counsel for Gilliam.

$10,000,000 Fire Guts N.C. Harbor

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—A multi-million dollar fire raged along Wilmington's waterfront Monday, setting off chemical explosions that shook this port city of 45,000.

Roaring out of control for hours, the flames fanned into an inferno by a stiff wind, the fire ate steadily through the lined up warehouses storing nitrates, sugar and tobacco.

Dense smoke covered the business district a mile away and in the path of the spreading fire. Firemen finally brought it under control just short of a big warehouse full of sodium nitrate, a highly inflammable chemical used in fertilizer.

Eighteen men were hurt fighting the blaze, 12 of them requiring hospital attention. One is in critical condition.

Fire chief J. Ludie Croom said of the damage: "Conservatively, I'd say it will go into $10,000,000." W. R. S. Deane, president of Heide Warehouse Co., said the damage "may run as high at $20,000,000."

Iran Note Complains Of British Espionage

TEHRAN (AP) — The Iranian government has handed a note to the Iraqi embassy demanding immediate action by the Iraqi government against alleged espionage activites of British agents based on Iraqi territory.

Foreign Minister Hossein Fatemi told the press today the note was handed the Iraqi embassy Monday afternoon.

Fatemi commented that the British government had failed to define adequately the compensation sought for the nationalization of the oil properties involved. He said Britain had not yet outlined what specific problems she is willing to have referred to the world court for adjudication.

Commons Voids New Demand For Investigation

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons has defeated a new demand by the Progressive Conservative party for an independent investigation into all phases of government administration.

The demand was made Monday by George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader. He said the government should "lift the veil of secrecy surrounding agencies of the government."

He proposed a motion for an immediate inquiry to bring about "more efficient and economic organization of the government," its departments and agencies. The government could decide how the inquiry should be conducted.

The Opposition leader got support from CCF and Social Credit spokesmen. They agreed economies could be made in government business totalling $4,500,000,000 a year.

REJECTS REQUEST

Defence Production Minister Howe, speaking for the government, rejected the request. He said "there is no foundation for the suggestion that the government is inefficient or that there is waste and extravagance."

Progressive Conservative members called a formal division on the issue and it was defeated by a vote of 96 to 43. The Progressive Conservatives were supported by the CCF and Social Credit parties and J. L. Gibson (Ind-Comox-Alberni).

The Commons also engaged in a brief debate on the action of the board of transport commissioners in allowing the railways a new freight rate increase of seven per cent.

HITS WEST HARD

M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, said the new increase, like others in the past, hits hardest at the West where freight rates already are higher than elsewhere in Canada. He urged the government to use its power to rescind or suspend the board order.

Transport Minister Chevrier said the government would not take the initiative in interfering with the board's judgment. It would hear, however, any representations from such bodies as the provincial governments.

Resources Minister Winters, replying to a question, said the government's house-building finance agency, Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, continues to work closely with private lending institutions to try to ensure sufficient loan capital to meet the demands of house-builders. There was no reason to believe that fewer house-building loans would be made this year than last.

Mr. Drew contrasted government departments to a 100-room house. The Currie report, dealing with irregularities in the works services branch of the army, had lifted the blind on one window, disclosing the "mess" in one room. The government now should allow the public "to find out the condition of the 99 other rooms."

Labor MP Asks Big 3 Meeting

LONDON (AP)—Labor member Arthur Lewis said today he will ask Prime Minister Churchill to seek an early Big Three meeting with Russia's Prime Minister Malenkov and U. S. President Eisenhower.

Lewis will put the question to Churchill in the House of Commons Thursday. He suggests the meeting "in view of the conciliatory nature of the first statement on foreign policy by the new prime minister of the U. S. S. R."

Malenkov, who succeeded the late Joseph Stalin last week, publicly pledged Russia to a policy of "peace and co-operation" with all other nations.

Churchill has said more than once in reply to parliamentary questions that he would be glad to meet with Stalin if it could be shown that any good would come from it.

President Eisenhower has made similar expressions.

Fine Shinder $150 In Baby Case

TORONTO (CP)—Jack Shinder of Brooklyn, N. Y., today was fined $150 and costs or a month in jail when he pleaded guilty to falsifying statements to obtain the registration of the birth of a baby.

A similar charge against his wife Edith, was withdrawn.

The charges were laid following an attempt by the Shinders last month to take a baby illegally from Canada to the United States.

At the time of their arrest published reports of the case said there was a baby-export ring in existence which sold children of unmarried mothers for as much as $2,000 each when they reached the U. S. Assistant inspector of detectives John Nimmo of the Toronto police denied the reports.

Israelis Charge Arabs Kill Shopkeeper, 55

JERUSALEM (CP)—Israeli police said a 55-year-old Jewish shopkeeper was killed today by shots from an Arab Legion machine-gun post on the old city wall.

Police said the merchant was shot as he was entering his shop in the Israeli sector near the Arab-guarded parapet.

It was the first incident in the Jerusalem area in many months. The Israelis lodged a complaint with the United Nations armistice commission.

Shooting incidents were reported in other parts of Israel and adjoining Jordan.

His Pants She Burn They Scorch His Seat

VANCOUVER (CP) — Joe Lachance was happily welding 60 feet up a big smoke stack, and then:

"I look around, name of a name, my pants she burn," said Joe.

He was sitting on his self hauler, a machine-driven platform of his own invention that hauls him up high places.

Gas had spilled from the machine and a spark from a torch had ignited it—and the pants.

Workmen tried to reach him with a fire hose. It wouldn't reach.

Finally Joe succeeded in beating out the flames with his own gloved hands. Five minutes later he was on the ground, scorched but unhurt.

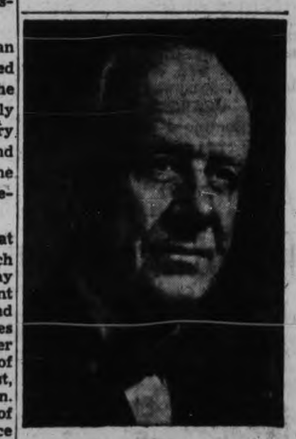
John W. Sweet's 96th Birthday

CAMPBELLFORD —(ENS) — John Wesley Sweet, Campbellford's oldest resident, enjoyed a party in honor of his 96th birthday, at the home of his son, Wesley R. Sweet, on Friday.

Mr. Sweet, a remarkable man for his years, had just returned from the United States, where he spent the winter. Although only four years short of the century mark, Mr. Sweet appears hale and hearty and is as active now as he has ever been during his retirement.

Many friends were present at the party, the highlight of which was his cutting of a huge birthday cake. Mr. Sweet was the recipient of many congratulatory cards and telegrams, including messages from Hon. George A. Drew, leader of the opposition in the House of Commons, Hon. Leslie Frost, Prime Minister of Ontario, Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Minister of Public Welfare for the Province of Ontario and Dr. F. G. Robertson, M.P. for Northumberland County. Mr. Sweet was born in Napanee on March 6, 1857. He has resided in Campbellford for almost 50 years.

Cobalt Bomb Gift To U.K.



OTTAWA (CP)—One of the world's medical marvels, the Canadian cobalt "bomb" for cancer treatment, will be shipped to Britain as a gift, Canada's atomic chief announced today.

Dr. C. J. Mackenzie, president of Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd., said the $70,000 therapy unit, packing the wallop of millions of dollars worth of radium, will be shipped overseas next summer.

It will be Britain's first cobalt "bomb" and one of the most modern—a giant steel-and-lead horseshoe-like affair weighing about seven tons. The gift is being financed by J. W. McConnell, 75-year-old former publisher of the Montreal Star, as a tribute to Health Minister Martin and his department.

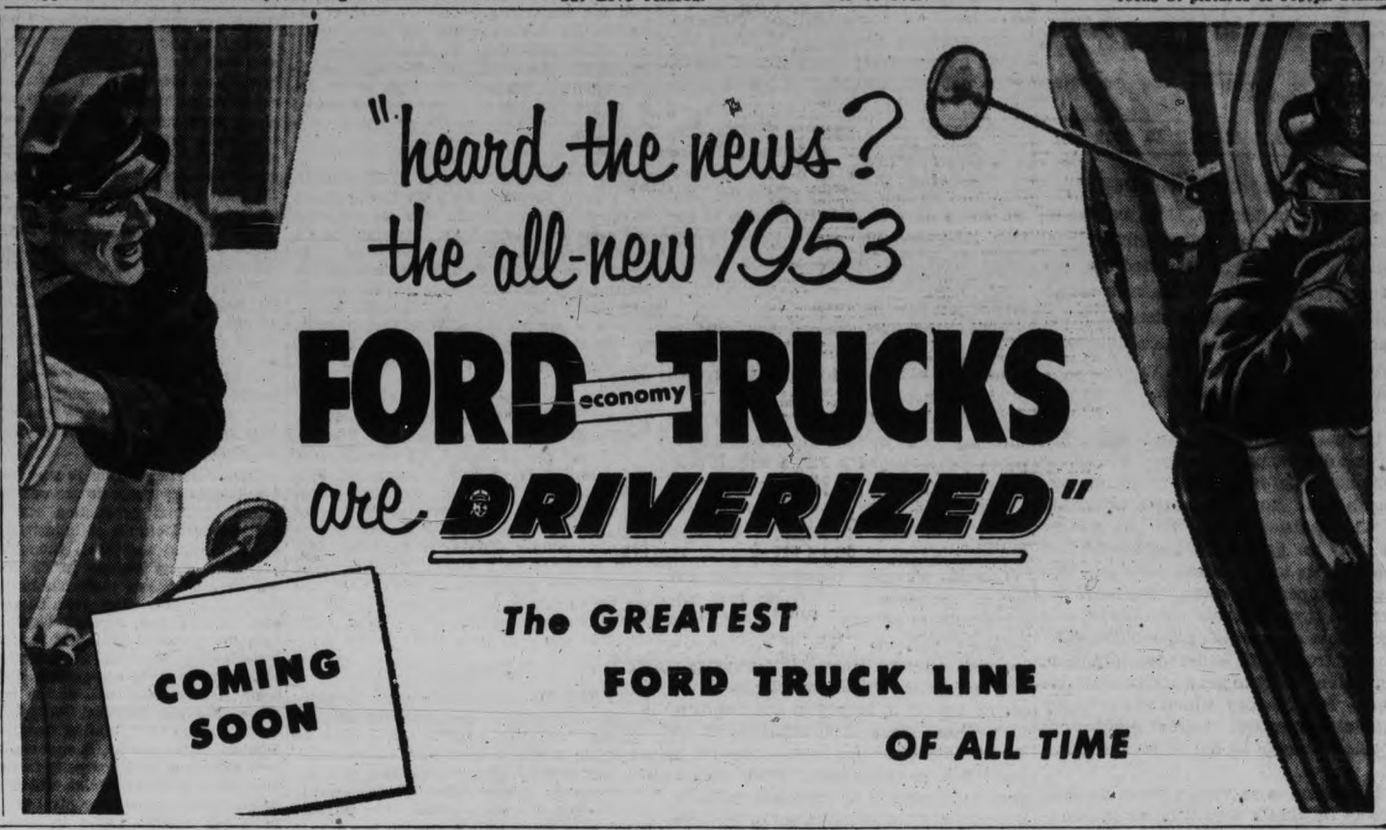
Presbyterians Hear Moderator

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS)—The Rev. Dr. J. A. MacInnes B.A., B.D., moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada was guest speaker at the Sunday evening service of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Dr. McInnis chose as the subject of his address "The Hardship of Jesus Christ" the text being from Philippians 2-11-"That every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father."

Dr. MacInnis, whose home church is in Orilla, will be the official Canadian representative of the Presbyterian Church at the Coronation in June, at the request of the Queen. He spoke before large audiences in Stirling on Sunday morning and in West Huntington in the afternoon.

Write Off Old Loan

MEDWAY, Mass.—A 35-year-old old loan was written off the books today by a couple of First World War buddies. Ernest Love, a Boston policeman, saw Wiliam Munroe, owner of the Village Inn, for the first time since they were together in France in 1918. "Here's your watch," said Love. The watch, still running, was given Love for security when Monroe borrowed 100 francs from him. Monroe tried to repay the loan but Love refused.



Rome Students Demand Trieste

ROME (AP)—Flag-waving students—many of them 'teen-age pro-Fascists—poured out of their classrooms in Rome, Milan and Naples again today and marched through the streets shouting for the return of Trieste to Italy.

In each city watchful police kept the marchers under control. By noon the demonstrations appeared to be over.

The only reported violence was in Naples, where club-swinging police charged a small group of demonstrators and broke up the rally near the British embassy. A few minor casualties were reported among the marchers.

The demonstrations followed student rampages in Rome Monday in which 20 persons were wounded. The demonstrators then also hurled rocks at pictures of Joseph Stalin.

Plowing Match Accommodation Said Booked Up

COBOURG (ENS) — Further details in regard to the international and world plowing matches to be held next October at Cobourg were discussed at a meeting at the counties home by the directors. Chairman was ex-warden Harry Campbell, of South Monaghan township.

The Ontario Plowmen's Association confirmed the dates of the match as October 6, 7, 8 and 9.

Norman McPherson, of the HEPC, after looking over the site for the tented city, said that installation would be facilitated by the presence of a suitable line beside the plowing site. Hydro would be installed for use by the various exhibitors and concessions. There would be a fee of one dollar for inspection and connecting the service, to be paid by the user. The consumers would have to do all the wiring in their exhibits and pay for the current consumed.

An electricians' association was suggested with G. F. James, of Port Hope, and H. O. Taylor, of Cobourg, to contact these people. Fifteen electricians would be needed for three days before. Headquarters tent space would be given to them for the purpose of records. A similar carpenters' group was also felt advisable.

It was pointed out that Boy Scouts or other groups with educational exhibits would be given free tent space on application to F .A. Lashley, secretary-manager of the Plowmen's Association, Toronto. Such groups are not to offer sales. Messenger service of the Cobourg Scouts was accepted with thanks.

The OPA will be asked to see if the Governor-General would officially open the match. The federal members, Dr. Fred Robertson and Johnny James, will be asked to see the Hon. Mr. Massey in that regard.

Admission fee will be 50 cents with no charge for cars, parking or children. Wages of ticket sellers, suggested at $1.00 an hour for seven hours, commencing at 8.00 o'clock, was left to the discretion of the chairman.

Tenders for water pipes will be received by Earl Drope, Harwood, and it was felt that about 600 feet of two-inch pipe would be required and 3,000 feet of one-inch pipe with taps at least every 200 feet.

Chairman of billets H. O. Taylor reported hotels and most rooming places already booked in Cobourg and Port Hope and he was instructed to reserve suitable accommodation for 40 in prospect of a request in this regard for the plow teams and friends from Europe. Rural homes will be asked to list accommodation with the chairman.

The counties council and the town of Cobourg have each voted $500 for the banquet but Port Hope has not decided what it will do.

The following committees were named: Tractors, Pat Lappin, Dennis Bergin and Robert Love, of Cobourg; teams, Charles Wilson and Frank Staples, RR 4, Cobourg, and Wilfred Lindsay, of Campbellcroft; lands, H. Henry, Campbellcroft, I. Allin, Newcastle, and Leonard Smith, Millbrook; parking, L. Henderson, Millbrook, I. W. Larmer, Millbrook, and C. Winslow, Ida; headquarters, E. Drope, Harwood, Mr. J. Greer, RR 5, Cobourg, and M. J. Sandercock, RR 1. Camborne; county exhibits, E. A. Summers, Bowmanville, Charles Osborne, RR 2, Bowmanville, and H. Davey, Orono; lunch committee, W. Allin and Stanley Allin, Newcastle; horse show, William Scott, Campbellford, H. MacIntyre, Keene, and H. McFee, Keene; billeting, H. O. Taylor, Cobourg, Meredith Harper, RR 4, Cobourg, and James Hayward, Port Hope; demonstrations, Percy Gooding, RR 1, Hilton, and Reg. McCann, RR 1, Brighton.

Metropolitan's 85th Annual Report to Policyholders

MORE BENEFITS FOR MORE PEOPLE

MORE benefits for more people than ever before! This keynotes the service of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. In 1952, payments to policyholders and beneficiaries reached a new high—$945,000,000.

The daily transactions of Metropolitan are intimately interwoven with the hopes and aspirations of men and women throughout the United States and Canada. Behind the annual accounting lies the story of families helped toward security, of widows cared for, and children educated.

These human objectives far transcend the procession of cold figures across the pages of account books. Yet the figures reflect the planning by policyholders to help assure the fulfilment of their ambitions.

At the end of 1952, policyholders were protected by $51,900,000,000 of Metropolitan Life insurance—a new high record. Old and new policyholders increased their insurance protection by buying $3,600,000,000 of new Life insurance.

New long-term investments in 1952 totalled $1,600,000,000. The major part of these funds went to help meet the needs of commerce and industry. In many instances, Metropolitan financed the expenditures necessary to bring to the public the benefits of technological progress in such fields as chemistry and electronics.

Some $369,000,000 was invested in city and farm mortgage loans in 1952. Part of these funds helped finance 30,000 new homes, and they brought the total outstanding home loans of the Company to 197,000 at the year's close.

The net rate of interest earned on Metropolitan's total investments after deducting investment expenses was 3.21% in comparison with 3.07% in 1951. Howeyer, the United States Federal income tax reduced the net investment return for 1952 to 3.00%. On new long-term investments made last year, the net interest rate, after all investment expenses but before the United States Federal income tax, was 3.73%—the highest since 1934.

Other high lights in Annual Report:

1. The number of policyholders increased to 33,700,000—a new record.

2. Accident and Health protection continued to grow in public favour, and this was particularly true of the new forms of protection provided by hospital, surgical, and medical expense policies. At the end of the year about 6,200,000 persons were protected by Accident and Health coverage under Metropolitan Group and individual policies.

3. The mortality rate among Metropolitan's policyholders continued to be favourable. Death rates from many causes—particularly tuberculosis and most of the common childhood diseases—reached all-time lows.

4. In common with the experience of business generally, Metropolitan's expenses increased somewhat last year. A continuing effort is made to keep them at a low level consistent with proper service to policyholders.

5. Dividends to policyholders in 1952 amounted to $192,000,000—the largest sum in the Company's history.

Metropolitan's Report to Policyholders for 1952 would not be complete without appreciative reference to the loyal and capable Metropolitan men and women who made possible the efficient and progressive service which our policyholders quite properly expect.

Additional details of the Metropolitan's service last year are given in the Company's Annual Report, copies of which may be obtained on request.

METROPOLITAN OPERATIONS IN CANADA

These high lights of the Company's business in Canada during 1952, our 80th year in this country, will be of particular interest to Metropolitan's Canadian policyholders and their beneficiaries.

Payments to Policyholders and Beneficiaries

Metropolitan paid in 1952 to its Canadian policyholders and their beneficiaries $45,499,950 in death claims — matured policies — accident and health and disability benefits — dividends and other payments. Of this amount, 68% was paid to living policyholders.

The total amount the Metropolitan has paid to Canadians since it entered Canada in 1872, plus the amount now invested in Canada, exceeds the total premiums received from Canadians by more than $416,000,000.

Life Insurance in Force

In 1952, Canadians bought $253,039,328 of new Life insurance protection in the Metropolitan, and at the year's end the Company was serving 2,530,000 Life insurance policyholders in Canada insured for $2,821,693,811. Of this amount, 56% was Ordinary business, 27% was Industrial and 17% was Group.

Total Investments in Canada

Metropolitan investments in Canada amounted to $637,590,599 at the end of 1952. These investments are playing an important part in the economy of Canada with substantial totals of Federal, Provincial, and Municipal bonds and with sizeable totals in the obligations of steel and paper companies, the oil industry, railroads, electric light and power companies, and others.

Health and Welfare Work

Since 1909 Metropolitan has conducted a continuous health education campaign in Canada and during 1952 participated in numerous activities. More than 2,200,000 pamphlets on a variety of health and safety topics were distributed — monthly health advertisements appeared in national publications — "Good Hints for Good Health" was a daily feature on many radio stations.

Flay TV Policy At CAB Meeting

MONTREAL (CP)—At a special meeting Monday night, the Canadian Association of Broadcasters criticized Canada's TV policy.

A press release distributed after the closed meeting said the policy shuts off the choice markets—designated as CBC monopoly areas—and through regulations setting out stiff minimum standards, "made it all but economically impossible for an operator in any other city to go into the television business."

The release said the CBC now is permitting licence applications but indicated it will require live Canadian program content which the operators claim they can't afford.

"Equipment costs are reckoned at about 30 per cent higher than in the United States so the Canadian operator has more than a strike against him before he starts. It was estimated by one authority that in a major market it would cost $800,000 or more to set up for transmission; $500,000 a year to operate.

"In a small or intermediate market, $180,000 or so would be required from minimum equipment and $120,000 to operate."

Security Forces Kill 11 In Mau Mau Gang

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—Eleven members of a Mau Mau terrorist gang were shot dead by security forces on the slopes of Mount Kenya Monday.

Many others are known to have been wounded and remnants of the gang are being pursued today.

A combined patrol of police and military was formed when it was reported a gang of 60 had terrorized a forest village near Nyeri Sunday night. The gang forced the local Kikuyu tribe home guard to surrender their spears, and levied a tax of one sheep a person.

Theological Illiteracy

Speaking in London, Ont., on Saturday, the President of the University of Toronto said that he regretted the lack of religious training in the universities, which permitted many students to graduate in a state of theological illiteracy. They are unable, he said, to explain or defend their own beliefs.

* * *

Unquestionably Dr. Smith is right. Ask any man or woman to tell you what their religious belief is, and the result may astonish you. You may hear a recitation of the Apostles' Creed, but you will be unlikely to get much clarification of some of its tight-packed phrases. You may get a personal creed, not always coherent. If you ask your friend to explain the points upon which his denomination differs from some other denomination, you will be lucky to get a comprehensible reply. For theology, which was once the intellectual pursuit of great numbers of people, seems to be out of favour today.

* * *

If religion is as vital a force in daily life as Dr. Smith says it is, we must regret the widespread lack of clarity on that subject which exists among the laity. That there is belief cannot be denied, but the belief appears in too many cases to lack a skelton of theological certainty.

* * *

Whether the universities should attempt to supply such a skeleton is debatable. Few universities are strongly sectarian nowadays, for the churches cannot support them. Universities like Oxford and Cambridge, which retain a strong church connection and a theological framework in their organization and thought, are considered too old-fashioned to serve as models for the new world. And indeed it may be asked whether any churches in Canada save the Church of Rome and the Church of England are sufficiently in agreement within themselves on basic matters of belief, to maintain universities on a sectarian principle. In many Protestant churches reformed liberal belief and fundamentalist belief exist in uneasy truce, and the introduction of theological courses into the universities could provoke an outcry.

* * *

University training in theology would have to be on an advanced level. It could not be a case of getting students together to tell them the old, old story; they can hear that in their churches, and if they are eager for religious teaching that is where they should go. And so long as one man's belief is another man's heresy, or another man's joke, theological training at university level, except for candidates for the ministry, is an impossible ideal.

What Will The Critics Say?

We shall await with interest the decisions of the critics and musical historians on the work of Sergei Prokofiev. For years we of the western world have asserted boldly that artistic and creative work of the highest quality cannot be done under the conditions which Soviet Russia imposes upon its artists. Prokofiev provides us with a case for argument. Undoubtedly he began life as a composer of remarkable gifts and some of his early work has won high praise. His best-known single composition is probably Peter and the Wolf, a light-hearted child's story set to delightful music. But much of his other work is known to us, and the opera The Love for Three Oranges must be counted as a major effort. We can weigh what we know of Prokofiev's work, and when we have done so we must accord him a prominent place among the composers of our time, however much we may argue about matters of detail.

In 1934 Prokofiev returned to Soviet Russia, after spending the first 43 years of his life in the western world. He submitted himself to the disciplines and restrictions of a Russian artist; he paid lip-service to the Russian nonsense about western warmongers and capitalist reactionary beasts, and he wrote compositions on propagandist themes. We have not heard any of his later work and we do not know if it has been published or played in the western world. But presumably it will be available here in time, and we shall be interested to hear what the experts think about it.

Did the man who held so great a place in the world of music continue to write at his best after he submitted himself to artistic dictation? Did his work lose the quality which had given it distinction? Was it better than before? Did the Communist faith act like kerosene on the spark of Prokofiev's genius? We should like to know.

Why Not Be Original?

Unless our memory is faulty, there has been a dispute every year since the end of the war about what sort of talent should be employed for the grandstand show at the Canadian National Exhibition. Many people want Canadian entertainers to be used exclusively; CNE authorities fear that a show without some such widely known performer as Bob Hope or Danny Kaye would not attract crowds, and money might be lost.

We have a novel suggestion to make: Why not run the risk of losing some money, and try Canadian talent for three years? If, at the end of that time, the experiment was a decided failure, we could go back to the old plan of getting an entertainer from elsewhere. But we would have shown some faith in our own abilities. We would have broken away from the craven feeling that a Canadian can never be good enough to please other Canadians.

Many years ago the principal feature of the grandstand show at the CNE was a pageant. There is nothing wrong with a good pageant, and ideas about pageants are changing all the time. During the Festival of Britain the city of Liverpool had a pageant on a novel plan which was one of the great successes of the year. A pageant need not always mean hundreds of casual labourers dressed in shabby fancy dress.

Canada cannot compete with the U.S.A. in spending money on such entertainments as this. But Canada can compete with the U.S.A. or anyone else in originality of ideas. Unfortunately, however, the CNE grandstand show seems always to be put in the hands of men whose ideas of entertainment are based upon what has been successful in the U.S.A. in years past. Their experience as showmen is doubtless valuable, but they are not adventurous or creative. We should like to see what some of the really creative people in this country—designers, artists, and concocters of entertainments—would do if the CNE show were put in their hands. Certainly what they brought forth would not be a timid copy of what has become standard fare in the U.S.A.

Robes For The Ottawa Council

Ottawa's mayor, the four controllers, the 18 aldermen and the city clerk will shortly be provided with handsome robes which they will wear at their inaugural meeting, the meeting closest to Dominion Day, the meeting closest to the Sovereign's birthday, and on a few other suitable occasions. We are glad to hear this news, and we should like to put our congratulations on record before the inevitable newspaper funniness on the subject becomes too loud.

We hasten to add that we think this move a good one for our capital city; we see no reason why other municipalities should copy it unless they see some special reason for doing so. These municipal robes had their origin in a day when it was part of a city's job to provide its governors with at least one rich garment for ceremonial occasions, so that they might be suitably dressed. In the Middle Ages, clothes meant something which they do not mean today. That time has passed, and we would be critical of any suggestion that Peterborough should provide every councillor with, for instance, a suit of morning clothes. But there are times when the council of the capital city ought to appear in a high degree of dignity and style, and we are glad that Mayor Whitton and her colleagues have taken steps to assure that it shall be so.

Ceremonial can be overdone, but it is in no danger of being overdone in Canada. Quite the contrary, in fact. However, we recall a time when the mayor of the fine old city of Kingston habitually appeared at council meetings in evening dress, wearing his chain, and it was accepted as a fitting tribute to his office and the city of which he was chief magistrate. The Ottawa robes dignify the offices of the wearers; whether they dignify the men who wear them is, of course, entirely up to them.

Yugoslavia's Tito

The most important and powerful Communist outside Russia today is Marshal Tito, premier of Yugoslavia. For this reason, his state visit to London next week will be highly interesting. He and his country have turned their backs on the Soviet Union and the consequent bitterness between them is intense. The West is watching the drama closely, and also the economic and political developments in Yugoslavia. What kind of Communism now holds sway in Yugoslavia? Will Tito succeed in his attempt to revert to Marx and Lenin shorn of Stalin, and establish socialism without anarchy and oppression and in harmony with other states which have approached socialism through Parliament? Some of these matters are surveyed in a special series of articles by an expert foreign correspondent which the Examiner has arranged to publish. The first of Yugoslavia Today appears on this page, and the series will continue to Saturday. Marshal Tito is expected to arrive in London on Monday. It is his first visit to the non-Communist world.

A sociologist says that the prime cause of war is density of populations. Yes, and the density usually begins at the neck and works up.

High Brows And Low Taste

By IVOR BROWN

AN official of the British Film Institute has been considering the charge that the popular films specialise in violence and sexual vice and are therefore having a deplorable and demoralising effect on popular audiences. He points out that the plays, books, and films patronised by intellectuals are frequently concerned with the most repulsive subjects and that the high-brows are in no position to arraign the average output of the film industry on the ground of subject chosen.

* * *

WITH this protest I agee. What continuitinually surprises me is the favour shown to squalor by the people who are supposed to possess good taste. If the "sex-film" be the object of attack, let us remember "La Ronde." Its subject, though disguised by the prettiness of the theme-song and the excellence of the playing, was a thoroughly sordid pattern of sex relations. With the appeal it ran for over a year in the heart of Mayfair, not in the heart of Camden Town or West Ham.

* * *

IN its cult of the horrible the West End Theatre follows the New York Theatre. Here I can see no reason for complacency, as far as dignity of taste is concerned. Following plays of the most lurid type about pick-up girls and baby-farmers, there comes from New York a study of a sadistic wife who deliberately schemes to keep her husband immured in a mental hospital. The doctors there are shown as insensitive fools and the discipline portrayed must be torture to any sensitive inmate. The whole of the action of this play takes place in the madhouse.

* * *

I DO NOT for a moment deny the integrity of authorship or the power of the acting: but those who wish to see it must be ready for a long session with an unbroken spectacle of humanity dehumanised by mental ruin, with cruelty added. What is significant is that this play, called "The Shrike" is not only being well supported but that it came from London with the acclaim of the loftier New York critics and carrying a Pulitzer Prize Award ,which gave it a high artistic value.

* * *

IN FICTION lately the more solemn reviewers have been crying up the stories of an American writer, Carson McCullers, collected in a book called "The Ballad of the Sad Cafe." One of the arbiters of taste actually stated of this author that "she has the absolutely understanding eye of a sybil" and that her novel has been "unexcelled in this century" for various qualities. (Had the critic read every novel of this century?) I happened to read those stories in this volume. They have force, but many of the subjects and incidents would never pass the cinema censorship. One astonishing character is a woman who had cut off her own breasts with a garden-shears. Another book much cried up recently by the highbrows was an utterly sordid study of masculine homosexuality. A sane critic like Marghanita Laski has recently trounced the nasty-nasty novels which continually come before her, and Harold Nicholson has declared that beauty has been out of fashion for thirty years.

* * *

I AM certainly not asking for censorships and prosecutions. Let us have liberty of reading as of speech and thought. Each to his own. But let us cease the hypocritical pretence that the spectacle and description of savagery and depravity appeal only to the vulgar mob. After all, those who have had what is called a first-class education have spent quite a lot of their time wading mentally at least, in seas of blood.

* * *

THE sagas of the ancient Greeks, embodied in their famous tragedies, contain everything gruesome from incest to child-murder. The major tragedies of Shakespeare end with a corpse-piled stage. Usually all the chief characters have slit each other's throat or stabbed each other by the time it is over. In "Hamlet" the King, Queen, Hamlet himself, Laertes, Polonius, Rosencrantz and Guildenstern have all died violent deaths before the finish and Ophelia has come to insanity and a watery end. It is evident that the macabre line of goods was intensely popular with an Elizabethan audience, whom we are taught to regard as wonderfully appreciative of the higher beauties.

* * *

THE most preposterous achievement of their "blood and guts" atrocity-drama was "Titus Andronicus". This Shakespeare probably handled, even if he did not originate this monstrous piece. Here, is the conclusion of a summary of its plot.

"Titus, now crazed, discovers who has ravished Lavinia, and he, his brother Marcus, and remaining son Lucius plot their revenge . . ." They all "meet in Titus' house, There Titus has prepared a banquet with a pie made of the flesh of Tamora's sons, whose throats he has cut. When Tamora has eaten, he first kills Lavinia, then Tamora. Saturninus kills Titus and Lucius kills Saturninua. Lucius is chosen Emperor: he condemns Aaron to be set breast-deep in earth and famished and then turns to the urgent business of ordering well the State."

("A Shakespeare Companion", by F. E. Halliday. Page 655.)

And turn he well might!

* * *

BUT which way do we turn? This play was long left as intolerable and unactable, a boyish extravagance of the 'prentice Shakespeare seeking to please the cruder elements of the public. But it was recently acted at one of London's theatre clubs, has been chosen for performance by the Marlowe Society of Cambridge, and is to be given over the air by the B. B. C.

* * *

TO MAKE any protest about this kind of artistic provision is to incur a charge of being fussy and squeamish. Let me repeat that I have no idea of dictating to the intellectuals what they ought to like. I am merely remarking on what they do like. There is no obligation on the supposedly wise and subtle writers to concentrate so much on the squalid and the horrible. It is obvious that the highest kind of treatment can create tragedy, rather than sensationalism, from the violence and passions of life. But tragedy, while refining the gross, need not feed so devotedly upon it.

* * *

IN the popular films violence is never rewarded. Nobody preaches the advantages of coshing and killing. Such a picture could never reach the public screen. The worst that can be said of violent and sex-soaked films is that seeing them may predispose the spectator to have a bash or a debauch on his own account. But in the high-brow's studies of corruption there is never even the simple moral ending which the films provide. I do not say that the intellectual is led into evil conduct by his reading or play-going. But I do claim that he or she is in no position to denounce a film about a cosh-boy when they themselves are devouring and acclaiming with such rapt enthusiasm books, plays and films whose themes are savage cruelty, morbid psychology, and the seamier sides of sex.

YUGOSLAVIA TODAY I

By RICHARD LOWENTHAL

Belgrade Life Is Now Easier

THE VISITOR who has not been to Yugoslavia for a year is struck at first sight by a remarkable improvement: the shops no longer have that dreary East European look —anything and everything can now be bought, and they are displaying it as they know how. Gone are the times when the traveller could make himself agreeable by bringing along some razor blades, or when the only toothpaste available was some sticky substitute. The jump is not one from poverty straight to luxury of the shopping centres of the big Western cities— there are no incomes in the whole of Yugoslavia which would provide buyers for real luxury articles —but a wide range of good, solid goods can now be seen side by side with the old products of the age of shabbiness. In the big department stores of Belgrade, peasant women are now caressing new pots and pans; in the streets, the percentage of people wearing decent new shoes was growing almost from day to day while I was there. Only in textiles is the improvements still largely behind the window. The new and better goods have arrived, but are as yet far too expensive for Yugoslavia incomes.

The first impression is soon followed by bewilderment: where do the new goods come from? Official production statistics show that the total output of industrial consumer goods has not increased, though there has has been some change in its composition; nor have more raw materials been imported for this purpose. The 1952 Economic Plan, well started last August, explicitly states that the standard of living cannot rise for a year—the big capital construction projects which have to be completed still take up some eighteen per cent. of the national income, and the Defence Budget (including defence industries) another twenty-four. The solution of the puzzle, it appears, lies in the new system of free competition among state factories and shops, under which, free from detailed administrative control and no longer protected against losses by subsidies and guaranteed prices, they have to earn their costs and profits in the open market—and under the strict policy of deflation pursued by the National Bank.

* * *

WHAT has happened, then, is not that the consumer goods industries of Marshal Tito's state have suddenly produced more goods, but that for the first time in recent years they are compelled to make a real effort to sell them— at the risk of going bankrupt. They have had to bother to get the goods into the shops and to find out what is wanted where; they have discovered that some of their stuff is really not wanted by anybody and have had to improve the quality. The turnover of the retail shops indeed, has not increased parallel with the size and range of their stocks — in many cases the prices are still too high; and the same process of deflation which has brought the goods on to the market limits the demand. But as costs of production are gradually coming down under the double pressure of competition and deflation, prices are also beginning to fall— very noticeably for shoes, still very slowly for textiles— and the subsequent feeling that "things are beginning to get better" is very real: it is similar to that produced by a major currency reform.

One very important effect of the better supply of industrial goods to the consumer is that tension between the Government and the peasant— who form three-quarters of the population— has much relaxed. It was at its height in the first half of 1950, when, following the 1950 drought, the Goverment was fighting to keep down food prices by the system of Forced Delivery, and simultaneously decontrolled industrial prices to take away the peasants' Free Market earnings. The situation eased a little after last year's good harvest, when the Free Market prices for food went down, and the Government allowed the Forced Delivery prices gradually to rise to their level. No, compulsory delivery has been abolished altogether except for wool, and, moreover, the peasant finds that he can at last buy tools and household goods as well as nails, glass and timber to repair his house. The fall in food prices has also led to a gratifying development of agricultural exports, chiefly maize. But the most important psychological factor in improving the Government's relations with the peasants has been a change in the official attitude to collective farms of the Russian type: it has at last been recognised that for most areas of the country, the traditional agricultural co-operative of the Southern Slavs, which does not abolish individaul land ownership, is preferable to the Kolkhoz (collecive farm); and a number of collective farms have accordingly been permitted to reorganise themselves into ordinary co-operatives in the last year. Only twenty to twenty-five per cent. of the peasants were ever organised into collective farms, but while hitherto all the others feared to be forced into them sooner or later, the peasants in most regions —with the exception of the fertile plains of Voivodina, which offer most scope for mechanisation— are now becoming convinced that the Kolkhoz has had its day and will gradually die out.

* * *

THERE are, however, some darker aspects of the situation. The reverse side of deflation and cost reduction is that the number of workers and state employees registered for social insurance has declined by one hundred and sixty thousand— or ten per cent— compared with last year: administrative clerks made superfluous by decentralization of the economy have been weeded out as "bureaucrats," inefficient and unreliable workers have been dismissed; and production has not grown fast enough to absorb them again. Wage incomes, too, have fallen roughly in proportion to the fall in prices: official statistics show a slight increase in real wages owing to the larger drop in food prices; but as prices of the public services and in industry were much increased last year, and as only a few of them have fallen since then, the estimate must remain uncertain. The real limitation is in both cases the determination of the Government not to allow an overall expansion of the consumer goods industries, and not to approve the foreign exchange needed for increased imports of raw materials in this field, before the present programme of capital construction in the key industries has been completed.

Even so, the 1952 plan leaves an uncovered deficit of fifty-six thousand million dinars (or more than one hundred and eighty million dollars at the official exchange rate,) a deficit which the Government hoped to cover by foreign aid. Yet the aide memoirs on "Tripartite Aid" for 1952-3, just handed over by the ambassadors of the U. S. A., Britain and France, is believed to grant only one hundred million dollars, and is said to indicate clearly that this total will not be exceeded to fill any gap remaining at the end of the year. Yugoslavia has good prospects for getting some additional sum— perhaps another twenty million dollars — from the world bank. But she can no longer hope to get much out of the short-term credit margins left in trade agreements, and will on the contrary have to make some effort to consolidate the debts previously contracted in this manner.

It may be assumed that the Yugoslav leaders have been aware of this for some time, and that their deflationary policy has been partly determined by the need to keep imports even a little below the planned level, in case the "planned deficit" could not be fully afforded. But that makes the question of whether the cuts can be allowed to hit the still all-too-narrow consumption fund all the more urgent. In proposing this year's plan, Chief Planner Boris Kidric has argued eloquently that a speedy completion of the Capital Construction Programme is the quickest way of ending the deficit, because the new coal and ore mines, once completed would make a big difference to Yugoslavia's balance of payments. That is certainly true; the question remains, however, whether they can be completed as quickly as the planners think, and whether, if the period keeps lengthening, the sacrifice of keeping total consumption stable all the while is not becoming too harsh.

The Western experts who have been studying Yuogslavia's economic problems certainly think that while none of these projects should be abandoned, it would be wiser to allow more time for them, and to divert some resources to investments which might bear fruit more immediately— above all, to the improvement of agriculture, which has contributed so much to wellbeing and social stability elsewhere, particularly in Turkey. These are some signs that this agument, with its immediate promise of further improvement in the mood of the peasants, is beginning to impress the Yugoslav leaders.

It's All The People's Money

(Ottawa Journal)

The public reception of a government's tax statement of, any tax pronouncement, is a dramatic demonstration of the distance we have come in co-operative living.

The taxpayer, reading Mr. Abbott's budget speech, expresses satisfaction that he is being allowed to keep some small additional part of the money he, the taxpayer, has earned.

The taxpayer submits to the rifling of his pay envelope by the Government's agents before ever it comes into the taxpayer's hands. The employer does this on orders and transmits the money to the Treasury. The citizen, who once would have resisted bitterly what then would have been considered an impertinent intrusion by government into his private affairs, accepts this meekly now, and indeed prefers the precollection system because it relieves him of the necessity of saving his money to pay his tax in one lump sum.

And when the Government says that as from a fixed date it will permit the citizen to have the spending of a bit more of his earnings she is properly grateful. Indeed one would suppose, from some newspaper headlines and from grandiose prose, that this is money which the Government has acquired from some secret source and which in its generosity it is distributing among the deserving people.

It cannot be repeated too often or emphasized too strongly that the Government has no source of revenue but the people, and that a cut in taxes means only that the government in its wisdom is permitting the earner of income to have the spending of a larger part of it.

Some of us have the old-fashioned idea that nobody is so capable of the wise spending of a given sum of money as the chap who earned it and owns it, and that is why we welcome every step, even short ones, that return any part of income and wealth from the grasping hands of government to the custody and disposal of the individual.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And God said, Let there be light: and there was light. And God saw the light, that it was good; and God divided the light from the darkness. And God called the light Day, and the darkness he called Night. And the evening and the morning were the first day . . .

And God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good. And the evening and the morning were the sixth day. (Gen. 1: 3-5, 31.)

Salvation Army Officer Tells Of Work In City

The work of a Salvation Army officer was outlined at the Rotary luncheon meeting by Major Horace Roberts, of the Peterborough Corps.

The speaker explained that there was no limit to the type of help people ask from the corps and its officers. To back up this statement he told of one particular request from a middle-aged man who asked Major Roberts to find a housekeeper for him. He explained that if the housekeeper turned out all right he would marry her. There was only one stipulation—that the Major find him one who could play cribbage.

In a more serious vein, Major Roberts said that the work of a Salvation Army officer is an open door to all classes in a community. People are helped regardless of color or creed. In 1952 this work included the sending of more than 100 garments to needy families and also providing meal for an average of 70 men a month.

"There is also Christmas relief for families as well as reguar relief," the speaker said.

Major Roberts also outlined the national projects that are channelled through a local worker such as the home for unmarried mothers, and the missing persons' bureau.

The sepaker was introduced by K. S. Wightman and thanked by the Rev. Ivan C. Morgan.

Show No Evidence Of Damage, Case Dismissed

A charge of careless driving laid against James Watson, 29, of Havelock was dismissed Monday by Magistrate W. R. Philp, QC.

After hearing the evidence Crown Attorney John Bradsraw, QC, conceded that Watson could not be convicted of the charge.

"He's as lucky as the dickens," said Mr. Bradshaw, who intimated that he thought Watson was guilty, but he just couldn't prove it.

"Yes," agreed Magistrate Philp. Then addressing the Havelock man Magistrate Philp warned: "Don't push your luck too far, Watson."

"I won't," said Watson.

Harry Johnson, Hunter Street taxi driver, was the chief witness for the Crown. He said that Watson had sideswiped his taxi last February 11, rocking it on its springs. But he gave no evidence of damage.

Jumping in his taxi, Johnson followed Watson down George Street and finally got him to pull into the curb part way along Simcoe Street.

Johnson said Watson claimed he didn't hit the taxi. Rather than argue, the witness said, he climbback into the taxi after getting the licence number. He identified Watson as the driver.

Defence Counsel Arthur Fair objected to testimony Chief Constable Robert Hall of Havelock started to give on a second accident in which Watson was involved later that night. He contended that it had no bearing on a charge of careless driving on Hunter Street in Peterborough several hours before. Moreover, said Mr. Fair, there was no evidence of damage to the cab.

OVERCOME BY GAS FUMES

SARNIA (CP) — Overcome by burned gas fumes from a defective gas heater, 13-year-old Jo Anne Dunlop was reported "much improved" Monday night at Sarnia General Hospital. The child and her pet dog were found unconscious late Sunday night when Mr. and Mrs. Dunlop arrived home. A budgerigar and a number of tropical fish were found dead.

Peanuts Cost Canada $7,000,000 Yearly

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Items from here and there:

Canada spends $7,000,000 a year for peanuts, chiefly from Mexico, India and the United States. This buys 60,000,000 pounds of the tubers to be turned into peanut butter, candy fillings, or just sold as themselves, roasted. The data is from Foreign Trade, publication of the department of trade and commerce.

Foreign countries added nearly $2,000,000,00 to their gold holdings in the United States in 11 months, though they have been withdrawing it at the rate of $50,000,000 a week since mid-December.

The National City Bank of New York gives credit for the improved situation abroad to "the successful use of fiscal and credit policies to suppress internal inflation," especially in the sterling area.

A release from Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada, Ltd., at Trail, B.C., says:

"Last year 755 Cominco employees at Trail and Kimberley, B.C., operations earned cash awards of close to $10,000 for ideas which, when put into practice, meant increased production, cuts in operational costs and improved working conditions." Awards ranged from $5 to $625.

James S. Duncan, chairman and president of Massey-Harris, Ltd., gave the following cheerful advice to business men in a recent speech:

"According to my book, we should not mould our policies on the assumption that the third world war is just around the corner, or that each country is going progressively to isolate itself behind an ever-increasing economic fence.

"I believe we will be living in a freer, more neighborly world and that countries whose commercial and financial interests are spread wide throughout the earth, will benefit greatly. I should like to think that Canada, with her natural resources, youth, vigor and determination, will be among these."

PCVS Downs Kenner 29-22 For City Midget Cage Title

Paced by Brian Bell and Paul Davis, Ted Cranfield's PCVS midgets won the city basketball championship Monday. Kenner Collegiate, coached by Jack Cullis, and PCVS battled into Monday's last scheduled game before the champion could be declared. The Garnet and Grey rallied, with Davis and Bell spear-heading the attack, in the second half for a 29-22 victory and the title.

Since Peterborough is a district in the OABA this year, the PCVS quintet also won the right to enter the Ontario midget championship tournament later this month. Whether they will enter the Windsor tourney has not been officially decided.

McKinney, along with Allen, each scored a basket, and McKinney two foul shots to give Kenner a slim 6-5 lead in the first quarter. Two baskets by Bell and a foul shot by Sparrow kept PCVS in the game.

DeGroot went on a small scoring spree in the second quarter and was the only effective scorer on either quintet. In fact he was Kenner's only scorer, sinking six points, enough to give the southern collegiate kids a 12-7 half score, as PCVS scored only two foul shots, by Keeting and Beck.

But Kenner's chances for a city title ended there. PCVS' long over-due Paul Davis came through in the third quarter and within a few minutes his baskets, coupled with others by Bell, Brown and Keeting, PCVS went ahead 21-17. It was Kenner's turn for a poor showing in that quarter.

With Davis still leading the way, the PCVS quintet in the fourth again outscored Kenner but by a closer margin, 8-5, to preserve their third-quarter lead.

Davis and Bell easily led the scoring with 10 points each for PCVS while Kenner's McKinney had eight and DeGroot six.

The collegiate basektball has now dwindled down to COSSA bantam, OABA bantam and OABA juvenile play. The COSSA bantam (lakeshore title) will likely be played between Oshawa and Kenner collegiate, starting next week. The OABA bantam will be decided today when Kenner plays PCVS at PCVS in the final city game. The PCVS juveniles will enter Ontario playdowns next week against the strong Beck playground from Toronto.

Lineups:

PCVS (29)—Bell 10, Davis 10, Keeting 3, Allin, Brown 2, Sparrow 1, Beck 1, Long 2, Hawkins, Morton.

Kenner (22)—Allen 2, Linsey 4, McKinney 8, Pearl 2, Howden, Ball, Dixon, DeGroot 6.

Tanforan Test Owners Increase

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (AP)—Tanforan race track opens a 45-day spring meeting today under the shadow of a boycott that thoroughbred owners threaten to spread to every major race track in the United States unless their purse demands are met.

Eight races were scheduled but many horses were entered by owners who usually wait for less lucrative county fair racing in the summer.

Tanforan is the first track to open since the Horsemen's Benevolent Protective Association voted at a recent convention in Florida to hold out for a flat 40 per cent of the tracks' gross income from pari-mutuel wagering in purses.

Tanforan is considered a test case. Its president, Eugene Mori, also heads Garden State Park, Camden, N.J., hence eastern as well as western interests are concerned, and the HBPA is expected to demand that Garden State make any concessions horsemen might win at Tanforan.

$2,000 MINIMUM

Tanforan is offering minimum purses of $2,000, with races scaled upward to $2,300 today and a $5,000 inaugural handicap.

Mori Monday offered the horsemen a guaranteed $1,080,000 in purses for the meeting—some $10,000 more than last year. He said that offer was based on an anticipated season handle of $32,000,000 in pari-mutuels. He also guarantees larger purses if wagering exceeds expectations. Horsemen rejcted that offer 194-4.

Mori said his offer was just what the horsemen asked except that it wasn't in percentage figures. "Under no circumstances," he said, "will we agree to a flat percentage deal."

Cockell TKOs Farr, Seeks Shot At Title

NOTTINGHAM, England (AP)—Don Cockell, former British light heavyweight boxing champion, won over 39-year-old Tommy Farr of Wales on a seven-round technical knockout Monday night.

The referee stopped the scheduled 12-rounder at the end of the seventh because of a cut over Farr's left eye. The victor was supposed to get a title crack at Johnny Williams, the British heavyweight champion, but the British Boxing Board of Control will decide later whether Cockell is good enough to rate the chance. Farr weighed 205 to Cockell's 204.

BADMINTON CHAMPION — Don Smythe, of Toronto, has won his third consecutive men's singles badminton championship at Toronto. He defeated Gord Simpson, of Montreal, Quebec champion, 10-15, 15-4, 15-7 in the men's finals. Smythe also teamed with Budd Porter, of Toronto, to win the men's doubles titles.

Grove Ties UCC Prep School Tilt

Lakefield's Grove School tied Upper Canada College two-all Saturday in a hockey game played at Toronto Maple Leaf Gardens. The steady goal-tending by Grove's Hellyer and Upper Canada's Goodwin made the game close from start to finish.

Grove opened the scoring when Uren intercepted a pass at the centre line, edged past the defence and scored on a 15-foot shot. But Upper Canada came back to tie the score on a scramble, Brown pushing the puck in with help from MacKay.

In the second period T. Ryder took Staples' pass at Grove blueline, stick-handled around the Toronto defence and tucked the puck behind Goodwin for a sensational goal.

Although the game became slightly rougher, the Grove held the one-goal lead until the third, again on a scramble in front of the Grove net. MacKay scored with Brown getting the assist this time.

The Grove tried hard to break Upper Canada's winning streak which has placed them firmly in first place in the prep school league.

Lineups.

Grove: Goal, Hellyer; defence, Whitiemore, MacDonald; centre, Uren; wings, Ramsay, Oliver, alts., T. Ryder, A. Ryder, Rashleigh, Staples, Pearce, Little, CanBuskirk.

Upper Canada: Goal, Goodwin; defence, Roberts, Mason; centre, Lindsay; wings, MacKay, Brown; alts., Standing, Mitchell, Gardiner, Clarke, Conacher, Sargent, Cartwright, Campbell, Graham.

Summary,

First Period

Grove—Uren 9:30
UCC—Brown (MacKay) 14:19
No penalties.

Second Period

Grove—T. Ryder (Staples) 6:00
Penalty—Brown.

Third Period

UCC—MacKay (Brown) 9:55
Penalties—Brown, Standing, MacDonald.

West Germany Scene For '55 Hockey Play

ZURICH, Switzerland (Reuters)—The 1955 world and European ice hockey championships will be played in Western Germany, it was announced at the congress of the International Ice Hockey League here Monday.

The Russian delegation, headed by M. M. Rogulsky, was among the representatives of 16 national ice hockey federations who attended the congress.

Rogulsky's proposal that Russian be adopted as an official language of the league was rejected on the grounds that the league's present official languages — French and English—were sufficient.

Aces, Rovers Win

Aces trounced Friday Night Club 13-8 while Rovers whipped the Huskies 18-11 Monday night in the YMCA floor hockey league.

Aces jumped to a 6-1 score in the first period on goals by J. Rose with three, and singles by Longo, Mongraw and Belsey. Longo took over the scoring reins in the second period to lead the Aces to a 10-4 score. He kept the pace up in the third for the easy win.

The Rovers gradually built up their margin in the game with the new Huskies. Amie Scheenen and Mick Magee led the Rovers in the first period to a 5-3 score and then pushed it up to 11-7 in the second. Magee and Scheenen were joined by Red Hill in the third as Rovers made sure of a win despite Frank Marino's four-goal burst.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

If there's one thing we like to talk about more than another it's food. A fascinating subject and one in which everyone must take some interest. Even the beauteous blonde across the bus from you must sooner or later crave luncheon, thereby supplying a possible wedge toward acquaintanceship. Though short in stature, our 155-pound figure requires considerable nourishment and this scribe has proven himself a worthy trencherman as he elbows his way toward a mansized meal in the company of husky athletes. Most of whom, incidentally, prefer to polish off a steak after a hard game than to dawdle o'er a dainty morsel of fowl. Preceded by soup and with a post script of pie ala mode.

* * * * * *

Though it controls physique and vigor, few athletes realize the importance of protein. As one doctor puts it: "Protein is man's chief source of supply of nitrogen and the rate of supply obviously conditions growth, maintenance, repair and reproduction." It stimulates the feeling of vigor, develops efficiency and protects the health. Sports College in a research had the 1952 Canadian Olympic paddling pair of Ken Lane and Don Hawgood up their protein intake to 175 grams a day. They took second place in the 10,000 metre single blade tandem and their performance was minutes better than their best showing before the protein diet was increased.

* * * * * *

On The Subject Of Food

Like the army, pro sports (and supervised amateur athletes like Big Four gridders, college players, etc.) insist on proper eating diets for their athletes. Proteins come high on the list. Okay, what foods contain 'em? Say the average athlete requires about 150 grams a day, here's a table of protein intake: A hefty serving of meat, fish or fowl is good for 30 grams. A quart of milk a day is good for 40. Three ounces of cottage cheese adds 20 grams more, while five slices of bread comes to 15. Navy or lima beans in a good helping would add 15, as would a couple of nuts. One egg comes to seven grams, whole grain cereal five, and gelatin dessert three. So it goes.

* * * * * *

Now, local athletes aren't sitting at a training table and eating just what's put in front of 'em. They're not pros nor yet college athletes. But the wiser ones (especially the youngsters coming up) will try to eat proper foods to further their physical prowess, just the same as they'll practise hard for hours in order to get ahead in their game. It has been proven that athletes low on protein intake go stale in sports quicker than the others, and this has been overcome when these guys switched over to the better grub. Ham is good for 20 grams, clams 17, macaroni and cheese 11, chop suey 17, liver 24, eggnog 13, and so on. Potatoes only two and a half, and most desserts are well down, also.

* * * * * *

Still Yakking Of Food

Guess we're being carried away with this food talk—and no wonder the stomach is rolling. But we thought it might be interesting and perhaps even instructional to some to outline briefly the value of protein in our foods. Personally, we don't even crave soup at a meal—just lots of spuds, meat, bread, vegetables and milk. Skip the dessert. Like the athletes we know, we don't count the calories or the proteins, but apparently have hit on a pretty good diet as our health is excellent. But a youngster serious in getting ahead in athletics might well balance his diet properly, practise his game thoroughly and get sufficient shuteye. If his proteins don't produce, he can sue us! He'll find us usually not far from a well-stacked table.

* * * * * *

Ants in their pants and butterflies back of their belts—that's how it is these days with the local bantam Shamrocks and midget Aces as they prepare for provincial puck semi-finals against Toronto Marlboros. These are bantam and midget "A" playoffs in the OMHA setup, the winners of this round hitting into Ontario finals and the losers being finished for 1953. Semi-finals open at eight p.m. here Thursday, Marlies vs. Pat Doherty's bantam Shamrocks, with the Toronto midget Marlboros meeting Joe Rochetta's good Aces about 9.30 in the nightcap of the twin bill. These Peterborough boys are doing well so far and deserve plenty of support in their bid for Ontario titles.

Campbellford Has Close Win To Take 3-1 Lead In Series

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — In one of the most sensational games seen on local ice in many years, Compbellford's TVL squad defeated their old rivals—the Marmora Millionaires—by a score of 3-2 on Monday night. This gives Campbellford a 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven series.

Almost 1,600 fans—one of the largest crowds in the arena's history—saw the home team win. The home team was severely handicapped by the loss of two of their players—Wilson and Simpson—who are under suspension following Friday night's game in Marmora.

MARMORA SCORED FIRST

Lavender opened the scoring, getting Marmora's first goal at the 8.05 mark, but in the last few minutes of the period Taylor netted one after a scramble in front of the Marmora goal to end the first period in a one-all tie.

Craig netted the only goal in the second period and at the 5.36 mark in the third period he flashed the light again, to give Campbellford a two-goal margin. The Marmora crew did not give up, however, and at 17.44 Jones beat Nelson in the Campbellford goal to cut down the local team's lead to one goal.

With but two minutes to go till the end of the game, Campbellford received a minor penalty. The Marmora crew did their best to even the score and in the dying moments of the game removed Killian from the nets and played six forwards, but when the final bell went they had been unable to defeat the sensational Nelson in the Campbellford goal.

The game was well handled by referees Carson and McColl and only a few minor penalties had to be handed out.

The teams:

Campbellford: goal, Nelson; defence, Free, Baker; centre, Eady; wings, Craig, Payne; alternates, Blake, Herrington, Cole, Reid, Jeffs, Brown, Pace.

Marmora: goal, Killian; defence, E. Trumble, Leonard; centre, K. Trumble; wings, Lavender, Doran; alternates, Darrah, Maynes, Smith, Jones, Mantle, Doyle, Gray.

Summary:

First period:

Marmora, Lavender (K. Trumble) 8.05
Campbellford, Taylor (Payne) 18.07

Second period:

Campbellford Craig (Eady) 11.07

Third period:

Campbellford, Craig (Free) 5.36
Marmora, Jones (Doran, Darrah) 17.44

Selkirk Rolls 298

M. Selkirk swept the high singles honors with a 298 Monday in the ladies' city bowling league. At the same time, D. Martin won the high three with 775, Austin's the high team single with 1131 and Black's the high three with 3125.

Three-point wins were registered by Black's over Curtin's, Collis' over Sevenaires, while two-point wins went to Aces over Bassel's, Cardinals over Arcos, Marines over Austin's.

High scorers were: single games, M. Selkirk 298, L. Pearson 295, L. Vincent 294, M. Thompson 281, D. Martin 278-250, J. Snape 269, B. Akers 269, J. Moore 268, M. Payne 266-263; E. Basciano 264, H. Ryan 262, A. Barnes 260, L. McClelland 257; three games, D. Martin 775, Vincent 715, Selkirk 712, Pearson 688, M. Thompson 683.

SINGLES CHAMPION — Marge Shedd, of Toronto, holds the trophy emblematic of the Canadian women's senior badminton championship won at Toronto. She defeated Lois Reid, of Vancouver, 1950 champion, 11-4 and 11-3. Marjorie Clapp, 1952 champion, did not compete.

City Carpetball

Schedule for the week of March 16 is Legion No. 7 vs. Glens No. 1; Fire Hall No. 4 vs. Red Patch No. 11; Legion No. 5 vs. Legion No. 10; SOE No. 8 vs. Legion No. 12; Legion No. 3 vs. Orphans No. 2; LOL No. 6 vs. Fire Hall No. 9.

Results of last week's play are:

At the Legion Hall Glens No. 1 captured two very close games from Red Patch No. 11. The first game was No. 1 by virtue of scoring a big five-end in the tenth frame and won 12-10. In the second game the Patches scored a big five in the sixth end but the Glens kept plugging away until they made it 11-all and then by scoring a single in the final frame won 12-11. Two more close games saw Legion No. 7 finish ahead in both. Legion 5 came from behind in the first to make it 8-all in the tenth but No. 7 scored two singles in the last two frames to win 10-8. No. 5 scored a big six in the second game and was leading, 10-3. Then No. 7 scored a five and two singles to tie the game 10-all in the ninth end. Two more singles were scored by No. 7, which proved sufficient for a 12-11 win as No. 5 could only score a single in the final frame. No. 3 lost both games to Legion No. 12. The first game was tied at 3-all in the third frame but No. 12 went ahead from there and came out on top of a closely-fought match by a 11-6 score. The second was Legion 12's all the way and they won 21-8.

At the Fire Hall, No. 4 met Legion No. 10 in two close games which were won by the Smoke-eaters. In the first game it took No. 4 until the seventh end before they went into the lead and continued on to take a 16-7 game. The second game was tied three times, the last time in eleventh frame with No. 10 coming from behind to deadlock it on everyone of those ends. The final score was 11-7 for No. 4.

At the Orange Hall the Sons were leading 11-3 going into the 11th end, when bang the LOL team scored a six and four in the last two ends to take a close 13-11 win. The second game saw SOE 6 behind, then tying it at 6-all in the 9th frame. In the last three ends the Sons scored a single while No. 6 scored two singles and game 8-7. That single game between Fire Hall teams Nos. 9 and 4 that had not been completed due to a fire was played and No. 9 took the big end of a 13-9 score. That postponed game between LOL No. 6 vs Legion No. 12 has not been played and the secretary does not know which team is at fault. There is a postponed game between Orphans 2 vs. Fire Hall 9 and both these games must be played this week.

The second round of the President's Cup match between Fire Hall 9 and Orphans 2 was replayed and No. 9 was eliminated. The scores were 9, 7, 7 for No. 2 against 6, 12 and 2 for No. 9.

The third round of this cup is Orphans No. 2 vs. Lefion No. 7 and final round winners of 2 vs. 7 against LOL No. 6.

The Gracie memorial doubles first round results are: No. 11 eliminated No. 28 in two straight by 6-5 and 11-5; No. 20 also eliminated No. 1 in two straight by 8-3 and 11-4. No. 13 won the first game 8-7, then No. 17 was behind in the second game when they tied it at 7-all in the final end, and two extra were also won by them and they captured the second game 11-7. No. 17 eliminated No. 13 by coming from behind and winning a 7-6 game in final end scoring two. No. 4 eliminated No. 6 in tow straight by 12-6 and 13-4. At the Orange Hall No. 10 lost the first game 6-9 but eliminated No. 27 by winning the last two games by 8-7 and 8-7. No. 5 won 11-5 but lost the next two games to No. 2 by 5-7 and 3-3. No. 21 won by default over No. 23. No. 25 won the second game 9-7, but lost the first and final games to No. 19 by 2-13 and 11-12. The final game required four extra ends before a winner was declared. Nos. 16 and 22 defaulted to Nos. 24 and 26 respectively. No. 18 defeated No. 9 in two straight 8-3 and 14-1.

Schedule for Wednesday, March 11: All games at 8 p.m. At Legion No. 30 v. No. 3, No. 8 v. No. 12. At Orange Hall, No. 14 v. No. 29, No. 7 v. No. 15.

Hiawatha Wins EPL Title Stock, Cowie Score All Goals

Turning back a Keene rally in the third period, Hiawatha whipped Keene 8-5 thanks to an early game lead to win the East Peterborough league championship Monday night in Keene. The Hiawatha team swept the best-of-five series three-straight to capture the Dit Clapper trophy, presented after the game by league president, Dr. Wilson Ford.

The Hiawatha hero was Jeff (Gunner) Stock, coupled with Nifty Cowie. Between the two they ruined any chance of Keene earning a win. Their play was the game's standout.

Keene just couldn't stop the Hiawatha duet who started bombarding the Keene goalie, Jack Mackness early in the first period. They didn't stop until Stock had scored five goals and helped score the other three. At the same time Cowie went hand in hand with Stock scoring three and assisting on two. It was their night.

But that wasn't all the unusual, for Keene's goalie, Mackness, came out of the net in the third period to pace the third period rally. Goalie for the first two periods, Mackness shifted to centre for the third, scoring twice and assisting on one.

The third period was considered the best period of hockey ever played in the Otonabee Memorial rink. Both teams felt the pace as the Keene team appeared to be over-taking Hiawatha.

The most colorful action was in the third Hiawatha's Cowie broke away, but was dragged down by Keene's Kimbal, who earned a penalty and gave a penalty shot to Cowie. But Harold Burns came through with a spectacular save to beat Cowie. On the play Kimbal suffered a skate cut which required several stitches to close.

The Stock-Cowie combination never gave Keene a chance in the first and second periods. Between the two Hiawatha took a 2-0 first period score, then 5-0 in the second period. They kept going in the third despite the rally provided by Keene's Kempt, Davidson and Mackness.

Lineups:

Keene: Goal, Mackness (Burns); defence, Kimbal, Shearer; centre, Whalen; wings, Colby, Davidson; lats., Kempt, Bethune, McFarlane, Locke, Steenburgh, Burns, Brown.

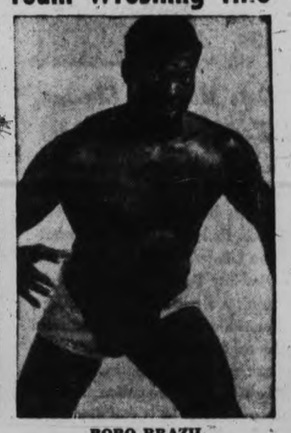
Hiawatha: Goal, MacDonald; defence, Close, Killingbeck; centre, Stock; wings, Cowie, Paudash; alts., Thomson, Musgrave, Anderson, J. Stock, Morgan, G. Sellaby, L. Sellaby, Crowley.

Rangers Protest Crack At Kullman

NEW YORK (CP)—If New York Rangers get their way, Maurice Richard, Montreal star who whacked Ed Kullman over the head with his stick, may wind up with a bigger headache than the Ranger forward.

Kullman, New York left-winger who has the job of shadowing the speedy Richard, suffered an eight-stitch cut on his head in Sunday night's National League Hockey game here. Kullman says he feels fine and expects to play Wednesday night against Detroit.

But Richard finds himself the subject of a formal protest by Ranger president Gen. John Reed Kilpatrick.



Kilpatrick wrote Monday to Carl Voss, NHL referee-in-chief, protesting that referee Bill Chadwick tagged Richard with only a five-minute penalty.

The Rangers contend Richard should be given a match penalty, which calls for 10 minutes of play one man short, expulsion of the player from the rest of the game and an automatic $100 fine. A match penalty is for "deliberately injuring" a rival player.

Challengers For Tag Team Wrestling Title

PAT FLANAGAN

BOBO BRAZIL

Two of the highest flyers and hardest hitters in wrestling will team their resources. Pat Flanagan and Bo-Bo Brazil will join as a two-some to make a terrific attack on the tag team title and its holders Dick Raines and Lou Plummer of Texas, in the mat headliner at the Brock Arena on Wednesday night. While the Raines-Plummer outfit is a rugged combination, Brazil's ko-ko bumps and Flanagan's mule-kicks figure to give them plenty of trouble. As for Raines and Plummer, how can they catch two such speed artists as Flan and Bobo? Firpo Szbysko of Poland will meet Sammy Berg (Mr. Canada) of Montreal in the semi-final. First bout will be Joe Christie against Ovila Asselin.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN

by Elmer Ferguson

It may be a trifle early in this year of grace to start picking any "mosts" or "bests" along the sports trail. So we'll settle right now, for a somewhat shaded "most," to Avery Brundage, the high potentate of amateur sport in America, as the "most daring" gentleman of the year to date.

It happened this way:

There was some discussion among amateur leaders to the general effect that when the next Olympic Games are held in Melbourne, Australia, in 1956, they should be cut down to fit the size of the sponsoring country's ability to take care of the world's greatest athletic celebration.

The high cost of everything—food, transportation, equipment—in view of the ever-increasing number of athletes and officials involved, and the ever-expanding sports programs, was the cause of this debate. For Finland sustained a heavy loss, last summer in its Olympic venture.

So the daring Mr. Brundage, practically taking his athletic, if not his human life in his hands, tossed a bomb into the debate by suggesting that the women's events be dropped from the Olympic program. He suggested separate Olympic Games for the women athletes, which, of course, could mean that women's participation in the Olympics was ended. For what nation would care to take the financial gamble of staging an Olympic meet for women only?

The girl athletes will scream in fury if any such effort is made, for the competitions, engaging girls only, in a comparatively few years, has become a very definite and colorful part of the big Games. Of course, Mr. Brundage in self-defense—of which we believe he will need a great deal—could retort by pointing to history. For, more than 2,000 years ago the women's Olympics were separate from the men's game, which women were not even permitted to view!

But times have changed since then. Women have become, steadily, a more important factor in the sports world, and to sprinting, diving, swimming, figure-skating, and other Olympic events, they have made a very definite contribution not only of feminine pulchritude, but or real athletic qualities. Mr. Brundage will find himself the centre of a great upheaval if he seriously undertakes to enforce this man-made idea.

Our own notion is that Olympic transportation and other expenses could be sharply cut by every nation, including our own, if the teams included only those athletes who have proven they can equal the best Olympic standards, and have a real chance of scoring points. Then, too, regional or zone competitions might reduce the size of each nation's Olympic team. There were no fewer than 69 countries represented at Helsinki.

Literally scores of athletes, male and female, verging on mediocrity by Olympic standards, get on board for the ride, every Olympic year. It's this excess baggage which runs up the costs, not the presence alone of the girl athletes, bless their little hearts.

Your comments and suggestions for this column will be welcomed by Elmer Ferguson, c/o Calvert House, 431 Yonge St., Toronto.

Bottom NHL Playoff Spots Something For Guessers

MONTREAL—(CP)—Anyone reasonably proficient at eenie-meenie-miney-moe can figure out whether Chicago, Boston or Toronto will be out of the National Hockey League playoffs. The only difficulty is knowing where to start. Detroit Red Wings have already clinched first place, setting an NHL record by finishing on top five consecutive seasons. The Wings now have 83 points to 71 for Montreal Canadiens.

The three-team battle for third and fourth place is still wide open. The team finishing fifth can sit it out at the Stanley Cup series along with New York Rangers, who now are mathematically out with only 49 points.

Chicago Black Hawks have 61 points, Boston Bruins 60, and Toronto Maple Leafs 58.

TOUGH SERIES

And of their six games left, the Hawks run smack into the Red Wings three times. They have single games left with Montreal, Toronto and New York.

The Bruins, in their remaining seven games, meet Detroit, Toronto and Montreal twice each and New York once.

Free of the Red Wings in their remaining six games, the Leafs have an opportunity of climbing again in two meetings with the Bruins and one with the Hawks. They also have two games with New York and one with Montreal.

The Red Wings' Gordie Howe broke his own record when he passed 86 points in scoring. He now has 91. The big question is will he beat the record of 50 goals in a season set by Maurice (Rocket) Richard of Montreal in the 50-game 1944-45 season.

Red Kelly of Detroit has equalled a 30-year record by scoring 19 goals—the high in NHL history for a defenceman. Harry Cameron of the old Toronto St. Pats scored 19 in the 24-game schedule of 1921-22.

LINDSAY CLOSE

Closest behind Howe in points is Ted Lindsay, his teammate, with 68.

Wally Hergesheimer of New York and Montreal's Richard are tied for third place in the scoring list with 56 points.

Terry Sawchuk of Detroit, ready to grab the Vezina award again as the goalie with lowest goals-against average, shaved his average last week from 2.00 to 1.94. Gerry McNeil of Montreal, closest with 2.11, leads in shutouts with 10.

Fern Flaman of Toronto stole some of Ted Lindsay's thunder by taking over the spot as most penalized player in the league, with 106 minutes. Lindsay has served 104 minutes and Richard 103.

Stadia Prepared, Rome Seeks Tilts

ROME (AP)—Rome, which was staging sports spectacles when barbarians roamed most of the Western world, wants to produce the biggest show of all—the Olympic Games.

But the Italians are cautious—and very polite—about asking for them.

When the international Olympic committee meets in Mexico City April 17 the Italian representatives can be expected to tread softly. If the committee decides the 1956 games will be held in Australia as now planned, Italy will bid strongly for 1960.

However, if the games are taken away from Melbourne, Italy will go into action.

Rome has been getting ready for years. By this spring she will have ready an ultra-modern Olympic stadium, two minor stadia located nearby, two indoor swimming pools and a lavish set of tennis courts.

Boston Bruins went to the top of the American section of the NHL by defeating New York Rangers 3-2 at New York 24 years ago tonight. Bruins went on to win the league championship in 1929 and then captured the Stanley Cup. Boston's only Stanley Cup triumphs since then were in 1939 and 1941.

Shotton Content To Watch TV, Miss Ball Games

By JACK HAND

BARTOW, Fla. (AP)—Burt Shotton lives in cozy retirement, five blocks off the main street of this quiet mid-Florida town. At the age of 67, he is content to take his baseball on television or radio

"No, I'm not anxious to get back in baseball," he said. "At first I was sort of bitter about the way they let me go in Brooklyn after we missed the pennant by one base hit in 1950. But time changes everything.

"I used to work at managing 24 hours a day. Be at the park at 9:30 in the morning, before the first player. I didn't think I ever could stand doing nothing.

"But now I found out you can do nothing and enjoy life pretty good."

A little hunting. . . plenty of fishing. . . some golf. . . the television set in the parlor. . . the new gardenia bush in the side yard. . . the giant oak trees. . . the ball scores on the radio

THAT'S THE LIFE

That is life for the old man with the shock of grey hair and the lively, clear eyes peering through rimmed glasses. He looks happier and more at ease than when he managed Brooklyn to two pennants, in 1947 and 1949, and just missed by the margin of Dick Sisler's homer for Philadelphia on the last day of the 1950 season.

Somehow Burt never seemed to fit on Brooklyn's Bedford avenue. This is his home, where a man can mow his own front lawn if he wants, or putter with the outboard motor in the garage.

"I haven't seen a big league game since I left in '50," he said. "I get over to Lakeland (about 20 miles) to see some exhibitions every spring. I like to see how the young fellows look.

"Last fall, I saw the world series on my television set. It was great to see Duke Snider and Carl Furillo climbing the fences to make those catches."

Leafs Start Practice For Playoff Drive

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto Maple Leafs leave for St. Catharines today where they will train for the rest of the week. The Leafs, idle until Saturday's game with Boston Bruins, are striving for a National Hockey League playoff berth. They now are in fifth place, three points behind third-place Chicago Black Hawks and two behind fourth-place Boston.

For Saturday's game it is expected that captain Ted Kennedy and Max Bentley will be back. Kennedy has been out for some time with a shoulder separation and Bentley had a back injury and the 'flu.

Kennedy, Howie Meeker, another injured Leaf, and Joe Bumbacco, a 22-year-old Sault Ste. Marie (Ont.) Greyhound, practised at Weston Arena Monday. Bumbacco, a defenceman, is on the Toronto negotiation list.

Interesting, Says TP Of CAHA's New Bid

OTTAWA (CP)—T. P. Gorman, head of the Ottawa Senators hockey club, had no direct comment Monday on the promise that any team which resigns from the Quebec Senior Hockey League before midnight tonight will be eligible for Alexander Trophy playoffs and the Canadian major hockey championship.

Gorman merely termed the proposal "very interesting."

IKE WILLIAMS WINS

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—Ike Williams, former lightweight champion from Trenton, moved another step up the comeback trail Monday night by outpointing Claude Hammond of Cliffside, N.J., in a 10-round bout. Both Williams, 150, and Hammond, 144, received facial cuts, none serious.

Eddie Olson Tops American Loop With 77 Points

NEW YORK (CP)—Eddie Olson of Cleveland took over the lead in the individual scoring derby in the American Hockey League last week with 77 points on 29 goals and 48 assists. Guyle Fielder of St. Louis, the leader the previous week, was in the No. 2 spot with 22 goals and 52 assists for 74 points.

Fielder has three more games left to play over Olson, however, giving him the advantage in the final outcome. Kelly Burnett of Syracuse followed Fielder with 73 points, but he also has three less games to play. Jackie Gordon and Ike Hildebrand of Cleveland had 69 and 68 points, respectively, to round out the top five.

Hildebrand remained the leading goal-getter with 34, and Fielder's 52 assists were the high mark in playmaking.

Gil Mayer of Pittsburgh had the same average as last week—2.33—to continue leading the goalies with 133 goals allowed in 57 games. Johnny Bower of Cleveland recorded his sixth shutout during the week to lead in that department.

Belleville Punchers Win, Lose At Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—Danny Saunders of Hamilton won a unanimous five-round main-bout decision Monday night over Toronto's Hugh Lindsay in an amateur card.

In the preliminary 162-pound bout George Palmatier of Belleville was awarded a third-round technical knockout over Lee Bernardis of Toronto.

In the 138-pound class Jack Lucas of Belleville was decisioned by Willie Barbole of Toronto and in the 152-pound division Gord Leroux of Hamilton was knocked out in the third round by Toronto's Dave Cannon. Kris Sacker of Toronto and Len Crone of Hamilton fought three rounds to a draw in the 143-pound class.

German Refugees Seek To Emigrate To Canada

BERLIN (Reuters) — Canadian officials say East German farmers fleeing to West Berlin are queuing up at a rate of 100 a day outside the Canadian labor office here to get details about emigration possibilities.

After hearing all the conditions, between 40 and 50 a day actually apply to emigrate.

Fit farmers aged between 18 and 45 get labor contracts for one year or more if selected. They have to prove that they have not belonged to any political party in East Germany, though membership in farmers' unions, which are also Communist-dominated, is not held against a man.

The Canadian immigration mission, which has its headquarters in Karlruh in West Germany, regularly sends officials to Berlin t select farmer-emigrants.

During their last visit to Wes Berlin, mission officials granted 273 visas out of a total of 70 applications filed.

Officials of the Canadian labor office, a permanent advisory office here, which also collects applications, said that when the Karlsruhe representatives next come here they will have to handle over 2,000 applications.

TEMPORARY PLAN

The West German chancellor, Dr. Konrad Adenauer, proposed when he visited Berlin in February, that German farmers should be allowed to go to Canada for periods of up to four years while retaining their German Nationality. After that time, they should return "to re-colonize" East Germany, once German unity was restored.

Under the present Canadian plan, farmers, while having to sign contracts for at least one year, must promise to pay back by instalments the fare to Canada. The cost of the fare is advanced by the Canadian government

Farmers have to pay between $160 and $180 in fares to reach Canada, and another $75 to $100 for railway fares to destinations inside Canada.

In Canada, they begin working for about $40 a week which can be raised to $80.

Married farmers go alone, though their wives can follow them when family living quarters have been found.

Refugee farmers who have already emigrated have written to relatives here say: "Pay is high and living is cheap. But one has got to work hard. Canada is no paradise."

Picket Lines Open, Let Shipments Out

STRATFORD (CP)—Picket lines around the strikebound Swift Canadian plant were opened Monday to allow $25,000 worth of chickens, eggs and butter to be trucked out.

Plant manager W. D. Sinclair said the goods, under refrigeration for the last three days, will be taken directly to retail outlets.

Foremen were allowed to enter the plant to load the trucks. Earlier one foreman's car had been kept outside in spite of a police request that pickets allow it to enter.

Autopsy Result

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Harry Isherwood, 57, died Saturday night from bronchial pneumonia, an overdose of alcohol and exposure, coroner Dr. C. V. Mills said Monday following an autopsy. Police picked him up after a passerby reported a man who was "either drunk or injured" lying on the sidewalk. He died before reaching hospital.

Doucett Denies Gas Tax Rumor

TORONTO (CP)—Highways Minister Doucett Monday described as "utterly ridiculous" a report that Ontario's gasoline tax may soon be lowered.

It was reported earlier at Queen's Park that the province might use extra revenue obtained through a federal-provincial tax agreement to cut the gas tax. The report said the reduction might be made when the budget is brought down Thursday.

Queen's Park observers are conducting a guessing game over the budget. Predictions are that Premier Frost's 11th budget will be a record-breaker in almost all divisions.

Some of the predictions: no new taxes; no increase in present tax rates; a big surplus out of which one of the largest allotments to the sinking fund will be made; another record expenditure; and no decrease in gasoline taxes.

Adjourn Murder Trial

STRATFORD (CP)—Mr. Justice A. M. LeBel Monday adjourned the trial of Pte. Reuben Henry Norman, charged with the murder of Jean Marie Atchell, his 17-year-old ex-sweetheart, to May 19.

Defence counsel said it would be prejudicial to the accused for defence to proceed at this time. He said Norman's defence was being handled by the Perth county legal aid committee and he had been called in on the case only a few days before.

Soybean Marketers Discuss Cost Cuts

ST. THOMAS (CP) — Soybean growers Monday discussed the problem of creating competition in transportation and lowering the cost of moving their crops from Southwestern Ontario loading points to mills in Toronto and Hamilton.

At the regional meeting, arranged by the Ontario soybean growers marketing board, it was disclosed that soybeans travel cheaper by water than by rail. From Chicago to Toronto by water, it costs eight cents a bushel. From St. Thomas, rail rates are 22 to 24 cents a bushel and about four cents higher out of Chatham.

Murder and Suicide

DETROIT (CP)—Walter Stuhr, 54, a prominent contractor in nearby Farmington township, Sunday night shot his 28-year-old wife and then took his own life, police said. Mrs. Stuhr was shot three times as she fled over the front lawn from her home. Police said Stuhr then went back into the house and shot himself through the heart.

OK. Women's Poll Tax

WOODSTOCK (CP)—Stratford's resolution asking the provincial government for permission to levy a municipal poll tax on women was supported by city council Monday night. The resolution supporting Stratford's appeal was put to council as an item in the finance committee's report and the report was approved as a whole with no debate.

Massey Schedule Tight At Chatham

CHATHAM (CP)—Governor-General Vincent Massey paid his first official visit to this city Monday, a one-day stop in his week-long our of Western Ontario centres.

But that 12-hour period here was a tightly-packed schedule of civic receptions, visits to schools and other institutions, a tour of principal industries, an official dinner and a ceremonial regimental parade.

Mr. Massey arrived here Sunday night from a two-day visit to London but remained in his private coach until morning. When he stepped from the car he was greeted by a guard of honor and welcomed by civic and government officials.

From the depot Mr. Massey, in an escort motorcade, visited all the city's schools, stopping at each to greet lines of cheering flag-waving youngsters.

At Vocational School he addressed a gathering of pupils representing all of the schools. He won the hearts of Chatham's children when he promised "in the name of the Queen" that they would have a holiday.

Ontario Would Ease Women's Work Hours

TORONTO (CP)—The provincial government intends to relax regulations governing hours of employment for women.

Labor Minister Daley introduced a bill in the legislature Monday giving him power to permit employment of women at any hour if he is satisfied conditions guarantee their welfare and safety.

At present, with the exception of a few special cases, women are not permitted to work beyond 11 p.m.

The bill, an amendment to the Factory, Shop and Office Building Act, contains another section which calls for payment of fees to the labor department for government approval of building plans.

Present practice is to inspect building plans free of charge. The fee probably would be one tenth of one per cent of the estimated cost of construction.

Hydro Loans Company Millions In Equipment

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario hydro commission has loaned almost $4,000,000 worth of equipment to the Canadian Comstock Company, for the Southern Ontario power conversion project.

Hon. G. H. Challies, vice-chairman of the commission, and minister without portfolio, disclosed this Monday in answer to a written question submitted by W. L. Houck (L—Niagara Falls).

Mr. Challies said last week in the throne speech debate, replying to the same question, that contractors are expected to provide their own equipment on hydro jobs.

He said the equipment now in use by Comstock remains the property of the commission.

Fired In '43, Hogg Still Paid $4,000

TORONTO (CP)—Dr. Thomas Hogg, former chairman of the Ontario hydro electric power commission, who was fired in 1943, is still receiving more than $4,000 a year from the commission.

This was disclosed Monday by vice-chairman G. H. Challies, in a reply to a question by Harry Nixon, Liberal member of the legislature for Brant.

Dr. Hogg was fired by former premier George Drew following a clash on hydro policy. He was retained as a consultant.

Flu Epidemic Bars Hospital Visitors

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—A third London hospital closed its doors to visitors Monday because of the current epidemic of influenza.

Parkwood Hospital is closed to visitors "until further notice," Margaret Wilson, superintendent, announced.

Eight days ago Sister Patrick Joseph, mother superior of the House of Providence, made a public request for visitors to remain away from the House of Providence and St. Mary's Hospital because of the prevalence of 'flu.

Driver's Ability Said Impaired, Fined $50, Costs

Francis Doran, 30, of 482 Elm St. was convicted in magistrate's court Monday of driving while his ability was impaired by alcohol and he was fined $50 and $3.75 costs. He was also convicted of illegally carrying a case of ale in his car and he was fined a further $15 and $2.50 costs.

Doran was charged with drunken driving but this was later reduced to "impaired". He pleaded not guilty to both the charge of drunken driving and the charge of illegal possession.

Constable W. G. Scott said that on the night of Feb. 28 he noticed Doran drive out of the laneway by a Simcoe St. hotel and go toward George St., where he cut sharply in front of another car as that driver made a right turn.

TO WRONG SIDE

A couple of times Doran veered over to the "wrong side of the road", Constable Scott said. At Rubidge and Sherbrooke Sts. Doran stopped and Constable Scott asked him if there was something wrong with the steering. When Doran said no he was asked to step out of the car.

"Doran was unsteady on his feet, smelled of beer; his eyes were quite bloodshot and he had a pale and pasty look about his face," said Constable Scott.

Constable Andre Dalton backed up this testimony saying flatly that Doran was in a "drunken condition".

When he was being put in the cells Doran kept asking why he was being locked up, said Constable Dalton. And he was unable to count his money after he had been searched.

Doran admitted having five or six drafts of beer in a beverage room but he said he was normal. Melville Foy of McDonnel St., a passenger in the Doran car, said there was nothing wrong with Doran's driving.

Magistrate W. R. Philp, QC, said that the cumulative evidence was sufficient to justify a conviction on the impaired charge.

Doran claimed that the dozen pints of ale in his car were bought by him on the Friday night and he intended it for Sunday drinking. He said he had forgotten it was there when Constable Scott found it on Saturday during a routine search of the car.

Magistrate Philp said he was quite prepared to accept Doran's explanation on why the ale was still in his car Saturday night but it was still "illegal possession" under the Liquor Control Act. Liquor must be taken directly from the vendor's to the residence. If the purchaser changes his residence after he has the liquor it must be taken directly from the one residence to the other.

Robert Carley was counsel for Doran.

NATO To Have 4,000 Planes 50 Divisions By '54—Ismay

MONTREAL (CP)—Lord Ismay, secretary-general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, said Monday that by the end of the year NATO will have more than 50 well-equipped, high-quality divisions under one command and 4,000 first-line aircraft.

"This is not enough, not to complete insurance, but it is something," he said in addressing the Canadian Club of Montreal.

He said the North Atlantic treaty offers the best, if not the only, hope of peace and every country must spend up to the last "shilling or kroner" it can afford on defence.

Following the war, the United Nations was expected to prove an effective instrument for peace. That hope was short-lived. The democracies proceeded to disarm as fast as they could but Soviet Russia continued to maintain forces several times pre-war strength.

Russia seized countries of Eastern Europe in violation of pledges, unleashed a campaign of lies and hate throughout the world and reduced business in the UN assembly to a farce by use of the veto.

The only hope for free nations of the world, said Lord Ismay, seems to lie in building sufficient armed strength to make it unprofitable for any aggressor to challenge them.

Floating Skyscrapers Triumph Of Engineering

By JEAN E. STENTON

MEXICO CITY. — The story of modern architecture in Mexico is keyed to restlessness, experimentation, new ideas, breaking with tradition and a creative, vigorous drive.

* * * *

Houses, offices and schools are all custom made—usually only one of a kind. The non-uniformity startles the foreigner. Mexico City's residential sections are amazingly opposite to any Canadian city with their neat, mass production rows. Mexicans are perennially seeking something new. They can't do anything twice—it's too boring. You will see at first glance—inconsistency, zig-zag, conflict, incoherence on an ambitious scale.

* * * *

Architects have had no bed of roses in Mexico. Mexico City was founded on an island in Lake Texcoco. Though the lake has been largely drained to make room for the city's growth, the earth beneath the buildings floats on spongy, mucky volcanic ash.

* * * *

The Palace of Fine Arts and the Cathedral are settling and they are not alone. Most buildings in the older section rise and sink the year round with the wet and dry seasons. No one can feel the movement but you can see the results. You must step down to enter buildings which were once above street level and there are big cracks. Some colonial structures sinking more in the middle than at the ends are swayback ed.

* * * *

FLOATING BUILDINGS

But this has not stopped the builders. They have overcome the problem with an ingenious device of preventing inequalities of balance. They join foundation footings to ensure even settlement. They pump supporting water back into the soil and drive piles down to gravel.

* * * *

The towering National Lottery Building rests as cargo on a huge concrete boat floating on subterranean muck. Calculating the weight of the building, the engineers excavated the equivalent mass of soil. In the hole they shaped a giant concrete tub and on all sides anchored jacks so that if one side tilted, the other might be counterbalanced.

* * * *

Suspended from this building's top floor is a plumb line reaching to the basement. Each day an engineer checks the line. If it has moved slightly he starts the pumps working in the basement. Water fills underground tanks to redistribute the weight and the building is thus set right again.

* * * *

Mexico is fast becoming a city of skyscrapers. Many new structures average 20 storeys in height and the Latino Americano building reaches 40 storeys. A new 37-storey insurance and security company buildings is also being erected. And at the new university, 13 and 14-storey buildings have been built.

* * * *

ATTRACTIVE MIXTURE

Starting at the Zocalo the dominant building is the Cathedral constructed of grey sandstone and basalt of the type the Aztecs quarried. Some of the stones in the edifice came from the ruins of the pre-conquest temple which stood on that site.

* * * *

Down Avenida Madero and Avenida Juarez, you pass through other epics of the past. There are proud Spanish colonial buildings with stout walls to withstand sieges; baroque buildings of later times and modern skyscrapers. As you angle onto the Paseo de la Reforma, you enter Mexico City of today.

* * * *

Hospitals and public buildings erected in the last few years are streamlined to the nth degree. One new hotel on the Paseo which will open soon is crescent shaped. Every room is on the outside, so that there is little depth to the building. With its mass of glass to make the most of sun and air, it is an arresting sight. And it is only one. Along with the streamlining, Mexican architects have used excellent taste and made the most of the artistic feeling which they possess to a large degree. Many modern homes are built Spanish style with tile roofs, grilled windows and gates and with a courtyard.

* * * *

Like so many other things in this interesting country, the contrast in architecture attracts the visitor.

GLANCE INTO TOMORROW — Mexican architects believe in originality and taking a little peek into the architecture of tomorrow. This attractive building is the Normal School of Mexico City, which was officially inaugurated with the UNESCO conference of 1947 attended by delegates of more than 35 nations. At La Venta in the Vera Cruz jungles, were found four large sculptured heads, believed of Olmec Indian origin, one of the great archaeological finds. A duplicate has been installed at the back of the pool. —(American Airlines Photo)

THANKS TO THEATRE

Members of the Kinsmen Club are otherwise expressing their appreciation to the management of Odeon Theatre for their fine co-operation Sunday night in the appeal for the Flood Relief Fund. This is an extra acknowledgement.

BERT McLEAN ILL

Bert McLean of Lindsay, general manager of the Lindsay Exhibition, was reported here Monday as having been stricken by a heart attack on a trip to Florida. It was said that he was being brought home, and was expected to arrive today.

ELECTED TO COMMITTEE

Cecil Osborne of Local 230, Outboard Marine Workers Union (CCL) on Monday night was elected to the labor centre committee of the Peterborough and District Labor Council (CCL). The committee looks after renting and maintenance of the labor centre. Mr. Osborne is also a trustee of the labor council.

WAS BYSTANDER

Ald. Gordon Farquharson took no part in the finance committee's discussion and disposal of the Cadverley subdivision duplexes at Caddy and Ludgate Street Monday night. He said he had appeared in behalf of Ross Greenley, contractor, before the city planning committee, and for that reason he felt he should remain silent during that part of the committee's business.

BUY ROAD OILER

Finance committee of the council Monday night authorized City Engineer Chalmers to buy a 500-gallon oil distributor, replacing the machine that was destroyed in the Townsend St. fire last year. Cost of the new street oiler is $2,938, f.o.b. Windsor. Tenders were received, and Mr. Chalmers had been asked to study them and make a recommendation of purchase. Insurance on the distributor that was caught in the municipal yard fire was $500. That machine was bought in 1937-38.

Hodgson Named CGE Treasurer

Gordon Hodgson, a resident of Peterborough for five years, has been appointed treasurer of the CGE. He will also assume direction of the Treasury Department of the Accounting and Finance Division.

Mr. Hodgson, a graduate of McMaster University, has been with the firm since 1936, when he joined the company as a travelling auditor. During the war he was appointed assistant to the manager of the Crown-owned and CGE operated Genelco Company, and in 1944 became assistant manager.

Mr. Hodgson moved to Peterborough in 1946, when he was appointed assistant works accountant. His appointment comes about with the retirement of Byron Y. Haddy, treasurer of the company since 1945.

Community Fund Total $12,586

Red Cross and Community Fund headquarters reported today $12,586 subscribed in the $95,000 campaign which got underway on Friday evening. Special Names division with $9,795 heads the list although Penny-a-day division whose campaign started a week earlier, has achieved its objective.

The division totals for the campaign to date with objectives are: Special Names $9,795 ($27,850); Industrial $246 ($41,800); Retail $755 ($19,250); Women's $1,095 ($5,500); Penny-a-day $695 ($600).

Vancouver Pair Deny Charge Of "Spying"

VANCOUVER (CP) — A Vancouver couple accused of being "Russian spies" by a member of the House of Commons said Monday night they are "determined to continue to serve the cause of peace."

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gardner were replying to Tom Goode, Liberal member for Burnaby-Richmond, who cited them in protesting that Canadians sympathetic to communism can move behind the Iron Curtain and back again armed with Canadian passports.

"There is no doubt that they are spies for Russia," Mr. Goode said.

In a prepared statement the Gardners said Mr. Goode's charge was a "malicious accusation" and "utterly irresponsible."

MOBILE COMMUNITY CHEST CANVASSER Bernard Wannamaker set up a temporary office today in a down town store to take contributions from employees. He is shown above receiving some money from Dorothy White while Gwen McMaster, centre rear, and Mrs. R. J. Beaubiah await their turns. Many drive canvassers like Mr. Wannamaker will call on all retail business in the city to help achieve the $95,000 objective set for this year. (Examiner Staff Photo)

Unions Urged To Take Part In All Politics

Political action is as much a part of trade unionism as collective bargaining, Henry Weisbach, executive-secretary of the CCL-PAC, told the Peterborough and district Labor Council at the March meeting Monday night.

Mr. Weisbach was in the city to instal the newly-elected officers of the labour council and also give the assembled delegates a pep talk on political action.

It is no secret that this is an election year though nobody outside of the cabinet knows when the election will be, said Mr. Weisbach (His own guess, which he has still not entirely discouted, is sometime in May.) Because of the nearness of the federal election, organized labor must make its views known, he said.

(The CCL have endorsed the CCF party as their political arm.)

Recently the CCL presented their annual brief to the federal cabinet he said and they got a poor reception.

"Here is a golden opportunity for the people in the trade union movement to show what they think of the government."

One difficulty in the way of mobilizing the full weight of trade union opinion was pointed out by Mr. Weisbach:

PART OF ACTIVITIES

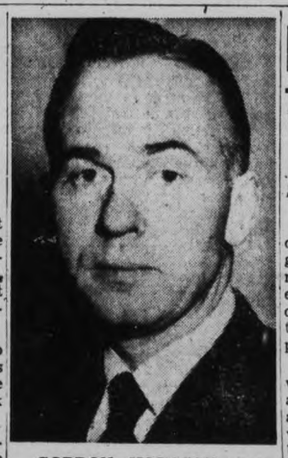
"In some locals PAC is frowned on because some people still feel that unions and political action don't go together... This no longer applies . . . More than ever today we must realize that a legislative program and political action can't be separated from other trade union activities . . . They are an essential part, like collective bargaining."

On Wednesday the Ontario Federation of Labor will present their brief to Premier Frost and his cabinet but Mr. Weisbach was not optimistic about their chances of making an impression.

'Forty resolutions were put forward last year," he said, "and not one was adopted by the Ontario Government. That's how the government treats organized labor."

CRITICIZES BUDGET

He was highly critical of the latest Abbott buget, saying that the people who most needed tax reilef were least affected.



One CCL staffer has calculated the budget gains on an hourly basis (the yardstick is a 40-hour week as applied to a married man without children):

$3,000 income—a quarter of a cent an hour;

$30,000 income—50 cents an hour; and

$50,000 income—$1 an hour.

The doing away with the radio licence fee was no gift either, said Mr. Weisbach. True, the $2.50 fee has been done away with, but the 15 per cent excise tax on radios still remains.

GORDON HODGSON, who worked five years with the Peterborough plant of the CGE has been named treasurer of the company.

Chamber Commerce Gives Stamps To Fund

A new idea for boosting collections for the Red Cross and Community Fund was announced by the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce office today.

James Fraser, chamber manager, said today that he is turning over to the fund all excise stamps left in the office after the national budget was brought down Feb. 17.

"We are hoping that this idea will catch on with retailers and other business establishments in the city," Mr. Fraser said.

Restrict Duplex To 4 Apartments Allow To Build

On the condition that his two duplex houses at Caddy and Ludgate Streets shall be perpetually restricted to four dwelling units each, the finance committee Monday night recommended to council that Ross Greenley be issued a permit to resume their building.

City Solicitor Huycke said it would be an easy matter to draft an agreement with Mr. Greenley and register it with the land. It would bind him and any person buying the land and buildings from ever using the basements for dwelling purposes.

The motion proposing this stipulation to the renewing of the building permit was presented by Ald. Beggs and Ald. Longhurst.

That was the action of the finance committee on the objections and questions presented by J. L. Ireland, accompanied by three other residents of the Cadverley subdivision in Ashburnham at last week's session of the council. They protested that Mr. Greenley was altering each duplex from four to six dwellings units by laying out the basements for the additional two.

They also charged that authority for that change came from City Engineer Chalmers and Hubert Sills, temporary chairman of the city planning committee. Another grievance was that by permitting the erection of the duplexes, the entire character of the subdivision

Can Spring Be Far?

The chill hand of winter held Peterborough and the whole of Canada in its grip Monday night. In the city and district around, the thermometer slipped to three degrees above zero, one degree warmer than the night before. Toronto was a comparatively mild 15, but there were many spots colder. Ottawa registered zero, Port Arthur 7 below, North Bay 10 below, Sudbury 18 below with a high Monday in Dawson of seven below. Eleven days to the first day of Spring.

Council Asked To Help Widen Voting

The Peterborough and District Labour Council (CCL) are asking the City Council to petition the Ontario Government to amend the Election Act so people in hospitals on election day can vote.

They are making two other related requests to city council:

1. Give all civic employees time off with pay so they can vote on the day of municipal elections.

2. Ask businesses and industries to co-operate by doing the same for their employees.

The resolution was passed on Monday night at the March meeting of the labour council. It had been discussed at the January meeting and at that time a resolution was passed requesting the Ontario Federation of Labor to press the Ontario Government to amend the act; and a brief, to be presented to city council, was ordered drawn up.

The brief will be read to city council shortly.

ANY OTHERS

William Whibbs of Local 524, IUE-CIO, said he wanted to know if people in hospitals were the only ones who couldn't vote on election day. Are there any others in that category? he asked.

Alfred Barber of Local 210, UPWA-CIO, said there were none that the committee were aware of. An advance poll accommodates people who have to be out of town on election day.

"Some employees, though, have unusual hours and can't get away to vote," said Mr. Barber.

He said that one shift at the Peterborough Civic Hospital starts at 10.30 a.m. (before the polls open) and ends at 7 p.m. (too late to vote). As these employees are paid with ratepayers' money, City council should set an example and let them off to vote during working hours. He said he thought that industries would follow suit if encouraged to do so by city council.

The petition to allow patients in hospitals to vote would not apply to mental hospitals. At present there are no special polling facilities for people in hospitals; if they can't go out to their regular polling stations they are out of luck.

Lack Of Site Chief Snag Of Centre

Chairman Gets Sympathy Only From Committee

"Being head of these things isn't what it is cracked up to be," remarked Ald. H. T. Rehill in reference to a letter from J. A. Jebson, chairman of the Memorial Centre Committee, which was read at the meeting of the finance committee Monday night.

Mr. Jebson attended in person requesting that the council make it clear and emphatic to the public the committee has been held up by a restriction which requires the city to provide the site for the Centre.

"Hubert Sills was acting chairman of the city planning committee one night . . ." Ald. Rehill commented in an amusing asfde.

He was alluding to the stricture of the brief presented to the council by Leonard Ireland of the Cadverley subdivision in Ashburnham to the effect that Mr Sills and City Engineer Chalmers authorized the change in the character of the subdivision by permitting Ross Greenley to build two apartment houses at Caddy and Ludgate Streets.

As it turned out, Mr. Chalmers issued the original permit on the authority of the town planning committee who were unanimous and all present, with Mr. Sills acting as chairman.

SINGLED OUT

Letters in the press have singled out Mr. Jebson in the fact of his chairmanship, whereas he was likewise only one member of the Centre committee.

Hockey fans and others interested in the Centre would probably say, as Mr. Jebson intimated, that the heat was turned on him, and he did not consider it fair to be singled out for all the criticism that has been expressed of the inaction of nine years since the fund was subscribed.

Mr. Jebson's letter was received and towards the end of a past-midnight session the committee returned to the matter of the Centre. It was reported today that finance members did not adjourn until nearly 1 a.m. (this morning).

Free Principal In Strap Charge

BRANTFORD (CP) — John Spence, a 10-year-old pupil at Scotland School here, wouldn't heed the warnings of his teacher who forbade him to run and play in the classroom.

Twice he disobeyed. The third time his teacher took him to Principal Kenneth Crabbe. The principal attempted to chastise the boy by strapping his hand. Mr. Crabbe said the boy refused to open his hand and a scuffle ensued but no strapping was administered. The boy's mother, Mrs. Norman Spence laid a charge against the principal but in court Magistrate R. J. Gillen dismissed it, saying he sympathized with the teacher.

"I will go this far with the modern thought," Magistrate Gillen said. "In the first instance a boy should be told. After a boy is told he mustn't do this or that, what then is the person who has charge of him going to do with him? Is he going to tell him a second time, or a third time? When has it got to stop? At some time or other he has got to exercise his control and the only way that I know to control a boy is to give him a good spanking."

The court costs were $13 and Magistrate Gillen ordered Mrs. Spence to pay them.

Her husband paid the $13.

Test Flip Flops For Bird Plane

MEDICINE HAT, Alta. (CP)—The ornithopter, otherwise known as Medicine Hat's bird plane, crashed on a test flight during the week-end.

Inventors Hartley D. Shannon, J. E. Caldwell and William Francis claim the ornithopter will be the closest approximation to bird flight ever designed by man. They say that if successful, it may reduce the cost of air transport to the bicycle class.

Main feature of the machine are the four wings or flaps, each eight feet long and five feet from head to tail edge. The pilot sits in front with two wings on each side of him. Behind his seat is the motor which gives the machine its lifting power.

The ornithopter simulates a bird's locomotive and gliding power. Its designers believe the trial run was unsuccessful because the machine was being towed too speedily. It had been towed 500 to 300 feet by a car before rising 25 feet into the air.

The wings move one foot both up and down from normal position. Each is conventional in shape but the construction is not. The top above the ribs is open. The bottom is lined with long rows of plastic foil hanging lose at one edge. As the wings lift, the vents are open. On the downstroke, the vents close by gravity, providing the lifting power.

Record Traffic

OSLO, Norway (CP)—A record number of tourists visited Norway last year, 600,000 compared with 480,000 the previous year. The Norwegian Travel Association estimated 70 per cent of the visitors were from Sweden.

Ask Assurance Of Amalgamation

TORONTO (CP) — City council, finishing a 12-hour debate early today on the proposed federation of Toronto and its 13 suburbs, asked Premier Frost for an assurance that there will be ultimate amalgamation.

If it does not get that assurance, council will ask that the city be reimbursed for the more than $200,000,000 worth of assets which it will have to turn over to the metropolitan council.

During the debate, controller Ford Brand urged council to oppose the bill and said he cannot see why Toronto should not take the province to court to stop it taking the city's assets.

Two motions passed by the council called for election of the chairman of the metropolitan council in the area, instead of having him named by the province if the 25 members cannot agree on one, and that the rights of all municipal employees be protected if they are transferred from local positions to positions on the metropolitan council.

Mayor Allan Lamport said federation will relieve the city of some welfare and road maintenance costs and that the per capita grant will bring Toronto an additional $1,600,000.

Girl, 5, Helps Capture Vandals

TORONTO (CP)—A club-wielding five-year-old girl Sunday helped capture a young boy in suburban Summerville and led to the arrest of 19 other juveniles wanted for wrecking the interior of a century-old homestead there.

Little Sharon Hammond was passing the house with her uncle, George Cooper. They heard noises inside and investigated.

Mr. Cooper went to the front and Sharon, carrying a piece of wood, covered the back.

When Mr. Cooper entered the front door, three boys jumped out a side window. Sharon waved her stick of wood at them and they ran.

Mr. Cooper gave chase and managed to catch one who gave police the names of 19 others wanted for causing more than $1,000 damage to the two-storey stone house.

Two Playhouses Drawing Crowds

LONDON (Reuters) — "Hamlet" and "King Lear" are conducting a friendly battle of giants and drawing London theatre audiences to two suburban playhouses miles from the city's theatrical centre.

The "battle" is being waged by John Gielgud, hailed as the greatest contemporary Hamlet, and Donald Wolfit, the generation's "finest Lear."

Both are producing and acting in the season's presentation of classic plays at neighboring theatres in suburban Hammersmith.

At the Lyric Theatre, Gielgud is master-minding a season of Shakespeare and Restoration comedy. Tickets for the Lyric's 800 seats are practically unobtainable for performances before the end of May.

At the King's Theatre, cheek by jowl with the Lyric, Wolfit is heading his own company through a season of Sophocles and Shakespeare.

Gielgud's opening play was "Richard II," starring young Paul Scofield, one of the country's brightest rising stars. This week, William Congreve's 250-year-old "The Way of he World" opened at the Lyric, with Gielgud, Scofield, Pamela Brown, Margaret Rutherford and Eileen Herlie.

At the King's, Wolfit embarked as the tragic king in a double bill of Sophocles' "Oepidus Rex" and "Oedipus at Colonnus," the first time the latter has been shown here professionally. The theatre now is showing "As You Like It."

Gets Union Card

SYDNEY, N.S. (CP)—The wife of the president of the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation became a member of the United Steel Workers (CIO) Monday. Union president Ben O'Neill presented Mrs. Lionel A. Forsyth with a union card during opening ceremonies of DOSCO's new blooming mill here.

Girl Missing 4 Days

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Police are looking for a 13-year-old London girl who has been away from her home since noon on March 5. Parents of Bernice Dumond said she left home to attend her afternoon classes and didn't return.

Sales Slip Shows In Trade Deficit

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's purchases from the world rose sharply during January but her sales drive slipped, resulting in a $7,300,000 deficit in foreign trade, the first in four months.

With increases showing up particularly in purchases from the United States and Britain, total imports climbed to $328,600,000, a $21,500,000 gain from January, 1952 the bureau of statistics reports in a preliminary statement.

Total exports eased to $321,300,000, down $7,200,000 from January last year.

Thus Canada launched her 1953 trade drive with a deficit, the first since the $6,800,000 unfavorable balance last September and a sharp reversal of the $21,400,000 surplus in the first month of 1952.

The outstanding advance was a $21,500,000 boost in Canadian purchases from the United States. Imports from the U.S. rose in January to $250,200,000, up from $228,700,000 in January last year.

Skull Fracture Fatal

OTTAWA (CP) — Five-year-old James Cooney of Windsor, Ont., died in hospital here Sunday of a fractured skull suffered Friday when he and his mother were hit by a car at Arnprior, 40 miles west of Ottawa. Mrs. James Cooney is in Arnprior Hospital suffering from head injuries and lacerations.

Saved From Fumes

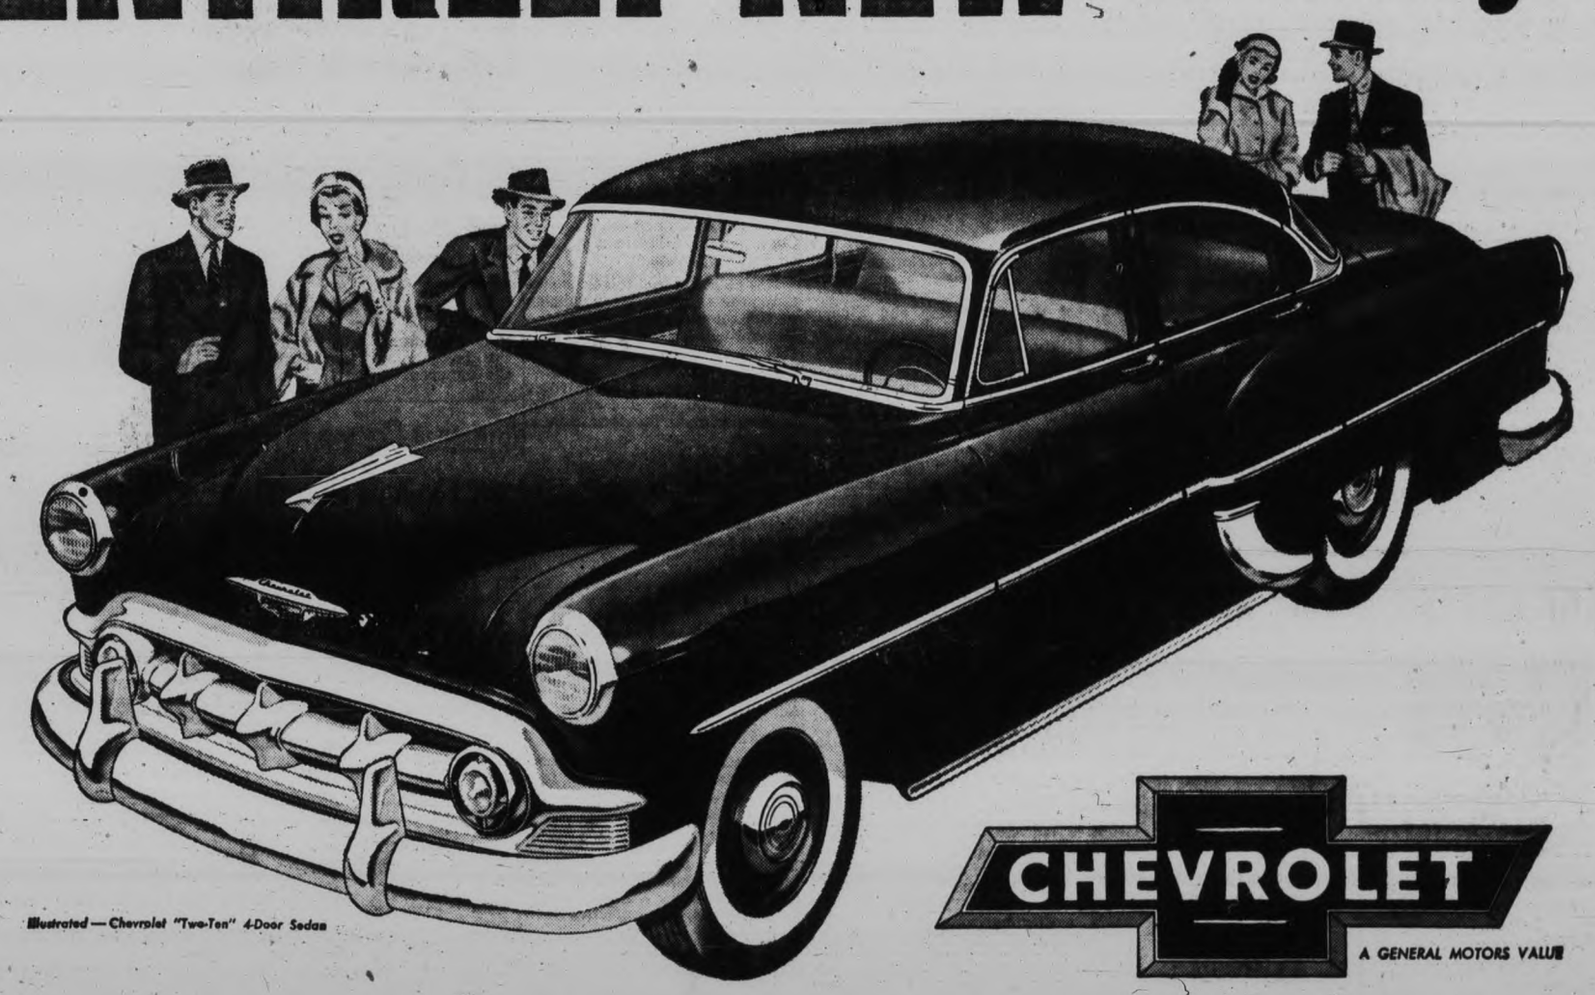
OTTAWA (CP)—Mrs. Eugene Beaupre, 39, saved her six children from possible asphyxiation Monday when coal gas fumes spread through their home. Mrs. Beaupre managed to open the front door of the one-storey home and call the fire department before being overcome. A fire department crew treated her and two of her children for 30 minutes.

Proyific Cow

SHALLOW LAKE, Ont. (CP)—Norman Greig has a grade Holstein cow he believes to be a record breaker. The cow, a twin herself, has given birth to three sets of twin calves in three years. Only one of the six was a heifer.

CPR Income Down 16 Cents A Share

MONTREAL (CP)—Decrease in income from ships and non-transport investments cut net income of Canadian Pacific Railway company for the year ended Dec. 31, 1952, it was reported Monday.



The company showed a net income of $39,978,545, or $2.83 a share, down from $43,307,470, or $2.98, in 1951. Gross earnings increased to a record $457,808,969 from $428,911,639, although working expenses also increased to $428,878,189 last year from $402,098,807.

"Other income," which includes that from ships and non-transport sources, dropped to $22,651,775 from $29,343,635.

MOSCOW IN MOURNING—Two of the thousands of flags of mourning draping Moscow hang in the foreground as crowds waited in line to file past the body of dead Premier Joseph Stalin, lying in state in Moscow's House of Trade Unions. The procession continued until shortly before the funeral Monday.

U.S. Continues To Refuse Lifting A-Secrets

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's atomic chief said Monday that Canada and Britain are continually trying to get the United States to lift the lid on her atomic secrets but without success.

Dr. C. J. Mackenzie told the Commons atomic energy committee that American legislation which prevents U.S. authorities from co-operating fully with her Allies in the field of atomic energy has been "attacked" officially by Britain.

He did not know whether Canada also had done so officially, but it was a matter which "is being attacked all the time unofficially."

Replying to Howard Green (PC—Vancouver Quadra), the head of Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd. added:

"The Americans are very much aware of the fact that both Canada and Britain would like to have more co-operation. I do not think that the lack of co-operation is due to the fact that the Americans do not know we want it."

He made these other points:

1. A new and powerful atomic furnace is rising slowly at Chalk River, Ont., but it won't be completed before the end of 1955. The cost will be higher than the $30,000,000 originally estimated.

2. The old atomic furnace which was knocked out by an internal rupture last December is recovering slowly, but it would be "months" before it would start operating.

Builders Need Assurance Of Stable Costs

TORONTO (CP)—People planning to build need assurance that costs will be stable, John N. Flood of Saint John, N. B., president of the Canadian Construction Association, said today.

Addressing the Toronto Builders' exchange, Mr. Flood said:

"The outcome of labor negotiations in the building trades in the next few months has an important bearing on whether the prospects for this year's building program will be realized.

"It is sincerely hoped that there will not be a repetition in the building trades this year of 1952's record number of unnecessary work stoppages, conciliation proceedings and prolonged negotiation periods. . .

"In most cases the ultimate settlement approximated the employers' offer and no party gained from these costly work stoppages—the unions, employers, or, most of all, the owners."

Mr. Flood said re-negotiation of wage agreements had as yet started in relatively few centres, but in most cases unions had requested substantial raises, both in connection with basic wage-rates and "fringe" benefits.

VLA Studies Farm Work

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Officials of the Veterans' Land Act from various parts of Western Ontario began a two-day study Monday of all phases of basic farm operation.

Each of the 3 officials will take part in five lecture and discussion groups as part of the week-long staff conference on "farm planning," being held at the London district office here.

Land use, including farm layout, soils, crops, conservation, costs of production and rates of seeding and cultivation, are among the topics being covered by Milt Greer of Hamilton.

L. M. Ramsay, London, and Martin Bower, Guelph, are leading groups studying livestock in relation to feed production and needs of the farm, amount of feed required for each animal, discussion on animal uses, breeding and marketing.

Machinery and labor is the topic of an address by D. M. Gillies of London while agriculture economics is covered by Ray Corman of Windsor.

Lack Of War Threat Forms No Peace Promise: Observers

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Just because Malenkov didn't threaten war in his funeral oration for Stalin is no reason for the West to feel safer.

It's the Communist line: Russia is the No. 1 peace-loving nation. Stalin established it. Malenkov has been following it. He must do so here at the start of his regime, at least, to build confidence of the Russian masses in him.

War talk the first time he opened his mouth after Stalin's death would cause more fright than devotion.

Malenkov said his policy is based on the "Lenin-Stalin premise of the possibility of the prolonged coexistence and peaceful competition of two different systems, capitalist and socialist."

NOT FOREVER

The trouble with the word "prolonged" as he used it is that it does not mean 'forever.' Prolonged means for a while. Lenin laid down the doctrine which plainly says "peaceful co-existence" can't last forever:

"As long as capitalism and socialism remained, (Sic) we cannot live in peace. In the end one or the other will triumph—a funeral requiem will be sung either over the Soviet republic or over world capitalism. This is a respite in war."

The Stalin-Malenkov problem is different from Hitler's. When he came to power the German people, humiliated by their First World War defeat, felt bitter and mistreated.

Because they had an old tradition of nationalism and felt crowded, Hitler could direct them to war with promises of more living space and revenge for the First World War. By threatening war he strengthened his position with the Germans.

RUSSIAN WAY

But the Russians came out of the Second World War victorious. They felt neither humuliated nor mistreated. So they had neither need or desire for revenge. How then could they be prepared for war and induced to support it?

By repeatedly telling them they were innocent peace-loving people surrounded by enemies getting ready to attack them. That puts the 6,000,000 Communist party members and the other 204,000,000 Russians not permitted in the party all in the same pot.

That's the pot Stalin stirred up and Malenkov kept boiling last October when, addressing the 19th all-Soviet Communist party congress in Moscow, he accused the United States of trying to "wreck the peace."

In addition, the Russians probably have a healthy respect for the atom bomb supply in possession of the West and probably don't feel ready yet to start talking aggressively.

The West's best hope that the Russians won't try right away some adventure that would start a third world war may lie in the fact that Russia is in transition from one regime to another.

Amputee Gives Gallons Of Blood

TORONTO (CP)—Gordon Burtt, 56, who lost a leg during the First World War, has given since 1940 an amount of blood equal to five times that in the average person.

Mr. Burtt, now head clerk in the Ontario treasury department gave 82 donations in that period, some in the names of a brother and cousin who died in the First World War.

He said he used these names because a doctor got nervous about his giving donations so frequenlty—about every three weeks. The normal rate is one donation every three months.

Mr. Burt's left leg was amputated below the knee after he was wounded.

Cavan News

Mr. Albert Tinney is improving after a serious illness. After being a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough for 10 days he was taken to the Toronto General Hospital where he underwent a major operation and was in a very critical condition for four weeks. On Wednesday he was sufficiently recovered to go to the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Way, Toronto, where he is convalescing.

Mr. Bruce Stewart of the public school teaching staff, Toronto, spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Percy Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tinney are very pleased to have their little daughter Jane home from the hospital in Peterborough. She is progressing nicely.

Col. A. J. and Mrs. Earchman and Mrs. R. Vance were recent visitors of friends in Ottawa.

Plant Near Normal

TORONTO (CP)—Six of the eight generating units of the Chats Falls generating station on the Ottawa river were delivering power Monday, a week after fire knocked out the station, hydro chairman Robert Saunders announced. He said the six units were two more than it had been estimated could be in operation by this time. Three-quarters of the plant was back to normal service.

Mrs. Guelda Buckley reported on the Bunny Tea to be held at the Y April 8 and asked for volunteer servers and for members to supply bunny cookies. Miss Hustwitt served a delicious lunch at the close of business.

Fine Dinnerware Lecture Subject At UWC Meeting

University Women's Club invited friends to their monthly meeting Monday evening at which the program feature was a lecture, film and demonstration on fine earthenware and bone china. Speaker was Mr. Ian Davy who represents a Toronto firm distributing the products of an English pottery. He was introduced by Miss Ethel Smedmor.

Mr. Davy stated it is less than 200 years since fine dinnerware was first manufactured in England, but by delving into history as far back as he could, he found that wherever people and clay have existed there has been some type of potting. The early Greeks and Romans achieved a fine type of pottery which has never been surpassed he said.

This man stated he does not think Canada will ever be known for its handcrafts. "We are going too fast" he reasoned.

"Potting takes the most time and is one of the most difficult crafts to learn", said Mr. Davy. There are more secrets involved in this trade and potters seek to keep them well guarded. The earliest pottery in England was moved from Holland to guard its secrets, and in England they hired only deaf and dumb mutes. However, a man posing as a mute got on the payroll for a time and after learning what he needed to know got out in 1770 and founded the firm which Mr. Davy represents. The same formulae are used today.

The film showed each process in making of this particular dinnerware and the speaker elaborated on each afterward. He said that finenss in ceramics has nothing to do with thickness and that a fine dinner plate may weigh a pound and a quarter. All the ware of this firm is originally the same and only shapes and decoration have any bearing on the price it was explained. A bone china plate in the collection was valued at $595, the decoration in solid color which required several firings, and the gold put on in numerous applications brought the price to this figure. One earthenware plate of popular design was priced at $1.60.

Speaking of bone china, Mr. Davy said it has this name because the clay does contain beef bone. It is white, translucent and durable.

Two earthenware tea plates were donated as door prizes and the winners were Mrs. John Holt and Miss Margaret McIntosh.

President Miss Katerine Macdougall extended the thanks of the guests as expressed by Miss Verna Burgess to the speaker and donators.

A business meeting of the Club preceded the lecture and members in charge of this meeting met for six o'clock dinner at the Y, with the speaker as their guest.

Children's Theatre To Present Play

The Y Children's Theatre will present their pay "The Timorous Knight" at the Queen Mary auditorium this Saturday evening, March 14th, commencing at eight o'clock. This youthful group requires no introduction to the citizens of Peterborough. It will be especially remembered through the presentation last spring of "Toad of Toad Hall".

The offering this spring is a delightful tale of the days of King Arthur and his round table. There are 24 characters in the cast, all clothed in colorful garb of medieval times. The stage will be alive with knights, ladies, witches and monstrous dragons—truly a spectacle full of both magic and delight for young and old.

Taking part are: Peter Dorrington, Wendy Outram, Margo McCombe, Rosalind Ross, Jennifer and Miranda Davies, Judith Honey, Marion Gledhill, John and Wynn Whyte, Robert Hornal, Linda Swartz, Alison Low, Judy Moore, Catherine Nott, Susan McKay, Marlene Harrison, Marilyn Ephgrave, Rosemary Epston, Sassie Waddell, Carol King and Mary Hardhill and two adult players.

The children will be supported by the senior group of Blue Triangle Players with two plays, to complete what should be an evening of real pleasure.

QUEEN ELIZABETH has a gracious smile for her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, as she takes her seat in the Royal box at Royal Albert Hall, London, for a recent benefit concert in aid of British and Netherlands flood relief funds. With the Royal couple is Princess Marie Louise, granddaughter of Queen Victoria. The London Philharmonic Orchestra was conducted by Holland's Eduard Van Blenum and the presentation raised £3,500 for flood victims.

OES Local Chapt. Celebrates 26th Anniversary

Twenty-sixth anniversary party banquet of Peterborough Chapter No. 161 of the Order of the Eastern Star was held Monday evening with 150 attending. The banquet was served in the George Street Church hall with charter members and out-of-town officials of the Order the honored guests at the head table. Worthy matron Mrs. A. J. Newton presided and Mr. Walter Terrace, worthy patron, was toastmaster.

Seven of the nine charter members still in the city were present. They are Miss Rose Sexsmith, Mrs. Jane Anderson, Mrs. L. M. Greenslade, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Moore, Mrs. Mayme Lean and Mrs. Vera Howson. Prevented from attending by illness were Mrs. Leona Firth and Mrs. Janet Cummings. A letter of greeting came from Mr. and Mrs. Harold Matthews, of Hamilton, who are also charter members. This was the first birthday party of the chapter which they have missed.

Out-of-town guests included the Worthy Grand Patron, Mr. Wellington Smith, of Fort Frances, Past Worthy Grand Matron Mrs. Pearl Macdonald, of Cooksville, Mrs. Doris McKinney, of Brockville, the Grand Marshall, Mrs. Anna Solomon, of Brighton, Grand Ada, and Mrs. Evelyn Hadley, of Trenton, DDGM.

At the meeting afterward in the chapter room there were guests from Lindsay, Toronto, Kingston, Belleville, Marmora, Port Hope and two visitors who are members of chapters in Scotland, making up a crowd of more than 200.

Mr. Smith spoke, complimenting the chapter on its achievements in the past 26 years and urging to higher ideals. Mrs. Solomon spoke encouraging the chapter to "sincerity." Mrs. Hadley thanked the chapter for a cheque for $100 donated to flood relief in Europe which is being forwarded in a donation from Grand Chapter. Mrs. Howson spoke for the charter members.

Gift of a travelalarm clock to Mr. Smith was presented by Mr. Robert Hendry and a cheque toward Mr. Smith's benevolent project for the year was presented by Mr. Terrace.

Past patrons put on a candlelighting celebration and the anniversary cake was cut by Mrs. Newton and Mrs. Macdonald.

Decorations for this occasion were in purple, the sixth color of the chapter, and gold in honor of the coronation. Lunch was served by Mrs. Mary Saunders and her group with the guests seated in a coronation arrangement.

Joel Moldaver Confirmed At Israel Synagogue

Joel Moldaver, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Moldaver of Peterborough was confirmed in the Beth Israel synagogue, Saturday morning. Services were conducted by Rabbi A. M. Babb. The altar was beautifully decorated with flowers. Relatives and friends were present and witnessed Joel read the week's portion of the "Torah" Bible in Hebrew. Following this he addressed the congregation, thanking his parents and Rabbi for all that has been done for him up until now and promising to do his utmost to follow the path through life already set for him—to always observe his religion, and to try to make his community and country proud of him.

A luncheon followed in the community hall with Mr. and Mrs. Irving Moldaver receiving. Head table guests were Rabbi and Mrs. Babb, Mr. and Mrs. O. Moldaver, of Toronto, Mrs. Philip Black, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Moldaver, Jack, Peter and Michael Moldaver.

In the evening a reception was held in the Kawartha Room of the Empress Hotel. A candle lighting ceremony took place with the following pairs lighting one candle each on the birthday cake: Mrs. Philip Black and Peter Moldaver, Mr. and Mrs. S. Moldaver, Mr. and Mrs. O. Moldaver, Mr. and Mrs. A. Moldaver, Mr. and Mrs. M. Black, Mr. and Mrs. A. Black, Mr. Isadore Black and Miss Belle Trefler, Mr. and Mrs. G. Lister, Mr. and Mrs. B. Hersenhorn, Mrs. M. Wesley and Paul Hersenhorn, Rabbi and Mrs. Babb, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Moldaver, Joel Moldaver.

After blowing out the candles Joel thanked everyone for attending and for all the good wishes.

There was dancing during the evening.

Guides Set Aside Three Months For Tributes To Queen

The Guides and Brownies in Peterborough celebrated the annual "Thinking Day" in individual ways. There were church parades, communion breakfasts, and special ceremonies at weekly meetings and a mother and daughter banquet. The girls also wore their uniforms to school.

All Guides of the British Commonwealth have been invited to join in paying coronation tribute to sister Guide Queen Elizabeth. They will pay it in Guide fashion in service to their country. Each company and pack will find their own opportunities.

The three months starting from "Thinking Day" have been chosen for paying tribute and record cards will be kept. A special coronation design on a cloth badge will be warn over the right breast pocket for all working for this tribute.

Canadian Girl Guides have been allotted a seat in Westminster Abbey for the coronation. There are special qualifications needed for the Guider chosen and there are two from Peterborough who fill the requirements. The necessary forms have ben filled in an returned to Toronto.

The girls eligible are attending Normal School and are Miss Barbara Dix and Miss Helen Weston. They are acting lieutenants at All Saints' 3rd Peterborough Company.

"Africa Complex" Says Rev. Pollock At Trinity Aux.

"Equal rights for blacks and whites is not the answer to South Africa's problem," stated the Rev. I. G. Pollock in a talk to Elizabeth Parker Auxiliary of Trinity United Church Monday night. "The answer lies with the Christian church and its teaching of brotherhood and better living."

Mr. Pollock spent seven years in South Africa working among black people and white people. He claims that the African is not trying to chase the white man into the sea, and that the white man did not take the country from the African. He points out that the African was driven to the south by stronger tribes to the north and only arrived in South Africa about 300 years ago at the time the white settlers were also arriving. The city of Johannasburg is only 60 years old.

Discovery of diamonds, gold and uranium has changed the whole picture of life in South Africa, from quiet pastoral living to a world based on economy and profits. And the white settlement has grown and expanded, says Mr. Pollock.

"Africa is a complex country, a country of contrasts. And of the 11 million blacks, 9 million can neither read nor write. As a people they had always lived in family or tribal villages, quietly hunting and farming for their immediate needs, with no thought of profits or of accumulating wealth. But with the discovery of mineral wealth in the land, the three million whites have raised the standard of their living and have needed cheap labor. Hence the African has been brought into service. He can work as a laborer but cannot become a tradesman, and he earns about £2 10s a week.

"But the new mode of life, this earning of money and working away from home has interrupted the black man's family life and tribal customs are disappearing. They have lost their sense of unity, and with no religion to guide them, they are like an orphaned people separated from the things which they knew and could trust. Now, they are not sure where these new roads will lead them; they are afraid but they do welcome the church," he said.

"They do not understand the white man's way of life. They themselves will walk three miles for water and dip a pail into a muddy stream and carry it on their head, back to their hut, and stand in amazement when a white man turns a tap from which flows a continuous stream of clear, sparkling water."

Mr. Pollock stated that all the churches in Africa have as their aim and purpose the liberation of the African through the slow method of education in Christian brotherhood. He says that money is always scorce, but slowly and painfully the work goes on and Black Africa will be led into the heritage which is truly theirs, "to stand by the white people and to share and to contribute in the economy of South Africa."

President Mrs. Fred Horton presided for a short business session, when plans were made for contributions in April to a bale. Miss Ida Giles led the worship period and Mrs. C. H. Marrs sang a solo. A delicious lunch was served by the group in charge.

DOROTHY DIX:

Ambitious Youngster Eager To Become Singer Or Actor

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 11 years old and in the sixth grade. I want to become an actress or singer. I know I would have to work hard to be successful, but I don't mind that. My mother thinks I'm too young, but I feel the younger I begin, the better. What is your opinion?

CHARLOTTE.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You and your mother are both right, Charlotte. While you are certainly too young to leave home in search of a career, you aren't too young to begin training for what you want.

First of all, you must be sure that you have the promise of real talent for the career you select. You must have a good voice, or real dramatic ability. Your music teacher at school, and your dramatic coach, can help you by frankly evaluating your talent.

POISE AND A GOOD APPEARANCE

That's just a beginning! In addition to talent, you must have a good appearance (beauty is not an essential), intelligence, poise and character. These you must begin to develop at once. The work of making the most of your natural gifts is largely up to you.

Mom will help you set up a program of physical improvement. Learn a few good exercises to improve your posture, and don't overlook the importance of sufficient sleep and rest. Be sports-minded. Go skating, swimming, play tennis and don't depend on buses and cars for transportation. Walking is wonderful exercise.

Be diligent at your schoolwork, for the day of the uneducated glamor girl is past.

Sounds like a big order for a little girl, doesn't it?

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MIS DIX: I am a junior in high school, and have been married two months. I'm completing this year, and while I know I should return in the fall to finish, I'd really much rather concentrate on housekeeping. I don't care for school, and I do love keeping house. Do you think I should go back?

NORA.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: While the advantages of a high-school diploma are manifold, I think in your case preference should be given your home. Plugging along at schoolwork you don't like will probably spoil your disposition and set your good housekeeping back at least a year.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a man of 30, and have been divorced for five years. Recently, I met a young lady, and we have fallen in love. I haven't told her of my previous marriage—it seems so remote now that I have almost forgotten it myself. Should I tell the girl?

DICK L.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: By all means you must tell her. While you may have forgotten your marriage, believe me there are lots of people who are only too willing to remember it — particularly if they think mention of your pevrious marriage will embarrass you.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I had been going with Hal for several months, and liked him very much except for the fact that he drank quite a bit. At one party, in particular, he became quite unpleasant. When my mother heard of it she told me not to see him again. In the meantime, I've found out that he has stopped drinking, and we've been seeing each in secret. I'm 16.

ELINOR.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You are heading for serious trouble, young lady, if you continue your present disobedience. If you feel that Hal is sincere in his determination to stop drinking, ask your mother if she'll talk to him. You will all benefit from a frank approach to your problem. Your mother will realize that you are fair-minded and are trying to do the right thing. Hall will find, in your mother's confidence, a further incentive to stay away from liquor, and you will have a clear conscience.

"MEET ME AT THE FAIR" (2-A)

SELWYN (ENS) — Mrs. Bruce Fitzgerald was hostess to the Woman's Association of the United Church at her home on Thursday. Mrs. George McIlmoyl presided for the meeting and Rev. D. P. Morris led in prayer.

Mrs. Evans Blewett read the scripture lesson and Rev. Morris gave a lenten address entitled "Concerning the Cross." The president, Mrs. G. McIlmoyl reported on the executive meeting that she attended at Grace United Church, Peterborough. Mrs. Evans Blewett, the treasurer, reported the WA funds had been swelled to $124.93.

Five visits were reported by the visiting committee and two cards of thanks were read from Mrs. Elton Miles and Mrs. Wm. Elliott for flowers received while in hospital. Mrs. Reg. Bell was acting secretary for the meeting in place of the regular secretary, Mrs. Elton Miles, who has been ill.

The birthday box was contributed to by the following ones whose birthday occurs this month: Mrs. Edward Preston, Mrs. George Mathieson, Mrs. Donald McConkey and Mrs. D. P. Morris.

The ladies planned to have the Dixieland Belles from Bridgenorth present their show in the hall in the near future.

Mrs. George Geisel who is leaving this community with her husband to reside near Little Britain, was presented with a silver sugar and cream set on a tray. A short address was read by Mrs. Clifford McIlmoyl and the presentation was made by Mrs. Melville Crapp.

Rev. and Mrs. D. P. Morris contributed a pleasing duet.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

The ladies will meet at the home of Mrs. Donald McConkey for the April meeting.

CARD PARTY

Six tables of euchre were played in the hall on Friday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Fitzgerald and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford McIlmoyl were in charge. Prize-winners for the ladies were Mrs. Bruce Fitzgerald and Mrs. Aubrey Hennessy, and for the gentlemen, Mr. Jim McConkey and Mr. Wesley Cummings. Mrs. Charlie McIlmoyl won the lucky door prize.

Refreshments were served at the close.

The next card party will be next Friday evening, March 13.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Use Rice As A Vegetable At Least Once A Week

I'm not going to ask you a certain question because I am afraid of your answer . . .

. . . but if you happen to guess why, I am giving you recipes that do not include rice pudding, then you are a gal that knows the answers.

Rice is a grain you know—a vegetable—and is delicious with the meat course and if you are not using it as a vegetable at least once per week you are missing a good bet.

One of the reasons that rice has never risen to popularity as a vegetable among us Anglo-Saxons is because we refuse to borrow the skill of the Orient in cooking it.

Each grain of rice should be distinct and separate. Rice should never cling together in a stodgy mass, and here's how to accomplish this desirable result:

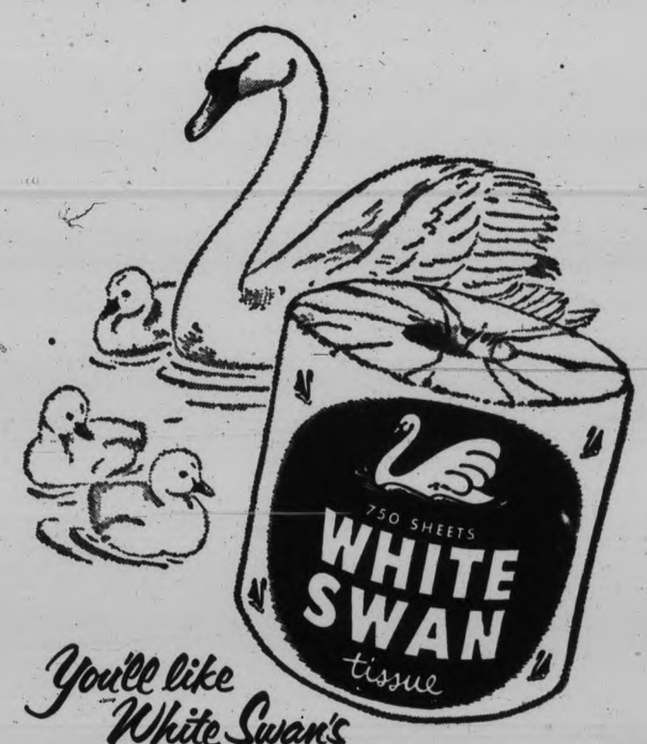
BOILED FLUFFY WHITE RICE

Three measuring cups when cooked: Into a 2-quart saucepan (I use aluminum) put 1 cup washed, drained raw rice, 2 cups cold water and 1 teaspoon salt. Bring to a hard boil. Reduce heat as low as possible or turn off for 5 minutes if electric, and cover tightly and let cook for 20 minutes, when all of the water will be absorbed and rice will be tender and each grain seeparate. Never be tempted to stir it. Leave lid on until ready to serve, then transfer it to serving dish, using a fork. Some grains stick to bottom of pan, but soak off readily. I add them to my soup pitcher.

VARIATIONS: (1) To make rice taste richer, add 2 tablespoons butter when it starts to cook. (2) Add butter as in variation (1) and 1 or teaspoons curry powder. This second variation is especially good with veal or chicken. (3) Add 1 tablespoon grated onion or chives. This last variation is good with beef dishes or broiled liver and bacon.

ECONOMICAL RICE AND WEINER SUPPER

Four tablespoons butter, ½ cup chopped green onion tops, 4 tablespoons flour, 2½ cups milk, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 2 cups cooked mixed vegetables such as carrot dice, peas, green or lima beans or kernel corn, 1 lb. weiners, cut into 1-inch pieces. Melt the butter (or margarine) in frying-pan and saute onions in it until limp and slightly gold. Stir in flour and when blended stir in the milk until mixture thickens. Add all remaining ingredients, stir in, then gently cook for 10 minutes, serve this over fluffy rice (cooked as above) or in a ring of rice on a chop platter. Garnish with chopped parsley. This is very popular with the folk who matter most—the men and the children.



SPANISH RICE (my version)

Gently melt ¼ cup butter, then add 1 cup raw rice which has been washed and well drained, and 1½ cups finely sliced onion. Saute these together until they absorb all of the fat and the rice is just a little browned. Now add 1 bay leaf, 1¾ teaspoons salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, ¼ teaspoon pepper and 1 No. 2½ can (28 oz.) tomatoes. If desired, ½ chopped green pepper may be added now or 1 cup finely chopped celery and leaves. Cover and simmer until rice is tender and tomato is cooked down a little. This has a lot of flavor and is very satisfying and if you want to serve it at a meatless meal add ½ cup chopped blanched almonds. I sprinkle the almonds over after the rice is turned into the serving dish.

VARIATION: (1) Use diluted canned consomme of tomatoes. (2) For posh occasions serve this with breaded veal cutlets or chops and add ¼ or ½ lb. mushrooms to the rice and onions when they are sauteing—but add extra butter too for the mushrooms will soak up a lot. This is rich and good.

What makes pie crust Flaky?

Haven't you noticed that husbands and children are experts at judging pie crust? Turn out a tender, flaky pastry, and they'll finish off the whole pie at one sitting. But making flaky pastry isn't easy. So much depends on "cutting" pre-chilled shortening into tiny pieces, and coating each tiny piece with the flour. It takes a light touch because over blending breaks down the pieces of shortening and produces tough, close textured pastry.

You know you'll have good pastry when you pour out Shirriff's Pie Crust Mix. It has the rich pebbly texture that bakes up into a light, tender pastry, flaky enough to melt against a fork. Shirriff's designed their own special equipment to make it this way and to guarantee you tender, flaky pastry every time you bake.

Try it soon won't you? It's so simple to make, so delicious to eat, and so economical.

6—In Memoriam

MONAGHAN—In loving memory of mother, Mrs. J. F. Monaghan, who passed away last March.
Please, God, forgive a silent tear,
A fervent wish my mother was here.
There are others, yes, I know,
But she was mine and I loved her so
Dear God, take a message
To my mother in heaven above,
Tell her how much I miss her,
And give her all my love.
—Ever remembered by loving daughter and grandson.

SHEWARD—In loving memory of a dear mother, Selina Sheward, who passed away March 10, 1948.
Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear.
Fond memories linger every day,
Remembrance keeps her near.
Lovingly remembered by family.

TALLMAN—In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Flossie Tallman, who passed away ten years ago.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Always tender, fond and true;
There's not a day, dear mother,
We do not think of you.
—Sadly missed by daughter Katie, son-in-law Johnnie, grandson Garry.

TALLMAN—In loving memory of Mrs. Flossie Tallman, who passed away March 10, 1943.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Always tender, fond and true,
There's not a day, dear mother,
We do not think of you.
—Remembered by sons Bob and Jack.

TALLMAN—In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Flossie Tallman, who passed away ten years ago today.
When days are dark and friends are few,
Dear mother, how we think of you,
Friends are friends if they are true,
We lost our best friend when we lost you
—Sadly missed by daughter Muriel and son-in-law Gerald.

MONAGHAN—In loving memory of mother, Mrs. Mary Monaghan, who passed away March 9th, 1952.
You oft times said I'd miss you,
These words have proved too true,
I lost my best, my dearest friend,
Dear mother, when I lost you.
—Sadly missed by Joan.

MOON—In memory of Mr. William Moon, who passed away March 10, 1947.
A silent thought, a secret tear,
Keeps his memory ever dear.
Time takes away the edge of grief,
But memory turns back every leaf.
—Ever remembered by son Percy and daughter-in-law Muriel.

TALLMAN—In loving mmory of our dear mother, Mrs. Flossie Tallman, who died March 10, 1943.
No one knows how much we miss you,
No one knows the bitter pain
We have suffered, since we lost you
Life has never been the same.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender, fond and true,
There is not a day, dear mother,
That we do not think of you.
—Ever remembered by daughter, Eva and son-in-law Glenn, grandson Wayne.

Suggest City Should Fire William Burnie

A suggestion that city council fire their industrial commissioner, William Burnie, was made Monday night at the Peterborough and District Labor Council (CCL).

"The industrial commissioner has been here about 10 months and he hasn't got a single new industry to show for it," said Thomas Cupoli of Local 570, IUE-CIO.

"I have nothing against the man's character but I think he should be dimissed," said Mr. Cupoli. "They should give the job to the Chamber of Commerce. A lot of smart men and experienced businessmen are members of the Chamber."

President Fred Burrett said he had seen press reports of Mr. Burnie's statement to the Board of Works on Feb. 23.

"The gist of his statement was that if the workers would take a cut in wages the city would get new industry," said Mr. Burrett. "That sort of man shouldn't be employed anywhere."

(The Examiner report quoted Mr. Burnie as saying that one company chose Trenton because of lower wages paid there. The difference was too great to be ignored, company officials explained. He said that in the nine-month period he had contacted about 100 manufacturers and more than 40 outside people or agencies interested in new industry. Fifteen or 20 were reported to be "actively interested". Nineteen firms were looking for space and Mr. Burnie said he thought several, at least, would have started in Peterborough if if there had been vacant floor space to rent.)

John Beggs of Local 293, UPWA-CIO, said the labor council should dig into the matter and find out why new industries aren't coming to Peterborough.

"High wages," was the answer from several delegates.

Discussion was abruptly cut off when it was pointed out that the labor council had gone over its 10 p.m. deadline. But the subject of Mr. Burnie and Peterborough's industrial future will probably be brought up again at the April meeting.

NEW STAMP ISSUE — Two new stamps with Queen Elizabeth portraits will be issued by the post office department. The full-face portrait (left) is due May 1. A month later, the day before the Queen's coronation, a four-cent coronation stamp will be issued. The new stamps will be in denominations of one to five cents in brown, green, red, purple and blue. The new issue gradually will replace the stamps of the same denominations bearing portraits of King George VI.

Stalin's Death Strengthened Hand Of Mao

NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

LONDON—Mao Tse-tung, the Chinese Communist leader who may emerge as the No. 1 Communist of the world, now that Prime Minister Stalin is dead, will soon be in a position to decide for himslf whether to continue the war in Korea or make peace with the United Nations.

While Stalin was alive it was unlikely that Mao would undertake to end the Korean War without Stalin's consent. It is considered unlikely that Mao would feel himself bound in the same way to Georgi M. Malenkov, Lavrenti P. Bearia, or Viacheslav M. Molotov.

Stalin's death therefore is expected to strengthen Mao's hand. The Chinese Communist leader may obtain a greater degree of independent authority in international affairs concerning directly his regime.

There is no way of knowing whether Mao will favor a peace or a continuation of the Korean War, but there is good reason to suspect that Stalin was interested in keeping alive the Korean conflict so as to be able to barter peace in Korea for political concessions in the West.

Restrict Duplex

was changed from single unit, one-storey dwellings by the conspicuous inclusion of the two duplex houses on the five lots left vacant at the corner of Ludgate and Caddy Streets.

TYPE ON PERMIT

It transpired in the discussion last night that the authority for City Engineer Chalmers to issue the Greenley building permit was embodied in the unanimous decision of the town planning committee, and that each duplex was to be of four dwelling units. It has also been brought out that this type of duplex, four units only in each, was written on the permit in a notation by City Engineer Chalmers when he issued th epermit according to the order of the planning committee, a copy of which Mr. Greenley submitted to Mr. Chalmers.

Both Mr. Ireland and Mr. Greenley appeared before the finance committee Monday night.

Mr. Greenley said he had nothing in particular to submit, but it had been suggested to him that he might be present to answer any questions that might be useful in informing the committee of what was taking place.

He said that he had appeared before the city planning committee, obtained their approval, and took that letter to the City Engineer's office, depositing with it on February 10 his plans of the buildings.

Ald. H. S. Longhurst told Mr. Greenley that he had assured the city planning committee that each duplex was to consist of four apartments, but it was now said that the plan was for six in each duplex.

JUST RUMORS

Mr. Greenley replied that the basements were provided for laundry and storage rooms, janitor's room and so on.

"The rumors about six apartments were due to the partition I was putting up in the basement. I submitted the plan of what I was going to build."

Ald. Rehill enquired about objections from residents other than the four Caddy St. property owners who came to the council meeting last week.

Mr. Greenley said that four of those who were adjacent to the new duplexes were not opposed to his project. "The man directly next door called at my place. I didn't know whether he was for me or against me, so I asked him to come with me to the office. He said he was all for the building on the corner lots, and would like to see that property built on.

"But, he asked me if I was boing to build another building between the nearest duplex and his place. I am directly west of it, 47 feet from his line and 51 feet from his house. I told him I had no intention of putting up anything there."

Mr. Greenley mentioned other residents of the area who did not disapprove in their remarks to him. He also said the corner lot was not suitable for a playground for children.

"I thought I received a very fair hearing from the city planning committee," Mr. Greenley said.

NO PERMIT DISPLAYED

One of the points of criticism in Mr. Ireland's statement a week ago was that a building permit was not posted at the work.

"I was remiss in that," Mr. Greenley said. "I told one man who asked about it that I had the permit in my office at the works, and if he'd come in I'd show it to him."

City Engineer Chalmers said there was nothing in the regulations that required the posting of a building permit. Ald. Rehill commented that it was the general experience of builders and contractors that youngsters tore off many of the permits that were nailed up at jobs.

"The permit has nothing to do with the people on the street," said Mr. Chalmers.

He said he had stopped Mr. Greenley's work last Friday. The basement is finished on one building and a beginning made on the first storey.

The City Engineer explained that the original plan showed open or undivided basements, but Mr. Greenley was proceeding with partitions. That was when the construction was halted, and a plan of the basement was provided showing the detail of the partitioning.

Mr. Ireland contended to the council that the nature of Cadverley subdivision was changed by the decision of the city planning committee and without reference to its other residents and without notice to them.

As a precedent recommending that notification he cited the procedure which resulted in preventing a gasoline service station from being located at the northeast corner of Parkhill Road and Water Streets.

In that case, City Clerk Outram explained the use of the corner property would have been changed from residential to commercial if the application of the gasoline company for a building permit was granted. In the Cadverly subdivision the entire property was not changed from residential zoning.

Both sides in this matter mentioned the fact that the zoning bylaw has not yet been passed.

As to Mr. Ireland's apprehension of smoke and drainage from the Greenley apartment houses, Mr. Chalmers said the heating system was to be oil burning hot water furnace, with two chimneys. It was suggested that the smoke from that system could hardly be worse than from five single houses if they had been built on the corner lots. And as to drainage, the run-off from the two duplexes would be less than from five one-unit houses.

Request To Delay Annexation Defeated In Vote

A motion requesting Premier Leslie Frost to delay the passing of the private bill annexing 1,256 acres to the City of Peterborough was voted down by a narrow margiu at the meeting Monday night of the Peterborough and District Labor Council (CCL).

William Whibbs of Local 524, IUE-CIO, said he was not opposed to annexation in principle, but the question is: "Is this thing going to be done in a democratic manner?"

Mr. Whibbs said there were objections to the annexation and as development of the annexed area of Smith Township would cost the ratepayers a lot of money, a referendum should be held at the next municipal election.

"I've heard that appointed officials have options on lots out there," said Mr. Whibbs who admitted it was only hearsay.

Thomas Cupoli of Local 570, IUE-CIO, said: "They'll be building streets up there without house; they're trying to bite off more than they can chew."

They were supported by several other delegates to the labor council who wanted each local union to send a telegram to Premier Frost to delay passing the bill and refer the matter back to the city so there could be a vote of the ratepayers at the next election.

GET INFORMATION

Edmund S. Humphrey of Local 434, UPWA-CIO, came up with a word of caution: "Before we go off the deep end it would be a good idea to find out something else about it . . . I think we've already demonstrated very ably that we don't know very much . . ."

William Triggs of Local 293, UPWA-CIO, agreed that both sides of the argument should be heard. The council had been urged to send telegrams by George W. Carphin who is one of the group in the annexed area opposed to the move.

The motion was defeated and immediately afterwards Mr. Triggs introduced another motion that two delegates visit the city clerk and get more information on the annexation. The motion carried.

The bill has passed its first reading and in a week or so will come up for discussion by the Private Bills Committee of the Legislature.

Expect Entries To Equal 1952

The seed fair of the Central Ontario Spring Show should bring out as many entries as last year, Stuart Bowman, inspector of seeds in this district for the federal Department of Agriculture told the show executive here, Monday afternoon.

Twenty-five farmers of six or seven counties turned out for the final review for the week's affairs that begin next Tuesday.

Ed. A. Summer, agricultural representative in Durham county, expects about the same display of grant for that county's show which is directed to Peterborough as a separate feature of the Spring Show.

Robert Armstrong of Cavan was chairman, and most of the members of the executive were from out of town. Exceptions were Cliff Curtis, Ald. H. T. Rehill, Norman McConkey, president of Peterborough Exhibition, Clarence Bacon. Some of them are of slightly equivocal position such as Bruce Sargent who is in town every day but lives in Cavan. Incidently, the Sargent brothers' orchestra is playing for the square dancing at the Show Thursday night.

First county set to take the stage in grace and fluid motion will be the four young men and four young women of Victoria county. The Peterborough group is second and Hastings next. Seven counties are represented in this competition.

Other program numbers will be the Durham brass quartette, Gordon Murray of Victoria who put on the act, "It's In the Book," and Peterborough Junior Farmers Choir will be heard in public for the firts time. Their director is Charles Allen.

Lack Of Site

One known fact which received mention during that sleepy-time session was that if the Centre is to be built at Morrow Park, the general hope of various interests, the private bill which was passed in the Legislature of the province incorporating the Centre and defining authority of administration and such details, would have to be amended.

NOTHING DEFINITE

So far the city council has no definite information that a site at Morrow Park can be acquired. On that point, discussion and interviews and outside legal advice have left an impression that the trustees of Morrow Park are restricted by the terms of their trust to maintaining the property as a memorial to the late H. A. Morrow.

This fact has been published repeatedly, and it is further known that the city cannot buy any part of Morrow Park.

Therefore, if a Centre site could in some manner be obtained at the park, the city's bill would have to be amended by the Legislature. And that cannot be done in the present sessions. It could not be brought before the Legislature until the sessions of 1954.

Peterborough Exhibition directors are interested in the persistent proposal the Centre should be located at Morrow Park, and several farm organizations are reported to be ready to give that board any assistance they can.

Meanwhile, recently, a former suggestion has been revived, that the city council should consider purchasing the Dominionu Woollens property at Monaghan Road and McDonnel St.

It has emanated from some of the sports organizations who are arguing that if there is no possibility of the Centre being built at Morrow Park, someone should say so, once and for all; and further that if the outlook in that direction is entirely and finally negative, then action should be taken to get the Monaghan Road property and consider seriously the Timber Structures plan.

Sister St. Leo

The funeral for Sister St. Leo of Mount St. Joseph, Peterborough, who died in hospital Friday following a short illness, was held Monday at Mount St. Joseph Chapel.

Born in Codrington the former Agnes Moran and daughter of the late Philip Moran and M. A. O'Neill, Sister St. Leo has been a member of the Community of the Sisters of St. Joseph for the past 44 years. She taught music for a number of years.

Happy At Joe's Death E. Germans Arrested

BERLIN (AP)—The U. S. high commission newspaper Neue Zeitung today reported a week-end wave of arrests in East Germany of persons expressing public "satisfaction" at the death of Joseph Stalin.

The newspaper said the Communist police had arrested 45 persons in East Berlin and numerous others in the Russian zone outside the city.

Nursing As A Career Subject Of Address To Rotary Club

CAMPBELLFORD— (ENS) — Mrs. W. C. Tatham was guest speaker at Rotary Club on Monday. Mrs. Tatham, a graduate of Ottawa Ladies College chose as the subject of her address — "Nursing as a Career."

Though nursing the sick and injured has been the love of women for centuries, it became a profession only recently. As a result of the great accomplishments of Florence Nightingale in the Crimean War nearly 100 years ago, nursing became an avocation after the war was over. Sent by the British government to Crimea, Miss Nightingale and her associates were so much appreciated that relatives and friends of the war veterans subscribed $250,000 which provided for the first nurses' training school. Prior to this time home remedies, passed down from generation to generation, comprised the medical knowledge for the most part.

NECESSARY QUALITIES

The essential qualities for a person entering the profession are cheerful disposition, knowledge and ability. A nurse must be willing to learn and act, to have proper regard for the life of fellow humans, have an interest in the intellecual, an apreciation of the scientific and a self-reliance demanded on occasions by the nature of her work. Experience is gained during the training by hard work, observation and pratice. There is not much to be said for training in the smaller hospitals, though the profession is well served in both small and large institutions.

At the present time, and for some time past there has been a shortage of nurses. The speaker recommended nursing as a profession for young girls.

Mrs. Tatham was introduced by Rotarian Dave Ness and thanked by President F. G. DeCarrol.

H. A. Metcalfe New Assessor

H. A. Metcalfe of Ennismore was appointed assessor for North Monaghan at $800 this year by the township council, Monday.

Donald A. Richardson, tax collector, reported that outstanding taxes for 1952 amounted to $3,-628.84.

The clerk was authorized to notify the collector to proceed to collect the balance of these outstanding taxes.

W. R. Juston, Smiths Falls wrote asking for permission to build a 20-unit motel on the north side of No. 7-A Highway, near the foot of the west Lansdowne St. hill.

It was said that Mr. Justin would require preliminary approval of the Department of Highways.

The following accounts were ordered to be paid: Relief and welfare $125.91; delegation to Toronto, Ontario Association of Rural Municipalities $50; printing $26; dog tags $12.08; public liability insurance, roads $113.50; grant to Millbrook Agricultural Society $25; roads and streets $35.55.

Damage Set At $10,000 As Niagara Store Burns

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE (CP) Damage estimated at $10,000 was caused when fire broke out early today in Phelan's furniture store.

Caused by an overheated furnace the fire was held to the basement but large quantities of stock were destroyed.

Dense smoke through the two-storey building forced the evacuation of four people in apartments upstairs, three were rescued through a window by a ladder and the third was able to use the stairs.

PoW Seized

CHICAGO (AP)—Reinhold Pabel, 38, a former German prisoner of war who eluded search for more than seven years, was seized Monday by the federal bureau of investigation in a book store he had been operating since 1949 under the name of Phil Brick. Agents said Pabel married a Chicago girl two years ago and was the father of a one-year-old son. Pabel came to Chicago in 1945 after escaping from a prisoner-of-war camp near Peoria, Ill.

Queen To Write Message Of Faith For Youth Sunday

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Sixteen days before the Coronation, a message of faith from the Queen will be read in many parts of the Commonwealth, commemorating Empire Youth Sunday.

The Queen, following her father George VI as patron of this movement, will write an advance message to be sent to many parts of the Commonwealth and Empire for Youth Sunday services May 17. In doing so she will follow her father's annual custom.

The message goes in sealed envelopes to the governors and governors-general of countries who request it, in time to reach the organizers of every Empire Youth Sunday, however distant their territory. To ensure simultaneous release, orders are that the message remain sealed until the evening before the service.

IN MANY LANDS

In 1952 distribution covered 34 territories — observances being made for the first time in Gambia, Nyasaland and Tanganyika. Demands are expected to be even greater this year, due to the Coronation and the clear purpose of a young sovereign already showing her father's devotion to duty.

Empire Youth Sunday had its roots in the great services for young people held at the time of the Coronation of her father. For this alone, it would hold interest for the Queen. Throughout his reign, the late King continued to sponsor youth organizations that first held his interest as Duke of York, second in line to the crown of his father. This interest was early fostered in his two daughters.

Now, for the first time, the service will be held in St. Paul's Cathedral instead of Westminster Abbey, the abbey being under repair for the Coronation. The Duchess of Kent and her daughter, Princess Alexandra, will represent the Queen at the service in St. Paul's, and it is believed many Commonwealth visitors already in London for the Coronation will also attend.

NEW NAMES ADDED

"This might eventually add to the territories already observing Empire Youth Sunday," said a spokesman in the London headquarters of the movement. Each year new names are added, but sometimes interest slackens.

The six days preceding Empire Youth Sunday, May 11-16, are observed as Empire Youth Week. At this time each year, Commonwealth and Empire youngsters in such youth organizations as the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides attend big rallies held in British camps.

Attacks Eagles From The Air

SYDNEY, Australia (CP) — A crack Australian shot is shooting down giant wedge-tailed eagles in northern New South Wales from an Auster aircraft.

The owner of a station near Gunnedah, H. H. Austin, recently lost 40 lambs which were attacked by the eagles. He found he could never get near enough to them on the ground to kill them and so he decided to try attacking them from the air.

He asked the president of the Tamworth Gun Club, Rea Moore, to do the shooting and hired an air taxi plane. Mr. Moore strapped himself into the seat and kept the door open. After the first expedition he said:

"We saw two of the eagles about 1,000 feet up and the pilot did a wonderful job in manoeuvring within 40 yards of them. We came up underneath them but I had time only to fire one barrel at the first bird with my 12-gauge shot-gun. The first bird disappeared under the plane and we lost sight of it. I think I hit it though.

"The second eagle went down with feathers flying. A horseman on the ground killed it with a stick."

More Saucers

YUMA, Ariz. (AP)—A U. S. air force public information officer said Monday night several officers have seen "what looked like flying saucers" hovering over the air defence command gunnery meet here. Capt. Phillip Hiaring said the sightings were reported last Thursday by more than 20 officers and civilians.

TO CLAIM WORLD RECORD

HAMILTON (CP)—When 19-year-old Mary MacDonald of Toronto ran the 60 yards in 6.8 seconds here Saturday she sent the track fans digging into the record books. And the first search fails to turn up any woman with a better time for the distance.

The Amateur Athletic Union of the United States doesn't keep world record performances for women for 60 yards, only noteworthy performances. The best time for 60 yards it has on record is 6.9 seconds, by Elizabeth Robinson over an indoor dirt track at Chicago in 1931.

The time is being submitted as a world record by the Women's Amateur Athletic Federation of Canada. The federation will also consider a claim for a Canadian record. The 6.8 time was two-tenths of a second faster than the existing Canadian mark of seven seconds set by Myrtle Cook of Montreal in 1929 and equalled since by Gertrude Phinney of Dartmouth, N.S., in 1929, Thelma Norris of Calgary in 1935 and Aileen Meagher of Halifax in 1935. The seven-second times all came on outdoor tracks.

LOOK LIKE QUE. CHAMPS

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal Hi-Aces appeared today to be headed without trouble for the Quebec junior basketball championship and the right to advance in the Dominion series. Hi-Aces defeated Quebec Seminaries 103-50 in Quebec Saturday night, first of a two-game, total-point series for the provincial title. The second game is scheduled for Montreal Thursday. Windsor AKO Juniors will meet the winner here March 17 and 18 in a two-game, total-point series.

BELIVEAU TOP SCORER

MONTREAL (CP)—Official figures on individual scoring in the regular season of the Quebec Senior Hockey League confirmed what everybody knew — Jean Beliveau finished in front with 89 points. The star centre of Quebec Aces put together 50 goals—highest in that department by 10—and 39 assists. Andre Corriveau of Valleyfield Braves was second with 85 points, made up of 40 goals and 45 assists.

BETTOR'S BIG HAUL

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—An unknown bettor won a record $300,600 on a $2.36 bet in Sunday's "five and six" betting at the Caracas racetrack.

Only one person picked the winners of the final six races of the day to hit the all-time high jackpot in a betting system that might be roughly compared to a triple daily double.

Track officials said the winner wouldn't be known until he comes in to collect with the carbon copy of his ticket.

Selling Dairy Cattle To American Buyers

TORONTO (CP)—Farmers in most parts of Ontario report sales of dairy cattle to United States buyers, the agricultural department said today in its weekly crop report.

There has been an increasing interest in the production of hogs in Bruce, Durham, Ontario, York, Dundas and Glengarry counties.

Seed cleaning plants are in operation throughout the province with the seed trade active. Demand for potatoes in Wentworth, Muskoka, Parry Sound and Ontario counties and the districts of Algoma and Sudbury is poor.

Commons Up Late

LONDON (AP)—The House of Commons stayed up until 4:52 a. m. this morning debating the government's estimate that the British army will cost £526,000,000 ($1,472,800,000) in the fiscal year starting April 1. The session was the longest of the year, lasting 13 hours and 22 minutes.

Tanker Refloated

TOKYO (AP)—The British tanker Wave Governor successfully refloated itself and headed toward Yokohama today after running aground in Suruga bay about 100 miles southwest of Tokyo, the maritime safety board said. The board said 10,000 tons of crude oil carried on the 8,189-ton vessel was jettisoned.

Oshawa Knocks Off Stouffville, Kingston Leads

Kingston Goodyears took a one-game lead in their series with Belleville and Oshawa won their series with Stouffville Clippers Monday night in Eastern Ontario Senior B hockey semi-finals.

Kingston Goodyears defeated Belleville Glen Roys, 8-3, to take a 3-2 lead in their OHA Senior "B" group semi-final series. The first game ended in a 5-5 tie.

Kingston took a 2-1 lead in the first period, added three in the middle period and then outscored the homesters, 3-2, in the final 20 minutes.

The winners were sparked by sensational netminding by Ken Johnston, who time and time again turned the Glen Roys aside on what seemed would be sure markers, particularly in the first half of the second period, when Belleville held a wide margin in territorial plays but couldn't score.

Ted Nicholson and Luke DeLuca each scored two goals for the winners, while Don Murray, Mucker McKeown and Ken Partis got the others.

Ted DeGray and Red Doran each claimed a goal and an assist for Glen Roys, while Sam Mulholland registered the odd one.

The seventh game will be played in Kingston Thursday night.

Oshawa Smith Truckmen defeated Stouffville Clippers, 6-3, in the fifth game of their Eastern OHA Senior "B" Eastern Ontario best-in-seven semi-final. The victory gives the Truckers the series, 4-0 with one game tied. Oshawa will meet the winner of the Kingston-Belleville semi-final for the title.

The big reason Oshawa didn't swamp Stouffville was the fine work of Jack Eatough in their goal.

Jack Thaler was the fireball for the Truckers, scoring two unassisted goals and turning in a fine forechecking game. Both of the tallies were a direct result of his diligence in sticking with his man.

Ron Bell and Nick Bangay were two of the better players in the Stouffville cause, while Captain Ernie Dickens played a tremendous 60-minute hockey for Oshawa.

Manitoba Budget Sets Record At $54,500,000

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Manitoba will spend some $54,500,000 this year—the highest expenditures in the province's history.

Tabling estimated expenditures for the fiscal year Monday in the legislature, Provincial Treasurer R. D. Turner said the figure compares with $49,750,000 last year, an increase of $4,750,000.

He said public works and education budgets account for most of the increase. The public works budget alone is almost $16,500,000, a jump of 47 per cent from last year, and education spending is estimated at $10,945,000, a 40-per-cent increase.

The administration is expected to bring down the budget this week.

$25,000,000 LOSS

The former Liberal administration in British Columbia should have inserted a clause in its agreement with the Aluminum Company of Canada calling for the company to clear land to be flooded in the Kitimat project, Forests Minister Robert Sommers said in the B. C. legislature.

He said B. C. will lose $23,438,000 in lake values and $2,500,000 in wild life as a result of the $550,000,000 power and aluminum plan. In return, the government would get $125,000 a year from Alcan for water power rights.

The B. C. legislature approved the principle of a bill to ban the sale of dairy substitutes in the province. Margarine is an exception.

$5 A PUPIL

School districts in Alberta will get a special grant of $5 a year for each pupil. Education Minister Anders O. Aalborg, announced the plan effective immediately during the budget debate in the legislature. He also said that where enrolment has grown abnormally the special grant will be raised to $100 a year from $20 for each pupil.

Opposition leader J. Harper Prowse charged the Alberta government with neglecting municipalities and setting exorbitant rates of interest. The government was to blame for municipalities going into debt, he said.

The question of the relationship of a city with its surrounding district came before the Prince Edward Island legislature.

A commission report on water and sewage in the fringe areas of the city was tabled in the House at Charlottetown and if it is adopted, city boundaries will be extended.

The Nova Scotia house was asked to vote in favor of a motion calling for an inquiry into the chances of getting federal aid for education without losing provincial autonomy.

Speaking on his own motion, G. I. Smith (PC-Colchester) said there ought to be equality of opportunity and the federal government can help bring this about.

Hard-Working Prospector To Take Life Little Easier

OTTAWA (CP) The days of the big battles between prospectors over northern land staked out for oil and gas exploration are about over.

The resources department plans a new permit-granting program which will not only end disputes but also will make life a lot easier for the hard-working prospector.

Under the new program, which likely will become effective in about a month, prospectors won't have to go to the Yukon and the Northwest Territories to stake out their claims.

APPLY AT OTTAWA

They merely will apply at the department's Ottawa lands division offices and tell the clerk which area they want to explore.

The clerk will check a big grid map, find out if the land has been previously staked, and if not grant the applicant his permit.

That's all there will be to it.

Under old regulations, the prospector had to get into the Yukon and Northwest Territories and actually drive in his stake at one corner of his claim. He then had 30 days with which to apply for an oil or gas exploration permit at Ottawa.

Many prospectors, said the department, found this highly unsatisfactory. Since the area to be staked had to be at least 50 miles square, it was difficult to tell whether some other prospector had driven in his stake in some other section of the area.

HARD TO SETTLE

Disputes developed and these were sometimes difficult to settle. However the old regulations are being withdrawn, effective Feb. 26. That means prospectors will have 30 days from that date to apply for permits under the old regulations.

The new regulations will apply only to the Yukon and Northwest Territories and only on gas and oil exploration.

Permits are granted on payment of a $250 fee plus a deposit of five cents an acre. If the applicant doesn't spend at least five cents an acre on exploration during the first 18 months of his three-year permit, the money is forfeited to the government.

Duke of Edinburgh Gives Constitutional Monarchy New Sense of Purpose

What kind of man is the Duke of Edinburgh, husband of the Queen? How has he reacted to the challenge of his position as first gentleman in the new Elizabethan age? This story is the first of a series in which Alan Harvey of the Canadian Press staff in London answers those questions. Facts and comment not previously published were provided by court officials and intimates of the Royal Family.

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—The Duke of Edinburgh is a consort on a crusade.

The playboy Prince has given constitutional monarchy a new sense of purpose.

In vigorous speeches, the dashing Duke has put the immense prestige of his position—close to the throne but unencumbered by its restraints—solidly behind Britain's 20th century struggle for survival.

Instead of accepting a neutral role in royalty's ivory-tower world, Philip goes up and down the country pleading for an industrial comeback. Only by a scientific and technological revolution, he argues, can Britain survive in the supersonic era.

CAN SPEAK FREELY

This is perhaps the first time a figure close to the Crown has intervened so purposefully and publicly in the nation's affairs. Philip can do so because he is not by heredity a member of Britain's Royal Family.

As a personality, he is Somebody with a capital S. Constitutionally he has no status.

Thus he can speak freely without fear of the sort of indiscretion that might prove fatal, say, in the sovereign's case.

Philip's effort to link royalty with the nation's welfare appears a deliberate, thought-out policy. He is keenly aware of the emotional pull of monarchy.

"The characteristic of all the great periods of English history," he said last December in opening a technical college, "has been a nation-wide sense of confidence and adventure which went at the same time with a feeling of personal service to the sovereign.

"These islands now are the centre of a vast family of nations. Let it never be said that Great Britain became the poor relation of the British Commonwealth in our time. . . ."

BREEZY AND DIRECT

The Duke works on the principle of one speech, one idea. His talks are as breezy, direct and dynamic as his personality. Here are some thoughts from recent addresses:

"The need for technical education is greater than ever before."

"Only those companies which make full use of modern science and technology will be able to withstand the cold winds of competition. . . The solution of our industrial problem lies in the universities and technical colleges."

"We could go a long way further. . . if we could just make science a little more fashionable."

"British no-men are a thousand times more harmful than American yes-men."

SCIENTIFIC MIND

Throughout his theme is the importance of scientific and technological advance. This is a genuine interest to Philip. Last year he undertook a study of industrial production. He went down a coal mine, visited power stations, aircraft factories, atomic energy and guided missiles plants.

He writes his own speeches. He bluntly declines to have anyone "stooge" for him. It is part of palace folklore that his first major speech, to a gathering of British scientists at Edinburgh, was prepared from notes scribbled on a signal pad in the frigate Magpie, which he commanded in the Mediterranean. The speech was a success.

Palace officials don't worry about the Duke's audacity. He isn't the sovereign. Anyway, wasn't Prince Albert a pretty outspoken consort in Queen Victoria's day?

"Albert spoke his mind, too, you know," a court spokesman said. "And times have changed. Perhaps there wasn't as much to get excited about in Victoria's time."

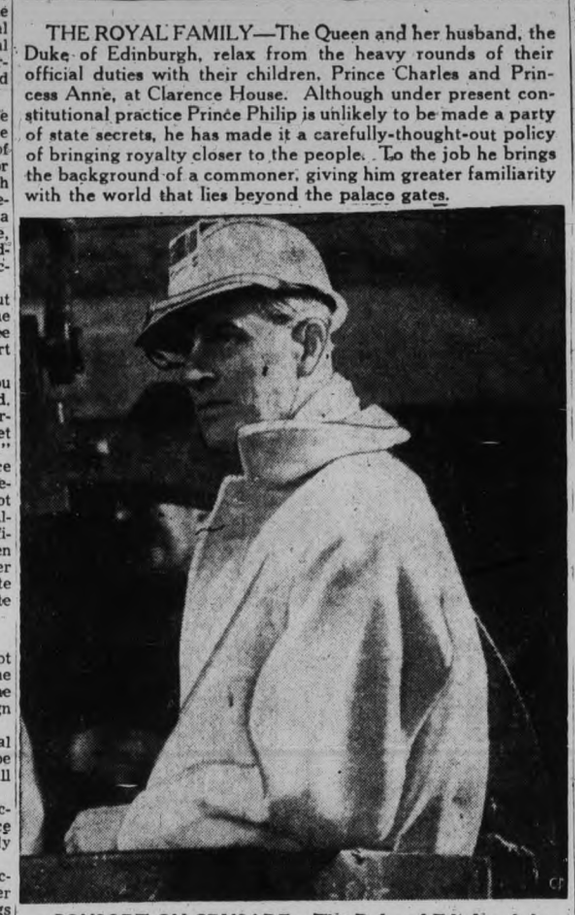
Much in fact has changed since Prince Albert died in 1861. Precedents set in his lifetime do not answer all today's problems. Albert came to be Victoria's confidential clerk, a virtual king. When Victoria was about to have her first child she ordered a duplicate set of keys to the private state boxes made for her consort.

INFLUENTIAL CONSORT

Albert himself said he was not only the Queen's husband but the "tutor of the royal children, the private secretary of the sovereign and her permanent minister."

Under present constitutional practice, Philip is unlikely to be made a party of state secrets, all of which the Queen must know.

Victoria's consort was often accused of exercising undue influence over her. No such charge is likely to be levelled at the Duke.



One of Philip's principal functions will be to bring royalty closer to the people. To the job he brings the background of a commoner, giving him greater familiarity with the world that lies beyond Buckingham Palace gates.

So the court doesn't worry about Philip "dropping a brick." He will not lightly revert to the spirit of earlier, light-hearted addresses—such as the time in Edinburgh when he spoke of his train arriving "six drinks late."

Phillip, in this new Elizabethan age, seems to have found his niche.

THE ROYAL FAMILY—The Queen and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, relax from the heavy rounds of their official duties with their children, Prince Charles and Princess Anne, at Clarence House. Although under present constitutional practice Prince Philip is unlikely to be made a party of state secrets, he has made it a carefully-thought-out policy of bringing royalty closer to the people. To the job he brings the background of a commoner, giving him greater familiarity with the world that lies beyond the palace gates.

CONSORT ON CRUSADE—The Duke of Edinburgh has put the immense prestige of his position—close to the throne but unencumbered by its restraints—solidly behind Britain's 20th century struggle for survival. Last year he undertook a study of industrial production. He went down a coal mine, visited power stations, aircraft factories, atomic energy and guided missile plants. Here, he is shown about to descend No. 3 pit in a Lancashire coalfield. He wears a boiler suit, a miner's white helmet and carries a safety lamp.

Hope Stamps Of Queen Do Her Justice

OTTAWA (CP)—Post office department officials are "keeping our fingers crossed" hoping that the new Queen Elizabeth stamps will do her justice in the finished product.

Already there have been some rumblings of criticism of published pictures of the dies for the four-cent Coronation stamp going on sale June 1 and the regular Elizabeth issue due May 1 in denominations from one to five cents, inclusive. But no complaint has reached the post office department yet.

Walter J. Turnbull, deputy postmaster-general, said it is a most difficult operation to get a perfect likeness by the steel engraving method used in producing Canadian stamps.

CROSS FINGERS

"We have to get the best designs we can and then keep our fingers crossed until the finished article appears in colors," he said.

Often the colored, finished product is more pleasing than photographs of the design.

The regular Elizabeth stamp, which will gradually replace the present one-to-five cent issues, is from a near-full face photograph by the Ottawa portraitist, Yousuf Karsh. For the Coronation issue the committee selected a profile design by the Toronto sculptor, Emanuel Hahn. It will appear in purple. Both models were approved by Her Majesty.

In Toronto stamp dealer Neil Carmichael commented:

"Both stamps are well designed. The portraits could be improved somewhat but it is a difficult job to copy them for a stamp."

Wilf Major, another Toronto stamp dealer, said: "I don't think much of them. I'm sure they could have done a better job."

In Ottawa William Gladish, vice-president of the Canadian Philatelic Society, commenting on the regular issue, said:

"It is most pleasing and in keeping with the high quality of recent British issues."

80,000 Petitions Filed

By RAYMOND J. BLAIR
New York Herald Tribune News Service

WASHINGTON — Adoptions have increased rapidly in recent years but experts of the Federal Security Agency's Children's Bureau say there are plenty of things wrong with the way they are handled.

Two officials of the Bureau, I. Richard Perlman and Jack Wiener, made a study of adoptions in 1951 in 25 states whose welfare departments kept adequate information on the subject.

They found that adoptions had zoomed since the war. In 1951, they estimated, about 80,000 adoption petitions were filed in the United States—60 per cent more than in 1944.

According to their report, the big increase in adoptions is the result of the large numbers of homes broken by death, divorce or desertion during and following World War II. Also, there has been a big jump in the number of children born out of marriage since 1944, with the result that half the 25,000 adopted in the 25 states in 1951 were illegitimate.

Especially in the case of these youngsters, the Bureau found that too many adoptions were taking place without adequate safeguards. In 48 per cent of the cases where children were adopted by non-relatives, the children were placed in adoptive homes without the counsel of social agencies.

"Fortunately," the Bureau said, "many independent placements turn out satisfactorily. But they are fraught with danger. There is no assurance that a careful study has been made of the child's physical condition, family background or intellectual potentialities.

"The adoptive parents may not be certain that the child is legally available for adoption, or that they are secure against claims from the natural parents, who may change their minds about the child upon more deliberate consideration. The child has less protection against being placed in the home of parents who are unfit to rear him. And he may have been unnecessarily separated from his own parents when proper help and guidance could have kept the family together."

According to the Bureau, children born out of wedlock and not adopted by relatives are most vulnerable to "black and gray market adoption practices."

Curiously, the Bureau found that a considerable proportion of children born in wedlock and adopted by non-relatives had parents who were still living together. The Bureau said it didn't know why these people wanted to give up their children permanently, but concluded that it proved the need for the services of social workers.

The experts found that adoption rates varied widely across the country but were highest in urban states. Oregon had the highest adoption rate of the 25 studies, Kentucky the lowest.

Hazelton Pioneer Dies At West Coast

Mrs. Anne Jean Sawle, wife of Charles H. Sawle, former publisher of the Omineca Herald, passed away in Royal Columbian Hospital in New Westminster recently in her 80th year.

Mrs. Sawle's passing marked the end of one of the Hazelton district's most respected pioneers. She came to Prince Rupert from Peterborough, Ont. in the year 1909 and the following year came with her husband to Hazelton, where the first Omineca Herald was printed in a tent. A couple of years later they moved to New Hazelton and there Mr. Sawle, with the help of his wife, operated the Herald until three years ago when they retired to live in New Westminster.

Mrs. Sawle's untiring efforts in community and church work have been an inspiration to all. She was a member of the first hospital auxiliary in this district and was an interested worker for this cause until she retired to the south. For many years she taught Sunday school and she was always a prominent worker in the Ladies' Aid.

Bancroft News

Mr. and Mrs. L. Mackenzie were Sunday visitors at the home of their son William, Paudash.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Stringer have left on a vacation to Florida.

Sapper Eugene Tanner, RCE, Ottawa, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Tanner.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Sedore and family of Tweed, accompanied by Mr. Wright were Sunday visitors in town.

Mrs. James Greenfield is a patient at Hotel Dieu Hospital at Kingston, having undergone an operation there. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Mr. Reginald Bowers has returned from a two month vacation in the southern states during which he visited relatives in Georgia and spent a short time in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Broughton and family spent the weekend for a vacation trip to the southern states and Florida.

Word has been received by his parents, that Donald Cairns has graduated from a 36-week residential training course in Nuclear Instrumentation at the Deforest Training Inc., Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Levesque, Oshawa, were weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Green.

FOND OF SPORT — Before the pressure of official duties as the Queen's consort restricted his activities, Prince Philip was active in sports. Here he bowls during cricket practice at the nets at the Royal Naval Petty Officers' School at Kingsmoor.

Australia Continues Swing Back To Left

SYDNEY (AP)—Furthering Australia's political swing back too the left, the Labor party in week-end elections held on to the state government in Queensland and sharply cut the legislative majority of the only remaining Liberal-Country League state regime, in South Australia.

The Australian federal government also is a Liberal-Country party coalition.

The coalition majority in South Australia was reduced from seven to one.

Earlier this year Victoria and Western Australia ousted their non-Labor governments while New South Wales re-elected a labor majority.

Tasmania also has a Labor government.

The first American train drawn by steam locomotive was from Albany to Schenectady, N.Y., Aug. 9, 1831.

Urges Alta. Gas Kept In Canada

TORONTO (CP) — Gas from Alberta oilfields should be provided for central Canada before a pipeline is built south to Minneapolis, Minn., George S. Hume, director general of scientific services and retiring president of the Geological Association of Canada, said Monday.

He said at a joint luncheon of the GAC and the Prospectors and Developers Association that if Alberta gas were exported to the Pacific Northwest area of the United States, it was inevitable that gas from southern Alberta would come east.

Ontario has asked for the gas and a company has proposed to build a pipeline across the Prairies and Northern Ontario to Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal. Another company proposes to build a line eastward to Winnipeg and south to Minneapolis.

Windsor Reds Pay Stalin Tribute

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Some 200 persons gathered Monday night before a crepe-draped picture of Prime Minister Stalin to pay tribute to the dead leader of world communism.

The "meeting of mourning," advertised on handbills distributed throughout the city during the week-end, was held at the meeting hall of the Ukrainian Labor-Farm Temple Association.

The meeting unanimously passed a resolution to send a telegram of "sympathy" to the Russian people "expressing condolence in their grievous loss."

A reporter and photographer were barred from the meeting. A spokesman told them that "due to the unusual circumstances" the meeting would be closed to the press. However, another reporter later entered the hall and sat throughout the meeting.

Guest speaker Norman Freed of Toronto, a member of the national executive committee of the Labor-Progressive party, described Stalin as the foremost "scientist, writer and humanitarian of this or any age."

Wilson Hint Of Offensive Shades Probe

Committee Members Non-Committal On Possible Attack

WASHINGTON (AP)— The bigger issue of whether the United Nations plans a new offensive in Korea today overshadowed a Senate investigation into reported shortages of ammunition.

The Senate armed services committee called a recess in what had been billed as a showdown inquiry into the assertion by Gen. James A. Van Fleet that there had been serious shortages of some kinds of ammunition for the 22 months he commanded the 8th army in Korea.

The action was taken after the committee Tuesday heard Defence Secretary Charles E. Wilson say ammunition supplies have been built up sufficiently to enable the field commander to embark on a "more active type of operations" if such a step should be decided upon.

NOTHING DEFINITE

Wilson's statement, as given out to reporters, did not say an offensive would be launched. Nor did any of the senators who heard him.

Van Fleet, just returned from Korea, spent hours before the committee in a face-to-face exchange with top defence officials, some of whom seemed to differ.

All this exchange was private, but prepared statements by military officials were handed to reporters.

The army chief of staff, Gen. J. Lawton Collins, said in his statement "there has never been a shortage of ammunition either to repel an attack that actually developed or to conduct our own operations."

Chairman Leverett Saltonstall (Rep. Mass.) told newspaper men:

WILSON HINT

THE BODY OF ONE PATIENT of the Little Britain Private Hospital was found beneath the ruins in the basement about three p.m. Tuesday after a fire had swept through the 75-year-old building. Eighteen other patients were rescued or escaped to safety. The fire was believed to have started from defective wiring in the attic.

U.S. Orders Strongest Protest

West Europe Alarmed Over Reports Of Newest Incident

WASHINGTON (AP) — If the Red plane attack on an American aircraft over Western Germany was a staged test by the new Russian regime of United States mettle, the answer appears to be this:

The U. S. Air Force aims to shoot down any more flying Communist bushwhackers who come gunning into U. S. - controlled territory.

That was apparently what James Bryant Conant, U.S. high commissioner for Germany, had in mind when he answered questions Tuesday about the incident in which two MiG-15 jets swooped out of Czechoslovakia and shot down a U. S. Air Force F-84 fighter 15 miles inside the American zone. The pilot parachuted to safety.

The U. S. government ordered its ambassador at Prague, George Wadsworth, to make "the strongest possible protest."

EXPECTS ACTION

Conant, saying he expected appropriate action to be taken, commented: "Meanwhile I am confident that the U. S. Air Force in Germany will know how to deal with any futre incursions of this type."

At the defence department an official familiar with policy said American pilots are expected:

1. To return fire, if possible, when attacked.

WARN, SHOOT

2. Upon finding a Red plane has invaded U. S. - controlled territory to order the Red pilot to land at the nearest U. S. air field.

3. If the order is disobeyed, to compel obedience by gunfire.

However, the U. S. Air Force in Europe is not completely equipped to cope with the swift, fast-climbing, Soviet-made MiG-15. Of six fighter wings in Europe, only one now is outfitted with the F-86 Sabre jet interceptors which have been beating MiGs in air duels over Korea. The other five units still have the F-84 fighter-bomber type, slower than the agile Russian interceptor jet.

Didn't Fire Back, Pilots Say; Offer No Reasons

By DON DOANE

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—Two U.S. Air Force pilots said today they made no attempt to fight back when two Communist MiG-15s attacked them without warning inside the American zone of Germany and shot down one of their jet fighters. Asked why they did not shoot back Tuesday at the jet from the Czechoslovak Air Force, one of the pilots said he would rather not answer the question. Neither would U.S. Air Force authorities here.

In Washington, air force headquarters said it knew of no directive of instruction" which would have kept the pilots from answering the question.

James B. Conant, U. S. high commissioner in Germany, said Tuesday he was confident the U.S. Air Force would know how to deal with any more incidents of this kind. This was taken to mean that U. S. pilots would return fire against any invading planes over American-occupied territory in the future. The U. S. Air Force in Europe, however, is not completely equipped to cope with the fast-flying MiG-15's.

In Washington, the U. S. state department said Ambassador George Wadsworth had protested "in strongest terms" early today to the Red regime in Prague.

AWAITS REPLY

Wadsworth told The Associated Press in Frankfurt he expected a reply from the Czechs "very soon."

The two pilots, veterans of aerial combat in Korea, gave a personal account of their experiences to reporters. They said their two F-84 Thunderjets were armed.

It was the first time Red aircraft had shot down an American plane over U. S.-held territory. The grave incident of the East-West cold war caused alarm in Western Europe—where governments are awaiting signs of future policy from the new Soviet regime headed by Georgi Malenkov.

Lt. Warren G. Brown, 30, of Henderson, Col., parachuted to safety from his bullet-riddled Thunderjet. His companion, Lt. Donald C. Smith, 24, of Marysville, O., fled from the attack scene, seven to 10 miles inside the U.S. zone, near the Czechoslovak frontier, without being hit.

NO WARNING

Both said that Brown's F-84 was hit without warning.

"We were circling back and forth about seven to 10 miles inside our line when these two planes jumped us," Smith said.

Brown added:

"These planes crossed in front of us. We started to circle to the left toward the West. One of these planes fell in behind me. He followed me for three or four circuits. I was a little bit confused as to his intention and I tried some evasive action. Then he opened fire and hit my plane."

Asked if they were sure that the attacking planes were MiG-15s Brown said:

DIDN'T FIRE BACK

Rising Tension Slows Approval U.S. Ambassador

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's nomination of Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen to be ambassador to Russia faced further delay today against a background of increasing tension in U.S.-Communist relations.

Senator Hubert Humphrey (Dem. Minn.) said the shooting down of an American fighter plane by two Russian-made MiG jets in the American zone of Germany emphasized a need for speeding the Russian-speaking Bohlen to Moscow, as urged last week by the state department, to report on and analyze such developments.

The plan of Republican leaders had been for the Senate to act on Bohlen's nomination today. But chairman Alexander Wiley (Rep. Wis.) postponed a week Tuesday's scheduled vote by the foreign relations committee. He acted at the request of Senators Homer Ferguson (Rep. Mich.) and William Knowland (Rep. Calif.).

In asking delay on the Bohlen nomination, Ferguson said he wanted to get "certain papers" dealing with the Yalta conference, at which Bohlen served as interpreter for President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Ferguson, who has condemned the Yalta agreements, wouldn't identify the papers he wants to see. He said the state department "hasn't been able to find them."

BOHLEN'S EVIDENCE

Bohlen said he knew of no papers having a particular bearing on his nomination.

Knowland, chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee, said the question which concerned him was testimony about Russia given by Bohlen to a closed session of the committee last week.

The committee voted at the time to make public an edited version of this testimony. But when Stalin became ill, this decision was rescinded at the request of State Secretary Dulles for fear of its possible effect on relations with Stalin's successors.

Knowland said the committee now will have to decide whether Bohlen's testimony can be edited sufficiently to permit its publication.

Fear Of People Drives Reds, Lodge Charges

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)— The United States charged today that Russia's bosses have embarked on a policy of imperialism. not because of any fear of aggression by any other country, but because of fear of their own people.

Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., told the UN General Assembly that the Soviet Union had lost the respect of the world because of its policy of "violent words and violent deeds."

The Assembly broke out into wild applause, and had to be called to order, as Lodge spurned charges by Russia's Andrei Gromyko that the U. S. was doing everything in its power to prolong the Korean war.

The exchange broke out shortly after Britain's Foreign Secretary Eden said that, despite Korea, we were not yet in the third world war.

CHARGES ATROCITIES

In that connection, Gromyko accused the U. S. Army of atrocities in Korea.

While Assembly President L. B. Pearson of Canada banged the gavel for order, Lodge reminded Gromyko that "the U. S. Army you seek to smear is the same U. S. Army which stood beside the Russian Army to defeat the Nazis in Europe."

Lodge told Gromyko that "the U. S. Army was good enough for you in 1942, 1943, 1944 and 1945. It would be the same today had not the policies of the Soviet government so tragically changed."

Earlier Eden told the Assembly that it was in nobody's interest that the third world war should break out.

CALLS FOR SUPPORT

He called for support of the United Nations as a "world meeting place" where opposing forces can get together and try to settle their differences without war.

Eden called on the Communist world to agree to the Indian Korean plan which the Assembly adopted last december. This plan would permit Red prisoners who don't want to go home to stay behind. He recalled that former Soviet foreign minister Andrei Vishinsky had said the prisoner question was the only issue preventing an armistice.

OFL Charges Labor Boards Make No Effort To Settle Wage Disputes

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario Federation of Labor (CIO-CCL) said today most Ontario conciliation boards make no real effort to conciliate wage disputes. The federation said in a brief presented to Premier Frost and his cabinet that these tribunals should be compelled to perform their function of conciliating or be eliminated entirely. Generally, conciliation boards make no effort to bring together parties in a labor dispute, said the federation, which claims to speak for 200,000 organized workers.

"They have no suggestion to make, no formulas to offer."

In the rare cases where a board advanced a formula or suggested alternate bases for settlement, it could succeed in bringing the parties together.

"Many chairmen of boards merely act as investigators gathering evidence. Many of them give no indication of their feeling about a possible settlement until the parties have left the meeting. Surely they could present their recommendations at the meeting and, if they are not accepted, have further propositions to put forward. This would be real conciliation."

FINAL STEP

The federation suggested as an alternative to conciliation boards that calling in a conciliation officer be the final step in trying to mediate a dispute.

The federation proposed that a panel of arbitrators who are experts in the field of public relations be set up to handle grievances arising out of signed contracts.

Another proposal was that the provincial government make funds available to competent organizations prepared to undertake a housing project under terms of the National Housing Act and make loans easier for persons who are ready to solve their own housing problem.

It urged outlawing the use of strikebreakers in a legal strike.

It urged also that the government establish minimum wages of $1 an hour for both men and women.

Fire Kills One, Do Damage Of $2,000,000

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Damage estimated at more than $1,700,000 has been caused by fires within 24 hours in seven Eastern Canadian centres. One life was lost.

The one death, a Canadian Press compilation showed, was at Little Britain, Ont., 35 miles west of Peterborough, where a fire in a private nursing home killed a 94-year-old woman and injured seven others. Other blazes:

Halifax—Possibly $2,000,000 damage in three-alarm fire in machine shop at the Halifax Shipyards

Bruce Mines, Ont.—Loss upwards of $100,000 in blaze which wiped out three business premises.

Tatamagouche, N. S.—damage estimated at $40,000 in fire in village's business section.

Kingston, Ont.—Unestimated loss in fire which swept through two-storey building in business district, damaging two dry goods stores.

Quebec—Several thousand dollars' damage in blaze aboard 500-ton schooner Fort Levis in Quebec's inner harbor.

Montreal—$50,000 blaze destroyed hardware store and adjoining apartments on east-end Lafontaine street, injuring four firemen.

Montreal—Fire blamed on faulty oil burner destroyed section of an unoccupied 24-apartment building in Lachine suburb.

Moncton—Fire destroyed a warehouse stacked with merchandise. Loss of the building, owned by the T. Eaton Co. Ltd., was estimated at more than $500,000.

Trade Embargo Would Extend War In Korea

WASHINGTON (AP) — British Ambassador Sir Roger Makins has told a U. S. congressman that ending all trade between British Hong Kong and Communist China would risk "a major extension of the fighting in the Far East."

The statement was made in a letter to Representative William H. Bates (Rep, Mass.) who had asked about the British position on continued trade with Peiping as part of a study he is making on the effects of a full economic blockade.

EXPORT BANNED

Makins said the British government has banned the export of strategic materials to Red China under voluntary restrictions stricter than those observed by any countries except the United States and Canada.

The British government is continuing some non-strategic trade, partly to save Hong Kong from possible Red attack and partly because it has not been given "strong practical reasons" for ending it, the ambassador said.

The letter was written before Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden announced last week-end that Britain would tighten steps to reduce the flow of strategic materials to Red China.

Makins referred, however, to non-strategic trade, which apparently was not involved in the Eden announcement.

Grandma Pleads Guilty

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Grandma dropped her claim of insanity Tuesday and pleaded guilty to two charges of bank robbery. Mrs. Ethel Arata, 53, the widely-sought grandma of a series of bank holdups early in the winter, will be sentenced April 3. When arrested last Dec. 24 she said she held up banks to get money so she could continue to help the needy.

Births Attain Record In 1952

OTTAWA (CP)—For the fourth successive year a record number of babies were born in Canada during 1952 advancing the birth-rate to the highest level in five years and the second highest since 1922, the bureau of statistics reported today.

Deaths from all causes and at all ages declined in number from the 1951 peak and the rate dropped to a record low figure. Marriages also declined from 1951 both in number and rate.

Births during 1952 totalled 395,024 an increase of 15,612 over 1951, the previous record year, and 23,953 more than in 1950. The estimated birth-rate per 1,000 population increased to 27.4 from 27.2 in 1951, and 27.1 in 1950, but was down from 28.7 in 1947, the high for recent years. Highest rate in the last 30 years was 29.4 in 1921.

Number of deaths in 1952 dropped to 124,456 from 125,454 in the preceding year and the mortality rate declined to 8.6 per 1,000 population from 9.0. Marriages during 1952 decreased to 127,238 from 128,230, and the rate per 1,000 population dropped to 8.8 from 9.2.

Police Guard Faulkner After Prowlers Found

TORONTO (CP)—Police guarded Farley Faulkner Tuesday night after two prowlers were found in the nome of the anti-Communist crusader who said last week his life had been threatened.

Faulkner, thrown out of a leftist rally in Massey Hall two weeks ago and told to "hire a hall" after he tried to question the Red Dean of Canterbury, plans to speak at an anti-Communist meeting he has arranged in the hall Thursday night.

Drew Asks Policy Of Canada First

OTTAWA (CP)—George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, urged the government Tuesday to declare a "Canada first" policy in the use of the country's vast natural gas and oil resources.

Mr. Drew said in the Commons that if there are adequate and continuous supplies for Canadian use, then it would be sound to allow export of the surplus to the United States. But the first consideration should be Canada itself.

"Let the government declare that the first interest to be served will be the interests of the Canadian people—a Canada first policy in the use of these resources."

Mr. Drew spoke during consideration of a private bill to incorporate Mid-Continent Pipelines, Ltd. The company proposes to build a gas pipeline from the Alberta fields to Winnipeg and then to Eastern Canada.

The bill made no progress during an hour devoted to private legislation.

Report 28 Saved From Oil Tanker

NEW YORK — (AP) — The United States Coast Guard reported today that 28 crew members of Liberian tanker Angy had been rescued but that at least eight were missing, including all the officers and the captain's wife.

Three Coast Guard cutters and a plane are speeding to the storm tossed area some 400 miles southeast of St. John's, Nfld, in the hope of finding the forward half of the vessel afloat with the missing persons clinging to it.

According to crew members picked off the stern section of the tanker, the vessel caught fire and exploded three days ago. The cause of the fire was not immediately explained.

The men were rescued by the Waterman Steamship Line's 8,492-ton freight. Clairborne, bound for Cherbourg, France.

The coast guard theorized that the Angy broke in half behind the bridge and the officer's quarters, carrying away "the brains of the ship" among the missing men are the captain, his wife, all the mates, the radio operator and three seamen.

The tanker was under charter to the Gulf Oil Corporation the Coast Guard said. She is registered out of Monrovia, Liberia, and operated by a Greek firm, S. Lavanos and Co. She carried a crew of varied nationalities.

Jail 600 Pakistani In Lahore Sect Riots

LAHORE, Pakistan — (AP) — Riots against a minority Moslem set and Foriegn Minister Sir Mohammed Zafrullah Khan —one of the sect's most influential members—have led to the arrest of more than 600 persons in the Lahore area since Sunday, authorities said today.

Military courts sentenced 36 persons Tuesday to punishments ranging from lashes to seven years in prison for breaking martial law regulations. Military rule was imposed here last week after six demonstrators were killed by police.

About 800 persons have been taken into custody throughout Moslem Pakistan during the last week as a result of similar disturbances. The rioters have been demonstrating against Ahmedya sect members and demanding the resignation of the foreign minister. Many Pakinstans resent Zafraullah Khan's failure to settle the country's dispute with India over Kashmir.

Weather Slows War

SEOUL (AP)—Rain, snow and clouds restricted the Korean war to scattered small raids and patrol fights today. U. S. Sabre jets patroled MiG Alley.

Declared War On Mounties, B.C. Trapper Caught, Jailed

KELOWNA, B. C. (CP)—The trapper who declared an open season on police and game wardens was captured by RCMP Tuesday without a fight.

Surrounded in deep bush country at Woodsdale, 15 miles north of here, 50-year-old George S. Bowen surrendered to a police posse.

Bowen had been sought for two weeks after he fired on a police patrol car, and put a bullet-punctured note on a tree near his cabin on the outskirts of Kelowna. The note warned police and game wardens that the trapper had declared "open season."

Bowen dropped his pack and started to run when he sighted the posse, but at the command to halt, he surrendered, dropping his rifle.

Returned to Kelowna, Bowen was charged with shooting with intent.

Bowen called his tree-notice a proclamation and in it he charged police with failing to take action against "the people who tried to murder me."

Police and civic authorities termed his claims "nonsense."

Says 40 Hospitals Get $1½ Million Grant

TORONTO (CP)—The Toronto Daily Star said Tuesday that more than 40 Ontario hospitals will share "in considerably over $1,500,000 by a new floor space capital grant for outpatient departments which will be a feature of Premier Frost's budget."

The provincial budget is due Thursday. The Star said the grants will be retroactive to April 12, 1951.

"This is considered a start in an entirely new system of grants," the Star added. "The Ottawa government, which now shares in capital construction grants to hospitals on a per-bed basis, has agreed to contribute with the province on the new system."

Tells Town Hall Forum

Canadians Provide Most Post-War Capital

NEW YORK (CP)—Since the end of the war the savings needed to finance Canada's economic development have been provided from within the country itself, Louis Rasminsky, executive assistant to the governor of the Bank of Canada, said Tuesday.

The Canadian economist said that since the war ended "Canada has devoted a very high proportion of its output to the expansion of its productive capacity without, on balance, importing capital from outside the country."

Rasminsky's address, one of five dealing with government and business in Canada prepared for delivery before a Town Hall meeting, was on "The Canadian Dollar."

He told the big New York forum of industrial and business executives that foreign demand for Canadian dollars increased sharply because foreigners wanted to step up their buying of goods and services from Canada, and because they wanted to invest their money in Canadian resource development and in Canadian long-term security offerings.

On the other hand, Canadian demand for foreign currencies rose only slightly.

"The result was a bidding up of the exchange rate to a point where additional supplies of Canadian dollars were tempted onto the market," he said.

The economist found Canada's ability to finance its own development "a rather astonishing fact."

In the six pre-war years ending in 1939 Canada's interest and dividend payments to foreign investors equalled 22 per cent of the country's gross earnings from exports of goods and services. Since the war this proportion had fallen to about nine per cent.

A Canadian tax expert suggested at the meeting that the welfare state is being gradually introduced in Canada.

Harvey Perry of Toronto, director of research for the Canadian Tax Foundation, said in an address that "the true genius of Canadian fiscal policy today lies in the skill with which the gradual introduction of the welfare state is being harmonized with continuous and accelerating industrial growth in a free economy."

Perry made no other reference to the welfare state in his address on "Taxes in Canada" prepared for delivery before the forum.

He described Canada as "no tax heaven" but noted that the "underlying post-war philosophy has been that business deserves a break."

Expect $42,000,000 As Coronation Take

LONDON (AP)—Britain expects to earn about £15,000,000 ($42,000,000) from visitors to the Coronation next June—nearly 10 times what the British government will spend on the big event.

The British Travel and Holidays Association, sponsored by the government, said today that foreign visitors to Britain in 1953 are expected to total a record 800,000—80,000 more than last year

They will spend in Britain and in British ships and planes an estimated record £130,000,000.

This compares with British earnings from tourists last year of £115,000,000, the previous record.

Woman, 94, Burns To Death At Little Britain

LITTLE BRITAIN (ENS)—Ninety-four-year-old Mrs. Emma Stevenson burned to death Tuesday when fire swept through the 75-year-old Little Britain Private Hospital shortly before noon. Her body was found shortly after 3 p.m. Tuesday in the cellar beneath the ruins after the flames had been extinguished and firemen were able to go down and search for her. There were 19 patients in the hospital which was operated by Mr. and Mrs. George Starr with the aid of three nurses.

Another inmate of the hospital who at first was reported dead on her way to hospital, Mrs. Kate Purdy, 86, of Lindsay, was later found to have been revived on arrival at Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay. Her condition was reported to be fair by hospital authorities Tuesday night.

Mrs. Purdy had been rescued from her second-storey room by three volunteers from the village who had taken her through the window of her room on her mattress on to the roof of a porch behind the house and then to the ground. Six other people were reported injured in the blaze.

Fireman Tom Madill of the Lindsay Fire Department was the first to discover the charred body of Mrs. Stevenson. Fire Chief Alex Wylie, OPP Corporal Ken. Dennis of Lindsay, and Dr. G. C. R. Hall of Little Britain identified the body which was later removed to McArthur's Funeral Home in Lindsay

Two fire trucks from Lindsay and a private pumper from a Mariposa firm helped fight the blaze. Hundreds of spectators crowded to the scene and order had to be maintained by provincial police.

Bucket brigades are credited with saving the nurses' residence to the north of the hospital and the home of Fulton Chidley to the south. Mrs. Starr is also owner of the nurses' residence.

STARTED IN ATTIC

Although no definite cause for the fire has been established, it is now thought that defective wiring in the attic was responsible. Insurance coverage amounted to only $6,000, while the loss was approximately $35,000 to $40,000.

Following the discovery of Mrs. Stevenson's body, the fire was left to cool off by itself, the flames having been extinguished some seven hours after they were first discovered.

Others in hospital besides Mrs. Purdy are Mrs. Annie Jordan 86, Annie Kidd 81, Mrs. Elizabeth Hewitt 60, and Willima Hayes. Mrs. K. Morrison 75, is in hospital with slight burns.

After turning in the alarm Mrs. Starr helped the three nurses evacuate the 19 elderly people from the burning building.

SAVED FURNISHINGS

Volunteers rushed into the ground floor to save whatever could be moved of the furnishings. Furniture, a refrigerator, washing machines, an electric stove and other kitchen equipment were piled in the yard behind the hospital. Only a few personal possessions could be rescued.

First fire fighting appartus on the scene was a pumper from the Hogg and Lytle warehouse at Mariposa Station, four miles north of the village. A call was made to Lindsay at 11:25 p.m. when the mounting flames made it appear for a while that other buildings would catch fire.

A hose truck and a pumper were despatched from Lindsay along with Fire Chief Alex Wylie and six men. It was nearly an hour later that their hoses were able to play on the fire. A relay of pumpers from a creek, downhill and some 200 yards away, was needed to force the water uphill that distance.

Report Denied Of Farouk Split

ROME (AP)—Former King Farouk's secretary described as "absolutely false" a Cairo report today that the former monarch and his wife, Princess Narriman, have been divorced.

"I am amazed at such a report," said the secretary in a telephone conversation from the Egyptian exruler's home-in-exile at Grotta-Ferrata, near Rome. The latest report was published in a Cairo newspaper.

Rumors of a rift between Farouk and Narriman have been current since the arrival here of her mother, who, it was hinted, had come to patch things up.

Under Moslem law, Farouk can go before a "maazoun," equivalent to a justice of the peace, pronounce the words "I divorce thee," and a separation becomes effective. He can later remarry the discarded wife.

But if he says "I divorce thee" three times, he cannot remarry her unless she has in the meantime been remarried and divorced again.

Ehrenburg Stresses War Not Inevitable

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet writer Ilya Ehrenburg in an article in Pravda today emphasized that Prime Minister Stalin's last words to the world were that war between the United States and the Soviet Union was not inevitable.

Ehrenburg referred to Stalin's answers to questions submitted by New York Times correspondent James Reston which were released last Dec. 25. This is what Stalin wrote: "I still believe that war between the United States of America and the Soviet Union cannot be considered inevitable, and that our countries can continue to live in peace."

Egypt Plans Ultimatum On Suez Evacuation

CAIRO (CP)—Egypt Tuesday accused Britain of violating the Sudan pact and made plans to send an ultimatum demanding that British troops pull out of the Suez canal zone within six months.

Prime Minister Mohammed Naguib angrily charged that British officials have jailed Sudanese tribesmen. He said Egypt is losing faith in pacts made with Britain.

He told reporters the evacuation of the 50,000 British troops in the canal zone "must and shall be complete and unconditional."

U.S. Dollar At Discount

MONTREAL (CP)—The United States dollar was at a discount of 1 17-32 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, the Bank of Canada reported at noon today. Tuesday's noon rate was 98 13-32 cents. Pound sterling $2.77¼, against $2.77 1-1.

Didn't Fire Back

"Well, I've been in Korea, and I've seen them there, and I'd say they were MiG-15's."

MARKINGS STRANGE

Neither, however, said he recognized the intruders' markings.

Asked if it were possible that the alien pilots thought the American planes were in Czech territory, Smith answered, "Of course. It's always possible that they could make a mistake—but we were not."

The Americans emphasized that they had been out on a routine border patrol inside West Germany.

Brown's plane crashed and burned. The U.S. planes were slower and less powerfully armed than their adversaries.

FIVE VIOLATIONS

While the press conference was being held at the U.S. Air Force headquarters here, however, Bavarian Interior Minister Wilhelm Hoegner announced in Munich that police had reported five frontier violations by Czech planes Tuesday.

In addition to the incident involving the Americans, Hoegner said, Czech planes singly and in pairs flew over Bavaria four times during the day.

"These events are perhaps due to a certain nervousness after Stalin's death," he commented.

FIRST SIGHTING

An air force spokesman said Tuesday's incident was the first time the air force had noted any MiG jets over West Germany and German reports of repeated violations of Bavarian territory by planes from Czechoslovakia had not reached the headquarters here.

Smith and Brown estimated they were seven to 10 miles west of the Czech border when they first sighted the MiGs and possibly about 15 miles west when Brown's plane was shot up.

U.S. Ambassador George Wadsworth at Prague was ordered by Washington to draft and deliver "the strongest possible protest" to the Czech Communist regime. U.S. High Commissioner James Bryant Conant in Germany denounced the "wanton shooting" and warned that U.S. forces here "will know how to deal with future incursions of this type."

DAY AFTER PROMISE

Europeans were quick to note the Communist aerial attack occurred just a day after Georgi Malenkov, the new leader of the Soviet world, had promised in Moscow to continue Stalin's "policy of preserving peace."

In such previous Communist-American air incidents as the 1950 loss of a U.S. Navy Privateer in the Baltic with 10 lives, the Soviet government had claimed that its own frontiers had been violated and Red Air Force fighters shot at.

The two Red jets Tuesday presumably were based in the vicinity of Pilsen, home of Czechoslovakia's huge Skoda armament works.

The American pilots told official interrogators they were well within the U.S. zone border on routine patrol when the MiG-15s jumped them without warning at an altitude of 12,000 feet in a clear, sunlit sky.

FLIES TO PIECES

A burst of gunfire hit Brown's wing tank and stabilizer. As his plane began to fly to pieces, he pressed his escape mechanism and was tossed out of the cockpit.

A West German police outpost in a forest near Falkenstein, a village of 2,000, saw the American's parachute float down into the trees. They rescued him.

Both Brown and Smith are veterans of jet combat in Korea.

Prague radio ignored the shooting in its news broadcasts Tuesday night but L'Humanite, organ of the French Communist party, published this Red alibi:

RED ALIBI

"Two American jet fighter planes flew over territory of the democratic republic of Czechoslovakia yesterday.

"Having refused reply to orders, they were pursued by Czechoslovak planes. One of the American planes was hit and shot down in Bavaria, very near the Czech frontier."

The shoot-to-kill behavior of the Czech airmen was grim evidence of how the cold war has grown hotter.

In June, 1951, two American jets lost their way on a training mission and landed at a Prague airfield. The pilots—an American and a Norwegian—were questioned for a few days by Czech authorities and then released. Their planes also were finally returned safely.

Asks Ottawa Strike Coronation Medallion

OTTAWA (CP)—Michael Starr, mayor of Oshawa and Progressive Conservative member of the Commons for Ontario riding, asked the federal government Tuesday to strike a medallion for schoolchildren to commemorate the coronation.

Speaking in the Commons, he said boards of education across Canada are considering some memento to be given the youngsters, and the government could help by using the Canadian mint to produce a medallion.

It might either be given to the children by the federal government or sold to municipal school authorities at cost.

Named Aide-de-Camp

LONDON (AP) — The Queen named her husband's uncle, Admiral Earl Mountbatten, as a personal aide-de-camp Tuesday night. The appointment was announced in the royal calendar of the London Gazette. Lord Mountbatten brought up the Duke of Edinburgh and introduced him to the Queen as children.

Italian Court Upholds Iran Oil Grab

VENICE, Italy (CP)—Britain today suffered a setback in her long battle over ownership of Iran's nationalist oil when an Italian court refused to let the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company gain possession of 5,000 tons of Iranian oil brought here by the tanker Miriella.

The Miriella, chartered by a Rome syndicate known as "Supor," arrived here last month from Abadan, Iran, with her precious cargo. She was the second ship to defy a British boycott, clamped on Iranian oil after Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's government ousted the British-owned AIOC and nationalized the industry.

Britain contended that the oil is her property until the question of compensation is settled.

PURCHASE LEGAL

Today the Italian court ruled otherwise. The court found that the Supor Company had purchased the oil legally from the Iranian National Oil Company. The tribunal ordered the immediate release of the oil to Supor.

Court President Enrico Mastrobuono said in a 2,000-word opinion that he regarded the Iranian oil nationalization laws as legal. He rejected the AIOC's contention that there was no adequate provision for compensation, saying that Premeir Mossadegh had repeately recognied Iran's liability to pay compensation, although details had not been agreed upon.

Pending today's decision the oil was held under seal in Venice storage tanks. Now the Italians can unseal the tanks, pump out the oil and resell it as they please.

REJOICE

The Italian judgment touched off rejoicing among Supor officials, who promptly radioed the Miriella, now in the Persian Gulf, to proceed to Iran for another cargo.

Franceso Martillaro, president of Supor, has said his company has a five-year contract with Iran to trade Italian industrial and chemical products for Iranian oil.

Anglo - Iranian spokesman, however, refused to concede defeat and said they would take the case to a higher Rome tribunal. They contended Mastrobuno's ruling "does not imply any decisions regarding ownership of the oil."

But a legal source here said that under Italian law there could be no appeal from the ruling. Mastrobuono contended that since the oil nationalization laws were already in effect in Iran, no Italian court could refuse to recognize them.

Forgot To Cross Road, Girl Lost

WINONA (CP) — Dutch-born Maria Kragt, 11, got lost going home from school because she forgot to cross the Queen Elizabeth Highway.

She came to Canada last year with her parents and moved to Ontario from Ormstown, Que. Tuesday was Maria's first day in school in this province.

Her lessons over, she started home. She walked and walked and finally hailed a truck. The truckers took her to St. Catharines, 25 miles east of here. She couldn't tell them where she lived.

They took her to Don Hill, a service station owner, who gave her supper. Meanwhile police and radio stations had been reporting her disappearance. She was located and taken home Tuesday night.

Today, Maria will be sure to cross the highway going home.

Halifax Fire Damages $2 Million In Tools

HALIFAX (CP)—A racing three-alarm fire engulfed the machine shop at Halifax Shipyards early today with damage expected to be close to $2,000,000, a large part of it in tools and machinery.

General superintendent Daniel Scouler predicted the building would be a "total loss." The shop is at the northern end of Halifax harbor.

Mr. Scouler said work on two navy sub-chasers now being constructed at the yard will be only temporarily affected.

Lie Throws Off Neutrality, Attacks Russia For Using "Crude" Pressure

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Trygve Lie threw off his cloak of diplomatic neutrality Tuesday and accused Russia of putting the crudest sort of pressure on him because he opposed Communist aggression in Korea. This pressure, Lie told the 60-nation general assembly, was the most serious violation yet of a section of the United Nations charter forbidding interference with him as secretary-general. Russia's Andrei Gromyko was present to hear the gloves-off battering of his country. Gromyko told reporters after the speech it was "very cheap propaganda. I do not think it is worth replying to."

The attack was unprecedented, since a UN official is not supposed to denounce a member state. Lie coupled it with praise for the United States.

PRAISES U.S.

He told delegates the U.S. record since the Second World War is one of support for the UN charter and its organs. Furthermore, Lie declared, he welcomed a U.S. executive order calling for loyalty investigations of Americans in the secretariat since it would help clear the UN's name of subversive charges and also help set up orderly personnel procedures. Lie pledged not to keep on his payroll any member of the American Communist party or any American who refused to answer official questions about alleged Red links.

Lie's speech is expected to touch off one of the hottest debates in UN history. Many delegates had expected the debate to revolve around attacks on the American loyalty program and Lie's co-operation with it. The secretary-general threw them off base by charging that it was Russia and four satellite members who really interfered with him. The satellites are Byelo-Russia, the Ukraine Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Czechs Protest Air Violation

LONDON (Reuters)—Czechoslovakia today protested to the United States against "violation of Czechoslovak air space" by two American aircraft Tuesday, Prague radio reported.

The radio said Czechoslovakia protested in a note handed over to the U. S. embassy in Prague.

The U. S. state department earlier had instructed its ambassador in Prague to deliver a strong protest to the Czech government over the shooting down Tuesday of an American jet fighter by two Russian-type MiG-15s which flew over the American zone of Germany from Czechoslovakia.

The Czech note described as a "travesty of the facts" the American protest over the shooting down of the F-84.

The American "violation," the note said, was "only the continuation of a series of provocations" against which Czechoslovakia had already repeatedly protested.

Denies Delaying Sudan Election

LONDON (AP)—Britain indignantly denied today Egyptian charges she has been delaying Sudanese elections—and threw the blame right back at Egypt.

At the same time Britain's Minister of State Selwyn Lloyd said the government "strongly deprecates" attempts "to conduct diplomacy by means of statements to the press."

He told the House of Commons he made "strong representations" to the Egyptian ambassador in London today and has instructed British Ambassador Sir Ralph Stevenson to take up the issue in Cairo.

Lloyd was commenting on accusations by Egyptian Prime Minister General Mohammed Naguib that Britain is using "old colonial methods" to delay Sudanese elections "when the ink had hardly dried" on the February agreement between Britain and Egypt to grant self-determination to the Sudan.

Lloyd said he has ordered Sudanese Governor-General Sir Robert Howe for a full report on charges that the British administration in the Sudan had reached the agreement.

"I have little doubt that (the allegations) will prove to be quite unfounded," Lloyd said.

Rumor Bulgaria May Cut Ties With Israel

TEL AVIV, Israel (Reuters)—The Bulgarian minister to Israel will leave soon for Sofia, it was learned today, giving rise to rumors that the last East European diplomatic link with this country is to be severed.

The minister, Giorgi Bogdanoff, is the last Communist bloc representative remaining in Israel. Russia broke off diplomatic relations last month and her minister left soon after.

Bogdanoff has given no reason for his departure.

"Regardless of what has taken place, I believe we can say that the situation in Korea is good—not perfect—because it never will be.

"But the stocks of ammunition available in Korea today are adequate for the operations contemplated and are rapidly improving.

"Furthermore, the testimony is clear that the ammunition reserve stocks in this country, and in the back areas in the Far East are rapidly growing better."

A reporter asked: "Was there any relation between the stalemated truce talks in Korea and the supplies of ammunition needed?"

"I'm sorry, I can't comment on that," Saltonstall replied.

Senator Harry Byrd (Dem. Va.) said in a statement that Van Fleet had not retreated on his testimony that ammunition shortages "interfered with the successful prosecution of the war in Korea and . . . added to the perils and fatalities of our troops."

Bruce Mines Fire Wipes Out Three Businesses

BRUCE MINES, Ont. (CP)—The third major fire in the last five years late Tuesday night wiped out three business premises causing damage estimated at more than $100,000.

No one was injured in the two-hour blaze which for a time threatened a business block on the main street of this town 35 miles east of Sault Ste. Marie.

The fire started in the Bruce Mines creamery, and within minutes spread to the roof of Bye's Farm Implement Company which was quickly demolished. The fire then spread into H. L. Trites Groceteria, gutting that structure.

With a brisk wind and zero weather hampering the 45 firefighters, the fire raged out of control for a time. The Sault Ste. Marie and Thessalon fire brigades' heavier fire-fighting equipment was used before the fire was brought under control. A shift in the direction of the wind also helped.

THREATENED

Threatened for a time were the E. W. Smith Hardware Company, the Bell Telephone exchange, Keetch Drug Store, the Bruce Mines Spectator, a weekly newspaper, and W. L. Miller's Furniture Co. Eleanor Stewart young telephone operator, stuck by her board at the telephone exchange to rally fire fighting units throughout the district. At one time she was ordered to get ready to evacuate at a moment's notice. She said that during the height of the fire huge sparks and flaming debris, swept by the wind, landed in front of her office.

GOOD LUCK

"We were all pretty excited for a few hours and it certainly looked for a time as if the whole town was going to get it," she said. She recalled that this small town suffered serious fires in the past and it was only good luck that prevented the business section from going up in smoke.

"We were just lucky again, that is as far as more damage is concerned," she said.

All three concerns will suffer considerable loss as much of the heavy equipment destroyed was not covered by insurance. Total damage of the three major fires in the same business block during the last five years totals more than $400,000.

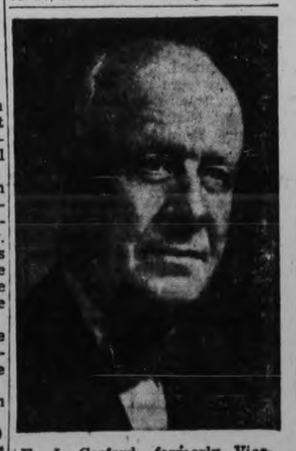
Toronto Prices Weaken Slightly

TORONTO (CP)—Trading slowed and prices weakened slightly in early afternoon stock market dealings today.

Volume for the first three hours totalled 2,575,000 shares.

Uraniums weakened slightly although Gunnar showed a small advance. Nesbitt Labine, Rix, Chimo and New Delhi slipped although Bonville added pennies in a turnover of more than 140,000 shares. New Brunswick base metals gained as Brunswick added $2 and New Larder U gained. Northern Ontario rare metal prospects were mixed, Inspiration slipping and Tungsten

Manufacturing companies and miscellaneous issues gained in industrials while utilities slipped. Papers showed strength.



Senior golds weakened and juniors slipped as Broulan Reef fell. Holding companies weakened.

Strength in higher-priced issues buoyed base metals and Barvue also gained. Mindamar slipped.

Western oils were mixed. Canada Southern, New British and Braisaman gained while Gridoil, Home and Stanwell slipped.

Hon. H. R. Scott To Open Coronation School On Warsaw Rd. In Douro

Tonight at 8 o'clock the Hon. Harold R. Scott will officially open Peterborough County's newest school —the $60,000 Coronation School accommodating 70 boys and girls in Douro Township. Though in use since the beginning of the year it has not, until this week, received its finishing touches.

The school—named in honor of the coronation in June of Queen Elizabeth II—is in the Douro School Area No.2, two miles east of Peterborough on the Warsaw Road.

The long low, one-storey building is basically of concrete block stucco on three sides. The front, facing the Warsaw Road, is red brick and reveals a long wall of clear-pane windows.

Its gravel roof is flat giving it an attractive and modern appearance to the passerby. The up-to-date touch is maintain inside the five-classroom building which is finished in a type of wall board, painted in light shades

ACCOMMODATES 190

Chairman Kenneth Kidd and the rest of the school board are proud of the fact that, though they have a good substantial modern school, capable of accommodating 190 pupils, it has been built for $56 000. Equipments cost another $4,000 bringing the round figure up to $60,000.

"You won't see any frills here," said Principal Alex McLeod as he genially showed the Examiner about the new school. "Everything that isn't essential has been done away with."

Mr. McLeod credited Contractor Ross Greenley and School Inspector K. O. Birkin with the design of the school.

Together with Mrs. Helen Wilson he teaches the 70 pupils now attending that are divided among the eight grades. There is no kindergarten at present.

There is seemingly plenty of room for expansion. Only two of the four regular classrooms are now occupied. And there is a fifth —a utility room —that can be used when needed. However, both Principal McLead and Mrs. Wilson point out that there is a growing community of young families spreading out along the Warsaw Road in Douro, so the classrooms won't remain empty too long.

But the planners have thought of that too.

CAN ADD ROOMS

Because of the construction of the school (basically two rows of classrooms divided by a long corridor), rooms may be added as needed to the north end without any major alterations. For tonight, however, members of the school board don't want to be reminded of that future step; the problem will be faced when it arises.

Starting at the south end of the building, on the east side of the corridor, there is the utility room. As the name implies, it can be easily converted to several uses. Manual training benches are the only heavy furniture and this gives the rural pupils a chance to try their work at carpentry and other hand skills. If a stage is wanted the benches can be spaced out at one end of the room, covered with a layer of tongue-and-groove boards for a walking surface, and secured with bolted two-by-fours around the edges of the platform.

If moveable furniture is brought into the utility room it can be converted into a serviceable classroom. There are green chalk boards on the walls to help in illustrating lessons.

It can also be made into a playroom; or, with the platform erected, a meeting hall for community groups.

The remainder of the east bank of rooms are, respectively, an oil furnace room and two classrooms.

MOVEABLE DESKS

Each of the classrooms is done in light colors, has moveable light desks and chairs, ample cupboard space, library shelves, green chalk boards, and clothes racks with built-in shoe troughs so the muddy footwear won't mark up the waxed concrete floors.

Natural light comes into the rooms through clear-pane windows occupying most of the wall space. Artificial light is incandescent and there are special chalk board lights.

The west side of the corridor has two classrooms and at the southwest corner there is an attractive little teachers' room that has been furnished by the Coronation Home and School Club. Though only a small room it has a sofa, chairs and tables, a large sink and an electric hot-plate. Green chintz curtains lend a homey touch to the decorative scheme.

This room will eventually be used as a domestic science room for girls.

Principal McLeod's office, washrooms and space for janitor's supplies are also in the southwest of the school.

Besides Mr. Scott, members of the school board, and Mr. Birkin, Gordon K. Fraser, MP, may be present. The opening program will begin at 8 p.m. and all those who are interested have been invited to attend the ceremony and then inspect the school.

Three Provinces Ask Aid Of Government

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The federal government has been asked for help by members of three provincial legislatures.

In the Alberta house Tuesday, CCF leader Elmer Roper said he wants the administration to ask the federal government to start national health insurance and urged members to approve his motion of "whole-hearted co-operation by the government of Alberta in the application of a national health insurance plan to the needs of the people of this province."

Ottawa's aid was sought for provincial highways in the Manitoba legislature. Errick F. Willis, Progressive Conservative for Turtle Mountain, believes aid should be given as it is in the United States. The U. S. government pays 50 per cent of the cost and upkeep of all main roads.

DEFER QUESTION

The Nova Scotia house passed a motion 22 to 10 deferring the question of federal grants for education. Members also defeated a motion sponsored by G. I. Smith (PC — Colchester) describing the grants as "desirable."

The Newfoundland legislature opens today and a feature of the session will be economic development. Believed to be high on the list of subjects is ratification of an agreement establishing the British and Newfoundland Corporation for developing mineral resources in the province.

The possibility of the governments of the Maritime provinces joining forces to protest a seven-per-cent freight rate increase was heard in the New Brunswick legislature.

Premier Flemming said his administration will protest the increase on behalf of New Brunswick and will join any joint representations. He was supported by Opposition leader Taylor, who said the accumulative effect of freight rate increases granted by the transport board since the war has become alarming to the Maritimes.

Tidal Waves Strike

TOKYO (AP)—Twenty-foot tidal waves early today struck the tiny island of Hachijo, 150 miles south of Tokyo, the maritime safety board reported. The board said there was no loss of life or damage. Six waves hit the island within an hour. The waves may have been caused by another eruption from the underwater Myojin volcano. This nearby volcano has erupted several times in recent months.

Men's Dormitory At Camp Damaged

COBOURG (ENS)—A men's dormitory consisting of a frame building which would contain 12 beds, was badly damaged at the Pentecostal Camp about three miles east of here yesterday. Two nearby cottages caught fire but the blaze was extinguished before much damage was done. The fire was remote from the large auditorium. Cobourg fire department fought the flames with water obtained from a well. Burning grass caused the fire.

Slips On Ice Injures Leg

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — Harold W. Petherick, Frank St., an employee of a local transport firm, suffered severe and painful injuries to his right knee, while supervising the loading of a truck at the Campbellford Cloth Co. plant, on Monday afternoon.

Mr. Petherick slipped on a patch of ice, which had formed from water dripping from the roof of the plant. He was taken to the office of Dr. W. T. Taylor by employees of the Cloth Co., where it was discovered that the ligaments of his leg had been badly torn. He was then taken to Belleville General Hospital, where it is expected an operation will be performed to repair the damaged muscles.

Exchequer Court Sits In Cobourg

COBOURG (ENS)—Sittings of the Exchequer Court of Canada is in session here with Mr. Justice M. H. Archibald presiding. Registrar of the court is G. Belleau, QC. The court is hearing evidence as to assessments and valuations of various properties in Cobourg for comparison with one owned by John Frei which is located near the site of the new ordnance depot. Others with properties in that area are watching with interest for the outcome of the proceedings.

THE HON. HAROLD SCOTT will officially open Coronation School on the Warsaw Road tonight. About 70 pupils have been occupying two of the five rooms since the beginning of this year. Principal Alex McLeod is in charge, assisted by Mrs. H. G. Wilson. The exterior of the school is shown at top, while inside Mr. McLeod (middle) instructs his class, giving a little special attention to Norma Trotter, and Mrs. Wilson conducts (lower) a private reading lesson for Wayne Bateman, Lorraine Ellis, Mary Winterbottom and Rickie Stark. Young Rickie seems to be puzzled. — (Examiner Staff Photo).

Armored Eye Shield

The shield, in laminated plastic layers, was inspired by the number of damaging eye injuries among casualties.

John James Trennum

HAVELOCK (ENS)—The funeral of John James Trennum, 62, took place under the auspices of Havelock LOL No. 326 on Monday afternoon with the service in the Curtis Funeral Parlor being conducted by the Rev. R. G. Newman. The pallbearers were Harry Agnew, Henry Ellis, Jack Adams, Frank Wrightly, Robert Wrightly, George Derrett. Burial was in Maple Grove cemetery.

Mr. Trennum's death on Saturday night followed an illness that extended over three years. He was born in Lakefield, a son of the late Frank Trennum and Faya Jarvis. He moved from Lakefield to Peterborough where he lived for 22 years and was an employee of the Capital Theatre. He returned to Lakefield for a time, coming to Havelock 15 years ago. While here he operated a grist mill. He was a member of the United Church and besides being a member of the Havelock LOL he was also a member of an IOOF Lodge in Peterborough.

Surviving besides his widow, the former Mary M. McClure, there are two daughters, Mrs. Arthur Ebbs (Arlene) Peterborough; Mrs. Charles Chard (Meretta), Havelock; a son, Jack, Warsaw Road, and a sister, Mrs. Wesley Johnston, Toronto.

Convict Priest

West, Maritimes Protest Award Of Freight Increase

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Canada's Western and Maritime provinces—the areas most vitally affected by transportation costs—are protesting the latest increase in freight rates awarded to the country's railways.

Appealing the seven-per-cent increase are: Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

Ontario and Quebec, the only provinces which haven't opposed the series of post-war rate-increase applications, are not appealing the award of the board of transport commissioners announced Monday.

Transport Minister Chevrier said in Ottawa following the announcement that the government would not act on its own initiative to stay the increase but would entertain formal appeals from bodies such as provincial governments.

Members of all opposition parties in the Commons had asked the government to exercise power to rescind or delay the increase, worth $38,500,000 a year, pending further consideration.

Premier Angus L. Macdonald of Nova Scotia sent a telegram to Prime Minister St. Laurent appealing the increase and asking that the board's order granting the increase be suspended pending hearing of the appeal.

In neighboring New Brunswick, both government and opposition united in opposing the increase. Premier Walter Jones of Prince Edward Island also sent a telegram to Ottawa protesting the increase.

Premier W. A. C. Bennett of British Columbia sent a wire to Ottawa saying the new increase bears inequitably on B.C., "not to mention other parts of Canada."

Premier E. C. Manning told the Alberta legislature he had conferred with Premier Bennett and Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan and several Eastern Canada premiers in connection with proposed action following the increase. He said that the prime minister has been asked to have the transport board suspend its award until the appeal has been heard.

In Regina, Premier Douglas said he is joining the appeal and asking for suspension.

Premier D. L. Campbell of Manitoba sent a wire to the federal government asking for immediate suspension of the increase pending the appeal.

Premier Frost said the Ontario government will not appeal.

"We have never appealed in these freight rate increases before, and we do not plan any change in that practice now," he said.

Heavy Israel Budget

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel's government has proposed a £216,000,000 ($605,000,000) budget for the coming fiscal year. It promises considerable income tax reductions despite a 25-per-cent jump over last year's budget total. The figures were presented to Parliament Tuesday by Finance Minister Levi Eshkol, who said the government would curtail services and streamline the civil service in order to permit the tax reductions.

OBITUARY

MARY ELLEN STEVENSON

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — Mary Ellen Stevenson, a resident of Campbellford for the past seven years, died in a Peterborough hospital early Sunday morning after a lengthy illness. She was in her 75th year.

Miss Stevenson was born on a farm about four miles east of Hastings, daughter of Wm. Stevenson and Sarah Free who both predeceased her many years ago. She lived there up till seven years ago when she moved to Campbellford.

Surviving Miss Stevenson are: one sister, Mrs. Anderson, (Millie) of Roland, Manitoba and two brothers, William Stevenson of Belmont, Manitoba, and George of Campbellford.

She was a faithful member of the Pentecostal Church, and attended regularly when her health permitted.

Funeral services were conducted from Bennett's Funeral Parlour, on Tuesday at 2 p.m., with Rev. G. E. Leno of the Pentecostal Church officiating. Pallbearers were: Messrs. Melville Petherick, Gordon Johnson, William Nicholas, Herbert MacMillan and K. T. Waters. Interment was in Trent Valley cemetery.

Move Labour Day For The Tourist Business?

The Ontario Minister of Travel and Publicity, the Hon. L. P. Cecile, says that fifty million American tourist dollars are untapped by Ontario. This interests us. Some of those fifty millions, siphoned into the important Kawartha tourist area, would be an invigorating liquid asset to nearly everybody resident in this district, whether or not he engages directly in the tourist business.

* * *

What the Minister is looking for are fifty million dollars more than the millions which the Province are already attracting, trapping or tapping. Mr. Cecile suggests tapping by, among other things, persuading tourists to stay a little longer, and by extending the season.

* * *

He has figures to show that while most American tourists have holidays lasting between two and three weeks, only ten per cent. spend that much time in the Province. If tourists could be induced to stay even one day longer, Ontario's tourist revenue would increase by fifty million dollars. It is too optimistic to expect that every American who comes across the border, or even a majority of them, could be induced to stay an extra day, for the simple reason that Mr. Cecile's figures include hundreds of thousands who are not real tourists, but one-day, or week-end trippers. He has, however, an important point, applicable to real tourists. Even if the fish are not biting or the weather has turned suddenly cool, tourists who are well fed, well housed, given attentive service and other things to do and see beside dropping a line in the water or a dripping spruce, these tourists will not be driven back beyond the border by the first sullen cloud. They will want to stay until the last possible minute.

* * *

Mr. Cecile would move the last possible minute—in the season—into the third week of September, by changing Labour Day from the first to the third Monday in September. The proposal has been made frequently by others. Admittedly our tourist season is short. Its shortness is one reason why resort operators must try to cram a year's profit into two months, and why many are hesitant to improve the amenities and buildings, lest the year-round overhead be greater than the two-months' business.

* * *

Every effort should be made to extend the season, but we doubt that the mere lifting of Labour Day would help. It is unlikely that the States would move their Labour Day to accommodate the Canadian tourist business, and it is American legal holidays, not ours, which condition American tourists' views. Further, many people's holidays end with August because they are parents and schools re-open the first week of September. Labour Day is not the decisive date.

* * *

Our suggestion is that Labour Day remain where it is, the first Monday in September, and be emphasized even more than it now is as the dividing day between Summer and Fall. Then let our tourist propagandists get busy selling the Southern Ontario Fall to tourists. It is one of our chief and certainly most colourful natural attractions. Golden sunny days, crisp evening air, no mosquitoes, no crowds, and wonderful spectacles of autumn colours, serene lakes and tranquil woods. The propaganda need not be insincere. Many people native to this area delight in September and October weather far more than in summer days. If we are interested in attracting tourists for a longer season, why should we keep silent about the joys of our autumn?

* * *

The Minister of Travel says the extra tourist market should be secured through "intensive promotion." This Kawartha district has a good record of self-promotion. It should not be beyond its powers to make the Kawarthas a special autumn tourist season. The effort would be assisted greatly if our summer hotels and cottage areas were not found to be closed in those golden days by some tourists who already come to us in mid and late September, and have difficulty getting meals in the resort centres.

Austria Keeps Her Balance

Last month's elections in Austria have again demonstrated that Austria is a country of what an observer calls "institutionalized deadlock"—and of amazing stability and balance. Despite eight years of frustrating four-Power occupation and winter unemployment amounting to fourteen percent. of the labour force, extremist parties made no gains and the two large democratic parties which have governed since the war—the Socialists and the Catholic People's Party—secured five-sixths of the votes and eight-ninths of the seats in the new Parliament.

Russian propaganda aimed at wooing socialists in the factories and cities to Communism had little effect on the election results. In fact, the Communists lost one seat, and now have only four. The Independents, a party of malcontents generally right-wing and nationalistic and including large numbers of former Nazis, lost votes and seats. They gained in Vienna but lost in the western provinces like the Tyrol.

The two major parties are supported by family tradition and deep-rooted religious and philosophic inclinations which are not shaken loose by Russia or upheavals less than those wreaked on the country by the German Nazis. And so the traditional balance between Socialist workers and Conservative peasants continues; and the four powers continue their occupation.

Ways To End The Korean War

The popular General Van Fleet, retiring commander of the American Eighth Army in Korea, has come back to the United States, with views on how to end the war. Of these views he has already spoken. In February, he told a journalist that the Eighth Army could defeat the Communists in Korea with an offensive "at this time."

General Omar Bradley, chief of staff, has clarified the hopes, guesses and comments by saying that there are four, and only four courses open to the United States in Korea. These are: (1) To get out; (2) To maintain pressure at its present strength; (3) To continue the pressure, while taking additional steps from time to time "where a military advantage might accrue"; and (4) To take steps to reach a military decision.

These last two, General Bradley warned, might start a third World War. And there the matter rests—primarily in the higher political and strategical area. General Van Fleet gave a military opinion when he said that an offensive now could defeat the Communists in Korea. He has not—any more than General MacArthur—any magic formula. To win an offensive now in Korea does not mean an end to war in Korea. The offensive could be the first (successful) battle in a long war, involving far more than Korea, and with success at the end of it not certain. Even if the U.S. won that larger war and had a military victory, it and the world know well that the fruits of military victory in these years are both sour and sad.

So the frustrations of the Americans because their boys are not back home, continue, and the Korean war continues.

Airstrip At Bobcaygeon

We note that the tourist-conscious village of Bobcaygeon has received approval of an airstrip south of the village. The Superintendent of Airways has looked over its situation and condition and sanctioned its use for all single-engine planes and for some twin-engine craft. The airstrip was in unofficial use last summer. It is said that a small plane can fly from Canton, Ohio, and set its passengers down in Bobcaygeon an hour and fifty-five minutes later. Bobcaygeon caters to Ohio people and others from that part of the Republic, as its fine, stone tourist booth, and now its airstrip show. Peterborough casts bait for such tourists, too. Peterborough has a hill-top on the Chemong Road, which has never enjoyed official airway approval; and a tourist hut which it sets up on Charlotte Street.

The present version of the tourist booth is much improved over the old. Should Peterborough have an airport for tourists? As the city has developed industrially over the last ten years, it becomes obvious that it should have an airstrip able at least to provide for businessmen and industrial executives, and to give them (and Peterborough) an air link with transcontinental air services.

The Mayor To Attend

The citizenry of Peterborough will be pleased that the Mayor and Mayoress plan to attend the Coronation, and gratified that they are to have seats in the Abbey during the crowning. It is the first time that the Mayor of Peterborough has received an invitation to a Coronation—an indication of the wider share which the Commonwealth is having in the celebrations than heretofore, and also of Peterborough's place in the imperial sun. While they are officially representing Peterborough, Mr. and Mrs. Waddell are doing so at their own expense. We are glad that they are going and confident that they will represent the city with dignity, warmth and charm.

NOTES AND COMMENT

A wild beast trainer says that the first consideration in his work is keeping on the right side of the animals. The right side, we presume, being the outside.

A man in Northern Ontario was recently compelled to eat his bottle of rye with a spoon, for it was frozen. Which suggests that the L.C.B.O. is watering it heavily—for control, of course, and not for profit.

A MIDDLE CLASS CREATED

Stalin The Great

By EDWARD CRANKSHAW

ST. PETERSBURG was founded on the broken bodies of innumerable slaves. Peter the Great is remembered with a shudder for his fearful daemon, but with mingled awe and pride for creating Russia as a European power. Ivan the Terrible strangled his son, the Tsarevitch, with his own hands, scourged his nobles with unspeakable cruelty, and, on his death-bed, tried to rape the young wife of his second son. But today in Russia his memory is venerated for his unifying mission. Other Russian autocrats committed vile outrages and condemned their subjects to unmeasured suffering, not only in the Middle Ages but also in the Age of Reason. When Nicholas I had the vast Winter Palace rebuilt within a year of the disastrous fire, thousands of artisans were condemned to work in rooms which were heated like an oven to dry them off, while the work was going on. Many died each day. Victoria was on the Throne in England.

❖ ❖ ❖

STALIN will not be remembered for his atrocities. All Russian autocrats commit atrocities. He will be remembered with Ivan and Peter and Catherine for his colossal achievement in a land where nothing has ever been achieved unless it was colossal and without an infinity of human sacrifice. Ardent mountaineers, we are told, regard with scorn and deep contempt all those who use funiculars to scale the snowy heights. Nothing, they assure us, least of all the vision of the sunrise on Mont Blanc, is worth achieving without sacrifice. By half killing themselves they receive, it appears, an afflatus. The Russians carry this general idea some stages further: nothing is worth achieving unless ten thousand souls have died for it.

Stalin has achieved a great deal. His vision has demanded ten million, not ten thousand, individual sacrifices.

❖ ❖ ❖

PETER the Great picked Russia up by the scruff of her neck and thrust her bodily into the lap of an apprehensive Europe. Afterwards there were backslidings; but the Russians were never the same again. Stalin has made Russia into a power strong enough not only to dominate Europe but also to face the only power strong enough in herself to dominate the world. That is not nothing. His methods have been the methods of the Russian autocratic tradition carried to their logical conclusion with the help of twentieth Century science. Let the Russians judge them, those millions of Russians who, while broken by Stalin, still take a mystic pride in the magnitude of his despotism. Our judgement is irrelevant.

❖ ❖ ❖

THE Revolution was a negative, not a positive, action. The revolutionaries hailed the break-down of an old society with the slogans of liberation. What was liberated showed its true metal by collapsing. The Russians shook off the rusted chains and promptly went to pieces. Men of good will, aristocrats and business men with modern ideas, then Socialists with ardent visions, exhorted them to pull themselves together. Lenin stepped in at the moment of total disintegration first to promise peace and land, then to dragoon them in the name of a scarcely extant proletariat. The tones of despotic authority sounded in his proclamations of universal brotherhood. And after an orgy of anarchy cut short by Civil War, the Russians responded. But Lenin died before the dragooning could start.

❖ ❖ ❖

STALIN, burning for power, had also quite clearly a vision of a better Russia. But it had first to be a strong Russia. Strength in this country is measured in steel and what it makes. Russia had to have steel and the Five Year Plan was conceived and launched to give her steel. New towns had to be constructed and the workers fed; but the peasants with their primitive holdings could not or would not feed them. They were coerced. The dreadful epic of the collectivisation, which Stalin lately confessed was for him a more perilous struggle than the worst days of the war, was designed and carried out to get control of the peasants and make them feed the towns. The peasants struck back and destroyed and burnt their own property, making a desert of productive lands. In a bitter civil war in which one side had all the guns their resistance was broken, and then industry had to be expanded at a frantic pace to mechanize the ruined agriculture. It was a scene of lunacy. But Stalin had to throw in his hand, commit suicide, leave Russia in chaos, or go on. He went on. And at the height of the lunacy he kept his vision, the vision for which he will be remembered, as Peter the Great is remembered:—

"No comrades . . the pace must not be slackened . . To slacken the pace would be to lag behind and those who lag behind are beaten. We do not want to be beaten."

❖ ❖ ❖

HE INVOKED the history of Tsarist Russia:

"She was ceaselessly beaten for her backwardness. She was beaten by the Mongol Khans; she was beaten by the Turkish Beys; she was beaten by the Swedish feudal lords; she was beaten by the Polish-Lithuanian Pans; she was beaten by the Anglo-French capitalists; she was beaten by the Japanese Barons; she was beaten by all—for her backwardness. For military backwardness, for cultural backwardness, for political backwardness, for industrial backwardness, for agricultural backwardness. She was beaten because to beat her was profitable and went unpunished. You remember the words of the pre-revolutionary poet: 'Thou art plentiful, thou art mighty, and thou art helpless, Mother Russia'."

And finally: "We are fifty or a hundred years behind the advanced countries. We must make good this lag in ten years. Either we do or they crush us."

❖ ❖ ❖

THAT was the first trumpet call of the revolutionary internationalist to that Great Russian nationalism which later became an obsession, using the revolutionary dynamic in distant lands to harass the outer world, and the power and prestige of Russian arms to recover the empire of the Tsars and extend its effective sway far beyond its frontiers.

The cost has been immense. The reforms of Peter were epoch-making; but to carry them through he had to regiment the Russian nobility and give the bodies and souls of the common people absolutely into their hands. The rigidly graded hierarchy in which each man's position depended not on birth or wealth but on his merits in the despot's eyes left Russia suffocated. The ruthlessness required to carry out the revolution from above crushed the spirit of the people. It was not until late in the nineteenth century that it began to recover, soaring in the spring-time of Russian liberalism.

❖ ❖ ❖

STALIN has brought upon his people limitless physical suffering. He calculated that if he could drive they could endure; and he was right. But just as he ruined Russian agriculture in the process of improving it, so he has crushed the mind of his people in the process of educating them. Again, he sought strength and security for Russia and made her to all appearances stronger and more secure than ever in her history—and in the process of so doing wakened the sleeping might, the dying distrust of a civilization greater than his own. He killed by excess what he sought to build. This may be the way of dictators everywhere. It is certainly the way of autocrats in Russia.

But no matter what convulsions may lie in store for that unhappy land, what has been done has been done. The great achievement to which most people would point has been the forced industrialization of a backward agrarian land. History, writing an ironic foot-note to the pretensions of the Bolsheviks, may well say that Stalin's supreme gift to Russia was to provide her for the first time in her history with a strong middle-class, called into being by the quest for steel without which in the modern world, no civilization can begin to ripen.

YUGOSLAVIA TODAY II

By RICHARD LOWENTHAL

Experimental Road To Socialism

EVER since Tito's break with Moscow, the Yugoslav Communist leaders have been striking out, with gradually increasing boldness, their own uncharted road towards the goal of Socialism. An experiment follows experiment, they have felt more and more strongly that the original sin of Stalinism was the steady strengthening of bureaucracy—that it was the task of true Socialists to make the state not all-powerful as in Russia, but increasingly superfluous, so that it could "wither away" as predicted by Marx and Lenin. One of the most original applications of this theory is the decentralisation of nationalized industry and the new type of planning introduced in Yugoslavia—in the beginning of 1952—a system to which many of the visible improvements that took place there last year must be credited.

Until the end of last 1951, Yugoslav industry, transport and trade were planned and administered by methods broadly similar to those in use in the Soviet Union and her East European satellite states. The Federal Plan set targets for each particular industry, which had the character of commands; through a hierarchy of bureaucratic organizations responsible for each industry and each national republic, these were handed down as detailed orders to each individual factory. Every manager was told precisely what goods to produce, where to sell them, and at what price. "Socialist competition" concerned the question of which factory would reach or exceed its target first and be publicly honoured for it; it had no connection with meeting the demands of the market. Profit or loss was a mere accounting matter, as profits were automatically passed on to the state budget and losses born by it; all cost was cost to the nation and it was the individual factory's moral duty to keep this low—but no material damage was caused to the factory when it was high. As a result, as everywhere in Eastern Europe, the administration of industry was top-heavy, cost was excessive, quality low and turnover slow—and initiative in meeting the needs of the consumer non-existent unless, like all initiative, it came from the top.

YET all through 1951, the Yugoslav Government leaders and planning experts were busy working out a new type of economic plan, which was to do away with centralized bureaucracy and restore the responsibility and initiative of the individual management, to bring back the guiding role of the market, the spur of competition and the regulator of cost and even, in a modified way, the profit incentive. Under the new system, the intermediate industrial organizations were to be abolished; each factory within the framework of a given total output per industry was to be free to produce what goods and for what market it liked, without orders from above; prices were no longer to be fixed, but each "firm" had to meet its cost, including heavy contributions to state funds, at the risk of being closed down; credit would be restricted by the National Bank and would have to be paid at a more than nominal rate of interest, thus restoring the need for speedy turnover; and finally, profits remaining after all contributions to the state funds would be at the disposal of the "Workers Collective" while losses might lead to bankruptcy. In short, there was to be a free market economy "within the framework of the basic proportions laid down by the plan."

The success or failure of such a system of "liberalized planning" must obviously depend on the answer to one question: What are those basic proportions laid down in the plan, and how are they to be enforced in a market economy? The answer has been given, first by the publication of the draft plan for 1952 at the end of last year, and then by the first six months of its operation. The "basic proportions" lay down the minimum rates of current production for each industry and, in particular, for the consumer goods industries on one side and the basic industries on the other; the amounts to be devoted to specific, centrally approved capital investment projects; and the percentage shares of the total revenue of each industry which are to be available as a "wage fund", as social insurance contribution, as reserve and as contribution to the central state budget, respectively. The means of enforcement are in the case of the centrally approved investment projects still direct state expenditure and direct order; in all other cases they consist exclusively in the control of credit by the National Bank.

❖ ❖ ❖

HERE lies the real originality of the new Yugoslav planning system. For—and this is the secret of its working—the "independent" state factories have no money capital of their own: every penny must be borrowed from the Bank, which is the controlling agent for the execution of the plan. Thus the control exercised over the credit supply is both far more powerful and far more rigid than in any other country. Every sum earned by the sale of goods is automatically divided in the Bank, according to the fixed proportions of the plan, into "wage fund", and "accumulation fund" and the latter subdivided into social insurance fund, state budget contribution, etc., and passed on accordingly. The freedom of the Bank consists merely in allotting the credit available for a given industry among individual firms, according to their chances of using it, while the freedom of the firm lies in lowering its cost, improving its turnover and thus both strengthening its case for larger revolving credits and for increasing its "profits."

"Profits" are here defined as the difference between the "wage fund" which a firm earns as a proportion of its total revenue, and the wage bill it has contracted for with its workers and employees: the latter collectively decide on the use of such profits, i.e. their distribution in proportion to wages or their use for some common purpose.

In a country where population is still three-quarters agricultural and consists largely of individual peasants, many things can evidently happen to upset the "basic proportions" of the plan; for the latter must inevitably depend in part on estimates of the harvest, of the development of agricultural prices, and of the pace at which the peasants spend their earnings. For this reason, it would be absurd to try and judge the success of the plan as a whole in the middle of the year. What can be said, however, is that the method of administrative decentralization, combined with strict credit control, has achieved remarkable successes in lowering cost and improving quality of output and supplies to the market throughout the economy.

It has also helped to make many things visible which were hitherto hidden in the desks of officials: published statistics have greatly improved because they have become necessary for management, and the new type of planning figures permit much more real insight into the working of the system. Perhaps the most striking revelation they have brought is that the chief factor in keeping up the prices of industrial goods is not low productivity as expressed in production costs proper, but the enormous contributions imposed on industry under the heading of "accumulation and social funds", which include, apart from ordinary reserve funds and social insurance, the contribution to the federal budgets for capital investment and defence.

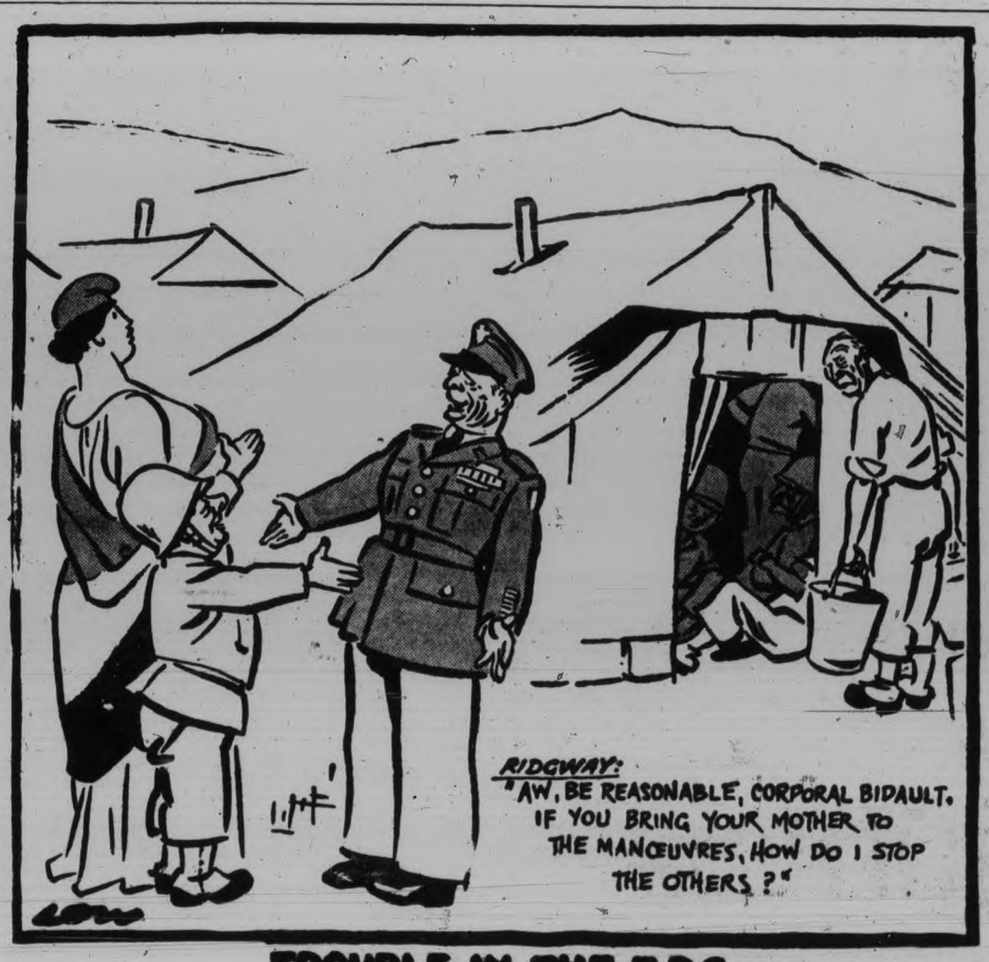
Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

O Zion, that bringest good tidings, get thee up into the high mountain; O Jerusalem, that bringest good tidings, lift up thy voice with strength; lift it up, be not afraid; say unto the cities of Judah, Behold your God! Behold, the Lord will come with strong hand, and his arm shall rule for him; behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him . . . With whom took he counsel, and who instructed him, and taught him in the path of judgement, and taught him knowledge, and shewed to him the way of understanding? Behold, the nations are as a drop of a bucket, and are counted as the small dust of the balance; behold, he taketh up the isles as a very little thing . . .



To whom then will ye liken me, or shall I be equal? saith the Holy One . . . Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? there is no searching of his understanding. (Isa. 40:9,10,14,15,25,28.)

❖ ❖ ❖

Remember the former things of old: for I am God, and there is none else; I am God, and there is none like me, declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times the things that are not yet done, saying, My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure. (Isa. 46:9,10.)

❖ ❖ ❖

Known unto God are all his works from the beginning of the world. (Acts 15:18.)

TROUBLE IN THE EDC

Citadelles Stay With QAHA, Reject CAHA Bid

QUEBEC (CP)—Quebec junior Citadelles today remained a member of the suspended Quebec Amateur Hockey Association, deciding at the last minute to pass up the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association's invitation to participate in the Memorial Cup playoffs.

Frank Byrne, owner of the Citadelles, announced the club's decision five minutes before the Tuesday midnight deadline set by the CAHA. His decision followed several hours of talks with George Dudley, CAHA secretary-manager, and QAHA officials.

The QAHA was suspended Feb. 28 for granting Ron Attwell a playing certificate when the CAHA claimed he was still under the jurisdiction of the Ontario Hockey Association.

QUIT QAHA

The powerful Quebec Senior Hockey League resigned from the QAHA to protect player interests and contracts with professional leagues and announced it was arranging a playoff with the Western Canada League following its league's playdowns.

QAHA teams had until midnight Tuesday night to inform the CAHA whether it would remain with the Quebec branch or the CAHA.

Byrne said his players asked him earlier Tuesday if anything could be done about getting into the Memorial Cup series. The club owner talked with Dudley and QAHA officials and decided to stick with the QAHA.

LONG WAIT

One factor in his decision was believed to be the long wait his team would have—with salaries continuing—before a junior champion in the Maritimes would be declared. This would be about three weeks and meanwhile the Citadelles would be out of the anticipated Quebec junior league finals with Canadiens, a series that is expected to draw big gates in both Montreal and Quebec.

Dudley said earlier that a decision by Montreal Canadiens to drop Attwell from their lineup didn't make any change in the standing of the QAHA.

COULD DROP ATTWELL

Frank Selke, managing director of the Canadian Arena Company (Montreal Forum) said Canadiens would drop Attwell so the youngster would not be made the goat in the present dispute.

Selke's announcement was made in a letter to Frank Dilio, QAHA registrar. At the same time Selke said Canadiens juniors—a team controlled by the company—stands 100 per cent behind the QAHA.

An authoritative QAHA source said in Montreal that the CAHA wanted the Quebec branch to send a telegram with the advice that Attwell was being dropped and that the QAHA was at fault in the dispute.

PCVS Bantams Win

PCVS OABA bantams pulled out a 30-23 basketball victory over Kenner Collegiate on the latter's floor yesterday to keep on top of the league with four wins and a loss. Kenner is a close second yet with three victories and two reverses, both teams having another game with St. Peter's in the schedule.

The score was close all the way through, being 10-all at the half, and provided plenty of excitement for players and onlookers.

Hendry and McArthur sparked the victors on the attack with most of their points, tallying 14 and 13 respectively in an excellent hoop showing. Bob Johnston led the losers with eight points, one more than Gary Darling of the same squad.

CHAMPION LONG-DISTANCE COMMUTER—Michael Sadlier, producer-manager of Peterborough's Summer Theatre, may be a champion commuter. His theatrical interests call for trips from Peterborough to Bermuda to New York and Toronto, occasionally to England. His summers are spent in Peterborough, his winters in Hamilton, Bermuda, where he helps manage the theatre which he assisted to start. He also takes time out to scout for talent.

Michael Sadlier Champion Long-Distance Commuter

By JOHN PATERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP)—Michael Sadlier, tall and handsome Irish-Canadian, can lay claim to being a champion long-distance commuter.

He travels regularly between Peterborough, Ont., Bermuda, New York and Toronto, with occasional side trips to London, England, tending his various theatrical interests and contacts.

Originally an actor, he turned to management when professional stage opportunities in Canada proved too few shortly after the war. Now he spends his summers at Peterborough with the successful theatre he helped establish. In winter he takes a hand in the flourishing theatre at Hamilton, Bermuda, which he also helped to start.

TALENT SCOUT

Talent searches for Broadway and Hollywood stars take him frequently to New York and a talent and management agency in Toronto newly-established, brings him back on flying visits.

A recent trip to London to look at some plays gave this "young man in a hurry" his latest idea.

"If I can find the right new play I'll put it on in London this fall," he said in an interview.

Mike, as the 29-year-old sixfooter usually is called, left his native Dublin to join the RAF in the Second World War. Sent to Canada for training he transferred to the RCAF. After the war he returned to this country, then went to New York. Some television performances and tours with Kay Francis and Cornelia Otis Skinner whetted his appetite for acting.

In 1948 with the help of interested parties in Peterborough—and a stake of $23—he founded one of the first of the post-war summer theatres which since have sprung up in many other centres.

The next year he was co-producer with Brian Doherty in a Canadian tour with "Arsenic and Old Lace." There he met Bruce Yorke, an Australian whose wanderings had taken him to the Orient for several years before coming to Canada.

TOUGH WINTER TOUR

Sadlier and Yorke opened the Niagara Falls, Ont., Summer Theatre in 1949. That winter they toured a series of four plays on a rugged winter circuit of Southern Ontario centres.

"It almost killed us," Sadlier recalls with a shudder.

"We played one-night stands and split weeks in theatres, halls and schools. We used an old truck to transport scenery, costumes and, occasionally, actors."

Then two years ago they opened at Bermuda with an all-Canadian cast. Last year they added Hollywood and Broadway stars to play lead roles. This spring with such stars as Charlton Heston, Edward Everett Horton, Franchot Tone and Gypsy Rose Lee lined up, business is the best ever.

They have a permanent company of Canadians, Americans and Britons.

Michael Gardner of Montreal is stage manager. Others include Ron Bailey, Peterborough; Peter Mews, Toronto and Johan Fillinger, Ottawa. Patricia Moore, George Turner and Judith Fellows are experienced British actors who now make their home in Canada.

Edward Everett Horton, veteran stage and movie star, is trying to interest Sadlier and Yorke in still another production series: A summer tour of the West Indies.

Tri-Bells Meet Livvies After Downing YMHA

TORONTO (CP)—Nortown Tri-Bells Tuesday night advanced into the Ontario senior basketball finals against Tillsonburg Livingstons by defeating Toronto YMHA 78-71 to take the best-of-three-game series for the Toronto senior championship 2-0.

The Tri-Bells will play the first game of a best-of-three set for the Ontario title in Tillsonburg Saturday.

YMHA led 36-33 at the half but the Tri-Bells put on the pressure in the second half.

Wilhelm Stays Hot In Relief, Kiner Still Home

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Apparently Hoyt Wilhelm never has heard of the second-year jinx.

Wilhelm, last season's National League freshman pitching sensation, still is going about the business of saving games for the New York Giants. The 29-year old knuckleballer has nailed down two of the three Giant exhibition victories so far.

Wilhelm relieved rookie Allan Worthington in the ninth inning Tuesday with four runs in, the bases loaded and only one Chicago White Sox batter out. He retired the next two hitters and the Giants staggered off with a 16-14 win.

In his first Grapefruit League appearance last Monday, against Cleveland Indians, the hurler also showed he had lost none of his magic touch. Then, with the tying runs on the bases in the ninth, he came in to thwart two Tribe batsmen. New York won 5-3.

RALPH WAITS

LOS ANGELES (AP)—One thing between slugger Ralph Kiner and general manager Branch Rickey of Pittsburgh Pirates—it isn't a battle of words.

Kiner says he hasn't heard from the cagey executive in three weeks. And Ralph hasn't made contact with the management because he feels the next move is Rickey's.

Kiner, who became baseball's highest paid performer last year with a reported $90,000 contract, has been working out privately and says he could begin playing games right away.

CUBAN PITCHER

HAVANA (AP)—Cuba has a bright new prospect for Washington's pitching corps, if all that scout Joe Cambria says is true.

"That's my boy," says Cambria of a 19-year-old Cuban named Gonzalo Naranjo. Naranjo held Pittsburgh Pirates to seven hits and struck out seven in beating them 4-1 the other night.

NEW YORK (CP)—Two triple plays were executed in the Grapefruit League Tuesday by major league clubs. Chicago Cubs pulled off one in the second inning against Cleveland Indians at their training camp at Mesa, Ariz., and at Tampa Fla., shortstop Roy McMillan started off another for Cincinnati Reds against Washington Senators, also in the second inning.

Hornets Wallop Hershey Bears

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Pittsburgh Hornets kept alive their hopes of overtaking the pacesetting Cleveland Barons before playoff-time in the American Hockey League by routing Hershey Bears 8-2 Tuesday night. The victory cut Cleveland's lead to five points. Pittsburgh has six games left to play, the Barons four.

St. Louis Flyers edged Providence 6-5 and broke a fifth-place tie with the Reds. The Flyers are only two points behind Hershey, currently holding the last of the coveted playoff spots.

At Pittsburgh, John McLellan and Bill Ezinicki each scored two goals for the winners. Bob Solinger, Willy Marshall, Ray Timgren and Earl Balfour notched the others. Lorne Ferguson and Arnie Kullman tallied for the Bears.

St. Louis' Guyle Fielder pleased a home-town crowd when he picked up three assists to tie Eddie Olson of Cleveland for the scoring leadership. Each has 77 points.

Motto McLean, Pete Conacher, Lou Jankowski, Ed Stankiewicz, Joe Lund and Ken Hayden got the St. Louis goals, while Al Baccari and Pete Kapusta each scored twice for Providence and Pat Egan tallied the other.

Galt Hawks Bust Oshawa 2-0; Porcupine Wins

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Galt Black Hawks, who can look like stumblebums one game and world beaters the next, are only a victory or a tie away from a berth in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A semi-finals.

The Black Hawks reached that stage Tuesday night, coming up with one of their better efforts to trounce Oshawa Generals 8-4 and take a 2-0 lead in the best-of-five quarter-final series. It was the third clash of the series and the Hawks snapped out of their doldrums in convincing fashion.

In the first engagement they squeaked to a 5-4 overtime victory; in the second, they blew a four-goal lead and had to settle for a 4-4 tie. However, that deadlock is a help for besides a victory a tie can now also shoot them into the semi-finals against Toronto St. Michaels, who eliminated St. Catharines in three straight games. The next game is scheduled for Oshawa Thursday night.

In another junior playoff, Porcupine Combines blanked Eastview St. Charles 5-0 as they opened a best-of-five quarter-final series in Timmins leading to the Eastern Canada crown. The Ottawa district champs will get a chance for revenge against the Northern Ontario Hockey Association titleholder in Timmins Thursday night.

Connaught Meet Tougher In '53

OTTAWA (CP)—The Governor-General's Trophy match, feature of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association's annual week-long shoot at nearby Connaught rifle ranges, has been made tougher for the 1953 competition.

At the annual meeting Monday, the association decided to increase the number of rounds in the final stage at the 900-yard range to 15 from 10. The other stages would remain unchanged with 10 rounds at 300 yards and 15 rounds at 600 yards.

To encourage participation by younger marksmen, the association reported a new award to be known as the Burke cadet junior aggregate. A cash prize will be given by its founder, Dr. Desmond Burke of Toronto, recognized as Canada's No. 1 marksman.

This year's meet will be held Aug. 10-15.

Chief business of the meeting was the election of the 80-member council of the DCRA with representatives from each of the 10 provinces.

Lt.-Col. George Patrick of Ottawa, former commanding officer of the Governor-General's Foot Guards, was re-elected chairman of the council.

Sculls Captain Objects To Dawes' Claim

TORONTO (CP)—Harry Kaysmith, captain of Toronto Argonauts Rowing Club, voiced his objection Tuesday to recent statements about rowing in Canada made by A. Sydney Dawes.

In a letter to Dawes, retiring Canadian Olympic committee chairman, Kaysmith objected to a Feb. 28 press release in which Dawes supported the use of indoor tanks for training oarsmen and doubted the presence of an eight-oared crew in Canada of international calibre.

Dawes said the indoor tanks provide coaches a better opportunity of perfecting techniques with personal instruction and the use of mirrors than can be accomplished by accompanying the oarsmen with a motorboat.

Kaysmith disagreed and said that indoor tanks or mirrors can never supplant the actual work in a shell on the water. However, he favored partial winter work on machines or with tanks.

As for Dawes' view that it is "unlikely we can find an international-calibre eight-oared crew in Canada," Kaysmith said that Olympics records since 1900 show Canadian crews have been "over the years one of Canada's consistent point-getters."

Fighter Loses Pants, Balance Then Drops Match

TORONTO (CP)—It was a night that fighter Don Plane probably would prefer to forget.

The Trenton welterweight was full of fight as he squared off against Barry Ross of Toronto on an amateur boxing card Tuesday night. Until he lost his pants in the second round.

Referee Jackie Silvers managed to halt proceedings and Don dived into a dressing gown, departed hurriedly and discarded what was left of the trunks, which had split neatly up the rear.

BACK TO FRONT

Still reasonably full of fight, Don acquired a spare pair of trunks and dashed into the ring, performing a prattfall in his haste. Shorn of his dressing gown, he discovered he had donned the substitute pair back-to-front.

To round out the evening, Plane lost the decision.

In a semi-final bout, at 160 pounds, Bill Agar, Toronto, outpointed Joe Delaney, Niagara Falls.

In a 170-pound bout, Ilgear Burkelis, Niagara Falls, Ont., won by a TKO over Frank Lane, Toronto, at 1:55 of the fourth round of a scheduled five-rounder.

In the 160-pound class, Bobby Streeter, Toronto, decisioned Jerry Hamilton, Welland, in five rounds.

BEAVERS SENIOR CHAMPS

LUNENBURG, N.S. (CP)—Saint John Beavers climaxed their long uphill grind with an 11-6 victory Tuesday night over Lunenburg Falcons to capture the Maritime senior hockey championship in four straight games.

Beavers, who soared from the New Brunswick Senior League cellar to win the playoffs, were paced by Doug Hewey who scored four goals.

The Beavers now advance in the Allan Cup playdowns against the winner of Ottawa district Eastern Canada Senior League, which will be either Smiths Falls or Pembroke. Smiths Falls leads Pembroke in their best-of-nine final 4-2, with one game tied.

ROOKIE KNOCKED OUT

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Wally Lammers, rookie St. Louis Cardinal shortstop, was knocked unconscious when he collided with second baseman Jack Dittmer of Boston Braves Tuesday while attempting to steal a base. However he wasn't seriously injured. Lammers' head struck Dittmer's knee in the crash. The rookie suffered a convulsion before first aid could be applied on the field. At hospital examination disclosed he had a concussion.

Petes Eliminate Cobourg With A 7-4 Victory To Take Set Two Straight

The Petes eliminated Cobourg Comets 7-4 in Cobourg last night, sweeping their OHA post-season series in two straight games. The Comets declined to make it a best-of-five series, following two straight setbacks. The Petes were minus Bill Crowley and Chum Fryia, who had to work Tuesday night. The score was tied 1-1 in the close first period but Johnny Russelle's crew whipped in three more in the second stanza to build up a 4-1 lead. Each side counted three in the third of a fast, fairly clean contest.

BOB BATLEY AS PRESI- Bob Batley was returned last night as president of the men's City Softball League. Mr. Batley has long been connected with this league as an umpire, executive member and finally president.

MAY BE STOUFFVILLE

Nothing definite was known right after the game as to when the Petes would play again in these OHA playdowns for runners-up. It was thought that the locals migth be drawn next against the Stouffville Clippers, who lost out recently to Oshawa Truckmen in the other section of the Central Ontario senior "B" grouping. Oshawa now meets the Belleville-Kingston winner for group senior "B" honours. The Clippers have expressed interest in continuing in post-season play, and, if drawn against the Petes, this series might open Friday. Some word on it is expected today.

Orillia originally had been listed to play the Petes, but decided to withdraw owing to a shortage of players after the regular schedule had finished.

The Petes were expecting a best-of-five series first with Cobourg, but it was terminated with the locals' second straight victory Tuesday on Cobourg ice. Teams.

Petes — Goal, Harding; defence, Armstrong and Montgomery; centre, Hill; wings, West and Greenlaw; alternates, Leonard, Wasson, Mortimer, Collins, Floyd and Legrow.

Cobourg—Goal, Somerville; defence, Campbell and Munroe; centre, Casey; wings, Wilcox and Reeves; alternates, Flesch, McKeen, D. Fisher, J. Fisher, Boswell, Greer, Summerfeldt and McIvor.

Referee—J. Crombie. Linesman—B. Cane.

The summary:

FIRST PERIOD

Robert Batley Re-elected Head Of Loop

Bob Batley was re-elected president of the City Softball League at the annual open meeting of the men's circuit last evening in the YMCA Honorary presidents are Mayor Hugh Waddell, G. K. Fraser, MP; and Max Swanston. Vice-president is Percy Harrison, with John McPhee returned as secretary, and Frank Wood back as treasurer. Executive committee includes: Fred Scates, George Dormer, Jack Playford, Harold Dormer, Ted Naish and H. Vinette.

Tom Walton was on hand to enter the UEW team again, the first entry of the 1953 season. Cam Wasson of Lakefield stated that his team wanted in but would like to come as a city entry with a local sponsor. At least two more city clubs are expected in at the next meeting, April 7.

TO THE OASA

OASA delegates appointed were Bob Batley, Harold Dormer and John McPhee, and they were instructed to invite the OASA to hold its 1954 convention in Peterborough.

The league plans double-headers twice a week again at the Bowl on Tuesday and Thursday nights, with the schedule to be finished by July 20, clearing the way for city playoffs and provincial playdowns. A revised constitution will have its final reading at the next meeting. Umpires are advised to get their applications in writing in early.

May's Boys Win

May's edged out Confederation 2-1 in their junior Public School League hockey semi-final at the arena Monday. It was a fine, keen contest all the way with both sides checking closely and both goalies shinin. Hewie counted first for Confederation, with Grant later sewing up the count. They went into a five-minute overtime period before Johnston sank the winning tally for May's. Each side drew but one penalty in a dandy ice duel. Teams:

Confederation: Brooks, Stephenson, McLelland, Hewie, Riel, Chambo, Clarke, Jackson, Westwood, McMillen.

May's: Park, Grant, Hamilton, Armour, Bell, Hutchison, Johnston, Park, Burfield, Hopkins, Snelgrove.

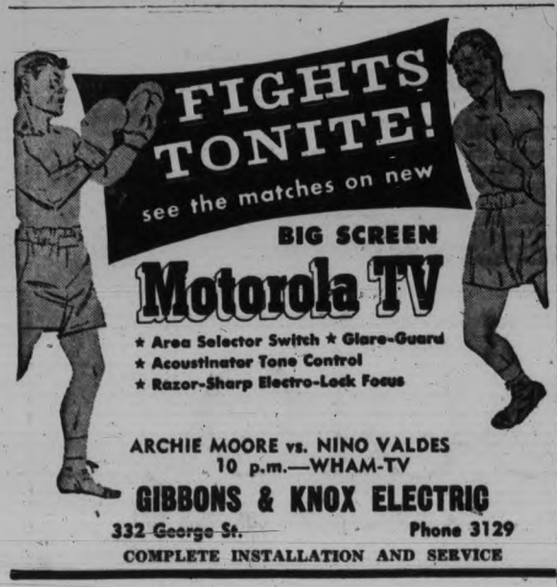
Referee—D. T. Crawford.

Toronto Leads By 13 Points As Marines Lose 63-50

Toronto Lakeshores, a youthful, fast quintet, sank nine points in the final two minutes Tuesday night to take a 13-point lead in their series with Doug MacPherson's Marines. Leading practically throughout the game the Lakeshores built the game lead from four to 13 in the final minutes for a final score of 63-50. The return game of the points-to-count series will be Saturday, likely at the YMCA gym at 8 p.m.

The Marines jumped to an early lead in the first quarter, but the Lakeshores, the Toronto district champions, came back quickly to take a lead which they never surrendered. They held a 30-21 score at the half, but that nine-point lead was whittled down to four until the last two minutes.

After the game Coach MacPherson said: "I think we can take them on a small floor. Our shots were poor their's were good; that's the difference tonight."



At first the Marines had planned to play their return game on the larger PCVS floor, but found in Tuesday's game that the Lakeshores could keep pace with the fast break. Therefore the game has been switched to the smaller Y floor where they can keep pace with the Lakeshores and have a better chance of overcoming the 13-point lead.

Top rookie in the Big Four last fall, Fedosoff, of the Toronto Argos, paced the Lakeshores in the first half with 10 points. But the top Toronto scorer was John Dzupina with 20, mostly scored in the last quarter. Ken Lytle with 11 points was another Lakeshore the Marines had trouble checking.

Ab Stewart led the Marines scoring attack with 16 points and also played a steady game on the defence. But the Marines missed the usual points by stars Bill Edger and Hugh Dibben. The fast break wasn't working as well as in previous games, but Edger still managed to score 13.

Gord Burns and Hugh Dibben rebounded well, particularly on the defence.

This win was the Lakeshore's 27th consecutive triumph this season.

EASTERN CANADA INTERMEDIATE football champions will receive the Earl (Doc) Spencley Memorial Trophy Thursday night for the first time. The donors, the Orfuns, happen to be the first recipients and will receive the trophy at the annual banquet at Club Aragon. It is in memory of the former Orfun who lost his life while fighting the Zacks' building fire in 1951. Father, Al Spencley, and brother, Frank, will likely make the presentation. Mr. Spencley admires the trophy.—(Examiner Staff Photo).

Unveil Trophy In Memory Of Earl Spencley

Unveiling of the Earl (Doc) Spencely Memorial Trophy, for the Eastern Canada intermediate football champions, will be one of the highlights of the Peterborough Orfuns' annual football banquet Thursday at Club Aragon.

Donated by the Peterborough Orfuns, who are also the first trophy holders, it will be presented Thursday to the club by either Earl's father, Al Spencely, or by his brother Frank.

Despite glasses which he had to wear during the games, Spencely was recognized as one of the league's best linemen, being tough and fearless, and was also recognized as one of the best play spotters.

He broke into intermediate football in 1936-37, then jumped into the senior ORFU with the Orfuns in 1938-39. During the war he played with the Winnipeg Blue Bombers while stationed with the army in Western Canada. After the war he returned to Peterborough and played with the reorganized Orfuns in 1947-48-49-50.

While working as a volunteer fire fighter during the Zacks' building fire in 1951, Spencley was killed when the ruins collapsed, killing four.

Frank Tindall, Queen's University football and basketball coach, will be guest speaker at the dinner which will honor the Orfuns, Dominion finalists, and their main suporters. Other guests will be Argo captain and former Orfun Les Ascott, former coach and possible 1953 coach Frank Gnup, and secretary of the ORFU Bill Fry.

Sacramento Winner Of Two Dufferin Heats

TORONTO (CP) — Sacramento, owned by Cummings and Chuckrow of Spencerville, Ont., and driven by Red Tilden, registered an easy double heat win in the featured pace at Dufferin Park Tuesday.

Dandy Hanover, owned by J. Reid of Orono, Ont., and Hope Bingen, owned by H. Wilson of Cass City, Mich., divided the secondary feature.

J. Geisel, Jr. of Hanover was set down for 30 racing days and fined $100 for inconsistent driving of Hope Bingen in the fifth race.

Geisel finished eighth and last in the first heat, then won the second heat.

Asphodel Victors

NORWOOD — (ENS) — The Bush League hockey club held the first of the three out of five series playoff games between the Asphodel and Hastings teams in the Norwood Arena, Monday evening. Asphodel took the first game 3-1 over Hastings before a fair crowd. D. Frederick was Asphodel's leading scorer with 2 goals. D. Smith scored the other. Hastings' lone goal was scored by A. McMillen.

Asphodel: goal, H. Stinson; defence, R. Horne, L. Wrightly; centre, D. Fredericks; wings, G. Coughlin, L. Peoples; alternates, H. Wilford, D. Rusaw, D. Smith, O. Brown, A. Buck, E. Van Volkenburg, H. Mathews and C. Mainland.

Hastings: goal, B. Orr; defence, R. Lockhart, W. Fisher; centre, K. Oliver; wings, L. Scriver, A. McMillen; alternates, M. Richardson, R. Condon, B. Scriver, D. Cook, D. Radford, A. Laver.

Referees: James Morrow and Charles Lobb.

GRANT'S SPORT CORNER

By DON GRANT

Skiing's a gamble and the Peterborough enthusiasts have lost heavily this year.

The little boy or girl who with delight saw their first skiis under the Christmas tree and the ardent skier who bought the most expensive skiis are out of luck this year. They haven't had a day's perfect skiing.

The younger children have had the odd day when they've been able to break in their new skiis but for the enthusiasts this year's been a total failure. It's been discouraging.

For the past three years the Peterborough Ski Club, along with all the kiddies, have been gambling on a good snowy winter, just like the old days. They've averaged only about 30 to 35 days of skiing a year.

Despite the odds against them, the club members every year work and work, planning out the season's activities. If others sports such as hockey, basketball and baseball suffered the same setbacks after all that work, they probably would disband.

There's a lot more to skiing than just waiting for Mother Nature to provide eight or 10 inches, at the least, of fluffy and packed snow.

Club Members Get Busy Early In Fall

Early in the fall the club members wander to the grounds at Kemp's Hill, or out to Bethany. There weekends they work the hills, clearing brush, fixing tow paths, erecting snow fences up and down the hill (especially along the tow), repairing and painting their club buildings.

They organize the junior ski section, plan a large ski night to revive skiing, and talk skiing to produce more members. Delegates attend Southern Ontario and all-Ontario meetings to plan the meets for the year.

Then there's the cost which is not limited to expenses for ski equipment alone. The club whether there's skiing or not carries liability and fire insurance for Nassau and Bethany and Kemp's. These alone add up to $500.

MOLLIE CRAIG WAXES SKIIS WITH HOPES FOR SNOW

All the work and money are stroked off at total losses for this year.

The lack of snow hasn't stopped a few from entering various competitions. Without practice Mollie Craig, Ian Blaiklock and Dennis Hale entered meets and did fairly well against skiers from the frozen north.

Snow Making Machinery Suggested

Other skiers have gone in search of snow, heading particularly to the Laurentians. These enthusiasts have brought back an idea, a snow-making machine. That's right, Mother Nature isn't the only one who can produce snow.

Recently enthusiast Cliff Boate spent a weekend at Mount Gabriel, Piedmont, about 45 miles north of Montreal. There he saw a piping system quite similar to the new system at the Peterborough Golf and Country club. But instead of water, snow fluttered across the ground.

With the temperature at 25 degrees late in the afternoon the system would be put into operation, and then again early in the morning. The skiers the next day had two-to-three inches of fresh snow.

This system was discovered by accident early in 1950 by Massachusetts brothers, Joe and Phil Tropeano. They were designing a new method of protecting citrus crops from the frost. One chilly day much to their surprise the device produced snow.

The mechanical features are quite simple. Compressed air and water, through separate hose, contact at nozzles, vaporizing the water and forcing it into the air in droplets which turn to snow crystals.

So far only Mount Gabriel has developed the system in Canada; several eastern states now have them.

At one time the operators of the Kemp's hill area considered laying the system there. But the cost of the air compressors, the piping, and other equipment was too much for such a small project.

Here's an oddity to the system. With a little coloring into the water supply line, any color of snow can be produced. Can you imagine zipping down a hill covered with pink or powder blue snow?

Unless Peterborough skiers have a sugar daddy, there's not much chance of a snow-making machine here. They'll have to be patient and wait for Mother Nature to produce.

Duet Swimmers Enter National Championships

Duet teams will be sent to the Canadian synchronized swimming championships on March 21 in Montreal by the Peterborough Ornamental Swimming Club.

Mrs. Pansy Forbes, club coach, said today that the club hopes to capture the Forbes-Munro trophy, emblematic of supremacy in synchronized duet swimming. The Peterborough club presented the trophy for competition four years ago.

During those four years the best the Peterborough girls have done is place second; never has the trophy come back to Peterborough. Last year it was won by Beverley Sutcliffe and Evelyn Maurice, of Toronto.

The club expects to send duets, Shirley Moldaver and Norma Douglas, Bev Rumary and Joan Craig. Others may be sent, depending upon the results at the club's weekly practice tonight at the YMCA pool.

The club's next large undertaking will be in Toronto on March 28 when they will help raise funds for swimming on a program with well-known swimming instructor Gus Ryder and his swimmers.

Mrs. Forbes said that the club will send 20 juniors and 20 seniors to perform at the meet which will feature Ryder's crippled children swimming between Peterborough acts. Cliff Lumsden and Jean Mowat, Toronto Lakeshore club swimmers, will also perform.

Club member Carol Howe has been entered in the swimming championship for girls under 16 years on March 27 in Toronto. Marked on diving, speed and skills, Miss Howe will be attempting to capture the Williams trophy. This meet is sanctioned by the Ontario section of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association.

Curling News

By HERB MARTIN

Our "Colts" rink, skipped by R. Somerville, play at the Toronto Curling Club tomorrow. It's the final round for the H. J. Sims Trophy. They are competing against seven other district winners and the "brass" hats concede them a good chance of coming through.

For the second time in two days the local rinks held the edge in the mixed rink bonspiel.

Four of the seven rinks to qualify for the finals on Friday are from the Peterborough club.

Empress Hotel Trohpy — J. Curtis, Fenelon Falls; T. McArthur, Peterborough.

Calvert Trophy — E. Gregory, Lindsay; Dr. R. Morgan, Peterborough.

Eaton Trophy—Dr. M. McCartney, Peterborough; B. Dench, Peterborough.

Gordon Fraser Trophy — D. McFarlane, Keene

The Sturgeon Trophy gets under way again Saturday evening. All winners of last Saturday night play at 6.45 o'clock. All the losers at 9 o'clock. Skips are requested to check the draw on the notice board.

Mrs. J. Fanning, Mrs. T. Doughty, Mrs. M. McCartney and Mrs. E. O'Toole leave Sunday to take in the bonspiel at Ottawa for the "Wood" Trophy. It was donated by Mrs. (Dr.) E. Wood, formerly of Peterborough.

Men's scores schedule — R. Rutherford 7, W. Moorehead 9; H. Bradburn 10, G. Green 10; W. Harvey 5, J. Fanning 7; J. Hall 8, G. Clark 7; R. Williamson 11, L. Askford 7; J. Adams 7, C. Gabel 5; R. Hutchinson 8, D. Rankine 9; F. Paterson 9, B. Jeffries 7; V. Selkirk 7, O. Price 8; W. Archibald 8, C. Lawrence 7.

Trojans Win 34-29

With foul shots and field baskets, the Trojans eked out a 34-29 victory over the Normal School Tuesday night in the YMCA house league. The Trojans had only a one-point 30-29 score with a minute to go but Ibey on a breakaway scored a field basket and Groves scored two foul shots to lengthen the winning margin.

The Normals were down 13-7 in the first quarter but came back strongly in the second quarter and were only down 17-14 at the half. McDonald pacing the Normals helped the teachers-to-be edge closer in the third 22-21. But despite McDonald's six points in the fourth, the Trojans kept ahead on points by Groves, Roininen, Ibey and Bak.

McDonald led the scorers with 18 points while the best for the Trojans was Ibey with 10.

DON GRIFFIN

Queen's Griffin Elected To All-Star Team

Peterborough's Don Griffin and the intercollegiate all-star basketball team are old acquaintances. They should be by this time, for the former PCVS football and cage star, now attending Queen's University, has been selected for the third straight year to the all-star squad.

This year Griffin once again led the Queen's quintet in the scoring and was among the top scorers in the intercollegiate standings. This gave him the most valuable player to his team award for the third straight year.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Griffin, 304 Margaret Ave., Griffin starred with the junior and senior football and basketball teams under coaches Alex Londry and Bev Goulding.

In making the all-star team, Griffin was the only Queen's player to succeed. Throughout the season in league and exhibition games, Griffin scored between 10 and 28 points a game.

This year the only unanimous choice to the all-star quintet was Western's Doug McNichol. Others besides McNichol and Griffin on the first team were: Lou Lukenda, Toronto; Lou Veres, Assumption; Ray Truant, Western. As usual, Coach Johnny P. Metras was selected as all-star coach.

The alternate squad placed Assumption's Chunk Collini at centre, Western's Chris Ellis and McMaster's Gerry McTaggart at forward, Max Woolley and Lorne Wigglesworth of McMaster at guard, and Bob Masterson of Toronto as coach.

Although injuries kept him out of most of the football season, Griffin was selected in the college draft this year by Toronto Argos. He has been contacted already by the Big Four club and is expected to try out with the team this fall.

Remember When—

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Sylvanis Apps, star centre of Toronto Maple Leafs, was awarded the Byng Trophy as the NHL's most gentlemanly player 11 years ago today. Apps, now retired from the ice lanes, played the entire 1941-42 season without incurring a penalty. Five years before that, in 1937, he won the Calder Trophy for the best rookie.

King Edward Captures School Crown

King Edward yanked out a 5-4 victory over Confederation at the Civic Arena yesterday to capture the intermediaite Public School Hockey League championship. King Edward had finished the regular schedule in first place with Confederation second, the latter then eliminating Queen Mary in the sudden-death semi-final.

It was an excellent game Tuesday, fast and clean, the lone penalty being to a player using a broken stick. King Edward had a little margin in the first frame but it was quite even the rest of the way. Elmsley got two quick ones early, aided once by Finnie and Smith, and the other time by Meredith.

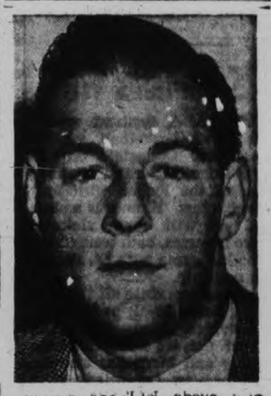
AN OPEN PERIOD

In the open second stanza, Perry counted for Confederation first, Ruttan got one later and Henwood another late in the heat. But Warner tallied for KE in a scramble, Finnie twice counting then on breakaways as Confed. pressed hard. In the close-checking third Perry got the only goal. The losers removed their goalie in the last minute in a desperate but vain effort to sew it up.

There were no individual stars as all the players from goalies out, on both teams turned in a fine display in the keen playoff contest.

King Edward: Curtis, Smith, Finnie, Meredith, Elmsley, Outram, Pound, Warner, Lumbard, Jenkins, Waldie, Stanbury.

Confederation: MacArthur, Outwater, Kinniburgh, Pulkinghorn, Nichols, Henwood, Ruttan, Kimball, Parry, Knox, Stevenson, MacLellan, Weaver.



Referee: H. Wilson.

Fighters Sign For Welter Title

QUEBEC (CP)—Rocky Brisebois of Montreal and Bryan Kelly of Niagara Falls, Ont., signed Tuesday for a 12-round bout here March 23 for the Canadian welterweight championship. The bout was sanctioned by the Canadian Boxing Federation.

The title fight follows the resignation last week of champion Johnny Greco of Montreal. The winner, according to a CBF ruling, must defend the title within 60 days against Fritzie Pruden of St. Catharines.

The CBF received a letter last week from Greco's manager, Louis de Zwireck, advising them of Greco's retirement.

OVILA ASSELIN, above, who opens tonight's mat card at the Brock Arena against Joe Christie. Feature event is the tag team match for the Canadian championship between Pat Flanagan and Bobo Brazil, challengers and Dick Raines and Lou Plummer, champions. It will be a hard-fought speedy contest between four top grapplers. Sammy Berg (Mr. Canada) is in the semi-final against Firpo Szbysko. A well-balanced card.

Laced By Richard, Kullman Shadows Howe In New York

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Edward George Kullman, a tough little character weighing 165 pounds, plus the weight of a protective helmet and a few yards of gauze wrapped around his scalp, is looking forward to a busy evening. He will be spending most of it in the company of Gordon Howe, who weighs 187 pounds and has scored one goal in Madison Square Garden this season. He has also scored 45 in other National League rinks, but Kullman hasn't been around to watch many of them.

The 29-year-old Winnipeg forward never a 20-goal man in his NHL career, draws his pay from New York Rangers by sticking around visiting sharpshooters assiduously enough to keep them off the score sheet. When Detroit Red Wings call, that makes him Howe's shadow.

HAS ITS HAZARDS

The job is not without its hazards. Eddie was chaperoning Maurice Richard when Montreal Canadiens hit town last Sunday. Richard, who hadn't scored in New York all year, picked up a couple of goals while Eddie was picking up eight stitches in his scalp after being autographed by Richard's stick.

NHL President Clarence Campbell is investigating the Rangers' claim that Richard should have drawn a match penalty for his carving job instead of getting away with a major. But Eddie says he feels fine and is ready to turn his attention to Howe.

The last-place Rangers, with no chance for a playoff spot, have won their last two games and are looking for their third straight, a quest they've pursued unsuccessfully all year.

AHL Playoffs League's Earliest

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The earliest playoff competition in American Hockey League history will get under way either March 24 or 26.

The league's board of governors and president Emory Jones announced the 1953 dates here Tuesday.

Two preliminary playoffs, qualifying two teams for the title series, will begin on either of the March dates. Title play will start either March 31 or April 7, depending on how long it takes to decide the preliminaries.

The qualifying tests, judged on a best-of-five basis, will match the top four teams at the close of the regular season. The first and third teams will play in one series and the second and fourth finishers in the other.

The title playoff will be a best-of-seven set.

Cleveland currently paces the league, followed by Pittsburgh, Syracuse and Hershey. St. Louis and Providence remain within striking distance of Hershey's No. 4 spot.

$300-$400 Raises Not Enough Teachers Say

BROCKVILLE (CP)—Brockville's collegiate teachers have indicated they do not find satisfactory salary increases passed by the board of education.

The board Monday night passed increases of $300 and $400 for the teachers. The raises followed a request by the teachers for increases of $600, $700 and $800.

Board chairman James Hone told I. M. Robb, representative of the Ontario Secondary School Teachers Federation, that the $300 and $400 raises were all the board could offer. They would amount to about $4,000 a year for the entire collegiate staff.

Under them the maximum for department heads would be raised from $5,000 to $5,500 and the maximum for assistant department heads from $4,800 to $5,300. Salary minimum would move from $2,500 to $2,800.

Mr. Robb said he was in sympathy with the board's financial difficulties, but considered the new raises as unrealistic.

He said he did not believe the city's taxpayers could not afford to pay average salaries ($4,673 for males and $4,397 for females) to their collegiate teachers. Brockville's averages are $3,900 and $3,600.

NEW HIGHLAND GAMES? — Not a new version of the Highland fling but a way of stopping girls competing in the 91st Highlanders' annual track meet at Hamilton. Regimental members lined up at the ends of the lanes in the 60-yard dash to prevent runners from crashing into a wall. Several of the stalwart soldiers were bowled over by the sprinters' speed.

RCAF Men Steal Car, Suspended Sentence

BELLEVILLE (CP)—Four young members of the RCAF at Trenton who stole a car and piled it up in a ditch, were given two years suspended sentence Monday after they pleaded guilty to car theft.

The four were given suspended sentence on payment of court costs and making restitution of $375 each. They are Christofer Christofferson, 21, Harold Kerr, 20, Robert A. Stevenson, 21, and Edward Gay, 20.

Prime Minister St. Laurent Sees More Houses Built

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent indicated Tuesday he feels more could be accomplished in the housing field through closer co-operation among federal, provincial and municipal governments.

He told a delegation from the Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor that he had spent Monday visiting housing projects in the Toronto area.

"I would like to see the projects matched on the outskirts of other of our large cities," said Mr. St. Laurent, speaking in French.

The projects were the result of understanding and co-operation at the federal, provincial and municipal level.

Goodwill, understanding and mutual trust are needed, said Mr. St. Laurent, to make legislative and administrative machinery produce with the greatest effect.

Possibly with reference to the fact that Quebec has remained outside several federal agreements, the prime minister said he does not believe there is any great difference among governments on the goals to be reached. The divergence of views was on how to get the best results.

Aids Newlyweds

STOCKHOLM (CP)—The Swedish social board reported that 17 per cent of all couples who marry in Sweden avail themselves of government home-making loans. Loans are granted up to a maximum of $400 and a total of 155,000 loans have been made since 1938.

Middlesex Council Posts $100 For Rustlers

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Grants to agricultural projects totalling several thousands of dollars—including $100 to help in tracking down cattle rustlers—were approved by Middlesex county council Tuesday.

The $100 allocated to the Middlesex Livestock Protective Association will go into a fund to finance rewards for "tips" leading to the cattle thieves who have been plundering district herds during the last year.

Each agricultural society in the county is to receive $200, plus $30 for each junior club it sponsors, up to a maximum of four clubs.

German Freed In RCAF Slaying

HANAU, Germany (CP)—Walter Schnautz, 35, a Wehrmacht lieutenant during the war, was acquitted Tuesday on charges of having killed a Canadian bomber pilot in January, 1945.

Schnautz had testified that the Canadian officer was shot and killed by another unidentified German after Schnautz had told him to flee.

The Canadian, whose name was not mentioned in the trial, had bailed out from a damaged plane in a raid on this industrial city.

Witnesses testified that before the end of the war Schnautz boasted of having killed a Canadian to avenge the death of a girl friend who had been killed in an earlier Allied raid.

The prosecution demanded a 27-month jail sentence for Schnautz but the court freed him on lack of convincing evidence.

Massey Follows Royal Example

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Governor-General Massey Tuesday followed the example set by Queen Elizabeth when she visited here in 1951 by declaring a holiday for school children.

Mr. Massey got a nod of approval from Mayor Arthur J. Reaume and school board chairman Dr. H. D. Taylor when, during a visit to W. D. Lowe Vocational School, he asked if a holiday could be arranged.

Before the party left the school it was announced that the holiday had been set for Friday.

The visit was part of a full day of activity for the Queen's representative which included a civic luncheon, a tour of two automobile factories and visits to various points of interest in the city.

The party drove to the centre of the Ambassador bridge where they were met by Mayor Albert Cobo of Detroit and a number of other officials of the U.S. city.

To Mediate Strike

STRATFORD (CP)—City council representatives were authorized Tuesday night to act as mediators in a strike at the Swift Canadian Company here. The industrial and publicity committee endorsed a motion by Alderman A. G. Skidmore authorizing Mayor Lawrence Feick to call a conference of strikers and management today. The strike was called last Friday when union and management failed to agree on a board of arbitration report.

Reserve Judgment

TORONTO (CP)—Judgment was reserved Tuesday by five justices of the appellate division of the Supreme Court of Ontario in the appeal by the National News Company of Ottawa against a magistrate's ruling that four books and seven magazines distributed by the firm were obscene. The National News Company was fined $1,100 on the 11 charges.

Throne Speech Debate Ends Frost To Bring Down Budget

TORONTO (CP)—The curtain comes down today on the three-week throne speech debate in the Ontario legislature, one day in advance of Premier Frost's budget address.

Only a few more speakers were scheduled today in the throne debate. Eight members, most of them from Toronto, will discuss the Toronto metropolitan bill.

In the last three weeks, members on both sides of the House have advanced dozens of proposals for the government's consideration. Among them were suggestions to ban the use of edible oils, raise municipal grants, increase provincial aid to welfare services, institute tougher traffic laws, and crack down on promoters selling cemetery lots for exorbitant prices.

The budget, to be delivered Thursday by the premier in his capacity as provincial treasurer, is expected to surpass the record $300,000,000 forecast last year.

It may include minor tax cuts and more aid to hospitals. Increased municipal grants have already been provided in a bill now awaiting approval by the legislature. A reduction in the gasoline tax, rumored for some time, is unlikely. Highways Minister Doucett said the trend is in the other direction.

Mines Minister Kelly said Tuesday road development is the key factor in exploitation of Northern Ontario resources. He said the north country is capable of supporting millions of people if there is speedy communication with other parts of the country.

G. T. Gordon (L—Brantford) said pollution in the Grand river is a threat to the health of 273,000 persons living along its course. He said disease might strike and reach "plague proportions."

Thomas Pryde (PC—Huron) said use of edible oils including margarine should be banned to protect the dairy industry.

He is one of a number of opposition members and government supporters who have indicated a desire for more restrictive legislation against edible oils.

"If I want a drink of milk I want it from a cow, not a cocoanut," he said.

Mr. Pryde also called for government action to end a racket in cemetery promotions. He said operators are buying farm properties at cheap rates and selling small cemetery lots for as much as $4 a square foot.

"It can easily be seen that the potential profit on 100 acres is $7,000,000," he said.

John Yaremko (PC — Toronto Bellwoods) was applauded when he criticized remarks made in the House by J. B. Salsberg (Lab-Prog—Toronto St. Andrew).

Mr. Yaremko said some note should be made in the House records that Mr. Salsberg isn't fooling anyone with Soviet propaganda.

William Murdoch (PC-Essex South) urged caution in awarding unconditional grants to municipalities as a deterrent to reckless spending.

"There is a tendency in making unrestricted grants to spend the money too freely," the Essex member said. "Municipal councils criticize school boards for spending too freely, and yet recently in Toronto the car expenses of one controller for a year were $10,177."

William L. Houck (L—Niagara Falls) recommended compulsory vehicle inspection to reduce accidents. He also urged lower speed limits and stricter enforcement on super-highways.

He said good highways reduce the number of accidents but increase the proportion of fatalities because of higher speeds.

Sea Cadets Home

TORONTO (CP)—Three Ontario sea cadets, Harold Bass of Barrie, Francis Maguire of Collingwood and George Bell of Midland, arrived here Tuesday night after a month-long cruise to Bermuda and the British West Indies in HMCS Quebec. While aboard the cruiser, the youths were given regular shop duties.

Aztec Ritual Dance Gives Glimpse Of Great Past

MEXICO CITY.—The music and native dances of Mexico are a key for the visitor to unlock one of the doors for the understanding of the people and the country. The fusion of Spanish and Indian blood has produced an artistic medium in its dances, with pagan touches. It is a great experience.

* * * *

At the Mexican Folklore Centre in the old Posada del Sol, every Friday night a group of amateurs and volunteers presents several dances from states in Mexico. The orchestra is part of the regular staff and is paid, but the others are volunteers, many of them teachers of folklore in the schools. They do it for the love of keeping these dances alive. The costumes are beautiful, many of them privately owned.

* * * *

Officials stress that these are the most authentic dances presented in the capital. It is not a tourist attraction, though some visitors are fortunate enough to attend. The small theatre which holds about 300 people is always filled with at least 65 percent Mexicans.

* * * *

Mariachis are very popular in this country. They are a group of seven troubadors, usually three violins, three guitars and a trumpet. They go around serenading at parties, on a girl's birthday or at fiestas. Originally the got their name from the French for playing at marriage ceremonies.. They sing together or use soloists to vary it, too.

* * * *

AZTEC RITUAL DANCES

The most dramatic thing presented at the school the night I was there were the Aztec ritual dances. These dances have been kept up in connection with the churches in villages across Mexico. One of the drums used was a pre-Cortez article when the Aztec nation was at its peak. The dance was divided into three parts: (1) to the Goddess of Flowers, (2) to the God of Creation and (3) to Quetzalcoatl, the Serpent God. The dancing required was very strenuous and the costumes with their brilliant plumes were lovely. It was a magnificent performance and took the audience by storm.

* * * *

One of the most popular dances was The Bamba from the State of Vera Cruz. The feature of this is where the boy and the girl tie a knot in the sash with their feet without losing step in the dance. The Deer Dance from Sonora, was a fine bit of interpretive dancing. The deer is afraid of the fire, but is fascinated by it and keeps coming until he is finally shot by the hunter. It is a weird but striking dance.

* * * *

The Mexican Hat Dance from the State of Puebla is well known. It is a declaration of love which ends with the boy letting the girl dance on his hat, his most precious possession. The Dance of the Bottle and the Machetes from the State of Jalesco is interesting, too. Here if the girl knocks over the bottle of tequila she must buy the boy another. If the boy knocks it over, he must drink it all. The second part where the men dance with knives without losing step is also striking. The Plume Dance from Oaxaca is very effective. The two men dance gracefully and have beautifully colored costumes. This dance is still very popular in that state today.

* * * *

Other items on the program included: exhibition of regional costumes from the State of Guerrero; dance of the Chiapanecas; exhibition of regional costumes and the Michoacan Dance from the same state and the Jarana from Yucatan. During one of the dances, girls with gardenias went among the audience, tossing the flowers at random.

IN SPRING YOUNG MEN'S FANCIES turn to thoughts of finals in sidewalk marble tournaments. "We have been playing nearly all winter," they said this sunny day. It is assumed, therefore, that the small King George School group shown above are all champions. They are (left to right) Garry Byers, Bonny Sanderson, Peter Jackman and David Darwin, all Grade One-ers. —(Examiner Staff Photo)

HISTORICAL MEETING

The meeting of the Peterborough Historical Society has been postponed from March 12 to March 20. The speaker will be Dr. J. J. Talman, librarian of the University of Western Ontario, London, who is one of the foremost historians in Canada.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

The Peterborough County Tuberculosis Association collected $9,843 in their 1952 Christmas seal campaign—$4,216 more than was collected in 1951. These figures were announced today by James Heffernan, association president.

COAL GAS FUMES

Escaping coal gas fumes from stove pipes are blamed for a weak spell taken Tuesday by Mrs. Lillian Dowson of 186 Antrim St. Firemen were called and gave the house a thorough airing. Mrs. Dowson is recovering at home. Her son John Dowson was ill on the way to work at the CGE early Tuesday, also from the effects of the coal gas.

PUBLIC'S INTEREST

Mayor Waddell remarked today that he has been pleasantly surprised by the number of citizens who have expressed their interest and gratification that he is to attend the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth, and also that Mrs. Waddell is to accompany him. "It is encouraging to know that so many citizens are happy about Peterborough being represented at the ceremony in Westminster Abbey, and that the city has been officially recognized in the invitations."

OPEN $60,000 SCHOOL

The $60,000 Coronation School, built on the Warsaw Road in Douro Township, will be officially opened at 8 o'clock tonight by the Hon. Harold R. Scott. It has four regular classrooms, two teachers' rooms, two washrooms, a playroom (that can be used as another classroom), and a furnace room. It is considered a model of economic planning; all so-called frills have been cut out. The public have been invited to the opening ceremony and to an inspection of the building later in the evening.

CORONATION RELIC

A relic from Peterborough's celebration of the Coronation of King George VI in 1937 is being used to carry out the Coronation theme in decoration for the fashion show at the Collegiate auditorium tonight and Thursday. It is a model of the Coronation chair which was carried on the CGE parade float. The chair and four lions used on the float were afterward presented to the Public Library. A few years ago librarian William Graff gave the chair to the Optimist Club and it has since been used in Tragalgar House for the Boys' Parliament. The lions were given to the Lions Club, which has since loaned two of them to Jeanette Scott Chapter, IODE, to go beside the chair on their stage.

BEGIN CONCILIATION

A conciliation board under the chairmanship of Eric G. Taylor of Toronto has its first meeting on Thursday in the Empress Hotel to try and settle the contract dispute between management and the union at the Western Clock Co. Local 570, IUE-CIO, are the bargaining agents for some 500 production workers at Westclox. Their chief demands are for a 14-cents-an-hour wage increase, reduction of the work week from 42½ to 40 hours with the same take-home pay, and a health and welfare plan to be paid for by the company. Patrick Tirrell is the union appointee to the three-man board; and E. M. Dillon, QC., is the company appointee.

Spring Cleanup

City police have started a spring clean-up on parking, especially on streets with no parking meters, bordering the downtown areas. Many a car owner who had been enjoying free all-day parking was called upon to make a $1 contribution Tuesday. In all 59 took advantage of the opportunity to pay immediately with no argument. One man tabbed said philosophically: "It's cheap parking for a year."

Truck, Car Hit Both Drivers Slightly Hurt

Both drivers received light injuries when a car and a half-ton pick-up truck were in collision at George and McDonnel Sts., shortly after 7:30 this morning.

Harold Hayes, 37, 463 Gerrard St. east, Toronto, received a deep gash on his left forehead and Victor Ellis, 34, RR 9, Peterborough, received cuts on the nose and upper lip. Four stitches were required to close a cut at the bottom of his nose.

Hayes' left forehead was lacerated and badly swollen and he was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital after first aid had been administered by the driver of a hydro truck, R. McArthur, 28 St. Paul St., Lindsay. It was at first feared that Hayes' eye had been injured but X-rays revealed that it was not.

VIEW OBSTRUCTED

Hayes said that he did not see the stop sign at the intersection because his view was obstructed by a truck, which had stopped for the sign, but which he thought was parked. He had entered the intersection when the collision with Ellis' pick-up truck occurred.

When Ellis saw that the car was not going to stop he applied his brakes and skidded into the car.

Damage to the front end of the truck was estimated at approximately $500 and to the car $400.

PC William Scott investigated.

Car Insurance Decreases For A Few

Clean Record Brings Cut; Collision Climbs

Drivers who have not had an insurance claim or pending in three years, have been classified in a new less expensive bracket and will pay less third-party public liability insurance, if they are insured with members of the Independent Automobile and Casualty Insurance Conference and the Canadian Underwriters Association.

Drivers who qualify for this new classification in the Peterborough district will pay $4 less than last year, it was announced Tuesday night.

Other drivers will pay from $2 to $11 more this year for third party liability. The most expensive rate is charged in another new classification; cars that are individually owned for business and non-business use whose owner or principal operator is under 25 in age.

COLLISION RATES UP

Collision rates are increased as well. Owners covered by $100 deductible collision policies pay an increase from $8 to $22 depending on their classification.

The reason for the increase, say the Independent Automobile and Casualty Insurance Conference, is "the increasing number of accidents and the continuing high cost of repairs."

The one reduction was made possible, said a spokesman, by re-classifying pleasure cars into five rating groups. This made it possible to distribute the cost of insurance more fairly among groups responsible for the most accidents.

$500,000 Fire Razes Moncton Warehouse

MONCTON, N. B. (CP)—A warehouse stacked with general merchandise was destroyed by fire today. First estimates said the loss would be more than $500,000.

The three-storey warehouse in the city's southeast industrial area was owned by the T. Eaton Co. Ltd.

Firemen were at the scene for 10 hours because of stubborn flames which continued even after the framework of the wooden structure collapsed.

Several persons had their clothing burned but none required medical attention. There was no immediate indication of the cause of the outbreak.

Reach Objective For Red Cross In 3-Hour Blitz

LAKEFIELD (ENS) — In a three-hour "blitz", carried out with military precision, canvassers from the Lakefield branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society on Tuesday night raised $1,323 for community work. This topped the objective of $1,200 by $123, and several canvassers have still to be heard from.

TOOK ONE MONTH

In other years the fund-raising campaign has gone on for the whole month of March. But this year, under the chairmanship of Albert G. Buchanan, a three-hour "blitz" of the householders in Lakefield and district was planned.

An intensive advertising campaign alerted Lakefield residents to the fact that the canvassers would be calling in that three-hour period. The 51 canvassers—each carrying a map of his area—were able to get straight to the point and avoid the usual time-wasting preliminaries of explaining what it was all about.

HIGHEST OBJECTIVE

Promptly at 7 p.m. the canvassers set out to collect the voluntary donations and when they returned to the Memorial Hall they were given refreshments served by Mrs. Russell Curry, social convener of the Lakefield branch, assisted by Miss Mae Hampton and a committee.

The objective of $1,200 for the Red Cross is the highest ever in the village. In 1952 the objective was $1,000 and $1,287.65 was actually subscribed.

Chairman Buchanan thanked the residents and the canvassers for the success of the money-raising venture. With him on the committee were Mrs. W. W. Leonard, the Rev. J. A. Steed, Stanley Burger, and Arthur Kingdon.

Council Orders Contractors Pile Material Off Sidewalks, Avoid Liability In Mishaps

Ross Greenley's placing of building material on the street side of the property at Caddy and Ludgate Streets where he has begun construction of two apartment houses became a side issue of the Cadverley sub-division question at the finance committee meeting on Monday night.

As City Solicitor, W. F. Huycke said: "I think a contractor should keep his building materials off the street."

From experience, City Engineer Chalmers said: "We'll have to do the same with some 30 or 40 other contractors."

It was lightly argued that the lumber and other stuff provided some protection around the excavation.

Mayor Waddell seconded Ald. Beggs' motion that the contractor keep his materials off the street, even if they are just over the line.

City Engineer Chalmers said that "we give certain permission to some people to occupy the street."

"It is being done all over," Ald. Rehill remarked in regard to the general practice.

"My reason," said Ald. Beggs, "is that we should protect ourselves, 'save the city harmless,' as Mr. Huycke says. Or, we could have them give a bond to protect the city from any liability, and it should be carried through with all construction work."

The Beggs proposal carried as a recommendation to the council.

Council To Buy Film On Shyness In Children

The Peterborough Film Council recommended the purchase of the film Shyness, following its screening at the council meeting Tuesday night at the Public Library.

This picture deals with shyness in children and was considered good material for Home and School Associations, young married couples' groups and any other groups working with children.

Somewhere in India a film dealing with medical assistance teams in India was the second of the four films shown at the meeting.

THAILAND

The third was a United Nations newsreel on Thailand and the fourth, a National Film Board film on the Canadian Trade Fair. The latter film was recommended for purchase for the Federation of Film Councils' film pool by the local council.

William Graff reported that there were 222 organization members belonging to the local council. Mr. Graff also introduced the film on India. He outlined the importance of work being done by the United Nations agencies.

Ronald Ward, National Film Board regional supervisor reported that there had been an aggregate attendance of 35,025 at the fastivals held recently in the area The festivals were held at Peterborough, Lindsay, Picton, Belleville, Port Hope and Oshawa.

HIRES A HALL—J. Farley Faulkner was forced out of Toronto's Massey Hall when he tried to question the Dean of Canterbury during a meeting held by the Canadian-Soviet Friendship Society. The meeting's chairman called after him, "If you want to make a speech, go hire yourself a hall." Mr. Faulkner has done just that and will speak in Massey Hall March 12 on some of the things he felt the pro-Soviet speakers left unsaid. Faulkner served overseas in the Second World War and did considerable lecturing to troops for the Army's Bureau of Current Affairs. He also delivered special morale lectures to reinforcement troops.

E. G. BAKER

Bell Manager Given Promotion

E. G. Baker, manager of the Bell Telephone Co. in Peterborough for the past three years has been promoted to the position of Right-Of-Way Company's Supervisor and will assume his new position within the next two weeks.

This is a new position which resulted from the reorganization within the Bell Co.

Mr. Baker was born and educated in Markdale, Ont. He was employed by the Bell as soon as he graduated from school and has been with this company ever since —27 years.

For the greater part of this period he was in Toronto, but he also spent five and one half years in Montreal.

ACTIVE ROTARIAN

While in Peterborough Mr. Baker was an active member of the Rotary Club. Recently he was named superintendent of the newly formed St. John Ambulance Corps and he is chairman of the Murray St. Baptist Church Group of the Boy Scout Association.

Mrs. Baker is president of the Senior Swim Club of the YWCA and takes an active part in the crippled children's swimming classes at the Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker have two children, Barry 13, and Brian, 9.

Spring On Way From South

Lorne Bateman brings assurance from the south that spring is on its way north with all its graces of green grass, flowers, birds, sunshine, fragrance and blue skies.

He came upon it by air in its complete identity at Memphis, Tennessee.

Its outriders will be along here any day. Crows have been reported in the last week. What if it will be some time in April before the main section of the carnival arrives up here, the advance men and the other heralds, not excluding Mr. Bateman, will make things interesting with promise and the gradations of reality.

The partner in Sands and Bateman took off on a business trip to New Orleans and Texas. Five days later he was back in Peterborough, after an interesting circuit.

"It was 85 in Memphis, wonderful spring weather. You wanted to stay in the south," Mr. Bateman said. "And you felt that you were making a sacrifice to business when you had to take to the air again, right on the minute of schedule. It is quite an experience going out to meet the spring, and finding it. We have always let it come to us, at least most of us have."

Community Fund Totls $14,258

Red Cross Community Fund headquarters reported today $14,258 collected in the $95,000 campaign now underway.

The division totals for the campaign to date with objectives are: Special Names $10,545 ($27,850); Industrial $246 ($41,800); Retail $1,187 ($19,250); Women's $1,585 ($5,500); Penny-A-Day $695 ($600).

Bowler Rolls Perfect 450

Harold Page, rolling last night for Neill's in the Mercantile League, bowled a perfect 450 score with 12 straight strikes. The fact earns him the $100 prize offered for a perfect score by Duffus' Bowling Alleys.

It has been won previously by W. G. Shiner in 1928, by Tom Curvin in 1936 and in 1948 by J. L. Legault of Belleville, taking part in a tournament.

Page's mounting score was kept pretty quiet by teammates in order that excitement would not unnerve him, but by the 11th frame interest was high throughout the place. Everyone was standing around breathlessly watching him when he came through on the 12th for the perfect count.

City Council Denies Request For Ski Meet

Approval and permit of the Ontario water ski championships at Little Lake on an August Sunday were withheld by the finance committee of the council Monday night in a motion by Ald. Gordon Farquharson.

"I don't think the people living around the lake would like to have that all-day noise on Sunday," said Ald. Harold Rehill. "I think we should ask them not to operate on Sunday."

"And that we believe it would cause an inconvenience to people," Ald. Farquharson suggested.

The motion acknowledges receipt of the letter, and recommends that some day other than Sunday be selected.

Car, Truck Collide At City Intersection

About $80 damage was done to the front of a car owned by Wilfred Elson, RR 1, Fraserville, when it was in collision with a half-ton pick-up truck owned by William Hartwick, RR 8, Peterborough, at Rubidge and Charlotte Sts., shortly after 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Driver of the car, Paul Elson, 24, skidded 14 feet when he applied his brakes but was unable to avoid an accident. Damage to the rear fender and tail-light of the truck, driven by Joseph Hartwick, 17, was estimated at about $30.

25 Million In 1 Small Bill

Somebody at the Churchill, of course, is doing a bit of spoofing, but it is not so easy to put the accusing finger on the right person. It is either John Mousmoulies, now in Greece visiting his old home, or Nick Douros, who is certain that Canadians are making a mistake by a drift from the classics in education, particularly the Greek language.

Mr. Mousmoulies sent one item of paper currency to a local friend. It was about the size of a U.S. dollar bill. Printed in large letters at the centre was the number "25". Anybody could guess that meant 25 drachmas.

"Pack up and come on to Corinth," Mr. John wrote. "You can buy yourself a couple of castles with all that money."

Mr. Douros explains that this was no mere 25 drachmas note. It was once, and briefly, supposed to be worth 25 million drachmas. That's what the words say in the writing of Plato and Homer on this greenback.

Those were the years of distress when more than one national currency was racing with deflation and gradually losing in spite of the accelerated output of the printing presses of the mints.

The drachma of that day was headed for the abyss, and even now, Mr. Douros says, the dollar will buy a lot of them. Possibly the millionaire in this jest is Mr. Mousmoulies, in a position to convert an ordinary sawbuck into heap of drachmas.

If nothing else, the 25 million drachmas bill will make a convenient book mark in current reading of The Wealth of Nations.

"APPRECIATION"

The Kinsmen Club of Peterborough wishes to acknowledge with thanks the support rendered its Variety Show last Sunday, March 8th, by the people of Peterborough. Especially, the Club wishes to extend its sincerest thanks to those who donated their services to produce the show and make it the success it was; namely,

—The many entertainers for such a fine, full programme;
—The musicians for their excellent music;
—The theatre management for supplying the theatre, and the theatre staff for their supervisory services;
—Radio Station CHEX and its staff, who brought us the radio audience;
—The taxi companies who aided in collecting donations.

G. T. FARQUHARSON, President,
Kinsmen Club of Peterborough.

Hotel Workers To Ask Boosts

WINNIPEG (CP)—A demand for higher wages and shorter hours may be made in a few months by 4,000 employees of Canada's railway hotels, it is learned.

Extent of the demands was being discussed Tuesday at a conference of the general adjustment committee representing the CNR and CPR hotel employees, who are affiliated with the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and other transport workers (CCL).

Representatives of the employees from the 15 railway hotels across the country are attending the conference. Top union officers here included: John Querido, Ottawa, general chairman; W. J. Smith, Toronto, secretary of the joint protective board of the brotherhood; and S. H. Eighteen, Montreal, vice-chairman of the board.

The collective agreements expire between June and August.

Child Killed By Truck

TORONTO (CP)—A golden-haired five-year-old boy Tuesday became Toronto's 12th traffic fatality of the year. William (Willy) Drummond happily rolled an automobile tire along the sidewalk of his east-central home, then darted into the street to retrieve his makeshift hoop and fell beneath the dual rear wheels of a passing truck. He was dead on arrival at hospital.

Family of 5 Homeless

CHATHAM (CP)—A family of five lost all their personal belongings in a fire which swept through their home Tuesday. Mrs. George Snelling returned from work to find Chatham firemen fighting the blaze which swept through most of her two-storey house. The blaze was discovered by 14-year-old Charles Bristol, Mrs. Snelling's youngest son.

CHIEF RANGER — Princess Margaret has accepted the appointment as chief ranger of the British Commonwealth's Girl Guide Association. She takes the salute at a march-past. Princess Margaret succeeds Queen Elizabeth who relinquished the post on accession to the throne.

Kingston Fire Damages Stores

KINGSTON (CP)—Fire swept through a two-storey building Tuesday, damaging two dry goods stores and holding up traffic for two hours.

Flames quickly spread through the Princess street building and sent up columns of smoke. There was no immediate estimate of damage, nor was the cause of the fire determined.

Two persons were forced from their apartments. C. S. Doyle, 70, an invalid, was rescued unhurt from his apartment next door, which was filled with smoke, and Mrs. D. Wagman, owner of one of the shops, escaped. Her apartment was destroyed.

The old building housed a dress shop and the Kingston Bargain Centre. The second storey was used as a storeroom for clothing.

Shot Self, Paralyzed

WOODSTOCK (CP)—Steve Boyko 21, will be paralyzed for life, doctors fear. Boyko has been lying in Woodstock General Hospital in critical condition since he shot himself here Sunday. Investigation has shown that his spinal cord was severed by the .32 slug that ripped through his right breast into the backbone, doctors said. The slug has not yet been removed.

Freight Cars Derailed

HOWELL, Mich. (AP)—Thirty-eight railroad cars of a Chesapeake and Ohio freight train left the track Tuesday on the south side of Howell, spilling cargo as some cars overturned. No one was reported injured. A broken wheel was believed to have caused the derailment.

Offers Part Exemption On Councillors' Pay

TORONTO (CP)—Municipal Affairs Minister Dunbar said Tuesday he will introduce legislation at this session of the Ontario legislature to give municipal councillors partial income tax exemptions on their council pay.

The exemptions would be one-third of the salary, with no exemption exceeding $2,000 in any one year. They will be retroactive to 1948, Mr. Dunbar said.

He added that the legislation will follow enabling legislation predicted by Finance Minister Abbott in his recent budget speech.

Union Head Fined

WHITBY (CP)—Robert MacDonald, president of the Chemical Workers Union at the Johns Manville plant at Port Union, Tuesday was fined $100 or 30 days in jail for illegal possession of liquor. MacDonald was charged after police raided the Rouge Hill Golf and Country Club Feb. 14 during a St. Valentine's Day dance. Police seized 69 cases of beer.

COTTON STATES

Two states of the Union of South Africa, Natal and the Transvaal, have land suitable for growing cotton.

Two Theorize On Driver's Death

KITCHENER (CP) — Several theories were suggested during a Supreme Court hearing Tuesday on how Sylvester Gingrich, Elmira school bus driver, died Jan. 22, 1952.

The hearing is the result of a damage action in which Mrs. Dorothy Gingrich is suing for $40,000. Defendants are R. A. Nelles Lishman and F. Ross Lishman, operators of Lishman Coach Lines, and John Lishman, driver of the Lishman coach involved in a crash with the school bus. They have entered a counter-claim for $4,000.

Mr. Justice W. F. Spence reserved judgment and indicated he will visit the scene of the mishap. His decision will be given the week of March 23.

H. A. Young, counsel for the Lishmans, said his theory is that Gingrich had been trying to put chains on his bus when he was struck by an unknown vehicle. Then, he contended, the operator of the vehicle drove the Gingrich bus out into the road in the hope that another vehicle would smash into it and cover up evidence of the real accident.

George Lochead, counsel for Mrs. Gingrich, said Gingrich died when the two vehicles crashed and he charged that John Lishman was negligent.

Limit Visitors

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Officials of Hotel Dieu hospital said Tuesday that visiting privileges will be granted only to relatives of patients for the next two weeks because of the increased number of cases of influenza reported in the city. A spokesman said a number of nurses and student nurses have been off duty because of illness.

$500,000 Fire

SPRINGFIELD, O., (AP) — A $500,000 fire roared through the five-storey New Zimmerman Building in downtown Springfield Tuesday, raging uncontrolled for five hours while thousands watched. Flames spread to the basement of an adjoining building and the largest hotel, the Shawnee, across the street received smoke and water damage.

Crerar Fined $100

HULL, Que. (CP) — Pleading guilty to driving while impaired, Gen. H. D. G. Crerar was fined $100 and costs in Hull court Tuesday by Judge Jacques Boucher. A car he was driving knocked over a fire hydrant in Hull Monday

KOREAN WATER HOLE — Water may be easy to get in most parts of the world, but this Seoul, Korea, boy had to chop a hole in the thick ice of the Han River to get his. There is still a critical water supply problem in this war-torn city, and the bitter winter cold is hampering efforts to solve it.

Widow Wins Damages

TORONTO (CP)—A 21-year-old widow, mother of two young children, was awarded $45,000 Tuesday by a jury under Mr. Justice Wilfred Judson in her civil action damage suit against Arthur Deer, a truck driver, and the Devon Coal and Cartage Company because of the death of her husband in an accident. Norman Bossie, 23, was killed at an intersection last Oct. 4 when the motorcycle he was riding was struck by a truck driven by Deer.

Diesels Replace RR Steam, By '68

By FORBES RHUDE • Canadian Press Business Editor

Items from the mail:

William G. Miller, executive vice-president, Montreal Locomotive Works, Ltd., says that Canadian railways will be fully dieselized by 1971 if they wait until present steam locomotives wear out in normal usage, and by 1968 if they follow the trend in the United States but in Mr. Miller's opinion:

The great economy of the diesel-electric locomotive over steam will accelerate the rate of replacement by diesels even faster."

Mr. Miller gave his views in a Railway Club, Montreal.

Nine research projects are under way in as many Canadian universities under fellowships offered to graduates in science, engineering and agriculture by Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada, Ltd., each fellowship is worth $1,000, plus $200 for equipment. Seventy-two awards have been made since 1944-45.

The sixth session of the management training course of the school of business administration at the University of Western Ontario will be held July 29-Sept. 2.

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

By G. E. GROOMBRIDGE

BANQUET AT MARK STREET

Mark Street Group celebrated their annual get-together banquet in the church basement Friday. One of the outstanding features of the table decorations was a camp scene in the centre of every table. 125 men and boys sat down to the festive board. Mr. H. Allen, chairman of the group committee kept things running in good style. Seated at the head table was Akela Charlie Munro and his son Don, Rev. B. S. Morwood, group chaplain, District Commissioner Dr. G. R. Langley, chairman Mr. H. Allen and his son Arnold, Mr. Eric Edmondson, local association representative and his son and Scouter W. Borland. Mr. Norm Hewitt conducted the singing. In giving his report on the Pack activities Akela Munro presented the following service stars. 5 year stars to A. Allen, B. Ferguson; 4 year, E. Jaquith; 3 year, B. Cullen, K. Pomeroy, D. Munro, F. DeNoble; 2 year J DeNoble, R. Humphries, D. Innes, B. Moore, B. Orr, J. Reid, W. Atcheson, Lee Brown; 1 year R. Brady, P. Barardi, K. Bucknell, W. Casselman, H. Denessen, P. DeNoble, T. Mahoney, D. Payne, B. Searles, P. Tobey.

Mr. Morwood drew attention to the Promise made finishing with a short poem which ended "I don't want to stand in the setting sun and hate myself for the things I've done" Mr. Edmondson called upon the fathers to assist the leaders in every way they could. District Commissioner G. R. Langley, guest speaker, outlined the start of Scouting and dwelt on the life of its founder Lord Baden Powell of Gilwell.

The old group committee under Mr Allen will carry on for another year. Mrs. Norm Hewitt, president of Mark St. Mothers' Auxiliary, assisted by Mrs. Cullen in charge of kitchen, Mrs. Ed. Reid and Mrs. Allen in charge of decorations accepted the vote of thanks for all the ladies.

Friends, Family Honor Couple

MILLBROOK — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith were surprised Thursday evening, when their home was invaded by their friends and family to join with them in celebrating their 40th wedding anniversary.

Robert Smith and Jane Wragg were married at the home of the bride's parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Amos Wragg, Cavan township, March 5, 1913, by the Rev. Butler, minister of Cavan United Church at that time.

Following their wedding they took up farming on a farm on the seventh concession of Cavan, now owned by Mr. and Mrs. James Nelson.

From there they moved to Millbrook and after three years in Millbrook moved to Bailieboro when they purchased the farm formerly owned by the late William Batson.

In May 1952 they returned to Millbrook retiring from the farm now occupied by their son Wilbert and family.

They also have one daughter, Mrs. Russell Carveth, Peterborough, five grandchildren, Ronald, Brenda, Dennis and Janice Smith, Bailieboro and Theodore Carveth, Peterborough.

The evening was spent playing progressive euchre. Prizes were won by Norman Jewison, George Dean, Mrs. George Dean and Norman Coatt.

Russell Carveth presented to Mr. and Mrs. Smith a tri-light lamp and book-ends on behalf of the family and friends while daffodils and a gold tie slide was presented by the grandchildren.

Lunch was served, bringing the pleasant evening to a close.

Friends were present from Plainville, Peterborough, Bailieboro and Millbrook.

Refused Bet Credit, Charged With Slaying

NEW YORK (AP)—An inveterate numbers player was accused of slaying a small-time gamblers' agent who had refused him credit on bets. The agent's headless body was found neatly-wrapped on a sidewalk.

Arthur Mitchell, a negro building Superintendent, was booked on a charge of homicide.

Assistant district attorney Vincent Dermody said Mitchell confessed to killing Milton Hirsch, 66, with whom he had been betting on numbers for eight years.

Makes Overtime Voluntary Matter

TORONTO (CP)—A new agreement between the United Auto Workers (CIO-CCL) and Massey-Harris covering 6,500 employees in Toronto, Brantford and Woodstock includes a clause making overtime a voluntary matter.

An arbitration board ruled recently that employers have the right to demand compulsory overtime.

The agreement, retroactive to Jan. 19, provides for wage increases of seven cents an hour for day workers, three cents an hour for piece workers and additional increases of from three to 13 cents an hour for skilled trades workers.

The sweepers' rate now is $1.39 an hour and for die makers $1.97 an hour.

The clause relating to overtime states that "all overtime is voluntary and no employee will be penalized for refusing to work overtime."

Mrs. M. E. Wolff

The funeral was held Saturday for Mrs. Mary Ellen Wolff, 452 Donegal Street, who died Thursday at her home, from the Anglesey funeral home to Peter's Cathedral for requiem mass at 10 a.m.

Mass was celebrated by the Rev. G. A. Wolff with the Rev. S. J. Caffey as deacon and the Rev. R. Garvey as sub-deacon. Final absolution was given by Bishop Gerald Berry, assisted by the Rev. J. J. Coughlan and the Rev. G. Sullivan.

Many priests were present, including the Revs. J. V. Ryan, of Brett, Ont., S. J. Coffey, Trout Creek, H Archambault, Gravenhurst, J. Hickey, Huntsville, V. Perdue, Bracebridge, F. Fitzpatrick, Lindsay, V. G. McFadden, Downeyville, J.J. McCarthy, Douro, C. Kay, Downeyville, P. J. Lynch, Ennismore, J. Walsh, Kinmount, T. J. Coughlan, Kinmount, C. J. Carroll, Norwood, H. Women's Guild Show Baking Sale Profits

MILLBROOK (ENS)—The Women's Guild of St. Thomas' Anglican Church held its March meeting at the home of Mrs. T. A. Campbell, with a good attendance.

Mrs. Percy Hamilton, president, led in the opening prayers. Mrs. Campbell reported a profit of $41.45 from the home-baking and candy sale held in the waiting-room in February, and that there was a satisfactory bank balance.

It was decided that talent money should be paid for the lenten season. Tickets were distributed to members to sell for the film, "The Royal Journey," to be shown in the town hall on March 19, under the joint auspices of the Guild and the United Church CGIT.

Miss Anna Fair reported three sick calls.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Charles Brackenridge and Mrs. J. W. Wright. The April meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Hamilton.

Three Coronation Vets Ministers, One Blind

OTTAWA (CP)—Three of the four veterans who will officially represent Canada at the Coronation in June are clergymen.

They are Dr. C. B. Lumsden of Wolfville, N.S., a Baptist, and Very Rev. Dean J. O. Anderson of Winnipeg, an Anglican, the two top men in the Canadian Legion, and Rev. Col. Sidney Lambert of Toronto, an Anglican, representing the National Council of Veterans Associations.

The other representative of the council is Fred Woodcock, Toronto, a blinded veteran.

The information was given in the Commons Tuesday by Veterans Minister Lapointe in reply to Tom Goode (L—Burnaby-Richmond).

GM Makes Profit Of $559 Million

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors Corp., world's largest industrial firm, sold more than $7,500,000,000 of its products in 1952, a record.

It paid total taxes of more than $1,000,000,000.

It made nearly $559,000,000 in profits.

These figures were disclosed Tuesay in the annual report to 488,000 stockholders by Alfred P. Sloan, chairman, and Harlow H. Curtice, the new president who succeeded Charles E. Wilson when he became defence secretary in the Eisenhower cabinet.

The net sales of $7,549,154,419 compared with $7,531,086,846 in the previous record year of 1950.

The 1952 net income of $558,721,175 was equivalent to $6.25 a common share after payment of $12,928,313 in preferred dividends. This was the third highest in the company's history.

Sales from production of GM plants in Canada totalled 199,763 cars and trucks.

Net Gain

CAPETOWN (CP)—The Union of South Africa gained 9,542 persons from outside its borders in 1952. Reports show immigrants totalled 18,317, and emigrants decreased nearly 6,000 to 8,775. Tourists increased slightly to 103,000.

Urges Provinces Name Senators

OTTAWA (CP) — Dr. Arthur Beauchesne, authority on parliamentary procedure and clerk of the Commons between 1925 and 1949, suggested Tuesday that half the members of the Senate be appointed by provincial legislatures.

Dr. Beauchesne suggested in an address to a service club here that the present practice of the federal government appointing all members of the 102-seat Senate does not fulfil the intention of the fathers of Confederation.

"The fathers of Confederation had in mind an upper house which would protect the minorities," Dr. Beauchesne said. "With the government appointing all the senators this is not done.

"If half the senators were appointed by the provincial legislatures, it would provide for a more equal representation. Senators would not just be Liberals and Conservatives as they now are."

Dr. Beauchesne also suggested that future appointments to the Senate, in which there now are a record 21 vacancies, should be for 10 years instead of for life.

At the First Sign of a COLD

Take 2 Aspirin Tablets with a full glass of water...

and feel better FAST!

Here's sound and effective advice about colds.

No matter how you try to stop or shorten a cold, the first thing to do—before you do anything else—is to take Aspirin.

You should do this because a cold is almost invariably accompanied by muscular aches and pains—and a headachy, feverish feeling. And for your own good, you need a medication that will relieve these distressing symptoms—relieve them quickly.

One reason Aspirin tablets bring this relief is that they're ready to go to work with amazing speed . . . actually start disintegrating almost instantly.

So don't experiment with a cold. Use Aspirin. And for sore throats due to colds, gargle 3 times daily with 3 Aspirin tablets dissolved in 1/3 of a glass of water.

To Relieve Aches and Pains of Colds, Take

Thought Rather A Show-Off First Time Philip Met Princess Elizabeth

The marriage of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh was one of the great events of the post-war years. How the unsophisticated princess, now Queen, met and fell in love with the worldly sailor Prince is told in this story, one of a series.

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Historians more interested in romance than reality may one day record that the alliance of Elizabeth of England and Philip of Greece owed something to a plate of shrimps and a banana split.

That is stretching it a bit. But it is nevertheless recorded that the first time they met Elizabeth's strongest impression was of a blonde young naval cadet's ability to stow away those delicacies.

It happened in 1939 at Dartmouth Royal Naval College. Elizabeth, then 13, and Philip, 18, met in the captain's home, near the college. They played croquet on the captain's lawn, and Elizabeth watched Philip jump over the nets on the tennis court.

ROYAL STARES

At lunch, Elizabeth and sister Margaret stared in admiration as Philip sailed into the shrimps and the banana split. Marion Crawford, governess to the Royal Princesses, thought the blonde stranger rather a show-off.

Actually, Elizabeth and Philip perhaps met two years earlier, at the coronation of the late George VI Neither recalls the occasion. Then came Dartmouth, and the encounter that was to change the course of history.

From that first remembered meeting, the romance of the shy English girl and the impetuous Prince with the clean-cut Viking look gradually bloomed. They exchanged letters infrequently, it appears, but the discerning noticed that Philip spent some wartime leaves with the Royal Family at Windsor Castle. On one occasion he was a guest as Elizabeth played in a home-produced pantomime.

Once Philip turned up in a typical navy beard. Elizabeth didn't like it and the beard came off.

SECRET CAME OUT

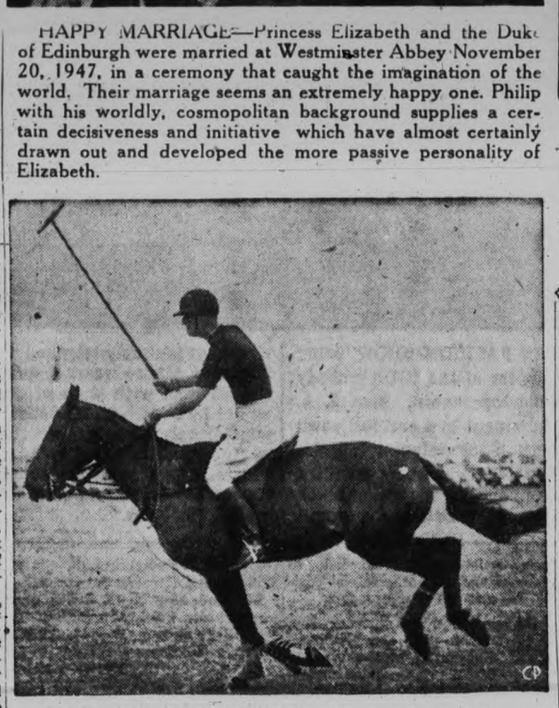
Home from the war, Philip became a personality of importance for British newspapers. His photograph, it was reported, was on Elizabeth's dressing table His jaunty red sports roadster parked outside Buckingham Palace The quiet, unspoiled Elizabeth, who had left the initiative in social activities to her mother, took greater pains over her appearance Her favorite song was "People will Say We're in Love," from "Oklahoma!"

For the Princess it was a happy but trying time. Her secret was out. Kindly crowds chanted: "Where's Philip?" There were reports that not all the royal advisers considered Philip a suitable young man for the heir to the throne. The palace issued a statement denying reports the couple were engaged.

Finally, the official announcement came in July, 1947. Elizabeth and Philip were married at Westminster Abbey the next Nov. 20, in a ceremony that caught the imagination of the world. A year later, Nov. 14, 1948, their first child, Prince Charles, was born His sister, Princess Anne, was born Aug. 15, 1950. Charles, blonde blue-eyed like his father, is in line to become fifth sovereign of the House of Windsor, the dynasty George V founded in 1917 when he abandoned the German house name of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha.

NOTABLE RECORD

Charles' ultimate succession will mark the passing of the Crown in uninterrupted family descent through six generations, for the first time since the days of the Plantagenets.



The marriage of Elizabeth and Philip seems an extremely happy one. Philip with his worldly, cosmopolitan background supplies a certain decisiveness and initiative which have almost certainly drawn out and developed the more passive personality of Elizabeth.

By nature and training, Elizabeth was more withdrawn and less confident, inclined to be reserved where Philip was bubbling over with life and participating gaily in his environment. The Princess spent the war at Windsor Castle where a dance was an event. Philip, brought up free from royalty's restrictions in Paris, Baden, Germany and Gordonstoun, Scotland, was a naval officer. Philip went out to meet the world more than half way; Elizabeth stayed in the background.

The British people are proud of their young Queen and her consort. Some observers consider that the personal popularity of the monarchy is higher than it has ever been, even when the people turned to Charles II in revulsion from the severities of the Roundheads.

HAPPY MARRIAGE—Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh were married at Westminster Abbey November 20, 1947, in a ceremony that caught the imagination of the world. Their marriage seems an extremely happy one. Philip with his worldly, cosmopolitan background supplies a certain decisiveness and initiative which have almost certainly drawn out and developed the more passive personality of Elizabeth.

WORLDLY SAILOR PRINCE—The marriage of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh was one of the great events of the post-war years. The British people are proud of their young Queen and her consort. Some observers consider the personal popularity of the monarchy is higher than it has ever been. Some of this esteem is due to Philip's ability to participate in his environment. He is shown playing polo for the Royal Navy in a match which the navy won.

AS LIENTENANT-COMMANDER—The Duke of Edinburgh, shown in the uniform of a lieutenant-commander of the Royal Navy, made a strong first impression on Princess Elizabeth by stowing away a plate of shrimps and a banana split. It happened in 1939 at Dartmouth Royal Naval College. Elizabeth, then 13, and Philip, an 18-year-old cadet, met in the captain's home near the college. The romance bloomed sometime later.

Miner 16, Leads Investiture Line

LONDON (AP)—A timid, slight lad of 16 led a glittering line of admirals, generals and air force officers who passed before the Queen Tuesday at an investiture in Buckingham Palace.

Jack Bamford, an apprentice miner from Giltbrook, received from the Queen's hand the George Cross—Britain's highest civilian decoration for bravery.

He was honored for rescuing his two brothers, Brian, 6, and Roy, 4, from their blazing home last October.

Overcoming the nervousness that seized him Monday upon his arrival in London, this shy boy was equal to the occasion in the palace. He shook hands with the Queen and when she asked him if he was recovered now, he replied: "I am all right, Your Majesty."

He also told the Queen he planned to return to his job in the mines after skin grafting operations. Burns suffered in the rescue have not fully healed yet.

He is the youngest person ever to win the award.

Church Service Held For Education Week

MILLBROOK— (ENS) — The special church service marking education week, was held in St. Andrew's United Church, Sunday morning. Members of the Home and School Association attended in a body, and there was a good turn-out.

The Rev. A. M. Butler took as the subject for his address, "The Supreme Aim of Education." In a world that fear and suspicion, no message has more meaning than the one found in scriptures, "Seek Ye First the Kingdom of God and all other things shall be added unto you."

Education's supreme aim, he said, was human relations, with God the centre of all loyalties. Better education for tomorrow was not complete without moral guidance. That was why a church service was included in the program of education week.

Percy Hamilton, public school principal, read the first scripture lesson, and John Rowe representing the high school students, the second. Mrs. G. A. Spicer and Mrs. Lawrence Winston sang a duet, "Forever With the Lord"—Gounod .The anthem by the choir was "Praise Ye The Father." Miss Estella Hetherington was at the organ.

Caleb W. Coon

Scout Mothers Of All Saints Sponsor Meeting

Fifth All Saints' Scout and Cub Mothers' Auxiliary had a very largely attended meeting Tuesday evening at the parish hall with group committee members, leaders and fathers also present. In addition there were four new members welcomed to the Auxiliary, Mrs. C. Butcher, Mrs. K. Dorrington, Mrs. J. Revill and Mrs. Rogers.

President Mrs. W. Beard presided for the business, announcing that arrangements have been made to cater for the men's club breakfast on the 29th, weddings in April and May and a father and son banquet April 16th. She also reported on the meeting of the Association of Auxiliaries and announced a joint meeting of all auxiliaries for June and a regional conference at the Normal School on March 21st.

Scouter Fred Jay gave a complete announcement of the formation of a senior patrol which it is hoped to form soon. The meeting was then open for discussion and several expressed themselves in favor of the formation of a senior patrol.

Scouter John Barnes who is soon to take over the scout troop was introduced. Akela Harry Wooden spoke about the cub pack and announced it is now up to 36 cubs.

Rover scout leader Arthur Rose also spoke and he announced that the rover crew is saving margarine tokens as a mony-making project in connection with the world-wide moot in Switzerland this summer. They would be glad to receive any tokens available and a call to 20665 would assure their being picked up, he said.

The Rev. M. P. Poole spoke to this meeting on the topic "Building boys, or, mending men." Mrs. M. Wilson expressed the audience' thanks to him.

Lunch was served by Mrs. G. Williams, Mrs. R. Fulford, Mrs. W. Beard, Mrs. L. Livingstone and Mrs. Taylor.

Home and School Association News

RIFLE RANGE SCHOOL

Rifle Range Home and School Association met Monday evening in the new Coronation School, with President Mrs. W. Amos presiding. Devotional period, taken by Mrs. K. Mann, followed the Lenten theme.

Members were invited to attend the parent education meeting of the Home and School Council, to be held March 18. A nomination committee was elected with Mrs. M. Northey as convener, assisted by Mrs. J. Quinn and Mrs. W. Muir.

Mrs. W. Amos, Mrs. E. Davis and Mrs. N. Andrew were delegated to attend the annual Home and School conference to be held in Toronto.

Mr. McLeod's senior room won the attendance prize by a slim margin.

It was decided to hold a paper drive the end of April, and members were reminded of the euchre party to be held in Coronation School Saturday evening.

This was visual aid night, so two films, educational, "Nova Scotia," and the Leslie Bell Singers in "It's Fun to Sing," were shown by Mr. M. Northey.

Questionnaires relevant to the type of programs desired were distributed.

A social half hour was much enjoyed, with refreshments being served by Mrs. L. Welch, hospitality convener, and her committee.

QUEEN ELIZABETH SCHOOL

Queen Elizabeth Home and School Association met Monday evening in the school. Minutes were read by Mrs. E. Hughey. Mrs. R. Kingdon gave the treasurer's report.

It was decided to hold a rag collection the end of April. A progressive euchre is being held at the school this Friday evening.

Mrs. Dawe's room won the attendance prize.

Miss H. McGeary of the VON was guest speaker. She said in Biblical times lepers were kept isolated to prevent the spreading of leprosy. The Spartons abandoned the weak and only the strong were allowed to survive. Later there was much superstition and witchcraft Science was unknown as it is to-day. When the microscope was invented it was a very valuable aid to the discovery of germs. Hospitals were cleaned up and there was less infection.

There is not as much quarantine now said Miss McGeary. It has been found that cleanliness alone is not the only answer to health. Some people build up immunity against certain diseases. The mentally ill use more beds in hospitals than other illnesses.

Miss McGeary said a child should be "led" and not to expect the impossible of it. Social behaviour must be taught. A child wants to achieve. Fun is needed in the home.

The VON was started in 1897 and now has 513 branches. It has been in Peterborough for 12 years. The older age group is increasing all the time and requires more nursing care, she said.

Miss McGeary was thanked by Mrs. L. Edwards.

Mr. J. Loveday showed two films, "Stanley Takes a Visit" and "England."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. H. Race, Mrs. N. Hicks and Mrs. N. Mahood.

LAKEFIELD SCHOOL

LAKEFIELD (ENS)—A member of Lakefield school boards for 43 years and an elected chairman for 25 years, James W. Ridpath, spoke to a capacity audience on Monday evning, when the Home and School Association held their March meeting in the school.

Mr. Ridpath stated that so far as he has been able to ascertain, there were no records available regarding Lakefield schools before 1875, although there had been three schools built up to then. The first one was on the site now occupied by the Lakefield Baptist Church, the second, just east from the Lakefield Hotel and finally the present school.

The first school had only one room; the second was a two-roomed frame building and when the present school was built it had four rooms. Only three of them were occupied as the population of the village then was between 400 and 500 persons. There is no available record of either contractor or of the cost of the building. Mr. Ridpaht said, that as far as he knew, there were only three men still living who had attended the school, William Baptie and George Baptie, who now reside in Western Canada, and himself.

The land for the present school was donated to the village by the Strickland family, and the large and beautiful trees on the grounds were planted by the members of the school board in 1877.

ADDITION IN 1908

A four-room addition was added to the school in 1908 at a cost of $8,000. The late Able Hendren was the contractor.

In those days a principal was called a headmaster, and the speaker recalled that the first headmaster was Andrew Shearer, who received a salary of $500 a year, which was paid in two instalments. The salary schedule for a headmaster, then varied from $500 until in 1910 it had reached the magnificent sum of $950. In those days a board would receive as high as 75 or 80 applications for a position vacant.

Mr. Ridpath, in recalling incidents regarding former teachers, paid tribute to the late Miss Duff, who taught in Lakefield public school for 54 years. She started in the lower grades at a salary of $200 a year, and finally became principal. During her term as principal pupils from her class had won county prizes for entrance examination results seven different times.

At the time of his retirement as an active school trustee, Mr. Ridpath received a letter from the minister of education, stating that his achievment of being a board chairman for 25 years was a record for Ontario and offering congratulations.

Dr. R. H. Campbell, chairman of the present public school board also addressed the meeting and presented a comprehensive report on the costs of maintaining the school and some of the improvements the board hoped to carry out such as replacing floors which are in poor condition, the installation of a new bell system, a guard rail to protect pupils from falling ice from the roofs and other items. Dr. Campbell suggested that the members of the Home and School should give consideration to the improvements of the class rooms and pass on their suggestions to the board.

Quirt McKinney of the Normal School staff was also present and spoke on visual aids. He showed an interesting film on Switzerland on a 16mm projector and then a similar film on the new film strip projector, which Mr. McKinney feels would be a great help to teachers and are not nearly as costly. He also led in a sing-song.

The president, Mrs. Stanley Burger, presided for the business period and Clare Sisson was in charge of the program and introduced Mr. McKinney. The Rev. L. J. Delaney led in prayer. The speakers were thanked by Mr. Borland of the public school staff. The grade mothers of Miss B. Beavis' room served tea.

THESE CHOICES FROM THE FASHION SHOW being staged by the Jeanette Scott Chapter of the IODE embody the fashion highlights of the coming season. Mrs. J. A. McNeill at left front presents allurement in a cocktail gown of real silk striped organza with black velvet tying the shoulder puff sleeves. Miss Wilma Watson wears an ultra smart ensemble for afternoon tea in a tulip-line suit of black barathea which has puff sleeves of taffeta. Her small straw hat is simply trimmed with white feather at an angle. Mrs. J. S. Munro wears a spring topcoat in citron and grey striped wool with slubs of dusty pink which are matched by her hat. Mrs. K. M. Robertson, at right front, shows the popular ball fringe trim on the stole which matches a dress of fine checked paper taffeta. Miss Pat Collins, seated at centre, is typical of the summer sports enthusiasts of the Kawarthas in shorts and bold striped cotton shirt and mating "hot top." —(Parks Studio Photo)

Work of CAS Outlined To Institute

BETHANY (ENS) — Miss Mary Tuft of Port Hope, representative of the Children's Aid Society, was guest speaker at the Bethany Women's Institute at the home of Mrs. Walter Rowland.

Miss Tuft, a egistered nurse, told of the problems of trying to keep families together, and when this is not possible, providing foster homes for children.

"It is no longer thought wise to keep a child in an institution for any length of time; he or she thrives far better when surrounded by love in individual families," she said.

"Many babies are adopted and become legally the responsibility of their new parents. Other children, who for various reasons are not adoptable, are placed in private homes, and the CAS pays for their board and clothing. Supervisors are sent out to inspect these homes, making sure that the children are properly cared for."

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Reg. Edmunds and thanked by Mrs. Mansell Finney, who arranged the program, which featured community activities and public relations.

Mrs. T. Jennings sang, "Where the River Shannon Flows," with her own guitar accompaniment, and led group singing of Irish songs. Mrs. Finney told the legend of St. Patrick, patron saint of Ireland. Mrs. Clarence Page and Mrs. Preston Neals sang "Whispering Hope." A contest of "Know your materials" was won by Mrs. R. W. Price.

There were 23 members and three visitors present. The roll call was answered by "Something the Institute has Accomplished." Mrs. T. Kennedy of Dunrobin, who is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. G. M. Longfield, told of the work in her home branch of the WI and displayed the printed programs used in that branch. Mrs. T. S. Gault spoke briefly of Institute work in her home village in England.

The treasurer, Mrs. Charles Reynolds, reported a bank balance of $235.50. A cheque for $25 was donated to the Flood Relief Fund. Mrs. C. Page reported the junior girls' club work. "They are engaged in making a dress from cotton material and are making good progress." It was announced that an operetta "The Belle of Barcelona" will be produced by the choir of Millbrook United Church and will be presented in Bethany early in April, proceeds going for further Institute community projects.

An extension short course, "Brighten your home with color," will be held in the Orange Hall on the afternoon of March 24. Miss Jeanne Armour, home economist from Toronto will be in charge and will give ideas on interior decorating. The public are invited to attend.

Ian Page, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Page, was presented with the customary gift of this branch to all member's new babies —a bank book with an initial deposit of $1.

At the close of the meeting lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. M. Finney, Mrs. Ina Palmer and Mrs. Clarence Page, with Mrs. Orloe Wright extending the thanks of the ladies to Mrs. Rowland for the use of her home and to the committee in charge.

Institute Hears Lifesaving Drugs

LAKEFIELD — (ENS) — Dr. L. O. Bailey addressed the March meeting of the Womens' Institute held at the home of Mrs. Russell Bullock, and spoke on the subject of modern antibiotics.

Introduced by Mrs. Clarence Foster, Dr. Bailey explained the uses of many of the lifesaving drugs available today such as penicillin, streptomycin, aureomycin, chloromycetin and others, to an interested audience. He was thanked by Mrs. Theo. Nichols.

As this was the annual "Health Meeting" the roll call was answered by 26 members and two visitors with "What I do in a case of emergency." Mrs. Foster contributed a reading "Are you a member."

The president, Mrs. Howard presided for the business and it was decided to have the secretary, Mrs. F. Kemp, be responsible for the membership in the St. John's Ambulance Corps. Mrs. Bullock also announced a committee meeting at which reports will be prepared for district secretary at her home on March 19 at 7.30 p.m.

Plans were made for a visit to the Old People's home on March 12. The committee in charge of arrangmements is Mrs. J. Sanderson and Mrs. G. Dunford.

The institute will work in cooperation with the Peterborough uniit of the Canadian Cancer Socety with Mrs. Douglas Davis as chairman, Mrs. George Graham as treasurer and the health convener of the institute, who will be appointed at the April meeting.

The cooking school, being jointly sponsored by the IODE and the institute, will be held in Memorial Hall, March 25 and 26 and Mrs. Foster ,Mrs. J. McKerchar and Mrs F. Kemp were a committee in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Russell McIlmoyle, Mrs. Russell Bullock and Mrs. Charles Stenner were appointed a committee in charge of the adult hobby table at the Home and School fair.

Assisting hostess in serving tea were Mrs. S. C. Chatten, Mrs. A. Hunter and Mrs. R. McIlmoyle.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Elegant Guest Dinner For Four

Ingenuity and patience are the secret of this successful and elegant little guest dinner for four. It cost just about $5.00.

I had on hand most of the salad stuff but the avocado, the canned corn and tomatoes and the grapes. I borrowed the four slices of white bread from my neighbor Eleanor because we never have the white bread on hand. But read the menu and then all of this preamble will be clarified.

Chicken Maryland Milk Gravy
Corn Popovers Special Tomato Casserole
Individual Salads French Dressing
Fruit Cup of peeled grapes, Mandarin oranges, Maraschino cherries
Coffee Blue Cheese Wafer Crackers

CHICKEN MARYLAND

Five chicken legs with thighs attached cost $1.72, and that was my major outlay.

In a large paper bag shake together ½ cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ½ teaspoon celery and 1 teaspoon paprika. Wash and dry the chicken legs and shake them in this flour mixture in the bag. Heat ¼ cup bacon drippings and 2 tablespoons butter until quite hot, then fry the floured chicken in it until bright gold on all sides—this takes about 12 to 15 minutes. Carefully add 3 tablespoons hot water Cover and put in oven of 275 deg. Fahr. for 1 hour. Lift chicken pieces to hot platter. Pour off about 2 or 3 tablespoons of the excess fat in pan, add four tablespoons flour, stir until smooth, then stir in 2 cups whole milk until thick. Add salt and pepper to taste. The popovers go around the outside edge of the platter and this creamy gravy is poured in a circle overlapping the chicken and popovers a little, and sprinkled very generously with chopped parsley.

CORN POPOVERS

Mix together in a bowl ½ cup flour, 1 teaspoon each sugar and baking powder, 1-3 teaspoon salt, ½ cup cream-style corn and 2 egg yolks. Mix well and then add 1 cup milk. Stir until smooth. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold them in. Meanwhile have your muffin pans preheated and greased. Pour popover batter into them and place in over of 425 deg. Fahr. for about 12 minutes or until risen about 3 times their original size. This step is done after chicken and tomato casserole are removed from oven and kept hot in warming oven.

SPECIAL TOMATO CASSEROLE

Toast slices white bread on one side. Butter the untoasted side. Toast the buttered side under the broiler. Cut into 1 or 1¼-inch squares. To 1 28-oz. tin tomatoes add 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion and plenty of salt and pepper. Put the buttered toast squares and tomato mixture in alternate layers in buttered baking dish, having 6 or 8 of the squares of bread sticking up above surface of tomatoes. Bake while chicken is baking at 275 deg. Fahr. These are indestructible—they may be baked longer or shorter or at higher temperature. This is a very popular tomato dish.

The Salad was radiating strips of green pepper, cucumber, avocado, and tomato on lettuce.

FRUIT CUP. Be sure this is ice cold. Stone and peel 1 lb. red grapes—this is where the patience comes in—it took me ½ hour. Add 1 tin of mandarin oranges, and about 10 maraschino cherries and some juice. Your guests will love this different fruit cup and it is worth your trouble.

I have gone into detail about this meal because it appears to be far more costly than it is. My new dark green tablecloth and 8-candle Swedish candle holders added to the total effect I must admit—but you have their equivalent tucked away in your cupboards too.

DOROTHY DIX:

Mother Foretells Future, Happenings All Unpleasant

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem is quite different from those you usually write about. I can foretell the future. For instance, our dog was tied with a collar and rope. As I looked out of the window, I thought, "Wouldn't it be awful if he chewed the rope and ran into the street?" A few hours later he got away and was hit by a car.

Another day, while crossing a field, I pictured myself falling over the fence, and, although I had crossed the same place many times before, that day I did fall.

My problem at present is that I have had a mental warning that our little boy will be hurt. I have pleaded with my husband to move away from here, but he won't. Our place is close to his work, and very convenient. I have a feeling the house will be harmful for our child. My husband thinks I'm imagining things.

NANCY ANNE.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You gave other instances of your insight into the future, but for brevity's sake, I omitted them. None, however, seems to me to be particularly occult. All of them, it happens, were disastrous. So it would appear that you can foretell only unpleasant happenings.

Now, face a few questions squarely. How often have you foreseen events that never did come to pass? Surely there were a number of such instances. Then, how do you account for the fact that you can look into the tragic future only? Do you dwell more on unpleasant than on pleasant things? Are you a chronic worrier? The fence incident, for example, clearly demonstrates how worry can bring trouble. Since it was on your mind that you would fall at a particular spot, it was almost impossible for you to climb the fence without mishap. A mind that turns continually to woe is bound to create trouble. I am quite sure that your thinking is almost always gloomy, with a strong tendency to dwell on the worst possibilities.

SHOULD OVERCOME PESSIMISM

If you have allowed your mind to fall into this condition for a long while, you'll probably need help to overcome your pessimism. I suggest a consultation with a doctor, telling him just how you feel. He may find a physical reason for your gloomy outlook. Follow that with a visit to your clergyman.

If, after these talks, you still feel that pessimism has the upper hand, consult a qualified psychiatrist, who may tell you how to rid yourself of the last of these sombre thoughts.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: For the past three years I have been living with my widowed sister and her son. I am 34 and have never been married. About a month ago I was invited to dinner at the home of a married friend, and there met a lady a few years younger than myself. I am now sure that I love her, but the difficulty is—how to break the news to my sister.

A. N.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Nothing will be accomplished by continuing to keep your feelings from your sister, and the sooner you tell her of the young lady, the better. Your sister could scarcely hope to keep you with her always, and you have helped her over the hardest years of her widowhood.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: For several months, I have been going with a very fine girl, whom I shall call Alice. Recently I noticed a decided change in her attitude towards me and, upon investigation, learned that a mutual friend had been telling her malicious lies. It now develops that he is more than casually interested in Alice, himself. The stories he made up have been freely circulated, with the result that Alice has been humiliated before her own friends.

BOB G.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: This situation calls for the use of ungentlemanly tactics. The so-called friend should be dragged, physically if necessary, to Alice, and made to admit his false statements.

Driver Fined For Carelessness

Russell Williams, 52, 46 Ware Street, was fined $10, and $10.88 costs, Tuesday when he was convicted of careless driving.

The charge arose out of a collision involving Williams' car with one driven by Thomas Webster, 35, RR 1, Warsaw, five miles south of Warsaw on the Norwood Road, shortly after 5 p.m. January 8.

Both Williams and Mrs. Gladys Martin, 50, 46 Ware Street, a passenger in his car, were knocked unconscious by the impact and sustained slight injuries.

OPP Constable Fred Lund, who investigated the accident, said the collision had occurred on a sharp curve in the road, which was icy. There was a strong wind and drifting snow, but otherwise it was a clear day. He said that the curve was well banked and sloped sharply.

Williams said that he was driving slowly when he saw Webster's car come over the hill and he stipped suddenly. Extensive damage was done to the left front portions of both cars.

Canadian Jets Far From Border

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's jet squadrons in Europe are based far enough away from the Iron Curtain they are unlikely to get involved in border incidents such as that in which a United States F-84 was shot down by a Czech plane Tuesday.

Three Canadian squadrons are based at Gros Tenquin, in France, while another three en route now to Europe will be based at Zweibrucken, Germany, in the same vicinity.

A Washington dispatch today said one disadvantage the U. S. Air Force faces in possible border incidents is that out of six U. S. fighter wings in Europe, only one is outfitted with the F-86 Sabre jets which have been beating the Russian MiG-15s in air duels over Korea.

The Canadian squadrons are all equipped with F-86Es, the latest Sabre jet model.

Committee Chairmen Named In Y Board

P. M. McCarrell reported on his trip to the annual meeting of National Councils of the YMCAs in Canada Monday evening at the monthly meeting of the YMCA board of directors.

Chairman of the regular standing committees were appointed by Stan Payne, chairman of the board of directors. They were; chairman of finance, H. M. Niven; chairman of physical education, Ken Kingston; chairman of Boys' work, Joseph Barnard; chairman of house activities, Jack Wolstenholme; chairman of the world service committee, Col. Jack Dewart and chairman of the personnel committee, P. M. McCarrell.

Stan Payne, president of the board of directors was host to all the board members for supper.

Define Boundary Of Reserve Says Magistrate

A charge of having intoxicants on the Curve Lake Indian Reserve against Coleman Guthrie, 53, Buckhorn, was adjourned for one week Tuesday pending further evidence of the boundary of the reserve.

OPP Constable Gordon Gray said that he and Constable James Healey were fixing a flat tire on the cruiser about 300 yards south of the reserve at about 7:15 p.m., March 7 when they saw Guthrie's car approaching very slowly.

They signalled the driver to stop but as the car came abreast of them it speeded up and went past.

OPP Constable George Louth said that he saw the accused at Selwyn at about 7:30 p.m. He said he searched the car and found a case containing a dozen bottles of wine and two cases of beer containing a dozen bottles each. An Indian woman, Ethel Nott, was driving the car.

TAKING BABY

Louth said Guthrie told him they were taking a baby to the doctor and Constable Thomas Armitage had later taken the party to the hospital.

Guthrie said that when he saw the cruiser with the flat tire he didn't know it was the police because there was no light on the top of the vehicle.

"What concerns me is proof that this occurred on the Indian Reserve," said Magistrate W. R. Philp.

"It's been worrying me too, Your Worship," said Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, QC.

Only evidence as to the boundaries of the reserve was a map which Indian Agent Ernest Adams said had been supplied by the Department of Indian Affairs.

More Speeders Given Fines

It may be the Spring weather and good driving conditions or it may be that the drivers are trying out their vehicles to see how fast they'll go but the number and amount of speeding fines levied by Magistrate W. R. Philp Tuesday were unusually high.

Douglas Rombough, 29, 26 Empress Ave., London, was fined $40 and $2.50 costs; William Nicholls, 36, 769 6th Ave., Renfrew, $20 and $2.50 costs; Thomas Richardson, 43, 184 George St. north, $15 and $2.50 costs, and David Casey, 22, 211 Rogers St., $15 and $2.50 costs.

William Brethour, 38, of Woodview, was fined $25 and $2.50 costs for carrying an excess load on Highway 28.

All convictions were registered on written pleas of guilty and the charges were laid by provincial police.

OBITUARIES

MISS ISABELLA TERRION

Miss Isabella Terrion, 496 Mark St., died today in hospital at the age of 86.

A housekeeper for many years, Miss Terrion was born in Marmora, daughter of the late John Terrion and Isabella Quinn. Before coming to Peterborough 22 years ago, she lived in Westport, Ont.

She was a member of Immaculate Conception Church and a member of the Altar Society and Catholic Women's League.

She is survived by one sister, Miss Ellen Terrion of Marmora; and 15 nieces and nephews: the Rev. Wilfred Terrion, Morrisburg; Ont., Mrs. A. O'Grady, Mrs. James Mongraw, Mrs. Pearl Nolan, Jack and Harold Legrow, all of Peterborough, Mrs. Charles Thompson of Eldorado, Mrs. Basil Magher of Buffalo, Mrs. N. D. McManus and Mrs. D. Hughes of Brail, B.C., Mrs. Fred Truscott and Marguerite of Vancouver, John and Vincent Terrion of Marmora and Daniel Terrion of Cleveland.

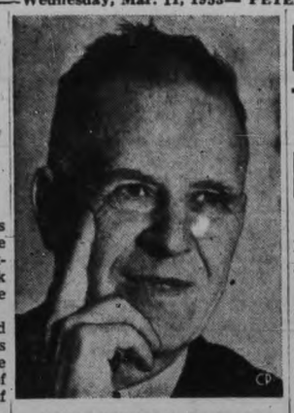
The funeral will be held Friday from the Anglesey funeral home to Immaculate Conception Church for requiem mass at 9 a.m. Burial will be in St. Peter's Cemetery.

JOSEPH A. BRIOUX

Joseph A. Brioux, 64, of Tweed and formerly of Peterborough, died suddenly Monday at his residence.

Mr. Brioux was born in Peterborough, son of the late Thomas Brioux and Philomina Gordon and has lived most of his life here. He was an employee for several years of the National Grocers and in Tweed he was a sales clerk.

He was a member of St. Carthagh Roman Catholic Church in Tweed, and was a member of the Holy Name Society of that church.



He leaves his wife, the former Elizabeth Rivers; six daughters, Mrs. Lucien Girard (Valerie), and Mrs. John Hallihan (Alda), both of Peterborough; Mrs. Michael Anthony (Yvonne) Toronto; Mrs. Bruce Bennett (Edna), Peterborough; Mrs. Allen O'Brien (Audrey), Sarnia; Mrs. Donald Monahan (Marlene), Peterborough; three sons, Robert, William and Thomas, all of Peterborough; one sister, Mrs. P. Guiren, Toronto; and three brothers, William and Roque, both of Toronto, and Alphonse, Peterborough.

The funeral will be held Thursday from the Duffus funeral home to the Sacred Heart Church for requiem mass at 9 a.m. Burial will be in St. Peter's cemetery.

Fined For Vagrancy

Velma Jacobs, 25, Lakefield, was fined $10 and $2.50 costs or 10 days in jail today when she changed a previous plea of not guilty of vagrancy to one of guilty.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, QC, said that she had been drinking and causing a disturbance.

NEW BENCHER—Herbert W. Davey, 54, Victoria, B.C., corporation lawyer, has been appointed a judge of the Supreme Court of British Columbia. Mr. Davey's appointment, announced by the Justice Department, brings to nine the number of judges on the B.C. Supreme Court bench.

Traffic Charges Dismissed By Magistrate

A charge of careless driving against Hugh Claude Kerr, 24, RR 1, Lakefield, was dismissed by Magistrate W. R. Philp Tuesday.

The charge arose out of an accident on Highway 28, about 1½ miles west of Peterborough shortly after 6 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 20, when Kerr's car left the highway and travelled more than 60 feet, grazing a hydro pole before stopping.

Kerr gave evidence that he went to pass another car when he noticed a third car approaching. He applied his brakes to get back behind the other vehicle but the car slipped sideways on the wet highway. There was considerable damage to the left side of Kerr's car but he was uninjured.

Also dismissed were charges of failing to report an accident against John Lane, 53, RR 11, Peterborough, and failing to forward notice to the Department of Highways of the purchase of a car against Frank Booth, Concession St.

NOT REGISTERED

OPP Constable John Cawood gave evidence that he had found an abandoned car on Highway 7, five miles east of Peterborough, and had it towed in to a garage. He said that the vehicle had not been registered with the motor vehicles branch of the Department of Highways.

Joseph Levack said that he had sold the 1934-model car to Lane, one of his employees, for $75. Lane said he had the ownership permit but that it hadn't been signed by the previous owner.

J. J. Horner, Pontypool, was fined $5 and $2.50 costs for driving an improperly lighted vehicle.

Deadline Extended For Clubs In OAHA

MIDLAND (CP)—The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association has extended its deadline to the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association to noon Thursday from midnight Tuesday to say if it wants to continue with the CAHA.

George S. Dudley, secretary-manager of the CAHA said today the QAHA must acknowledge the authority of the CAHA and apologize for its defiance. He said if the Quebec association refuses the suspension will continue and no entries will be allowed from the QAHA in senior or junior playoffs.

HEPC Plans Widening Trenton Hydro Service

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario hydro commission plans to expand electrical facilities at Trenton air station near Belleville.

It announced today it will construct a mile of 44,000-volt line and a new 44,000-volt substation, plus additional feeder lines to take care of the expanding load at the air base.

Plans call for these facilities to be placed in service by late summer at a cost of $141,500, of which $121,500 will be borne by the defence department.

8 Persons Missing Aboard Oil Tanker

HALIFAX (CP)—At least eight persons, including one woman, are missing in the Atlantic following fire and explosion aboard the oil tanker Angy, south of Newfoundland.

W. J. Corrigan

The funeral for William John Corrigan, RR 6, Peterborough, who died Monday, was held today from the Duffus funeral home to Our Lady of the Assumption Church, Otonabee.

Requiem mass was celebrated by the Rev. W. C. McCarney.

Pallbearers were Harold, Edward, Wilbert and William Corrigan, Bud Sorg and John Hicks. Graveside prayers at St. Peter's cemetery were said by Father McCarney.

Blast Starts Fire

KANSAS CITY (AP)—An explosion in a clothing store Tuesday night started a fire that spread through hotel rooms above the store and caused the death of one hotel resident. The clothing store and a restaurant were destroyed. Twenty of 43 hotel rooms were damaged badly.

Presbytery Plans To Welcome New Minister

Building operations of the new Presbyterian Church on Park St. are expected to start in May.

This information was reported at the meeting of the Peterborough Presbyterian Presbytery held in St. Paul's Church Tuesday. The meeting was attended by nine ministers, 10 elders and two students.

The architect's plans are nearly completed for the new church and the Presbyterian Church offices have authorized a substantial loan.

The congregation is now meeting at Confederation School.

The Presbytery made plans to welcome the first minister who will serve as supply to the congregation, the Rev. Gilbert Smith. He will arrive from Northern Ireland early in April.

The Rev. A. E. Toombs of Campbellford was elected Moderator of the Presbytery. Mr. Toombs was also named a nominee for the position of secretary of foreign missions for the Presbyterian Church in Canada. All presbyteries have the right to make nominations. These nominations will be received by the General Assembly which meets in June and an appointment will be made from them.

It was reported that Warkworth and Hastings expect the Rev. T. E. Kennedy of Rodney, Ont., will accept their call. The presbytery is making tentative plans for an industction in Warkworth in April.

Colborne and associated churches are now hearing candidates in their vacancy.

Keith Wilcox, student in the Harvey township field received congratulations of the prebystery on the re-opening at Rockcroft. Mr. Wilcox's appointment is asked for another year.

St. Andrew's congregation, Cobourg, reported that the mortgage on their new church has now been wiped out.

Ballyduff congregation was commended by the prebytery for meeting its missionary allocation in full for 1952 and 1953 in advance.

The next regular meeting of the presbytery will be held in Nestleton June 23. Special meetings will be held at the order of the moderator and clerk and at the first of these the commissioners to the General Assembly in June will be appointed.

Manvers And Mounts Take Opening Games

MILLBROOK (ENS) — Bush League playoffs got under way on Monday evening with Mt. Pleasant taking an 8-2 win from Millbrook and the amazing Manverines from Bethany plastering Bailieboro by a 13-3 score. These games are the first of a best-of-three series with the second tussle slated for Wednesday evening.

In the first game, Carr of Mt. Pleasant fattened up a healthy scoring average when he capitalized twice on sloppy defensive work that left "Turk" Blair with less cover than Gypsy Rose Lee. He added another one to Armstrong's single to make the score 4-1, with Millbrook registering when Lunn from Wright hit the twine. Both teams stepped it up in the second period and play was hot and heavy with three broken sticks being counted in less than a two-minute interval. Ginn got the only marker of the canto. The final period was strictly a Mountaineers' scoring show with Thornton, Armstrong, Crawford and Bryans doing the tallying. Wright was forced to retire for repairs but returned to the game later with a taped chin.

Mt. Pleasant—Goal, B. Evans; defence, Fisher, J. Evans; forwards, Armstrong, Crawford, Jamieson; alternates, Craig, J. Bryan, Carr, Parker, K. Bryan, Thornton.

Millbrook—Goal, Blair; defence, Powell, Edmonds; forwards, Wright, Ginn, Lunn; alternates, Handley, G. Lowery, R. Lowery, Kent, Guthrie, Smith, Olan.

Referees, Burn, Magill, Janetville.

ROOF FELL IN

The Bailieboro-Bethany game was close for one period and then the roof fell in on the luckless Bailieboro. Carl Gillis and Burn scored for Bethany and Cook registered for Bailieboro in the first. In the second, Magill, former Lindsay junior, cut loose on a scoring spree that netted him four goals while Brown added another. In the third, Magill added two to his evening's output, Brown sank three and Sinclair one. Cook and Gray scored for Bailieboro in this heat.

Although Smith in the Bailieboro net watched the puck whistle past him 13 times, he still rated in the three-star selection as Bethany had 87 shots on goal according to official statistician. Challice, in the opposite net, also turned in a classy chore although activity was considerably less in his vicinity with 37 shots on his twine teepee. Some of the younger and chippier players showed a tendency to rough it and Referees McDowell and Bryan provided the penalty timekeeper with plenty of company.

Bethany—Goal, Challice; defence, Edmonds, Burn; forwards, Gillis, Fallis, Brown; alternates, Sinclair, Magill, McGill, Snyder.

Bailieboro — Goal, Smith; defence, Halligan, Jewison; forwards, Cook, Halstead, Carruthers; alternates, Lingard, Clement, Sanderson, Gray, Johnston, Lingard.

Passed On Curve Driver Blamed For Accident

Paul Murray Ferril, 24, 191 Rit son Road south, Oshawa, was fined $25 and $10.40 costs and had his license suspended for three months when he was convicted of careless driving in police court here Tuesday.

The charge arose out of an accident on Highway 7, west of Norwood on February 8 about 6.45 p.m., when Farrill's car collided with one driven by Gerald Baker of Norwood. Considerable damage was done to the right side of Ferrill's car and to the front of Baker's. No one was injured.

PASSING ON CURVE

OPP Sergeant Stanley Palmateer who was driving in a private car at the time said that Ferrill's car passed his and then attempted to pass two more vehicles on a curve when he collided with Baker's car which was travelling in the opposite direction. He said the accused swung off onto the left shoulder but not soon enough.

Ferril sadi that he overtook two or three cars which were travelling about 20 or 25 miles an hour around the curve and when the road appeared to straighten out he started to pass them but Baker's car appeared about 50 feet in front of him out of a dip in the road. He couldn't get back into his lane because of the line of cars and so he applied his brakes and pulled over onto the left shoulder but Baker pulled over in the same direction and the cars collided.

He said he wasn't aware of the solid white line on the highway at the point where he tried to pass but didn't believe it was visible at the time because of the snow. Sergeant Palmateer said the road was wet but the white line was not covered.

"I find the accused was approaching the site of the accident at a high rate of speed and he attempted to pass on a curve where there was a solid white line plainly visible," ruled Magistrate W. R. Philp in convicting Ferrill.

ATTENDS BIRTHDAY PARTY—One of the bright spots of Prime Minister St. Laurent's visit to Toronto was an unexpected invitation to attend a birthday party for one-year-old Peter John Gillis. The Prime Minister, a father and a grandfather himself, was visiting various apartment and home projects in suburban Etobicoke when Mrs. Basil Gillis hailed him and invited him to the party. There the five neighbor mothers, seven babies, all under two, and the head of Canada's government had a fine time until Mr. St. Laurent had to leave for other duties of state.

Reduce Sailor's Jail Sentence

HONG KONG (Reuters)—Norman Robins, a Canadian naval rating from Welland, Ont., today had an 18-month jail sentence for illegal possession of arms reduced to two months.

Robins was sentenced Jan. 21 for trying to sell a pistol here while on leave from the Canadian destroyer Crusader. A companion, Stephen George Hlasney of Drumheller, Alta., was sentenced to 12 months on a similar charge.

Judge E. H. Williams said in appeal court today he was reducing Robins' sentence because he was "undoubtedly a very brave man" who had been recommended for the British Empire Medal, and it was possible the lower court had not taken this into account.

The 12-month sentence on Hlasney was confirmed. They were both convicted of possessing arms without a license.

Approve Civic Budget

TORONTO (CP)—City council Tuesday approved board of control's budget of $79,761,664 and set the tax rate at 41.3 mills, one-half mill less than last year. The budget total is up $3,173,342 over 1952. The rate for separate school supporters is 45.3 mills, one less than last year.

Prudham Rejects Demand He Resign Over Land Deal

OTTAWA (CP)—Mines Minister Prudham has rejected a demand that he resign from the cabinet as result of a $100,000 property deal with the government-owned Canadian National Railways in Edmonton.

The 49-year-old cabinet minister replied Tuesday in the Commons to criticisms by Ray Thomas (SC-Wetaskiwin) who said Monday that the minister should resign immediately.

Mr. Prudham, in a lengthy statement, said no political influence had been used and added that if a man cannot do business with the CNR without incurring criticism it "will be difficult to induce active business men to run for Parliament."

ELECTION SOON

Amid applause from the Liberal benches, Mr. Prudham told Mr. Thomas:

"If anyone wishes to eliminate me from this House, there will soon be an (election) opportunity to try it once again in Edmonton West."

The purchase of the Edmonton property by Prudham Building Supplies, Ltd., of which the minister is president, was made last year.

It comprised 1 9-10 acres of land and a disused railway station and freight shed on the Edmonton-Calgary highway owned by the Canadian Northern Railway Company and the Canadian Northern Western Railway Company, subsidiaries of the CNR.

Mr. Prudham said his company had a lease on the land when the representatives of the CNR approached officials about purchasing the property. The figure of $100,000 eventually was agreed upon and, Mr. Prudham said, it was a "very high price" on the basis of appraisals made on the holding.

The railway knew the Prudham company needed the land more than anyone else to consolidate holdings on one side of the busy highway and could be expected to pay more than anyone else. As far as the CNR was concerned it was "strictly a hard-boiled" business deal and had been an "excellent sale" for the railway.

The transaction involving the minister was disclosed in the Commons March 4 in reply to questions asked by Mr. Thomas and Douglas Harkness (P C-Calgary East).

CRITICISM

Since that time, it has been criticized by Hazen Argue (CCF-Assiniboia) but Mr. Thomas was the only member to demand the minister's resignation. Both said tenders should have been called.

Finance Minister Abbott announced that effective last January corporations will be allowed to deduct for federal income tax purposes any corporation taxes paid to a province or municipality. The effect will be felt only in Quebec, the only province without a federal taxation agreement. Certain corporations in Quebec pay contributions to a provincial education fund.

NEARS VOTE

Debate on Finance Minister Abbott's 1953-54 budget, proceeding off and on since Feb. 19, now appears likely to reach a vote later this week on two opposition motions of non-confidence concerning government financial policy.

Two members with experience as mayors Tuesday urged more federal aid to municipalities.

Michael Starr (PC-Ontario), mayor of Oshawa, said municipalities should be allowed to tax Crown property and their purchase of equipment and other municipal needs should be freed from federal taxes. Owen Jones (CCF-Yale) former mayor of Kelowna, B. C., agreed and added that the government should turn over to the municipalities at least 75 per cent of its revenue from duties and taxes on liquor.

They also agreed the 15-per-cent special excise tax on automobiles should be removed. Automobiles no longer were a luxury in Canada. They were needed by the workers.

W. J. Ward (L-Dauphin) called for elimination of the means test on war veterans allowances. The Progressive Conservative party was "whistling in the dark" without a policy they could call their own.

Mr. Starr in his speech also said allowing municipalities to tax federal property would be one way of assisting 4,000 communities "without worrying about the British North America Act, which has so often been used to avoid getting down to earth."

SQUEEZED OUT

Municipalities, he said, were being "squeezed out of their tax revenues" by federal encroachment.

"It is an astounding effrontery for the government to say it is a luxury to drive a car to work," said Mr. Starr, whose home city is one of Canada's largest automobile producers. The 15-per-cent excise tax on automobiles was "completely unrealistic and out of step with our times."

C. W. Hodgson (PC—Victoria, Ont.) said the budget had done nothing to aid hard-pressed municipalities. The sales tax should have been removed from municipal purchases.

The young people of Canada had lost faith in the government. This was evidenced by the difficulty the military was having in obtaining recruits. The government gave little thought to young people except how much it could tax them. If communistic movements developed in Canada because of this the government would be responsible.

He said he believed the election would be delayed and a juicier budget brought down in the meantime.

Jailed 3 Months

Arthur King, 50, no fixed address, was sentenced to three months in jail Tuesday when he was convicted on a plea of guilty to a third drunk charge.

Henry Greenus, 73, Bewdley, was fined $10 and $2.50 costs or 10 days in jail when he pleaded guilty to being drunk.

CAB Presents Annual Awards

MONTREAL (CP)—Presentation of awards and recognition of long service featured Tuesday night's annual dinner of the 28th annual conference of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters.

This second day of the four-day conference saw the broadcasters studying their programs and honoring their outstanding members.

The John J. Gillin, Jr., memorial award for outstanding community service went to CKNW of New Westminster, B. C. Manager William Rea accepted the award on behalf of the station.

The Canadian General Electric award for notable work in the technical field was presented to Glen Robitaille, chief engineer of CFPL, London, Ont.

Canadian radio men given awards in recognition of their membership in the Quarter Century Club included Jack R. Radford, managing-director of CFJR, Brockville.

Euchre Party Success

BETHANY (ENS)—The Ladies' Good Luck Orange Lodge held a successful progressive euchre party in the Orange Hall.

Mrs. Earl Smith won the special door prize as well as the award for ladies' high score. Mr. William Phillips won the prize for gentlemen's high score. Consolation awards went to Ross Smith and Mrs. Gordon Staples. The ladies served lunch.

Louis Vincent McCoy

Pallbearers at the funeral Monday of Louis Vincent McCoy of Timmins were Thomas Williams, Thomas Buckley, Albert Armstrong, William Hill, William Cross and Lewis Ingram.

Mr. McCoy, formerly a resident of Peterborough and an employee of the Quaker Oats Co. for 41 years, died Thursday in Timmins.

The funeral from the Anglesey funeral home to St. Peter's Cathedral for requiem mass with the Rev. L. Dubbery the celebrant. Burial was in St. Peter's cemetery. The Rev. R. J. Garvey said the graveside prayers.

$2,000,000,000 POWER PLAN — The town of Whitehorse in the Yukon may be moved to make way for a huge artificial lake covering thousands of acres in a new power and mineral project which Frobisher, Ltd., has under construction, it has been reported. It is said the project may cost from $500,000,000 to $2,000,000,000. Plans are to include construction of three hydro-electric plants in the vicinity of Kluane, Chilkoot Pass and Teslin, with a combined output of about 5,000,000 horsepower.

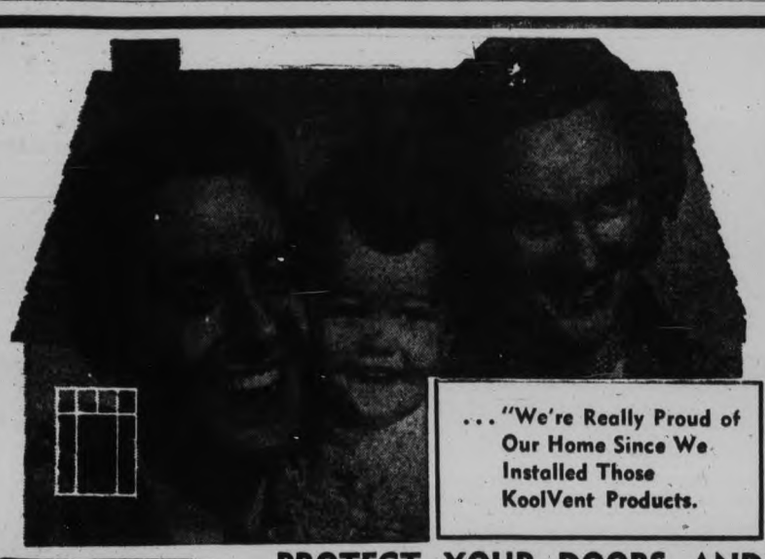
Color Problem

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (CP)—The South African gold mining industry's policy of importing immigrants was criticized by Dan Ellis, general secretary of the Mineworkers Union. He said immigrants were not properly color-conscious and did not realize the danger of allowing natives to do skilled work in the mines.

William O'Toole

Pallbearers at the funeral Monday of William O'Toole of 312 Maitland Ave. were Joseph Nolan, Leo Leahy, and Earl, Kenneth, Jerome and Edward O'Toole.

Mr. O'Toole was a resident of Peterborough for 35 years and a retired CGE employee, a member of the Quarter Century Club. He died at his home after a short illness.



Solemn requiem mass was held Monday at St. Peter's Cathedral, the Rev. R. J. Garvey, celebrant, assisted by the Rev. G. Weis and the Rev. L. Dubbery. Graveside prayers were by Father Weis and burial was in St. Peter's cemetery.

MONTREAL (CP)—Presentation of awards and recognition of long service featured Tuesday night's annual dinner of the 28th annual conference of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters.

This second day of the four-day conference saw the broadcasters studying their programs and honoring their outstanding members.

The John J. Gillis, Jr., memorial award for outstanding community service went to CKNW of New Westminster, B. C. Manager William Rea accepted the award on behalf of the station.

The Canadian General Electric award for notable work in the technical field was presented to Glen Robitaille, chief engineer of CFPL, London, Ont.

Canadian radio men given awards in recognition of their membership in the Quarter Century Club included Jack R. Radford, managing-director of CFJR, Brockville.

Euchre Party Success

BETHANY (ENS)—The Ladies' Good Luck Orange Lodge held a successful progressive euchre party in the Orange Hall.

Mrs. Earl Smith won the special door prize as well as the award for ladies' high score. Mr. William Phillips won the prize for gentlemen's high score. Consolation awards went to Ross Smith and Mrs. Gordon Staples. The ladies served lunch.

Louis Vincent McCoy

Pallbearers at the funeral Monday of Louis Vincent McCoy of Timmins were Thomas Williams, Thomas Buckley, Albert Armstrong, William Hill, William Cross and Lewis Ingram.

Mr. McCoy, formerly a resident of Peterborough and an employee of the Quaker Oats Co. for 41 years, died Thursday in Timmins.

The funeral from the Anglesey funeral home to St. Peter's Cathedral for requiem mass with the Rev. L. Dubbery the celebrant. Burial was in St. Peter's cemetery. The Rev. R. J. Garvey said the graveside prayers.

$2,000,000,000 POWER PLAN — The town of Whitehorse in the Yukon may be moved to make way for a huge artificial lake covering thousands of acres in a new power and mineral project which Frobisher, Ltd., has under construction, it has been reported. It is said the project may cost from $500,000,000 to $2,000,000,000. Plans are to include construction of three hydro-electric plants in the vicinity of Kluane, Chilkoot Pass and Teslin, with a combined output of about 5,000,000 horsepower.

Color Problem

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (CP)—The South African gold mining industry's policy of importing immigrants was criticized by Dan Ellis, general secretary of the Mineworkers Union. He said immigrants were not properly color-conscious and did not realize the danger of allowing natives to do skilled work in the mines.

William O'Toole

Pallbearers at the funeral Monday of William O'Toole of 312 Maitland Ave. were Joseph Nolan, Leo Leahy, and Earl, Kenneth, Jerome and Edward O'Toole.

Mr. O'Toole was a resident of Peterborough for 35 years and a retired CGE employee, a member of the Quarter Century Club. He died at his home after a short illness.

Solemn requiem mass was held Monday at St. Peter's Cathedral, the Rev. R. J. Garvey, celebrant, assisted by the Rev. G. Weis and the Rev. L. Dubbery. Graveside prayers were by Father Weis and burial was in St. Peter's cemetery.

Supplying the Defenders of FREEDOM

One of the biggest jobs in the Army — and, in fact, in Canada — falls to the ROYAL CANADIAN ORDNANCE CORPS. This Corps has the huge job of obtaining and distributing everything the Army requires from shoe laces to tanks — over 220,000 different items.

As the Canadian Army grows, the job of Ordnance grows. Right now more men are needed — men who can qualify as storemen, clerks, tailors, shoemakers and canvas workers. The Army will train men in any one of the many different trades and skills required by Ordnance. Once trained, the young man who serves in this Corps will find truly outstanding opportunities for promotions.

With general conditions of service, pay and pension plans at an all-time high, there are wonderful prospects for young men in Ordnance. Learn a trade and build an unusual and important career for yourself in the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps.

You are eligible if you are 17 to 40 years of age, tradesmen to 45, physically fit and able to meet Army test requirements. Applicants should bring birth certificate or other proof of age when reporting for interview.

Fear Communists Infiltrate Rocket Range

CANBERRA (CP)—Have Communists infiltrated the Commonwealth's top-secret rocket range in South Australia?

Many Australians were asking this question today after learning that 80 votes had been cast for the Communist candidate in last weekend's elections by residents of Woomera, the tiny village adjoining the close-guarded rocket-firing range.

Supply Minister Hoard Beale, aware of the growing concern, issued a statement today saying "there need be no anxiety that the Communists or their sympathizers have access to secret or classified information on the Woomera rocket range, because our screening arrangements are very thorough."

He added that "there are many men at Woomera doing laboring work, these are not in contact with any secret projects."

A number of high-ranking officers, technicians and their families live in the village. Most were aghast at the number of votes for Communist E. F. Johnston.

Socialist L. G. Riches, the only other candidate, received 299 votes.

It was pointed out that Johnston's party affiliation was not designated on the ballot.

Wilfred Cargin Named Chief Constable

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — Wilfred E. Cargin, 50, a member of the Campbellford police force for seven years, on Monday night was appointed chief constable. He succeeds the late George Hardy who died earlier this year.

The town council had a six-hour session as they considered 46 applications for the posts of chief constable and constable on the town's two-man police force. When they rose wearily at 1 a.m. they had picked their new chief but were undecided on the choice of constable.

However they did get as far as sending for one applicant for a personal interview.

Chief Constable Cargin had been acting chief constable since the death of Chief Hardy. He takes office with an annual salary of $2,450, and his appointment is on a six-months probationary basis.

Chief Constable Cargin is a veteran of both World Wars and he has had 24 years police experience. This includes six years on the Royal Irish Constabulary, 11 years in Forest Hill, and seven years in Campbellford.

At one time Campbellford had a three-man police force but it has since been reduced to two.

Asks Cabinet Postpone Study Of Criminal Code Revision

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor asked the feleral cabinet Tuesday to postpone for a year study of proposed amendments to the Criminal Code which "appear to be very dangerous with regard to legitimate union activity."

In a 3,000-word brief drafted in French and English, the 93,000-member Quebec labor organization said the actual wording of the Riot Act has "sometimes permitted very serious abuses."

"Now, far from improving the text, the new project of the Criminal Code, by too indefinite a wording, by an excessive generalization of certain sections concerning misdemeanors, may expose many citizens to serious molestations from persons interested in promoting brutal and abusive police action."

The brief noted code provisions were drafted by the federal authority but were administered by the provinces.

It made no reference to reading of the Riot Act during the Louiseville, Que., textile strike when strikers and Quebec provincial police clashed Dec. 11 last.

The CCCL said there was a "direct attack against the right to strike itself" in one provision of the Criminal Code amendments, which says anyone who "renders property dangerous, useless, inoperative or ineffective" committed mischief.

"A worker who would take part in a legitimate strike for serious reasons would expose himself to an accusation and serious punishment because of this clause.

"In fact, this would render void the right to strike, while both federal and provincial labor legislation provide the right to strike."

The brief said the CCCL saw danger in public belief that "it is government policy to lower taxes before the elections and to raise them afterwards."

Tax reductions in the recent budget "have not been in fact a great relief to wage-earners."

The CCCL urged that basic personal income tax exemptions be raised to $1,500 from $1,000 for single persons and to $3,000 from $2,000 for married persons. Exemption for children should be $400 instead of $150 a child. Workers should be able to deduct from taxable income 10 per cent of the value of the tools required for their work.

The brief suggested the government require Canadian steamship companies to build and repair their ships in Canadian shipyards to maintain stability in the ship-building industry.

The CCCL asked that the CBC grant free broadcasting time to labor unions, as was done for farmers.

Old age pensions of $50 monthly for men 65 and women 60, without means test, was also urged. Pensions of $40 monthly now are paid, after means test, to persons 65 to 69 inclusive, and without means test to persons 70 or more.

Want RCMP On Hand For London Sports

LONDON (CP)—Officials organizing the third London Caledonian games would like to have a few members of the RCMP on hand for their sports day, scheduled to be held three days before the Coronation, June 2.

A spokesman said tentative plans call for an invitation to the RCMP, whose famed Musical Ride would be a "tremendous" addition. Failing that, even a few RCMP men would be welcome.

Highland clubs throughout the Commonwealth have been asked to send athletes, pipe bands and other representatives for what is hoped will be a kind of Coronation Empire games.

Dorothy Lean Guest Speaker

COLDSPRINGS — (ENS) — The Coldsprings Young People's Union held a special service in St. Paul's United Church Sunday evening. President Robert Turner presided and Warren Buttars read the scripture lesson and led in prayer.

Grace Wilton sang a solo, "Saved By Grace." The church choir, with Miss E. Hoskin at the organ, led the singing of the hymns.

The guest speaker was Miss Dorothy Lean of Bethesda North (Harwood) and a teacher at the Cobourg District Collegiate Institute. Miss Lean was one of three delegates chosen from the Cobourg YPU Presbytery to attend the National Council of the Young People's Unions of the United Church of Canada, held last summer at the University of Manitoba in Winnipeg.

She gave a report of the conference and stated that some two hundred delegates attended. There are today in Canada 47,000 young people who are members of a union.

The conference is divided into 93 Presbyteries in Canada.

The Rev. V. M. Gilbert closed the service.

Mission Band Meets At Fairview

FAIRVIEW (ENS)—The Fairview Mission Band met in the school, No. 4, Smith, on Saturday afternoon. The president, Ailene Mann, was in the chair.

Jean Lewis read the scripture and Nancy Ferguson the prayer. Gordon Graham and Howard Bell received the offering. Shirley Sharpe gave the offering prayer. Neil, Joe and Jean Jewell sang a song and taught it to the rest of the children.

Mrs. W. F. Donaldson, the past secretary of Mission Bands for Peterborough Presbyterial, also the new secretary, Mrs. F. McIndoo, were present. Mrs. Donaldson told the children a missionary story, illustrating it with the flannelgraph. She also led the children in some games and crafts.

This Mission Band was newly organized recently at the home of Mrs. Wesley Bell, as follows: President, Ailene Mann; vice-president, Helen Kimball; secretary, Verna Graham; treasurer, Faye Sharpe; pianist, Helen Kimball; assistant pianist, Jean Lewis.

The next meeting will be held Saturday, April 4, in the school, No. 4, Smith.

The closing number was a trumpet solo "Abide With Me" by Miss Wylanne Hermiston with band accompaniment.

London's Guides Await Tourists

LONDON (CP)—Visitors in London this Coronation year needn't hesitate a minute if they can't locate a Turkish bath.

Accredited guides of the British Travel and Holidays Association, who have just completed exhaustive tests on whereabouts of diverse London sights and facilities, will know at least two premises where tourists can dunk themselves Turkish style.

And that isn't all.

The dagger that killed Wat Tyler, the bullet that slew Nelson and the last resting place of the Duke of Suffolk's head can be located by qualified guides.

Almost anything about bus, train, or air schedules, former living quarters of the famous, works of art and architectural wonders and styles will be at their fingertips.

Thirty - one prospective guides out of 250 applicants wrote the examination and the successful ones will be added to the association's register of official guides, begun in 1950. None work for the association but are to be found at travel agencies, bus lines or working free lance.

Petition For Removal Of Toronto Minister

TORONTO (CP)—A petition here requesting the removal of Rev. Gordon Domm, minister of Bathurst street United Church, is being circulated among the congregation, it was reported Tuesday.

Trouble in the church arose when a congregational meeting, Jan. 28, protested that the church was being used as a meeting place for Communist-front organizations.

Mr. Domm said he had not seen the petition and would have no comment until he did.

UK Papers Laud Massey Speech

LONDON (CP)—Canadian criticism of phrases such as "so what?" and "couldn't care less" touched a responsive chord Tuesday in the British press.

Three newspapers accord editorial support to Vincent Massey, governor-general of Canada, who spoke of the "rootless" present generation at a ceremony commemorating the 75th anniversary of the University of Western Ontario.

The Evening News devotes its entire editorial column to the speech, which it described as of the greatest general importance. The Daily Express says the phrases singled out by the Canadian governor-general "epitomize a feckless and spivvish attitude to life which has been eagerly adopted by slouching, hangdog characters."

The Times uses the Canadian speech as a peg for a critical examination of 20th-century values, including a discussion of the French "anarchist" philosopher Sorel and concludes that the cause of tolerance can best be served "by wholesome intolerance of mental slovenliness."

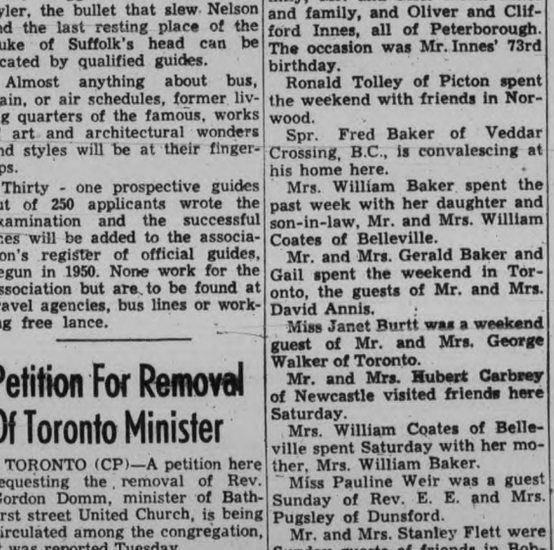
Dislodged Bomb Kills Two On U.S. Carrier

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Navy reported Tuesday a dislodged bomb exploded on the flight deck of the carrier Oriskany in Korean waters March 6, killing two men and wounding 15 others.

The accident occurred when a navy pilot, returning from a strike over North Korea, attempted to land with one of his bombs which had failed to release over the target, the navy said.



At the moment of landing, the bomb shook loose from its wing position, bounced twice and exploded.

Five of the 15 wounded were reported in serious condition.

Four Shot To Death In Mexican Bar Fight

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A former chief of police and three of his friends were shot to death Tuesday by gunmen in a blazing saloon battle in Yautepec, 50 miles south of here.

Five police were wounded in trying to round up the gunmen, who escaped. Yautepec was once the stronghold of Emiliano Zapata, Mexican revolutionary, whose life was portrayed in a Hollywood movie a year ago.

$153,000,000 For Highways

$65 Million Slated For Public Works, Liquor Profits Up

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario will spend $153,000,000 on its highways this year, Premier Frost said today, announcing the biggest road-building program ever undertaken by the province. The announcement came in the premier's annual budget speech to the Ontario legislature in his role as provincial treasurer. He labelled it a "construction and development budget" because of huge expenditures on roads and other projects, including $65,000,000 for public buildings and works.

The spending theme ran all the way through the 12,500-word address which announced a surplus of $67,000 on ordinary account for the present fiscal year ending next March 31, compared with his forecast of $88,000 a year ago and an anticipated surplus for the next year of $185,000.

The $67,000 surplus, 10th in a row since the Progresssive Conservatives took office in 1943 with Mr. Frost as treasurer, is after assigning through supplementary grants some $50,000,000 of this year's revenue to a variety of projects.

These supplementary grants, to be paid by April 1, include: $30,000,000 for a highway reserve account—$20,000,000 voted at a special session of the legislature last fall and $10,000,000 now; provision of $8,500,000 beyond estimates for debt sinking funds; special capital grants totalling $8,500,000 to hospitals for rehabilitation of worn-cut and obsolete equipment; $1,000,000 for the government-operated superannuation fund for school teachers $1,900,000 in capital grants to universities and $100,000 for the Royal Botanical Gardens at Hamilton.

$50 MILLION EXCESS

Ordinary revenue this year outran estimates by $50,000,000. The total of $354,854,000, biggest on record, compared with a forecast of $304,296,000 in the 1952 budget. Expenditures, including supplementary grants, were $354,787,000 compared with an expected $304,208,000.

The tax agreement reached last year with the federal government gave revenues a $34,327,000 boost.

Ottawa Should Stop Collecting Drink, Smoke Tax

TORONTO (CP)—Premier Frost of Ontario said in his budget address today that the federal government should stop collecting taxes on liquor, cigarets and succession duties and let the provinces take over.

He praised the tax agreement Ontario and the Dominion signed last year, but described it as a "stop-gap" arrangement which must make way for a more satisfactory distribution of tax and revenue sources.

Under the agreement, the province does not levy income or corporation taxes. The federal government pays the province a fixed sum which in the first year was $123,327,000, or $34,000,000 more than the province expected to get from corporation taxes.

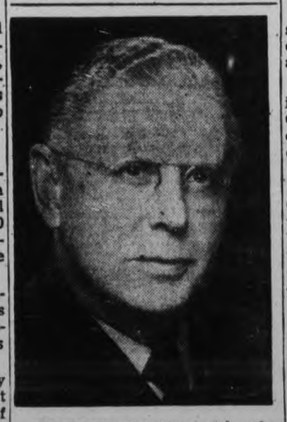
NEED MORE

He said the province must be given more taxation fields if it hopes to continue its heavy program of municipal assistance, which now amounts to about 40 per cent of revenue.

"The provinces and the municipalities require additional revenue and there is probably no other field in which more good would come than from having a single tax authority for liquor," he said.

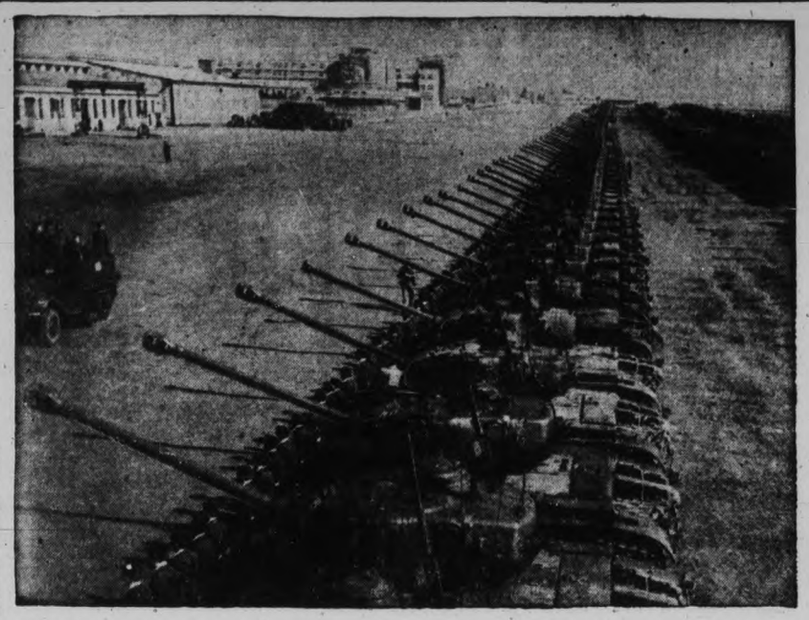
"The provincial government has to deal with the immensely complex problems arising from the liquor business, such as law enforcement and control and the direction of sales, with all their myriad complications."

He said the Dominion-provincial agreement does not provide a solution to the municipal problem, which "is dependent upon a significant shift in revenue and taxes from the federal government to the provinces."



AID INCREASES

Aid to municipalities has increased in the last 10 years from $18,000,000 to $124,900,000. This will take a further jump of $9,000,000 when a new system of unconditional grants takes effect in the coming fiscal year.



"No provincial budget in Canada, nor indeed in America, is slanted towards municipal assistance to such a large extent as ours," he said.

More than one-third of the money paid to municipalities during that time has gone for construction of new roads and buildings and equipment purchases.

In addition, the province is backing municipal expansion by purchasing municipal debentures. Last year $5,064,000 worth were booght by the government, raising the total to $15,419,000.

PREMIER FROST, in his role as provincial treasurer, brought down Ontario's budget today. Only one thing is reasonably sure—there will be no reduction in gasoline tax. Highways Minister Doucett said as much earlier this week.

U.S. EQUIPMENT IN ITALY—Lined up as far as the eye can see, United States-built tanks of Italy's "Ariete" division form an impressive array during a recent review at Verona. The tanks are 44-ton M-47s of the type used by U.S. forces in Korea. This division and another, the "Centaur", have been completely re-equipped with 500 of these tanks, some Pershing tanks and a number of self-propelled guns.

Mint To Strike 3,000,000 Medals For Coronation

OTTAWA (CP)—The Royal Canadian Mint got the go-ahead Wednesday to produce an estimated 3,000,000 Coronation medals to be distributed to Canadian school children.

Announcement that the government has decided to have the medals struck was made in the Commons Wednesday by Finance Minister Abbott, who said they will be distributed to the children through the provinces, which have the responsibility for education.

The medal will probably be bronze, as was the special school children's medal struck in 1939 in connection with the royal visit. That medal bore a likeness of the King and Queen on one side with a map of Canada on the obverse.

In 1927 another bronze medal was struck for distribution to school children to commemorate the 60th anniversary of Confederation.

A coronation medal was struck in 1937 for the coronation of King George VI, but this was not generally distributed among school children.

FIRST STEP

First step in the issuing of the Queen Elizabeth Coronation medal will be the selection of designs for both sides of the coin. The designs will need approval of the special Coronation committee, the Canadian government, and the Queen herself.

Mr. Abbott made the announcement in reply to a question by A. J. Bater (L—The Battlefords).

State Secretary Bradley said Canadian holders of the Victoria Cross and of the George Cross have been informed they will be provided with two seats each in front of Buckingham Palace to view the coronation procession. So far nine Victoria Cross holders have accepted the offer.

No provision has been made for paying the expenses of the VC holders to London.

Budget Highlights

TORONTO (CP)—Highlights of Premier Frost's budget speech in the Ontario legislature today:

Surplus of $67,000 on ordinary account in present fiscal year compared with forecast of $88,000 after payment of $50,000,000 in supplementary grants.

Surplus of $185,000 forecast for new fiscal year ending March 31, 1954, 11th consecutive surplus since Mr. Frost became Ontario provincial treasurer in 1943.

Expenditure of $153,000,000 planned for Ontario highways in 1953.

Special capital grants of $8,500,000 to Ontario hospitals to rehabilitate worn out and obsolete equipment, bringing total hospital assistance in 1952-53 to $22,350,000.

Special capital grants of $1,900,000 to be made immediately to Ontario universities; maintenance grants increased for next year.

Tax agreement signed with federal government in October yields revenue of $123,327,000 compared with $89,000,000 it expected from corporation taxes it vacated under agreement.

Government plans program to abolish level railway crossings, starting with appropriation of $2,000,000.

Grants to municipalities and associated bodies total $121,200,000, an increase of $4,700,000.

Education costs amount to $78,600,000, an increase of $6,200,000, including grants of $58,400,000 for public and separate schools.

Appropriation of $22,000,000 for new provincial buildings, part of $65,000,000 construction program.

Another 25,000 farms to receive hydro-electric service in 1953 at cost of $9,700,000.

Housing appropriation of $10,000,000 for joint programs with federal and municipal governments.

No new taxes and no increases in existing taxes. Race-track tax reduced and minor revisions planned in corporation taxes and succession duties.

Appropriation of $16,500,000 for conservation and plans prepared for conservation works costing $41,000,000 subject to federal government participation.

Net debt $633,192,317, an increase of $78,557,514 last year.

Orangeman Faces Lottery Charge

OTTAWA (CP) — Police confirmed today that Donald Sutherland of Ottawa, grand secretary of the Orange Order for Ontario East, has been charged under the criminal code in connection with a $10,000 draw at the Mountain, Ont., fair next September.

They said new lottery charges will be laid against more Orange Lodge officials shortly.

Mr. Sutherland is scheduled to appear in magistrate's court March 19 on two charges, one of conducting or managing a lottery and the other of participating in a lottery.

District Orangemen have been up in arms about the police action since their homes were raided several weeks ago by morality squad officers in search of lottery tickets. The Orangemen say the draw confirmed with "established practice" and that the proceeds were intended only for charitable purposes.

One report today said the order planned a big protest march in Ottawa July 13. However, a spokesman for the order discounted this. He said the July celebration had been planned long before the Mountain Fair draw had been planned, and the July parade, in which 35,000 had expected to participate, would be "just a bigger parade," perhaps of 50,000.

Charge Hockeyist In Youth's Death

COLLINGWOOD (CP)—A charge of manslaughter will be laid today against Walter Fines, 18, of Aurora in connection with the March 4 hockey-game death of 17-year-old Robert Gillies of Stayner.

Seeking the advice of Attorney-General Dana Porter, Charles Seagram, the acting Crown attorney, was told Wednesday to have a manslaughter charge laid against Fines. Seagram instructed Police Chief Lewis Elliott to lay the charge today.

The police chief said Fines will be apprehended as soon as possible.

A Collingwood constable left for Aurora today. He will escort Fines to Barrie where he is scheduled to appear before Magistrate Gordon Foster for a preliminary hearing.

Gillies died March 4 a few hours after crashing head-first into the boards during a junior C playoff here between Aurora and Collingwood.

Canadian Troops Withdrawn

Training In Reserve Said Geared To Offensive War

SEOUL (CP)— The battle-hardened 1st Commonwealth division was pulled off the Korean front line Jan. 31 and placed in reserve, it was disclosed today.

The 8th army censor released delayed dispatches on the division's withdrawal. It was the first time the division has been given reserve status since it was formed in July, 1951. United States and South Korean divisions are placed in reserve periodically in Korea.

The division is made up of Canadian, British and Australian infantry and supporting arms and services, New Zealand artillery, an Indian medical unit and a small South African officer detachment.

A delayed dispatch by Associated Press correspondent Robert Tuckman dated Feb. 12 said that Lt.-Gen. William Bridgeford, who has since retired as commander of Commonwealth forces in Korea, told reporters he thought the placing of the division in reserve was a "very good thing" and "they are enjoying it."

His successor, Lt.-Gen. Henry Wells, said it enables Commonwealth troops "to get on with training they can't get in the line."

Bridgeford said this training was "all offensive."

DISCOUNT REPORTS

Bridgeford discounted reports that some of the troops were disgruntled over being placed in reserve. He said some men would complain whether the troops were left in the line or pulled off.

Wells said the division is in "grand shape" and the morale high.

Another delayed dispatch by Canadian Press correspondent Bill Boss—dated Jan. 31—said the division was sore about being placed in reserve.

"Commanders and soldiers all down the line were vocal about 8th army headquarters' 'mistaken kindness,'" Boss said. "To the soldiers in the front-line bunkers it appeared a downright injustice.

"They had spent months making their caves comfortable and safe. . . . They had used considerable resourcefullness and initiative to devise the means and acquire the materials to enable them to spend the winter warmly.

IN FROZEN FIELDS

"Instead they were sent out into fields where they had to pitch tents on ground frozen solid to a depth varying between 12 and 14 inches."

Boss added that the soldiers felt they had "done their donkey work for somebody else and had been cheated of the dividends of their

Twin Survives Skull Operation

CHICAGO (AP)—Rodney Dee Brodie, surviving siamese twin, passed a vital milestone Wednesday in his long pull for a normal life when surgeons finally covered his brain completely with skin.

The sealing off of the vital brain tissue virtually removes the main danger of fatal brain infection that has existed since he was separated from his brother Roger in a 12-hour-and 40-minute operation Dec. 17. Roger died Jan. 20.

Doctors now plan to wait from three to six months before inserting an artificial skull top under the skin.

The twins were joined extensively at the tops of their heads and there were no bony roofs on their skulls.

Rodney will be 18 months old Monday.

Plan Strong Protest If Russ Responsible

LONDON (CP) — Britain will make a "very strong protest" to the Russians if it is established that Soviet fighters shot the British plane downed over Germany today, the foreign office announced.

(In Lueneburg, Germany, the attacking planes were identified as Soviet jets.).

The protest will be made through the British high commissioner in Bonn.

St. Laurent To Visit Washington In May

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent of Canada is planning an official visit to Washington May 7-9 to discuss "matters of mutual interest," it was learned today.

A formal announcement is due from the White House and at Ottawa shortly. Authorities look for a general review of current matters of concern to Canada, such as the St. Lawrence river seaway-power development and the future course of U. S. trade and foreign policies.

May Amend Traffic Act To Ban Unsafe Autos

TORONTO (CP)—The Highways Traffic Act may be amended to include penalties for motorists who drive cars with shattered windshields, broken fenders and twisted bumpers, it was learned at Queen's Park Wednesday.

The aim of such an amendment would be to cover cars considered unsafe and yet being within the law by possessing such essential equipment as brakes, windshield-wiper and head and tail lights.

Report Four Killed As Plane Hits Near Zone Border

LUENEBURG, Germany (AP)—Two Soviet jet fighters today shot down a four-engine British bomber near the Soviet frontier between the British and Russian zones of Germany. It was the second attack on Western planes in two days. The pilot of the RAF Lincoln bomber attacked was taken injured to a German hospital, but at least four British airmen were killed. Three bodies were found nearby the wreckage, which landed mostly in this town in the British zone. The navigator, a bullet wound in his shoulder, died of a broken neck enroute to hospital.

Parts of the wreckage were reported to have fallen across the Elbe river in Communist-controlld territory. German eyewitnesses said the attacking planes definitely encroached upon the air of Western Germany.

Two bursts of machine-gun fire were heard and then the bomber blew up, a British official said.

In London, Prime Minister Churchill was informed of the attack and was following details, a spokesman for the Prime Minister said.

RED JET EXPLODES

(Reuters News Agency quoted Berlin airport officials as reporting that a Russian plane exploded in mid-air near where the British plane was attacked. There was no immediate indication whether this report was in any way connected with the shooting down of the British plane.

(Reuters said the West German news agency also said it was believed that a plane which crash-landed and burned near Boizenburg, on the East-German border, was a Soviet-type military training plane).

This was the second time in three days an Allied plane was shot down in Germany. Tuesday, an American jet fighter was destroyed by a Soviet-built MiG-15 from Czechoslovakia.

West German frontier police said they believed six men were aboard the British plane and that four of them parachuted while two crashed.

It was an RAF Lincoln, a propeller-driven Second World War type that is no match for jets. Such planes usually carry a crew of seven. The foreign office said three men bailed out and one later died. This would mean five men died in the attack, if the plane was carrying all seven crew.

A West German policeman said "the fighter planes must have shot at the parachutes of the escaping victims because one parachute had a big bullet hole."

IN RED ZONE

This policeman said eyewitnesses saw an attacking plane over West German territory, but the downed craft apparently fell across the Elbe in Russian-controlled territory.

Civilian airports at Hamburg and Hannover reported no planes were overdue there, and it therefore seemed likely the downed plane was a military aircraft.

Berlin officials ruled out the possibility that the shot-down plane might be carrying East German refugees, by saying none of the planes chartered for the refugee airlift was missing.

The incident came two days after the U.S. Air Force had announced that two MiG-15s from Czechoslovakia had shot down a U. S. jet near the Czech-German border. The pilot in that case bailed out safely. The U.S. has made a protest to Prague. But the Czech government insisted the gunfire occurred over Czech territory, against the testimony of the U. S. fliers.

FELL IN FLAMES

German authorities said the plane was seen to fall in flames near the border between West Germany and Soviet occupied East Germany.

One occupant of the plane was said to have parachuted onto West German territory.

REPORT FOUR KILLED

Witness Claims U.K. Plane Hit Over West Zone

LUENEBERG, Germany (CP)—A police officer who said he saw the falling of the British plane shot down over North Germany today, reported that it was attacked over West German territory.

Police officer Gerhard Golmann gave this account in a phone interview with The Associated Press from Bleckede, Germany:

"We saw a faint vapor trail coming apparently from the Russian zone. It passed over Bleckede. At the same time we heard shooting high in the sky.

"Some people who were watching said they saw two fighter planes shooting at a larger plane, but I did not see this myself.

SHOT BURNING PLANE

"These witnesses said the fighters continued shooting even after the big plane began burning.

"Three crew members were seen to bail out of the falling plane. Two have been found alive.

"One of the two was taken to hospital in nearby Luerburg. He was injured.

"Obviously, the fighter planes must have shot at the parachutes of the escaping victims because one parachute had a big bullet hole.

"We found the warhead of a shell from a 37 millimetre cannon on West German territory.

Fighting Rages Across Korea

SEOUL (AP) — Allied soldiers grappled with Communist troops all across the storm-battered Korean peninsula today.

Winter returned to the rugged eastern front with a vengeance. Front-line reports said howling gales piled snow into 10- to 15- foot drifts. Almost a foot of snow fell in the bleak and barren Heartbreak ridge sector.

Snow, pelting rain and heavy clouds again restricted Allied air attacks.

The heaviest ground fighting erupted before dawn on the central front. An Allied patrol nosed into no man's land and ran smack into a force of 150-175 Chinese Reds.

The Reds quickly surrounded the outnumbered Allies, identified only as Europeans, and closed in for hand-to-hand fighting.

Tourists Say Man, 60, Swept Over Niagara

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP) Three tourists reported Wednesday that they saw an unidentified man "about 60 years old, bald, and clutching a black hat" swept over the brink of Niagara Falls.

Park police said they had been unable to find any trace of the man or clues to his identity.

Flies To Switzerland

Narriman Leaves Farouk, Flies To Swiss Rest Home

ROME (AP)—Egypt's ex-queen Narriman and her mother are flying to Switzerland this afternoon "for treatment and rest"—leaving former king Farouk at their home in exile here.

A spokesman for the ex-king confirmed Narriman's impending departure and gave the explanation. He emphatically denied widespread current rumors that Farouk and Narriman are separating or getting a divorce.

The spokesman said Farouk is remaining at the villa he rents at nearby Grotta-Ferrata.

Presumably the couple's infant son, King Ahmed Fuad II, is remaining here with his father. Trans World Airlines, by which the party will travel, said it had been told there would be no baby along.

Passage was booked to Zurich for Narriman, her mother, Mrs. Sila Sadek, who has been here from Cairo visiting her, and a nurse.

Narriman was treated at a Lausanne clinic last fall for an internal disorder. Her trip then gave rise to rumors that she and Farouk were on the verge of a divorce, but she denied the reports.

Mrs. Sadek's visit here has been accompanied by a new wave of talk of a divorce or separation for her daughter and son-in-law, who were married a little more than two years ago. However, Farouk's secretary branded the reports as "nonsense" Wednesday and pointed out that the couple had been seen together in public repeatedly until a few days ago.

Their year-old son succeeded to his father's Nile kingdom throne when Maj.-Gen. Mohammed Naguib's army coup forced Farouk to abdicate and flee from Egypt last July.

Trigger-Finger Tension

Further Shooting Clashes "Grave Danger"

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. officials said today further shooting clashes between American and Communist aircraft along the Iron Chrtain wohld hold grave danger of setting off an international explosion.

That was a major reason why the latest incident is taken so seriously here. In the kind of trigger-finger tension which now exists in the East - West border country, moreover, there is a serious risk of new clashes.

A Czechoslovak claim that the American jet fighter shot down by a Soviet-made MiG-15 Tuesday was over Czech territory was certain to be scornfully rejected by the U.S.

Informants here and at the U.S. air base at Wiesbaden said there was no doubt that the U. S. plane and a companion jet were patrolling well inside Germany's U. S. zone when two Red aircraft approached and opened fire.

The U. S. swiftly registered an official protest with the Red Czech government at Prague, asserting that the clash took place over West Germany and protesting against a territorial violation.

Prague, as expected, turned down the protest Wednesday and told the American embassy the clash occurred after the U. S. planes had penetrated Czech air space and refused to obey an order to land.

U. S. officials said it was hard to know precisely what significance to attach to the incident. They seemed to doubt that it was a deliberate, overt action on orders from the Red high command. The tendency appeared to be to regard it rather as "one of those things" which happens in an area of high East-West tension.

In such a situation other incidents could well occur. It is that which causes a great deal of apprehension here. Information from the defence department indicates that U. S. pilots are expected to shoot backed and, if unfriendly aircraft invade U. S.-controlled territory, are to enforce an order to land with gunfire if necessary.

One difficulty is that a pilot travelling at 600 miles an hour may sometimes be unable to determine exactly what is home territory and what is not.

Canada May Bar Foreign Lake Ships

No Immediate Action Considered; To Wait For Seaway

By JOHN LeBLANC

OTTAWA (CP)— The government is considering whether Canada's coastal shipping business should be shut off from non-Canadian ships. An inter-departmental committee has been set up, informants said, to study the question for the two coasts, the St. Lawrence river and the Great Lakes.

However, the proposal to restrict coastal shipping to Canadian vessels is only in the study stage and there will be no shutdown on outside ships in the near future.

An informant said there is little probability of restrictive legislation before the construction of the St. Lawrence seaway, due to be finished between four and five years from now if present Canadian plans work out.

WON'T AFFECT WEST

It was understood the committee's studies deal chiefly with the east coast and eastern inland waters—the St. Lawrence and the Great Lakes—and that the Pacific coast would not be largely affected by any decision.

The present situation is that Commonwealth ships have easy access to the Canadian coastal trade—the transport of goods between one point and another in Canada by water—under a Commonwealth shipping agreement. Ships from the U. K. take a sizable part of Canadian coastal business.

The federal government has been under some pressure from Canadian shipbuilding interests—which might benefit from the coastal trade restriction—to clamp down on non-Canadian shipping in the trade between Canadian points.

RELUCTANT

One reason why it has been reluctant to move is that much of the Canadian coastal trade is carried out by British ships and this would involve putting up dollar trade barriers against the British to protect a Canadian industry.

Arguments for the barrier are that the United States, Canada's closest neighbor, holds its coastal trade to U. S.-built and U. S.-operated vessels; and that it would create a demand for Canadian-built ships, which now is low.

Asked for the government view, Transport Minister Chevrier said the government has been giving consideration to the matter for some time.

But to change the situation "would mean that Canada would have to give notice (one year) of withdrawal from the Commonwealth shipping agreement."

"We have no intention of doing that at this time."

British Ambassador Calls On Molotov

MOSCOW (AP)—The British embassy announced ambassador Sir Alvary Gascoigne called on the new Soviet foreign minister, V. M. Molotov, in the Kremlin Wednesday. An embassy spokesman said it was "in the nature of a courtesy call."

The spokesman said ambassador Gascoigne asked for the interview with Molotov and that he went to the Kremlin alone.

Molotov, the spokesman said, had a translator with him.

Mine Rolls On Deck, Explodes German Ship

BERLIN (Reuters) — A mine rolled loose on the deck of an East German torpedo boat in Communist manoeuvres on the Baltic Sea last week and blew the ship up with heavy loss of life, press reports said today.

Another torpedo boat following astern was badly damaged.

Hastings Driver Swerves To Miss Manhole Cover, Hits Two Parked Cars

Total damage to three cars was estimated at $600 when Robert McMillan, 19, RR 3, Hastings, swerved to avoid a storm drain cover and struck two parked cars, one of which was driven ahead and sideswiped a hydro pole.

Most extensive damage was done to the third car, owned by Kenneth J. Anderson; 28, 339 Burnham St., and was estimated at $450. Damage to the other parked car, owned by Jack Nurse, 19, 1 Lansdowne St., was estimated at $70, while approximately $80 damage was done to the car driven by McMillan and owned by Learl Beavis, RR 3, Hastings.

McMillan was driving north on George St. and was entering the Lake St. intersection when he noticed the storm drain cover in the middle of the street. He pulled to the right to miss the cover and struck Nurse's car, pushing it up over the curb.

He then continued north and struck Anderson's car, pushing it up over the curb where it sideswiped a hydro pole.

McMillan told PC William Scott who investigated that he did not see the parked cars and did not know why he swerved to miss the drain cover which was flush with the road. He pointed out to Scott that the other cars were parked in an area where "No Parking" signs were posted.

Charge Boy, 16, In Girls' Deaths

NEW YORK, N.Y. (AP)—A 16-year-old boy admitted today, authorities said, that he lured two little girl schoolmates into a woods near their school and killed them.

The boy, Carleton Mason, denied he attacked the victims sexually but refused to tell his motive, District Attorney John Skahen of Rockland county said.

Coroner M. J. Moses reported an autopsy showed the girls—Esther Nagy, 5, and Marjorie Boudreau, 8—were victims of sodomy.

Esther was stabbed to death and Marjorie died of a brain haemorrhage, caused by a blow on the head. The autopsy also showed evidence of strangulation in both cases, Moses said.

Mason was a member of a search party which found Marjorie's body Sunday night, several hours after she and Esther disappeared. He helped carry Marjorie's body back to the school and gave her artificial respiration. Esther's body was found later.

The district attorney said the boy would be charged with murder later today.

Report Four Killed

Last May an Air France transport flying to West Berlin was attacked by Soviet fighters over East Germany. Four civilians aboard were wounded. The Russians claimed the plane was outside the corridor provided for such flights, but Air France said this was not true.

Last October a U. S. Air Force hospital plane was fired at by a Soviet fighter over East Germany, but reached Berlin unscathed.

U.S. PLANE DOWNED

An unarmed U. S. Navy Privateer plane, with 10 men aboard, was shot down in a flight over the Baltic in April, 1950. Soviet Russia rejected U. S. protests and insisted the plane had penetrated Soviet-controlled territory. Another incident occurred in November, 1951, when a U. S. cargo plane, off course on a flight from West Germany to Belgrade, was forced down in western Hungary.

As the news of today's incident spread, German police said the attack was reported by civilians. The police still were working on the reports, an hour or more after they first received them.

The civilians' reports were to the effect that the British plane was flying from east to west through the Allied air corridor linking Berlin with the Western zones of Germany. Reports said it fell in flames just across the zonal border in East Germany.

Civilian observers gave police this account:

The British plane was flying about 8,000 to 10,000 feet when two fighter planes swooped down on it and fired a burst of shots. A right engine burst into flames and the plane lost altitude.

The attackers fired again and the burning plane glided in a sharp descent across the Elbe river, losing one wing as it fell. Parts of the plane were scattered over a wide area near the border town of Gardsdorf, west of Germany.

The two attacking planes promptly flew off.

British officials in Hannover said they were investigating.

U.S. Dollar At Discount

MONTREAL (CP)—The U. S. dollar was at a discount of 1 15-32 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, the Bank of Canada reported at noon today. Wednesday's noon rate was 98 15-32 cents. Pound sterling $2.77 7-16, against $2.77 11-14.

MORE ABOUT—

$65 Million

The province had budgeted for revenue of $89,000,000 from corporation taxes. It gave these up in the deal and received $123,327,000 from Ottawa. Other major increases: Liquor profits, up $6,000,000 at $42,000,000; gas tax and auto license revenue, up $3,050,00 at $99,080,000; lands and forests, up $2,325,000 at $20,500,000.

For the next fiscal year, ending March 31, 1954, Mr. Frost estimated gross ordinary revenue of $350,994,000 and expenditures of $350,809,000.

NO NEW TAXES

The budget imposed no new taxes nor tax increases. However, it announced some minor tax changes and reductions. Provision will be made for deduction by corporations of special payments to pensions funds for past services to employees to bring Ontario deductions in line with the Dominion's. The Succession Duty Act is being amended to free the first $50,000 of an estate of succession duty when left to widows and immediate relatives. The tax on race track parimutuels, now graded from eight to 12 per cent depending on the amounts wagered, will become a straight eight-per-cent tax. A municipal mortgage tax, applied only in Toronto, York county and Hamilton, is being abolished.

The education bill for the next year was estimated at $78,004,000, an increase of $6,200,000, and Mr. Frost predicted that it may go still higher in future years because population growth, most rapid among school age children and among persons over 60, would demand an increasing expenditure for school construction.

CAR REGISTRY UP

A spectacular increase in motor car registrations—up from 691,615 in 1943 to 1,290,000 last year—made new and improved highways essential, said Mr. Frost.

The $153,000,000 highway spending program would provide $95,000,000 for capital construction and $58,000,000 for outlay on ordinary account including maintenance of highways, department administration, resurfacing of existing roads and grants to municipalities for road maintenance.

A policy aimed at elimination of level railway crossings was announced with an initial appropriation of $2,000,000 to be suplemented by matching grants from the federal government and the railways.

The program includes such items as the approaches to the Burlington bridge at Hamilton, now a bottleneck on the four-lane Queen Elizabeth Way; work on a proposed Alumette Island bridge linking Ontario and Quebec; start of work to ling the iron mining centre of Wawa in the Michipicoten district with the Trans-Canada Highway and Sault Ste. Marie; work on the Atikokan highway, providing a road outlet for the Steep Rock Iron Mine area in Northwestern Ontario.

PUBLIC WORKS

Part of the $65,000,000 public works program was included in previous estimates. This year's budget includes $22,000,000. Projects include more government office space in Toronto; additions to Ontario hospitals at Smiths Falls, Kingston, Brockville, Toronto, London and Orillia; a new mental hospital at North Bay completion of a new mental hospital at Port Arthur additions to the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph and two agricultural schools at Kemptville and Ridgetown additions to land registry buildings at Sudbury and Bracebridge and a new building at Port Arthur provincial police buildings at Port Arthur, Long Lac, Ignace, Chapleau, White River, Sioux Narrows and Missanbi; lands and forest buildings at Mapl e near Toronto and in Sault Ste. Marie and North Bay districts; new teachers' colleges at Toronto and Hamilton; a junior school and hospital buildings at the School for the Blind at Brantford.

An expenditure of $16,500,000 was scheduled on conservation projects in the next year. Plans were ready for flood control and soil conservation projects involving an expenditure of $41,000,000 but a start depended on federal assistance.

$25,000 GET HYDRO

In the present year, some 25,000 more farms got electrical service. Another 25,000 would be added next year at a cost of $9,700,000.

Maintenance grants to universities in the next year would be $6,955,000, an increase of $303,000.

The supplementary capital grants of $8,500,000 to hospitals were based on $400 a bed for each bed on which no capital grant has been paid since April 1, 1947, and $100 a bed for each bed on which a grant has been paid or approved in the last six years. The grants brought hospital assistance this year to $22,350,000.

The estimates included $10,000,000 to carry out the government's housing program in partnership with the federal government which contributes three times the provincial grant. Housing agreements were reached during the year with 15 municipalities and negotiations were being carried on with another 17. The establishment of a new form of metropolitan government for the Toronto area would open the way for housing development where it is needed most.

SUSPEND TAX

Suspension of the Ontario corporation tax under the agreement with the Dominion reduced taxes on corporations to five per cent from seven per cent and also removed special taxes on capital and places of business.

A change in the Succession Duties Act will permit charitable foundations to make grants to bodies that carry on their work on a Canada-wide basis, without losing their status as an Ontario charity free from tax.

The pari-mutuel tax change resulted from an amendment in federal law permitting race tracks to retain nine per cent of all betting pools. Previously their share was on a graduated scale and the Ontario tax was graduated to conform so that tax-plus-track shares of betting pools amounted to 17 per cent. The flat eight-per-cent Ontario levy keeps the total charge against each betting pool at 17 per cent.

TO REPEAL ACT

The Mortgage Tax Act, to be repealed, permitted municipalities with a population of more than 200,000 to tax mortgages at the rate of $1 per $1,000. The cities of Toronto and Hamilton and the county of York, only municipalities to impose the tax, would be reimbursed for loss of revenue in 1953.

Grants to municipalities in the next year would total $121,200,000, an increase of $4,700,000 from this year, exclusive of capital grants. The municipal grants included $300,000 to complete standardization of fire fighting equipment. In the last year, the Ontario municipal improvement corporation, owned by the province, purchased $5,064,000 of municipal debentures issued for waterworks and sewers, bringing its total holdings to $15,419,000.

Mr. Frost said Ontario's credit standing was never higher although the province borrowed $50,000,000 in New York for the Ontario hydro commission and guaranteed hydro issues of $150,000,000 underwritten in Canada.

NET DEBT UP

He reported Ontario's net debt was $633,192,317, up $78,557,514 from a year ago; gross debt $917,105,408, up $90,877,142; funded debt $725,482,500, up $55,209,000; contingent liabilities $726,856,947, up $152,377,-

The budget offered some other facts about Ontario: The provincial products increased in 1952 seven per cent in value and six per cent in physical volume over 1951; births hit a record high of 124,600, an increase of some 10,000; the natural population increase—births minus deaths—established a high of 80,300; by 1954 Ontario population will top 5,000,000; personal income was $6,700,000,000, up $500,000,000; new capital investment was $2,000,000,000, an increase of $250,000,000.

Official forecasts issued by the Dominion public weather office in Toronto at 9:30 a.m.

Synopsis:

The spring-like weather in southern Ontario is in sharp contrast with howling winds, blowing snow and freezing temperatures over Northern Ontario and the Prairie provinces. Temperatures in Northern Ontario dropped up to 30 degrees in a few hours as the cold air pushed southward last night, but it is expected to stall in the Sudbury area during the day. A low pressure area of snow eastward through regions just north of Lake Superior and will bring some of this cold air southward into southern regions late Friday.

Regional forecasts valid until midnight Friday:

Lake Erie, Lake Huron, Lake Ontario, Niagara, southern Georgian Bay, southern Haliburton regions; Windsor, London, Toronto, Hamilton cities: Cloudy with a few showers today and Friday. Mild, turning colder late Friday. Winds south 15 becoming northwest 15 Friday afternoon. Low tonight and high Friday at Windsor 45 and 50, St. Thomas, London, Toronto, St. Catharines and Hamilton 45 and 55, Wingham and Trenton 45 and 50, Muskoka 40 and 50. Summary for Friday: A few showers and mild.

Toronto Market Remains Weak

TORONTO (CP) — Prices weakened in early afternoon stock market trading today, led by golds.

Volume for the first three hours totalled 2,667,000 shares.

Senior golds led the losses and Hollinger dropped more than half a point. Junior producers weakened on a list of small losses holding companies remained firm.

Uraniums weakened as Gunar and others slipped. Bonville, however, held firm in a turnover of more than 288,000 shares. Brunswick made a good gain in Bathurst area issues but New Larder U made little headway. Among the Northern Ontario rare metal prospects, Inspiration slipped while Tungsten added pennies.

A good majority of small gains raised Western Oils. Canada southern and Gas Exploration were leaders while Gridoil slipped.

Manufacturing companies and papers were weak in industrials while miscellaneous issues showed some strength.

Higher-priced and other base metals turned lower. Eastern Metals a recent good gainer, dropped pennies in a turnover 150,000 shares. East Sullivan, United Asbestos and Falconbridge slipped.

Calls Emergency

LONDON (AP)—Informed sources said Prime Minister Churchill has called an emergency conference of high government officials tonight to discuss the shooting down of a British bomber by Soviet jets in Germany.

Driving Charges Dismissed, 4 Children Hit

Magistrate W. R. Philp today dismissed charges of careless and reckless driving against Lawrence J. Wilson, 17, 1023 Brewer St., which arose when Wilson struck four public school pupils who were on their way to Prince of Wales School on the morning of February 20.

None of the children were seriously injured. There were Margaret Blackwood, 7, and her two brothers, Donald, 10, and Carrie, 8 of 96 Stewart St., and John Davis, 9, 261 Townsend St. The children received a shaking up and were released from Civic Hospital in time to return to school the same afternoon. John Davis was also treated for a bruise on his back.

Ten-year-old Donald Blackwood gave unsworn evidence in police court today that he and his three companions were walking to school on Rubidge St. when they were struck by the car from behind.

"We heard a dog bark and then the car hit us," Donald said.

DOG RAN OUT

Dennis Dorrington, a passenger in Lawrence's car, said that they were driving to school when a dog ran out on the street in front of them.

"The dog didn't know what to do and ran around in circles," Dorington said. "Larry put on the brakes and skidded onto the sidewalk.

Cross-questioned by defense counsel Robert Carley, Dorrington said that Wilson had not been in any hurry and was driving about 20 miles an hour on the slippery pavement.

PC Harold Andrew, who investigated, said that there was ice on the pavement and there were skid marks about 30 feet long. He said that the car had come to a stop astride the sidewalk with its front wheels on the lawn.

"I don't think there's sufficient evidence to warrant a charge of dangerous driving," Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw submitted and counsel agreed to adopt the evidence already given in hearing the careless driving charge.

"I submit there's not one scrap of evidence that indicates any lack of care or attention on the part of the accused," Mr. Carley argued. "It's something that could have happened to any driver in Peterborough."

SPEED SAFE?

"There is evidence that the streets were icy and the accused was driving 20 miles an hour," Mr. Bradshaw countered. "It's a question of whether or not that was a safe speed under the circumstances. There was a civil action in Western Ontario about two years abo when it was held that swerving to avoid a dog was not justified."

"That may be so in a civil action but the crown has to go beyond that to show carelessness," the magistrate ruled. "As for his speed, the accused stopped within a reasonable time and I can't see that his speed was excessive."

Addressing the parents of the children, His Worship said that the fact that the children were injured had nothing to do with the way the car was being driven.

"We cannot look at the consequences in a criminal action," the magistrate continued. "If death had resulted, it would have made little difference under the first charge as far as negligence is concerned.

"It was a very narrow escape and the driver was very fortunate but there is no evidence that he was driving at an excessive rate of speed."

High School Student Licensed Pilot

MACDONALD, Man. (CP)—A 17-year-old high school student in this town, 20 miles northwest of Portage La Prairie, is probably one of Canada's youngest licensed pilots.

Douglas Fulton, who lives at Oakland, nine miles from here, recently received his licence at the Portage Flying Club and has logged more than 40 hours flying time. Doug was 17 in November.

The boy's father, Russell Fulton, an Oakland farmer, things Doug will make a career of flying. He drives nine miles to school each morning and has included algebra and diesel engineering in his course of study. He is an active athlete with a fine reputation as a baseball player. His winter activities consist of hockey and curling.

investment." The division's positions between the Hook and Little Gibraltar—on the western front west of Chorwon—were taken over by the U.S. 2nd division.

Although the division was formed in July, 1951, Commonwealth troops went on the firing line much earlier. Initially, they were organized in two brigades and later in three brigades.

They took part in some of the great battles of the Korean war. The fights included the Naktong breakthrough in September, 1950, the advance into North Korea later in the same year and the battle of the Imjin river in April, 1951, in which the famed Gloucesters were surrounded and annihilated.

CANADIANS

The 25th Canadian brigade—some 6,000 men—is part of the Commonwealth division. It comprises three infantry battalions—the Royal Canadian Regiment, the Royal 22nd Regiment and the 3rd battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

The Canadians were out of the line for a short time last November after undergoing 31 days of constant enemy shelling.

During the winter the Princess Patricias carried out probably the most daring piece of defensive field work of any of the Allied forces—building barbed wire barricades within 75 yards of Chinese Communist positions. At the time the Patricias were dug in on the Hook, a hill about 150 feet high but so shaped that the enemy can observe it both fore and aft.

Charge Senator Influenced B.C. Government

VICTORIA (CP) — Documents were filed in the British Columbia legislature Wednesday purporting to show that the previous Liberal government junked plans to decontrol milk prices after a protest from Liberal Senator J. W. Farris.

Kenneth Kiernan, Social Credit agriculture minister who filed the documents, claimed one quoted Senator Farris as saying he (Senator Farris) had a "large personal interest in the matter."

W. T. Straith (L—Victoria), education minister in the last Liberal administration, said Mr. Kiernan was using "mean, miserable and unfair" tactics.

He said the Liberal cabinet had received scores of protests from both distributors and producers after the provincial milk board had made known its plan to lift price controls.

STUDIED PROTESTS

He said the cabinet had studied the protests for two days and then had decided that decontrol would cause such an uproar that it would have the milk board hold public hearings.

Less than three hours after the ruckus, the balance-of-power Liberals supported the minority government to defeat 24 to 21 a CCF motion that a report on education costs prepared by the previous administration be filed. It was the third time in two weeks Liberal support had prevented collapse of the administration.

Mr. Kiernan filed affidavits showing that the milk board informed distributors Jan. 21, 1952 that it intended to remove controls above the producer level 11 days later.

READS TELEGRAMS

He then read three telegrams, dated Jan. 24, 1952, which he said were signed by Senator Farris of Vancouver. He said the telegrams—text of each was the same—had been sent to Byron Johnson, then premier, Attorney-General Gordon Wismer and Agriculture Minister Harry Bowman.

Mr. Kiernan quoted the telegrams as saying, in part, that Senator Farris had a "large personal interest in the matter" and requesting that the cabinet not ratify decontrol plans of the milk board.

He then read a clipping from the Jan. 25, 1952, issue of the Vancouver Daily Province which said decontrol plans had been scrapped.

DECLINE COMMENT

Senator Farris and Mr. Johnson declined immediate comment.

Most distributors have opposed lifting of milk price controls, which the Social Credit government has said it intends to do May 1.

Mr. Kiernan said he was filing the documents "without comment."

Later, however, he said: "We do not deny the privilege of special interests trying to maintain a preferred position. But we do assert the right and duty of this government to act in the best interests of all the people of this province."

Needs Striking, Problem Is To Find Goods

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

A good treatment for the business blues is to take a look at the need for things which is building up in the world.

The only trouble is that the treatment may scare you when you try to figure out where all the things will come from.

Richard B. McEntire, commissioner of the United States securities and exchange commission, in an address Wednesday to the Prospectors and Developers Association in Toronto, gave some striking figures on what the U.S. alone may need.

Many Americans, he said, have found it difficult to understand that raw materials can be a problem. "We have lived in a tradition of abundance; not more than 100 years ago our resources seemed limitless."

AROUSED U.S.

Last year's report by the president's materials policy commission however, "has aroused Americans to an acute awareness of some of the simple economic realities which face us." Here are some of them, as given by Mr. McEntire:

"The U. S., with 10 per cent of the world's population and eight per cent of its land area, now consumes almost half the free world's volume of materials.

"If, for example, all the copper that has ever been discovered in the U. S. were still in its raw state, at the rate of consumption projected for us in 1975, that copper would last only 25 years. On the same basis, by 1975, all the lead we ever had would last only 18 years; all the zinc would be exhausted in 30 years. . .

"It would, of course, be foolish to attempt to cast the U. S. in the role of being a 'have not' nation. Many minerals are still abundant in the U. S. and, geologists agree, we still have vast hidden mineral resources." However:

"Extensive as our resources are, when measured alongside the tremendous consumption that we have developed, and give every indication of continuing to develop, our resources appear to shrink noticeably."

Predicts Tripled Sale Of Plastics

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—Sales of plastic products in the United States and Canada will triple in volume by 1960, with the greatest advance coming in the field of plastic materials for structural use, a leading chemical company executive said here Wednesday night.

Dr. Frank K. Schoenfeld, technical vice-president of B. F. Goodrich Chemical Company, Cleveland, told members of the Society of Plastics Industry of Canada that plastics already are beginning to invade the structural materials field.

He described plastics as the "most versatile structural materials known" and said that some products are now competing with lumber, glass, light metals, ceramics, iron and steel in many applications.

37 Cents' Income Tax

Cash income from Canadian farms being about two and a half billion dollars a year, one might think that farming is not unprofitable. However, income tax returns tell a sad and very different story. For instance, in the rich farm land of Prince Edward Island only 80 farmers seemed to have enough income to be liable for income tax in 1950. In the entire great province of Quebec only 360 farmers paid income tax that year. These undoubtedly included wealthy Montreal businessmen who operate farms as hobbies. Farming in Ontario seemed to pay slightly better, for 9,610 farmers in this province paid income tax in 1950.

* * *

Our figures are old because the annual governmental analysis of taxation statistics for 1950—a complex matter to compile—has only recently been published. But the figures are true enough to this year's conditions to have roused Mr. Hazen Argue, a C.C.F. Member of Parliament from Saskatchewan, to raise questions on the floor of the House last week. Mr. Argue did not limit his reckoning to those farmers who paid income tax. He divided the income and taxes paid among all farmers, province by province. He found Ontario farmers' plight even worse than we have indicated. In fact, he disclosed that, on the average, Ontario farmers paid $12.60 income tax during the year.

* * *

The farmers of Quebec are much worse off than the farmers in Ontario. Mr. Argue found that Quebec farmers, on the average, paid 37 cents income tax during the year.

* * *

What set Mr. Argue, a representative of a farming community, into his calculations was not a wish to sympathize with the poor Quebec and Ontario farmer, but to grieve over a discrepancy in tax payments between western farmers and eastern farmers. Mr. Argue calculated farm income from other than taxation statistics. Against these he set the taxes paid, on the average, by each farmer. Here is his table—we give the farmer's average net income first, and in brackets, the amount of income tax he paid: Alberta, $2,804 ($58.96); Saskatchewan, $2,367 ($30.95); B.C., $1,598 ($26.66); Ontario, $3,065 ($12.60); Manitoba $2,412 ($12.18); Nova Scotia, $1,002 ($1.19); New Brunswick, $1,266 ($0.64); P.E.I., $1,273 ($0.49) and Quebec $1,876 ($0.37).

* * *

This table makes obvious what is distressing the Western M.P. The farmers of Alberta with much less income than Ontario farmers, pay the highest tax. Saskatchewan farmers are also nicked for much more. The high tax figures for Western farmers are not so much an indication that the golden prairies pay better than the uplands and valleys of Ontario (they do not), as they are a result of government cash payment for crops. Ontario farmers in the main do not market their goods through government boards. Western wheat farmers do—and the Government's taxation officers know, without the farmer having to tell them, how much cash Western farmers get for their wheat.

* * *

Western farmers, like wage earners in industry where the tax, by law, is deducted by the employer, are seldom able to cover up much of their cash income. Perhaps, therefore, it may be assumed that Ontario, Quebec and Maritime farmers are not as hard up as their income tax returns show.

A Rootless Generation

Speaking recently at a function celebrating the 75th anniversary of the University of Western Ontario, the Governor General called the youth of today "a rootless generation." His speech, and this phrase in particular, has been the subject of widespread comment in England. What disturbs Mr. Massey obviously disturbs a great many other people, as well.

A rootless generation? Perhaps so. The young people of the early 'twenties liked to think of themselves as "a lost generation," using a phrase which had been applied in a more specific way by Gertrude Stein. Postwar generations seem to be falling into a pattern which their serious elders do not like. Mr. Massey is particularly apprehensive of the state of mind which finds its expression in such catch-phrases as "So what?" and "I couldn't care less."

We do not like these phrases either, but we fear that they cannot be fought with disapproval. The parents of the young people of today must bear a great part of the blame if their children are really apathetic and cynical. After all, the wisdom and good faith of those who have created the modern world are not wholly impressive to the young. Two immense wars in thirty years is a bad record; the Great Depression, about which many older people still groan retrospectively, looks to the young of today like bad management and folly; if the attitude of the young is cynical, the middle-aged and old cannot escape some censure.

Further, the enthusiasm of the young, where it exists, is too often seriously abused by their elders. This is an age when anyone who shows himself even mildly interested in public service of any kind will soon find that he is being worked to death by a dozen organizations, many of which appear to exist chiefly in order to create activity, and nothing more useful. Is it any wonder that "I couldn't care less" has become a stock answer to many outbursts of enthusiasm? The young are not all fools; some of them are remarkably clear-eyed.

When we have admitted that the cynicism of youth has been caused by the follies of their elders, we must also admit that cynicism itself is a defeatist attitude of mind. When it becomes ingrained, it destroys not only what is false and cheap, but what is true and good, as well. However, we are inclined to think well of youth, and to trust its intelligence. Not all the young people of today are cheap cynics; not all of their elders are charlatans. We can only trust that the more intelligent and morally tough elements in each generation will find common cause and work together for the betterment of mankind. The Governor General has done well to remind a group of educators and young people of a danger, and the hope which is inseparable from all danger.

Grave Incident

The Americans report that an American jet fighter was shot down over the U.S. zone of Germany Tuesday by two Russian-built planes based on Czechoslovakia. Washington has made a strong protest to Prague. It is considered to be a grave incident, and perhaps the first of other such Communist air intrusions.

Yet such an attack should not be thought a spark which will ignite the powder keg of Europe. No powerful nation today will permit a stray spark to set its war charges off, unless it deliberately wishes to do so. The grave aspect of the attack, as we see it, is that Communist MiG-15 jets outmanoeuvred the American F-84 Thunder jet. Our report yesterday stated that neither the pilot of the destroyed plane nor the pilot of an accompanying Thunder jet was able to fire a shot, although both their machines carried ammunition. "The U.S. planes were slower, too, and less powerfully armed than their Red adversaries."

The "accidental" intrusion may have been a riposte for the MiG-15 brought down undamaged recently in Copenhagen by a Russian pilot escaping from service in Poland. If so, it was an uninformative one for the Communists, since the American jet was destroyed and its pilot parachuted to safety in Western Germany.

We recall another incident, of an American plane being shot down behind the Iron Curtain. It was a transport plane which had, the Americans said, lost its way. It was unarmed. The crew were captured and kept in jail on the theory that they had been spying on the Reds. Their freedom had to be bought by the U.S. Government—for $100,000 of American taxpayers' money.

March Days

On such a mild and showery day as this one almost forgets that winter ever was—even though it was winter snappy and white only three days ago. The snows are going and March 17th is just the other side of next weekend. There is a local superstition that there is always a last big fall of snow on or about St. Patrick's day. We may be too early in saying farewell to winter now, considering that most of this winter has been mild, March has been cold and that there could be a stormy retaliation for the mild January and February, even now. However, today looks like March and winter's ebb, so we give you Archibald Lampman's sonnet In March, which beautifully and precisely describes such a Southern Ontario time as this:

The sun falls warm: the southern winds awake:
The air seethes upwards with a steamy shiver:
Each dip of the road is now a crystal lake,
And every rut a little dancing river.
Through great soft clouds that sunder overhead
The deep sky breaks as pearly blue as summer:
Out of a cleft beside the river's bed
Flaps the black crow, the first demure new-comer.
The last seared drifts are eating fast away
With glassy tinkle into glittering laces:
Dogs lie asleep, and little children play
With tops and marbles in the sun-bare places;
And I that stroll with many a thoughtful pause
Almost forget that winter ever was.

THE AMERICAN SCENE

U.S. Has Too Much Butter

By KENNETH HARRIS

AMERICA may soon start "buttering up" her friends, not in the sense of flattering them, but in the literal sense of the term. She may send them free, repeat free, thousands of tons of butter which have been stock-piled as a result of the Government's price-support programme for America's dairy-farmers.

How much butter the Government has bought since just after the war in order to prevent surpluses on the market driving down the off-the-farm price is not known, but more than eighty-eight million pounds have been purchased in the last three months. Prices look so wobbly in the foreseeable future that there seems no prospect of the Government's being able to put any of this butter back on to the market.

✧ ✧ ✧

UNLESS this great mountain of butter—actually it is distributed all over the continent in several sizeable hillocks—is to be allowed to putrify or to be tipped into the sea, something has got to be done with it. Representative Anderson, who, as chairman of the House of Representatives Agricultural Appropriations Committee, is a powerful man in the butter business, has suggested three methods. Two are already in use—"donating" butter to help the school-meals programme, and supplying butter to the Armed Forces to replace the oleomargarine now being consumed as—oddly enough—a result of the economy drives of 1947. Anderson wants these methods used more extensively.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE third method he describes in his own words: "Actual giving away of butter to people in certain friendly nations who might be entitled to relief from us: we could also make a lot available to the South Koreans." CARE—the voluntary organization which has so far distributed more than 150 million dollars-worth of food and clothing—has offered to do the job.

The butter support situation is becoming more and more difficult. During the last two years, particularly since margarine manufacturers have been allowed to dye margarine a rich yellow instead of having to leave it looking horribly pale, the sale of margarine has rocketed up and that of the genuine article has plummeted down. But since the farmers were among the groups who swung from the Democratic to the Republican side in the last election, nobody will pluck up the courage to cut the butter subsidies.

Butter is the most striking example of what the price support programme is inflicting on the government and ultimately on the taxpayer. But it is not the only example. The government is also holding 262 million bushels of corn, 236,000 bales of cotton, and 124 million bushels of wheat.

✧ ✧ ✧

AS WELL as being a headache for the American government, the farm-price support programme is providing a much more serious headache for the governments of other countries—particularly Britain and other Commonwealth countries, who want "Trade Not Aid" from the United States.

Cheese, rather than butter, is the best example of this kind of problem. Some time ago, a big American firm which specializes in processing cheese, bought several million tons of cheese from New Zealand, at a price very much cheaper than the artificially-supported price of American cheese. They processed the cheese and sold it.

✧ ✧ ✧

ITS COMPETITIVE price tended, of course, to decrease the demand for similar American-produced cheeses. When the indignant cheese lobby discovered what was happening, they complained bitterly.

The solution proposed by these rugged individualists of the cheese-world, however, was not to cut the cheese subsidies so that Americans had to produce their cheese at more competitive prices but to demand that the import barriers against cheese from New Zealand be increased. Unfortunately, this subsidy-tariff tie-up is not confined to the dairy-farming front. It is a problem to be encountered in many other commodities.

✧ ✧ ✧

IN "SOUTH Pacific", the great American musical by Rodgers and Hammerstein, there is a song sung by a young American officer who, having fallen in love with a coloured girl, becomes infuriated with the race prejudice with which even his own romance is tainted. He bursts into passionate song, arraigning the way in which race prejudice is inculcated in children. The song includes lines like:

"You've got to be taught to be afraid,
Of people whose eyes are oddly made,
Of people whose skin is a different shade..
You've go to be taught before it's too late,
To hate all the people your relatives hate."

A couple of local politicians down in the State of Georgia, a part of the Deep South where the colour bar is rigorously enforced, have decided that this song is "under-cover propaganda", "justifies inter-racial marriage", and has an "underlying philosophy inspired by Moscow." They proposed to submit a Bill to the Georgia State Legislature outlawing plays, shows and movies containing such teachings, and to prevent future showings of "South Pacific" in Georgia.

✧ ✧ ✧

MR. HAMMERSTEIN, who wrote the libretto for "South Pacific," was interviewed by the press, "I don't think those two represent the people of Georgia very well," he said, "since the play is sold out and this is the first protest we have heard of. It's not under-cover propaganda," he continued, "it's a perfectly open protest against racial prejudice, and if they don't like it, that's too bad." Finally, he said he was "surprised by the idea some people seemed to have that anything kind and humane must necessarily originate in Moscow."

Mr. Hammerstein seems to have put the case very well, not only for himself and "South Pacific" but for the hundreds of thousands of Americans who have applauded the play as one of the best American musicals ever written, and that particular song as one of the most moving in it.

✧ ✧ ✧

AMERICANS are always inquiring after Britain's fogs and smogs as though the beastly stuff did not exist on the American continent. On the contrary it does. Smog, in fact, has become an issue in —though not a product of— a mayoral election, which is more than it ever has in Britain. And in what city do you think this has happened? Dirty old Pittsburg, racketty Chicago or industrial Detroit? No, it has happend in that land of perpetual sunshine, cooling breezes, and gently waving palms, Los Angeles, famous neighbour of Hollywood, so-called suntrap of California.

Supporters of the Mayor scoffed when his opponent in the coming elections blamed him for not doing something about the Smog, answering that the Smog couldn't be controlled, since it was really not Smog but Fog. At that point, however, a plant pathologist in charge of air pollution research at a local university came up with figures that proved that the stuff was Smog, and that it was doing damage to local market-gardens at a rate which local experts quickly calculated as equal to several thousand votes.

✧ ✧ ✧

IN LOS ANGELES there is, apparently, a layer of hot air at a distance of twelve hundred feet above the ground (I would have thought the hot air in Los Angeles was on, not above, the ground.) This hot air prevents much up and down movement in the atmosphere. So, what happens, it seems is this: the factories of Los Angeles— most of them put up during the last war— belch up their sixteen hundred tons of hydrocarbons a day into the air. The pleasant breezes of Los Angeles, unable to blow the hydrocarbons upward through the hot air layer, blow them out to sea. There they hang around for a day or two until incoming breezes, at a higher level, blow the whole lot back again. This would seem fair enough, if the returning smoggage fell back on the places it originated from. In fact, however, the incoming breezees push it out of line a bit, and the whole day's yield gently decants itself on the crops of the enraged market-gardeners. Even Los Angeles has it problems.

YUGOSLAVIA TODAY III

By RICHARD LOWENTHAL

Workers Manage And Share Profit

IT IS now two and a half years since Marshall Tito personally introduced the law transferring management of Yugoslavia's nationalized workshops to councils elected by their "Workers' Collectives". The slogan that "in Yugoslavia, the factories belong to the workers" must not be taken too literally; the language of the law, describing them as "people's property administered by the Workers' Collectives", is more precise.

The Yugoslav Communists have not gone anarcho-syndicalist; each plant has still to operate within the framework of a national plan which fixes the total output for its industry and its wage level. Under the old system of detailed administrative planning from the centre, Workers' Management had little practical meaning, because there was so little scope for the management of any particular unit of production. Only last year, since the introduction of decentralized planning, with competition on the market, restored the initiative of individual managements, have the "Workers' Councils" been able to assume their full responsibility.

What has emerged is a combination of "democratized" management with profit-sharing in capitalist countries, but never has there been an attempt to combine the two.

Under the Yugoslav system, each plant which employs more than fifty people annually elects a workers' council, of fifteen to one hundred and twenty members, according to the total employed. The council —or in small units, the full meeting of workers and employers—in turn elects a management committee of three to eleven members, of which the manager—at present still appointed by higher authority—is an ex-officio member. This committee proposes to the full council the yearly production programme, the schedule of wage scales by which a given sum is distributed among the various jobs and the collective use or distribution of any "profits", i.e. any net revenue, over and above the contractual payroll, remaining after the fixed share of contributions for social and reserve funds, and for the state budget, has been deducted. It also settles current questions of production and sales policy, of expenditure for safety devices and health measures, of hiring and firing, and reports to the full council on its stewardship. It has not, however, direct executive power; the execution of all decisions rests with the manager and the departmental heads; and the committee members, three-quarters of whom must be manual workers, have to obey them outside the meeting, just like anybody else.

TO judge the system and its drawbacks, one has to bear in mind the composition of the Yugoslav labour force; the small number of experienced industrial workers, the large share of peasants fresh from the plough and still thinking of an early return to their village, the high degree of fluctuation among these new workers, the lack of a tradition of industrial discipline and care of machinery among them. When Tito first introduced the works council law, he did not evade the apparent contradiction between the mature sense of responsibility it required from the workers and their actual low average cultural level but went out of his way to emphasize it; precisely because the Yugoslav working class consisted largely of semi-peasants, he said, this was the way to raise their cultural level and to awaken their sense of responsibility—by giving them a stake in the factory, which might in time replace their old pride and possession in their land.

Here as in other fields, then, Yugoslavia has tried to solve a problem similar to that of Soviet Russia, but by different methods; to achieve the industrial education of backward peasants not by mass forced labour and by every means of pressure and compulsion, but by a new system of incentives. The point is not, as is sometimes wrongly stated, that the Yugoslav workers fix their own wages—the wage level is fixed by the national plan and the minimum wages law; the works council only distributes a given pay-roll by a kind of democratic job-evaluation—but that they have the chance collectively to earn higher wages, by the reducing of production costs and the speeding up of turnover, the increased revenue being then distributed.

THERE are dangers also in this incentive system. Some works' councils are trying to avoid the cost of necessary safety devices, and many tend to dismiss women workers, because the special rules for protecting their health, and their greater rate of absenteeism, increase costs. The trade unions, whose approval is needed both for the wage scale schedules and for dismissals, have intervened in a number of such cases to protect the workers against too narrow-minded workers' councils, and are now proposing that works employing many women should receive a corresponding tax reduction, as the officially desired increase in the female labour force will otherwise be indefinitely delayed.

The comparative success of the system of workers' management does not mean, of course, that all the workers take an active interest in it, or that there is no friction between the management committees and the appointed managers. Although the big councils are meeting on an average once a fortnight, and comprise members from each workshop in a large plant, many workers hardly know that they exist; and sometimes, of course, council members are mere bored onlookers at the meeting. Cases are also reported of managers—themselves risen from the working class after the revolution—who object to "committee interference" in their job, and have finally had to be removed because of their uncooperative attitude; and there are, on the other hand, eager but inexperienced young Communists who tend to flout the managers' executive authority by running things directly.

But as the number of people qualified for leadership is naturally limited in each plant, the question remains as to whether such rigid "antibureaucracy" will not in the long run prove a brake on efficiency, and whether a frank recognition that there must be some polarity between the leaders and the rank and file in every big producing unit would not be healthier. But that question leads to the chief contrast between the systems of Yugoslavia and of the Western world in the industrial field—the role of the trade unions.

Letters To The Editor

WRONG NUMBER NUISANCE

Sir: The Bell Telephone is beyond a doubt one of the most valued, most useful and most efficiently conducted public services of this modern age and its employees are well-trained, courteous, painstaking, and at times show a degree of patience almost beyond belief.

However regardless of all that ingenuity and mechanical science has done to perfect the 'phone, nothing has been done or ever can be done to check the not too careful subscriber who calls the wrong number.

When two phones have similar numbers and one is a much used business phone the number of errors made by the public calling the wrong phone is almost unbelievable.

A situation that inspired the following verses.

Ding-A-Ling Ding-A-Ling,
I think I hear the phone
Someone wants to call a cab,
Someone far from home.

Ding-A-Ling Ding-A-Ling,
The call may be for me
A hop downstairs is what it means
I guess I'll go and see.

Ding-A-Ling Ding-A-Ling,
I often hate the sound
I wonder if they ever think
I may not be around.

Ding-A-Ling Ding-A-Ling,
The distance seems a lot;
The stairs the hall the living-room
I wish the thing would stop.

Ding-A-Ling Ding-A-Ling,
If they would read the book!
Before they use the telephone
Or lift it from the hook.

Then Ding-A-Ling Ding-A-Ling
Would always be for me
They would not try to call a cab
Where a cab will never be.

Yours,
CONSTANT READER.

WOULD CONTRIBUTE AGAIN

Dear Sir: You wanted to know whether hockey fans could stand another touch to get the much-delayed Community Centre started immediately.

I will, for one, (of course I can't afford it!) if it is to be an immediate project. I'm not interested in any vague plans for nine, or even two years hence.

As to the suggested location at the edge of the city rather than in Morrow Park: Why not? Like lots of others, I journeyed to watch hockey this year at Belleville, Stouffville, Kingston, Oshawa, Marmora, Norwood, Havelock, Lakefield, Warsaw and of course Toronto. I don't think the location would be a stumbling block to the adults. I'm not quite sure, though, about the youngsters. Or would the present rink still be run?

Writing letters won't help— what can we do to get this thing going?

LOUISE KIMBALL.

A THOUGHT FOR COMMUNITY CHEST WEEK

Sir: While reading Robert Collier's "The Life Magnet", I came across these lines which are, I believe, appropriate during the fund-drive of our Community Chest Services:

"I will give to every worthy cause, whatever may seem right and good in Your sight. Not as a bargain with You. Not to put in a nickel and pull out a dollar. But as a token of real thankfulness for all You have done for me, as a proof of my serene confidence in Your continuing supply. I will act as Your channel, carrying the good things of life from their Infinite Source to those who need them. I will not stint myself or others. I will drink deeply of the waters of the well, yet give just as generously to others, knowing there is no limit to the Supply—that the more good outlets I find, the greater will be the inflow."

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

For we know in part, and we prophesy in part. But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away.

When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child: but when I became a man, I put away childish things. For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known. (I Cor. 13: 9-12.)

"'Tea, SIR?' 'Please, MISS—and me been drinking tea for two years so's I could get to know her Christian name."

Grove Victorious

Grove's first hockey team of Lakefield took a 5-1 hockey win over TSC firsts in Port Hope on Wednesday afternoon in an exciting tilt. Play was real fast throughout with 10 penalties handed out as the boys fought hard for the verdict.

T. Rydner counted first for Lakefield from Bill Rashleigh a passout. Ramsay made it 2-0 from Oliver on a smart rush in close. TCS got their goal early in the second with a terrific shot by Brown from the blue line. Grove came back with Whittemore scoring in a scramble, Ramsay earning an assist. The final 20 minutes saw wide-open play with Grove pressing, Oliver going around the net to tally and Staples flipping one to T. Rydner for the last marker in a rougher session. It was a prep school league game. Teams:

Grove: Goal, Hellyer; defence, Whittemore, MacDonald; centre, Uren; wings, Ramsay, Oliver; alternates, T. Rydner, A. Ryder, Rashleigh, Little, Pearce, Staples, VanBuskirk.

TCS: Goal, Lafleur; defence, Higgins, Johnson; centre, Tepencier; wings, Osler, Yale; alternates, Church, Mills, Burns, Giffen, Seagram, Donald, Arnold, Brown, Scott.

African Customs Related To WMS

WESTWOOD— (ENS) —The March meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Church was held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. S. Sargent.

Mrs. Sargent was convener of the program on the theme "Community of Grace" and was assisted by Mrs Rendle Dickson, Mrs. Hilliard Neilson, Mrs. John Davidson, Mrs. Ernest Warner, Mrs. Steven Elmhirst and Mrs. William Breckenridge.

Description of African customs were told by Mrs. A. Wood and Mrs. James Clysdale.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Clayton Brackenridge, the first vice-president conducted the business and prayer was offered by Mrs. William Breckenridge.

The hostess served lunch.

K-W Tie Series Beat Mercs 3-2

KITCHENER (CP) — Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen tied the best-of-seven finals of the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A series 1-1 Wednesday night by defeating Owen Sound Mercurys 3-2.

The third game will be played in Owen Sound Saturday night.

Dutchmen spotted the Mercs a pair of first-period goals and then rallied to tie the game in the second. They took a desperate gamble in the final minute of the game when coach Bob Rafferty sent out five forwards but it paid off.

Bobby Schnurr took Maurice Leveque's passout from behind the net and scorched home a 20-footer with only 29 seconds left.

Buck Forslund pushed a bouncing puck between Woodall's legs on the first Mercury rush of the game. Then Woodall seemed to steer the puck into his own goal on a scoring effort by Jaydee McArthur at 19:36.

Dutchmen tied it up in the second. Don Bauer scored at :55 seconds when he sank a rebound while the Dutchmen had a two-man advantage. Harry Psutka shot home a 50-footer at 10:30.

Ralph Hosking of Owen Sound and Schnurr drew majors for a first-period fight. Harvey Jacklin got one for drawing blood on Art Hayward in the second.

Grove Seconds Win

Lakefield Grove seconds defeated TCS 3-2 in a neat exhibition hockey game yesterday in Port Hope. Ross scored early from Boughner for TCS with Cline evening it up later on a pass from Grey. Seagram put Trinity up in the second from Budge in a scramble, but Grove fought back to tie it as Creelman rapped the puck home in a scramble, Caldwell and Calderwood aiding. Creelman got the winning goal on a hot shot a little later. Neither side counted in the keen third chapter, both goalies going great. There were nine penalties. Teams:

Grove: Goal, Birchard; defence, Grant, Gordon; centre, Creelman; wings, Calderwood, Caldwell; alternates, Creswicke, Carter, Cline, Grey, Salambos, Little, Delamere, Hibbard, Finn.

TCS: Goal, Saegert; defence, Campbell, Richardson; centre, Budge; wings, Seagram, Overholt; alternates, Hyland, Tollestrup, Dunlap, Boughner, Lash, Ross, Jerral.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

A bunch of broad-shouldered fellows will stow away plenty of proteins tonight when the grid Orfuns sit down at seven to their annual banquet at Club Aragon. Their good Orillia commuters will be on deck, also, completing many a pass. Main topic of conversation naturally will be football and plans for the 1953 season should come up during the knife-and-fork session. Orfuns' showing in capturing Eastern Canada intermediate "A" gridiron honors last fall is bound to boost their stock and their following this year, but like the winning lacrosse Timbermen they know they can't rest on past laurels. Must keep building. They intend to do just that.

* * * * * *

As for the senior lacrosse grouping, Toronto Yorks expect to make Orillia their "home" grounds this summer and use Orillia players. To get around objections from other clubs as to using some of the classy senior "B" champs of Orillia, the Yorks plan an odd twist. They will have the Orillians they want to use take up residence in Toronto and Orillia, being considered Toronto residents for the summer. Bill Clarke of Orillia is to be prexy of the Yorks while Walt Smart of Brampton is team manager, and Don (Scotty) McPhail of Mimico the coach. Cosmopolitan, huh? We hear St. Kitts are trying to entice back some of their aces who moved to other centres in recent years.

* * * * * *

Getting Ready Early

Men's softball loop has re-orgainzed early with the following capable executive under Prexy Bob Batley: Percy Harrison, John McPhee, Frank Wood, Fred Scates, George and Harold Dormer, Jack Playford, Ted Naish and Hunk Vinette. Glad to see Ted return after a sabbatical holiday. Tom Walton entered UEW, and Carr Wasson expects to field his Lakefield team under local sponsorship Seabrooke's are likely to return, too, leaving a spot for another team. Unless the circuit expands to a six-club group. They'll play twin bills twice weekly under the Bowl arcs. This loop enjoyed a successful season in '52 as interest perked up once more in softball. It goes in cycles.

* * * * * *

But hockey isn't finished yet around these parts, not by any means. In fact, there's an important playoff double-header on tap tonight in Civic Arena, the OMHA bantam and midget "A" semi-finals. Our bantam Shamrocks tackle Toronto Marlboros at eight, and it's followed by the local midget Aces vs. Marlboros along about 9.45 or so. Both are opening jousts of home-and-home series, goals to count. No word at the moment on date of return tilts, but this eve is the time for Pat Doherty's and Joe Rochetta's squads to pile up a lead, if possible, against second scraps on foreign ice. We urge plenty of support for these Peterborough boys as they go after Ontario titles this month.

Just Waiting Around

At this writing, the Petes hadn't heard of their proposed OHA senior "B" post-season series with Stouffville Clippers. Frank Buckland was trying to contact the Clippers to have the first of the best-of-three set here this Friday night, and the second one on Stouffville ice the next evening. Orillia tried to horn in after Oshawa ousted Stouffville, wanting a series with the Clippers, but Manager Johnny Russelle said nothing doing on that. Orillia had declined to meet the Petes — so the latter had to take Cobourg, erasing 'em in two straight, and Orillia can't step in now against Stouffville. The Petes would be left sitting around idle. Anyway, if arrangements can be completed today, the Clippers will open here tomorrow eve.

Lou Plummer and Dick Raines, those terrible Texans with the colorful garb, won a peculiar deciding fall o'er Bobo Brazil and Pat Flanagan in the main mat match at the Brock last eve. 'Twas a tag team affair and a redhot one to top off a right lively card before a hefty gallery. To show his displeasure after, Bobo used his head to bash down Lou, Dick and then Ref Sam Gotter in a wild finish as the fans whooped it up. Semi-final saw Sammy Berg draw with Firpo Szybsko. Latter had a handle-bar moustache and Berg figured what's the use of riding no hands — so he rode the Pole frequently, steering via the moustache. Quite a tussle it was. Prelim saw Ovila Asselin dump Joe Christie.

Penguins Beat Aces In YM Cage League

After battling point-for-point throughout the first half with the Aces, Peguins built up an eight-point third quarter lead Wednesday night and held on throughout the fourth for a 26-19 YMCA house league victory.

Neil Thompson and Dawes gave Penguins a slim-one point lead 66-5, in the first quarter despite the efforts of Aces' Harry Carleton. Hurlle joined Thompson and Dawes in the second quarter as Penguins kept the single point margin at the half.

With Thompson breaking loose for seven points in the third, coupled with baskets by Dawes and Wyatt, the Penguins grabbed an eight-point lead 23-15 at three-quarters. They held on throughout the last quarter, limiting Aces to only four points.

Thompson led the scoring with 13 points, followed closely by Carleton with 10.

Lineups:

Penguins (26)— Thompson 13, Hurrle 2, Dawes 7, O'Connor, Fowler, Outram, Wyatt 2, Gandy 2.

Aces— (19) — Forbes, Carleton 10, Manbeck 1, Hope 2, Keating 3, Lynch, Waldon, Low 3.

More Winter Fowl

PORT STANLEY, Ont. (CP)—The mid-winter survey of water fowl in this Lake Erie district showed the number of birds was about 50-per-cent greater than at this time last year, due to the mild winter. The biggest proportion, about 30 per cent, were canvasback ducks.

COURSE HAZARD

WORKINGTON, England (CP)—A crow with a fondness for golf balls is estimated to have carried 100 away from a golf course in this Cumberland district.

Texans Win Main Tussle In Odd Mat Finish Over Flanagan And Brazil

The terrible Texans, Dick Raines and Lou Plummer, won a very doubtful decision over popular Pat Flanagan and Bobo Brazil in the main bout at the pro wrestling show in the Brock Arena last night, a tag team beat. Raines pinned Flanagan for the final fall in just three minutes of the last round when Pat and Bobo banged into each other as all four mixed it up hard. Flan was stunned and opportunist Dick pounced on him for the count when the other pair were chased from the ring. Brazil tore back then and banged everyone in sight, bumping the heads of Raines, Plummer and then the referee to show his displeasure at the odd fall. He cut open Plummer's forehead.

WON THE SECOND

Raines had also downed Flanagan in 15 minutes for the second and equalizing fall, using a series of bulldogging holds, with the sly aid in the corner of his mate and also applying pressure with the ropes. Referee Sam Gotter missed that and the angry Negro tore in to protest violently. After Gotter left the ring for the intermission the four husky grapplers argued first and then tangled bitterly for nearly five minutes till Gotter got back to break it up and then order the bell sounded to start the last round.

Bobo beat Plummer in 19 minutes for the first fall with his paralyzing "cobra twist" to force Lou to concede. Plummer scaled 249 and Raines 251, while Flanagan, 231, Brazil 230. They mixed it hard in hot action, the Texans teaming up better in villainout corner work, using a horseshoe once and also going in for eye rasps. Pat and Bobo were faster but didn't get any breaks from the referee. It was a sizzling match throughout with a bit of everything seen, and the fans made plenty of noise all the way as they cheered Flan and Bobo.

A FINE BOUT

The semi-final between 240-pound Sammy Berg and Firpo Szyzska, scaling 236, went to a time limit draw and it produced some grand mat work as well as some wide-open ring tactics. Berg was popular and he had the fans with him as he proved fast and aggressive, but the Polish husky was a durable guy and a great actor. He frequently pretended injury after being bounced around the boards hard, but recovered amazingly fast to throw punches and elbow smashes. He knew the mat game thoroughly to pretty well hold his own against his younger and classy opponent. They were in and out of the ring in speedy going at times, tossing fists, using chokes and then settling for serious mat work with toe-holds, scissors and nelsons.

Ovila Asselin, 231, took the prelim in 22 minutes from 235-pound Joe Christie with an airplane spin, a drop kick and body slam. It was a popular victory as Christie played it rough from the start. There were few dull moments in the lively struggle, and Joe had the fans burned to a crisp by using his taped wrist to rasp Ovila's eyes. But the latter evened it up by tossing Christie out of the ring and then hammering all about the hemped arena. There were many violent exchanges in a real crowd-pleasing scrap. Asselin carrying the mail toward the end and finally setting Joe up with a softening-up process for the popular fall.

RED HAS RECORD—The latest NHL bulletin lists George (Red) Sullivan as holding the record in the league so far for most assists in one game and for most points in one contest. The Peterborough puckist with Boston Bruins scored one goal and had five assists against New York Rangers on Jan. 24. Ted Lindsay has most goals in one tilt, four.

Central Takes Senior Title In School Loop

Central seniors defeated Prince of Wales yesterday at Civic Arena to capture the Public School Hockey League championship, and the Board of Education trophy. It was a sudden-death final playoff between the classy, well-matched senior school squads.

They played open but cagey hockey in the first half and it was toward period's end when Dinsdale picked up Trotter's pass to open scoring. Lines were shuffled in the keen second stanza and players switched on the fly. Halfway through, Barclay, Central's solid defenceman, banged one home from outside defence to make it 2-0. Princes stormed back and got a neat one by Riel to Ketcheson to Douglas, the latter giving Biggs no chance. Lustic carried in neatly later and fed it to Robbins who picked an upper corner for a 3-1 lead.

FINE HOCKEY

In the third, they fought it out furiously with fine hockey seen. The line of Coombes, Shaw and Jay stormed in repeatedly but Biggs was unbeatable and he had fine defence support by Gray and Barclay. The gem of the game was a goal by Dinsdale late in the period, taking a pass from Armstrong to draw out the goalie and pick an open corner.

Among other outstanding players for Prince of Wales were Trotter, LeSurf and Douglas. Among the champions, Sorrie, Simpson and Dinsdale turned in a fine effort. Central wound up the season without a loss, winning eight games in the schedule and ousting Queen Elizabeth in the semi-final. Teams:

P of W: Goal, Trotter; defence, Barnes, Bowen; centre, Coombs; wings, Shaw, Jay; alternates, LeSurf, Douglas, Reil, Ketcheson, White, Smillie, Peel, Buller.

Central: Goal, Biggs; defence, Gray, Barclay; centre, Armstrong; wings, Dinsdale, Robinson; alternates, Aulbrook, Tetlock, Robbins, Lustic, Sorrie, Taylor, Simpson, Vilneff, McInroy, Knox.

Referees, E. Druery and B. Dawson.

Standard Bred Men Form New Association

TORONTO (CP)—A group of harness horsemen, seeking redress for what they consider unjustified suspensions of some drivers during the current Dufferin Park meet Wednesday night formed the United Harness Horsemen's Association of Canada.

Edward Hartley Dewart of Toronto was elected president and Hugh McLean of Port Elgin vice-president. Harry Ingles of Brighton was named secretary-treasurer.

The new association decided to protest suspensions at Dufferin Park to the Ontario racing commission.

E. Guppy Hits High

E. Guppy rolled high single of 379 and A. Caccavella hit top three of 815 this week in the Major Bowling League. Cherney's lead teams with 3559 pinnage and high single of 1388. The 7-0 wins went to Bickell, UE, Wonder, I-G, D & W and E & B respectively over Studebaker, Crowley, Hollingsworth, Examiner, Brewers and Sunshine. The 5-2 decisions were taken by Cherney, Selkirk, Odeon and McLeod against Plaza, Burtol, Herbs and Revenoors; and 4-3 victories were taken by Edward's over Clapper's, and Silents over OPP.

Good scores included: A. Hall 738, G. Niles 712, H. Kilen 702, E. Reynolds (300) 781; R. Bennett (315) 728, G. Walton 709, R. Foster 799, J. Platt 711, A. Pilling 744, E. Downer (319) 792, J. Wilson (345) 794, W. Harris (316) 784, A. Mattucci 738, W. Boon (302) 797, T. Sproat 708, J. Bradley 710 and H. Delahaye 766.

There will be a men's bonspiel Saturday afternoon, as usual, at two o'clock.

The Sturgeon Trophy is at 6:45 o'clock and 9 o'clock on Saturday evening.

For the third successive day, the local rinks predominated in the mixed rink bonspiel and we're afraid that unless the visiting clubs today make a good showing, the finals on Friday will be 90 per cent Peterborough. All week long the bonspiel has been real interesting, keen competition, and has been followed by a large crowd.

44 Still Entered For Grand National

LONDON (AP) — Forty-four steeplechasers still are in the Grand National scheduled for March 28 at Aintree.

The final acceptance list for the four miles and 856 yards over 30 tough jumps was published Wednesday.

Missing from the list of probable starters were Teal, last year's winner, who is to have an operation for a ruptured bowel, and Royal Tan, second in 1951.

Originally 73 steeplechasers were entered.

The scratching of Teal and Royal Tan made Lucky Dome, one of the lowest-weighted horses in the handicap at 140 pounds, the new 10 to 1 favorite.

NEW VETERINARIAN of the Ontario Racing Commission is Dr. R. W. Ford, local vet and part-time food and dairy inspector with the city's Department of Health. —(Examiner Staff Photo).

Dr. R. W. Ford Appointed Racing Commission Vet

Dr. R. W. Ford, part-time food and dairy inspector with the Department of Health for a past seven months, has been appointed Ontario Racing Commission veterinarian.

Dr. Ford's resignation was accepted by the Board of Health at a meeting Wednesday afternoon and it will take effect March 31.

Born in Omemee, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Ford, now of Peterborough, Dr. Ford graduated from Ontario Veterinary College, Guelph in 1939. The following year he spent in post graduate work on scholarship at the Royal Veterinary College, London, England.

Dr. Ford was with the British Colonial Service in West Africa for the next two years and in 1944 returned to Canada to spend a year practising in Montreal.

He joined the British Colonial Service in 1945 and spent three years as chief veterinarian in Jamaica.

HERE IN 1948

Coming to Peterborough in 1948, he became associated in practice here with Dr. H. H. Hamilton. He jointed the department of health staff in August 1952 following the resignation of Dr. Harold Worton.

Dr. Ford's duties in Toronto will include the examining of horses racing under the control of the Racing Commission, and he will start April 30.

While in Peterborough he was a member of St. Luke's Anglican Church and the Rotary Club and is secretary-treasurer of the peterborough Shorthorn Club.

Dr. and Mrs. Ford, the former Margaret Counter, have two children, Robert Patrick, 1½ and Mary Angela, six months.

West Douro Wins

DOURO—(ENS)—West Douro trounced East Douro 4-1 at Warsaw in the third of their best-of-five rural hockey finals before a large crowd for a 2-1 series lead. The next game is Wednesday. It was one of the best tilts of the season with Rosenburg and Martell outstanding for the winners, and Farley the only goal-scorer for the other side.

Neither crew could count in the initial stanza, and again it was scoreless in the close-checking middle heat. Martell broke out for two in the third for the victors, Woodgate and P. Moloney each denting the hemp once. Farley tallied for East Douro. Teams:

West Douro: Rosenburg, Martell, J. Allen, T. Moloney, R. Allen, P. Moloney, Bullied, J. Moloney, Woodgate, Johnston, F. Leahy, O'Brien.

East Douro: Keating, Condon, Farley, E. Leahy, C. Sheehan, F. Moher, B. Heffernan, J. Heffernan, D. Sheehan, W. Moher, C. Leahy, G. Sheehan, O'Grady.

Referee: Puffer; linesman, Lonsberry.

Marmora Gets TVL Playoff Over Campbellford 9-3 Before Record 1,800 Fans

MARMORA (ENS)—The fifth game of the four out of seven series to decide the winner of the northern section of the TVL played at Marmora on Wednesday evening between Campbellford and Marmora resulted in a win for the homesters by 9-3. A capacity crowd of 1,800, eclipsing last Friday's attendance here by 20 per cent, followed the encounter with keenest interest. The game was practically devoid of roughness and although 12 penalties were handed out they were for minor infractions and to keep the game in control.

A GOOD INDICATION

The score indicates the fluctuation of fortunes. The visitors initiated many good movements and left their fans gasping as materialization was denied them. The individual player to get most points was Doran with two goals and three assists for Marmora; K. Trumble and Loveless also netted twice and got an assist besides Herrington and Blake were most effective for Campbellford with a goal and an assist in the second after Craig had beaten Killian in the first. Campbellford is the venue for Friday night's encounter.

Campbellford: Goal, Nelson; defence, Baker, Free; centre, Eady; wings, Craig, Payne; alternates, Blake, Herrington, Cole, Pace, Jeffs, Taylor, Reid, Brown.

Marmora: Goal, Killian; defence, Leonard, E. Trumble; centre, Maynes; wings, Lavender, K. Trumble; alternates, Jones, Doran, Darrah, Loveless, Smith, Mantle, Stewart, Doyle.

Referees, R. Carson, Belleville; G. McColl, Trenton.

First Period

Marmora—Doran 5:10
Campbellford—Craig (Free) ... 11:58

Remember When—

Howie Morenz of Montreal Canadiens was voted the fastest player in the National Hockey League by a ballot of sports writers in NHL cities 19 years ago today. Morenz then was 31 years old and has 12 years of big-time hockey behind him. He died of a heart attack only three years later, in 1937.

Howe Leads Wings To Win 2-0 Over Rangers, Crowds Rocket's Goal Record

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

They'll be setting them up in the other alley tonight for Detroit Red Wings as the newly-crowned champions of the National Hockey League go hunting for more NHL records to break at Boston. Master of the hunt is Gordie Howe, who rewrites the record book every time he scores a point now that he's passed his own previous high of 86. He picked up number 92 Wednesday night as he scored one of the goals that gave the Wings a 2-0 victory over the last-place New York Rangers.

The goal was Gordie's 47th, leaving him six games in which to net the three he needs to tie Maurice Richard's mark of 50.

Howe's prospects of passing the Montreal Canadien sharpshooter look bright. Three of Detroit's remaining games are against Chicago Black Hawks, a club that Detroit has beaten with consistency all season and which is particularly kind to Howe.

It was against Hawk goalie Al Rollins that the big rightwinger scored the 200th goal of his NHL career last month and went on to add his 201st the same evening.

CLOSER TO RECORD

Defenceman Red Kelly, who set up Howe's tally Wednesday night, is even closer to a league record. He needs one more goal to break the 31-year-old mark of 19 set by Harry Cameron of the old Toronto St. Pats and become the highest-scoring defenceman over a single season in NHL history.

His defence partner, Bob Goldham, stole Red's thunder Wednesday night by scoring Detroit's second goal—his first of the season.

Goalie Terry Sawchuk scored his eighth shutout Wednesday night, maintaining a 13-goal edge over Montreal's Gerry McNeil, his nearest competitor.

The Bruins tonight are less interested in making history than in making the playoffs. They're in fourth place, two points ahead of Toronto Maple Leafs and one behind the Hawks, who face the second-place Canadiens at Chicago.

No Apology Yet From QAHA, Deadline Close

MONTREAL (CP)—All factions involved in the tug-of-war between the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and its suspended Quebec branch appeared today to be standing pat.

There was no indication late Wednesday night that the QAHA had sent its letter of apology to meet the deadline at noon today. A 36-hour extension was granted by George Dudley, secretary-manager of the CAHA. The original deadline was midnight Tuesday.

The whole issue has boiled down to apologies and reinstatement and neither side wants to capitulate completely.

The apology would open the door for Quebec branch teams to enter the Memorial and Allan Cup playoffs. The Alexander Cup playdowns were thrown into discard when the powerful Quebec Senior Hockey League resigned from the QAHA to "protect interests of its players and contracts with professional leagues."

ATTWELL SUSPENSION

The CAHA suspended the QAHA Feb. 28 for issuing a playing card to 18-year-old Ron Attwell. The CAHA said Attwell was still under the jurisdiction of the Ontario Hockey Association when the card was granted him.

Dudley indicated that although QAHA teams would be permitted to enter the playoffs if the apology is received the Quebec branch officers would remain under suspension until the annual CAHA meeting in May.

On this point, the QAHA officers said they could not understand how they could administrate a branch if under suspension.

In Winnipeg Wednesday night Jimmy Dunn, vice-president of the CAHA, said officers of the QAHA could carry on the branch if delegated to do so by the CAHA.

Dunn said the whole issue was a matter of a branch defying the parent body.

Meanwhile, Frank Byrne, owner of Quebec Citadelles—a team in the QAHA's junior league—suggested both sides settle the whole matter through a mediator whose decision would be binding.

"I suspect the CAHA officers in various provincial associations across the country are not aware of all the facts in the Attwell case and that one delegate from each the CAHA and QAHA should go before a mediator," said Byrne.

Bears Down Hornets, Crimp Playoff Plans

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Hershey Bears overpowered Pittsburgh Hornets 5-2 Wednesday night to put a crimp in the Hornets' hopes of overtaking the leading Cleveland Barons in the American Hockey League race. The Hornets trail by five points with six games to play against four for Cleveland.

Dunc Fisher tallied twice for Hershey with Lorne Ferguson, Gordie Wilson and Bob Corcoran firing singles. Bob Sollinger and Bob Sabourin counted for Pittsburgh.

Light-Heavy Champ Wins 10-Round Nod

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Light-heavyweight champion Archie Moore battered Nino Valdes for a unanimous decision Wednesday night in their 10-round televised bout here. Moore weighed 180 while Valdes, a big but agile Cuban heavyweight, scaled 209½.

There were no knockdowns although Moore obviously was out for the big punch as he came up with a rush in the late stages after wearing down the big Valdes.

Moore, fighting in St. Louis for the first time since taking the title from Joe Maxim here last Dec. 17, stayed in close to batter Valdes in the body. Picking his spots he straightened to uncork good rights and lefts to Nino's head.

Barrie Wins 4-0 Over Jr. Dukes

BARRIE (CP)—Barrie Flyers took a 2-1 lead in their best-of-seven semi-finals of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series by downing Toronto Marlboros 4-0 Wednesday night.

Barrie took the lead at the 6:35 mark of the first period when Tony Poeta slapped the puck past John Henderson. The Marlies fought hard but couldn't get past the close checking Flyers.

Both teams played a checking game in the second and it wasn't until 16:50 that the Flyers scored their second when Skip Teal came down in a one-man rush, rounded the back of the net and baffled Henderson with a corner shot.

Flyer Sharpshooter Orv Tessier scored Barrie's third at 17:05 of the final period. Don McKenny's marker finished the scoring at 18:21.

The fourth game will be played in Toronto Saturday.

7 HORSES LOST IN FIRE

LINCOLN, R.I. (AP)—Seven horses were destroyed Wednesday night in a $60,000 fire that razed a barn at Lincoln Downs race track and for a time threatened the entire stable area of 25 barns housing 500 horses.

Lincoln Downs will open the New England racing season Saturday. The fire was expected to have no effect on the opening. Firemen finally brought the blaze under control and kept it to a single barn.

They said they could have controlled it faster but were hampered by hydrants which didn't work. Track superintendent Arthur Patenaude conceded that two hydrants were frozen.

B. A. Dario, managing director of the track, estimated the building loss at $25,000. The exact value of the seven horses was not available, since five of them were not immediately identified. But a track official said the seven animals probably were worth at least $35,000.

SPLIT PACING EVENT

TORONTO (CP)—Gadabout F., and Lucy's Prince each won a heat Wednesday in the class AA pace, sixth and featured harness race at Dufferin Park. Gadabout F., owned by Blewett and Sheldon of Peterborough, captured the first heat. Lucy's Prince won the second.

✦ ✦ ✦

EXETER WINS OBA ROUND

AMHERSTBURG, Ont. (CP)—Amherstburg defeated Exeter 57-48 Wednesday night but the margin of victory was not enough to overcome the 26-point lead taken by Exeter in the first game of the two-game, total-point Ontario Basketball Association Junior B playoff series last Monday. Exeter, with a 56-30 victory in the opener, took the series 104-87.

Exeter will play Port Credit in a two-game, total-point series for the championship.

COCKELL GETS OKAY

LONDON (AP)—The British Boxing Board of Control Wednesday approved Don Cockell as a suitable title opponent for British heavyweight champion Johnny Williams. The two will meet June 13. Cockell defeated 39-year-old Tommy Farr Monday night on a seventh-round technical knockout.

MOSCONI KEEPS TITLE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Defending champion Willie Mosconi clinched the world pocket billiard title for the fourth time in a row Wednesday night when he defeated Luther Lessiter of Elizabeth City, N.C., 150-33 in two innings. It was his seventh victory of the tournament without defeat.

Winnipeg Boy Tops UK League

LONDON (CP)—Elusive Chick Zamick, Winnipeg's lightweight contribution to the six-team English national hockey league, topped scorers for the first half of the 1952-53 schedule with a 30-game total of 65 points.

Zamick's 37 goals and 28 assists gave him a seven-point edge over fellow-Winnipeger Joe Shack.

Zamick plays for Nottingham Panthers and Shack for Harringay Racers. Shack performed briefly with the wartime New York Rangers.

This first phase of the season, with the Autumn Cup at stake, was won by Harringay with 42 points. Streatham, Wembley, Nottingham, Earl's Court and Brighton followed.

Zamick has served notice that he intends to continue his scoring habits. In the first game of the new schedule he fired six goals, making his total 400 in just under six seasons.

Short-Cut Highway From Pontypool To City In Program

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario will get rolling in high gear on road construction this year, Premier Frost announced today, spending $153,000,000 on its highways or about $54,000,000 more than last year.

Estimated cost of new construction is $95,000,000, roughly one-third of the total amount spent on building roads in the last 10 years.

In his budget speech to the provincial legislature, the premier said $30,000,000 of the funds will come from the current fiscal year's revenue through supplementary grants to a highway reserve account established last fall. Another $23,000,000 will be paid into the reserve account from the 1953-54 budget which also provides for expenditure of $58,000,000 on current account and for $42,000,000 from capital borrowings. The amount is "unprecedented in Ontario."

HIGH REGISTRATION

Motor vehicle registration in Ontario had grown faster than population, said Mr. Frost with 1,290,000 compared with 691,615 10 years ago.

"Many new and improved highways must be provided if the great caravans of traffic are to move at a reasonable speed throughout this province," he said. "No small-scale nibbling at the highway problem will suffice. It must be attacked across a broad front. It will be an investment, and a paying investment, in Ontario."

The premier announced as government policy a campaign to eliminate level railway crossings in the province. The budget included a initial appropriation of $2,000,000 to be supplemented by matching grants from the federal government and the railways. It was not known where the start would be made nor how many crossings would be covered by the grant.

The speech gave a brief breakdown by districts of projects included in capital construction:

1. Southwestern Ontario: $11,362,000 including divided highways in the Windsor-Chatham and London-Woodstock areas and the London by-pass.

DISTRICT ROADS

2. Central Ontario: $19,630,000 including by-passes at Toronto, Barrie and Orillia; a divided highway east from Oshawa; a new highway from Pontypool to Peterborough; work on highway 69 from Washaw to Brechin; a highway from Newcastle to Orono; improvements to the Queen Elizabeth Way at Oakville; a road from Freeman to Wolfe Island in the Hamilton district and approaches to a new bridge at Burlington on the Queen Elizabeth Way, aimed at removal of a severe traffic bottleneck. At a press conference, the premier said negotiations were under way with the federal government for construction of the bridge itself, which crosses the ship canal from Lake Ontario into Hamilton harbor.

KINGSTON BYPASS

3. Southeastern Ontario: $9,520,000, including the Kingston by-pass; an approach at the Ontario end of the Alumette Island bridge which will link Ontario and Quebec highways 7 and 17 east of Ottawa and between New Ferry and Adolphustown.

4. Northern Ontario: $19,891,000, including the North Bay by-pass; the Trans-Canada Highway in the Huntsville, Sudbury, Chapleau, Hawk Junction and White River areas; work between Hawk River and Michipicoten Harbor and continuation north from Montreal River of a highway from Sault Ste. Marie. The Premier said it was hoped to provide Hawk Junction and the nearby iron mining community of Wawa with a road outlet in two or three years. Hawk would be on the Trans-Canada Highway. He said also that extent of work this year on the extension north from Montreal River along the north shore of Lake Superior would depend on engineering and other problems in the rugged country.

5. Northwestern Ontario: $9,863,000, including the Atikokan highway and the Trans-Canada Highway east and west from Fort William.

The budget included $1,000,000 for construction of mining roads

Municipalities would receive $16,525,000 for capital construction and another $16,782,000 for road maintenance.

Maintenance of provincial highways and department administration was estimated at $38,218,000 and $3,000,000 was provided for resurfacing existing roads.

Hydro Program Needs Spending Of $9,700,000

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario will spend $9,700,000 in the coming fiscal year to extend hydro-electric service to another 25,000 rural customers.

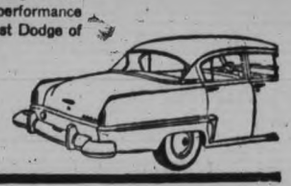
Premier Frost in his budget speech to the Ontario legislature today forecast an expansion of rural service matching that of last year when 25,000 rural customers were added to the lines of the publicly-owned hydro - electric power commission of Ontario.

TRIPLED

Ten years ago hydro had 136,164 rural customers and at the end of 1952 it had 343,537, the premier reported in a brief review of the system's expansion.

The commission was established 47 years ago. In its first 37 years it brought its hydro-electric generating production to 1,500,000 horsepower. In the last 10 years it had added another 2,000,000 horsepower.

"The remarkable increase in the supply of low-cost electric power . . . underlies the expansion of our modern industrial capacity, the electrification of our farms and the continued progress in providing labor-saving devices in the home."



UK Magistrates' Vote Favors Use Of Birch

LONDON (CP)—In face of parliamentary opposiiton, the British Magistrates' Association has voted by more than two to one in favor of reintroducing corporal punishment for crimes of violence.

The association's ballot, representing the view of about half the magistrates in the United Kingdom, showed 4,412 in favor of bringing back the birch, with 1,886 against.

The vote came as members of Parliament cut across party lines to reject a private member's bill calling for revival of whipping. Home Secretary Sir David Maxwell Fyfe argued it would be premature to reverse a decision taken by the Labor government in 1948 to ban flogging.

LOOK AT ME, MOM—When a torrential rain drowned the rest of his family, this baby rabbit was taken into the home of Mrs. Harry Muns, in Memphis, Tenn. The Muns' dog Tequilla, discovered the rabbit, and thought it was one of her pups, so Mrs. Muns put the rabbit into the box with Tequilla and her pups, which satisfied the mother dog. The rabbit started nursing and has been part of Tequilla's family ever since.

Frost Forecasts More Housing In Budget Speech

TORONTO (CP)—An increase in house construction in Ontario in 1953 and a still better showing in 1954 was forecast today by Premier Frost in his budget address to the Ontario legislature.

The premier based his 1953 prediction on an increase toward the end of 1952 and an expected spurt when a new system of municipal administration in the Toronto area opens the way for joint federal-provincial-municipal co-operation.

For the fiscal year ending March 31, 1954, Ontario was placing $10,000,000 in its estimates for housing projects on which it pays 25 per cent and the federal government 75 per cent.

15 AGREEMENTS

During the last year, the province entered into housing agreements with 15 municipalities: Dunnville, Fort Erie, Galt, Goderich, Lindsay, London, Midland, Owen Sound, Peterborough, Port Arthur, Port Hope, Sarnia, Sault Ste. Marie, Stamford and Stratford.

Previously it had reached agreements for rental or combination land assembly and rental projects in Brockville, Fort William, Hamilton, Guelph, Prescott, St. Thomas, Trenton and Windsor.

Negotiations were being carried out with Amherstburg, Arnprior, Prescott, Port Hope, Renfrew, Barrie, Brantford, Cobourg, Cornwall, Hawkesbury, Kenora, Kapuskasing, London, North Bay, Orillia, Prescott, Port Hope, Renfrew, Smiths Falls, Welland.

Ontario Public Works Cost $65 Million In '53 Program

TORONTO (CP)—Premier Frost in his budget speech in the Ontario legislature today announced details of a $65,000,000 public works program, aimed at meeting essential needs resulting from a growing population. His budget included appropriations of $22,000,000 for the work, part of which was included in last year's budget although not completed.

A major part of the investment was devoted to expansion of the province's mental hospitals, he said. In the next fiscal year, 2,240 beds would be added as part of a program aimed at a total of 6,750 new beds. This year 740 beds would be available at Port Arthur, which will have 1,200 when completed, an additional 900 at Smiths Falls and 600 at Brockville.

A new hospital was planned at North Bay, with 1,200 beds.

The following projects were included in the list of public works: Government offices in the Toronto area, $9,290,000 and a reformatory at Millbrook, $2,500,000.

Ontario hospitals: Smiths Falls, $6,500,000; Kingston, additional units to provide 500 beds and assembly hall, $3,500,000; Brockville, extension of cottages to provide accommodation for 700 patients, $4,200,000; Toronto, $2,470,000; London, 400 beds, $2,800,000; North Bay $9,000,000; Port Arthur $7,630,000; Orillia, $2,680,000.

Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph: Addition to MacDonald Institute, $100,000; field husbandry research building, $285,000; water reservoir, $150,000; electrical improvements, $100,000; start on new gymnasium building, $75,000.

Ridgetown Agricultural School, new assembly hall, $160,000; Kemptville Agricultural School, engineering building, $400,000; new food terminal building at Etobicoke in the Toronto area, $3,605,000;

$135,000 FOR MINDEN

Highway stores and buildings at Toronto, $3,000,000; additions to registry office buildings at Sudbury and Bracebridge and new registry building at Port Arthur, $680,000; provincial police headquarters building at Port Arthur, $210,000; provincial police detachment buildings at Long Lac, Ignace, Chapleau, White River, Sioux Narrows and Missanabi, $350,000; 50 residences for police in Northern Ontario, $500,000; Haliburton county buildings at Minden, $135,000;

Lands and forests pathological building at Maple near Toronto, $375,000; chief ranger's headquarters in Sault Ste. Marie district, $240,000; chief ranger's headquarters at Trout Lake in North Bay district, $210,000;

Teachers colleges, at Toronto $2,200,000 and at Hamilton $1,000,000; junior school and hospital building at the School for the Blind at Brantford, $550,000.

Hospitals Share In $8½ Million Special Grants

TORONTO (CP)—More than 190 Ontario hospitals will share in $8,500,000 in special grants announced by Premier Frost today in his budget speech in the Ontario legislature. The grants, designed to enable hospitals to modernize facilities and equipment, will be paid at once.

Hospitals which have not received a capital grant since April 1, 1947, will receive $400 a bed. Hospitals which have been voted grants in the last six years will get $100 a bed.

"The older hospitals are in the greatest need of capital repairs and renovations," the premier said. "They will obtain the greater part of the assistance, but we are also recognizing the requirements of newer hospital units. . .

"We do not. . . propose to tie the hands of the hospital boards, and they will be allowed as wide a latitude as possible."

The special grants will not affect any arrangements now in effect between the government and individual hospitals.

Booming Birth Rate Poses Educational Problems, Frost Says In Budget Speech

TORONTO (CP) — A booming birth rate is posing tough educational problems for Ontario, Premier Frost said in his budget speech today.

The population of the province increased 28 per cent since 1941 but the number of children aged 15 and under increased 41 per cent, leading to a rapid rise in school enrolments.

In the last year 250 new schools or substantial additions to existing schools were built at a cost of $46,000,000. This provided new accommodation for 50,410 children but the actual increase in school enrolment was 54,000. Further construction was needed this year to keep pace with the growth.

NEED TEACHERS

The growth made it essential to recruit more teachers. The premier announced that to provide more teacher-training facilities two new teachers' colleges in Toronto will replace the present Normal School which this year was forced to operate in double shifts. A $1,000,000 college in Hamilton will replace the Normal School which was destroyed by fire.

The province's total bill for education in the fiscal year 1953-54 will amount to $78,004,000, an increase of $6,200,000 over this year. This includes grants to $58,380,000 to school boards and $1,035,000 to libraries and community centres.

UNIVERSITY GRANTS

Maintenance grants to universities are being increased $453,000 to $6,955,000. Following are the amounts for each university, this year's figures in brackets: University of Toronto, $4,700,000 ($3,772,000); Ontario College of Education, $470,000 ($420,000); Queen's University, $625,000 ($550,000); University of Western Ontario, $625,000 ($550,000); McMaster University, $200,000 ($150,000); University of Ottawa, $200,000 ($150,000); Carleton College, $135,000 ($100,000).

From this year's revenue, Mr. Frost announced supplementary capital grants to universities of $1,900,000, distributed: University of Toronto, $200,000; Queen's, $525,000; Western, $525,000; McMaster, $250,000; Ottawa, $250,000; Carleton, $150,000. These grants are to be paid at once.

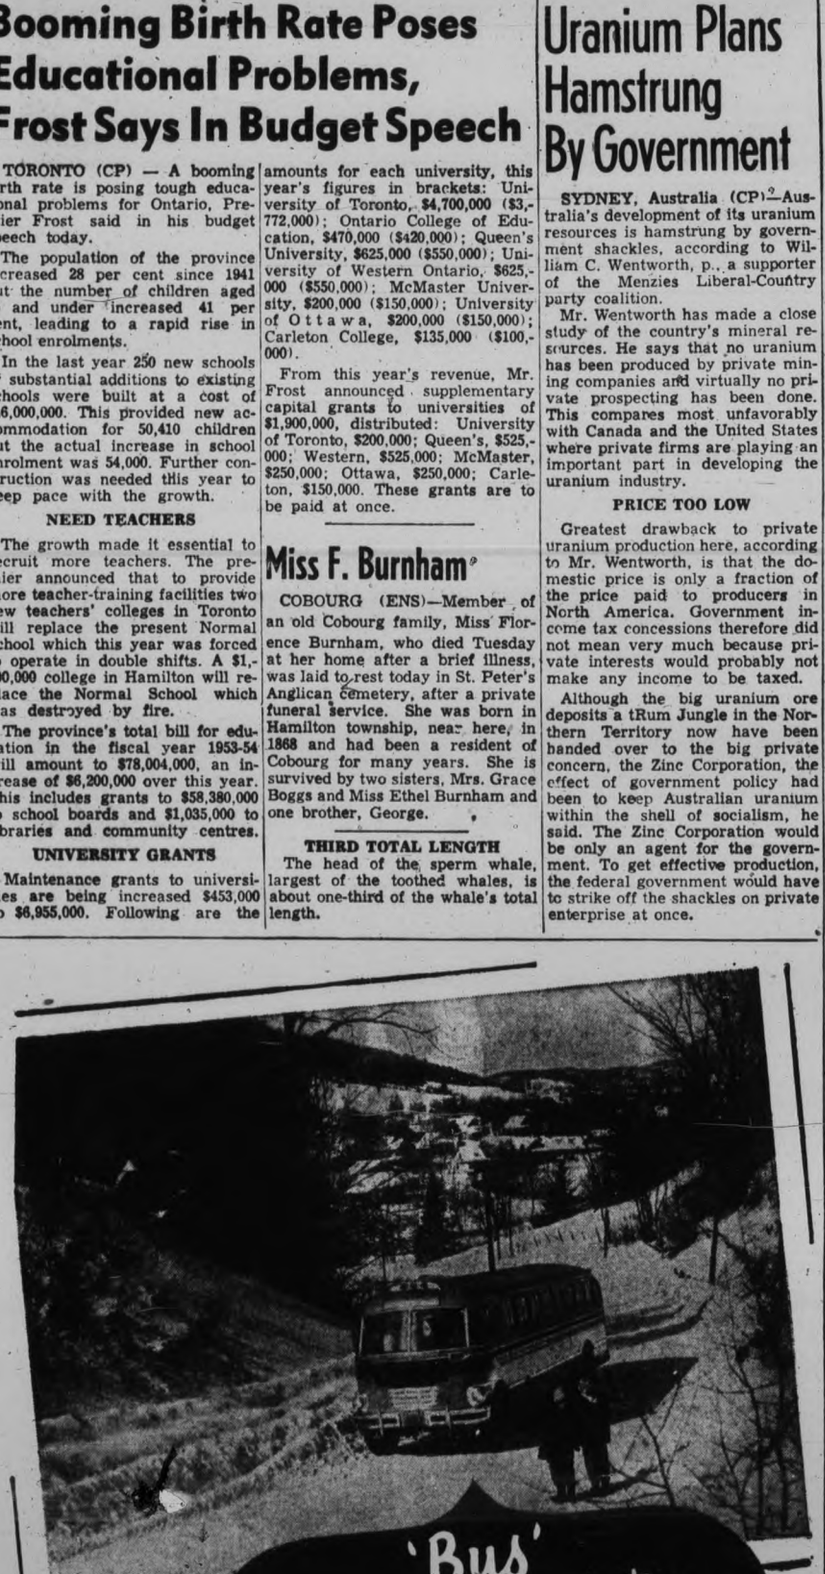
Uranium Plans Hamstrung By Government



SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—Australia's development of its uranium resources is hamstrung by government shackles, according to William C. Wentworth, p., a supporter of the Menzies Liberal-Country party coalition.

Mr. Wentworth has made a close study of the country's mineral resources. He says that no uranium has been produced by private mining companies and virtually no private prospecting has been done. This compares most unfavorably with Canada and the United States where private firms are playing an important part in developing the uranium industry.

PRICE TOO LOW

Greatest drawback to private uranium production here, according to Mr. Wentworth, is that the domestic price is only a fraction of the price paid to producers in North America. Government income tax concessions therefore did not mean very much because private interests would probably not make any income to be taxed.

Although the big uranium ore deposits a tRum Jungle in the Northern Territory now have been handed over to the big private concern, the Zinc Corporation, the effect of government policy had been to keep Australian uranium within the shell of socialism, he said. The Zinc Corporation would be only an agent for the government. To get effective production, the federal government would have to strike off the shackles on private enterprise at once.

Would Rebuild Fort Edmonton

EDMONTON (CP)—A movement is afoot to rebuild old Fort Edmonton as a museum. Meanwhile, a fortune in treasured relics that would go into it gathers dust in basements of provincial buildings.

The fort was torn down years ago in its site near the banks of the North Saskatchewan river which flows through Edmonton. A stockaded log building, it would be rebuilt on a site on the legislative ground farther away from the river.

Until the fort is built or another building provided, valuable records and other museum pieces rest in various government buildings. Some documents deal with forts and trading posts before 1800.

There are old specimens of Indian craft and a collection of 150,000 negatives of photographs depicting pioneer life in Western Canada and the far north.

General Mohamed Naguib Restoring Order To Egypt's Economy

By ED FOLLAK

CAIRO (AP)—The government of Gen. Mohamed Naguib has taken Egypt out of the red in seven action-packed months

When they took over last July, Naguib and his team inherited an economic situation fringing on bankruptcy.

The state's coffers were empty. Foreign currency reserves had dwindled to practically nothing. Cotton, the backbone of Egypt's economy was not selling. Inflation was spiralling sky-high.

The soldier premier and his men tackled economic problems with military thoroughness. Recently a cabinet minister announced that Egypt, for the first time since the end of the Second World War, would have a balanced budget in 1953-54.

Furthermore, Fuad Galal, minister of national guidance, announced 40,000,000 ($114,800,000) extra funds will be spent on several industrial and development projects during the next 12 months.

Here is how Naguib and his men won their economic battle:

First, they went all out against soaring prices. Prices of foodstuffs and commodities were frozen. Army officers were attached to the ministry of supply to see that ceiling prices were applied and halt black market operations. Several merchants were arrested and jailed. Simultaneously a 15-per-cent slash on house rents was decreed.

With the problems of the cost of living settled, the government tackled the job of selling Egypt's cotton which accounts for nearly 75-per-cent of this country's exports.

Cotton sales, especially to Britain, a long time major buyer, had slumped to insignificant figures since 1950. The main reason was that the price was artificially kept far above world prices by the old Wafdist government, for speculative reasons.

The new government closed the Alexandria cotton futures exchange and decreed henceforth the government itself would handle the cotton trade. Prices were based on those of the New York cotton exchange, plus a percentage for long staples.

At the same time Naguib entered trade talks with Italy, France, The Netherlands, Holland, Turkey, West and East Germany, Japan, and other countries behind the Iron Curtain. Recently it was announced an agreement with Red China was underway for exchange of Egyptian cotton with grains and other commodities. A deal with Russia also was reported.

To replenish the almost empty cided that all citizens, with no distinctions, were to pay their taxes.

The administration has started a big drive toward collecting taxes long overdue. Several million pounds are being claimed from exking Farouk and the royal family alone.

One of the first measures enforced by the new regime aimed at enticing more foreign investments. That was an amendment of a law which prohibited more than 49-per-cent foreign ownership in corporations. The new legislation allows foreigners to own up to 51-per-cent, a controlling majority.

Mrs. M. Brackenridge Hostess To WA Group

WESTWOOD— (ENS) — Mrs. Max Brackenridge entertained the members of St. Andrew's Women's Association at her home on Tuesday evening.

President Mrs. J. S. Sargent was in the chair for the opening worship and business. Secretary Mrs. Wilbert Graham reported the presbytery executive meeting held recently in Grace Church, Peterborough. A letter, from Miss E. Horton, convener of visiting and christian fellowship, regarding that phase of the work was read by Mrs. A. Wood.

The April meeting will be held April 13 at the home of Mrs. Wilbert Graham.

Miss Marporie Huffman took charge of the program.

A poem "Why," was given by Miss Huffman and the scripture lesson by Mrs. Sidney Warr. Readings on the theme "A Working Christian" were given by Mrs. Fred Neilson and Mrs. Hugh Neilson. The Rev. N. Cole addressed the meeting.

A contest was won by Mrs. Hugh Neilson and Mrs. Wilbert Graham, and after a draw, the prize went to Mrs. Neilson.

Lunch was served.

See Minstrel Show

NORWOOD (ENS)—A minstrel show, sponsored by the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, was presented by the ladies of Bridgenorth United Church Tuesday evening in the town hall, before a large audience. Candy was sold between acts.

The cast were served lunch following the show.

Men To Pour, Serve At Rose Tea In June

HAVELOCK (ENS)—St. John's WA met in the parish room with a good attendance. The president, Mrs. H. W. Roche, opened the meeting with prayer. The Bible reading was taken by Mrs. George Wright.

The Rev. H. A. Peasgood offered suggestions for the year's work which will get under way at the next meeting.

It was decided to hold a "rose tea" the early part of June when the men of the congregation will pour tea and serve. This is to be an annual event as the first one held last year proved so successful.

Mrs. H. A. Peasgood gave an interesting talk on the study book, "For Thine is the Glory."

The meeting closed with prayer by the Rev. Peasgood after which the members partook of a dainty lunch served by the hostesses, Mrs. Robert Jones, Mrs. Sanford Peters and Mrs. Thomas Cummins.

Embassies Plan Brilliant Coronation Ball

MOSCOW (AP)—Initial plans are already underway in Moscow to make the Queen's Coronation ball the biggest most brilliant foreign affair held here in years.

It will be held in the British embassy overlooking the Moskva river and the Kremlin—the embassy which is soon to be vacated. It will, in fact, be the last party to be held in the building which the British have occupied here for 35 years.

The ball will be a Commonwealth party—not a British one.

Participating will be the Canadian, Australian, Indian and Pakistan embassies in Moscow. The ranking host will naturally be the British ambassador, Sir Alvary Gascoigne.

LARGE LISTS

The British embassy and the Commonwealth embassies are expected to send out a large list of invitations that will include a number of high ranking Soviet officials as well as all members of the diplomatic corps.

There's one diplomatic complication about the party—the guest list.

Britain, for instance, has no relations with Iran anymore and relations have not been fully established with Communist China.

This would ordinarily offer no problem. If it were strictly a British party, the Iranians and the Chinese would not be sent invitations, but India has relations with China and Iran and so does Pakistan.

Government Plans No Action To Bar Increase

OTTAWA (CP)—The government plans no action to suspend a new freight rate increase granted Canada's railways until after it hears an appeal from seven provincial governments protesting against the move.

Prime Minister St. Laurent said in the Commons Wednesday that he doesn't think the government has the right to interfere with freight rate decisions except for an appeal.

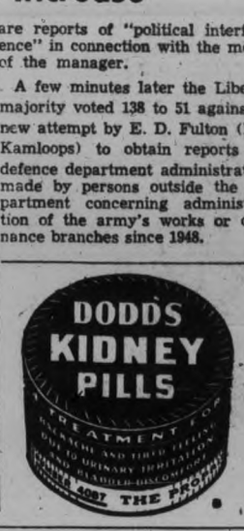
Seven western and Maritime governments have asked the government to suspend the seven-per-cent freight rate increase—amounting to $38,500,000 a year in increased railway revenue—until after they make a formal appeal to the cabinet.

NO DATE SET

No date was proposed for the appeal which must be launched through a petition to cabinet. The rate increase is due to go into effect Monday.

Mr. St. Laurent said it may be that government suspension action can be taken after an appeal has been entered by the provincial governments.

The prime minister spoke after John Diefenbaker (PC-Lake Centre) and A. M. Robichaud (PC-Gloucester) asked if the government would suspend the increase pending the provincial appeal.



More may be heard in the Commons today about the freight rate question. At the night sitting members will consider a motion to establish a sessional committee to study government-controlled railway and shipping business. It will open the way for a general debate on freight rates.

DEFEAT MOTION

By 140 to 50 the Commons Wednesday defeated a motion by Mr. Diefenbaker for the tabling of correspondence dealing with a transfer of the manager of the government-owned Canadian National Railways' Fort Garry hotel at Winnipeg. Mr. Diefenbaker said there are reports of "political interference" in connection with the move of the manager.

A few minutes later the Liberal majority voted 138 to 51 against a new attempt by E. D. Fulton (PC-Kamloops) to obtain reports on defence department administration made by persons outside the department concerning administration of the army's works or ordnance branches since 1948.

ANDY THE WOLF-KILLER—Veteran trapper Andy Tyson adds to his bag of wolves with two victims at Tyson Lake, about 30 miles southwest of Sudbury. So far this season he has snared 28, six more than last year's total of 22. He challenges a proposal to use poison to kill wolves claiming his snares are more effective. Incidentally, he already has earned $700 bounties this winter at $25 a wolf.

15 Years In North Teaches Woman Winter Best Season

EDMONTON (CP)—A woman who has lived 15 years in the far north prefers the cold Arctic winter to summertime.

Mrs. Douglas McNeice, who now lives in Edmonton, says the reason for her preference is mosquitoes. Big, hungry mosquitoes fill the air in the summer.

When Mrs. McNeice, then Pauline Audienko, left Edmonton for Aklavik, N.W.T., 15 years ago, she was advised by friends to "take lots of mosquito lotion."

She found the advice excellent—all insect life runs rampant during the brief summer season at Aklavik near the mouth of the Mackenzie river.

WENT NORTH IN 1937

Pauline Audienko went north in 1937 after hearing stories about life at Aklavik.

At first employed at a hotel, she later worked in the Hudson's Bay Company store. In 1942 she met Douglas McNeice, HBC trader. Two years later they were married.

Mrs. McNeice said her Arctic residence was comparatively modern with all electrical appliances and oil heating. The natives usually live in log cabins furnished with a stove, beds, assorted chairs and, almost invariably, a sewing machine and a phonograph.

"The people are very musical, and will sit for hours listening happily to their favorite records," Mrs. McNeice said.

She became well acquainted with several Eskimo and Indian women and often entertained them in her home.

FOND OF LUXURY

Mrs. McNeice said the natives in the Aklavik area are fond of the luxuries enjoyed by their white neighbors. Most of them prefer white man's food to their old diet. A great many are able to read and write in English.

The McNeice family moved to Edmonton after Douglas McNeice was transferred by the HBC. But they have one big memento of their stay in the north in addition to Eskimo parkas. It is a huge polar-bear rug in the living room of their modern Edmonton home.

"Home is where the heart is and I shall always think of the north as my home," Mrs. McNeice said.

France, Spain Combine To Transform Morocco Into Lush Green Gardens

By HENRY BUCKLEY

MELILLA (Reuters) — France and Spain, impelled by common interests, are working together to develop plans for turning 75,000 acres of the sun-baked Spanish part of Morocco into green gardens.

High-level colonial administrators of the two countries thrashed out details of the plans at a meeting at Mechra - Homadi, inside the French section of the region.

In the irrigation project, they plan to jointly harness the water of the river Moulouya which flows in the frontier areas between French and Spanish Morocco near here.

Spain, which has clung to her desolate strip of the Moroccan coast tenaciously for 400 years for strategic reasons, hopes the project will enable the country to settle 20,000 Moorish families on irrigated land and provide 25,000,000 kilowatt hours of electricity for industrialization to ease the drain on the Spanish treasury.

The Spanish territory has only 12,125 square miles of mainly barren mountain land in comparison with the 153,870 square miles of territory in French Morocco.

COUNTRIES DISTURBED

The two countries have a joint interest in that Spain was disturbed by the December nationalist riots in French-controlled Casablanca while the French are anxious that the Spanish territory shall not serve as a base for nationalist activities.

At present Spanish Morocco is probably the most peaceful corner of North Africa over which violence last year flared from Suez to Casablanca.

France burst into Morocco with all the explosive energy of which she is capable and by tenacious, hard work modernized it out of all recognition. But a Moorish town-proletariat has been created bringing difficult new problems for France.

In Spanish Morocco, industrialization is scant, and the Moor lives his traditional peasant life away from the towns.

OPINIONS VARY

A Moorish handicraft workers, questioned about Moorish independence, said:

"In great countries like America and France and Britain where everyone gets schooling, it is still difficult to find good statesmen. How then shall we, poor Moors, of whom few can read or write hope to govern ourselves? Until we have many people with knowledge, independence here would mean the rule of the wealthy and the greedy in an atmosphere of endless strife."

But the younger, middle-class, town-dwelling Moors do not see the problem the same way.

The leader of these groups is Abdel Kader Torres, who returned to Spanish Morocco in January, 1952, after having lived four years in exile in Tangier. Several months later, after long talks between Gen. Franco and the caliph of Spanish Morocco, Prince Muley Hassen Ben El Mehdi, political parties were permitted for Moroccan nationals —a luxury which Franco did not allow Spaniards.

This proved a limited concession. It only applied to the towns, and Ceuta and Melilla were excluded on the grounds that, administratively, they are part of Spain. That left only Tetuan, with its 70,000 inhabitants, as the scene of this experiment in liberty.

Little progress seems to have been made since.

Tell Reds Honor Free Election

TORONTO (CP)—The new Russian regime should be told to honor Russia's United Nations commitment to support the principle of free elections in all countries, George Drew, national Progressive Conservative leader, said Wednesday.

Mr. Drew's address was prepared for a "brotherhood" meeting of the Kiwanis Club.

"All the nations represented at the San Francisco conference," he said, "declared their joint strength would support the principle that every nation had the right to choose its own form of government. Russia signed that undertaking just as we did.

"Now, when a new leader takes over the reins of government in Russia, is an appropriate time to remind them of that undertaking. If they repudiate it, then they repudiate the United Nations.

"We know what happened when the undertakings of the League of Nations were forgotten. Let us not repeat that fatal error."

Decision Reserved

COBOURG (ENS)—The Exchequer Court of Canada, sitting here to arrive at a valuation of property owned by John Frei on D'Arcy St., concluded its deliberations yesterday afternoon. WA, WI Presidents To Discuss Catering

COLDSPRINGS (ENS). — The March meeting of the Coldsprings Women's Auxiliary was held on Tuesday afternoon in the Sunday School room. Nineteen members and one visitor were present.

Mrs. F. Ritchie, first vice-president, presided. Mrs. E. Jamieson treasurer, reported a balance on hand of $183.81. It was decided that the Happy Thoughts committee send get-well cards to the non-members of the WA and a plant or flowers to members if seriously ill.

It was voted to buy Easter lilies to decorate the church for the Good Friday service and Easter Sunday. It was planned to buy more silverware and mark it. Mrs. F. Ritchie will be in harge.

The presidents of the WA and WI are to arrange a meeting to discuss the menu when they cater at the plowing match this fall. Mrs. J. Gordon reported that a tent from Peterborough had been spoken for. A birthday apron is being started.

The program was in charge of the group leader, Mrs. J. Gordon, and the theme topic given by Mrs. Newton McIntosh was "The Working Christian." Mrs. F. Ford gave the Scripture reading, Mrs. E. Jamieson a reading, and Mrs. N. McIntosh led in prayer. Lunch was served by Mrs. Gordon's group.

Cavan To Repair Stretch Of Road At End Of Swamp

MILLBROOK (ENS). —Cavan Township Council is going to repair a 300-foot stretch of road on the 13th Concession of the township near the east end of the Cavan swamp. This was decided at the last meeting of council.

That section of the road runs through the swamp and last year the stone fill sank in the mire and a large quantity of extra fill is needed. District Engineer Ewart F. Marston said the Department of Highways would give an 80 per cent subsidy on the work and he urged the council to go ahead.

A four-man delegation, consisting of William B. Carew, Neil Millen, James Myers and William Turner came to council and proposed that council fix the road.

Road Superintendent Harry Tully assured E. Brackenridge and H. Patten of the South Area School Board that the signs, requesting motor traffic to slow down because of a school ahead, were ready to put up.

GET CONTRACT

The R. A. Blythe Co. was given the contract of gravel crushing on township roads. Prices quoted by the company were 56 cents a cubic yard in the bin for crushing; 94 cents a cubic yard for crushing and hauling up to six miles; and, if more than a six-mile haul, an extra eight cents a cubic yard for each extra mile or fraction of a mile.

Motion to accept the R. A. Blythe bid was by Deputy-Reeve Tully and Councillor Bradburn. The other tender was by Spencer Vernon Construction.

Tenders are being called for the construction of a concrete culvert running over a creek on the Zion Line, southwest of Millbrook. In the spring a large volume of water flows down the gully. Steel is also being ordered for the project. The motion was by Deputy-Reeve Hooton and Councillor Thorn.

Council also engaged Alvin Olan to spray cattle for warble flies and L. H. Winslow was appointed inspector, both at their 1952 salaries. Deputy-Reeve Hooton and Counicllor Thorne made the motion.

Harry Tully was reappointed Cavan weed inspector.

The following were appointed, on a motion by Deputy-Reeve Hooton and Councillor Bradburn:

Fence viewers—Edwin Eagleson, Walter Widdis, William O'Brien, R. O. Larmer, Fred Staples, Lloyd Sutton, Bruce Sharpe, Herb Snyder, Hubert Lewe and Wilbur Bryans

Poundkeepers—Ronald Gibson, L. W. Smith, H. Hubbeard, Austin Sutton, A. Matchett, Donald Lang, Fred Elliott, Dannie Nill, Gordon Finnie, Newton Fee and Morris McGee.

Willis Hall will receive a cheque for $9.30 because of an overcharge due to an error in taxation.

After March 14 Tax Collector A. V. Thorn has been instructed to take action on outstanding taxes. An extension has already been granted as notices were sent out after the last meeting. During February Mr. Thorn collected $1,681.53.

Accounts totalling $1,807.48 were ordered paid.

RIOT IN ROME — Shouting Fascist oaths and smashing furniture, more than 1,000 Italian "MSI" members demonstrate before the offices of a Roman Communist newspaper. The riot is in protest against the bombing of Trieste in which 24 young Fascist members of the MSI group were injured. The rioting cries sounded to reporters like voices of the Mussolini era.

Parents Place Babies In Cages Outside Window

LONDON (CP)—British parents are putting their babies in cages and hanging them outside the window.

It sounds sadistic but it's true. The infant is placed in a sort of exaggerated parrot cage, about three feet square. The container is fastened to the window sill with metal supports, and the child looks blithely down on the traffic below.

Keeping babies in cages is the idea of the Chelsea Babies Club, a private organization founded 25 years ago. "Parents are apprehnsive at first, but they calm down when the man who fixes the cages gets into them himself and jumps about to test them," says the matron.

Parents who use the scheme say it's a good way of giving baby plenty of fresh air, while mother gets on with the housework.

US Cattlemen Take Beating From 25% Cut In Prices

KANSAS CITY (CP) — United States cattlemen are taking a price beating and some speculators who jumped into the market have been hurt by the squeeze in recent months.

With prices more than 25 per cent off their 1951 peaks the high-profit period for cattlemen has been wiped out. Although some of the losses were paper losses, in many cases there has been a real financial squeeze on those who lacked the cash or credit to tide them over a rough spot.

Heavy cattle production, coupled with drought and high feed costs started the slide. Two years ago cattle were selling for $36 a hundredweight—even more for top-grade steers. Now the price is off around $10.

There are more cattle today on the ranges and in feed lots than ever before in U.S. history—93,696,000 head as of Jan. 1. And some cattlemen think the situation may get worse before it gets better.

RECORD HIGHS

Don Whitehead of The Associated Press made a swing around the West and Mid-West to survey the situation. He reports that most prominent cattlemen view the price shake-down as probably a good thing for themselves and the whole country.

Whitehead reports that cattlemen want no part of government price supports, subsidies or controls, and are confident they can work out their own salvation. One cattleman thought freedom from competition of foreign beef was preferable to government handouts.

In the summer of 1951, the high price of beef was causing cries of anguish from consumers having a hard time finding a good steak in the butcher shop. The supply just couldn't meet the demand.

The U.S. government slapped on price ceilings and even ordered prices of beef cattle set back to former levels. Some cattlemen said then it would take three to five years for production to catch up with the demand.

But production outstripped expectations. Cattle began to flow towards the market, depressing prices. As a result growers and feeders were forced to unload their cattle even at unfavorable prices.

PREFER PROTECTION

At Jan. 1 the farm value per head was only $128 compared with $179 on the same date a year ago. But even that is $31 better than the average value from 1942 to 1951.

Whitehead says the price slump has jolted the entire industry. But those who have been hurt particularly are what one old-line Texas cattleman called the "bankers, oil men, barbers and soda jerkers" who put their money into cattle as a sideline. The squeeze caught them before they could unload.

Others who have been hurt are mid - west farmers who bought cattle for feeding at high prices, taking a chance the price would stabilize before they sold them.

Jack Roach of Amarillo, president of the Texas southwestern cattle raisers association, told him:

"We have always felt that there can be no satisfactory or workable solution to our problems that would substitute subsidies for a fair and open market price. . . . our only bellyache is over the meat that is being imported to compete with the homegrown product. We'd like to see something done about that."

And former governor Roy Turner of Oklahoma, a rancher himself, said:

"It has not been indicated in any meeting of cattlemen I have attended that the groups want a price-support program."

REMOTE CONTROL BURNS

TORONTO (CP)—Robert Perkins 11 months, suffered burns to his face Wednesday from a fire burning more than 1,000 feet away. The child was in his carriage on the front steps of his North York home when 2,000 gallons of turpentine, waste paint and lacquer caught fire in a salvage yard on another street. It is believed that hot vapor from the smoke dropped on the baby.

BAKER ROLLS—Col. Royal N. Baker, of McKinney, Tex., has tied the record of 11 Communist jets shot down in Korean action. Baker's MiG score now equals that of Major George Davis, of Lubbock, Tex., who is missing in action.

Protest Removal Of "Stars" Grading Resorts

TORONTO (CP)—The government's removal of a grading system for tourist camps and hotels was protested Wednesday by delegations representing resort and hotel owners from across the province.

At a meeting of the legislature travel and publicity committee tourist operators said some method of grading establishments should be restored, even if it is not the "star" system previously in use.

"I look with fear on the future of the tourist industry in Ontario if this plan is dropped after only a year's trial," said Douglas Oliver of the Canadian Tourist Association.

George Martin of the Muskoka Tourist Association described it as a "backward" step. He said there may be "lousy" places which the public will not know about.

Mr. Oliver said the government's claim of possible legal liability in the case of fire or accident was insufficient cause to withdraw the government gradings. He said the same responsibility applied to anyone who is issued a liquor licence.

Roy Thrush, of the Northern Ontario Outfitters' Association, said he couldn't believe the government would discard the system with only a year's trial.

"Accommodation in northern Ontario has improved greatly since inspection and grading was started," he said.

Convict Whitby Man Of Attempted Rape

TORONTO (CP)—Stanley Leigh Hoyt, 33, of Whitby, charged with the rape of a 12-year-old Estonian girl, was convicted Wednesday by an assize jury on a reduced charge of attempted rape.

After the jury verdict, Crown counsel Arthur Klein said he will introduce evidence shortly to show that Hoyt is a criminal sexual psychopath.

Hoyt has had several previous criminal convictions.

The little girl in the case said she came to Canada 1½ years ago with her parents from Germany. She said Hoyt forced her into his truck and later dumped her out after giving her 19 cents.

Sets Precedent

ABERDEEN, Scotland (CP)—James Adams, 30, is the first man in Scotland to be convicted by his toe-prints. He forgog the holes in his socks when he removed his shoes to break into a warehouse and the toe-prints were sufficient to obtain his conviction and sentence of 12 months in jail.

There is no "overnight cure" for irregularity

But there is a simple, natural answer to the common problem of irregularity due to lack of bulk

There are men and women (perhaps you're one of them) who won't let "nature take its course". THEY TRY TO SUBSTITUTE UNNATURAL "FORCING ACTION" FOR THE NATURAL REGULARITY WHICH SENSIBLE DAILY HABITS AND SUFFICIENT BULK IN THE DIET COULD PROBABLY MAINTAIN.

Many fall into the habit of using laxatives in a way laxative makers never intended. They take "big doses" willy-nilly without even reading the directions on the label.

Naturally, such overdosing—with products intended only for overnight relief of a temporary stoppage—exerts upon the delicate digestive system an unnatural strain.

There's nothing wrong, of course, with taking laxatives occasionally. If you feel you have to take a laxative, just be sure you take it wisely—in an accurate, recommended dose.

BUT THERE IS A WAY TO AVOID TAKING DRUG-TYPE LAXATIVES AND TO PLACE YOUR DEPENDENCE ON NATURE, IF LACK OF BULK IN THE DIET IS YOUR TROUBLE.

• • •

In many natural foods—such as certain vegetables, fruits, and grains—nature grows abundant natural bulk which normally and naturally aids the rhythmic process of elimination.

In no other natural food is natural bulk so ideally found as in the outer layers of the whole wheat kernel, known generally as bran.

Bran is nature's "laxative food instead of a medicine". When properly processed and shredded, whole wheat bran yields smooth natural bulk that the digestive system can handle in a natural way.

• • •

The Kellogg Company has made whole wheat bran into a delicious breakfast cereal—Kellogg's All-Bran.

KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN PERFORMS NATURALLY WHAT DRUG-TYPE LAXATIVES DO CHEMICALLY. IT HELPS CLEAR THE INTESTINES OF WASTE IN A NATURAL WAY. IT PROVIDES SOFT NATURAL BULK FOR EASY NATURAL ACTION.

There is no stomach upset, no churning, no after-effect except the feeling of satisfaction and fulfillment that comes with natural, normal elimination.

• • •

To obtain lasting relief, of course, Kellogg's All-Bran must be eaten regularly. You can have it for breakfast every morning secure in the knowledge that it isn't habit-forming.

More than one million servings of Kellogg's All-Bran are consumed each day. This popularity of itself is proof that this natural laxative cereal lives up to what we say about it.

But even better proof comes from thousands of satisfied All-Bran users. They write of their own free will to tell us what natural relief they receive from eating Kellogg's All-Bran daily and drinking plenty of water.

EAT KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN EVERY MORNING FOR BREAKFAST FOR 10 DAYS. THEN, IF YOU'RE NOT COMPLETELY SATISFIED, SEND THE EMPTY CARTON TO THE KELLOGG COMPANY, LONDON, ONTARIO—AND GET DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK.

Remember—Kellogg's All-Bran has helped millions. Why not you?

Driver Acquitted In Death Of 3 Near Powassan

PARRY SOUND (CP)—W Donald Hartwick, 25, of North Bay was acquitted Wednesday by a grand jury on charges of manslaughter and dangerous driving.

The charges arose from an auto accident near Powassan last October in which three persons were killed. A true bill on a charge of manslaughter was returned Monday by the grand jury.

Hartwick was the driver of a car which collided with one driven by Judge A. B. Currey of Gore Bay on No. 11 Highway. Mrs. Albert Currey, 66, the judge's wife, and her granddaughter, Jane Ann, 21 months, passengers in the Currey car, died as a result of the accident. Ivan W. Cline, 22, North Bay hydro meter reader and passenger in Hartwick's car, also was killed. There were six passengers in the Currey car at the time of the collision and four in Hartwick's car.

Judge Currey, who related the story of the accident to his son John in hospital, said another car travelling north had suddenly driven straight into the Currey car. The judge said he swung his car to the right but could not escape the impact.

During the trial, Hartwick said that the judge's car, which was coming south, was on the wrong side of the road as he came to the top of the hill where the accident happened.

Tax Rate 41 Mills

CHATHAM (CP)—At a special meeting of city council Wednesday Chatham's mill rate was struck at 41 mills based on the new assessment. City treasurer Lloyd Groombridge said the city will raise $1,348,384 through taxation.

House Lets Swiss Firm Use Canadian In Title

OTTAWA (CP) — With some hesitations, the Commons banking committee Wednesday cleared the way for an insurance firm backed by Swiss capital to join the 2,000 to 3,000 other companies which use the word Canadian in their name.

The committee finally gave unanimous approval to a bill to incorporate "the Canadian Reinsurance Company" after a state department official gave the opinion that this would not imply government sponsorship or violate normal practice.

Alex Cattacnach, director of the department's companies branch, testified that it is normal to grant use of the term Canadian to companies unless it does imply government connections. In this case, he couldn't see that it did.

Tobacco Men Tighten Controls On Acreage

SIMCOE (CP)—Steps to tighten acreage control this year were taken by directors of the Ontario Flue-cured Tobacco Marketing Association meeting here Wednesday.

The board passed an order requiring all members who produce and harvest tobacco in excess of their allotted acreage to turn in the proceeds from excess tobacco to the association.

However, any member who is found to be in excess may destroy the acreage of tobacco over and above his allotment.

Freedom Short-Lived

HAMILTON (CP)—Paul Perry, 24, charged with shoplifting, jumped to freedom Wednesday from the second-storey window of the central police station but was quickly recaptured. Perry was left alone for a few minutes in the interviewing room. He forced the screen off the window and jumped, landing on the roof of a car. He dented the roof of the automobile but was not hurt. A police cruiser spotted Perry and recaptured him.

DOBBIN RETURNS

SWIFT CURRENT, Sask. (CP)—The horse has not been shoved entirely out of the picture here. A. C. Sanburn, a pioneer Chaplin farmer, was granted a licence to operate a livery stable and riding academy—the first here in more than 20 years.

Ride In Mexican Gondola At Xochimilco Gardens

By JEAN E. STENTON

MEXICO CITY.—The Venice of Mexico, only 15 miles from Mexico City is beloved by Mexicans and visitors alike. There is no pleasanter way of spending a Sunday than to sit or recline in a gondola-like boat while an Aztec descendant poles you peacefully along through the Floating Gardens.

* * * *

The Chinampas or Floating Gardens came into being before the 14th century. They were originally interlacing twigs made thick enough to form a strong mat. They were then covered with a thin layer of earth. Being light, they could be moved across the lake by means of oars. Eventually they took root and today most of the flowers and produce for the capital and district are grown here.

* * * *

There are 3,000 boats at Xochimilco which are beautifully decorated with flowers, changed twice a week. Each boat has a girl's name worked out in flowers and we took the Elenita. A barefooted boatman wearing a big Mexican hat stands at the back of the craft and unhurriedly poles you along the canals.

* * * *

There are large, flat bottomed boats called canoas, 10 to 20 feet long, and from 5 to 8 feet wide. Smaller craft called chalupas, something like the Venetian gondolas with seats and awnings (and what I used) are popular with excursionists.

* * * *

ALL COMFORTS OF HOME

The trip is delightfully picturesque. En route Indian women in light canoes dart alongside and offer beautiful bouquets or orchid corsages for sale. Other craft with mariachis or smaller orchestras will play on request and there are floating restaurants, ice cold drink vendors and photographers. Some of the larger craft have dining tables in the centre and here joyous groups eat, drink and make merry. Lovers luxuriate in the amiable blindness that Mexicans effect on such occasions.

* * * *

The trip to Xochimilco is a beautiful one. I hired a taxi for half a day and the driver was a Castilian named Sr. Inez. We passed through suburbs and villages where crowds besieged the sidewalk market. In the distance there was a lovely, clear view of Popocatepetl and Ixtaccihuatl, the two volcanoes. Since this is the dry season everything is a soft brown that tones in with the landscape. The mountains are interesting and different from ours. They are brown, covered with vegetation and no snow caps to date.

* * * *

Many Mexicans take their families there to spend the day. Some of the young people travel the canals for three or four hours and then go to a pavilion and dance. No one hurries and the color of the place is enchanting. Street cars and buses going that way were packed to the doors and crowds waiting at every stop.

* * * *

WATCH SOIL CAREFULLY

The islands where the produce is grown are tended carefully. The earth is frequently replenished. A young boy about 12 was standing in a flat bottomed boat carefully scooping the muck from the bottom of one of the canals. It was rich black earth. When he had the boat filled he turned off into one of the smaller lateral canals and headed home. The network of canals leads to a special landing place where the farmers take their produce for shipment to the city. Big loads of cabbages were being unloaded when I passed.

* * * *

Sunday is the best time to go because of the crowds and bright flowers. But a ride by moonlight or on a week-day has its special delights too. The Aztec nobility of hundreds of years ago knew a good thing when they saw it.

THE FLOATING GARDENS at Xochimilco are one of the most beautiful things to be seen near Mexico. Dating from early Aztec days the man-made islands form canals which are used for business and pleasure. Most of Mexico's market produce comes from here. Gay boats, larger but on the principle of gondolas, ply the canals with passengers. Floating restaurants, orchestras and flower sellers all add a colorful touch to the bustling Gardens. The boats are decorated with flowers and named after girls.

AT THE OFFICIAL OPENING of Coronation School on the Warsaw Road on Wednesday night some of the district teachers and school board members were photographed in one of the new classrooms. Front row (left to right) are Coronation teacher Mrs. Helen Wilson, trustee Mrs. Floyd Curtis and Rifle Range School teacher Mrs. Dorothy Montgomery. Back row: trustee Leonard Welch, Auburn School teacher Ted King, and trustees Clinton Hough and C. J. (Dick) Watkins. Secretary-treasurer W. F. Special Grants $66,500 Made City Hospitals In Frost Budget Speech

St. Joseph's Hospital To Receive $43,900
Civic Hospital's Grant Is $22,600
Out of $8,500,000 Government Allotment

Peterborough's two hospitals will get $66,500 as their share of the $8,500,000 in special grants as announced today by Premier Leslie Frost. More than 190 Ontario hospitals will divide up that amount. Purpose of the grants is to enable hospitals to modernize facilities and equipment. Payment will be made at once. A breakdown of the grants as reported by Canadian Press shows that St. Joseph's Hospital gets $43,900 and Civic Hospital $22,000.

(At press time neither John Hornal, superintendent of Civic, nor Sister Priscilla, Mother Superiod of St. Joseph's, could account for the discrepancy in grants; though Sister Priscilla said the $43,900 to St. Joseph's was about the amount expected.)

Generally hospitals that have not received capital grants since 1947 get $400 a bed; those that have got $100 a bed.

"The older hospitals are in the greatest need of capital repairs and renovations," Premier Frost said. "They will obtain the greater part of the assistance, but we are also recognizing the requirements of newer hospital units."

Grants to other hospitals in the district are as follows:

Lindsay $21,600, Haliburton $3,600, Campbellford $6,100, Bancroft $2,200, Apsley $2,000, Cobourg $14,000, Port Hope $18,000, and Port Perry $2,900.

School Board Asked To Discuss Amalgamation

Another step towards the amalgamation of the Board of Education health services with those of the city's was taken at a Board of Health meeting Wednesday afternoon.

This step was a decision to invite the Health Committee of the Board of Education to hold a joint meeting with the Board of Health next week.

There will be a third group at this meeting— Dr. D. Puffer, assistant chief medical officer of health for Ontario, and staff members from the provincial department of health.

The decision to hold this joint meeting was made following board members' study of the terms of amalgamation submitted to them by the Board of Education.

WILL ATTEND

During the meeting a call was received from Dr. Puffer during which he agreed to attend the joint meeting.

E. A. Outram, board secretary, was authorized to acknowledge the letter with the enclosed terms from the Board of Education and invite the board's health committee to attend the joint meeting.

The exact date of the meetng was left to be decided later.

If this joint meeting ends in agreement between the two boards for the amalgamation of health services it will conclude several attempts in recent years towards such an amalgamation. Previously all negotiations feel through.

The actual changeover, if decided upon, is expected to take place when schools open next September.

Ask Conciliation To Settle Contract Dispute

Deadlocked in their negotiations with the Canadian General Electric Co., the United Electrical Workers (Indep.) today applied to the Ontario Department of Labor for conciliation services. The UE is the bargaining agent for some 7,000 production workers in the CGE chain.

At the same time C. S. Jackson, Canadian president of UE, rapped the company for its counter-proposal of a contributory pension plan granting an employee $100 a month at 68, dropping to $60 when the employee becomes eligible for the $40 old age pension.

OBJECTIONS

Mr. Jackson's objections, in brief, were:

1. "The CGE has ignored all its responsibilities of collective bargaining by going over the heads of the union negotiators, directly to the employees with an all-out sales promotion job . . . putting over a fait accompli while shadow boxing around the negotiating table."

2. "What was not said in this publicity blurb was that (the company's) offer to the Canadian employees . . . was an out-of-date version of the agreement entered into by GE and the UE in the United States in 1950, and since then substantially improved . . ."

"Materials made public by the company and mailed and given to employees carried details not contained in the proposals placed before the bargaining units," charged Mr. Jackson.

(The welfare package offer includes pension, life insurance and health insurance plans for the company's 14,000 employees in Canada. The new plans, as proposed by CGE, are expected to go into effect early in the summer for employees not in a bargaining unit; and at the same date, or when agreement is reached, with the employees in the various unions. Enrolment in the pension and welfare plans would be voluntary.)

Drive Nearing One-Third Mark

Red Cross and Community Fund headquarters reported today $31,580 collected in the $95,000 campaign now under way.

The divisions totals for the campaign to date, with objectives, are: Special Names $10,620 ($27,850), Industrial $16,287 ($41,800) Retail $1,872 ($19,250), Women's $2,106 ($5,500), Penny-A-Day $695 ($600).

200 See Coronation School After Official Opening

Close to 200 people from Douro township school area No. 2 were on hand Wednesday night when the Hon. Harold Scott, Minister without Portfolio in the Ontario Cabinet, opened Coronation School, two miles east of Peterborough on the Warsaw Road. The school —named in honor of the coronation in June of Queen Elizabeth II—is basically of concrete block construction and was built to accommodate 190 pupils.

The one-storey building is faced with stucco on three sides and red brick on the front which reveals a long wall of clear-pane windows.

PRESENT PORTRAIT

The school, which includes four classrooms, two teachers' rooms, two washrooms, a playroom and a furnace room, was built and partially equipped at a cost of only $60,000. Two of the classrooms, which are not yet equipped, will be furnished as they are needed in the growing community which contains several pre-school-age children of veterans of the Second World War.

A highlight of Wednesday night's ceremonies was the presentation of a framed portrait of Queen Elizabeth II by Gordon K. Fraser, Peterborough MP. Mr. Fraser's personal gift was received on behalf of the area school board by Mrs. Floyd Curtis, only woman on the six-member board.

Mr. Fraser, who congratulated the people of the area on completion of the school, said he realized that schools were costing more money today than ever before and he hoped that some day the federal government would help the municipalities with the high cost of building schools.

Mr. Fraser was introduced by Public School Inspector K. O. Birkin, who outlined the history of the school area which was established in June, 1950. It was formed by joining two school sections, UPSS 17, Otonabee and Douro, containing the Rifle Range School, and UPSS 11, Douro (in union with no. 19, Otonabee) containing the Auburn School. The board for the new area took office in January, 1951.

"At its first meeting and at most meetings thereafter the matter of school accommodation occupied an important place in all deliberations of the board," Mr. Birkin said. "This adequate school building is the result of those deliberations."

Mr. Birkin, who was lauded as being chiefly responsible for construction of the school at such a low cost, was congratulated by the Hon. Harold Scott, who declared the building open.

Mr. Scott said that there had been criticism of the Minister of Education, the Hon. Walter Dunlop, when he had said that he would cut down on the cost of education by reducing 'frills." But complaints had come from employers and universities that secondary school graduates lacked basic training in the "three R's."

"We feel that we should get back to teaching our pupils the fundamentals," Mr. Scott said.

He said that enrolment in Ontrio schools had increased by 55,000 in 1952 and the estimated increase during the next four years was: 1953—54,000; 1954—51,000; 1955—50,000. In 1952, 230 schools costing $44 millions had been completed in the province and it was expected that 125 would be completed in 1953 costing $25 millions.

In 1952 government grants to elementary and secondary schools had totalled $7,707,155 as compared with $55 millions in 1952.

"So when we suggest that some of the frills be reduced, I don't feel the children are going to suffer," Mr. Scott said.

'This is an investment," he declared. "The return you will get, is strong, rugged, right-thinking citizens who will make their way in the world and take pride in their work.

"Work hard; waste no time," was his advice to the students. "The best I can wish for you is that you're going to turn out to be as good men and women as your mothers and fathers."

Mr. Scott was thanked by K. A. Kidd, chairman of the area school board.

Howard A. Quinn, chairman of the board in 1951 and 1952 then introduced the members of the three boards since the area had been formed. They were: 1951—F. Agnew, W. A. Amos, D. J Armstrong, C. A. Hough; 1952—D. J. Armstrong, C. A. Hough, C. J. Watkins, L. W. J. Welch; 1953—Mrs. Floyd Curtis, C. A. Hough, C. J. Watkins, L. W. J. Welch. Secretary-treasurer of the board during its three-year history, W. F. Bell was absent because of illness.

PLANNED 2 YEARS

"We had a very strenuous two years planning this school," Mr. Quinn said, "but we felt we had a large enough assessment to build a six-room school. I think it has all the advantages necessary in any rural school."

Ross Greenly, general contractor for the building, ws introduced by Mr. Birkin.

"To build a school requires a lot of work and a lot of co-operation and we got that here," Mr. Greenly said.

The building was dedicated by Canon W. Gilling, rector of St. Luke's Church, Peterborough. Mayor Hugh Waddell brought greetings from the city of Peterborough, Warden E. J. Leeson from Peterborough County, and Stanley Adamson from the Peterborough Board of Education.

Mr. Birkin then introduced the teachers from the school area: A. D. McLeod, principal, and Mrs. Helen Wilson of Coronation School; E. E. King of Auburn School and Mrs. D. Montgomery of Rifle Range School.

Following the ceremonies, those present made a tour of the new building. Lunch was served by a group of ladies under the convenership of Mrs. Floyd Curtis.

$135,000 Given To Haliburton For County Bldg.

Haliburton county was given a $135,000 grant to pay for its new county council building which is nearing completion when the 1953 provincial budget was announced today.

The handsome brick building with a local stone facing is being built on a slope on at St. Germaine and Newcastle Streets in Minden, the county seat.

The two storey building will contain three police cells and a double garage as well as a boiler room in the basement; a combination county council chambers and court room on the main street level floor plus offices for the three-man Ontario Provincial Police detachment; and on the second floor three offices for the county clerk, E. A. Rogers and the county treasurer. The third office has not been assigned to any official yet.

The building is completely fireproof of steel, concrete, stone and brick construction. Workmen are now putting trim on the top floor.

The garage in the basement opens out onto the slope at the side of the building and is for use of the OPP cruisers. An automatic coal furnace will furnish the heat for the steam heating system.

County clerk Rogers said today he expected the building would be open for use by June, and an official opening would probably take place in July.

Premier Leslie Frost who announced the grant in his budget brought down today, laid the cornerstone of the building in October.

The structure replaces an old frame county building erected about 1875 that was torn down in August to make way for the new building. The county business has been conducted from temporary quarters in the meantime.

150 To Attend Rangers Reunion

Geddes Harper, president of the veterans' association of the 1st Bn. Prince of Wales Rangers, reports that between 125 and 150 ex-members of the battalion will be here in Peterborough this weekend for the second post-war reunion.

The unit opened recruiting in Peterborough on March 10, 1942, under the command of Col. J. A. Dewart. After intensive training in Canada it went overseas in December, 1944, under the command of Major R. S. Allin. Once in England the battalion was formed into 12 CITB (Canadian Infantry Training Battalion.)

To boost attendance from outside the district Ted Moore, former member of the battalion who has a tire and battery exchange business has made this offer: the five veterans who have come the farthest will each get a tank full of gasoline.

Already veterans from as far away as Kingston and London, Ont., have said they would come.

Saturday there will be a social get-together and Sunday at 1.30 p.m. a dinner in the Legion Hall.

TAKES UP FLYING—The Duke of Edinburgh creates an impression of driving force, says a close observer of the Royal family. He likes to get things done. He works hard and plays hard. Recently he took up flying. Here he gets ready for his first training flight in a Chipmunk plane at White Waltham airport, Berkshire. His instructor, Flt. Lt. Caryl Ramsey Gordon, is at left.

INTERESTED IN SCIENCE—In civilian matters, as in most other things, the Duke of Edinburgh shows a quick brain. He assimilates scientific subjects readily and often impresses guides on industrial tours with his ability to reel off long technical terms. While visiting the road research laboratory at Harmsworth, Middlesex, the Duke looks through a measuring microscope on a soil moisture apparatus. These study the effect of moisture and moisture movement, compaction and embankments, and soil stabilization.

THE DUKE AT DARTS—The Duke of Edinburgh is a man of strongly marked characteristics. His high position as husband of the Queen has not changed his personality. He remains "fast-moving, dashing, lively, breezy" says a Buckingham Palace official. Here he plays at darts at a Gordonstoun school fete. A good mixer, Prince Philip likes the atmosphere of an English inn and his favorite drink is said to be draught beer.

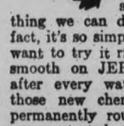
Barbara Brent's BUYS AND WHYS
A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, March 12th—Who says women can't agree? All of my friends (and, incidentally, their husbands, too) agree wholeheartedly on the subject of soup. They like Heinz. And now I hear that, in dozens of recent taste-tests, HEINZ CONDENSED SOUPS scored top rating with groups of dieticians, housewives and women office workers. There's popularity for you! And, if you'll make a taste-test of your own, I'm sure you'll agree it's well deserved popularity. Just heat a tin of Heinz Condensed Soup and a tin of any other brand. Serve half-helpings of each. Then take a vote. My bet is that it will be 2 to 1 for Heinz!

The Minute I Tasted It, I sat down at my typewriter to tell you all about this thrilling new coffee discovery. Have you tried the NEW INSTANT CHASE & SANBORN COFFEE? If not, you have an exciting surprise coming. New Instant Chase & Sanborn is 100% real coffee, and it's made by a brand new "Natural Flavour" process that keeps the flavour and aroma—in fact, the very colour and texture of freshly ground coffee. And it's so convenient. It dissolves like magic in hot or cold water. Once you've sampled the glorious real-coffee flavour of New Instant Chase & Sanborn Coffee, you'll want to make it your every-meal, every-occasion coffee. And it will save you up to 40c a pound compared with regular coffee!



Spring Is In The Air and, if you're like me, you'll be planning to make a suit for Spring's lovely days. Yes, I'm "stocking up" now on lightweight suiting material . . . and a LIGHTNING FASTENER for the skirt. Style No. 805 is the ideal zipper for skirts. It's the one Canada's leading women's suit manufacturers choose, for they know that only Lightning gives you everything you need for zipper satisfaction. It's fine, it's flexible, and it never slides down—the secret automatic lock makes sure of that. Every Lightning has it, and only Lightning has it. Be sure, then, to ask for Lightning No. 805. You can get it in any colour and length you need, and you'll fit your suit with the finest.

Strange, Isn't It, how we can forget to see ourselves "as others see us" — then suddenly one day we realize that our hands are rough, red and old-looking. Well, no matter how busy we are, there's something we can do about that. In fact, it's so simple, I'm sure you'll want to try it right away. Simply smooth on JERGENS LOTION after every watery chore. Even those new chemical soaps can't permanently roughen hands that are protected the Jergens way. You see, because Jergens Lotion is liquid, it quickly penetrates to supply the softening moisture that dry, thirsty skin needs. So remember—Jergens Lotion . . . because you care for your hands. Just 15c, 37c, 65c and $1.15.

Looking For A Delicious Way to give your family a quick start? Simply serve hot "CREAM OF WHEAT" with a big spoonful of thick, luscious strawberry jam folded in. Top with milk or cream. Delicious! Yes, and easy, too. You know, Quick "Cream of Wheat" takes only five minutes of boiling to cook to perfect smoothness. And best of all, hot "Cream of Wheat" is truly good for you. It contains iron for good red blood and calcium and phosphorous for diets deficient in these elements. So give your whole family—children and grown-ups too, a good start—a quick start for the day. Treat them all to their favorite hot "Cream of Wheat".

Enthusiasm — lots of it — is what you'll get when you serve HEINZ OVEN-BAKED BEANS to your family. Yes, all five kinds of Heinz Oven-Baked Beans . . . with Pork; in Tomato Sauce; with Sliced Wieners; Boston Style or Heinz Red Kidney Beans . . . they're all family "favourites". And you'll like them because they're so easy to prepare. And so versatile. There are, literally, dozens of delicious ways to serve them. So keep a supply of Heinz Oven-Baked Beans on hand to please the family—and for a "quickie" meal when unexpected guests drop in. Heinz Beans make a wonderfully good, wonderfully economical meatless meal.

Have You Heard the good news? . . . specially for y-o-u, if your feet have been bothering you lately. The news is Phenylium, the new medication in BLUE-JAY Corn Plasters. Phenylium gets right down under your corn and helps push it out from underneath . . . the first really new medication for corns and calluses in over seventy years. In actual tests, Phenylium went to work 33% faster and worked 35% more surely than other leading remedies. Easy to see why folks with bothersome feet say it's the best news in years! I know you'll agree!—ask for Blue-Jays with Phenylium at your favourite drug counter today.

But I Paid That! Have you ever thought you'd paid for something you'd bought, and then received another bill for it? That kind of thing used to happen to me now and then . . . and it was always embarrassing and sometimes downright troublesome. That, of course, was when I used to run my finances on cash payments and wasn't too careful about my "book-keeping". But no more of that. Now, I pay for everything I possibly can by cheque and know exactly what's been paid at the end of the month when I pick up my cancelled cheques from my neighborhood BANK OF MONTREAL branch. It's the simplest, yet most efficient way I know to keep track of my spending. Why not try it? Open a Chequing Account at your nearest branch of the B of M today. You'll find it a great help in keeping your finances in order.

You Can Take A Bow when your husband raves about his snow-white shirts. But give some of the credit to Blue—for Blue does the best job of all in keeping clothes from turning yellow. When you're rinsing your wash to get the clothes clean, simply put a dash of Blue in the water—to get them really white. Blue is safe for the fine fabrics in your wash. Those beautiful sheets you got for your anniversary—the luncheon set that's your pride and joy . . . . don't take chances—use Blue to keep them white. Costs just a few pennies a month—and that makes good sense, doesn't it?

Yes, for the whitest wash, use RECKITT'S BLUE.

High Position Not Changed Personality Of Duke Has Marked Characteristics

Trying to plumb the depths of royal character is often unrewarding. But the Duke of Edinburgh, husband of the Queen, is a man of strongly marked characteristics. His high position has not changed his personality. This story, one of a series, describes his striking qualities.

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—It's easy to write a character sketch of the Duke of Edinburgh.

"Write him up as fast-moving, dashing, lively, breezy—anything like that and you're near the mark," says a Buckingham Palace official.

"The Duke leaves you with an impression of driving force," says another close observer of the Royal Family. "He likes to get things done. He works hard and plays hard."

Court officials comment on an exceptional briskness in the Duke's movements, and his quick, unobtrusive way of getting about. On tours of inspection, he sometimes shows such hustle that the official timetable is upset.

QUICK CHANGE ARTIST

He even changes clothes uickly. This may be a trick picked up from his "Uncle Dickie"—Admiral Earl Mountbatten—who used special wardrobe wrinkles such as detachable gold braid to get a reputation as a quick-change artist.

Vigor pervades the Duke's personality. He is forceful in argument, sometimes c o n t r oversial. Perhaps because of his upbringing and naval background, he favors directness and admires a hard-hitting reply.

"He appreciates the dignity of his position, of course," friends say, "but like the late King he doesn't want you to regard him as sacred."

As a sportsman, he is amazingly versatile, but shrugs off any suggestion of exceptional aptitude. In the British phrase, he likes to "have a go" at anything from snooker to sailing. It is typical of his enthusiastic but unprofessional approach to sport that his shooting style wins little expert acclaim. He just blazes away indiscriminately.

LIKES INFORMALITY

He is likable, offhand, casual—he has been seen in the palace in shirt sleeves—and occasionally a little impatient. He sometimes bridles at criticism.

Buckingham Palace officials are undisturbed by rare examples of impetuous behavior. One example occurred at Niagara Falls, Ont., during the 1951 royal tour when the Duke's comments about photographers were audible and explicit.

Courtiers say this tendency is something that will pass.

"Perhaps it's true that the Duke is not yet wholly mature from the standpoint of the court," a royal spokesman said. "But that will come. And Philip, of course, is entitled to a certain latitude."

Philip likes movies and the theatre, though he admits his own boyhood efforts in the plays of Shakespeare didn't reveal great promise. He doesn't care much for opera, court circles say. He likes the atmosphere of an English inn and his favorite drink is said to be draught beer.

SUNDAY POLO

He has his critics. Richard Higbed, regional organizer of the Lord's Day Observance Society, rapped him publicly for playing polo on Sunday at Cowdray Park, Sussex.

"Surely we don't have to copy everything His Royal Highness does?" said Higbed, and Philip was reported stung. British papers brushed this criticism aside as "sniping by busybodies."

The tall, athletic ex-Prince of the Hellenes, with his blonde good looks and ability to wear crisply-cut uniforms, is definitely a man's man—with an eye for an attractive woman. An Australian woman, having passed along the receiving line at a royal reception, decided to go around again. When she came up the second time, Philip said with a smile: "Haven't we met some place before?"

Like all Mountbattens, Philip has salt water in his veins. At 21 he was second-in-command of the destroyer Wallace, which landed troops in Sicily for the 1943 invasion. Royalty, it seems, robbed the Royal Navy of an outstanding officer.

In civilian matters, too, the Duke shows a quick brain. He assimilates scientific matters readily and often impresses guides on industrial tours with his ability to reel off long technical terms. At school classics and history were his worst subjects.

SOLICITOUS HUSBAND

Toward the Queen, Philip displays a tender protectiveness. It is said that when the couple returned from Kenya a year ago after George VI's death, Elizabeth broke down just as their plane landed at London airport. The Duke spoke quietly to the pilot. The plane taxied slowly to the waiting party of officials by the longest route, giving the Queen time to recover her composure.

This then is Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh—sailor, sportsman, student of science and technology, uninhibited, an easy mixer with a basic seriousness. As husband of the Queen in a troubled time, he appears to have a job worthy of his talents, the sort that a former teacher may have had in mind when he wrote:

"Philip is a born leader, but he will need the exacting demands of a great service to do justice to himself. His best is outstanding; his second best is not good enough."

Behind Natural Cold Gaze Of The Indian There Is Wit

CALGARY (CP)—The Indian is no stoic, says John L. Laurie, a man who in Alberta is known as the Indian's friend.

An evening with an Indian family can be hilarious, Mr. Laurie says. Indians love to spin yarns. Behind the steady, seemingly cold gaze of the Indian there is wit.

He explains that what people take for stoicism is a defence mechanism. The Indian has received so many rebuffs that he would never make an advance for fear of being rebuffed again.

How Mr. Laurie came to be the Indian's friend is told by Ken Liddell in the Calgary Herald.

As a boy in Ontario he had played with children of the Six Nations Indians. But it was while vacationing 27 years ago that he stayed overnight on the Morley reserve west of Calgary and left with a vague feeling that the Stony Indians there were not getting a fair deal.

He stayed with them in their homes to learn more. He found out that only half of those on the reserve had been to school. There had been a school run by the McDougall Orphanage but it had run out of funds in 1906 and a school built in 1923 was far from adequate.

In 1944 the Crees of the north were planning some protest and they asked the Stonys to join them. The Stonys asked Mr. Laurie for advice. He told them to meet with the Crees.

As a result of the meeting the Indians decided upon an organization of their own, which now includes all the tribes, and they asked Mr. Laurie to be secretary.

REMARKABLE GROWTH

That was in 1944 and at that time there were only three schools for Indians in Alberta, apart from residential schools operated on reserves by churches. Today there are 34 day schools and each has a qualified teacher.

The association has many accomplishments to its credit. The Stonys today have more productive land at Morley and two areas for overflow bands—Nordegg and near Longview. The association assisted in setting up the Charles Camsell Hospital for Indians at Edmonton.

The Indians did not forget their friend. Mr. Laurie was adopted by the Stonys in 1940, made Chief White Cloud in 1948. In 1951 the Bloods made him honorary Chief Red Crow and in 1949 the Sarcees gave him the name Sitting Eagle.

Charge Couple Neglected Child

FORT ERIE (CP)—A six-year-old child, whose parents are charged with failing to provide the necessities of life, may have a digestive ailment, a physician told the court Wednesday.

Dr. J. E. Brown of Fort Erie testified that Audrey Overholt, daughter of John and Doris Overholt, was suffering from malnutrition when admitted to hospital here. But the doctor said this may be due to a condition called coeliac, in which the intestines do not absorb fats and some other foods.

The couple denied charges by Crown attorney Tobias F. Forestall that they consumed a case of beer a day and left their four children alone. They said there was plenty of food in their home. Mrs. Overholt testified she spent $25 to $30 a week on food.

Magistrate Johnstone Roberts reserved judgment one week.

More Fire-Fighters

REGINA (CP)—Almost 1,100 men were added to Saskatchewan's total of volunteer firemen during 1952 as a result of the extensive training program conducted by the provincial fire commission. Classes were held at 13 civil defence schools and 10 volunteer schools.

Steelworkers Get New President

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The CIO United Steelworkers Union got a new president Wednesday to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Philip Murray last Nov. 9.

The 30 members of the USW executive board installed David J. McDonald as president. He has served as secretary-treasurer of the union since it was organized by Murray in 1936.

I. W. Abel, former district director for the union in Canton, O. was installed as secretary-treasurer to succeed McDonald.

Those two officers, in addition to Vice-President James G. Thimmes were elected by the union rank and file without opposition in a Feb. 10 referendum. Thimmes term expires June 1.

Results of disputed contests for the posts of district directors will be disclosed by the official tellers in a few days.

Famed Singer Dies, Was 10 Yrs. In Canada

BIRMINGHAM, Eng. (CP)—John Goss, well-known vocal recitalist who lived in Canada from 1940 to 1950, has died at his home here. He was 58.

Goss was well known in Britain for what an obituary in The Times described as "a large repertory of songs of an unusual nature (which) delighted audiences all over the world."

Goss went to Canada in 1940 and settled in Vancouver, where he had a teaching studio.

The Times said: "By means of the individual recital, helped not only by a sympathetic baritone voice, transparent sincerity and fine musicianship, but also by a determination to sing good but little known songs, he quickly became one of the most popular singers of his age."

Examine Security Of Rocket Range

CANBERRA (AP)—An immediate examination of the security system at the Woomera rocket range in South Australia has been ordered following the revelation that the Communist candidate in the state election March 7 polled 25 per cent of Woomera's votes, Supply Minister Howard Beale told the House of Representatives today.

Labor members jeered when Beale attempted to explain the Communist vote, shouting "too weak," and "you are making a molehill out of a mountain."

Beale said that only Labor and Communist candidates contested the election, and that the Communist did not visit the range.

Labor howls of glee reached their pitch when Beale said "some electors voted for the Communist in the mistaken belief that he was the Liberal party candidate."

Beale said the strictest security arrangements covereed all workers who had access to restricted information.

Mrs. Arthur King Heads Sewing Circle

HAVELOCK (ENS)—The Victoria Sewing Circle is a new organization that came into being recently in the Victoria district of Belmont townshp. It was formed at the home of Mrs. Arthur King for the purpose of making repairs to the Victoria Church and cemetery. The following officers were appointed: president, Mrs. Arthur King; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Murray Fraser; press reporter, Mrs. Clarence King; organists, Mrs. William Anderson, Mrs. Charles Jones.

To start the funds a quilting was held at the meeting and three of the members donated the material for a quilt which will be sold when completed.

Norwood Council Sets Tax Rate At 89 Mills

NORWOOD (ENS) — Town council set the 1953 tax rate at 89 mills after a thorough examination of the various items in the treasurer's budget for possible deductions or elimination.

The rate is made up as follows: Public school, 21.4; high school maintenance and debentures, 15.7; county purposes, 19.4; debt charges on waterworks, 5.5; general, 27; total, 89 mills.

The clerk was authorized to prepare the necessary bylaws confirming the 1953 rate, which was approved at Monday's council meeting with all members present.

Accounts of $676.76 were ordered paid and W. A. Scott was authorized to extend the waterworks service in the town hall to the main floor at an estimated cost of $35.

The clerk was authorized to get prices on 300 ft. of 1½" fire hose, nozzles, coupling and smoke masks as soon as possible.

The matter of observing Coronation Day, June 2, was discussed and the clerk was authorized to have representatives meet with the council on Thursday evening, March 19, to consider plans.

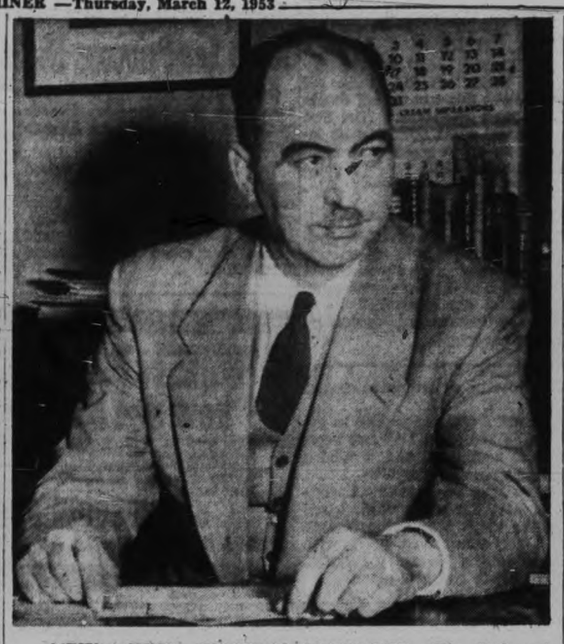
Lindsay Gets Fifth Fray Over Redmen

LINDSAY (ENS) — A five-goal first period was all the Lindsay Muskies needed last night to remain in the Lakeshore League final series with a 9-5 win over the Port Hope Redmen in the fifth game of the series. Port Hope now leads the set 3-2.

Faced with the possibility of elimination, the Muskies went out in the opening frame and played better hockey than they have since the regular schedule. Before the period was over, they had four goals, added one more before it ended and two each in the second and third. Port Hope scored once in the middle frame, and four times in a sudden splurge in the third. Bad clearing by both Wasson and the Port defence was responsible for most of the first period scoring.

Kelly scored the first from O'Donoghue and Sinclair, when he took a pass in front all alone. Two minutes later, with the Muskies a man short, Coombs took Parker's long pass at the blue line, went in alone and slid his shot just past the post, with Wasson doing the splits too late.

ADDED ANOTHER



Less than a minute later, Corley got the third goal on a three-way play, going in all alone and deking Wasson. Parker scored the next on a screen from 12 feet when a rebound came right to him. Two seconds from the end of the period, with Douglas of the Redmen off, the Muskies tallied again, Al Burns scoring on a long shot.

In the second period, Hennessy opened scoring on a shot from the boards that trickled through Wasson's pads while he was looking at O'Donoghue, with whom he had just finished a goal-mouth shoving bee. McKeen scored the Ports' first goal a minute later.

Crawford made it 7-1 late in the period, when he beat Wasson with a screened shot that came off bad clearing again.

In the final frame, Hennessy scored when he trapped a rebound in front of the Port net and scored. Crawford added another a minute later, with Douglas sitting out his third penalty of the night. Then the Ports came to life. McKeen, on a close drive, and Hogan, on a long shot, both scored while Douglas was still off. Mason and Turner added their final goals in another two minutes and the Redmen continued to drive until the end of the game.

O'Connell was outstanding in the Lindsay nets, taking much of the thunder from Wasson, the star of the series up to then. All the Lindsay attackers were at their peak for the game, although the Coombs-Crawford-Parker line seemed to be going best. Davis and Hennessy were best on defence. For the Ports, McKeen the great little left winger, kept flying, as did Freeman, Gordon and Medhurst, Hogan played a solid game on the defence. Wasson was slightly off his earlier form for the game.

NEW ACTING GENERAL MANAGER—The DeLaval Company announced Wednesday that Andrew Purdon, vice-president and comptroller, had been appointed acting general manager of the Peterborough company. He is still vice-president. —(Examiner Staff Photo).

Andrew Purdon Named De Laval Acting Manager

Andrew Purdon, B Com, CA, has been named acting general manager of the Peterborough branch of the DeLaval Company of Canada. His appointment is part of the company's re-organization which started a year ago when the Canadian company was formed.

Mr. Purdon was formerly comptroller with the company as well as vice-president; he is still retaining his vice-presidency.

Joining the company in 1948 as comptroller, Mr. Purdon was previously comptroller with the Hesky Flax Products of Toronto for six years. Before that he worked with Clarkson-Gordon Co., also of Toronto, for 13 years.

Mr. Purdon attended Queen's University where he graduated with his Bachelor of Commerce degree and then later became Chartered Accountant while working with Clarkson-Gordon.

Two Grass Fires

COBOURG (ENS)—Firemen were called out three times, twice in Cobourg and to Wicklow. A grass fire out Division St. north and another grass fire back of the Presbyterian Church occurred in the morning. In the afternoon they were called out to fight a fire at Wicklow which had destroyed one shed and was starting on a second one. The second fire was quickly extinguished and no danger to Waite's service station, on the same property, developed.

Views On Liquor Different In Legislatures

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Different views on liquor were heard Wednesday in the Alberta, Manitoba and New Brunswick legislatures.

Walter V. Powers, Progressive Conservative backbencher for Victoria county called on his fellow-members in the New Brunswick house to "lay down their petticoats and deal realistically with the liquor question."

He said 244 clubs in the province dispensed liquor—but he didn't say whether he is in favor of closing them or giving them licences to sell spirits and beer.

In the Alberta legislature, plans for setting up Calgary and Edmonton centres of the Alberta Alcoholism Foundation were announced by Dr. J. Donovan Ross (SC-Edmonton), president of the foundation. Serious alcoholic cases will be treated at the centres. The foundation also plans to study alcoholism in the province and its relation to juvenile delinquency, traffic accidents and crime.

In the Manitoba House Francis L. Jobin (LP-The Pas) said citizens of the province should have a say as to whether liquor laws should be liberalizd. He said many persons have become persistent in demanding liberalization of the laws.

The Newfoundland legislature opened at St. John's with Lieutenant-Governor Sir Leonard Outerbridge reading the speech from the throne.

The speech predicted bigger development of mineral, hydro, agriculture and fishery resources. After questions from the opposition, the House adjourned until March 18.

The minority Social Credit government of British Columbia survived its fourth vote in the legislature this session.

The Liberals, holding the balance of power, sided with the government to defeat a CCF motion 24-21. The motion asked the government to file in the house a report on education costs, completed last year, three months before the present administration took office.

Trapped In Maze 13 Suffocate In Brewery Fire

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—The death toll in a fire at the Anheuser-Busch Brewery Wednesday has been fixed at 13. All the victims were construction workers who were suffocated when trapped in a maze of huge fermentation tanks.

Fire raced up the corklined walls of a windowless storage wing at the $20,000,000 brewery. Black choking smoke filled the six-storey brick wing, touching off panic among the 80 men at work there. Twenty-nine were taken to hospital for smoke poisoning.

Light couldn't pierce the thick curtain of smoke in the wing, and the workmen groped blindly for exits.

About half of the victims were caught inside the 30- by 50-foot fermentation tanks. Small manholes little more than two feet in diameter were the only exits from the tanks.

TRAPPED LIKE RATS

"Those in the tanks were trapped like rats," said foreman Fred Watkins. "They probably never heard the fire warning, and if they did, they couldn't have made it up the ladder before they were overcome."

Other victims were suffocated in a labyrinth of tiny corridors between the tanks on each floor.

Many of the masons, carpenters and laborers who managed to scramble to safety plunged back again into the smoke-filled wing to help the others escape. Two of these volunteers lost their lives in the rescue attempt.

Firemen climbed building scaffolds outside the wing and chopped holes in the concrete roof to remove the smoke inside. Then, wearing oxygen masks, they crawled along pipe and plank construction scaffolds to reach the trapped workmen.

Bobcaygeon Rinks Win Fenelon Falls 'Spiel

LINDSAY — (ENS) — Two Bobcaygeon rinks skipped by A. Woollard and Martin Thurston, won top places in the annual Fenelon Falls bonspiel, held at the Lindsay curling club Wednesday.

Lindsay rinks won the other three prizes in the three-game point event. First with three wins and a score of 32 plus 4 was A. Woollard, second with three wins, 31 plus 4, was Martin Thurston, Sid Elsden of Lindsay finished third with three wins and 29 points. Fourth was Jimmy Curtis of Lindsay and Fenelon Falls with two wins 32 plus 3. Guy Gassien of Lindsay was fifth with one win and 26 points.

Woodstock Play Opens Festival

SARNIA (CP)—The Western Ontario regional drama festival opened Wednesday night with a performance by the Woodstock Little Theatre of Ruth Gordon's play, "Years Ago."

Adjudicator John Allen, British playwright and actor, said "'Years ago' was easy to do, well written and well chosen." He said the characterizations were not always fully developed.

Bob McDougall, in the role of Clinton Jones, though physically stiff in performance gave a "remarkably convincing and enjoyable performance." Young Pat Darrow as Ruth Gordon Jones showed a lot of talent not yet developed and moments that were "extremely well done" but needed more help in the way of direction from the producer, Philys Mitchell.

Five little theatre groups are competing in the festival for the possible honor of being invited to the Dominion Drama Festival at Victoria in May.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Casserole Dishes Are Ideal For Beforehand Preparation

There are some classy lassies in this audience who are drumming up some business in casserole dishes. They include Mildred Z., Betty W., and Mrs. Shirley W., who wanted rangette dinners. Casseroles are ideal for rangette cookery.

These casserole dishes are perfectly suited to beforehand preparation too—so dear to business girls, who have to produce meals, as if by magic, a half-hour after they get home.

I had thought of making them meatless, but none of you insist on that, so there's a minimum of meat in most of them.

END-OF-MONTH CASSEROLE

(From One of Our Readers)

(As the title suggests, this is a great comfort just before the end-of-the-month salary cheque arrives.) One 20-oz. tin cream-style corn, 6 weiners split in halves, 1 medium onion sliced, 1 cup milk, 1 cup soft breadcrumbs, 2 tablespoons butter, salt and pepper, 2 slices bacon cut in half, 2 sliced tomatoes (these last are optional but a nice addition). Butter a baking dish, put in half the corn, then the split weiners, sliced onion, half of the breadcrumbs, salt and pepper, and half of the butter. Then add remaining corn, breadcrumbs, salt and pepper. Pour over the cup of milk and dot with remaining butter. Cover with bacon and put on lid and bake 45 minutes at 40 degrees Fahr., then remove lid and cook 15 minutes to brown. If tomatoes are used, put in before bacon.

DELUXE MACARONI AND CHEESE

Cook 6 oz. elbow or broken macaroni in boiling salted water until tender. Drain. Melt 1 tablespoon butter or margarine and stir in 1 tablespoon flour. Stir in 1 tablespoon flour. Stir in 1 cup milk until thick. Add ½ lb. cut up cheddar cheese, ⅛ teaspoon dry mustard, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper. Heat, stirring, until cheese is barely melted. Stir in 1 cup thick sour cream. (If you don't want to do this just use milk instead—but it removes the "deluxe" quality from the dish.) Put half the cooked macaroni into a large buttered casserole, then add ½ cup diced cooked ham and half the cheese sauce. Sprinkle with 1 tablespoon chopped parsley. Repeat with another layer of macaroni, ham, sauce and parsley. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. about 30 or 35 minutes. Don't overbake this because of the sour cream content. This is a honey.

CURRIED VEAL (or pork or chicken) CASSEROLE

Four tablespoons butter or margarine, 4 tablespoons chopped onion, 4 tablespoons flour, ¾ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper. 1 or 2 teaspoons curry powder, 2 cups milk, 1½ cups cooked (or ½ cup raw) rice or macaroni, 1 cup soft breadcrumbs. Melt butter, saute onion in it until onion is limp, stir in flour until smooth, then stir in milk until thick. Add rice or macaroni and the seasonings and about 1½ cups cooked leftover veal or pork or chicken. Pour into buttered baking-dish, top with the crumbs which should be buttered and bake at 375 deg. Fahr. for about 30 minutes. Cut this in half to serve 2 or 3.

CASSEROLE OF CHIPPED BEEF AND MACARONI

Because of its high flavor and low moisture content chopped beef is a good buy. You need 1 cup of it for this, 4 cups boiled macaroni, 2 cups thin white sauce, ¼ to ½ cup buttered crumbs. Put a layer of cooked macaroni in a greased baking dish, then a layer of pulled apart chipped beef and a layer of white sauce. (See curried veal recipe for making white sauce—but omit the onion.) Repeat until all ingredients are used. Sprinkle top with buttered crumbs and salt and paprika. Bake at 400 deg. Fahr. for about 25 minutes. Cut this in half for 2 or 3. Chipped beef is pretty salty so add salt to the sauce with a light touch.

Belmont Girls Make Dresses Achievement Day

HAVELOCK (ENS) — The meeting of the Belmont Girls Club, held on Monday night at the home of Mrs. William Hornsby, was the scene of great activity as ten of the girls worked on the dresses that they will have on exhibit at the Normal School, Peterborough, on Achievement Day, April 11. The club is under the direction of Mrs. Clarence King with Mrs. Ivan Ellis as assistant leader.

Eight of the girls have signed up in the Belmont Garden Brigade, which means, that they will have to plan, plant and care for a garden during the summer and then exhibit raw and canned vegetables on Achievement Day in September. Mrs. Donald Elmhirst is the leader of the Garden Brigade.

Springville Hears About Missionaries

SPRINGVILLE— (ENS)—"Caravaning— Doing Missionary Work for the United Church as a summer vacation Job," was the topic of an interesting talk given by Miss Margaret Ramsay of Napanee, now a student at Peterborough Normal School.

Miss Ramsay told of her work from Oshawa and Havelock and inside the Quebec boundary. The work included conducting Sunday Schools and Church Services, Handiwork and Bible stories for smaller children in Bible Vacation Schools and the distribution of religious literature.

No pay is given for this work but travelling expenses by bus or railroad are paid. Miss Ramsay challenged the young people to take up Caravaning instead of going to camp or taking a summer job.

Miss Ramsay was introduced by Miss Myrna Seymour who was in charge of arrangements and the program for the evening. The meeting was also held at the home of the Misses Myrna and Lila Seymour.

Howard Johnston who had charge of the worship service chose the topic "Unselfishness." He was assited by Creighton Carr who told a story of unselfish devotion and Lois Paddock who read the scripture. Howard Johnston led in prayer.

Miss Eleanor Bowles president, led in a song service and Miss Doreen Bowles arranged the Bible study period and discussion groups.

Roger Hanbridge, Gordon Clifford, Raymond Kelk and Neal Whitfield sang two quartets. "He Loved Me So," and "Whispering Hope."

Plans were made for the practice of the 3-Act play "She's My Daisy." George Bedford is directing the play.

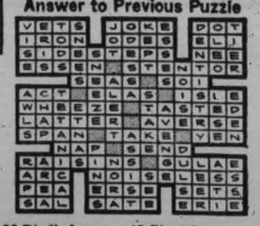
A recreation period arranged by Miss Myrtle Seymour and George Bedford and refreshments served by Mrs. C. W. Seymour and daughters.

Next Sunday evening's meeting is to be held at the home Miss Hazel McIntosh when Miss Doreen Bowles will be in charge of arrangements.

Springville News

The Farm Forum group met Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Johnston. The topic "Beautifying the Farm Home" was discussed. An interesting recreation period was arranged by the hostess. The stunt, "Meet the Frenchman" brought squeals of laughter from the ladies. Mrs. Stanley Whitfield won the prize for the second stunt, taking a square of newspaper and tearing it in the shape of an animal.

From this community, the following young people are members of the Junior Farmers' Choir: Roger Hanbidge, Raymond Kilk, Gordon Clifford, Myrna Seymour and Lila Seymour.



Miss Hazel McIntosh, teacher at Lakehurst, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. McIntosh.

Miss Margaret Ramsay was the weekend guest of Miss Myrna Seymour.

Guide Group Of Lakefield Elect Officers

LAKEFIELD —(ENS) — The annual meeting of the local district association of Brownies and Guides was held Monday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Harold Wilford.

Mrs. C. M. Serson reported net proceeds from the bond rafle were $186 and from the sale of Brownie and Guide celendars $19.

Mr. Monks of Young's Point asked help in organizing a pack there and invited the Guides and Brownies to attend a church service at Young's Point, Sunday, May 31, followed by a fellowship hour in the parish hall.

It was decided to sell cookies in the village on National cookie Day.

Mrs. Wilford was re-elcted chairman and Mrs. C. M. Serson secretary-treasurer.

Following the meeting the hostess served tea.

Those present included Capt. B. Jewell, Brown Owl, Mrs. Reg. Doubt, Brown Owl, Mrs. T. E. M. Last, Mrs. G. Winder-Smith, Mrs. J A. Arnott. Mrs. A. W. Newson and Mrs. J. O. Huddart.

BABY'S COLDS

Help Nature To Fight Them Off

Medical Science denies there is any such thing as a cure for colds — only Nature herself can do it. So when baby's sniffles, or stuffy breathing warn you of a cold's presence — cooperate at once with Nature.

See that baby is kept warm, gets plenty of sleep and take extra care that the bowels are thoroughly cleared of harmful wastes. To do this without upsetting baby's whole system and further weakening it, try Baby's Own Tablets. Mild, yet act promptly in getting rid of irritating materials that make baby restless and feverish.

One Nova Scotia Mother says: "My baby of 26 months caught a nasty cold so I tried Baby's Own Tablets and she threw this cold off quicker than ever before. I certainly am for Baby's Own Tablets from now on." Equally good for restlessness and peevishness resulting from irregularity at teething time, for constipation, digestive upsets and other minor infant troubles. Get a package today at druggists.

RHEUMATIC PAIN

Can Be Costly!

"This winter I had to quit work because of rheumatic pain," writes Mr. T. Glofcheskie, Wilno, Ont. "I became fearful of being laid up as on a previous occasion with rheumatic pain. My pain became increasingly severe and spread from hip to ankle. Out of bed, the leg felt cold as though in cold water, so I stayed in bed. A friend persuaded me to take T-R-C's and I'm glad I did. In a short while I was relieved of my pain and was soon on the job again."

Don't suffer from Rheumatic or Arthritic pain. Take Templeton's T-R-C's—Canada's LARGEST-SELLING proprietary medicine to bring quick relief from such pain. Only 65c, $1.35 at druggists. T-848

Personals and Social

The YWCA Old Country Club meeting Tuesday evening was highlighted with singing and favorite dances. Three new members were welcomed, one from London, England. It was planned to celebrate St. Patrick's Day next week. The lunch was served by Mrs. A. Thomas, Mrs. P. Thomas and Mrs. A. Acreman.

✧ ✧ ✧

Miss Edna Lee was hostess Tuesday evening for the business meeting of the Evening Branch WA of All Saints' Church. It was reported that four bales of clothing had been packed and shipped to Canon H. E. Ashmore of Loon Lake, Saskatchewan, for distribution among needy families. A list of suggestions for improvement to the WA room was completed, to be presented to the advisory council. A social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served by Mrs. K. Braithwaite and her social committee.

✧ ✧ ✧

Foresters Ladies' Friendly Circle Club met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. L. Lowes, 524 Wolfe Street with ten members present. Mrs. Bill Collison won the "white gift" and the attendance prize went to Mrs. Ozzie Warr. Plans were made to hold a pot luck supper and to attend the foresters' crokinole party at the Orange Hall on March 18th. Flowers were sent to Mrs. Maurice Hartin who is ill. A lovely lunch was served during a social hour. The next meeting will be at Mrs. L. Maudsley's home at 203 Rubidge Street.

✧ ✧ ✧

A charming evening tea was held in honor of Miss Belle Trefler of Toronto, fiancee of Mr. Isadore Black, on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Aaron Black, Weller St. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Philip Black, Mrs. Irving Moldaver and Mrs. Morris Black. Tea was poured by Mrs. A. M. Babb, Mrs. Harry Florence, Mrs. Ben Green and Mrs. Louis Florence. Assisting were Mrs. Meyer Levine, Mrs. R. A. Grafstein, Mrs. Zimmel Levine and Mrs. Samuel Moldaver. The tea table was beautifully decorated with an arrangement of spring flowers and black wrought iron candelabras with tall flame tapers.

Reading Interests

The Mother's Auxiliary to 9th Parkhill Cubs, Scouts, Brownies and Guides, met Wednesday evening at the Dixon House. President Mrs. H. Reynolds announced the regional conference and banquet being held March 21st and it was discussed. An interesting reading given by Mrs. D. Hillier was about a Kiwanian sponsored scout troop at a Los Angeles Hospital. Mrs. H. Lintrop and Mrs. G. Holmes were appointed the telephone conveners for April. The refreshment committee for the evening included Mrs. Lintlop and Mrs. Holmes and Mrs. G Dowdall and Mrs. K. Whatley.

Layettes Donated

Miss Rachael Young of the Children's Aid Society was guest speaker at the meeting of Excelsior Bible Class of St. James Church Wednesday evening. She gave an interesting address on the work of the society. Two layettes prepared by the ladies were presented to Miss Young to be used in her work. A third layette is being donated to the European flood relief committee. Devotional service was under leadership of Mrs. G. English. Mrs. Q. Dantzer presided for business. The class accepted an invitation to attend the meeting of King's Own Bible Class on March 16th. Miss Jessie Martin class teacher, closed the session with prayer. A dainty lunch was served by the committee consisting of Mrs. English, Mrs. R. Bell, Mrs. R. Armour and Mrs. W. Messervey.

Over-Subscribe $104,000

St. John's WA afternoon branch meeting Tuesday in the parish hall opened with devotions led by Archdeacon W. P. Robertson. Mrs. J. Cridland continued with discussion of the study book. President Mrs. F. E. Hooper announced that the Primate's appeal for $10,000 for the flood relief fund has been over-subscribed by the startling figure of $104,000. The date of May 5th was set for the annual spring tea. Mrs. J. Mills appealed to all members to knit during the coming months for the wool table at the fall bazaar. Prayer for the prayer partner and the members' prayer and benediction closed the meeting. Tea hostesses were Mrs. W. M. Cruthers and Mrs. W. Dyer.

George St. WMS Meeting

The Women's Missionary Society of George Street United Church met Tuesday afternoon in the board room. The guests were received by Mrs. A. Armstrong and Mrs. M. Syvertsen. Miss J. Schaffer, president, opened the meeting with the Lord's prayer. Mrs. W. H. Wollard, temperance secretary read a short paper on temperance and Mrs. V. Boorman a paper on Stewardship. The devotional period was in charge of Mrs. W. H. Wollard leader of group two. The hymn, "What a Friend we have in Jesus" was sung in memory of Mrs. Wollard's deceased mother. The lesson was read by Mrs. H. L. Bamforth and prayer was offered by Mrs. E. Telford. Mrs. Ross Moore was soloist and sang, "Come Ye Blessed," accompanied by Mr. Charles E. Allen. Mrs. W. R. Young gave an interesting talk on, "How do we as Missionaries live our lives and do we live up to the talents God has given us?" The offering was accepted by Mrs. Wm. Purdy and Mrs. Allan Brown. Mrs. Purdy presided at the piano for the singing of the hymns.
